"I really don't think the O.H.A. will do as a senior organization, but as a league for the development of junior and intermediate teams, and the encouragement of the game in the small way-station towns adjoining Toronto, it is deserving of great credit, and as such will always receive my approval and support. It is true that the Paris team expect to finish up their final games for the intermediate championship in canoes. But the public should remember that this was not the fault of the O.H.A. It was Belleville which is responsible for this state of affairs, for did it not play a man who was previously passed upon by the O.H.A. as being all O.K., and thus defeat the Marlboro pets, who discovered that the said player had once upon a time played baseball with the 'amateur' Cadets' team of Toronto, and was thus a professional. All of which took time and necessitated the prolonging of a series, which would have been ended on 1st of March. I am glad I don't have the same love for the O.H.A. that I used to in the good old days, when Queen's showed them all what senior hockey meant. If I had, the present senior clubs would give me nervous prostration."

BRITISH WINS AGAIN

President Castro Raises the Venezuelan Blockade.

WHY THE COON CAME DOWN

Britain Threatened to Recognize the Belligerency of the Rebels—This Would Have Been Disastrous, and Might Have Resulted in Renewal of Hostilities—What Might Have Been Averted.

Washington, March 14.—The action taken by the Venezuelan Government in raising the blockade was received here with great relief, for although there were no outward symptoms of trouble it is now taken that the enforcement of the decree probably would have resulted in serious friction, perhaps involving a renewal of hostilities. British interests next to American being predominant in the Orinoco section, the British Ambassador here was the first to move after the announcement of the blockade decree.

The United States Government practically had decided to recognize the blockade if Venezuela stationed a sufficient number of ships at the mouth of the Orinoco to make it effective, particularly if these ships were supplemented in their work by certain shore batteries in commanding positions. But the British Government was not disposed to recognize the blockade, and the Venezuelan Government was given to understand if the blockade was persisted in Great Britain would recognize the belligerency of the rebels in Venezuela: and, moreover, applying the laws of neutrality with strictness, would close all British ports to Venezuelan warships, allowing them only the small privileges of putting in in time of stress for a very limited period.

Even during the enforcement of the blockade last March the British Government never went to this length, and the threat dismayed President Castro. If the rebels were to be recognized as belligerents, their cause would be strengthened immensely, for they might charter privateers and be put in a position to borrow money and conduct war on a larger scale.

Unknown Body Recovered.

Brighton, March 14.—The body of a man was found floating in open water near the western entrance to Murray Canal yesterday by Fisherman James Simple of this town. The man was well developed, about 55 years of age; 6 foot tall in boots; between 180 and 190 pounds in weight; partly bald, balance of hair grey; about three weeks growth of whiskers round features. He had every appearance of being a laboring man. He apparently had been in the water all winter.

U.S. Consul Invited to Resign.

Washington, March 14. — United States Consul John L. Bittinger at Montreal has been invited to resign. He will be succeeded by Major A. W. Edwards. Consul Bittinger, while on leave of absence at his home in St. Louis, talked very freely of the relations between the United States and Canada. This was ill received in Canada and has led to the present action.

Impersonators Sentenced.

London, March 14. — Al. Weinig and A. D. Carroll, convicted of impersonation in the referendum vote, were fined $400 each and given a year's imprisonment. The men have disappeared, and their bondsmen will have to forfeit $1,600 in sureties.

Kingston Man 102 Years Old.

Kingston, March 14. — Yesterday Murdock McRae celebrated the 102nd year of his birth. He was remembered by friends of the House of Industry, where he stays, and was the recipient of numerous congratulations.

Inquest Adjourned.

Toronto, March 14.—The inquest on the body of Josephine Morrow, the 3-year-old child who was killed by a trolley car on Thursday afternoon, was opened yesterday afternoon and stands adjourned until the 20th.

He Understood.

"And after I get off the cars," said young Markley, who had asked and received permission to call, "which way do I turn to get to your house?"

"Why," said she, "right in front of you, on the corner, you'll see a candy store—a very nice candy store—and—er—when you come out you walk two blocks east."

Looking Backward.

"Pa, did you ever have any halcyon days?"

"Oh, yes; lots of them," Mr. Henpeck replied, looking cautiously around. "I didn't get married until I was nearly thirty years old."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Sure Cure.

"It was a good thing for Stutterton that he married Miss Gassaway. She's curing him of his stammering habit."

"You don't say?"

"Yes. She doesn't give him a chance to talk at all now."—Philadelphia Press.

RAPID GROWTH OF MONEY.

The Poor Become Poorer and the Rich Richer Because Men of Small Means Allow Savings Banks to Farm Their Funds Instead of Getting the Full Earning Power out of Their Own Money.

Editor National Oil Reporter:—

Colossal fortunes are being accumulated rapidly by this generation, and, true to the old proverb, "Money makes money," we seem to be on the eve of counting Billionaires by the score, and Millionaires only ordinary mortals, while the average business man no longer considers $100,000 any money for business purposes and surely not enough to retire upon.

The change which has brought about this prosperity is plain. Our country is becoming thickly populated and every one of us earns something, but the question is often asked without answer: "Does each one get his proportion?" If he does not, why not? These questions are answered in many and various ways, but the most plausible reason why the poor keep poor and the rich grow richer is the fact that the poorer classes and the middle classes hand their savings over for the rich man to add to his own riches, instead of using their own brains and money for their own personal comfort and benefit.

The Savings Banks, Insurance Companies, Building Loan Associations, and other similar institutions acting like a huge sponge, absorbing the rain drops from the top and emitting the stream with force enough to turn the wheels of industry from beneath it, are found in every location.

To start a stock firm requires brains, judgment, capital, experience, perseverance and tact; to start a Savings Bank requires a large subscription blank and a few facts relative to what Savings Banks pay the stockholders, and a few days' time. Then enough capital is subscribed to organize the bank; a charter is procured; the building is rented; a large vault placed in position, and the public invited to bring in their money. The Board of Directors meet and Mr. Easy is selected for president; his brother, Live Easy, is made Vice-President; his friend B. Easy, is made Secretary, and their friend Now Easy, is selected for Treasurer. It is decided that from what money the public will bring to them they will draw good and substantial salaries, as well as have certain blocks of stock given to them in case of emergency. They hire money at the rate of three per cent. per annum, and take advantage of the men who must have money in their different enterprises and their discounts are without limit. Whether the money is loaned out by themselves, their agents, lawyers, etc., or whether it be invested in industrials, stocks or other good paying enterprises, it is safe to say that eight, nine and even twelve per cent., is not a large earning power for a Savings Bank.

There can be but one result:—That of making a few men very wealthy and several hundred men very poor, because with their hands alone this large army of workers cannot accumulate wealth. To hand it over to bank officials at three per cent per annum is practically throwing their money away, as their home expenses will increase at the rate of ten per cent, while their money earns them only three per cent. Savings Banks are continually failing, like Building and Loan Companies, Insurance Companies, etc. We have but to look around us and we will discover that within the last few years this constant condemning of Savings Banks has aroused the feelings of the workman, small merchant, and well-to-do business man. They have opened their eyes; they have looked for themselves. They have sought investments as a bank sees them, along lines that are safe and sure of results, and in many instances fortunes are realized from comparatively small investments. It is a natural growth of money. Big fortunes of to-day are made in that way.

The Empire State, which pays an annual dividend of 14 per cent. to the stockholders, or, better still, the Stirling Oil Co., which is paying 30 per cent. per annum, must be acknowledged as phenomenal money makers and in all probability they will not stop here. Mr. George Stevens is agent, and he will willingly give all information regarding these phenomenal money-makers.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Competition in the local produce market to-day was not as brisk as might have been expected. Geese were especially high, selling at from 90c to $1; chickens went at from 75 to 90 cents; turkeys from $1 to $2.50.

Eggs were decidedly cheaper and sold from 14 to 15c, while butter has reversed and is now dearer, selling at from 24 to 25 cents.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by

ANOTHER COLLISION.

G. T. R. Fast Freight Makes a Smash at Oakville, Ont.

BRAKEMAN M'GUIRE KILLED.

Engine 715 Crashed Into the Rear of Standing Grain Cars at the Station—How the Accident Occurred Will Be Determined by Coroner's Jury — Meanwhile Reports Are Conflicting.

Oakville, March 16.—A rear end collision of two east bound Grand Trunk freight trains occurred at 1 o'clock Sunday morning just opposite the station platform.

An east bound freight, Engine 597, was at the station picking up a couple of cars when, without warning, another east bound train, Engine 785, crashed into the rear of the standing cars.

David J. McGuire, the forward brakeman of the second train, was killed, the engine was derailed and half a dozen cars were completely destroyed. The escape of the engineer and fireman is a little short of miraculous. Both crawled through the cab window to safety after the locomotive had come to a standstill in the ditch.

Carelessness on the part of a company employe is responsible for the accident, which cost Daniel McGuire his life. Who that official is will be determined at the coroner's inquest to be held on Tuesday. Either Hiram Albertson, night agent at Oakville station, or the engineer of the second train must bear the blame. As usual the stories of some of the train men and the station agent are conflicting, but witnesses declare that the semaphore was against the train that crashed through the shunting freight.

They say that Agent Albertson sought to signal the train with his lantern, but without effect. The engineer on the other hand claims that there were no signals against them.

The first freight was shunting cars on the siding when the second train, bearing down the grade at 40 miles an hour, collided with the standing cars. Neither the engineer nor the fireman could have seen the train ahead, or the probability is that they would have jumped. The weight of the heavy grain cars adjoining the locomotive sent it off the rails, which accounts for the comparatively small amount of damage inflicted upon the standing train. The caboose of the latter was smashed in to kindling wood.

Killed at His Post.

McGuire was at his post close to the engine when the collision occurred. He was probably signalling with his lantern to the rear end brakeman and had no warning of the danger into which he was rushing. Death must have been almost instantaneous. He was found under the engine wedged into the corn which filled the car adjacent to the engine. There was little or no apparent injury to the body. Daniel McGuire was smothered in the corn. His body was removed to the station, and later to Undertaker Youngs.

Coroner Williams empanelled a jury during the afternoon, and next Tuesday an effort will be made to fix the responsibility for the man's death. McGuire was in the accident at Merritton and escaped without a bruise. His parents live in Merritton, and the victim is single and lives with his sister.

Three citizens of Oakville—Harry Patterson, Albert Cross and William Street—saw the accident. Street says the semaphore was against the second train, and he also states that there was no whistle as the train approached the station. The semaphore is a mile west of the station, and there are two public crossings intervening. At each of these crossings, it is said, the engone should have whistled, as well as for the station. Mr. Cross and Mr. Patterson were not willing to give their statements until the inquest.

The engineer of the ill-fated engine had brought his train through from Sarnia, a run of thirteen hours.

McGuire was only 23 years old, living with his sister, Mrs. Sidsworth, at 51 Mitchell avenue, and had been with the company for several years. He was well-liked by all his comrades.

Auxiliary trains were sent out from Hamilton and Toronto. At a late hour last night the debris of the derailed cars was burning fiercely, but traffic is maintained by means of the south switch.

Official Story of Wreck.

The official account of the accident states that one extra east train, engine 597, was standing at Oakville station at 1.10 a.m. Saturday, when it was run into by another extra east. The front end brakeman, D. J. McGuire, was caught in jumping, and was found dead under the engine. Seven or eight cars were derailed, and the corn with which they were loaded was spilled along the track.

The cause of the accident was the second train running by the semaphore set at danger. No reason can be assigned for this, as several witnesses were sure that the danger signal was set.

The track was soon cleared, and traffic was not delayed.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

Public Opinion Has Caught Its Sober Second Sense.

JUDICIAL PLAN IS PRAISED.

The Ministers and Liberal Members Taking Things Calmly—All the Excitement Is on the Side Which Expects to Profit by It—Mr. Gamey's Demeanor Causing Knowing Smiles and Some Criticism.

Toronto, March 16.—The Legislature will again get down to business this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Outside the House, the members of course being all especially interested, the public has recovered itself, and now sees that the position of the Government is impregnable if a just and impartial verdict is to be recorded in the sensationally sprung Gamey case. The concensus of opinion now seems to be that the Government will have no difficulty, as the members on the Liberal side are satisfied with the assurance that Mr. [illegible] will be made effective when the time comes. Of [illegible]ring sub judice the merits of the statement made by Mr. Gamey cannot be dealt with in detail, but this much may be said that all the activity and excitement is on the other side. The Ministers go about their business as usual, and no one meeting them would imagine for a moment that such awful things as the Conservatives predict hang over their heads. The Premier attended his usual place of worship yesterday, and had a smile and a handshake for many friends, who took occasion to let him know that their confidence in him was undisturbed.

Mr. Gamey Shadowed.

Mr. Gamey professes to have made the profound discovery that he is being shadowed by detectives, and that his every movement is watched. There are those who, with a smile that speaks volumes, are not slow to insinuate that this is another of the "dramatic" Conservative methods of attempting to enlist public opinion in their behalf. The play is, however, rather overdone, and is bizarre. On being asked the question, "What is the big card you are holding up your sleeve?" Mr. Gamey began hedging confusedly; not wishing to deny, he clumsily attempted to convey without words the idea that he would again do great things. The impression is that he is at the end of his tether.

The Hidden Stenographers.

It is now been given out on the most unimpeachable authority, as the nameless authors of many of the yellow stories say, that two of the young men alleged by Mr. Gamey to have been in the Crossin piano warehouse, when Mr. Gamey says Mr. Frank Sullivan was there, are sons of Editor Price of the Algoma Conservative, published at Gore Bay.

Mr. J. W. St. John has the floor on the method of conducting the investigation on the House opening this afternoon.

Princess Margaret of Connaught.

Princess Margaret of Connaught, who came of age the other day, was the recipient of many lovely presents. She does not attain the age of twenty-one without having been betrothed over and over again by the newspapers. She has been engaged, on dit, to the Grand Duke Michael, to the Crown Prince of Germany, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, and a great many smaller Princes. Her cousin, the Grand Duke of Hesse, has also been in the running. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught are, model parents, and are in no hurry to settle their daughter; while the Princess on her side is very happy under their care, and quite contented with the simple life she leads in Ireland. It is not generally known that when Princess Margaret marries her children will be styled "Royal Highness," the Duke of Connaught having applied for the privilege last year.—Modern Society.

Baggage Master's Suicide.

Detroit, Mich., March 16.—Frederick Wallington, for the past thirty-five years chief baggage master of the Michigan Central Railroad in this city, cut his throat in the bath room of his residence yesterday, and died several hours later at Harper Hospital. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Tarte For Imperial House.

Toronto, March 16.—"I have received a request to offer myself as a candidate for an English constituency," said the Hon. Mr. Tarte at the concert of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union here on Saturday night. The ex-Minister of Public Works delivered a stirring address on "The Hopes of Ireland."

Havana, March 16.—The British squadron, consisting of the six warships, arrived here yesterday morning from Jamaica. Salutes were exchanged with the fort, and the United States cruiser Dolphin. During the afternoon a squall of tremendous violence swept over the harbor. It became as dark as night, and the wind and the down-pour were terrific.

A Secession Movement.

Robert Philp, Premier of Queensland, who, according to the latest telegrams, is heading a movement in the direction of secession from the Commonwealth, is a native of Scotland, and at the age of 10 accompanied his parents to Queensland. Mr. Philp was the only Australian Premier absent from his State during the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales last year, and it was said at the time that he took a trip to Japan to escape knighthood. At the coronation he passed the proffered knighthood on to his Attorney-General, Sir Arthur Rutledge, an ex-Wesleyan minister.

Hobson's Choice.

Whenever we mention Hobson up rises the story of Hobson's choice. Tobias Hobson was a carrier and innkeeper at Cambridge, who erected the handsome conduit there, and settled "seven lays" of pasture ground toward its maintenance. He kept a stable of forty good cattle always ready and fit for traveling. When a man came for a horse he was led into the stable, where there was a great choice, but was obliged to take the steed that stood nearest the door; so that every customer was alike well served, according to his chance, and every horse ridden with the same justice.

THE CEMENT INDUSTRY.

Plenty of Room in Canada for More Mills.

A few weeks ago there appeared in the columns of a number of newspapers throughout the country, an article relating to the Portland cement industry in Canada. The article was reprinted from the Peterborough Examiner, wherein it appeared as a letter to the editor of this paper, and was not signed by the writer's proper name.

It now transpire that there were many misleading statements in the article referred to as would appear from the following which is clipped from the Monetary Times:—

"The writer evidently had not the courage to sign his name, and certainly could not be prompted by his interest in the investing public, but is apparently interested in the cement business; and seeks to mislead the public by a statement of untruths and malicious references to well known business men, who are connected with the cement industry at Durham, Ont. His data are not correct as to the production and consumption of cement in Canada, or the number of plants and their outputs. Of the ten concerns named in that article as producing mills in 1903, not one of them is a producing mill for this year, and three of them are not even incorporated, while several of the others have not got beyond the paper stage.

His reference to the gentlemen of the Durham enterprise is clearly libelous, and insults the intelligence and honesty of business men in Canada, who have built a splendid modern cement mill, and who know that it has been honestly and economically built and every dollar properly accounted for. We have good reason to believe that the organization that built the mill at Durham are in no way interested, as the writer of that article intimates, in promoting any other cement mills in Canada, except the Durham and Hull plants.

This article refers to the Monetary Times article on the same subject, published in December, but fails to call attention to the more recent article published by us after a thorough investigation, which was given to our readers in the issue of January 16th. We are as anxious as anybody that unlikely industrial projects shall be discouraged, and "fake" ones exposed, but we have no sympathy with writers who indulge in personal abuse or who make mountains of untruth out of molehills of probability in order to gain a point. We see no reason to doubt that the organization, which has built the cement mill at Durham, besides several other successful ones in the United States, are entitled to the confidence of the public. And we consider that there is room in Canada for more cement mills than now exist. What is essential, however, is that such mills should be fitly placed, properly built, and economically managed.

RAPID PROMOTION

Of a Well-known Windsor Young Man.

The following from the Windsor Record, refers to a nephew of Mr. R. Q. Dench, of Lakefield:—"Frank E. Dench, son of Mr. T. Q. Dench, of Windsor, who made his start in business life in the Canadian Bank of Commerce there, is, his many friends will be pleased to learn fast climbing up the financial ladder. The Hamilton Spectator contains the following:— "After many years of faithful service as accountant in the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, F. E. Dench has received a well-earned promotion. This morning he left for Victoria, B. C., where he will assume the duties of accountant for the same bank. This is a decided promotion for Mr. Dench, as the local staff consists of 12, while at Victoria Mr. Dench will have charge of 27 employees. Mr. Dench has a very large circle of friends here, who, while delighted to know that he is rapidly climbing to the top of the ladder in the financial world, regret that his promotion necessitates his removal from the city."

APSLEY HEARD FROM.

A Correspondent Writes of the Condition of Affairs There.

A correspondent writes from Apsley as follows:—

In your issue of the 26th ult., I noticed an article from your Mount Pleasant correspondent, re the boys from Anstruther who were placed in the Children's Shelter to be cared for. Now, Mr. Editor, your correspondent seems to think that Anstruther is a most degraded, God-forsaken, ignorant place where the people are brought up in ignorance and degradation. Let us compare notes. In Apsley there are three ministers of the Gospel, two churches, at least two services each Sunday the year round and three services each Sunday in summer, within one and one-half miles of where those boys were brought up. Now, as to the veracity of the boys step-father in the statement that they were the best cared for boys in Anstruther, to use a very mild phrase, it is simply not true. There have been three churches erected on this mission in the last three years, costing in aggregate three thousand dollars, all of which amounts are paid, except about six hundred dollars for which provision is made. Can your correspondent present a better showing? Then again in Apsley (and Apsley is in Anstruther) it is very probable that there are as many dollars raised to send the Gospel to the heathen as there are in Mount Pleasant. Then, further again, there have been five teachers raised in Apsley and vicinity, one of whom is principal of a high school in the Northwest; and I doubt not they would compare favourably with Mount Pleasant's showing in this regard. Now, Mr. Editor, your Mount Pleasant correspondent seems to think the city ought to send missionaries to poor degraded Anstruther. I would propose sending a teacher to teach the poor benighted correspondent. We can raise a few dollars to pay said teacher and also furnish the teacher as we have enough and to spare. When I looked over your correspondent's article, I was amazed to learn there was any person in that vicinity so totally ignorant of the back country and also the people that live therein.

Yours Truly,
A READER.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the orutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakers, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling barbwire.

PRIVATE BANKS.

Monetary Times.

The regulation of private banks throughout the country has been anything but satisfactory from the standpoint of the general depositor in such banks. Nor has it been satisfactory either from that of the creditors of the bank, and the Anderson private bank failure at Oakville is a glaring example of this. Such banks may carry on business as private individuals without being accountable to any one for trust funds which they have in their hands belonging to their depositors. They are not incorporated companies, else they would be required to prepare annual statements showing the exact position of their finances; they are absolutely free from Government supervision or inspection of any kind, with a few minor exceptions provided for specifically in the Bank Act, such as the issuing of money. It is this lack of responsibility to the public, added to the absolute secrecy with which the business of the private bank may be conducted, although dealing with the properities of many people, and to that extent being public institutions, that renders such a state of affairs as existed in Oakville possible. And it is not so much the lack of proper provision in our registry laws and laws relating to the publication of information relative to dealing with securities such as mortageges on real estate and bills of sale. Doubtless this is a condition of affairs which should be remedied, especially as these private banks are very numerous throughout the country, and as a great many men trust their hard-won earnings, in some cases small fortunes, to these private institutions, and that even although the era of private banking is probably on the wane, owing to the unusual aggregression shown by the chartered banks of Canada these past two or three years.

HAS FIVE MAJORITY.

The Senate of Canada Has Become Liberal by Time.

SEVEN DEATHS IN THE RECESS.

The State Drawing Room on Saturday Night the Brightest Function Seen in Ottawa For a Year—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Was Present For Half an Hour—The New Debutantes —Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, March 16.—During the recess seven deaths of members of the Upper Chamber gave occurred—Senator Armand, appointed Ont. 23, 1867; Senator O'Donohue, appointed May 21, 1882; Senator Clemes, appointed Feb. 3, 1885; Senator McCallum, appointed Feb. 4, 1887; Senator Wood, appointed Jan. 21, 1891; Senator Primrose, appointed Nov. 28, 1892; Senator Dechene, appointed May 18, 1901; four Conservatives and three Liberals. The vacancies are filled, and the Senate of Canada is now Liberal. The standing of parties is:

	Con.	Lib.
Ontario	11	13
Quebec	11	13
New Brunswick	3	7
Nova Scotia	5	5
Prince Edward I.	2	2
British Columbia	2	1
Manitoba	2	2
N. W. T.	2	..
Total	38	43

Thus the Senate will be Liberal by five majority. Senators Dickie, O'Brien, Aikins, and Gowan are ill and will not be present. Senator Masson's seat is voided by reason of his absence, so the probable majority for the Liberals at the opening of the Senate will be eleven.

Brilliant Social Function.

The state drawing-room on Saturday night was the brightest function Ottawa has seen for at least a year. The Vice-Regal party received the homage of society the Dominion over. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was present for about half an hour. Among the debutantes was Miss Hoodless of Hamilton. Among those presented from Toronto were: Mrs. Martagu Adamson, Mrs. Mackenzie Alexander, Mrs. Boone, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. James C. Grace, Mrs. A. E. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Miller Lash, Miss F. Lumsden, Miss Edythe Montgomery, Miss Ethel Orr and Miss Stewart. Among others present from Ontario were. Miss E. Boulby, Simcoe; Mrs. Gilbert F. Davidson, Guelph; Miss Marjorie Jones, Miss Mills and Mrs. Q. A. Robertson, Hamilton; Miss Ratcliff, St. Catharines, and Mrs. A. E. Wilson, Deseronto.

The Alaska Commission.

A cable has been received by the Government from the Imperial authorities in reply to the request of Canada that the Chief Justice of England, Baron Alverstone, and two Canadian jurists, should be appointed commissioners for the Alaska boundary inquiry. It stated that the Chief Justice of England had consented to act, and asked the Canadian Government to send forward the names of the two judges for the commission as soon as possible. The Cabinet met Saturday afternoon and decided on the names of the Canadian commissioners, but did not communicate them to London for the men in view have yet to be communicated with. The Imperial Government will be informed of the selection to-day.

Ottawa Notes.

The Standard Oil Company has its representative here to press on the Minister of Finance that the duty on its products should be lowered. Just what their aim is has not yet been disclosed, but the members are being quietly approached toward something that is thought to affect the Raleigh oil fields' output.

A great deal of interest is taken in the transportation commission, and numerous guesses are made as to its composition. The names will likely be brought down in the House to-day.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

THE CZAR'S DECREE.

Russian Public Suspends Judgment on Benefit of Ukase.

St. Petersburg, March 16, via the frontier.—The public has suspended its judgment of the decree of the Czar providing for religious freedom and for other reforms until the practical measures realizing the proposed reforms are announced. Experience shows that such work proceeds slowly here. Russian history is strewn with disillusionments, and the liberals say they are prepared for a repetition. Even in less radical circles the fear is expressed that the reactionaries may succeed in hampering the Czar's desire for reforms. The progressives are particularly outspoken in their distrust of M. von Plehwe's participation in the reform program; they also complain of the apparent intention to permit the domination of the priesthood in local secular affairs.

The decentralization feature of the decree is welcomed. The necessity heretofore of applying to the St. Petersburg Chancelleries in connection with the most trivial matters was largely responsible for the paralysis of public and private initiative. Yuri Militan, a relative of the famous adviser of Alexander II. during the emancipation, hails the Czar's pronouncement for toleration with enthusiasm. Assistant Minister von Wahl has gone to Tomsk, where there were revolutionary disturbances a fortnight ago, students and workmen displaying red flags. M. von Wahl is remembered in connection with the flogging of political prisoners last year, when he was Governor of Vilna.

MARGIN STOCK LOSERS.

Nova Scotians Said to Have Met Heavy Losses in Dominion Steel.

Halifax, N.S., March 16.—As the result of the recent slump in Dominion Iron & Steel common stock, speculators in Nova Scotia have lost an amount estimated at $800,000. The majority of the stock was bought 55 and 58, and the holders kept putting up margins until it went down to 40 on Friday. The decline of 10 points on Saturday caused a panic among the holders of the stock, and all but a few of them were wiped out. Some of them mortgaged their properties and places of business and are now financially embarrassed. Outside of Halifax, the heaviest losses were in Glace Bay, Sydney, and New Glasgow.

Small Speculators Ruined.

Montreal, March 16.—The slump in Dominion Steel stock, which culminated Saturday in the common, being run down to 32¼, has caused any amount of excitement in financial circles, and has brought ruin to any amount of small speculators. Their aggregate losses are estimated at $500,000.

ARREST OF WHITTAKER WRIGHT.

London Promoter, Accused of Enormous Fraud, in New York.

New York, March 16.—J. Whittaker Wright, the London promoter accused of fraud in connection with various financial corporations, was arrested here yesterday at the request of the London police upon his arrival on the French Line steamer La Lorraine. Wright was at once turned over to the United States authorities and taken to Ludlow-street jail. The financial crash of the companies floated by Whittaker Wright came in December, 1900. There were eleven of these, including the parent company, entitled the London and Globe Finance Corporation, with a total capitalization of $67,675,000. Wright was the managing director.

HER HEART WAS BROKEN.

Mrs. Ebenezer North Dies Six Hours After Her Husband.

London, March 16. — Ebenezer North, the prominent concrete contractor, dropped dead Saturday morning in his office. Mr. North had been in his usual good health, and his son was in an adjoining office at the time of his death. Heart failure was the cause. The deceased was one of London's oldest residents, and was 70 years of age.

Mrs. North, widow of Ebenezer North, the manufacturer, who dropped dead Saturday morning in his office, died six hours later. The attending physician says it was clearly a case of death from a broken heart.

"EMPIRE STATESMAN."

Colonial Secretary Received in London by Premier Balfour and Cabinet.

London, March 16. — "Southampton Welcomes Home Britain's Empire Statesman," in huge letters surrounded and intertwined with Union Jacks and Stars and Stripes was the motto that first greeted Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain on landing at Southampton Saturday morning from South Africa. The travelers had a magnificent greeting. The Colonial Secretary, who showed evident pleasure at the heartiness of the welcome, said he was hopeful of Dutch loyalty. Subsequently Mr. Chamberlain and his party took a train for London, where a large crowd waited their arrival. Premier Balfour and practically the whole Cabinet were present at Waterloo Railroad Station to meet Mr. Chamberlain. The greetings which he received were everywhere most cordial.

Trial of Montreal Editor.

Montreal, March 16.—The trial of Edward Charlier, proprietor of Les Debats, the French Sunday paper, published here, and Wilhelms, his business manager, for an alleged attempt to blackmail the Metropolitan Insurance Co., has caused a good deal of interest throughout the city. The jury reported at 10 o'clock Saturday evening that they were unable to agree, and Judge Wurtele ordered them to be locked up until yesterday morning.

The trial has brought about the retirement of the editor-in-chief of Le Journal, Mr. Arthur Beauchesne. He was the author of a severe article headed, "Mgr. Bruchesi and the School Question," which had been published in Les Debats.

The report is confirmed, and the suppliants get $4,000 and costs of the action, the Crown to have costs of the issues in which they succeed.

A STRANGE TRAGEDY.

Canadian Girl Incarcerated by a New York State Doctor in His Home—Repeating Shotgun For Mob.

Friendship, N.Y., March 16.— The arrest of Dr. John Curry at his home two miles east of Friendship Friday on a charge of assault and threat to kill, on a warrant sworn out by Miss Evelyn Johnson of Niagara Falls Centre, Canada, has brought to light one of the strangest stories ever told in Allegheny County. It is that of a young woman of beauty and intelligence lured from her home in Canada by deception and held a prisoner for weeks by a physician. Her clothes were hidden, she was compelled to do rough work about the barn and farm, her letters were read and the truth kept from her father and sister. Becoming alarmed, her sister determined to visit her, discovered her condition, was ordered from the physician's house, assaulted, had the physician arrested and placed under bail for the grand jury and is now on her way to her home in Canada in company with her sister. Once a mob came to avenge insults to the girl, but the doctor kept them at bay with a repeating shotgun.

The victim of this strange tragedy in real life is Miss Stella May Johnson of Niagara Falls Centre, Ont. The doctor says he has nothing to fear.

Another Hamilton Shooting Affray.

Hamilton, March 16.—Saturday morning about 6 o'clock Daniel W. Durham shot twice at John Sweeney. Only a few feet separated the two men, and how Sweeney escaped without even a scratch is a mystery. A GENTLEMAN IN KHAKI.

Mr. T. F. Best Gave and Interesting Address

Entitled "Heroes of the Veldt"—Dan Spence's Friend Spoke Yesterday.

An exceptionally large number of men turned up to the special service for men only, which was held in the Opera House yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. It had been previously announced that Mr. F. W. Best, C. M. R., who had served throughout the South African campaign, would give the address entitled "Heroes of the Veldt." Mr. Best, who was the Y. M. C. A. representative in South Africa, appeared on the platform in a khaki tunic, wearing on his breast a South African war medal with no less than five clasps, an exceptionally fine decorations. In opening his address Mr. Best said that it was an inspiration for him to look into the faces of so many men, and he was proud of being able to speak to such numbers. In the course of his remarks Mr. Best said that the Canadian contingents were at first looked upon by the Imperial officers with suspicion, but this quickly changed after the battle of Paardeburg, in which memorable fight the Canadians figured so prominently.

There were many heroes in South Africa, but the speaker remarked he would like to mention three names which would be of special interest to Peterborough people, these were: Trussler, Price and Dan Spence—these were real heroes. The speaker went on to give the account of Dan Spence's part in the war—how that brave Peterborough boy had won the esteem of officers and men by little kindnesses, such as taking a sick man's guard. Mr. Best gave an account of this heroe's tragic death—how four of the Canadians were deceaved by Boers dressed in khaki, and how those latter opened fire on the four Canadains, killing two and injurying one. Dan Spence was one of the former. That night news of the treacherous action came in to the main column of the Canadians, and no one could sleep. The men, thinking of their comrades, paced the camp grounds until day break, when the column moved to the scene of the treacherous skirmish. Mr. Best gave the highest of praise to the Australian contingents, with whom the Canadians co-operated for some time.

Before and after the address Mr. Wildgust sang solos with great pathos and success.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of a hymn.

A similar service will be held next Sunday, when Dr. Harley Smity will give an address entitled "A Straight Talk With Men."

CANOEING.

Two Young Ladies of Lakefield Rushed the Season.

Lakefield News.

For years past one of our most respected ministers has had the courage and with it the honour, of being the first to venture forth on the picturesque Otonabee in his canoe. This year, however, the honour falls elsewhere and the aspirants thereto cannot be allowed to pass unnoticed. Two of Lakefield's fairest, no less, ventured forth on Wednesday, the 4th inst. They paddled for a considerable distance up stream and back enjoying themselves immensely. We have here, however, to object to these feats of daring, especially when undertaken by the ladies. It would be fit enough in our estimation, to venture forth at this early season in more southern climes, as on the "Murray," or in these northern parts to wait until the "Fields are in Bloom."

Use Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) to wash woolens and flannels,—you'll like it. 32

BOARD OF HEALTH.

A Meetpar Held This Morning—Some Resolutions.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held this morning in the office of the Town Clerk. There were present, Mr. Robert Neill, chairman; and Messrs. Wm. Eyers, Geo. Schneider and Mayor Roger.

A letter was read from Dr. Bryce in reference to two samples of well water from Lake street, which were found to be correct.

The following resolution was adopted:—

"That the Librarian of the Public Library be notified of every case of infectious disease so that he will not give any books out to such houses, and not to receive any books until notified that they have been disenfected. That the Town Trust Commissioners be notified to have the town premises at the market block attended to and put in sanitary condition."

It was decided to cease reports of absentees from schools.

The sanitary inspector reported that Mr. J. Hayes, who is building a terrace on Park street, was making a cess pool. Complaints had been made in regard thereto. The Sanitary Inspector and the Medical Health officer were asked to make an investigation regarding cess pools and make a general report to the Board thereon.

The Board adjourned until next Monday morning at 9.30 o'clock.

THE LATE MRS. HUBBS.

Her Death Occurred in Ashburnham, Yesterday.

The news of the death of Mrs. C. E. Hubbs, which occurred at the family residence, Lake street Ashburnham, yesterday afternoon, will be received with deep feelings of sorrow by her many friends in Peterborough.

The deceased has for the past two years been a sufferer from a chronic ailment which was ultimately the cause of her demise.

The late Mrs. Hubbs' maiden name was Emma Clarke, being the daughter of the late Ezekie Clarke, of Prince Edward County. She was 50 years of age and 30 years ago was married to her bereaved husband. She leaves besides her husband, a family of three. They are Miss Edith, at home, and Mr. Fred, of Toronto, and Mr. Frank A., of Duluth.

During Mrs. Hubbs' ten years residence in Peterborough, she was a faithful member of the George street Methodist church, and was esteemed most highly by all with whom she came in contact.

Mr. Hubbs and his family will have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in Peterborough and elsewhere, in the loss of a loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother.

The remains will be conveyed from the family residence, Lake street, Ashburnham, to the G. T. R. station, at 8.30 o'clock to-morrow and will be conveyed to Deseronto for Interment.

THE LATE MRS. F. MOONEY.

She Passed Peacefully Away Yesterday Morning.

The death occurred yesterday morning, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. Comstock, of Elisabeth S. Mooney, wife of Mr. Frederick Mooney, of Minden. The deceased has been ailing for some time, and ten weeks ago came to Peterborough for special treatment, but despite the efforts of the physicians to prolong her life, she passed peacefully away to her eternal rest Sunday morning, at the age of 61 years.

The deceased leaves behind to mourn her loss, a husband and five sons and three daughters, namely, Lincoln, of Cartchier, Algoma; Chas. and Arthur, of Cranbrook, B. C.; Fred, of Duluth; Harold and Mildred, of Hillside, Muskoka; Mabel, of Toronto, and May, who resides at home. She also leaves three brothers and three sisters, Messrs. John, William J. ,and R. B. Martin; Mrs. A. Comstock, Mrs. W. English and Miss S. Martin.

The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. A. Comstock at noon to-day, to the G. T. R. station, the remains being taken to her late home in Minden, from where the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon to the Minden cemetery.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Ostrom, This Morning.

The funeral of the late B. A. Ostrom took place at noon to-day from the C.P.R. station to the Little Lake Cemetery, and was attended by many of Peterborough's most prominent business and professional men.

The funeral was conducted with Knight Templar honours, the deceased being a member of that order. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. W. L. Armitage and Rev. W. J. Jolliffe. The bearers were Messrs. B. Shortly, W. Stocker, J. Crane, R. J. Munro, A. Gibson and Dr. Carmichael.

The mourners were the deceased's wife and daughter, and his brothers, Messrs. Charles and Marshall.

FOUND DEAD.

Gedeon Mercier, of Ashburnham, Died Suddenly Last Night.

Death came very suddenly to Gideon Mercier, Lake street, Ashburnham, yesterday evening. The late Mr. Mercier, who resided with his brother, Mr. Narcesse Mercier, left the house about seven o'clock, to attend to some cattle in the stable near at hand, and not returning by 9 o'clock, his niece started out to search for him. She found her uncle lying on the floor of the barn, dead, with a lighted lantern at his side. He was lying on his back, with his legs and arms outstretched.

Dr. Grey was notified, and after inquiring into the circumstances he decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

The deceased was 70 years of age. Death was due to heart disease.

We have the nobbiest Baby Carriages and Go-Carts in town—all rubber tired (no tired mother.) No bolts to lose, no nuts to fall off—the price are right for good goods. Salisbury & Co.

THIS SPRING AS COMPARED

With Previous Years is Exceptionally Early,

But Don't Plant Your Garden yet a While.

As the present month of March has been unusually fine up to the present, and spring has apparently set in, some comparisons are made with previous years. It will be seen that we may have more snow yet.

March of last year was a very fine month, many days being more like May than March, and the spring opened earlier than any year since 1878. On March 1, 1902, there was good sleighing and snow on the ground to the depth of 20 inches. By the 15th of the month the snow had entirely disappeared except in fence corners, and by the 22nd the roads had become fairly dry, and bicycles were much in evidence. Swallows arrived April 17th. Though spring apparently set in early, April did not fulfil promise and at the end of April growth was no further, nor as far advanced as in ordinary years. Maples began to leaf May 7th.

At the beginning of March, 1901, there was over a foot of snow on the level; on the 15th good sleighing, which continued fair all the month. Robins and blackbirds made their appearance on the 27th. Snow all disappeared during first week in April. Watering carts out on April 11th. Snowstorm on April 20th, snow of sufficient depth to require snowploughs. Dandelions in bloom on May 1st. Maples leafing May 7th.

March of 1900 was a very cold, wintry month, with some low temperatures and exceedingly heavy snowfalls. On the first of the month three feet of snow lay on the ground; on the 15th, 32 inches; on the 31st, 6 inches. Temperatures below zero were frequent, even in the latter half of the month. On March 15th, 12 below zero. The first genuine thaw was on April 1st. Maples in full leaf on May 19th.

The heaviest fall of snow of that winter occurred on March 23rd, 1899. Though March that year was cold, when spring did open we had steady warm weather, and vegetation made rapid progress. Maples began to leaf May 1st, and by the 10th they had their full dress. Lilacs in bloom May 12th.

The month of March of 1898 was undoubtedly one of the finest that we have been favoured with for a number of years. The most marked feature was the complete absence of any fall of snow. Though about 20 inches of snow lay on the ground at the beginning of the month, it had all practically disappeared by the 15th. Crows and robins were around by the 15th, and the street cars (we had a street railway in those days) were out after their winter's hibernation, on the 14th. Vegetation was earlier than usual that year.

The winter of 1896-97 was very similar to the one just past, being very mild. The railways had no occasion to use a snow plough all winter in this section. On March 24th, about 5 inches of snow fell.

It therefore appears that when spring opens prematurely there is not the assurance of steady warm weather there would be if the winter broke up at a later date.

LEAVING FOR THE WEST.

Address and Presentation to Miss Lizzie Stenson.

Miss Lizzie Stenson, who is leaving Peterborough to reside in the Northwest, was handsomely remembered by her friends of the weaving and finishing departments at Auburn, who presented her with a beautiful watch guard, accompanied by an an address, which was read by Miss Maggie Turnbull, while the presentation was made by Miss Ella Roche. Miss Stenson, as far as her feelings would permit her, acknowledged the gift in suitable terms, saying it would hold strong the ties of friendship, with those she was now about to sever her connection. The address was as follows:

Dear Miss Lizzie Stenson,—We, who have associated with you, both personally and socially in the past years, esteem it a great pleasure to have the opportunity of assembling together before your departure from our midst.

We, therefor, must express our profound regret, that the connection between us must be severedd. But a good cause demands an elevated view, and yours is one that love and duty calls, no matter what detriment to friends in your departure. We admire the incentive that has stirred your ambition, and we earnestly hope your devotion and interest will be rewarded with the loftiest laurels. We wish, therefor, to convey to you our heartiest appreciation and most grateful thanks for the many interests you have manifested in our welfare, that has rendered you our esteem and admiration. Therefore, in acknowledgement of our appreciation and good will, send as a slight and incomparable token of our estimation of you, we ask you to accept this chain, not for its explanatory value, but we trust when far away with new friends circleing around you, it will hold fond memory of the strong ties of friendship of those you now leave. We all join in wishing you much happiness in your future home, and will look forward with happy expectation to the privilege and pleasure of your presence with us again sometime in the future.

POLICE COURT.

Two Young Men Charged With Causing a Brawl.

At the Police Court this morning, before Police Magistrate Dumble, two young men, Jos. Rickaby and Robert Baker, were charged with causing a brawl in the Cavanagh Hotel on Friday night last. The accused pleaded not guilty.

In the course of evidence it transpired that the two present were not the direct cause of the disturbance, which is alleged to have been made by one Patrick Murphy. In view of this evidence the Police Magistrate said he was unable to find the accused guilty and discharged them.

THE ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Rev. Dr. Reynor and Rev. Dr. Biggs Preach

In George Street and Charlotte Street Methodist Churches—The Music.

The pulpit at the George street church yesterday morning was occupied by Rev. Dr. Reynar, of Victoria College, who preached a very thoughtful sermon from the words "And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and one soul; neither said any one that the things he possessed were his own; but they had all things in common."

After a description of the Feast of Pentecost, the coming of the Holy Ghost upon the disciples, Peter's sermon, and the the wonderful results, the speaker drew a comparison between the early church, and its first great missionary convention, and the church of to-day, with its mission work. Representatives of the whole world were in Jerusalem and listened to the story of the Gospel as told by Peter, and to-day the whole world is accessible to the missionary. The early church had only the oral word; to-day we have the written Gospels and the Epistles. The people of Jerusalem had to make sacrifices for the entertainment of the strangers and visitors to the Feast of Pentecost, and a great element in successful mission work to-day is sacrifice. There was also the spirit of unity; they were of one heart and one soul, and they had all things in common. The world is slowly coming to recognise the sense of its stewardship.

The evening discourse was given by Rev. Dr. Briggs of Toronto, who took as his text Mark xvi, and 15th verse, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

"The whole wide world for Jesus," is the battle cry of the missionary. Jesus stands before the world as the great Missionary for the world; whatever He did was for the world. The immediate disciples of Christ did not know the extent of the world as we know it. Modern conditions of thought, the advances of education and science only make more emphatic the statement of the text, "unto the uttermost parts of the earth." John Wesley came forth proclaiming "The world is my parish." We must acknowledge first of all that in preaching the Gospel we meet with the bitter hostility of the human heart. "The carnal mind is enmity towards God." Another resistance is found in the fact that the literature which caricatures and degrades Christianity follows the messenger of the Gospel into every field of missionary labour. Another resistance is the opposition of heathen tribes and nations. But the open door is being found everywhere for a revolution is imminent in the lands of the east. It does not do to send uneducated missionaries to cope with the keen minds of these lands. Speakers and writers of years ago told us that the conversion of China and India would be the greatest difficulty, but indications now are that the greatest struggle will be between the Crescent and the Cross. The Gospel prophesizes that the world will be brought to the feet of Christ, and the Gospel tidings preached first in Jerusalem and carried thence by Paul to the centres of the then known world, was soon taken to the uttermost parts of the earth. Boniface went to Germany, and Augustine to Britain. Was the reaping worth the sowing? When we can tell the worth of the Teutonic nations then we can answer that question. Wherever you find intellectual activity, commercial enterprise, whenever you find a contented, prosperous people, there you will find the power of Christianity is at work. Much has been accomplished, but the work is not yet finished. The Bible has been translated into all the languages and dialects of the world, and a great army of native workers has risen up to assist the missionaries. Mission work has been equally successful in the home fields. The results have been great but the marching orders of the Great Head of the church still comes ringing down to us, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

The music at both services was especially well given. In the morning the choir sang the anthem," with baritone solo by Mr. Mulligan. The offertory selction was "Consider and hear me," Mr. Mulligan taking the solo, and Miss Metheral and Mr. Miller the soprano and tenor duet. The evening anthem was "Saviour, breathe an evening Blessing," and during the collection the choir sang the anthem "Sun of My Soul," with solo by Mr. Mulligan.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH.

Still larger congregations showed the increasing interest in the series of sermons in All Saints' yesterday. In the morning the rector preached on the third and last of the temptations in the wilderness—"The Kingdoms of the World, and the Glories of them," and in the evening the second in a series on "The Prodigal"—"Starting for Home." Next Sunday evening the subject will be "The Father Met Him." During the offertory, Miss Bertha Brundrett and Mr. Jos. Legg sang very nicely the duet, "Wondering Child, Come Home," the choir joining in the refrain, which was very appropriate to the subject of the sermon.

The annual meeting of All Saints' branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to which the women of the congregation are invited.

The services this week will be on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at 4.15 p.m., and Thursday at 8 o'clock, when Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will preach.

A special meeting of the Church Boys' Brigade is called for this evening at 8 o'clock, to organize for the summer's sports.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The Rector preached last night the third of his series of sermons on practical subjects. The topic was "Selfishness," from the text Genesis iv; 9, 10, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" The congregations were large at both services. Next Sunday evening Mr. Langfeldt will preach on "Indifference."

Daily services will be held at St. Luke's at 5 p.m., except Wednesday and Saturday.

The Mother's meeting will be held on Tuesday at 2.30 p.m.

HONESTY OF THE OPPOSITION.

As mentioned on Saturday in these columns, there is abundant evidence that the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature is much more anxious to gain a party advantage than to purge the House of the corruption which they allege exists. They professed to be shocked at the "revelations" of Mr. Gamey's mails on Wednesday last. But they applauded with gleeful slamming of desks, and showed their delight in "revelations," which, if they affect to believe are true, are a subject of abject sorrow, rather than rejoicing. Again, if they believe, as they profess to do, in the truth of Mr. Gamey's "revelations," they should make it their first care to assist in such investigation, as would prove conclusively the truthfulness, or the reverse, of what now is only a mere matter of assertion, and can have no value in relation to a satisfactory and definite decision. Instead of doing this, the Opposition in the House, following the example of their leader, do all in their power to obstruct speedy investigation and by maligning the personnel of the tribunal proposed, to discredit its finding in advance. And for what purpose? To gain a little party advantage, a little partizan kudos. Unspecific, vague and general statements are made and care is taken to avoid putting them in a definite form, such as would warrant investigation or even make investigation possible. Mr. Whitney is a master of "bluff," and his following is not slow to learn. Informal, though they were, Mr. Gamey's statements were sufficiently definite to justify the Government in demanding and providing for immediate investigation. The Government feels that its honour has been attacked and will not rest till that honour shall be abundantly and authoritatively vindicated. On the contrary the Opposition, so professedly anxious, so obviously bound to have the statements they affect to believe, submitted to the proof, are pursuing a policy of obstruction and delay, and all for the sake of gaining a petty party advantage. To encompass this they seem willing to risk the failure to establish the charges they have made with so much assumed confidence. The game has been taken out of Mr. Gamey's hands, and, from the point of view of vindication of the attacked honour of the Government and the good name of the country, has degenerated, into a game of miserable party capital-making.

Annual Meeting of the Golf Club.

Notes on Canoeing and Tennis—The Norwood-Peterborough Protest.

Now that the Norwood-T.A.S. protest has been settled, it might be well for the public to understand the nature of Norwood's complaint. When the protest was entered there was general surprise felt by people in Peterborough, as Parnell had played all season with the T.A.S. team — twice before against Norwood — and his presence on the team was in no way objected to by the Norwood men. It is generally admitted that the Norwood protest was not the work of the Norwood management, but the scheme was concocted by one or two (and no more) "sports" in Peterborough, who were determined to see another game between these two teams. Of course Norwood yielded to the request of these gentlemen, and in a moment of haste entered the protest. There is reason to believe that the Norwood team regretted very much afterwards that the protest was entered. There was not sufficient strength to the affidavits to warrant the secretary and the president of the League in calling a meeting of the executive. It was alleged that Parnell received "$2 above actual expenses" when playing baseball with the George Matthews Company's team at Roseneath two years ago. There was no question whatever but that Parnell could prove that this $2 was not paid to him, but paid to a man who filled Parnell's position at the fire ball while he was away. He himself was not a cent's worth better off at the end of the day. It was a very weak case, and Parnell may be reckoned as an mateur for many years if he makes no more serious breach of the amateur rules. It must be understood that Norwood withdrew the protest.

GOLF.

The members of the Peterborough Golf Club are reminded of the annual meeting of the club which will be held in the offices of Messrs. Denniatoun, Peck, Kerr and Stevenson this evening.

BASKETBALL.

The basketball season is drawing to a close and those who have supported the game so royally during the season will have an opportunity of seeing some fast games as the winter nights are coming to an end. On Wednesday night at nine the Brownies will stand the challenge of the Arrows to decide who will hold the junior championship and on Saturday night next the Brownies and Harriers will have their final game of the season to decide whether the boys or men can play the better and fastest game of the two. These matches are worth witnessing and will draw a large crowd. There will be silver collection for the match on Wednesday night.

TENNIS.

The cinder and grass courts will be used again this season for members of the Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club, and in order that the courts will be in condition early, a meeting of the club will be held next Saturday night at 7.30 to discuss matters of importance. Any new members wishing to join should be present.

CANOEING.

All members of the Y.M.C.A. who have canoes and those intending to purchase should attend a meeting on Tuesday evening at 7.30, when it will be decided if a canoe club shall be organized. There are some paddlers in the Association who understand the sport to a science, and many are anxious of learning how to handle the wily craft for personal safety. Remember to-morrow night.

WRESTLING.

Arrangements have been made for a matched wrestling bout between Simons the welter weight champion of Quebec and the Western States, and Gauthier, the champion of Ontario. The affair will be pulled off in the Opera House on March 31st.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Mr. A. H. C. Long, of Port Hope, Writes a Letter.

Mr. A. H. C. Long, of Port Hope, in writing to the Toronto Globe in reference to the Trent Canal says:

Engineer Rubridge estimated the cost of a five foot canal via Trenton at $3,387,302, and Mr. Roger estimated the cost of a six foot canal via Port Hope, at $2,100,000, on this unfair basis showing a saving in favour of the Port Hope route of $1,287,302, and a saving in distance of 39 miles.

The supporters of the Port Hope route claim that the cost of maintenance of their route would be much less than via the Trenton route as by the latter the canal would cross five railways, whereas at Port Hope it would enter Lake Ontario without a single railway crossing, the present viaduct of the G.T.R. being 38 feet above the water. Another reason advanced why the canal should be constructed via Port Hope is that thousands of acres of land have already been flooded along the Trent route, and if, as proposed, seven new dams are built, thousands of acres more will be drowned.

Port Hope, being opposite Oak Orchard, N. Y., is considered very much better situated for the coal trade than Trenton. Practically the only objection raised against the Port Hope route is the stretch of thirty miles of open lake to Presque Isle Point, but the supporters of this route claim that, owing to the deepening of the St. Lawrence canals, allowing larger vessels to come up into the lakes than hitherto, the cargoes would be trans-shipped at Port Hope for Montreal and Hiverpoof, but even should it be considered necessary for small barges to run to the Murray Canal, with several harbours between, affording perfect shelter in case of storm, the danger would be no greater than the same barges would experience at the earlier part of their journey in crossing Lake Simcoe. In this connection, it is pointed out that small barges have for years been running from Ottawa down the Rideau Canal across Lake Ontario to Oswego, N.Y. For local trade Port Hope possesses superior advantages over Trenton, especially when trade with Toronto and Lake Ontario ports is concerned. It is 88 miles shorter from Peterborough to Toronto via Port Hope than by the Trenton route.

THE TWO EXTREMES

About the time children begin to go to school they are liable to be confronted with one of two extremes—they may either grow too fast or not grow fast enough. In the former case nature makes unusual demands upon bone and blood; vital organs are overtaxed and growth continues out of proportion to their age. Here is where Scott's Emulsion finds scope for its best workings.

It nourishes the bones—the hypophosphites of lime and soda does this; it feeds and enriches the blood—this through the pure cod liver oil; it strengthens the whole system, providing firm, healthy flesh and fortifying the tissues so that they are better able to stand the extra strain upon them.

When a child is not growing as it should—undersize, underweight, there will be found in Scott's Emulsion the very elements needed to aid in proper development.

Bone food for the bones, blood food for the blood, tissue food for the tissues—that is how Scott's Emulsion provides for each demand of the body.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

HER HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY.

Story of the Remarkable Life of a Dufferin County Lady.

The Orangville Sun tells the following story of one of the very few of Canada's citizens who have passed the century mark:

Historic old Mono has within her borders a woman who has passed the one hundredth milestone on the journey of life. This distinguished personage is Mrs. Alexander Laidlaw, who recently celebrated her one hundredth birthday. Her maiden name was Margaret Frame and she was born at Kilbride, Scotland, in 1803. She came to New York when 19 years of age and lived in that city for a few years. She was married while there to a young Scotchman by the name of Alexander Laidlaw. She and her husband then removed to Canada to seek their fortune. They settled on a farm which has been known ever since by the name of Craiglee, upon which the hamlet of Mono Centre stands. She lived on Craiglee farm, the original homestead, for 65 years, and had a family of seven sons and two daughters. Until a few months ago this aged lady could read the newspapers with ordinary glasses and would doubtless be very active only for an accident which occurred three years ago when she fell, breaking her hip. She is an interesting talker and good conversationalist. Mrs. Laidlaw belonged to a long-lived family. Her brother, Dr. Frame, died a few years ago, aged 96. On the great anniversary friends and relatives from far and near gathered at her home and an enjoyable and happy day was spent.

NEIGHBORS DID NOT KNOW HIM.

Valentine Fisher's Sciatica Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Could Hardly put one Foot to the Ground now he can Walk all day Without Trouble.

Collingwood, March 15. — (Special.) "Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new man of me," so speaks Valentine Fisher, well known in Collingwood and the surrounding country. "I was troubled with kidney disease for 13 years. It developed into Sciatica and located in my left side so that I was hardly able to walk, and could not do so without the aid of a cane. My back was also affected and altogether I was a cripple in the most painful sense of the word.

"And the worst of it all was I could get no relief. Doctors and medicines failed to do me any good until I was fortunate enough to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. The benefit was almost miraculous. My health came back and the change in my appearance was so great that some of my neighbours did not know me.

"Whereas before I could hardly put one foot to the ground and I had to use morphine to ease the pain, I was enabled to go to work selling fruit trees and walk all day without any trouble."

Sciatica and kindred diseases are caused by uric acid in the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills put the Kidneys in shape to take the uric acid out of the blood, and the Sciatica disappears.

A Complicated Process.

This is how a woman in Toronto pays a street car fare:

"I saw a woman in a street car open a satchel and take out a purse, close the satchel and open the purse, take out a ten cent piece and close the purse, open the satchel and put in the purse, close the satchel and lock both ends. Then she gave the coin to the conductor and took five cents in exchange. Then she opened the satchel and took out the purse, closed the satchel and opened the purse, put in the smaller coin and closed the purse, opened the satchel and put in the purse, closed the satchel and locked both ends. Then she felt to see if her back hair was all right, and it was all right, and she was all right, and just as sweet! That was a woman."

DANGEROUS CLEAVAGE.

Is British Columbia Becoming Estranged From Canada?—Ties of Business Thicker Than Blood.

"There is to-day a very distinct and very dangerous cleavage between British Columbia and Eastern Canada," were the significant words of Rev. C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor") of Winnipeg, in the course of his address on Western Canada at Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. Hall on the evening of the 21st Feb. The people of the Western Province did not use the word "Canadian" as much as "British Columbian." The business interests of the cities on the Canadian coast were very closely allied with those of Seattle and other American cities in that part of the continent. He did not wish to infer, however, that the people of British Columbia were less loyal than those of other Canadian Provinces. In the South African war they had fought in the very front of the Canadian contingents.

"But business is thicker than blood," Rev. Mr. Gordon continued, —and before business, blood and water and almost everything else disappears." If the business relations between those Canadian and American cities went on increasing, then the ties of blood were in great danger of being sacrificed. "As Canadians," said the speaker, "we must set ourselves to prevent any permanent cleavage between Eastern and Western—shall I say Greater—Canada? There is a national cleavage of about 500 miles of country between the East and the West. We do not know why Providence placed that rocky belt there. Some day, however, the discovery of hidden wealth further north may solve the question."

Responsibilities of Public Men.

Public men, he said, had great responsibilities in making and retaining a united Canada. "The man who ought not to be sent to Parliament or trusted as a leader," said Mr. Gordon, "and should be turned down swift and hard is the man who, under stress of party exigencies, emphasizes the difference between people and people, or Province and Province. I'm a Protestant and a citizen of Winnipeg, but my interests as a Canadian in Manitoba are not different from those of the French Roman Catholic who is a citizen of Quebec. Nor do the interests of the Pilgrim of the West, who likes to go on a ramble once a year, differ from those of any cultured gentleman of Toronto. They are both here, and each is valuable in his place. Both the man of Toronto and the Doukhobor of the plains may turn out to be equally good and honest citizens." No member of Parliament should, therefore, he said, be representative purely of manufacturers, or of farmers, or any other class. He should represent Canadians in the broadest sense of the word.

The Making of the West.

Turning to the making of the West, the speaker said that schools and colleges should take an important place in this Western development. Some men failed to see the advantage of higher education. For the West they thought only self-made men were needed, men who perhaps could only read and write, or made wealth. Of what use were poets or writers of fiction, for instance, they said. "Well, if he is a bad poet," observed Rev. Mr. Gordon, "or a bad writer of fiction, he is a dangerous man; but if he writes a good poem or a good novel, he should be paid a large salary. Do not despise the unpractical man."

Ideals for Canadians.

On the previous Friday afternoon, Mr. Gordon, in the Convocation Hall of Knox College, Toronto, lectured on ideals for Canadians. Summed up his talk would resolve itself into a literary sermon from the following text:

"The material is a great possession, but greater than the material is the spiritual."

We have a great heritage, he said, and with it comes a great responsibility. Canada had lately been rediscovered by the Americans. A new West had sprung into life, and the Dominion had entered a second period of youth. Now was the time for forming ideals while young Canada is still in the formative period. The ideals he held for Canadians were those of self-dependence as opposed to the parasitic spirit, unwavering fidelity to duty, sympathy with others, a national unity irrespective of race, language or religion, and finally spirituality as opposed to commercialism.

The Composite West.

Coming from the composite West, with its growing mixture of races and creeds, the lecturer naturally emphasized the need of unity. West of the Great Lakes, said he, there were 80,000 fellow-citizens who did not speak our language, and who did not believe in our religion. This complexity of races and creeds was necessary in a new country. No bar could keep out the people of other lands, who were attracted by the richness of our territory. And Canada needed just such people as the peasants of Europe, men who would do a day's work for a day's wage, who would take up willingly the work our own Canadian youth passed by. The peoples from other countries, who came to share our privileges would, he believed, if received in the proper spirit and encouraged, soon become assimilated, and prove true and worthy citizens.

Spiritual Potentialities.

Lastly, the ideal he cherished most for the people of Canada was the fostering of their spiritual potentialities. Our forests and our wheat fields and our oceans of fish were a wonderfully rich possession, but beyond all it was the unseen, the spiritual life, that counted for greatness. That for which the university stood, high thinking, lofty ideals, nobility of character, held the first place among the things that would ensure for our young nation an enduring greatness.

AN ARCHBISHOP ON MANNERS.

The Late Dr. Temple Wrote a Book on Good Behavior.

"Good manners gives the last grace and finish to good conduct. They are, when perfect, the visible flower and bloom of inward excellence; of excellence which has so taken possession of the man as to pervade his being and color the minutest details of his life. They sweeten all social intercourse, and contribute to human happiness beyond all proportion to the effort of self-discipline which they cost. The true man will desire to remember at every moment of his life the Scriptural precept, 'Be courteous.'"

It will come as something of a surprise to many people, who pictured the late Archbishop as a man somewhat rugged in appearance and uncouth in his ways, to learn that the words quoted above form the closing sentences of an essay on "Good Manners," by Frederick Temple, published in 1882 by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge.

This admirably written pamphlet provides, for those who need it, proof of the genuine worth that lay beneath that uncomely exterior.

Good Manners Analysed.

Here, for example, is Temple's analysis of good manners:

At the bottom of good manners there are always three things. There is always, in the first place, self-sacrifice; there is always, in the second place, self-control, and there is always, in the third place, self-respect.

The man who is thoroughly unselfish in all small things, he is the man in regard of whom it is quite impossible for you not to feel. Let his rank in society be what it may, let him be ignorant of the ordinary conventionalities of social intercourse, still, if the man be truly self-sacrificing, if, in his ordinary relations with his fellows, there is true and genuine humility, true and genuine unselfishness, it is impossible for any man who has much to do with him not to feel, "That man is a gentleman." I don't care whether he is learned or not; I don't care how ignorant he may be, or how low he may stand; I don't care if he be ever so poor; the man who constantly shows that he is giving himself up for the sake of other people, that man is at heart and in reality one of Nature's gentlemen, and this is the way in which he shows it.

What is more beautiful than the good manners in which there is no trace left of self-consciousness, but all is kindliness, simplicity and ease?

Marks of the Cataloguer.

A number of persons who receive books from the public libraries are puzzled at the mysterious marks on the title page. Some books have only one or two marks, others have a dozen. Occasionally it is a letter of the alphabet with two small figures close to it. Sometimes it is a letter underscored under the name of the book, or under the name of the author, or both. Very frequently it is an outline in shorthand, which many readers can decipher, but are in entire ignorance as to its meaning. These are the marks of the chief cataloguer of the library, and are intended only as guideposts to her assistants. They convey information as to classification, other books in the library on the same subject, number of times the book is called for, and various items that are useful when the time comes to make out an annual report. Most chief cataloguers are women, and nearly every one has a system of her own. Cataloguing and indexing have grown to be a business in themselves, just as much as stenography and typewriting. It is mostly in the hands of women, and the pay is about the same.

NERVOUS HEADACHE.

The Cause of Much Suffering to Women is Permanently Cured When the System is Built up by

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Headache powders relieve headaches, but they have never cured them, and they are not intended to make a lasting cure. Besides the risk run in using a drug that is strong enough to instantly stop pain, you may be sure that the reaction on the nervous system is most trying and injurious.

Mrs. Clancy, whose letter is quoted below, was subject to headaches for nineteen years, and in spite of all the headache remedies she used she could get no lasting benefit. She suffered so severely when the attacks would come on that she could not go about the house. She has restored her nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and her headaches have entirely disappeared.

Mrs. Jas. Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I have used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found them an excellent medicine. I was troubled more or less for nineteen years with severe headaches, which made me useless as far as accomplishing my work was concerned.

"The Nerve Food seemed to build me up generally, and so made a thorough cure of my old trouble. I would not think of being without Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house and would strongly recommend anyone suffering as I did to give it a trial. It succeeded in my case after a great many remedies had failed."

To the thousands of women who are victims of nervous headaches this letter should prove of inestimable value. If they will but follow the advice of Mrs. Clancy they can be certain of great and lasting benefit.

CURES INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, SOUR, WEAK AND ALL STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mr. J. G. Clunis, Barney's River, N.S., tells of what this wonderful remedy has done for him:—It is with gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of B.B.B. I was so badly troubled with indigestion that whatever I ate caused me so much torture that eating became a dread to me. I tried numerous physicians, but their medicines seemed to make me worse. I thought I would try B.B.B., so got a bottle, and after taking a few doses felt a lot better. By the time I had taken the last of two bottles I was as well as ever, and have had no return of the trouble since. I recommend your medicine to the highest degree. THE SECRET SERVICE.

How Britain's Compares With Similar Institutions Abroad—Germany's Elaborate System—What Is Wanted.

All the great nations require information about other countries, which is not obtainable openly. For this reason the Intelligence Department of the great military powers on the Continent are organized on a scale of cost and efficiency undreamed of in this country.

In Russia the secret police employ a considerable number of agents, both male and female, who are residents in England. Some of these paid agents, or spies, are people well known in society. Their duties vary from diplomatic work of the highest delicacy to the collection of newspaper cuttings.

One of the points attended to by the Russian Secret Service is the record of every English public man who speaks or writes about Russia. On one occasion the present writer had the opportunity of seeing the system followed by the Russian police. Every speech and every writing of Mr. Shaw-Lefevre—an innocent and not very formidable personage — with particulars of his birth, parentage, means, residence, habits, tastes, and position were all entered up in a great portfolio.

Mr. Shaw-Lefevre was, I believe, at one time associated with the Friends of Russian Freedom, and is therefore, like all the other members of that body, carefully watched by the agents of Russia.

Considerable sums are spent by Russia on secret service agents in Central Asia, Baluchistan, Persia, and in India itself. The object of these agents is to belittle Great Britain and belaud Holy Russia. Constant diplomatic duels take place between British Consular agents and the avowed representatives of Russia. This subterranean war of secret agents is going on all over the world.

Germany's Elaborate System.

The German system of secret service is conducted on much more scientific lines. German knowledge of the United Kingdom is more complete than that of most Englishmen. I was lately informed by a British diplomatist of the highest rank that the German general staff possesses a schedule of the contents of all the chief residences in the kingdom.

Every picture and work of art of any considerable value is known to the German general staff, while the study of British topography, the mastery of our ordnance maps, the knowledge of the fords, smithies, obstacles, population, and highroads form the subject of examination from German officers who are told off to the duty of acquiring full knowledge of the counties of the United Kingdom.

The German agents in England, who are occupied in surveying our country with a view to contingencies, are generally to be found in couples in the guise of tourists. They know to a head how many horses the Irish farmers can supply within a given time. They have made a careful study of the idiosyncrasies of our leading men. Their tastes, habits, health, friends, and means are carefully noted by the astute Teutons, who distill the honey of information from English fields for the German hive.

The principal feature in which German Secret Service differs from that of England is that the Germans coordinate the whole of their knowledge, and have it ready to hand in a concentrated form whenever it is required.

Useless English Methods.

The English system is different. There is a Secret Service Fund controlled by the Foreign Office. So many Foreign Office agents are hostile to England, and are unpaid, that the Foreign Office service is often found to be useless for naval or military purposes.

During the last two years the Admiralty has succeeded in wresting from the Foreign Office the control of the Secret Service, so far as it affects the navy. During the trouble with France over Fashoda agents of the Admiralty were busily watching French opinion in the great centres. The English military intelligence department is again a separate service.

What is required is to concentrate in one spot the whole of the knowledge obtainable. The Foreign Office should be the brain, the eyes, and the antennae of the nation. The German and Russian Foreign Offices fulfill these functions. The British Foreign Office not only does not know what is going to happen; it does not want to know, while the military and Foreign Office intelligence departments are separated administratively.

What Is Wanted.

After the heavy experience of the Boer war, it is inconceivable that the Government will not take steps forthwith to reorganize the whole of our intelligence system—naval, military, and diplomatic. Our ignorance of foreign countries contrasts unpleasantly with their knowledge about us.

France is rapidly becoming a peaceful power, and is losing that passion for military glory which has oppressed her for hundreds of years. Germany and Russia, however, require careful watching, and the pacific tendencies of the French Republic may be dissipated by the temptations of an alliance that Germany may yet have to offer.

What does the Admiralty know about the German fleet? Very little. How many times has the Naval Attache in Berlin visited Emden, or even Kiel? For what purpose are the miles of quays erected at Emden, a little village with a tenth-rate museum in it? If the Boer war taught us anything it was to enforce the lesson that knowledge is power. There is nothing so conducive to peace as a full knowledge of the intentions and tendencies of other nations. An enormous outlay may be saved by the reorganization and establishment of an efficient and up-to-date system of secret service.

Because paps gets so mad when we make a little bit of noise.

What makes him that way?

Mamma says it's dyspepsia makes him act so crazy.

That's about the way it strikes the small boy. The dyspeptic has no idea of his own unreasonableness or harshness. Little things are magnified and seem to justify his quick anger.

There's health for the dyspeptic and happiness for the family by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and restores perfect health and strength, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"I have taken one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and liver complaint," writes Mr. C. M. Wilson, of Yadkin College, Davidson Co., N. C. "Have had no bad spells since I commenced taking your medicine—in fact, have not felt like the same man. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I could not eat anything without awful distress, but now I can eat anything I wish without having unpleasant feelings."

"WE TOO SHALL SLEEP."

A "Message" From One of Archibald Lampman's Poems.

A few short years,
We of the living flesh and restless brain
Shall plumb the deeps of life and know the strain,
The fleeting gleams of joy, the fruitless tears;
And then, at last, when all is touched and tried,
Our own immutable night shall fall, and deep
In the same silent plot, O little friend,
In peace that changeth not, nor knoweth not,
We too shall sleep.
—From Archibald Lampman's "We Too Shall Sleep."

Lampman's "Call to Arms."

So Lampman wrote to one who, only a little sooner, was laid in the same silent plot where the poet sleeps under the beech trees in Beechwood Cemetery at Ottawa. Tuesday, the 10th of February, was the anniversary of the poet's death. To those who love and revere the memory of Lampman, it was consoling to know that each anniversary of his death marks a milestone in the spreading of his message. For a "message" there is running through all his poems, says Pharos in The Globe. It is a veritable "call to arms," ringing clear as a silver trumpet note, to all Canadians, to watch, listen, imbibe the beauty and marvel of the world about them. Thousands of us are fated to remain within a small area of ground. Many of us know little of the great world, save from what we read in books, but Lampman would transform close environment to a world which admits of no horizon. He plumbs the depths, admits no limitations, says here is the "charm": "Within this ten-acre field you have the great world and all its problems solved and unsolved."

Nothing Common.

The meanest things in life to him revealed their power and secret purpose, all in harmony with divine ends. The truth of life, truth of nature, and the very core and heart of things were his, and with the generosity of the great poet—nature —he fain would give to each of us a particle of the charm he possessed, telling us:—

"If we could but lift our earthward eyes,
To see, and open our dull ears to hear,
Then should the wonder of this world draw near,
And life, innumerable harmonies."

Old-Fashioned Girl Made New.

People say the old-fashioned girl is coming into fashion. It may be so—it all depends. But we doubt if the latest form of feminity will take the shape of a revival. An adaptation, perhaps, of a modification, or a revised edition. But a mere replica—No! Women have their phases, like the moon and other creations of the gender, but, unlike the lunar planet, they never repeat themselves. The early Victorian girl was a simpering, giggling, blushing, fainting, ringleted, champagne-bottle shouldered, white-stockinged, cloth-booted, impeccable nonenity. The mid-Victorian Miss was a thing of bustles, chignons, sprightliness, archery meetings, and dawning emancipation. The later Victorian New Woman was composed of platform phrases, cropped hair, thick boots, formless arguments, affected animadversion of the tyrant man, and despair of the matrimonial estate. We to-day are full of "smart" ambitions, overflowing with smart slang, weighted down with smart bills for smart clothes, compelled to live in smart streets, to the great attenuation of our less smart incomes. Never, in fact, has there been such an Old Man of the Sea as this fetish of smartness that we have been hugging to our souls—or what represents them—for the last dozen years. Not to be smart is to be socially dead, and to be socially defunct it were better never to have been born. So says the modern Saga. With what result, one need not add. A glance at names gracing the Bankruptcy Court lists, or, say, a few side-lights by a tax-collector, and the plaints of unpaid tradespeople would afford some contemporary history full of thrilling situations and go far to explain to future generations the curious feverheat with which the desire to be smart has afflicted this Edwardian era. Meanwhile, as one swing of the pendulum inevitably induces another, we are promised a retrogression to Arcadian simplicity, which will dislodge made-dishes, banish "Bridge" after a.m., introduce the cult of mere muslin frocks and leaven our erotic literature with the heavenly manna of Jane Austen and Alfred Austin. What is to be done with Ladies' Clubs and private telephones has not yet come up for discussion; but, doubtless, Phyllis and Corydon will appropriately re-appear attuned to the surroundings of their blue-ribboned era, as the painted fans and mouches noires of Pierrot and Pierrette recede on this overdone horizon.

Hanged and Buried, Yet Lived.

It is not given to many men to be hanged and buried, and yet be able to tell the tale, but such was the experience of one John Bartendale, who was executed at York in 1634 for felony. After his body had hung for nearly an hour, it was buried. A gentleman passing by the grave, which had not been filled up, thought he saw the earth move, and with the help of his servant, he disinterred the convict, who was still alive. It was the custom in those days to bury suicides and executed criminals without any coffin. The man was carefully treated, and entirely recovered. He became hostler at the coaching-house in York and lived a most exemplary life. When asked what he could tell in relation to hanging, as having experienced it, he replied: "That when I was turned off flashes of fire seemed to dart from my eyes, from which I fell into a state of darkness and insensibility."

"And you never gossip about your friends?"

"Never," answered Miss Cayenne. "I can't bring myself to be so cruel as to interrupt my friends when they are gossiping about one another."

Two Rings.

Fair Chloe promised to be mine;
I kissed her when the deed was done
And on her taper finger slipped
A ring inscribed with "Won."

With laggard feet the hours dragged by Till came the day! Ah, surely none
Can guess my joy as on I slipped
A ring inscribed with "One."

"Why, I didn't hear him use any such language."

"Well, he didn't put it in just those words, but he said I had the making of a successful diplomat in me."

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 16. — There is reason to expect some improvement to-day in the stock market. The bank statement of Saturday all things considered is taken favourably by the street. The money outlook is no worse and a more cheerful feeling exists.

Professionalism rules now. The short interest is not much reduced according to a number of signs. We are still bullish on amalgamated copper, but believe it should be purchased on reactions for fair returns for the present. There are bull points of Readings and Erie. Manh. should work higher. Mop. gives evidence of a rising tendency. Americans heavy in London.

TOPICS.

New York, March 16. — H to-day be blue to-morrow will be green by St. Patrick. Present fears regarding the monetary situation are void of reason. Each day for two weeks to come will bring us nearer to the natural relief that will be seen next month. For the time being the speculation will be narrow but as liquidation of margined accounts and bullish speculative holdings had been very thorough buyers of the standard issues and of the low-priced railroad shares will surely catch the spring rise for which preparations are now making.

Buy the coalers. Keep long of the Morgan group and steels. Good people said Manh. is good to have and tohold. Big English interests representing the Rothschilds syndicate are talking higher prices for Amal. copper and Anaconda, St. Paul L.N. and U.P. will work appreciably higher.

JOSEPH.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 16. — We look for an irregular stock market to-day on account of continued weakness of London markets and apathy of foreigners generally toward our stocks and absence of local outside investment or speculative demand. Bank statement about as expected and traders bought and bid up stocks on it but weakness of London is surprise. Banks have surplus about a million dollars and with syndicate and pools tied up we can see nothing in situation to encourage development of bull market. We rather expect narrow traders markets and think prices are apt to drag. The spread of labour trouble is attracting general attention and is calculated to have bad effect on general sentiment U. S. steel sell your rights or convert. This is last day for U.S. steel preferred stockholders to record their stock if they wish to avail themselves of their privilege to convert preferred stock into new 5 p.c. bonds.

M & M.

New York, March 16, 11.05 a. m. — London free seller of stocks. Market looks like going lower.

J. G. MARSHALL.

11.25 a. m. — Market dull and featureless. L.&N. is up on covering of shorts and some pool buying while rise in smelters is on inside buying on report of dividend equal to 4 p.c. per annum.

M. & M.

11.30 a. m. —Banks have gained $580000 from sub-treasury since Friday. Call money a little freer. This money probably coming out from Standard Oil and Gas dividends.

Liverpool 1.30. — Wheat, unchanged; corn, 1-2 lower; car lots wheat, 37; corn 300; oats, 418.

Liverpool, 12.40, special. — American stocks closed weak. General market after being strong closed heavy. Paris heavy. Consols shade lower. Paris Exchange on London closed 25 francs, 16 1-2 centimes unchanged.

M. & M.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 14. — To-day's two hours was marked by a desultory sort of trading. Demand from short interests conspicuous by its absence during the early trading. Buying lower while limited was unquestionably good and of a substantial nature. Amal. copper developed a sagging tendency on profit-taking sales. General opinion prevails that market has gone through its worst period and while conservatism is advisable moderate purchases can be made on ample margin with perfect security. Cannot see anything alarming at present in the monetary situation as there is plenty of money abroad which would be attracted to this country in the event of a further rise in rates. Bank statement showed an increase in reserves of $7[illegible] and decrease in loans of over 15 millions, while deposits decreased over 20 millions. After its publication market became decidedly firm with an advancing tendency closing at about best for the day.

Chicago — Wheat market dull without particular feature. There is almost entire absence of news. General apathy of the public is a bearish factor. Market will likely work lower before any general buying appears. Corn very dull with local trade bearishly inclined.

SIGNS OF STRIKE'S COLLAPSE.

Rates Willing For Arbitration, But Is Told to Look to Montreal.

Vancouver, B. C., March 16.—Signs of total collapse of the U. B. R. F. strike are not wanting. In a lengthy communication to the local press, President Estes now expresses his willingness to accept General Superintendent Marpole's offer, that the matters in dispute should be referred to the heads of recognized railway organizations for arbitration. Mr. Marpole, however, has replied that the matter is out of his hands and that Estes will in future have to deal with the general manager at Montreal. The strikers accepted Premier Prior's offer of services as mediator, but for reasons already mentioned, local officials could not accept the same, even if willing. Despite denials of the strikers, many men have returned to work and more will be back on Monday. Many positions have, however, been permanently filled.

Strike Hurts Fruit Trade.

Winnipeg, March 16.—A Vancouver despatch says it is officially announced it is certain that six or seven of the clerks returned to work Saturday. The U. B. R. E. denies this, but the company will probably issue a statement to this effect, when more of the employes are expected to go back to work. Master draymen continue to do all their own hauling, the teamsters staying out. Constant reports of congestion of freight and a general tie-up in the interior are as constantly contradicted by the company. The wholesale fruit trade here is affected by the strike. Since the strike Winnipeg is being seriously affected by the strike. Since the strike was declared the C.P.R. have declined to receive any perishable goods. Each of the fruit handling houses has from two to three cars of oranges and lemons, and though these are not as yet injured, its a great loss to hold them in stock. Saturday the first car of bananas for the season was due to arrive, and if they cannot be got out at once, they will be a heavy loss. Labor unions continue to pass resolutions endorsing the men, otherwise there are no new developments here or at Calgary.

Steamer Breaks Through Ice.

Kingston, March 16.—The steamer Pierrepont broke her way through the ice to Wolfe Island on Saturday. It was an easy task. It is five years since navigation opened here as early as this spring. In 1898 the Pierrepont made the first trip of the season across the harbor on March 13, one day earlier than this year. In 1894 the Pierrepont's first trial was on March 15. It is expected that on Tuesday, St. Patrick's Day, she will set out for Cape Vincent.

U. C. C.'S NEW PRINCIPAL.

Mr. Henry W. Auden, Who Recently Arrived From Scotland.

Mr. Henry W. Auden, M.A., the new principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, is now in his thirty-sixth year, and has been until recently assistant master in Fettes College, one of the best known educational establishments in Scotland. He was educated at Shrewsbury school, remaining there from 1881 to 1886. In October of the latter year he entered Cambridge University, having been elected to a Senior Open Classical Scholarship at Christ's College. During his residence at Christ's College he obtained the college prizes for Greek and Latin Verse Composition, and the Porteous Gold Medal for Latin Prose. In June, 1887, he obtained the Bell University Scholarship for classics. In 1889 he graduated B.A., obtaining First Class Honors (Second Cracket) in the Classical Tripos Part I. Remaining at Cambridge for a fourth year he devoted himself to the study of the Comparative Philology of the Greek and Latin languages and the acquirement of a knowledge of Sanscrit. He has since graduated M.A., and is a member of the Senate of Cambridge University. After a short residence at Marburg, where he attended the lectures of Professor Niese and Professor Vietor, he was appointed, in 1891, assistant master at Fettes College, a position which he held until he was selected by the Board of Trustees of Upper Canada College to succeed Dr. G. R. Parkin. While at Fettes, Mr. Auden endeavored to keep in touch with the progress of classical studies, both in England and in Germany, and not to fall behind in understanding the wider problems of education, especially the study of its methods. He has traveled in Italy and devoted his attention to such of the antiquities of Rome as are important for a thorough appreciation of Latin literature. He has edited one of the plays of Plautus for the Cambridge University Press, the Pro Plancio of Cicero, for Messrs. Macmillan, and also the Latin Phrase Book for the same publishers, and he is at present general editor of the classical series now being issued by Messrs. Blackwood. Mr. Auden is undoubtedly a man of wide educational abilities, and will be a great acquisition to the society of Toronto.

It Never Came Back.

In 1867, a map taken from Martin's "British Colonies" was lent by the Parliamentary library at Ottawa to the Clerk of the Legislature at Toronto for the purpose of having the seal, which was on the map, engraved for some local legislative matter. This map has frequently been inquired for, for historical purposes at Ottawa, but no trace of it has been found. It now transpires that the map was lent to the clerk of the local House in 1867, about thirty-six years ago, and has not been returned. It is thought that it might be found in the papers of the late Col. Gilmour or in the Provincial Library in the Queen's Park, Toronto.

AN INTERESTING OLD BOOK.

Some Peterborough Old Time Cricketers.

The Scores of 1862—When Mr. W. H. Wrighton Used to Play.

An old cricketer of Peterborough has handed the Examiner a score book of the old Peterborough Cricket Club. A look through it is most interesting as it contains the names of many of Peterborough's prominent business men as well as the names of many who are not now residents of Peterborough.

The first match the score-book records was between Kingston and Peterborough, and was played July 21 and 22, 1862. The Peterborough players were:—Loucks, Wrighton, H. Strickland, Mitchell, M. Clementi, Clarkson, Warren, Higginson, Weller, Kennedy, Falwasser. The highest score for the Peterborough team was 17, scored by Mitchell in the second innings. The total was Peterborough, 116—Kingston 119.

On July 17th, 1863, an exciting match was played between Peterborough Civilians and Volunteers. The latter team was composed of:—Sault, Wrighton, Crown, Kennedy, Higginson, Clementi, Burnham, Kennedy, Bell, Purser, Hartley. In this match Clementi made 17, the highest score for the Volunteers, who were defeated by 13 runs, the total score being 70 to 83.

On Friday, June 24th, 1864, a match between Lindsay is recorded, the score being 63 to 62 in favour of the Lindsay men. The Peterborough players were:—W. H. Wrighton, Kennedy, A. H. McDougall, J. B. Higginson, T. Clementi, M. Clementi, W. Kennedy, J. Hague, Geo. Purser, Heartfield. Mr. M. Clementi again distinguished himself by scoring 12, the highest by the local team. During this match the Lindsay men bowled 23 wides while the wide balls sent down by the Peterborough bowlers were 15.

On Friday, July 15th, 1869, Peterborough defeated Colborne by 92 to 55 runs. The Peterborough players were:—Stinson, Leith, Leake, Cummings, Brice, Parmer, Strong, Campbell, Hamilton, Roarbuck, Casey. In this match Parmer and Strong made a steady stand the former making 23 while the latter made 21.

On Tuesday, May 24th, 1870, the match between Peterborough and Lakefield is recorded. The scores were 97-100 in favour of the Peterborough team. The Peterborough players were:—Dunsford, Dunnet, Taylor, Ball, Hall, Holland, Blomfield, Colwith, Edwards, Johnson, McFarlane. The highest score for the Peterborough side was made by Taylor in the second innings.

A BOY'S REFORMATION.

"We have a boy of twelve in the gaol here, convicted of stealing, what would you advise?" was the message received by wire from one of our county judges. The answer sent back was, "Delay action and write particulars." The particulars came in due time, and from a police standpoint they were serious enough to warrant a long term in the Reformatory. The judge, however, had been studying modern methods in child-saving work, and readily consented to transfer the guardianship of the lad to the Superintendent of Neglected Children, there being no Children's Aid Society organized in the district. The boy came to the city under the close surveillance of the local constable, and was duly handed over. "Well," he was asked, "where do you think you are going now?" "The Reformatory," he replied without a smile, that being the only punishment that he could conceive of. He was soon enlightened, and he appreciated the idea the more he comprehended it. The past to be completely forgotten; for the future, a new life—to be trusted, respected, aided and encouraged in all that was worthy and commendable. After a month's trial free from any unusual restraint he seemed willing and anxious to do right, and a farm home was secured for him far removed from his former environment. One day he forgot his good resolutions, took some money belonging to his employer's son and bought cigarettes and tobacco. The young man soon discovered his loss and treated the culprit to a downright good thrashing. The incident was undoubtedly discouraging, but there has been no more stealing reported, and in other directions steady progress has been made. The strong likelihood is that this rational treatment and change of scene will prove effective. The boy, instead of being an expense to the community, with reform uncertain, is living amid normal surroundings and is an industrial unit in a country where the crying need is for manual labour, and useful, self-reliant citizenship. The same policy has been successfully tried with twenty other lads during the past year in order to demonstrate the possibilities of this class of work, and it is safe to say that hundreds would be dealt with in a similar manner. The so-called bad boy is usually the product of uncongenial surroundings and unsympathetic relatives, and what he needs is not confinement in an institution but a complete change of scene and free scope for his activities.

This is a sample of the work our Children's Aid Societies are doing throughout the Province.

HER TONGUE IS SILENCED.

Death of Margaret L. Shepherd, the Anti-Catholic Lecturer.

A despatch from Detroit says:—Although the death of the notorious Margaret L. Shepherd, alleged ex-nun and anti-Catholic lecturer, has been kept secret for over a week, it was learned yesterday that this woman died in Detroit at Harper Hospital, March 3, after an illness of four weeks. She was suffering with cancer and died a few minutes after being taken from the operating table at the hospital. She had recently returned from Australia after having spent three years on the lecture platform. She had no relatives in this city, but Mr. and Mrs. Leonard were her friends and she came to make them a visit.

Margaret Shepherd as she was best known throughout the world, was one of the most notorious women lecturers of the time. She had perhaps done more preaching against the principles of the Roman Catholic religion than any living woman. She claimed to have been a former nun and she devoted her life to lecturing derogatory to her first religion. She was exposed several times, once by William T. Stead, in London, and again by a Canadian priest. These did not, however, deter her from her purpose, and she continued in her violent harangue until within a short time of her death. She was taking a long rest preparatory to going on another lecture tour, having met with several reverses in Australia.

BLUSHING.

Blushing seems to be a real trial to a great many young girls, but the reason why is somewhat difficult for their non-blushing friends to discover. The blushing face is an evidence of a refined and sensitive mind, and there would be something strange about a young girl who never blushed. A blush is a sign hung out by Nature to show where purity and honour dwell. Abnormal blushing is a most uncomfortable ailment, and is often a symptom that the victim's health is not quite as it should be. Blushing is always a mark of sensitiveness, and the over-frequent blushing of the young girl generally subsides as the years go on; but it is to be hoped that she may never lose her power of blushing, for that would indicate a decrease of mental refinement. The very climax of iniquity seems to be reached by those who without a blush hear of, or take part in anything which outrages the sense of propriety in right-minded people.

A Family Necessity.

Owing to artificial modern life, almost everybody suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement, they have come to be considered a family necessity. Heads of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Furs
WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

A DRAMATIC BYPLAY

Gamey Leaves the House With His Papers and Money.

IN THE PREMIER'S HANDS.

Mr. Stratton Announces the Destination of His Resignation, and That It Has Not Been Accepted by Mr. Ross—Debate on Custody of the Gamey Papers—Speech by Mr. St. John.

Toronto, March 17.—As soon as prayers were over, the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly announced that hereafter tickets of admission to the floor of the House could only be obtained by members applying personally to the Speaker, or in the case of the Ministers and the leader of the Opposition by their private secretaries. He also announced that the aisle to the rear of the ladies' gallery must be kept clear for the convenient ingress and egress of the members of the press.

In reply to Mr. Whitney, Mr. Ross said: The instructions to the commission are being prepared. They are not ready yet, but will be brought down in good time.

Mr. Gamey's Documents and Cash.

Mr. Whitney—I have another matter to bring to the attention of the House. My hon. friend upon Friday suggested that I should deliver to your (Speaker's) custody the documents, and other authorities cited and quoted by my hon. friend from Manitoulin in his statement to the House the other day. My hon. friend having, by the action he has taken now, declared in effect that this House should not deal with the question, of course the House is not interested in the papers. At the time of the bribery investigation here a number of years ago, certain members of the House, two at any rate, Mr. Balfour and Mr. McKim, addressed letters to the Speaker, enclosing sums of money received for certain purposes, as they alleged. This matter having then been laid before the House, and placed within its jurisdiction, the House was in possession of the merits of the case. Now, I may say this, that I have no option in this matter of the documents. They were handed to me by my hon. friend without my having had any intimation, directly or indirectly, in any way, shape or manner, that such a presentation was to be made to me. Then, on leaving the chamber that day, I took with me my friends, the hon. member for South Lanark (Col. Matheson) and the hon. member for Manitoulin (Mr. Gamey), and, in the presence of those two gentlemen, put those documents and the money in this envelope, sealed it with my own seal, in the presence of these gentlemen; and I ask them to examine it to see if it was not as it was then.

Mr. Whitney then passed a large envelope bearing three conspicuous seals to Col. Matheson and Mr. Gamey, sitting at his left, and, in reply to his question, both assented that the envelope was unchanged from their previous inspection.

Mr. Whitney continued: Mr. Speaker, in order that this should be done openly, and as the presentation to me was brought about, I say, at his request, and with my full consent, I return these papers to the hon. member for Manitoulin.

Solicitor, Not Speaker.

Mr. Whitney then handed the envelope to Mr. Gamey, who grasped it with outstretched hand, and at once started to leave the chamber by way of the lobby.

Mr. Ross was at once on his feet, and said: Am I to understand that my hon. friend will put them in the hands of the Speaker?

Mr. Gamey by this time had his hat on and was pressing against the crowd that had invaded the edge of the Opposition members' seating territory.

Mr. Whitney meantime replied: He will put them in the hands of a solicitor.

Mr. Gamey had now got behind the front ranks of the crowd, and, still walking, he was no longer visible from the floor of the House.

Premier Ross' Answer.

Mr. Ross again rose, in haste, and said: The course in 1884 was to impound the papers. I think it would be in order that these papers should be impounded, put in the custody of the Speaker, for they contain very grave charges against a member of the House, a member of the Government. The House should be in possession of the original documents. The case is not one which has been spoken of behind closed doors, but in public, and the proper way to proceed, now that the action is under consideration by the House, the proper thing, that the proceeding may be conducted in a systematic way, when an indictment is made against a Minister of the Crown, is to place them in the possession of the Speaker. There is a motion before the chair, and it is a motion of privilege, and it is somewhat embarrassing to move another resolution in the House. Yet I move that the papers be impounded and put in the possession of the Speaker of the House, in order that they may be put to any purpose for which they may be required.

Mr. Whitney—Do I understand my hon. friend to make such a motion?

Mr. Ross—If my hon. friend objects I shall not press the motion. It is a proper motion to make, except that there is a question before the chair. If my hon. friend is anxious to expedite the matter I think he will concur. If anxious to delay, he will refuse. If I make such a motion, the chair may rule it out of order, unless it receives the unanimous consent of the House. If in order, my hon. friend may second it. Nobody knows where the documents may be when they are wanted. The motion is a very reasonable one. If my hon. friend wants to expedite and assist us in vindicating the honor of this House, he would co-operate with us in the most ample manner possible to get on with the business.

Mr. Whitney's Objection.

Mr. Whitney replied that if the Premier would consent to refer the whole matter to the Committee of Privileges and Elections he would give them to the House, and do all in his power to bring all matters before this committee.

The Attorney-General's Reply.

Col. Gibson—It is to be regretted that the hon. gentleman could not have seconded the motion with reference to these papers. It is not a question of how the charges involved in this matter are to be tried. It is a question as to whether the material that was placed in the hands of the hon. gentleman which constitute the foundation of the charges, the money that was produced in substantiation of the charges, should be allowed to disappear, that the hon. member should be allowed to walk out of this House after having ceremonially, dramatically, theatrically —(hear, hear)—passed them to the hands of the hon. member, evidently as a trustee for the public, a trustee for this House, as a trustee for the vindication of the purity of the membership of this House, so that the moment my hon. friend the Premier asks for these papers this material should be placed in the hands of yourself, Mr. Speaker. He should not hand these papers back to the source from which they came. Now, what is his argument? My hon. friend's argument is that "if you had been going to try this matter out before the Committee of Privileges and Elections I would never have done this." What is the difference? The documents are equally important. The matter is in the custody of this House. This House is at the present time seized of the question. It is not before the tribunal, the commission of Judges. In my humble opinion, he has assumed rather an awkward as well as a serious responsibility in adopting that course. (Ministerial applause.)

Mr. Foy in reply pointed out when Mr. Gamey had given these papers to Mr. Whitney, the member for Manitoulin had asked his leader to keep them and under no circumstances to lose them. Furthermore, Mr. Gamey would be called upon to prove his case and he did not want to come up empty handed.

Mr. St. John Speaks.

Mr. J. W. St. John then rose to resume the debate on the motion to refer the investigation to a Judicial Committee. He referred to the serious nature of the charges. The House had the fullest right to deal with the case and should not shirk the responsibility. He raised the question as to whether or not the Government, which was accused, should vote. If they did they would have the unique spectacle of the accused voting with the jury, for the House at the present time was a jury. The fate of the whole Government was at stake. He asked the Premier if he wanted the fullest enquiry.

"Yes," replied the Premier, and was applauded.

Mr. St. John, continuing, said he submitted that the four Ministers charged should not interfere with the course to be determined upon by a majority of the House. This was the only consistent course. The hon. Provincial Secretary also should have walked down and submitted his resignation. Instead, he still sat in the House from day to day.

Mr. Stratton's Resignation.

Mr. Stratton—I would like to say to the hon. gentleman that I tendered my resignation to the Premier the day the charges were made.

Mr. St. John—I would also ask through you, Mr. Speaker, if the resignation has been accepted?

Mr. Ross—It has not been accepted. It is under consideration.

Mr. St. John—Then he is still a member of the Government, and the whole Government takes the responsibility of the charges. They must stand or fall on the investigation of the charges. Might I ask if the resignation is still under consideration?

Mr. Ross—His resignation has not been accepted, and until accepted, of course, it is under consideration.

Mr. St. John—Does the hon. Premier approve?

Mr. Ross—That is the hon. Premier's business. (Applause.)

Mr. St. John—We propose to make it the Premier's business.

Mr. Ross—And then the hon. gentleman allowed the papers to escape, so that it could not be approved.

The member for West York went on to say that it was the duty of the Government to hand over all the papers in their possession. Only a fringe of papers was in the possession of the Opposition.

Mr. St. John also read from speeches on the occasion of the Liberal convention, of June 21, 1898, against relegating to a commission the duties of the House. They had declared that the House was the only tribunal upon the affairs of the Parliament.

Mr. St. John asserted that the proposed commission would not have the power to try or even to collect the evidence. He read from the act to show that a witness would not be compelled to answer any question, by which he might render himself liable to prosecution. Who was the judge who is to say whether the answer may incriminate him? The witness only.

"If these charges are true, this Government has seen its end. Let right prevail, let justice be done to the hilt; let no man evade the proper punishment," were the concluding words of a speech lasting over two hours.

It was nearly 6 o'clock and Premier Ross desired to be informed as to the time when the leader of the Opposition would consent to a division.

Mr. Whitney replied that before he could give any information on that point he would require to know what instructions were to be given to the commission. He did not wish to prolong the discussion, but until the desired instructions were laid on the table he was at sea.

E. J. B. Pense (Kingston) moved the adjournment of the debate.

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE

Was the Finding by Coroner's Jury Yesterday.

After Inquiring Into the Circumstances Surrounding Death of John Wood.

The adjourned inquest on the body of John Wood, who was found lying dead on the Norwood road, a week ago last Monday morning, was concluded, at Westwood Village Hall, yesterday afternoon, Coroner, Dr. Gray of town, presiding, while Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, conducted the investigation.

The Coroner's Jury was composed as follows:—

William Weir, George Renwick, Thomas Fox, James Robertson, Geo. Robertson, Wm. John McMillan, John Bathgate, James Bathgate, John W. Walker, John Dixon, Jeremiah Heffernan and Arthur Robertson.

After remaining out for ten minutes, the Jury returned the following verdict:—

"The deceased came to his death from exposure and exhaustion, and no blame is attached to any person in connection of such death."

George Gillespie was the first witness called, and on being sworn said:—"A week ago last Monday a little girl notified me that a body was lying at the corner with the head in the water. I found the body lying on some ice, on the left side with the head in some water. The coat and hat were both missing."

In the course of his evidence, Joseph Elmhirst, said that he was in Peterborough a week ago last Saturday and saw the deceased get into Arthur Elmhirst's buggy. The deceased at that time was "pretty talky," owing to liquor taken at a hotel.

Arthur Elmhirst on being sworn said:—"I was in Peterborough at Jackson's Hotel, about 4 o'clock, a week ago last Saturday. I saw the deceased drinking. He said he had missed the train and asked to be driven home. He had on no overcoat, and as it was raining he turned up the collar of his coat and jumped into my buggy between myself and my little daughter, Mary. On our way home the deceased kept continually playing with my daughter. He put his arms around her and kissed her several times. I warned him on three occasions, that unless he stopped I would put him out on the road. At the third warning I pulled up the horses and caught him by the collar of the coat. He then jumped out past Mary, of his own accord. This was at the little swamp near Mr. Wm. Anderson's gate. When on the road he swore and called me names. I walked the horses to Wm. Anderson's gate and then stopped and shouted back to him to come and jump on. He would not. He was then walking as fast as any man could. I have known John Wood ever since he was a boy and we had never quarrelled before. I did not go out of the house at all that night. I told Wm. Wood all about the affair before I knew of deceased's death."

William Wood, a cousin of the deceased, on being sworn said: "I am a cousin of the deceased. On Monday night of last week, I spoke to Arthur Elmhirst, who told me exactly as he has stated here to-day."

In the course of his evidence, Mr. Robert Wood, a brother of the deceased, said that he found the coat and cap belonging to the deceased. "My brother was very healthy."

Dr. John M. Shaw, a practising physician of Keene, was the next witness, and on being sworn, said: "Dr. Redmond assisted me in the post-mortem examination of deceased's body. Death occurred from exhaustion and exposure. There was no sign of drowning."

Dr. W. C. Redmond, corroborated Dr. Shaw's evidence.

This concluded the evidence.

VALUABLE ADDITION.

To the Wrecking Train Stationed at Belleville.

A valuable addition has been made to the G.T.R. wrecking train stationed in Belleville in the form of a large crane capable of lifting a locomotive off the track. It is a very fine piece of machinery and weighs eighty-five tons. The G.T.R. thought it necessary to place such a machine on this division owing to the fact that the one at Montreal has too large a circuit to cover. There are four cranes in use but this is by twenty tons the heaviest. The others are stationed at Montreal, Island Pond and Battle Creek, Mich. The circuit for No. 3 is as far east as Brockville and as far west as Windsor; also to act on the Peterborough and Midland divisions. It was built in Bay City, Mich., and carries an auxiliary car with spare trucks on. The lifting capacities are as follows:—With the use of all out-riggers, 60 tons at 18 feet radius. 50 tons at 20 feet radius, 35 tons at 25 feet radius. Without the use of out-riggers; 15 tons at 16 feet radius, 10 tons at 20 feet radius, 8 tons at 25 feet radius.

LIBERALS WOULDN'T APPLAUD.

Maintained Significant Silence When Chamberlain Re-Entered House.

London, March 17.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's re-entry in the House of Commons yesterday was signalized by an unusually cordial reception from the Conservatives and Unionists, while the Liberals and Nationalists maintained a significant silence. Volleys of cheers from the Government supporters greeted the Secretary as he entered the House, and lasted several minutes. Mr. Chamberlain looked much worn-out, but obviously was in the best of spirits, as he rose to inform a questioner that he was afraid it would be difficult to collect and publish all his South African speeches. He was ashamed to say he had made about seventy, and he had not had time to read them, much less collect them.

There was a vociferous Liberal counter-demonstration when Mr. Crooke, the new Liberal member for Woolwich, who recently won that district for the Opposition, took his seat.

Sad Family Bereavement.

Toronto, March 17.—The hand of inexorable fate seems to be against Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tait of 70 Gwynne avenue, Parkdale. Within the space of ten days their four children, two boys and two girls, varying in age from 8 years to 18 months, have died of scarlet fever.

None are less eager to learn than they who know nothing.

Shirt waists and dainty linen are made delightfully clean and fresh with Sunlight Soap. 53

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months.

"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham is inclined to the belief that our girls are pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more. — LILLIE E. SINCLAIR, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

THE PATRON SAINT OF OLD IRELAND.

land, the country was exposed to the attacks and inroads of the Picts and Scots. The Picts, from Scotland, and the Scots, from Ireland. In one of these expeditions, St. Patrick tells us he was taken prisoner, being a boy of 16, and carried off to Ireland. He was sold as a slave to Milchu, a chief in County Antrim and for six years of his life he toiled as a slave in that valley near Ballymena his chief occupation being to herd swine, on the hill side. He tells us that up to this time though a nominal Christian he had given but little thought to serious matters, but his occupation furnished him with this opportunity. He looked on the bitter experience of his exile as a dispensation of Providence his careless life, and to rouse him to a more earnest seeking after God. He says that he frequently got up at night and went to the woods and the hills to pray. He devoted himself to fasting and "the love and the fear of God grew in me and by mortification faith became stronger. Then the Lord brought me," he says, "to a sense of my unbelief that I might even at a late period call my sins to remembrance and turn with all my heart unto the Lord, my God."

SENT TO PUNISH HIM FOR

After a time he had a dream in which a voice seemed to come to him saying, "You have well done in fasting and you will soon return to your own country." He received this as a divine intimation that he would be delivered from captivity and when some few days later he had another vision, telling him that the ship was ready, and the port from which it was to sail was mentioned. He hesitated no longer but fled from his master and made for the shore. For a long time he wandered over the country traversing fully 200 miles, before he found a vessel sailing from Ireland. When he sought for a passage, he was at first angrily refused, but after betaking himself to prayer, and hearing a voice saying to him, "Come back, those men are calling you," he again requested a passage with more success this time. He was received on board. The vessel sailed and after three days they reached some part of France described as a desert. In the course of their journey through the desert they were reduced to great extremities from hunger and the head of the party appealed to Patrick as a Christian, to pray for help to his God, and from this circumstance we may gather that already the missionary spirit was being awakened in his heart, and that he had been trying to convert his companion to Christianity. In reply to their request he says, "Turn in faith to the Lord, my God, to whom nothing is impossible, that He may send food into your path even until you are satisfied, for it abounds everywhere to Him." "And," he adds, "by God's help it happened so; for lo! a herd of swine appeared in the way before our eyes, and they killed many of them, and halting there two nights were much refreshed."

St. Patrick does not tell us in his confession where his journey ended. He says that after 60 days he made his escape from this party, but in another place he seems to imply that for some time he was an in France, and as that in Touro was the most famous there seems no improbability in the supposition that he spent some time there. It was an age of turmoil and bloodshed, and it seemed as if the only resource for one who wished to live a holy life was to separate himself from the world and commune only with those who were similarly disposed as himself. After remaining only a few years in France, St. Patrick made his way to Britain, where his parents were still residing. They received him with great joy and besought him not to leave them again. An irresistible conviction was however rising in his mind that he should return again to Ireland as a preacher of the Gospel.

He gives us this description of it: "I saw in a vision of the night a person named Victricius, coming as if from Ireland, with innumerable letters; and he gave me one of them, and I read the beginning of the letter running thus, 'The voice of the people of Ireland,' and as I was reading the commencement of the letter I thought at that moment that I heard the voice of those who were near the wood of Foeluth, which is adjoining the Western Sea, and they cried out thus, as it were with one voice, 'We entreat thee, holy youth, to come and walk still among us.'"

He encountered much opposition to his project from his friends, and they offered him every worldly inducement to remain still with them. But without effect. "Even while I slept it seemed to me that I saw the Island of the Gael always before me." He says, "he did not go to Ireland until he was nearly worn out." From which many conclude that years elapsed before he undertook his mission. This we can scarcely believe. A man whose soul was on fire with missionary zeal would not put off his departure till his enthusiasm cooled. More probably these words refer to the severe mental struggle and anxiety in the conflict between what he conceived his duty and his affection for his friends. It is not surprising that he would describe such a struggle as producing physical exhaustion. However his determination prevailed; he was duly ordained and commissioned and set forth on his great enterprise. He landed at Wicklow with a few companions, but meeting nothing but opposition there he did not remain long in that neighbourhood. Naturally turning to the part of the island he knew best, and wishing to compensate his master for the loss of his slave, he sailed northward and coasted along until he came to Strangford, and disembarked.

Here he converted Dichu, the Prince, and several of his tribe. They had imagined them robbers and set their dogs upon them. But St. Patrick quoted

FROM HIS LATIN PSALTER:

"Deliver not to the beasts the soul that confesses to Thee," and they were delivered. Dichu and his companions listened to the preaching of the Gospel, and were the first fruits of St. Patrick's mission. Here he built his first church, at Saul—or used Dichu's barn for a church — Saul meaning "a barn."

Anxious to go to the friends of his youth he set out thence. Then Milchu, his former master, hearing of his approach, and thinking he came to be revenged on him, gathered all his substance into his house, and burned himself to death. His family; however, afterwards received the faith and were baptized.

St. Patrick's real mission was to Tara. Tara was then the Irish capital—the seat of Ireland's greatness. As Moore says:—

"The harp that once through Tara's
Halls the soul of music shed,
Now hangs as mute on Tara's walls,
As if that soul were fled."

It was Easter Eve when St. Patrick arrived at Slane, in sight of Tara. King Laoghaire and his courtiers were celebrating a great pagan feast and had issued an order that no fire should be lit but his. St. Patrick, however, preparing to celebrate Easter, lit his fires. The King seeing them in the distance, was greatly angered, and had his council summoned. The Druid priests declared that the fire lighted before the royal fire would never be extinguished unless it were extinguished that night. The King, therefore, set out with his magicians in his chariots to punish the intruders. Certain death seemed to threaten St. Patrick and his companions. However they came out unarmed to meet the King, chanting the Psalm, "Some put their trust in chariots and some in horses, but we will remember the Lord our God." The superstition of the people protected him—if he had shown the slightest fear his fate would have been sealed.

When the king and his magicians were about to fall on St. Patrick, he and his companions began again chanting, "Let God arise and let His enemies be scattered, let them also that Hate Him, flee before Him." They drew back with fear, and reverence and awe took the place of anger and resentment. St. Patrick demanded to be allowed to preach at Tara. The king was afraid to refuse and so St. Patrick presented himself at the great court of the kingdom and declared the message of Love. Insisting on the great truth of God, the Creator, he led them from their nature worship to the worship of Nature's God. He who made the sun, he said, must be greater than the sun. The Druid priests may have had power to bring evil, but they could not take it away. God was the God of love; He alone could do that. His preaching here was very successful and he founded the great church of Donagh Patrick — Donagh signifying that on Sunday that ground was consecrated. The Tara palace is gone but the church's ruins remain. So earthly kingdoms wane but the Church of Christ endures.

The two daughters of King Laoghaire questioned St. Patrick, "Your God is He in heaven or on earth, in the sea or in the river? How is He to be seen? How is He to be loved? How is He to be found?" To these questions St. Patrick answered:

"Our God is the God of all men. The God of the heaven and the earth, of the sea and rivers. The God of the sun, the moon and all stars. The God of the high mountains of lowly villages; the God who is above heaven, in heaven and under heaven. He hath an habitation in the heavens, and in the earth and in the sea, and in all that are therein. He inspireth all things, He quickeneth all things, He is over all things, He sustaineth all things. He giveth light to the sun, He hath made springs in a dry ground and dry islands in the sea, He hath appointed the stars to serve the greater lights. He hath a Son co-equal and co-eternal with Himself. The Son is not younger than the Father nor is the Father older than the Son. And the Holy Ghost breathes in Them both. The Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost are not divided. Inasmuch as ye are the daughters of an earthly king, I invite you to the Heavenly King. Believe in Him." Then they said: "Teach us how we may believe in this Heavenly King?" Then St. Patrick said: "Believe ye in repentance after sin?" They said, "We believe." "Believe ye in life after death? Believe ye the resurrection at the day of judgment? Believe ye in the unity of the church?" To all these they assented and they were then baptised.

After this St. Patrick preached in Donegal, and Antrim, founded the See of Armagh and Cashel, spending seven years in Munster, and as some say, having crossed over to Isle of Man and preached the Gospel there, so that the Manx men claim St. Patrick as their apostle as well as the Irish. He died after having founded 365 churches. The exact year of his death and the place of his burial are as uncertain as the year he began his ministry, but A. D. 463 seems to be the most probable date.

SOME IRISH WIT NARRATED

Curran's Punishment of a Judge Who Anticipated.

A man of position in Galway was indicted for murder at the Assizes and acquitted against the weight of evidence, which was overwhelming against him. Shortly after this a man standing at the open window of Lucas' Coffee House in Dublin, said to a friend: "What is that fellow going to be hanged for?" indicating a criminal passing by in a cart to be executed. A ragged individual in the crowd, bearing the remark, called out "Plase yer Honour, for want iv a Galway jury."

In the early twenties there lived in County Limerick a Captain Evans of Ashroe, a man of limited education, but an active Magistrate in that unsettled district. He used to commence his reports to Dublin Castle, "My Dear Government," and on one occasion he wrote, "You may rely on it that I will endeavour to put down all nocturnal meetings whether by day or night."

The fun at the Four Courts provided by the legal profession and their clients during the last century may be ushered in by the famous name of John Philpot Curran. On one occasion he was counsel for an attorney who had taken proceedings to recover a bill of costs. Lord Clare, who was the judge, and no friend to Curran, going through the bill, exclaimed indignantly, "Here, now, Mr. Curran, is a flagitious imposition! How can you defend this item—'To writing innumerable letters, 100 pounds.'" "Why, my Lord," said Curran, "nothing can be more reasonable. It's not a penny a letter."

Lord Avonmore (Barry Yelverton) was a judge who irritated Curran by continually anticipating his arguments. "Mr Curran," he would say, "I know your cleverness but it is quite in vain for you to go on. I see the drift of it all, and you are only giving yourself and me unnecessary trouble." One day, after being stopped in this manner the counsellor said, "Perhaps my Lord, I am straying, but I have just witnessed so dreadful a circumstance that my imagination has not yet recovered from the shock. On my way to court my Lord, as I passed through one of the markets"— "Yes, I know, the Castle Market," struck in His Lordship. "Exactly, the Castle Market; and on passing one of the stalls I noticed a butcher proceeding to slaughter a calf. Just as his hand was raised a lovely little girl came bounding along in all the sportive mirth of childhood, and, terrible to relate—I see the life blood gushing out still — the butcher plunged his knife into—into"—"The bosom of the child," cried the judge, with great emotion. "No, my Lord, it went right into the neck of the calf," replied Curran, "but your Lordship often anticipates."

It is, in fact, to his improvidence that we owe many of the best jokes, for it was a subject of endless jest to him. Being told that the lost tribes of Israel had been found, he said he was glad to hear it, as he had nearly exhausted the other ten. And when asked how it was that he, an Irishman of ancient lineage, had not the prefix O to his name he replied that as there was no family in Ireland older than his so nobody had a greater right to the prefix than himself, for in good truth he owed everybody.

In this connection he was once neatly "scored off" by his son, Tom, who was emphatically a chip off the old block. The first time the father met the son after his runaway match he told him he had made his will and cut him off with a shilling. Tom expressed his penitence and then; "You don't happen to have the shilling with you, do you, sir?"

SHAMROCK OF IRELAND.

Something of the Little Emblem so Dear to Irishmen.

The Shamrock, or small white clover (trifolium ripens of botanists), is almost universally worn in the hat over all Ireland, and indeed in all parts of the world, on St. Patrick's day. The popular notion is, that when St. Patrick was peaching the doctrine of the Trinity to the pagan Irish, he used this plant, bearing the three leaves on one stem, as a symbol or illustration of the great mystery. To suppose, as some absurdly hold, that he used it as an argument would be derogatory to the Saint's high reputation for orthodoxy and good sense, but it is certainly a curious coincidence, if nothing more, that the trefoil in Arabic is called shamrock, and was held sacred in Iran as emblematical of the Persian Triads Pliny, too, in his Natural History says that serpents are never seen upon trefoil, and it prevails against the stings of snakes and scorpions. This, considering St. Patrick's connection with snakes, is really remarkable, and we may reasonably imagine that, previous to his arrival, the Irish had ascribed mystical virtues of the trefoil of shamrock, and on hearing of the Trinity for the first time, they fancied some peculiar fitness in their already sacred plant to shadow forth the newly revealed and mysterious doctrine. And we may conclude, in the words of the poet—

Long may the shamrock,
The plant that blooms forever,
With the rose combined,
And the thistle twined,
Defy the strength of foes to sever;
Firm be the triple league they form,
Despite all change of weather;
In sunshine, darkness, calm or storm,
Still may they fondly grow together.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever,. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Defends the Lieutenant-Governor.

A DEBATE IN THE COMMONS

His Honor's Ability to Discharge His Official Duties Questioned — Private Members' Day in the House—Questions Answered by Ministers—Arthur Brunet's Case—Several Important Bills Introduced.

Ottawa, March 17.—Yesterday was private members' day. The session of the House was brief. Twelve bills were introduced. Mr. Charlton fathered two, one to amend the Railway Act, the other to amend the Elections Act. The former aims to reduce the minimum grant on progress estimate from $60,000 to $30,000.

Mr. Maclean introduced his bill regarding telephone companies, and one to amend the Railway Act. The latter aims to make every railway company that gives facilities at its stations to a telephone company, to give equal facilities to any other company.

Mr. Maclean, explaining his bill, declared that the Grand Trunk, the C. P. R. and other railways have agreed with the Bell Telephone Company that it alone should have access to their stations, and this was an unfair discrimination, and contrary to the spirit of the Railway Act, which puts all express companies on an equal footing as regards facilities offered by railways. He asked the Minister of Railways to state if he would accept the principle laid down in his amendment, for, if that principle were accepted, a large number of independent telephone lines would be started at once, and a great benefit would accrue to many communities.

Cattle Guard Bill.

Mr. Lancaster introduced his cattle guard bill of last year. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, introduced seven bills. One provides that judges of the Supreme Court who are 75, and have been a certain number of years on the bench, may be retired on full pay; second, gives the Government power to take limited possession of property, or to withdraw from a bargain, after having given notice of expropriation; a third gives effect to legislation passed by the Yukon Council regarding the summoning of juries; fourth, aims to deal out more severe punishments to those who attend immoral and indecent plays in large cities, such as Montreal and Toronto, and a fifth changes the Elections Act so that an election trial may be held in another county than the one where the offence was committed.

Questions by Members.

Mr. Bennett asked: "What were the grain receipts of all kinds at the ports of Midland, Depot Harbor, Collingwood, Owen Sound, Meaford, Goderich, Kingston and Prescott during the season of navigation of 1902."

Mr. Paterson replied for the Hon. Mr. Bernier as follows: "Midland, 15,017,760 bushels; Depot Harbor, 12,710,803; Collingwood, 2,447,824; Owen Sound, 1,794,381; Meaford 2,563,311; Goderich, 2,226,460; Kingston, 6,848,000; Prescott, 97,749.

The information was given that wood alcohol is manufactured in Deseronto, Fenelon Falls and Longford, and that it is not subject to excise.

The postoffice site at Valleyfield had been bought from G. M. Loy, M.P., for $10,000.

Arthur Brunet's Case.

Mr. Casgrain asked for all the papers connected with the release of Arthur Brunet, in St. James' division of Montreal. He reviewed this notorious electorial corruption.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, replying, said that the practice was not to produce documents on which the prerogative of mercy had been exercised, but this was an exceptional case. They would be brought down. He declared that the petition was not signed exclusively by Liberals, but also by those high in the Councils of the Conservative party, and high in the positions they occupied in the House. He defended the release of Brunet, declaring that medical certificates presented showed him to be in poor condition of health. His case was not unique.

Mr. Borden held that no leniency should have been shown Brunet. He reviewed the efforts made by the Conservatives in the past to inquire into the West Huron frauds and regretted that no convictions had been made in Ottawa.

Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor.

On the motion to adjourn, the member for East York, Mr. Maclean, arose, and said he desired to call attention of the first Minister to the condition of the health of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. In that province a great political crisis existed, and it was imperative that there should be a Lieutenant-Governor fully alive to the situation, and all that it might mean. Sir Oliver Mowat was very ill.

The Speaker—I do not think the hon. member is in order.

Mr. Maclean said that he asked the indulgence of the House for bringing the matter up at that time, but his excuse was that there was no "orders of the day" printed on the order paper. Continuing, he declared that the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario was in such a condition that he was really unable to discharge the functions of the office, and the discussion now on in the Legislature in the Province of Ontario turned on this particular question; hence he thought that the Government should take steps to relieve him at this critical time.

Reprimanded by Sir Wilfrid.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that no member had any warrant to make the statement that the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario was ill. He considered the remarks of the member for East York a gratuitous insinuation, to say the least of it. He maintained that Sir Oliver Mowat's faculties were unimpaired, and he was informed that there was no truth in the rumor of his failing health. In the case of such a man, he considered that the dignity of his career would cause him to be spoken of only with respect. It would have been better to have left the honorable member's remarks unsaid.

R. McWHINNIE

334 George Street.

Mr. Maclean said he had not spoken disrespectfully of Sir Oliver. He had as great respect for Sir Oliver as any member in the House. He did not reflect on the character of the Lieutenant-Governor. He dealt only with the office of Lieutenant-Governor, for that office at the present grave crisis was not accessible to the public. Sir Oliver could not discharge his duties in the House last week because of his ill-health.

Mr. Lancaster said that the Lieutenant-Governor was incapacitated from discharging his duties last week, and declared that some permanent appointment should be made at once.

The Conservative Leader.

Mr. Borden said the member for East York had cast no reflection on the Lieutenant-Governor, and it was gratuitous on the part of the Premier to put that construction on the honorable member's words. It was common property that Sir Oliver Mowat was not physically fit to discharge his duties.

Sir Wilfrid—"No, no."

Mr. Borden replied that he was not speaking from the book; he spoke of matters whereof he knew. Everyone respected Sir Oliver, but his physical condition was such that he would not be fully capable of acting in the present political crisis. He considered that Sir Wilfrid's remarks were not in very good taste, when he took upon himself to lecture the member for East York. The Lieutenant-Governor was in a very weak state physically, for which everyone was sorry, but the fact of his weakness remained. Therefore, the observations of the member for East York were pertinent, and quite in good taste.

The Minister of Justice.

Mr. Fitzpatrick—I would ask the hon. leader of the Opposition to remember that it is a reflection upon Sir Oliver Mowat to say that he would continue to occupy his position if he were unable to perform the duties of his office. My hon. friend says that a gentleman occupying the high position of Sir Oliver Mowat should not continue to occupy that position if he is unable to perform his duties. That seems to be a distinct reflection upon him. Either he is not competent to discharge his duties, and should not continue in the office, or he is holding on to an office that he ought not to retain.

Mr. Borden replied that perhaps Sir Oliver might not be physically able to take the matter into consideration.

Mr. Fielding said that that was simply another reflection.

Then Mr. McCarthy repeated Mr. Fitzpatrick's words, and added that he could assure the House that Sir Oliver was in his usual health. Then the discussion ceased, and the House adjourned.

In the Senate.

Notice was given that Senator Masson had been absent two sessions. The address was then moved by Senator Frost. Senator Legris seconded the address in French.

Senator Bowell paid a tribute to the Senators who had died during recess. He suggested that the Government place a Government car at the disposal of Senator Wark, the nestor of the House, so that he might come to Ottawa in ease and security. Speaking of the rounding off of Confederation by bringing in Newfoundland, he said it would never happen so long as Premier Bond was in power.

Senator Scott replied. The redistribution bill recalled to mind the necessity of the measure. He thought the measure passed by the late Government most unjust and unfair. Sir John Macdonald had always upheld the principle of municipal boundaries. The bill, when submitted to the House, will be found to adhere strictly to county boundaries. He moved the adjournment of the debate. It being 6 o'clock, the Speaker left the chair.

The Senate adjourned at 10.15, after adopting the address.

Mr. Edwards a Senator.

Ottawa, March 17.—The recommendation of the elevation of W. C. Edwards, M. P. for Russell, to the Senate, was sent to Lord Minto late last night and signed. Mr. Edwards ceases to be a member of the Commons, and goes immediately to the Red Chamber. This fills the Hamilton district vacancy.

SHE ESCAPED THE KNIFE.

Ten Months of Peace After Dreadful Suffering.

Operations are becoming a fad; every young man, as soon as he is graduated from a medical college, considers himself capable of undertaking the most serious and complicated surgical work, and hundreds of lives are sacrificed annually to this mad frenzy of incompetent men, to rush into work which should only be undertaken as a last resort, and then only by the most experienced and careful surgeons.

It is a pleasure, in view of these facts, to read the following letter from a woman who has been saved from one of these dangerous operations. "I know I should have informed you long ago regarding my case of piles and the good done me, and I believe I am cured. Last December I sent for your book. I have never been bothered since then, and before I had suffered for the last eleven years, and at the time I wrote I had given birth to a child, and they came down with the delivery of the child by the handful. I could not get them back and I suffered everything; and the doctor said nothing but an operation would ever relieve me; but I read of your remedy in our daily newspaper and I told my husband to get me a box and I would give it a trial before consenting to the knife, and thanks be to your wonderful medicine, I was saved from the operating table.

Every person suffering from piles that my husband and myself hear of, we recommend your wonderful medicine. I just used one $1.00 box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and two boxes of Pyramid Ointment and two boxes of Pyramid Pills, and I was, I hope, completely cured. If they ever show the slightest return I will certainly get some more medicine, but I hardly think I will need any more for it will be a year the 8th day of December since I had them and that makes it ten months and past now. Thanking you again and wishing you abundant success, I remain, Mrs. S. Hodgson, 105 W. 11th street, Des Moines, Iowa."

JUDGE MORGAN'S DECISION.

Bill May Be Brought Against Bell Telephone Company.

Toronto, March 17.—Judge Morgan gave his decision yesterday on the application submitted to him last week by County Crown Attorney Dewart, on behalf of the promoters of the York County rural telephone scheme, for leave to bring an action against the Bell Telephone Company, on grounds similar to those alleged against President Sise in his recent trial. His Honor was willing to allow a bill to be preferred before the Grand Jury at the present sessions against the company, without expressing any final opinion upon questions of law involved. He thought that he should not block proceedings by an indictment at the present time.

READ IT THROUGH.

'Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by

It is the standard the world over, and the only guaranteed cure for piles.

SAWDUST AND FISH.

Effect of the One Upon the Life of the Other.

A recent Saturday night's lecture at the Canadian Institute in Toronto was by Prof. Knight of Queen's, who in a most interesting manner gave the result of some further experiments he had made on the effect of sawdust on fish life. The lecture was a continuation of the address which he gave to the Institute about a year ago. The professor has made an exhaustive study of the subject, and the conclusion at which he has arrived may be summed up as follows: That in a rapidly-running stream of water the presence of sawdust has no injurious effect upon the fish; but if the water is stagnant it rapidly becomes injurious. In his experiments he found that this was due to certain substances which were dissolved out of the wood, and, further, that the sawdust from white pine and from cedar seemed to be the most injurious; also that the character of the saws used to a certain extent influenced the amount of the material that might be dissolved from sawdust.

In this experiment he also tried a slowly running stream at the laboratory with varying rates of flow and varying amounts of sawdust, and in the experiment where the smallest percentage of sawdust was present compared with the flow of the stream he found small fish would live about two hours. That was in a strength of .16 per cent. of sawdust. In comparing this with the amount of sawdust in a stream such as the Bonnechere River, and taking into account the flow of the stream and the amount of sawdust passing in per diem, the professor arrived at the conclusion that in such a river the amount of sawdust would not reach more than .004 per cent., and he did not consider that it was much of a factor in the destruction of fish life in such a river.

Prof. Knight said his further experiments showed that the destruction of fish in stagnant water by sawdust was not due to putrefaction of the sawdust, but to these extracted substances from the wood, and that in time with fresh air and sunlight the water would purify itself.

Wonderful Animals.

Nothing from cattle is allowed to go to waste; from the horns to the long hair on the tip of the tail all is utilized. The latter is turned into curled hair for upholstering. The hoofs go chiefly into the kettle to be boiled for glue, and the residue is made into hoof-meat, a valuable fertilizer. Even the tankage water is boiled to extract its fats. The coarse bones are either carbonized and sold for sugar-refiners' use or turned into fertilizers, and the blood is mostly dried and turned into another aid of agriculture. Before the horns are sold, the pith is extracted from them, and the finest grade of gelatine is obtained from the pith. The sinews are separated to be used for glue stock, and the bladders are sold for holding snuff, and the greater part of the intestines are used for sausage casings. The lining of the windpipe is also of particular value, being used for a fancy sausage casing, and also as lining for pipes through which beer is passed in breweries. A new use has recently been discovered for the contents of the paunch, which until lately had to be thrown away to the dogs. It has been discovered that a good quality of cardboard can be made of it, and it is now being saved for that purpose.

Air and Water Test.

Fill a glass with water and, without removing it from the vessel in which you filled it, stand it upside down under the water until you are ready to use it. Now take an empty glass and turn this directly mouth downward into the same vessel of water, and no matter how hard you press it downward no water will flow into it, for it is not really empty, as you at first supposed. It is filled with air, which takes up room, and this must flow out before water can enter it. Now, keeping the first glass, which is filled with water, mouth downward, raise it near the surface, though not above the water. Now carefully turn the glass of air under the water so that its mouth communicates with the mouth of the water filled glass. Since air is lighter than water, the air from the lower vessel will flow up into the water filled glass, and the water which was in the glass will flow down into the glass which had contained air. If the glass which contained air had contained oil, which is lighter than water, the same experiment could have been performed, and the upper glass would have received the oil.

R. M. DENNISTOUN WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Golf Club.

MR. SAM RAY, CAPTAIN.

Last Night's Enthusiastic Gathering.

Date of Annual Meeting has Been Changed—The Matter of a New Caretaker Discussed.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Golf Club was held in the law office of Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, last night, when officers for the ensuing year were elected and the prospects for the coming season were fully discussed.

The chair was occupied by Mr. John Crane, the President of the Club, and amongst those in attendance were,—Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun, R. Fair, J. Granger, R. M. Hamilton, H. D. Burnett, J. H. Burnham, A. H. Stratton, R. Neill, A. A. Hollingshead, J. Gracey, F. McGill, V. McGill, W. H. Cluxton and Peter Campbell.

Mr. Vernon McGill was elected secretary pro tem, the secretary of the Club, Mr. C. H. Bradburn, having lately moved away.

The President explained that the annual meeting had been called somewhat earlier than the date provided by the constitution, but he had done so upon the recommendation of the Executive in view of the fact that the season promised to be unusually early and the greens would require immediate attention.

PRESIDENT'S REMARKS.

The President then went on to review the work of the Club during the past year. He quoted from the report of the Secretary-Treasurer to show that the finances were in a fairly satisfactorily state. The receipts for the year amounted to $486, and after paying all outstanding accounts there would be a balance of about $2. on hand. There has been raised up until the present time, by special subscription for the purchase of a lawn mower and the general improvement of the green, the sum of $115, and a considerable sum had been subscribed in addition to this. After referring to other matters of detail, Mr. Crane said that he was aware that there should be three important features exist in a club to ensure its success. These were increased membership, enthusiasm and harmony. During the past year they had to contend to a slight extent at least with a lack of these three features. There was a slight falling off in the membership, there had not been quite as much enthusiasm on the green, as he would like to see, and there was some little want of harmony. He urged the members to appreciate the fact that once they became members of the club they should realize the importance of their individual efforts towards making a success of their organization. He promised that no matter who was elected President he would do all in power to promote the best interests of the club.

COMMITTEES REPORTED.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, chairman of the House Committee, reported, showing that they had a slight balance on the right side.

Mr. Robert Neill reported for the Green Committee, explaining the many difficulties he had to contend with. His report, on the whole, was satisfactory.

Mr. H. D. Burnett, captain of the team, reported that they had played four games during the year, three with Port Hope, and one with Toronto. They defeated Port Hope one hole on the series. In Toronto they had been defeated by 39 down.

DATE CHANGED.

The meeting upon motion of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, seconded by Mr. H. D. Burnett, recommended to the Executive that the date of the annual meeting be changed to the close of the playing season.

The club took this step after due consideration, as it was felt that the proper time to hold the meeting was when the ideas for improvement were fresh in the minds of the members.

THE OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President—R. Neill.
President—R. M. Dennistoun.
Captain—Sam Ray.
Sec.-Treasurer—V. McGill.
Green Committee—To be chosen by the Captain and President.
House Committee — Messrs. D. Walker, chairman, A. A. Hollingshead and A. H. Stratton.
Auditors. — Messrs. John Gracey and W. H. Cluxton.

Upon motion of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, seconded by Mr. R. M. Hamilton, it was decided to allow those who were members of the club at one time but who had dropped out last year, to rejoin the club upon the payment of the annual fee without in addition the usual entrance fee. This arrangement is to apply to this year only.

Mr. Crane moved, seconded by Mr. Stratton, a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies in recognition of their energetic services in behalf of the club. The motion was carried most enthusiastically.

The matter of appointing a new caretaker was left with the executive to deal with.

It was decided upon motion of Mr. Neill, seconded by Mr. Hamilton that the Green Committee should consist of the captain and two members, and not the Captain and five members, as heretofore.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers and the press for services in behalf of the club.

Mr. Burnett, last year's captain, moved, seconded by Mr. Hamilton, that the first team for matches shall be made up of such members as have made the course of 18 holes in 95 or under, the order of the play to be determined by the captain. In case it shall be found necessary to have players who have not made the course as above mentioned, the captain shall exercise his discretion in the selection of the same.

The meeting then adjourned.

The president and captain have chosen Messrs. D. H. Burnett and R. M. Hamilton as members of the Green Committee.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 17. — Short interest sufficiently large to make quick recoveries such as were seen yesterday liable to occur most any day. There seems to be buying orders under the market and the shorts may be made to cover before the day is over.

It is stated on good authority that the net earnings of the T.C.I Co. for March will equal the combined earnings of Jan., Feb. and March of last year.

The cotton market this morning was rather quiet and no more than steady at a slight advance the cables were a trifle better than expected. Flood news bullish and the statement for the port receipts was rather light. Several breaks were reported in the Levee section near Memphis flooding the surrounding country.

Liverpool, March 17. — Wheat 1-8 to 1-4 lower; corn inactive 1-2 lower.

New York, March 17. — I don't see anything in sight except a traders market. But think the next decided movement will be upward. I hear from good people that something will soon be doing in L.N. Did you notice that U.P. made an exact doubl cbottom Monday.

RIDGELEY.

Steel rights expire 60 days after the 16th of March.

New York, March 17. — Money continues to rule firm both call and time and it is surprising to observe that with the high rates ruling that larger amounts have not been attracted from the interior. We think the market a purchase on this decline.

NewYork, March 17 — It is stated that Schwab arrives from Europe today, will continue at the head of the U.S. steel corporation.

NEWS.

New York, March 17. — We understand that Southern Pacific is at present borrowing from Union Pacific and other friendly interests quite a large sum of money which is being used for improvement of its roads. This money it is expected will be repaid from earnings. The fact that money has been borowed of course precludes possibility of company borrowing any further sums for the purpose of paying dividends.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousett & Co.:—

New York, March 17, 10.10 a. m. — Market seemed to have been a little oversold yesterday and the sharp rally late in the afternoon was mostly on result of short covering and manipulation in St. Paul for which stock there was a big borrowing demand after close of market by Keene brokers. It looks as though there might be more of this covering this morning and we may get further rally but there is little change in situation to suggest anything but traders market. Money situation still uncertain and spread of labour trouble and uncertainty as to outcome of St. Paul contest will keep market narrow and professional.

M. & M.

11.35 a. m. — Market opening steady, buying mainly short covering; S. P. pool was very obviously protecting S. P. which was helped by its scarcity in street. There seemed to be accumulation of Reading in progress and some reason for thinking that at about 60 the control picks up the stock. All 11.90 a. m. market presented dragging appearance and entirely professional, little new trade, London not a factor, and commission house business is very small. Greater part of trading confined mostly with U.P., Pa., Man. and and N.Y.C. Last four stocks have shown a continued bear pressure. Brokers report continued good foreign demand in S. P., but nothing of special importance in anything else. Banks lost $363,000 to sub-treasury making a total loss since Friday $128,000. Call money 6 p.c. S.P. and U.P. so full of manipulation and uncertainty can give no definite opinion on either at present.

M. & M.

New York, March 17, 3.30 p. m. — Irregularity in market to-day was due to adverse effect which the weakness of London markets showed continued uncertainty of money situation and spread of labour trouble together with uncertainty as to what may develop from S.P. contest. There was a great deal of in and out trading by the followers of the most prominent outside operators at the head of the S.P. pool with most of them selling UP.. short and bulling S.P. London Houses sold 40,000 shares of various stocks on balance. Continued weakness in North-West stock was a striking feature and likewise N.Y.C., Penna. am. St. Paul and weakness these stocks displayed had very depressing influence and had much to do with checking and new outside demand. We cannot see much in situation at moment that is encouraging to bull speculation to any extent and expect nothing better than a continuance of present narrow trader's market and think the tendency of prices is more likely to drag.

THIS MORNING'S SERVICES AT CATHEDRAL.

Sermon Delivered by Rev. Father John O'Brien.

MANY PEOPLE WERE PRESENT

He Reviewed Development of Irish History

And Dealt Eloquently With the Life of St. Patrick—Earnest Appeal to the People.

There were two masses celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, it being St. Patrick's Day. The first was sung at 7 o'clock, and the second at 9 o'clock. At the 9 o'clock mass, which was attended by a large congregation, Rev. Father John O'Brien delivered the sermon. It was as follows:

"Let us now praise men of renown, and our fathers in their generation." Ecclesiasticus 44, 1.

The subject that presents itself to our consideration to-day is so vast and yet so important in every detail, that one finds it very difficult to do it justice within the limits of one short discourse. As children of St. Patrick, and descendants of those for whom he laboured with so much zeal, we love to-day to review the history of that noble people and the wonders that St. Patrick, the instrument in the hands of God, wrought amongst them, and to trace, at least, in a general way, the results of his work in that Green Isle, and the spread of the light of the Gospel by his faithful disciples.

Concerning many points of the early history of Ireland, and the Irish, there is much controversy, and in order to avoid lengthy and fruitless discussions, one is obliged to accept the opinions that are best founded, and most generally held.

According to the ancient chronicles of Ireland, the first inhabitants of the country were a colony from one of the primeval races that peopled the earth from the great Phoenecian family of the East. They landed in the remote mists of prehistoric times (about 300 years after the deluge) upon our Green Isle in the Western Ocean. We know that our ancestors at a remote period, received another colony from Spain. These Milesians came from the far southern sunnyland, bringing with them high valour, mighty hopes, generous asperations and an advanced degree of civilization, and the original inhabitants of Ireland intermingled their race with these Milesians. In that intermingling was formed the Celtic constitution. The island which those peoples chose as their home is spoken of by the ancient Greek writers. And other authors spoke of Ireland as the far distant ocean; spoke of it as a place of wonderful beauty—as a place of ineffable charm, spoke of it as something like that high Elysium of the poet's dream "An island rising out of the sea, the fairest and most beautiful of the sea's productions."

The social state of the Pagan Irish was far removed from Barbarism in the sense in which that term is usually understood. We have ample reason to believe, not merely that Ireland in her days of Paganism had reached a point relatively advanced in the social scale, but that Christianity found her in a state of intellectual and moral preparation superior to that of most other countries.

Some would have us believe that the Pagan Irish were unacquainted with alphabetic writing. But ancient inscriptions of a date antieror to Christianity show that they had at least what is called a virgular mode of writing. Besides innumerable passages in ancient annals, and historic poems show that they had also a style of alphabetic characters suited for the preservation of public records, and for general literary purposes many centuries before the introduction of Christianity. There are indisputable authorities to prove that the Latin mode of writing was known in Ireland some time before St. Patrick's arrival. It was even certain that the "Psalter of Tara' did exist and was compiled in the third century, and consequently that the Pagan Irish possessed a knowledge of alphabetic writing at least at that early age.

It is true that a superstitious veneration was paid to the sun, wind and elements, and that fires were lighted on certain occasions for religious purposes. They had divinities who presided over hills, rivers and particular localities, but there is no certain mention of any general diety recognized by the whole people. But is no ground whatever for those wildest and most extravagant theories about human sacrifices and saundry strange mysteries.

The laws of the ancient Irish formed a vast body of jurisprudence. They had laws regulating succession. As a rule the eldest son succeeded his father unless he was disqualified by crime or otherwise. They had laws also which adjusted the partition and inheritance of property. The tenure of land in Ireland was essentially a tribe or family right and all the members of a tribe or family in Ireland had an equal right to their proportionate share of the land occupied by the whole.

In proof of their high standing in arts and manufacture in some compartments of the Royal Irish Academy the visitor will see beautifully shaped swords, spearheads and javelins in bronze, and in others he will find a great variety of weapons and tools composed of flint and stone. Both classes belong to the pre-Christian age of Irish history. That the Irish became expert workers in metal at a very early period is shown by the fact that several specimens of their skill, besides brazen weapons are preserved in the great national collection of antiquities just referred to. Silver shields were manufactured, which the Irish king presented to his chieftains and nobles.

In process of time every available spot of land would appear to have been cultivated, and we now see traces of the husbandman's labour on the tops of hills, and in other places in Ireland, that have long since ceased to be under cultivation.

All this, together with the fact that the celebrated round towers of Ireland were the only stone structures outside the pale of the ancient civilization of Greece and Rome, are the strongest arguments for the ancient civilization of our race. This also explains the fact that St. Patrick when he preached in Ireland, came not to a barbarous people — not to an uncivilized race, but he came to a wonderfully civilized nation — a nation, which though under the cloud of a false religion, had yet attained to established laws and a recognized form of Government, a high philosophical knowledge, a splendid national melody and poetry. Hence her bards, and the men who met St. Patrick when he landed on that beautiful island, were able to meet him with solid arguments, were able to meet him with the clash which takes place when mind meets mind. They were not moreover blinded by prejudice or ignorance, which is often, perhaps, the most difficult obstacle in the way of an apostle or missionary.

Rev. Father O'Brien then went on to give a very interesting account of the life of St. Patrick, dealing with his successes, his conversions, the changes he wrought in Ireland, etc., and also dealt with the work of the Irish missionaries. He dwelt briefly upon the fidelity of Ireland to the teachings of St. Patrick, and concluded thus:

Our greatest glory on earth is to be sons—but worthy sons of St. Patrick; our greatest ambition to emulate our forefathers. Boast not of your Irish descent, glory not in the fidelity and greatest of your forefathers, if you have not their courage to suffer, when necessary, for your religion; if you are not constant in the practice of the faith of our fathers, that faith, which if practised perseveringly to the end, will make you worthy children of your glorious ancestors, and will merit for you the crown of eternal happiness, which God has reserved for those who love and serve Him.

LYRICAL ST. PATRICK.

St. Patrick was a decent man, he came of decent people,
In Dublin town he built a church, and upon it put a steeple.
His father was a Callaghan, his mother was a Brady,
His aunt was an O'Shaughnessy, his uncle was a Grady.

Then success to bold St. Patrick's fist;
He was a Saint so clever;
He gave the snakes and toads a twist
And banished them forever.

There's not a mile in Ireland's isle,
where the dirty varmin musters,
Where'er he put his dear fore foot, he murdered them in clusters.
The toads went hop, the frogs went plop, slash dash into the water,
And the beasts committed suicide to save themselves from slaughter.
—Then success & c.

Nine hundred thousand vipers blue, he charmed with sweet discourses;
And dined on them at Hillaloe in soups and second courses.
When blind worms crawling on the grass disgusted all the nation,
He gave them a rise, and opened their eyes to a sense of their situation.
—Then success & c.

The Wicklow Hills are very high, and so's the hill of Howth, sir,
But there's a hill much higher still, ay, higher than them both, sir,
Where on the top of this high hill, St.
Patrick preached his sermint
That drove the frogs into the bogs and bothered all the varmint.
—Then success & c.

SHE MADE A CHANGE.

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

"I am sending you the T. V. L. Cup per express, and trust it is only for this season. Will you kindly see that the winners of 1902 are engraved on it? I think the best team won the cup and also consider that T. V. L. one of the best leagues in Ontario, and hope that it may grow in numbers next season. I see Lindsay expects to be in the running next season. I hope they are, for the more the merrier. . . . ."

LACROSSE.

Lacrosse is going to boom in Belleville this summer, says the Intelligencer, and there are at least twenty men now in training, who mean to make a bluff for a place on the first team. Most of the old stars of last year will be out, and some new ones. An organization meeting, we are told, will be held at an early date, when officers and a manager will be appointed.

CANOEING.

Those who are interested in canoeing should bear in mind to attend the meeting to-night in the Y.M.C.A. parlours at 7.30 sharp, when plans will be discussed. There is a likelihood that a strong club will be organised having a large and comfortable club house at the waters edge, also having several regattas among the members. If you have a canoe or intend to get one, come to the meeting be one of the first to help make the club a success.

FOOTBALL.

Prospects for an organization such as that of Western Ontario, are fast appearing over the horizon. Among the different places who have replied, signifying their desire to form a league in Eastern Ontario, are Millbrook, Cordova, Bethany, Pontypool, Omemee, Bridgenorth, Peterborough Y.M.C.A., I. and II. It is expected that Havelock and Norwood will also enter.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A full attendance of all senior gymnasium members is asked for to-night at 8 o'clock, as work of importance is to be reviewed.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of the mother, says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially woman's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and insures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S CONFESSION.

Really Feels More Canadian Than English in Old London.

A letter comes to the writer (Lally Bernard in The Globe) from an Englishman, long resident in Canada, who has returned to London. "There are many things which strike me as strange and odd, and I really feel more Canadian than English. I am oppressed and often humiliated by the evidence of wholesale degradation and misery that everywhere confronts me, coupled with the reflection that this is the heart of the Empire." Now the question comes: Have Canadians any responsibility concerning the condition of affairs in London? and if they have any joint responsibility with the other branches of the Imperial whole, what action would they be justified in taking? The writer spent three months last summer in the very heart of London, and had unexampled opportunities of seeing the masses of London poor, who surged forward towards the light and brilliancy of coronation decorations and festivities as moths are drawn towards the brilliant light of a candle. All the representatives of the various colonial dependencies were gathered in London during July and August, and matters of great weight and consequence were discussed in the Colonial Conference. The greatest question which confronts Canadian statesmen is the populating of the arable areas in Canada with men and women who feel that in coming to this country they better their condition and open the future to their children. Now, the one great point which strikes a Canadian looking into the upturned faces of the London crowd from the east end slums is the utter look of hopelessness, the passive acceptance of their condition, which you may see on the faces of those who are the victims of some mortal hurt or disease which admits of no cure. One turned from the ranks of the colonial contingents, where the men were representative of almost every class in colonial society, to the ranks of the submerged tenth in London, and one saw a different species of the Anglo-Saxon race, one which had degenerated physically, morally and possibly mentally. And why? Because they were smitten with a disease which might be described best as "herding." The disease shows itself in a sort of sleeping sickness, which makes them see life through an abnormal glass. They drag wearily through the crowded streets or herd like insects in the crowded tenements, content to exist and impelled to live as it were on the vitality exhaled from the masses of their fellow-beings. There is something uncanny, weird and unwholesome to the colonial, who has a certain sturdy self-reliance which allows him to pit his individual vitality and energy against the perils of pioneer life. In this sort of hideous, abnormal craving for their mere contact with masses of human beings, it is suggestive of a mass of sluggish insects which crowd together on one limb of a tree instead of spreading themselves over a large surface.

ONE-EYED CANADIAN STEER.

His Triumph of Pure Reason Over Man-Made Guards.

In default of any more worthy shrine, Canadians must rally round the one-eyed steer at Ottawa, and offer incense to his glory and honor. There he proudly stands, tossing his gleaming horns (if he has any), stamping his hoof, and ever and anon separating himself from a bellow that turns the blood of the assembled cattle-guard inventors to water. 'Tis true he has only one eye; why blink the fact? He pretends to have no more; he is not a hypocrite. He lives in a free country, where a live steer with one eye is as good as a dead steer that at one time had all his lamps lit. That one humid orb rolls about and fastens on the cattle-guard. In it he sees arrayed against his simple bovine intelligence the concentrated human wisdom of many years. A hundred brains to one! Steel against bone! These are the odds. Does our champion quail? Does he shirk the ordeal, and wash himself safely in a tin of corned beef, far from the madding crowd? He does not quail, nor does he long for a seclusion and monotony which is to be broken only by a can-opener. No! He prepares for battle, and with lowered head and switching tail advances into the arena.

Triumph of Pure Reason.

Behind him, in inferior and subordinate positions, come the Dutch steers, the French steers, the steer Anglois, the U. S. steer, and the Irish bull—animals with twice the number of eyes and half the intellectual resources of the Canadian steer. Cautiously, and with dainty steps, he approaches the cattle-guard. No wild rushes mar the subtle graces of his advance, no rude jostlings offend the delicacy of the cattle-yard habitues. With thoughtfulness and precision, and yet with an indescribable air of insouciance, he threads the labyrinth followed by the band, and at length emerges triumphant, yet dignified, on the other side. Inventor after inventor, each with his long hair and his abstracted manner, sees the fond darling of his brain succumb. It is a triumph of pure reason.—The News.

ON TH' TRAIN.

When me an' my pa took a trip on th' cars
From here clean t' Kansas, one time,
We slep' in a sleeper both nights on th' way,
An' pa gived th' porter a dime!
We done lots of things that big travelers does.
An' pa wasn't rattled a grain,
But one thing I 'member th' best of all wuz
A feller we met on th' train.

That feller had traveled th' awfullest lot!
He'd been t' Tacomy an' back;
He'd been t' El Paso one time when his train
Bumped into another, right smack;
He'd et in th' diner till things didn't taste
No good 'cause they served 'em too plain.
I wish I wuz half as well posted as him—
Th' feller we met on th' train!

He set an' told pa of th' times he had bluffed
Conductors an' brakemen an' all
An' made 'em take tickets 'at wasn't no good;
"Jist done it," he said, "on my gall."
He'd fooled th' train robbers—'twasn't no trick;
These skeered people give 'im a pain.
My pa set an' looked an' jist listened t' him,
This feller we met on th' train.

I said t' my pa when th' feller got off,
"I wisht we'd been t' places that way."
An' pa he jist smiled kind of pitiful like
An' didn't have nothin' t' say.
But when we got home I wuz tellin' th' folks,
An' pa said: "Let up on that strain.
When you git as old as your pa, you'll forgit
Th' liars you meet on th' train."

Valentine Fisher's Sciatica Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Could Hardly put one Foot to the Ground now he can Walk all day With out Trouble.

Collingwood, March 15. — (Special.) "Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new man of me," so speaks Valentine Fisher, well known in Collingwood and the surrounding country. "I was troubled with kidney disease for 13 years. It developed into Sciatica and located in my left side so that I was hardly able to walk, and could not do so without the aid of a cane. My back was also affected and altogether I was a cripple in the most painful sense of the word.

"And the worst of it all was I could get no relief. Doctors and medicines failed to do me any good until I was fortunate enough to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. The benefit was almost miraculous. My health came back and the change in my appearance was so great that some of my neighbours did not know me.

"Whereas before I could hardly put one foot to the ground and I had to use morphine to ease the pain, I was enabled to go to work selling fruit trees and walk all day without any trouble."

Sciatica and kindred diseases are caused by uric acid in the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills put the Kidneys in shape to take the uric acid out of the blood, and the Sciatica disappears.

THE BEAVER.

Indians and Trappers Are Their Enemies and It is Fast Disappearing.

The various attempts to save the Canadian beaver have been only partially successful. To a great extent the woods have been stripped of their native animals, and the beaver has suffered more than most animals. Its pelt is of sufficient value to make it a great prize. It is highly valued by the Indians as an article of food. Its habits are such that it is easy for the trapper well-nigh to exterminate a whole colony in a single day.

The Canadian law for the protection of the beaver does not seem able to reach the Indians. The latter remain for so long a time in the woods and are then so far from civilization that no official can keep watch over their movements. So the officials watch the dealers and attempt to prosecute them for buying the skins.

Beavers are good to eat, and if a hungry man kills one he goes free. The Indians of the far north go to the woods every winter with small rations, and if they eat the beaver they kill it would be hard to get any man who had ever faced starvation in the north to stand for their conviction.

Wiles of the Dealers.

The dealers who buy beaver skins employ various schemes for getting them to market. One fur buyer, for instance, has a store where he keeps his furs. When an Indian comes in with a bunch of beaver the dealer has these taken to another house whose owner is supposed to be in no way interested in furs.

When there is a fairly large supply the dealer takes a run to Quebec or Montreal and arranges for a sale. The persons who take the furs have a third person in their confidence.

The third person is not a fur buyer. Consequently when a barrel of beaver skins labelled "Glassware" arrives, sent by a man who does not deal in furs, no one suspects the deception. The skins are sent to American markets, are seen only by American customs inspectors, who have no great concern with the enforcement of Canadian laws, and the danger to the dealer is past.

The great hope of the lawmakers was that the vast region to the north of the settlements, where the Hudson Bay Company has control, would become a great reservoir from which the animals would scatter southward, for the company is said to be strictly conscientious in its obedience to the law.

The Delicacy of Delicacies.

The Indian considers the beaver the delicacy of delicacies, and has a special fondness for the flesh of the animal when it is cooked after the ancient method of singeing off the fur and roasting it whole in the skin. Even after the pelts became valuable he would resort to this method on special occasions.

When the company would no longer buy the skins the Indian, too far from civilization to deal with any other fur buer, resorted to old-time customs, and there was feasting in the land, feasting on beaver roasted in the skin.

This sort of thing could not last long, however, without attracting fur buyers from the outside world. The outside dealers began sending their men into the woods. These found what was undoubtedly a snap, a chance to buy beaver with no competition. There were fortunes in the business and little risk, for the buyers were practically safe from any possible detection.

This sort of thing was bad for the Hudson Bay Company, for when men penetrated its region for the purpose of buying beaver they bought other furs as well, lots of them, and the company found itself often unable to get furs enough from successful trappers to pay for the supplies which it always advances on credit before the winter hunt.

Not True to Nature.

"How did you like that play of rural life?"

"It's a fraud," answered Mr. Trullrural. "'Tain't true to nature. I understand all them farm folks on the stage stays up till 11 or 12 o'clock every night o' their lives."

He Understood.

"And after I get off the cars," said young Markley, who had asked and received permission to call, "which way do I turn to get to your house?"

"Why," said she, "right in front of you, on the corner, you'll see a candy store—a very nice candy store—and—er—when you come out you walk two blocks east."

NEW WEATHER IDEAS.

Some Statistics of the Canadian Weather of 1902 That Will Furnish Excellent Food for a Gossip.

Mr. W. A. Stuart, of the Toronto Meteorological office, has prepared some interesting statistics about the weather for last year which will afford some new ideas [illegible] to the daily conversation on the never-failing topic of "the weather we're having."

Most people, remembering the early part of last summer, will be inclined to say that the characteristics of last year's weather were an abnormally low temperature and an unusual rainfall. In both respects they will be wrong. The mean temperature for last year was 45.6, which was 1.2 degrees above the average of 62 years. The total rainfall was 26.10 inches, which was .93 inches below the normal, and the total snowfall was 49.2 inches, which was 13.4 inches below the normal. Last year was thus, generally speaking, a dry year and a warm year.

July Warmest Month.

The warmest month was July, when the mean temperature was 68.8. February, as usual, was the coldest month, with a mean temperature of 21.6. The warmest day was July 8th. The average for the day was 75.9. December 14th held the record for the coldest day, with a mean temperature of 6.10 degrees above zero. The wettest day came on Oct. 5th, when 1.22 inches of rain fell, and the snowiest days were January 21st and 22nd, when the man of the house had to shovel 15.7 inches of snow off his front walk. On 181 days there was neither rain nor snow.

The mean velocity of the wind for the year was 11 miles per hour. On Oct. 13th the average for the day reached top figures, namely, 27.2 miles per hour, and on February 24th only a few gentle zephyrs combined to make the day's average 1.7 miles per hour. The wind did its biggest stunt on the night of Nov. 8, when it got up a velocity of 46 miles per hour from midnight to one o'clock a.m.

Coldest Hour Dec. 9.

The mercury climbed highest on July 8th, when it reached 91 degrees. The coldest hour came on Dec. 9th, when citizens shivered at a temperature of 3.3 below zero.

The average temperatures for 1901 and 1902 were exactly the same.

One frequently hears "the oldest inhabitant" cast slurs on our civilized modern weather and say that they had colder and snowier winters in the good old days. The records kept by the Observatory officials tell a different story. The average winter temperature and the average summer temperature are practically the same now as they were 62 years ago. And the snowfall is, as a rule, as heavy now as it was then.

Story of a Canadian M.P.

There is a story current in Ottawa, which may perhaps be new outside, of a member of Parliament who was invited to a dinner at the house of a titled Minister of the Crown, and who, wearing the regulation black suit, presented himself at the house in question wearing a pink shirt and a red tie. He was ushered into the drawing-room, which was silent and lonely, and the servant reported his arrival to Lady —— who came and explained to the gentleman that it was only six o'clock, and the hour of dinner was half-past seven, but invited him to be seated, and prepared to entertain him during the interval as best she could, "Oh," exclaimed the rich member of Parliament, "I'll just go out into the kitchen and smoke my pipe by the stove, and have a chat with the girl," and Lady—— feeling this was the best thing he could do, and that it would suit him best, let him have his way, and when the guests arrived, Mr. —— came our from the kitchen and joined them.—Events, Ottawa.

Eczema and Itching Skin

Defied Many Expensive Remedies but Were Thoroughly Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is a mistake to judge Dr. Chase's Ointment by the results obtained from the use of ordinary salves and ointments. It is not to be compared with any preparation on the market to-day.

Some of these remedies give temporary relief but they do not strike deep enough to eradicate disease. You need not be alarmed if Dr. Chase's Ointment causes a little irritation at first; this is necessary in order to root out the disease. When the cure is brought about the skin will be left smooth and clear, without scar and blemish.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when scratched the blood would come. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little girl, two years old, has also been cured of Eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we hand to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Miss Lavina Diotte, Clarence Creek, Ont., writes: "I suffered with eczema for over a year and a half and tried all the remedies I could hear of, some of them costing considerable money, and not doing me any good. I was enduring great torture when I read an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and resolved to give it a trial.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it has completely cured me. Though I do not need it any more I keep a box in the house in case of emergency. I hope that people who suffer as I did may read this testimonial and for this reason you have my permission to publish it. It is only just that such a good remedy for eczema and itching skin should be made known to those who suffer."

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $800,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

THE ENGLISH OF OUR SIRES.

I love the English of our sires; it gives me cheer enough
To read its simple, rifle words and try to spell the trough;
I love to view the lettery maze and wander
there, although
How I will e'er emerge from it I hardly ever know.
O'er verbal fields on mountain sides my weary way I plough,
And often reach surprising ends, although
I scarce know how;
Yet still the phrase and verbal maze I journey, journey through,
Although the spelling knocks me out, no matter what I dough.

I love the English of our sires; I give it hearty praise,
Although its spelling must at times the wanderer amaze,
I do not stand with those who mouth, and rant, and groan, and shriek,
And find no language strong enough their dire disdain to speak,
The language that our fathers wrote is sweet as bells of sleighs,
And we should give the makers preighs, or give them ninety deighs;
And if we cannot spell with grace, there's yet comfort, eke,
To write the stuff the way it sounds, and spell it as we spoke.

I love the English of our sires; I make the statement straight,
And I have loved it since the time I spelled it on my slaight.
Though some can spell, and some cannot the artful method seize,
Although they wrestle long and hard, petition on their knoise,
Yet still I bear upon my way my queer,
linguistic freight,
And, come the worst or come the best, I still am quite eleight.
For one glad orthographic rule I've seized by slow degrees;
If any word is hard to spell, why, spell it as you pleas.

FALLACIES ABOUT FOODS.

Some Eminent British Advice on What to Eat and Why.

One hour was spent at the headquarters of the National Health Society by Dr. Robert Hutchison in ruthlessly destroying some cherished popular fallacies about food. Dr. Hutchison is demonstrator in physiology at the London Hospital Medical College.

"The poor should give their children less bread-and-jam and more dripping," he said. "The main fault in our national feeling is that we consume too much starch and sugar and too little fat. Many of the children grow up stunted and badly developed, largely because of the deficiencies in feeding. Butter as a food is of the highest value, and the use of margarine should be greatly increased. Margarine is a substance that does not deserve all the opprobrium poured upon it. It is made in a way that is open to no sort of objection. It is physiologically equal to butter, is easily digested, and is an excellent supplier of energy."

Lentils, peas, haricot beans, and oatmeal should be eaten, and meat in proper quantities. Oatmeal should be given to children, particularly in place of the bread-and-jam.

"I would not urge the town-dweller to be a vegetarian," continued Dr. Hutchison, "but I would advise the poor that they can get a much larger quantity of waste-repairing and energy and heat-forming food for a shilling in the form of pulse food than in meat or animal form. The homely bloater, too, is one of the cheapest sources of material for properly building up the human body. The economist would do well, too, to teach the wife of the workingman how to prepare cheese in various ways. Cheese is an extremely nourishing food, but taken en bloc it is somewhat difficult of digestion. If mixed up with other things in various ways it can be better dealt with by the stomach.

"Some things largely taken are of no use in keeping up the human fabric and supplying energy. Tea is one of these things, and the much-lauded meat extracts are certainly not of any use in replacing the wear and tear of the body."

The lecturer added that the superior energy of the American workmen had been attributed to their avoidance of some of the food fallacies of the English.—London Mail.

Lever's Rollicking Irishman.

Whence, says London Outlook, did Charles Lever get his rollicking Irishman? Professor Oman in his preface to the re-issue of William Grattan's "Adventures With the Connaught Rangers" discloses the secret. It was clearly, he avows, from the domestic annals of the old 88th Foot in Peninsular days that Lever drew the greater part of the good stories which made the fortune of "Charles O'Malley." Many of the characters in that romance appear in the flesh in Grattan's reminiscences. Notably:

"The eccentric surgeon, Maurice Quill, whose fame was so great throughout the British army that the novelist did not even take the trouble to change his name. His colleague, Dr. O'Reilly, was almost as great an original. Many of the humors of Micky Free seem to be drawn from the doings of Grattan's servant, Dan Carsone."

"Comparing the 'real thing,'" Mr. Oman goes on, "with the work of fiction, one is driven to conclude that much of what was regarded as rollicking invention on Lever's part was only a photographic reproduction of anecdotes that he had heard from old soldiers of the Connaught Rangers."

Crabs That Climb Trees.

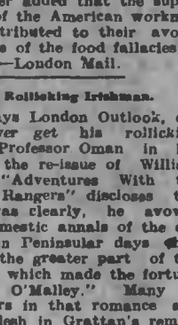
In the Dutch East Indies lives a species of crabs which are accustomed to climb mangroves and palm trees for the purpose, it is believed, of feeding upon the fruit. Mr. C. P. Sluiter of Bantam, avers that he has seen these crabs climb to the top of trees fully 60 feet in height. Although he could not see plainly what they were about, he believes, from the behavior of captive specimens, that they opened young cocoanuts and devoured their contents. It is doubtful if they can break the shell of a ripe cocoanut.

Two Ladies Hurt in Runaway.

Belleville, March 16.—Mrs. Robert Aull of Madoc with her sister Miss Kate Curran were injured in a runaway. They were both thrown out. Mrs. Aull was badly cut about the face and head, and her sister had her collarbone broken.

A WOMAN'S RISK

As a trapeze performer is greater than a man's. She must have a man's courage and a man's muscle to succeed. But she must also work under conditions of which a man knows nothing. Many an accident to women acrobats must be attributed to the sudden weakness to which all women are subject at certain times.



Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription heals the womanly diseases which cause weakness. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"With pleasure I write to-day in praise of Dr. Pierce and his medicines," says Mrs. Mary Conway, of Appleton, Lawrence Co., Tenn. "Was troubled with female disease; the back of my head hurt me so I could not lie in bed and I would have to sit up, and then I would have such pains from my waist down I could scarcely raise up. My feet and hands would feel almost like ice. Since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I can sleep well all night. Could hardly drag around before I took your medicine, and now can do my housework and help my husband in the field. Words cannot express the thanks I owe to Dr. Pierce."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing over a thousand large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 50 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

U. C. C. BOYS.

Characteristic Traits of Some Pupils After They Had Left School.

When Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn was member for Centre Toronto there were in the House of Commons seven or eight old Upper Canada College boys who had been at the old school under Mr. Cockburn. They annually had a little dinner, and great was the enjoyment at that function, says The News. T. Mayne Daly, then Minister of the Interior, was one of Mr. Cockburn's favorite pupils, and it annually was the former principal's habit to tell the company how Daly and a certain Toronto newspaper correspondent were the only boys whom he had ever "licked" three times in one day. Both Daly and the journalist were always at the little dinner, and Mr. Cockburn invariably expressed doubt as to which had been the worst boy. But the wickedness was only schoolboy wickedness. Pillow fights, "skipping out"—i. e., going down town without leave, and such like offences were the sum total of their crimes. But Thomas Mayne Daly had to his credit one crime that, for all that is known, may yet be talked of with bated breath by the collegians of today. It certainly was a famous school story fifteen years after Daly left College. In the principal's garden, in the old days, were two great cherry trees, and Daly was the only boy within the memory of the oldest of the College servants, who had ever been bold enough to scale the fence and purloin the cherries. Of course he was caught, and equally of course, he was caned in good shape. But he was a hero for all that, and long after he had gone into the big world, new boys were told how Daly of Stratford had "swiped the Principal's cherries."

Force of Schoolboy Habits.

The force of habit is strong, and even when he was a Cabinet Minister, Daly always addressed Mr. Cockburn by the schoolboy "Sir," as, in fact, do a good many bearded men in Toronto to-day. The citizens perhaps don't see as much of Mr. Cockburn as they used, but it is pretty difficult for him to negotiate a two-block walk on King street without being greeted by some one of his old boys. And he never forgets a name. Also, he pretty nearly always has some recollection of some escapade in which the boy was concerned. This latter, of course, applies mainly to the old boys who were boarders. The day boys, the Principal and masters saw comparatively little. In the old days, it was the cheerful habit of the boarders periodically to chase the day boys home after school. These demonstrations were calculated with the sole end of convincing the day boys that, while they might be decent enough fellows, they were hardly on an equality with the lads who lived at the College. Your boy at a big residential school is usually rather prejudiced in such matters, and perhaps it is well that he should be so. When he gets out into the world, a good many rough edges are worn off. But while he is at school, it is a good thing for him to believe that it is the best school in the world. And Upper Canada boys never had any doubt on that point.

Col. Sam Steele's Ways.

"Did you hear that when Col. Sam Steele was in Cape Town he was invited by Lord Milner to Government House, but would not go? Yes, that's what they say. Of course that wasn't Milner's fault. Col. Sam sent word that things of that kind weren't in his line.

"The Canadians out there have to tell stories about Sam Steele. They say General Buller was annoyed at him, but soon got over it. Steele in his shirt sleeves, and smoking his famous short clay pipe, would sit at the door of his tent when Buller and his staff came riding past. The first time this happened everybody was petrified except Col. Sam, who was quite at his ease. 'Well, General,' he said, 'anything doing to-day?' General Buller politely stated that nothing special was being done, 'Well,' said Col. Steele, 'I think you should send a bunch of the boys off to the right there. The blankety blank Boers are fiddling round over there all right enough.'"—London Correspondence.

Woman and Plow.

An Iowa traveler back from the new northwest frontier, relates some of the hardships of life there. He says: "I saw a colony of Galicians in Saskatchewan, and they gave me the most extraordinary exhibition of human patience and fortitude I ever beheld. I saw from a dozen to fifteen women hitched two and two on an 18-inch breaking plow, and they marched straight ahead through the tough ground with that plow, tearing up five acres a day on an average. There was a man holding the plow. The work these people did was as effective as could have been done by horses or oxen. The women seemed to take to their hard labor as a matter of course. They are very cheerful over it. I am told that scores of these women who draw plows all day have vitality enough left to dance through the greater part of the night."—Pearson's Weekly.

FIERCE FIGHT WITH WOLVES.

How a Weary Canadian Trapper Came Out of a Bloody Battle.

A bloodstained and weary trapper, William Bush by name, accompanied by a dog which had part of its face torn away, arrived in Rat Portage on a recent January day, says The Miner of that place, and told of a blood-curdling experience with a pack of wolves at Hawk Lake. Bush was crossing a portage, helping his solitary dog by pushing on the toboggan with his rifle, when, without a word of warning, a large timber wolf sprang at him out of the darkness. He had no ammunition, so he clubbed his rifle, striking a tremendous blow at his assailant, which rolled over in the snow. In the meantime another one sprang upon his dog, which, encumbered by its harness, was powerless to offer resistence. The wolf fastened on the dog's check, and Bush again swung his rifle around his head and brought it down upon the wolf with such force that the stock broke into pieces. He had now only the heavy Snider barrel to defend himself, but the pack drew off a pace and circled around the lone trapper. Bush was on snowshoes, and slowly, his dog whining piteously with the pain of its wounds, he pushed his way across the portage, and got upon the ice of Hawk Lake, the pack remaining in the timber.

The Snider is an old British army rifle, discarded after Isandiwana in 1879, when it was superceded by the Martini-Henry, which in turn gave place to the Lee-Enfield and Lee-Metford. This is the reason way he was out of ammunition, there being no place in this district where cartridges can be obtained but Rat Portage.

Bush has killed several wolves this winter, and received bounty of $15 a head, besides selling the skin at between $4 and $5 each. He left here a day or two after his return with a supply of ammunition and another Snider for the scene of his recent narrow escape from a horrible fate.

A Maid's Sitting Room.

One of the most crying needs in domestic architecture is a maid's sitting room, some place besides the kitchen, where these humble helpers in our homes may enjoy an hour's rest and entertain their friends. Nothing rebukes our present home arrangement more than the cramped and uninviting quarters assigned to those we call our servants. The smallest and darkest sleeping room in the house is theirs, often adjoining the kitchen, where it is the easy receptacle of all the cooking odors and fumes. The room in which they work is the room in which they live, where perhaps a dishpan and skillets ornament the walls and the teakettle is the only article of vertu. That is an exceptional kitchen in size and arrangement in which a rocking chair or lounge is found to afford a few minutes' needed rest, where flowers bloom in the window or a few pictures widen the outlook. A room that comprises some of these features of home comfort and grace is sadly needed and would do much to lighten toil and sweeten the household atmosphere. The need is both for a little more space at the rear end of the house and a little more kindly forethought in the care of those who live at that end.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion aids digestion, improves nutrition, and increases weight and strength. It is pleasant to take, and agrees with the stomach.

Thousands of well-fed people cannot digest and assimilate their food. They therefore get insufficient nourishment, and are slowly starving. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is for such. It helps digest and assimilate the food, cleanses the stomach and bowels, improves nutrition, tones up and invigorates the entire system and thus increases health, weight and strength. Physicians prescribe it for persons who are recovering from any illness that has left them in a weak, "run-down" condition. Get a small bottle, take according to directions and watch results.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is sold by druggists everywhere. Remember the name and insist on getting Angier's. Large size, 50 cts. Small, 25 cts. ANGIER CHEMICAL COMPANY, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, U.S.A.

"MADE IN CANADA."

Miss Pauline Johnson's Poem at the Canadian Manufacturers' Dinner.

At the recent banquet tendered by the local manufacturers of Brantford to the 200 members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association present, one of the unique features of the affair was the reading of the following original poem by the Mohawk maiden, Miss E. Pauline Johnson, entitled:

"Made in Canada."

What is the creed and the ceiling that we
of the north uphold?
It is never the cry for power, it is never
the greed of gold,
Let the east, and south, and west contend,
like wolves for a maverick bone,
But Canada for the Canadians is the creed
that we call our own.

Good wines are at Kaiser Wilhelm's, good cakes are at Uncle Sam's,
And in dear old Britain's larders are the best of plums and jams.
But beef and bread, and a blanket, a pipe,
a mug and a fire,
Are the things that we have in Canada;
what more can a man desire?

We don't need the marts of Europe, nor the trade of the eastern isles,
We don't need the Yankee's corn and wine,
nor the Asiatic's smiles,
For what so good as our home-made cloth,
and under the wide blue dome,
Will you tell me where you have tasted bread like the bread that is baked at home?

And we are the young and strong, and who so fit for the fight as we?
With our hands of steel and our iron heel and our hearts like the oaken tree.
For we are the home-bred, home-fed men,
the pride of a princely band,
And the things that are made in Canada are the things that our sons demand.

So this is the creed and the ceiling that we of the north uphold;
It is never the cry for power, it is never
the greed of gold,
Let the east, and south, and west contend,
like wolves for a maverick's bone,
But Canada for the Canadians, is the creed
that we call our own.

WM. ST. GEORGES.

Inhalation of fine dust, heavy lifts, exposure to chilling winds—these are some of the things which make masons generally subject to attacks of kidney trouble and backache.

Mr. Wm. St. Georges, whose home is 651 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ont., is a stonemason by trade, and was so unfortunate as to become a victim of kidney complaint. The history of his case he gives as follows, in a recent letter:

"Dear Dr. Pitcher:—Permit me to write and thank you for your Backache Kidney Tablets which have done me so much good.

"I suffered for two long years from weak back and kidney trouble. Last year I was completely used up so that I lost all courage, and had no hope of recovering. No one could do anything for me.

"During the first week of April last, I met with a friend of mine and he advised me to take your Kidney Tablets. I thought I would try one box, and after I had finished this I felt so much better that I continued the Tablets until I had used in all six boxes. Every box I took made me feel better and stronger till now I am perfectly cured.

"I am now as strong and healthy as ever I was in my life and can attend to my work, which is very heavy, as I am a stonemason. I feel confident from the benefit I received that anyone suffering from lame back or kidney trouble will not be disappointed if they take your Tablets.

Yours truly,
WM. ST. GEORGES."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are the most effectual remedy known to science for promptly relieving and permanently curing backache, lame or weak back, swelling of the feet and legs, scalding or irritation of the urine, sediment, brick dust deposits, neuralgia, rheumatism, specks floating before the eyes, pain in the head, torpid liver, kidney troubles of old people, bed-wetting of children, and all forms of kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. Price 50c. a bottle or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

THE PATRON SAINT OF OLD IRELAND.

What is Known Concerning the Revered and Pious Missionary.

LIFE AND WORK IN THE ISLE.

The Story of His Labours in the Conversion of the Island From Paganism to Christianity—Where He Was, What He Did, and His Self-sacrifice.

Few saints have had more written about them than the patron Saint of Old Ireland. The difficulty for the historic student is therefore not the lack of material but the selection of that which is trustworthy. This difficulty was so great in St. Patrick's case that the student of times past gave up in despair the hope of ever solving it. A cloud of debate surrounded the saint. Many learned men of the last generation were inclined to deny altogether his very existence. But the most modern historic student is not so easily disheartened and by his labours a sifting process has begun, and the later "Lives," written some 700 years after St. Patrick's time, have been practically left out of consideration, as any trustworthy information contained in them is also found in the earlier sources.

"The Confessions of St. Patrick," copied into the Book of Armagh, in the year A. D., 807, and preserved in the library of Trinity College, Dublin, professes to be written by himself and about himself. All learned men accept this confession as genuine, and it is from this source that much of our information about St. Patrick is derived. But there is preserved in the Bodleian Library a letter written by St. Patrick to a Welsh Prince Coroticus, who had taken captive and slain some Irish Christians. This letter is in the form of a remonstrance, and being also considered genuine, gives us some information about St. Patrick. St. Patrick's "Breastplate," being a hymn written in Irish and translated by Mrs. Alexander, although not giving biographical facts, yet is useful as showing as what his creed was. When we add to these two documents the hymn of Secundinus, or Sechnall, we have all the contemporaneous writings at present available. No doubt exists as to the genuineness of these works. They are published in Dr. Whitley Stokes' Tripartite, vol. I, page 48, II, p.p., 357-359.

Next in authority to these contemporaneous documents is the Hymn of Fiace, 'Genair Patraic," as Fiace, who was consecrated by St. Patrick to be Bishop of Sletute. It is however of later date, for the hymn-writer speaks of St. Patrick, not as personally known to him, but of one who was known to him only through books and stories. As a short sketch of St. Patrick's life, it has much merit, and its style and reticence shows it to be of early date, probably sometime in the 6th century.

But there are two other writings,

"THE LIFE OF ST. PATRICK,"

by Muirchu, and the memoranda of Tirechan, from which some materials are obtained. These latter writings belong to the latter half of the 7th century, and some very interesting information has been gathered from them by J. B. Bury, and published over his name in The Guardian, Nov. 20-27, 1901. He shows that Muirchu's Life was of slightly later date than Tirechan's, but that the two works were independent of each other. They were copied into the Book of Armagh in the year A. D. 807, but "Muirchu knew nothing of Tirechan, and Tirechan nothing of Muirchu."

The main source of Muirchu's information is St. Patrick's confession, "the first three sections and a half are simply an abbreviation of the narrative portion of the confession." Muirchu indicates this source by the reference "ut ipse ait," Muirchu gives us five facts that are not to be found in the confession, that Patrick's nationality was Brythonic; that he was born in Britain; that his original name was Sochet; that his mother's name was Concessa, and that the vicus Bannavem Taburnie, mentioned in the confession, is not far from the Irish Channel, and is "uentre" (what ever this may be.) His information on these points we are given to understand, depended on a concenses of authorities (whether oral or written we are left to conjecture.) Mr. Bury points out that Muirchu is responsible for some blunders and indiscretions, in some cases seriously misinterpreting St. Patrick's words, and in others making unwarrantable inferences. His method, he says himself, was eclectic (carptim.) He does not set down every incident he selects; but he fails to tell us what principle guided him in his selection. He seems to have taken his information from whatever source was before him, piecemeal, as it were, now one source, now another. He did not fuse his materials into a unity, so we naturally find many incongruities. But apart from these inconsistencies this life of St. Patrick, as well as the are valuable sources for the formation of a formal biography of the Saint.

From these manuscripts the following information is derived and from them it is certain that St. Patrick was not a visionary personage, but a real missionary by whom Ireland was converted to Christianity.

St. Patrick tells us that he was the child of Christian parents, the son of a deacon in the church, Calpornius, and the grandson of a priest, named Odissus. He adds that he was born at Bannanem Taburine. There is some difficulty in locating this place now, Muirchu, as we saw, says it is not far from the Irish channel. Professor Stokes thinks it must be Dumbarton on the Clyde, near Glasgow, others that it is in France, near Bologne. St. Patrick speaks of his home being in the Britannias—if this means his native place then it was either in England, which is Britannia, Brema, or Wales, which is Britannia, Secunda, but of course, he may only mean by 'home,' his place of residence, or the place of residence of his parents. Besides being a deacon, he says that his father was also a 'decurio,' which was a Roman office of either a civil nature, corresponding to our "Town Councillor,' or a military man. In either case it is plain that the office of the deaconate was not in those days inconsistant with civil or military duties. His name Patricius points to his Roman nationality—it not being a real name but the name of a rank of nobility. Bearing this out he tells us in another place that he bartered his noble birth by coming to Ireland as a missionary. We shall not be far astray if we register him as the son of Roman parents, who were Christians, and settled in Great Britain, either in England or Wales. The Roman army having been withdrawn from Eng-

ANOTHER STORY OF SAINT PATRICK.

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland and Irishmen, was born most likely about 387 A. D., at Nemthur. Both the date and place of his birth are uncertain. His father was a deacon named Calpurnius, who was the son of Potitus, a priest. His mother was a sister of St. Martin of Tours.

When the lad was about sixteen years of age he was seized by a band of pirates while on his father's farm at Bonavem, Tabernise, and carried along with a number of other captives to Ireland, where he was sold to a petty chief, in whose service he remained for six years, tending sheep in the mountains.

At the end of that time he made his escape to France, where he became a monk, first at Tours, and afterwards in the celebrated monastery of Lorins. In the year 431 he went back to Rome, whence he was sent by the Pope of the day, Celestine, to preach in Ireland. He was ordained in France, and arrived in Ireland, 432, where his mission was eminently successful.

He took care to address himself to the chiefs and to improve as far as possible the spirit of clanship and other existing usages of the Irish. He was the great Christianising influence in Ireland. He visited a large portion of the kingdom and founded 365 churches, baptized with his own hand 12,000 persons, and ordained a great number of priests.

St. Patrick was engaged in his missionary enterprise for twenty years, and died at a place called Saul, near Downpatrick, where his relics were preserved down to the period of the Reformation. This place is still much venerated by the people.

As to the date of his death there is much dispute, some authorities claiming it to be 460 A.D., while others place it in 493 A.D. In one case St. Patrick would be 116 years of age and in the other case, 126 years.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

This is the anniversary of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, dear to every soul of Irish birth, and to none more dear than to the son of Ireland living far from its shores. It is no wonder that the day and the memories its wakens, and the things it represents, should be sacredly observed, and fondly cherished by every Irishman and every Irishwoman. This observance is natural and commendable, and quite consistent with the most loyal patriotism to the country which is the new home of the Irishman. No matter what new ties, however dear, a man may form, love for, and devotion to, his mother cannot, and do not, antagonize any other affection. They only ennoble and deepen and sanctify it. Ireland is dear to Irishmen as the land of their birth, or ancestry; it is dear for its history—the land where the standard of the Cross was stained by no blood but that of the Divine Atonement; the centre of missionary enterprise, whence radiated the light of Christianity, illuminating not only the British Isles, but many of the dark corners of Europe, and with a persistent influence that makes Ireland one of the most religious countries in the world; whether we have regard to the stern Presbyterianism of the North, or the more ardent and soul-rooted piety of the South. Though the streams from the central fount have widely diverged in form, if not in the crucial essence, it does not seem visionary to regard the deeply religious character of the Irish people as an outgrowth from the simple Gospel planted by the first Bishop of Ireland.

It may be counter to popular conception or fallacy to say that no section of Ireland territorially or otherwise has a monopoly of interest in St. Patrick as Ireland's patron Saint, but what is inconsistent in claiming that every Irishman whether he be of Antrim or Cork, has a right to the tutelary shelter of St. Patrick. It is therefore becoming that all Irishmen, especially in Canada, where the most perfect equality of civil and religious privilege prevails, should unite in celebrating the day that it seems has fallen nearest the dawning of a brighter day for Ireland. A day that seems destined to see the beginning of a reign of juster relations, the beginning of the end of rending factions, and of warring interests, where there should be harmonious co-operation in procuring redress for the grievances, and justice for long suffering Ireland. It may not be too optimistic to hope that before another anniversary arrives, Irishmen in Canada may join hands across the seas with Irishmen in the old land in congratulations upon the fact that an Irishman on leaving his native land will not have to ask an alien landlord for the privilege of taking with him on his exile "a handful of earth," or in the fact that significance will have forever departed from the wail of "Rory Darlin"—"For there's no more room in Ireland—for the land is ours no more." Nor may it be optimistic to regard as a sequel to pending reform, the near possibility for Ireland of the boon of home rule, "as they have it in Canada"—a boon for which, as associated with responsible government, we all as well as all Irish Canadians, are very largely indebted to a noble Irish Canadian — Hon. Robert Baldwin.

A FAMOUS IRISH WIT.

An Interesting Story of Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

Of the wits who reigned in England during the early part of last century there was none whose reputation was greater than Richard Brinsley Sheridan. "His wit," says one of his biographers, "was an incessant flame." He was possessed of "a grace of manner, charm of voice, fluency of language, and, above all, a brilliancy of sarcasm, a wit and a humour, and again a felicity of statement that made him the delight of every audience, and that excited the admiration of his very opponents themselves."

Sheridan is one of the few men of letters who has given us a definition of that form of intellectual ability in which he excelled. A "true trained wit," he says, somewhere, "lays his plan like a general—foresees the circumstances of the conversation, surveys the ground and contingencies, and detaches a question to draw you into a palpable ambuscade of his ready-made jokes." If this is a true definition, some of those whose gifts of repartee still brightens our lives can lay claim to being "true trained wits." It is, however, a precept which Sheridan put into practice for the certainly used to "lay plans like a general," as the following anecdote will bear witness.

There was a noisy member in the House of Commons, who was in the habit of interrupting every speaker with cries of "Hear, hear!" So Sheridan one day laid a crafty scheme to entrap the interrupter and took occasion after alluding to a certain politician of bad character, to inquire, "Where shall we find a more foolish knave or a more knavish fool than this?" "Hear, hear!" instantly came from the customary quarter, to whom the wit promptly bowed, and sat down amid roars of laughter.

His jokes were carefully elaborated and often bore the inevitable fault of smelling of midnight oil. Such, for instance, was his famous repartee in the House that the previous speaker (Mr. Dundas) was indebted to imagination for his facts and his memory for his wit.

THE HARP THAT ONCE THROUGH TARA'S HALL.

(Moore.)

The harp that once through Tara's halls,
The soul of music shed,
Now hangs as mute as Tara's walls
As if that soul were fled.—
So sleeps the pride of former days,
So glory's thrill is o'er,
And hearts, that once beat high for praise,
Now feel that pulse no more!

No more to chiefs and ladies bright
The harp of Tara swells;
The chord, alone, that breaks at night,
Its tale of ruin tells.
Thus freedom now so seldom wakes,
The only throb she gives,
Is when some heart indignant breaks,
To show that still she lives.

IRISH SOLDIERS.

The fighting propensities of the Irish are proverbial; an Irishman is an incomplete Irishman without his SHILLALAY. There is a story told of two of Ireland's offsprings who had decided to fight. The stronger, as it was supposed, thoughtfully admonished his weaker antagonist to say "Enough" when he had had sufficient punishment, and further chastisement would be withheld. They fought like tigers for some time, and to the surprise of the spectators the strong man cried "Enough! Enough!" "Enough is it I" panted the weak man "shure Oi've been thinkin' of that wurrd for the last half hour."

The Irish regiments have been among the very best in the British army. Among the most famous is the Royal Dublin Fusiliers. On their standard is displayed a royal tiger superscribed "Plassey," "Buxar," and with the motto underneath, "Spectamur Agendo." The following is a list of the honorary distinctions which the regiment is allowed to display, signifying the campaigns they have taken an honoured part in: "Carnatic, Mysore, Arcot, Condore, Wandewash, Sholingur, Nundy Droog, Amboyna, Ternate, Banda, Pondicherry, Mahidpoor, Guserat, Seringapatam, Kirkee, Beni Boo Ally, Aden, Punjaub, Mootan, Goojerat, Ava Pegu, Lucknow." The uniforms of the Dublin Fusiliers are scarlet with blue facings.

The gallant service they have recently rendered in South Africa is fresh in the public mind. It will be remembered that it was on account of their bravery and that of the other Irish regiments in the African campaign that the late Queen issued an order that the Shamrock might be worn by the Irish regiments on St. Patrick's Day. This is an unique honour.

The Royal Irish Fusiliers display the plume of the Prince of Wales, an eagle with a wreath of laurel, the harp and crown, Princess Victoria's coronet, the sphinx, superscribed, "Egypt," 'Faugh-a-Ballagh," and the names of fifteen engagements and campaigns.

The Royal Irish Rifles have the Latin motto, "Quis Separabit," together with the harp and crown, the sphinx superscribed "Egypt," and fifteen battles.

The battleground on which Irish, Scotch and English blood has mingled in one red stream for Britain's glory are legion. The Englishman with his plucky tenacity, the Scotchman, grim and unyielding, the Irishman, with the joy of battle dancing in his eye, have gone into the fight shoulder to shoulder, and who shall say that an Irish bull at a critical moment has not been the means of strengthening wavering hearts and snatching victory out of defeat.

ANOTHER OF MOORE'S IRISH MELODIES.

Tho' the last glimpse of Erin with sorrow I see,
Yet wherever thou art shall seem Erin to me;
In exile thy bosom shall still be my home,
And thine eyes make my climate wherever we roam.

To the gloom of some desert or cold rocky shore,
Where the eye of the stranger can haunt us no more,
I will fly with my Coulin, and think the rough wind
Less rude than the foes we leave frowning behind.

And I'll gaze on thy gold hair, as graceful it wreathes
And hang o'er thy soft harp, as wildly it breathes;
Nor dread that the cold-hearted Saxon will tear
One chord from that harp, or one lock from that hair.

SOME PERSONAL REMINISCENCES

Local Irishman Speaks of What He has Seen.

He Personally Knew Dan O'Connell and Rev. Father Matthew.

The following personal contribution to to-day's literature of St. Patrick's Day, was written by a well-known Irishmen of Peterborough, a Corkonian. He is, or was, personally cognizant of the interesting circumstances he so graphically relates:

Amongst the celebrated Irishmen of the Victorian era, not to go farther back, we might mention Daniel O'Connell, the "Repealer," as he was called, from his strenuous efforts from time to time to obtain "Repeal of the Union," or in other words what now appears in the "rhightening clear" on the long dark horizon of Erin, under perhaps more favourable auspices, "Home Rule," after the style of that we enjoy in Canada, than in which a better form of Government never existed. Dan was a brilliant but most sarcastic orator, and no doubt sowed the seeds that after various vicissitudes are now commencing to bud and fructify. There is one at least yet living in this town, who although very young at the time, remembers well his form and features, and the impressing brilliancy and sarcastic wit of his speeches. We might also mention as a contemporary of Dan's, the celebrated Apostle of Temperance, the Rev. Theobald Mathew, P. P. of the Priory Chapel"—as it was then (1842) called, in the city of Cork. We can well recollect his genial, smiling countenance and trim build—he was of short stature—dressed in black frock coat, priest's collar, beaver hat and Hessian boots, reaching near to the knee, with small tassels in front. In dispensing the "Pledge," so named from the "Promise to abstain from alcoholic liquor," his reverence not infrequently stood on the top stone step leading to his residence in Cove street, Cork, and therefrom addressed hundreds at a time of his hearers, who stood in the street listening to his beseeching and imploring address against the vices and temptations of drink, his hearers from experience of the bitter truths, frequently giving away to tears and penitent sobs; they would then all kneel, when the Rev. Father would pray for pardon for their sins, and ask Divine help to strengthen them against all temptation, and finally would invoke blessings on them in the most musically, soft, sweet and impressive tones, inviting them to repentance for the past, and to partake of the privileges offered them in the "Pledge." They would then rush to him one at a time and receive a card, on which "the promise to abstain" was written and then signed by the recipient, who further was presented with a medal of white metal, on one side of which was the Pascal Lamb and cross; round this was written "In Hoc Signo Vinces," and on the reverse, in the form of a cross, a copy of the "promise to abstain." As a general rule the promises were invariably kept; an occasional "break" however, occurred, but the penitent on honest appeal would be restored, and pardoned. This temperance movement worked wonders all over Ireland, and the benefits became soon apparent in the well being of the people, but alas! a few years later famine occurred, Father Mathew died, starvation, sickness and death followed with the Government Emigration. Then commenced repealers, moon-lighting, Fenianism, Phoenix boys, land leaguers, boycotting, etc., with the natural result. However, now a happy dawn is appearing, which the writer hopes to be permitted to see. Father Mathew had a celebrated brother, John Mathew, of Lena, near the City of Cork, who held the position under the Poor Law Board, of Commissioner. He was an amiable and honourable gentleman, through whose instrumentality during these perilous times much consolation, comfort and sustenance were given the poor.

We fear now, having to a considerable extent trespassed on the space alloted for these reminiscences, and will now proceed to refer to some of the recent Irish celebrites of the above period, commencing with General Lord Wolseley, who was cousin to the late Ivan O'Brien, Collector of Customs, of Peterborough; Lord Roberts, who had three cousins in this town—Charlie and John Roberts and Mr. Sam Price—three fine representatives of the sod; Lord Kitchener, Generals Kelly Kenny, French, White, Colonel Ager and Capt. Ager, the latter two both killed in action in Boer land, were cousins of Mrs. Fessenden, also of this town. In fact we might go on ad infinitum, enumerating the brave and talented "Green sprouts" of the Emerald Isle, but we select these few as being amongst the best known in this county, as examples for the sons of Erin to follow, and emulate in their bravery, energy, talent and integrity, and apply to the advancement and development of this great and wonderful new country, where with the blessing of God, the Shamrock, Thistle and Rose will unite with the Maple Leaf in making it the most perfect part of the great United Empire.

THE GAMEY CHARGES

What Powers Will Be Given to the Commission?

AWAITING THE INSTRUCTIONS

The Debate in the Legislature on Tuesday —Mr. M. G. Cameron Quotes Conservative Opinions in Favor of Royal Commissions — Messrs. Pense, Downey and Lucas Also Speak in the House.

Toronto, March 18.—Before the orders of the day were called in the Assembly yesterday, Mr. Whitney asked when judgment might be expected in the East Middlesex election case.

Col. Gibson replied that he had reason to believe it would be given on the morrow.

Mr. Whitney inquired further: When may we expect the terms of the commission? It is quite impossible to see our way clear until we know what it is purposed to ask us to accept. I am sure that the business of the House and of this particular motion will be expedited noticeably by this being done very soon. I do not wish, of course, to say anything with reference to it, but I think that after drawing the motion ten minutes should be sufficient to draw the commission; at any rate, 24 hours. I would like to know when we may expect it.

Mr. Ross—I do not think we will be able to give the information the hon. gentleman requires to-day.

Mr. Whitney—Does my hon. friend hope to be able to do so to-morrow?

Mr. Ross—I hope so.

Gamey Debate Resumed.

Mr. E. J. B. Pense, member for Kingston, then rose to resume the debate on the resolution regarding the investigation of the Gamey charges. He declared it was the wish of every Liberal that justice should be done, and he contrasted the delay at the time of the Pacific scandal with the promptitude of the Premier at present time. He then defended the character of the judges and maintained that in regard to forcing witnesses to give evidence which would incriminate themselves there was no difference between the judicial commission and a Parliamentary committee. He denied that the Government should resign. He pointed to the long and honorable record of the Liberal party and, in conclusion, said that one of the great faults of politics in Canada was the intense party feeling. For that reason it was proposed to remove the investigation from such influences, and to secure thereby that it should be thorough.

Mr. Lucas Follows.

Mr. I. B. Lucas, member for Centre Gray, followed. He recalled the stand taken by the last speaker in condemning the manner in which the West Elgin frauds had been investigated, and contrasted it with his lack of independence now. Taking up the question of how the charges should be investigated, he quoted the Premier's words after the bolt from the blue had fallen in the House. Mr. Ross had then declared that the charges should be investigated by a Committee of this House, but twenty-four hours later, after consulting his accused colleagues, he had changed his mind. He said that Mr. Gamey could get better results by resorting in the ordinary way to the criminal court.

He quoted from the act to show that the judges had no authority to make any finding, and he asked of the Attorney-General, if under the act there was any such authority vested in the judges.

Mr. Gibson replied that judges appointed under similar laws had found otherwise and had rendered findings.

Mr. Lucas said the Conservatives were in the dark as they did not know what the instructions were under which the commission was to act.

Reply by Mr. Cameron.

Mr. Malcolm G. Cameron, representing West Huron, arose. He felt he would not be serving his constituency if he did not congratulate the Government on the eminently fair course it was taking in this present important matter. He desired to see a fair and impartial investigation. This was the first charge that was specific in character. For a long time the members of the House had been compelled to listen to vague charges. It was to be hoped that this would bring them to an end, and, if the charges were not proven, he hoped the accuser would receive the punishment he deserved. Much irrelevant matter had been introduced into the discussion. The matter was not one to be regarded in a partisan manner.

Nothing could be broader than the resolution introduced by the Premier. Every charge that the member for Manitoulin had read in that long paper prepared by himself—(ironical Government laughter)—would be subsion would have absolute and undisject to investigation. The commisputed power. Not until the charges had been proven would his hon. friend, the Provincial Secretary, resign his seat in the Cabinet, if they could help it.

The member for Centre Grey had suggested that evidence could be compelled by a committee of the House, that could not be taken before a criminal court. Why should the Provincial Secretary be accorded less privileges than a man on trial in a criminal court? (Government applause.)

In submitting this present matter to a commission, there would be all the advantage of taking the evidence before a judicial tribunal that was able to deal with the matter, and afterwards the House could deal with it as it saw fit.

The Opposition had said that the accused had named his own tribunal. This was not true. Certain judges were to be appointed by the Crown, and would be subject in no way to this Government. In closing he quoted Conservative authorities in favor of commission, as he told the members of the Opposition that they were invited, if they had anything to say or any charges to make, to do so now, so that they could proceed at the earliest possible moment with the proper business of the House.

Mr. Downey Sarcastic.

Mr. J. P. Downey (South Wellington), who followed, opened his remarks by stating that the gravity of the situation was his only excuse for craving the indulgence of the House. He expressed admiration for the spectacle presented by the Attorney-General in his recent speech. He had been astonished at what he termed the vehemence of the leader of the Opposition. In some respects the condemnation was merited. How dare the leader of the Opposition refuse to re-echo the glowing tribute to the loyalty and devotion, the honor and integrity of the hon. gentlemen opposite? How dare he not pass out a certificate of character to everyone charged with these terrible crimes? How dare he refuse to re-echo the glorious tributes of the mover and seconder of the address? Our blessings were said to be due to Providence and the Liberal Government. He was surprised that Providence was mentioned first. (Laughter.)

Mr. T. H. Preston moved that the debate be adjourned.

WHAT B. N. A. SAYS.

Mr. W. F. Maclean Arguing Under a Misapprehension.

THE ANSWER OF THE PREMIER

Appointment of Lieutenant-Governors of Provinces Is Made During Pleasure—Sir Oliver Mowat Mentally Vigorous and Entrenched in the Affections of the People—Old Cry of "Mowat Must Go."

Ottawa, March 18. — Yesterday's session of the House lasted only one hour, as the Opposition members were not prepared to discuss the estimates.

Mr. Law (Yarmouth, N.S.) introduced a bill to amend the Canada temperance act.

Mr. Clancy introduced a bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act, 1900.

Mr. Scott introduced a bill to amend the railway act.

Sir William Mulock introduced a bill to aid in the settlement of railway labor disputes.

The Lieutenant-Governorship.

Mr. W. F. Maclean, on House going into supply, said: "On this motion to go into supply, I propose to call the attention of the House and the country to a grave condition of affairs that exists in my own Province, that of Ontario. A political crisis exists there to-day that is attracting the attention of all the people of Canada. Certain circumstances have been made public which reflect on the moral tone of that Province, which reflect on the political tone of that Province, and I say a crisis has arrived, in which the honor of the Province is involved, in which the honor of politicians is involved, and everyone must be concerned in the settlement of that crisis.

"At the present moment, the Lieut.-Governor of that Province has exceeded his term. He was appointed about Nov., 1897; his five years, consequently, are up, and he is holding office, I think, very improperly. Not only is he holding office after his term is expired, but his condition of health, I believe, is such that he was unable to open the Legislature last week, and it had to be opened by a commissioner.

"After what transpired not long ago in connection with this affair, I think it is my duty now to call the attention of the House to this condition of affairs in Ontario, and also to call the attention of the House to the record of the hon. gentleman opposite in regard to that question.

"On a motion to go into Committee of Supply, in the year 1895, I find that Mr. Mills, Bothwell, submitted a resolution against this practice, and supported his motion by argument, in the course of which Mr. Mills said:

"Now, I say that this is a highly objectionable condition of things. If it is proper during the five years that the commission is in existence that the Lieutenant-Governor should not be removed without adequate cause being assigned, and without that cause being reported to both Houses of Parliament, it is obviously improper that the Lieutenant-Governor should continue to hold office after that period has expired.

"If the Government desire that the Lieutenant-Governor shall hold office for a longer period than five years they should issue to him a new commission, they should put him beyond their power for any subsequent period, just precisely as he was beyond their power of removal for the period for which he was appointed in the first instance.

"What is the object of the provision of the law? The object is to make the Lieutenant-Governor independent of the Government here, and solely subject to the advice which his constitutional advisers may think proper to give him."

The member for East York then quoted from speeches made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, D'Alton McCarthy and Sir Richard Cartwright in that debate.

Mr. Maclean continuing, said: "The vote was taken. Among those who voted in favor of Mr. Mills' motion were Messrs. Borden, Cartwright, Charlton, Laurier, Mulock and Sutherland. Mr. Speaker I intend to hold these gentlemen to their vote on that occasion. They laid down a certain doctrine in regard to the Lieutenant-Governor, yet now that they are in power and the terms of office of their first batch of Lieutenant-Governors are running out, we find those gentlemen still continuing in their places as Lieutenant-Governors under conditions which these gentlemen on a motion of want of confidence in this House were disgraced. Now, what does the right hon. gentleman (Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier) intend to say?

"I am not here to say anything

SETTLERS ARE POURING IN.

A Very Heavy Movement From Wisconsin.

Mr. T. O. Currie, the Canadian Commissioner, Reports that Railways Will be Taxed to the Utmost to Accommodate the Coming Multitudes.

Milwaukee, March 16.—The excursion season to the Canadian northwest is on in full force, and the number of most desirable people going there to locate is far in excess of anything anticipated by the most sanguine. The movement from Wisconsin is very heavy, and is largely made up of the best class of well-to-do farmers, with large and grown-up families, numbering six to ten members, all taking ample means and full supplies of farming and household effects.

The Canadian commissioner here, T. O. Currie, has visited many points in this State during the last ten days, and reports much enthusiasm and extensive preparations making for coming excursions.

There is little doubt that railways entering the northwest will be taxed to the utmost limit to handle the business during April. Mr. Currie's records show certificates issued to 33 persons to-day, all anxious to go as early as possible. This is only an average day's issuing of certificates in his office. The calls for literature were never half so numerous as during the last two months. The work of peopling the Canadian northwest with a most desirable class of settlers is going on beyond all precedent.

LIVE LAKEFIELD.

Public School Closed While Rooms Were Disinfected.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. Fred Davidson, who is back from the west on a visit to his mother in Smith, was in the village on Tuesday renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Davidson, who is ranching in the west has been very successful. On his return, in the course of a couple of weeks, Mr. Davidson will take 500 head of cattle with him.

At a special meeting of the Lakefield Public School Board on Tuesday last, it was decided to close down the school for a time for the purpose of disinfecting the rooms.

On Thursday and Friday the scholars had a holiday, and the school was thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

On the eve of the departure from the village of Mr. William Stabler, who has secured a position with the Grand Trunk at Bracebridge, the friends of Mr. Stabler gave a banquet in his honour at the Craig House. During the evening an address was read by Mr. David Edwards, after which Mr. F. Gray presented him with a ring as a token of the good fellowship which existed towards their companion, who was about to depart from the village.

The citizens of Lakefield are looking forward with some interest to the extension of the proposed automobile system between Peterborough and Lakefield, as the merchants feel that it would be a great convenience to their Peterborough friends should they wish to take advantage of the bargains offered to the purchasing public by the Lakefield merchants.

Mr. Alfred Mitchell, who has been employed by Mr. Bates in his grocery business here, left on Saturday last for Spokane, Michigan.

The recent drop in Dominion Steel must have caused quite a shock, as its effects were felt as far back as Lakefield.

NEGLECT OF THE CHILDREN.

Topic at Lenten Service in Toronto.

Canon Welch Says Home is the Training Ground for Citizens—Parents Should Rule and Children Obey.

Toronto Telegram.

At the daily Lenten service in the St. James Cathedral Canon Welch spoke to-day on the home life of Christ at Nazareth.

The influence of the home, the speaker said, was not possible to over-estimate. It was the foundation of society, and the welfare of the country depended altogether upon the homes within it. If the homes were not right a country could not hope to stand.

The first thing to be noted in regard to Christ's home life was that Joseph and Mary, his guardians according to nature, exercised authority. Jesus was subject to this, and that implied that they directed his conduct.

Of recent years a change has been universally observed in the character of home life, and there was the lack of authority on the part of parents. This was largely due to parents themselves. Many were indulgent, allowing their children to do what they chose; other parents were selfish, and interested too much in their own pleasures to have a true regard for their children's welfare.

Parents sometimes were also too deeply engrossed in their worldly occupations or the claims of society had too great a hold on them, and hence they neglected their children.

But from their earliest days children should be prayerfully and lovingly trained. No efforts should be spared by parents to bring up their children in righteousness and fear of God. That was the parent's obligation—the obligation for which they would have to answer to God.

The second point to be noted was that Christ was obedient. At home Christ laid the foundation of his infinite all-embracing love for all mankind; and so by casting aside self-assertiveness and yielding to parents, seeking to serve them and fulfil the ministries of the home, and the youth of to-day would grow up strong in the duties required for the larger the outside—the duties to society, to the state, and to the church of the living God.

COMPANY HAS BAD LUCK.

Trouble at Dam and Breaking of an Engine Interferes With Light and Power.

The Trenton Electric Company seem to have at present more than their share of ill luck. A few days ago the high water and ice in the Trent river shoved the large pier at the entrance of the flume at their power house seven feet down the river and allowed the stop logs to fall out and divert the water from the flume. The light and power in the city were supplied by the Belleville plant. On Saturday evening the engine broke down and the city had to fall back to gas for illuminating purposes.

A large staff of men have been employed at Trenton fixing the break and it is expected that there will be plenty of electricity in the city to-morrow for both lighting and power purposes.

ABOUT SOME IRISH HEROES.

Sons of Erin Who Have Distinguished Themselves on Sea and Land.

From the very nature of him, an Irishman is a fighter, and therefore it is not to be wondered at that the military and naval history of Great Britain is full of the glorious deeds and high services of the sons of the Emerald Isle. It is a noteworthy fact that so many of the bravest soldiers and most noted generals have been Irishmen.

The acknowledged premier of all England's generals, alive or dead, was a native of the county of Meath, Ireland. His name was Arthur Wellesley, First Duke of Wellington. He was the third son of the Earl of Mornington, an Irish nobleman chiefly remembered for his musical tastes and as the author of the popular glees, "Here in Cool Grot." His mother was a daughter of Lord Dungannon. He was born in March, 1769. From his youth he was destined for army, and in March, 1787, being then eighteen years of age, he was gazetted to an ensigney in the 73rd Regiment. In those days of purchase and patronage promotion was rapid for a youth of the social rank of Arthur Wellesley, and so when in 1794, he first smelt powder burnt in anger, he had risen to become Lieut.-Col. of the 33rd Foot, and had already sat in the Irish Parliament for three years. Wellesley had gained a reputation as a gallant and promising officer when in 1796 he sailed for India with his regiment. Here he won fresh laurels, taking part in the celebrated capture of Seringapatam. In later operations against Dhoondia, Waugh and the Mahrattas he but added to his reputation, returning to England in 1805 as a Major-General. It was the rise of the great Napoleon Bonaparte, however, that really brought the then Sir Arthur Wellesley into public notice. The story of his splendid services in the Peninsula is too well known to need dilating upon. He was raised to the peerage in 1809 after the glorious victory of Talavera. His famous defense of the capital of Portugal behind the lines of Torres Vedras followed and the long-drawn out campaign which ended in the banishment of Napoleon. One of the best known portions of English history is the subsequent escape of Bonaparte, and his last crushing defeat by the great Iron Duke at Waterloo. The Duke's military life ended in 1815, but for many years thereafter he took a prominent part in politics, being one of the first statesmen of the reign of Queen Victoria. He died September 14, 1852, mourned by the whole nation.

Columns could be filled with the biographies of other great Irishmen in England's military history. To-day there is one in particular who occupies the public eye as none has done since the days of the Iron Duke. Field Marshall Lord Roberts, of Kandahar and Waterford, was an Irishman, the family home being at Waterford, "Bobs" himself being born at Cawnpore in India, on September 30, 1832. He was the son of Gen. Sir Abraham Roberts, G.C.B., his mother being a daughter of Major Abraham Bunbury, 62nd Foot, Kilcoole Co., Tipperary.

His glorious services to the Empire are the pride of every Briton, and Irishmen feel a tightening of the heart strings to think that the hero is a native of the Emerald Isle. To give some idea of the war record of "Little Bobs," the following is taken from an English Gazette:

"D.A.Q.M.G., throughout Indian mutiny; H.Q.M.G. (Bengal), 1862-63; 1st A.Q.M.G., 1869-1872; D.Q.M.G., 1872-75; Q. M. G., in India 1875-78; commanded Kuram Field Force, Nov. 1878-Sept., 1879; commanded Kabul Field Force, Sept. 1879-April, 1880; commanded Kabul-Kandahar Field Force, Aug.-Sept., 1880; commanded in Southern Afghanistan, Sept.-Oct. 1880; Commander in Chief, (Madras), Nov., 1881-Aug. 1885; Commander in Chief in India; Nov. 1885-April, 1893; Commander of the forces in Ireland, 1 Oct., 1895; served throughout siege and capture of Delhi, (wounded, 14 July, horse shot, 14 Sept., 1857); actions of Bulund-shahr (horse shot); Aligarh, Ayra, Kanauj (horse wounded), and Bantharra; throughout operations connected with relief of Lucknow; Battle of Cawnpore, resulting in defeat of Gwalior contingent; action of Khudaganj, reoccupation of Fategarh; storming of Miaganj; operations connected with seige of Lucknow; storming of Laloo; capture of Umbeyla and destruction of Malka; Abyssinian expedition, 1867-68; Lushai expedition, 1871-72; capture of Kholoo villages and attack on Mustlang range; commanded Kuram field force at capture of Peiwar Kotal; reconnaissance to summit of the Shutaargarden Pass; attack by Mongala in Separi Pass; occupation of Khost and reconnaissance up Kuram river; commanded Kabul field force at battle of Charasia; capture of city of Kabul and throughout operations in and around Serpur, between 8th and 24th December, 1879; commander Kabul-Kandahar field force, specially detailed to proceed from Kabul to relief of Kandahar, and Southern Afghanistan field force at battle of Kandahar on 1st Sept., 1880; commanded army, Burma, 1886; mutiny medal with clasps for Delhi, relief of Lucknow and seige of Lucknow; Indian Frontier medals, with clasps for Umbeyla, Lushai and Burma; Abyssinian medal; Afghan war medal, with clasps for Peiwar Kotal, Charasia, Sharpur and Kandahar; Kabul-Kandahar bronze star; received thanks of both Houses of Parliament, 4 Aug., 1879, and 5 May, 1881; thanked on several occasions by Government of India, and mentioned 23 times in despatches before the campaign in Afghanistan; Commander of the forces in Ireland, 1895-1900; Commander-in-Chief, South Africa, 1899-1900; relieved Kimberley, Feb., 1900; took Commandant Cronje and the Western Army prisoners, 27 Feb., 1900."

How's that for an Irishman's record?

Another well known Irishman is General Sir George Stewart White, V. C., G.C.V.E., the defender of Ladysmith. Sir George was born July 6, 1835, at Whitehall, Co. Antrim, Ireland, being a son of J. R. White, Esq. He entered the army in 1853 and took part in many of Lord Roberts' later battles in India. In 1881 he was made Lieut.-Col. of the Gordon Highlanders, "The Gallant Gay Gordons." He took part in the Nile expedition of 1884-5, but his chief claim to fame was as commander of the brave garrison of Ladysmith, in those fateful 119 days from Nov. 2, 1899, to March 1, 1900, when "Ever upon the topmost roof,

The banner of England flaw."

though thousands upon thousands of Boers thundered at the gates.

Sir George is now Governor of Gibralter.

"Commanded 'Condor,' bombardment Alexandria, 1882 (medal with clasp, bronze star, 3rd class Medjidieh, and specially mentioned in despatches for gallantry); landed at Alexandria after bombardment and instituted regular police system; served on Lord Wolseley's staff, Nile expedition, 1884-85; and subsequently in command of naval brigade at battles of Abu Klea, Abu Kru and Mo'temmeh (mentioned for gallantry); in command of expedition which rescued Sir Charles Wilson's party in "Sofia" when boiler was repaired under fire; specially mentioned in despatches for gallantry, and in speeches in both Houses, in the vote of thanks for operations in the Soudan; a Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty, 1886; resigned 1888 on question of the strength of the fleet; while Captain of Undaunted, rendered assistance on the occasion of the grounding of the 'Seignalay,' for which received thanks of French Government; in command of steam reserve at Chatham, 1893-96; visited China on special mission at request of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Great Britain, 1896-1899. Three medals for saving life."

Two Men Killed and Five Injured at Islington.

FREIGHTS COLLIDE HEAD-ON.

Operator's Error Said to Be the Cause of the Smash-Up of the Beef Train—Victims Inhaled Escaping Steam, Burning Their Throats and Lungs—Narrow Escape of Two Men For the West.

Toronto, March 18.—Two men dead, a third very badly burned and scalded, and three others slightly injured, eight freight cars with their contents destroyed, and two engines wrecked, are the results of a head-on collision yesterday morning on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway about a quarter of a mile this side of Islington, a small station nine miles west of Toronto.

The Dead.

David Taylor, brakeman, 22 years of age, unmarried, lives in London, Ont.

Chas. Winger, fireman, 25 years of age, married two weeks ago, lives in Windsor, Ont.

The Injured.

Wm. Morrison, engineer, 34 years of age, married, living in West Toronto Junction, badly scalded about the hands and face, and suffering from shock; will probably recover.

George Grimes, brakeman, London, Ont., severely scalded.

George Jackson, conductor west bound train, severe scalds on body.

W. P. Rowan, fireman, Toronto Junction, sprained shoulder.

William Telford, engineer, Toronto Junction, ligiments of leg severely sprained.

Cause of the Smash-Up.

According to an official of the company, a youthful operator's carelessness is responsible for the collision. E. Pennell, the operator in charge of the station at Cooksville, is said to have let a fast freight train go by without delivering an order to have it meet the approaching train with which it collided. The operator had been two weeks with the company, four days of it at Cooksville.

The collision occurred at 6.30 yesterday morning, and was between the Teeswater freight extra, running west, and a Windsor freight eastbound, No. 52, known as the beef train. The Teeswater freight had just crossed the high Humber bridge, when the two trains crashed together. Both engines were almost completely demolished, and six loaded freight cars of the eastbound train were destroyed, besides several other cars being more or less damaged. The force of the impact piled the cars in a heap, tore up the track, and completely blocked the main line of the railroad.

Horrible Burns and Scalds.

The crew of the engine on the beef train crew all horribly burned and scalded. They were caught underneath the wreck, and inhaled the escaping steam, burning their throats and lungs and scalding them about the body. Auxiliary trains were sent to the scene of the disaster from Toronto Junction and London, and a train was made up to bring the injured men to Toronto Junction, from where they were taken to St. Michael's Hospital about 9 o'clock in the morning. Chas. Winger, the fireman, lived only ten minutes after his arrival at the hospital, and Joseph Taylor, the brakeman, died half an hour after his admission.

Narrow Escape of Two Men.

Fred and Henry Connor of Hyde Park, near London, Ont., were on their way to Deloraine, Man. They had 8 horses and 2 head of cattle, which escaped with a few bruises, and were turned into a field nearby. Both men had narrow escapes. They were sleeping in a car with settler's effects when the collision occurred, and were tossed out of their bunks amidst the boxes and bales below. Their loss was principally farm effects. Other merchandise in the wreck consisted of curtain poles, wire, candles, biscuits, webs of cloth, bottles of ammonia by the dozen, straw hats, felt hats, etc. The mixture of articles vie with a car load of barley for supremacy of the ditch. The barley was scattered everywhere.

Official Statement.

The following official statement was given out from General Superintendent Timmerman's office, at the Union Station:

"At 6.30 yesterday morning a Teeswater way freight extra, Engine 263 and Train No. 252, Engine 456, collided about a quarter of a mile on the east side of Islington. Cause not yet determined. Five of train crew injured. Three brought to St. Michael's Hospital, where two have since died, the two being Brakeman D. Taylor of Toronto Junction, and C. Winger of London. The other persons brought to the hospital were Engineer Morrison, who was not seriously injured; Conductor Jackson, and Brakeman Grimes, slightly injured. Two engines and six cars were badly wrecked."

Coroner Crawford opened an inquest at 8 o'clock last evening at St. Michael's Hospital on the bodies of Charles Winger and David Taylor.

Witness at Inquest Finally Says Divorce Proceedings Caused Crime.

Buffalo, March 18.—The name of Arthur R. Pennell, who was named as co-respondent in the Burdick divorce proceedings, and who met a terrible death in Gehre's stone quarry two weeks after Edwin L. Burdick was murdered, constantly came to the surface in the inquest before Judge Murphy yesterday.

WHAT B. N. A. SAYS.

against the character of Sir Oliver Mowat. I respect his character, as I do that of any other man. He has a great record; and I am not here to throw dirt upon it in any sense. But I am here to say something for the people of this country, and for my own constituents and to demand the vindication of the constitution."

Mr. Maclean, continuing, said he was not there to be insulted, as he was well within his rights, and "they must either give Sir Oliver Mowat another term of office, or they must appoint his successor." He said that the lust for power in the Liberal party was something alarming, and, in conclusion, he called upon the Prime Minister to tell the House that he intended to put a stop to the condition of things in this connection that existed in the Province of Ontario at the present moment.

Sir Wilfrid Replies.

Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "The member for East York has spoken with a great deal of vehemence on this question. He has spoken of the outrage that has been committed upon our constitution. I do not know that I shall do an injury to my hon. friend, or not. If I do, I beg in advance to apologize; but I do not believe that my hon. friend has read the clause of the constitution which provides for the appointment of Lieutenant-Governors; because, if he had read that clause of the constitution he would have spoken differently than he has spoken. Allow me, therefore, to call the attention of my hon. friend to this clause in the constitution, which, I am sure, if he has read it, he has forgotten it. Clause 59 of the constitution is as follows: 'A Lieutenant-Governor shall hold office during the pleasure of the Governor-General, but any Lieutenant-Governor appointed after the commencement of the first session of the Parliament of Canada, shall not be removable within five years from his appointment, except for cause assigned, which shall be communicated to him in writing.'

"You see, therefore, that within five years, he cannot be removed except for cause, but the moment five years have expired he can be removed at the pleasure of the Governor-General. That is all the difference in the world. But what we called attention to in 1895 was a very different condition of things than that which now exists in the Province of Ontario. In 1895 we called the attention of the House to the fact that some Lieutenant-Governors, for one of them, Mr. Schultz, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba; for another, Sir Leonard Tilley, Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, had been allowed to remain for days, not for months, but for years, after the expiration of the supposed term for which they had been appointed. In the case of Sir John Schultz, he had been allowed to remain in office for two years, and in the case of Sir Leonard Tilley, he had been allowed in office for a longer period, and we thought under those circumstances it was quite justifiable and proper that new power should be exercised, and that the Lieutenant-Governors should be apointed under a new commission.

"But, I call upon my honorable friend to show me a case in the long history of Confederation, in the thirty-five years during which it boasted, where the Lieutenant-Governor has been removed from office immediately at the expiration of five years, during which he has been occupying that position. Such a case is not in existence. It has never been considered to be according to the courtesy due to the office that the incumbent of the office should be removed the moment the five years, during which he has occupied the position, has expired. On the contrary, we have granted, as a rule, to all incumbents of this office some little time before naming their successors."

"Sir Oliver Mowat was removable when the day expired; the day expired in November—November December, January, February. Yet we are told that we must appoint a successor to fill the position; that because the Lieutenant-Governor has been four months in office, an old venerable man, as Sir Oliver Mowat is, immediately as soon as his term of five years has expired that we must apply the axe and remove him and put some one else in his place.

"If Sir Oliver Mowat had not discharged the duties of the office with satisfaction to everybody there might be some cause which would justify the honorable gentleman in making this demand, but the hon. gentleman does not base his case on the fact that Sir Oliver Mowat has now come to the time in which he may be removed without cause, but he states that Sir Oliver Mowat is not fit to occupy the position which he occupies. Why is he not fit? Has anything been said in the press, in Parliament, or any where else against the mental capacity of Sir Oliver Mowat? Not a word has been said against that. It is known and acknowledged that his mental faculties are bright and keen, although Sir Oliver Mowat is not physically as strong as he was at one time. He is not as young as he was at one time, and we all deplore that fact, but I say again that no insinuation can be thrown against Sir Oliver Mowat, and if Sir Oliver Mowat were physically incapable of administrating the office he has too high a sense of honor to occupy the position one day more than he felt himself able to discharge the duties attaching to it.

"But if he is occupying the position to-day it is because he thinks he can fulfil admirably the duties which he has in charge. Moreover, it is true, as has been said by my honorable friend, that there is a crisis in the Province of Ontario, an important crisis, in which the honor or the life of a Government is at stake.

"I ask the hon. gentleman opposite is this the time, is this the moment, when a grave crisis is in the Province of Ontario to remove from the helm a man of such experience, of such knowledge, of such unimpeachable honor as Sir Oliver Mowat. If we were to remove Sir Oliver Mowat in the middle of such a crisis I think we would be committing a grave crime against the Province of Ontario. If we were to take away at this moment the firm and experienced hand that is at the helm of power in the Province of Ontario today I believe the Conservative party themselves would protest against such a course, and at all events it seems to me that it would be only the part, not only of courtesy, but also of duty for the honorable gentleman to wait until that crisis is over before he calls upon us to remove Sir Oliver Mowat from the position which he occupies and adorns.

"We are familiar with the facts, we remember them long ago, and this is only another repetition of the cry which we have been familiar with for twenty years that 'Mowat must go.' The province would resent it if we followed such an action, which I can tell my hon. friend we shall not follow."

Dr. Sproule and Mr. Northrup followed, and the House adjourned.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This preparation is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza and has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world.

It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take.

It not only cures colds and influenza, (grip) but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia.

It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

He Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakirs, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling barbwire.

A CANOE CLUB

Organized at a Meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

Evidences seem to indicate that canoeing will be greatly indulged in during the coming season. Considering the fact that there are two or three canoe factories in Peterborough, and that the expanse of canoeing water is considerable, there is no reason whatever why such a pleasant summer sport as canoeing should not be encouraged by many who have the opportunity, but who have hitherto not exerted themselves in this line.

With this end in view a meeting of canoeing enthusiasts was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlours. Mr. J. H. Connal was in the chair. The election of officers for the Canoe Club took place and resulted as follows:—

Commodore—Mr. Bert Stock.
Vice-Commodore—Mr. N. Bell.
Secretary—Mr. Fred Roy.
Assistant Secretary and Treasurer—Mr. C. Whiten.

The following were elected to act as a Committee of Management — Messrs. R. Dobbin, W. Ackerman and C. Bloomfield.

Owing to the other various attractions last night, it is certain, that although the meeting was well attended there were many who were unable to be present. Should any of these wish to join the club, the necessary information will be willingly given by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Fred Roy.

An event of great social interest as well as historical importance happened in Ottawa when the house was opened aith the usual quaint ceremony and pomp for which it is noted. A brilliant assemblage of beautiful women, sumptuously gowned, crowded the floor of the senate chamber. A larger or more brilliant opening has not taken place for years, so said everyone who saw it. The deep crimson upholstering of the senate chamber fromed a rich background for the numerous, handsome and beautifully gowned women who occupied seats on the floor of the house. In mentioning those who were in attendance at the opening, the Ottawa Citizen says:—Miss Madeleine McGill, Peterborough—Gown of ivory white duchesse satin with bertha of Brussels lace, pearl passementerie on the bodice, chiffon ruffles on the skirt.

A satisfactory celebration of St. Patrick's Day, culminated in a brilliant manner by the splendid presentation in the opera house last night, of the stirring Irish drama, "The Rose of Wicklow," by the Dramatic Section of St. Peter's T. A. Abstinence Society, and the success of this shows that this excellent Society is as capable of succeeding in "play" as well as 'work." The work done by the Society in pursuance of the real object of the organization, is well known to the public, and the results as shown yesterday in the way in which the day was observed — in the practical absence of the employment of strong drink as an element in the celebration of the national day — a feature unfortunately prominent in some other years, and even now associated with the observance of other holidays and festivals. The work of the Society has not only had a large and important result in this direction, but it has given rise to the development in the membership of intellectual and other qualities, bringing dormant talents into play, which contribute to the mental improvement of the members and the entertainment and delight of, especially, those more directly associated with the activities of the Society.

The extent to which the Society enjoys the sympathy, and commands the interest of the public, was shown by the large attendance at the opera house last night. Long before the hour for the curtain to rise, the house was packed in every part, so that seating had to be provided in the passages; even standing room was not available and large numbers had to be turned away. A feature of the decorations was one of the boxes, which was reserved for the T. A. S. Hockey Team, the champions of the Trent Valley League. The box was draped with the colours of the team—red and black — and decked with the flag on which the symbolic harp of Ireland was blent with the Union Jack, significant of the rapprochement which now seems to be obtaining.

A very effective special orchestra furnished the entr' acte music of a most creditable character. The orchestra was composed of, violin, Miss Lottie Bell, Keene; flute, Mr. John Butcher; cornet, Mr. John Miller; and piano, Miss Maggie Doherty, who was musical director, and she deserves special credit for the musical results of the evening. A particular word of praise is due Miss Doherty for the admirable taste and sympathy with which she performed the accompaniments to the many songs and choruses which brightened the play during the evening.

The play presented was "The Rose of Wicklow." The scene was laid in County Wicklow, in the stirring times of 1798, which naturally flavoured the action of the play—times, which it is hoped will never again find occasion or place in the history of Ireland. The title character "Rose Fitzgerald, 'The Rose of Wicklow,'" was well taken by Miss Fanny Holmes, who seemed to have a very just conception of the requirements of the role, supporting the character with a seemly dignity and naturalness of demeanour. The same generally applies to Miss Kate McGrath as Nano Desmond, sister of the outlawed patriot. Miss Lavina Hallihan, as Ileen O'Rourke, the "Shamrock" of Barney O'Brady, admirably aquitted herself. She made a charming colleen in her picturesque costume of the Irish peasant girl of the stage. The action of the play brought her into prominent association with her lover, a broth of a boy, "Barney O'Brady," to whom, as splendidly personified by Mr. George Lynch, fell the largest share of work. It argues no disparagement of the merits of the other performers to suggest that those two were among the best taken characters of the play, partly because the play itself brought them into prominence, but chiefly because of the spirit they infused into their personations. Mr. Lynch's role permitted him to be the life of the play and he used his opportunities to splendid advantage, acting like a seasoned comedian. Mr. S. Houlihan gave a very satisfactory impersonation of Jack Desmond, the dashing outlawed patriot. Mr. T. J. Begley in the double role of "Squire Fitzgerald" and "Lieut. Douglass," sustained these characters admirably and it would be difficult to say which he treated best. Mr. James O'Brien in "Shaun Carey, a spy," did his work well indeed, in a way natural to what one would expect from such a contemptible rascal.

Mr. F. Dercosher, as the villain of the play, "Captain Beck," made up and acted his part in an excellent manner ,and Mr. J. Henry, as "Sergeant Thornton," did well the limited work assigned him. The supernumerary characters, peasants and soldiers, were well personified. The costumes were elegant and correct, the stage settings very effective, and the play as a whole was presented in a most creditable manner. Mr. Geo. Lynch evidently introduced a great many "gags," and their success justified the innovation; for they kept the audience in a roar, suggestive of the roar of the numerous and frequent Irish bulls so adroitly introduced.

The supernumerary scene in the first act, improvised by the manager, Mr. T. J. Begley, introducing a great deal of singing and dancing, was a very effective addition to the play. Mr. Patrick Kane, though not in the caste, was the country fiddler to the life, and lent realism to the jig dancing of Mr. S. Houlihan, and the charming dancing duet, so to speak, performed by Miss Hallihan and Mr. Jas. Henry.

The special music consisted of solos, by Miss Lavina Hallihan and little Miss Nellie Hallihan, Mr. S. Houlihan, Mr. George Lynch and Mr. T. J. Begley. The singing of the Hallihan sisters was worthy of special commendation; that of the elder brought into evidence a voice of excellent quality and considerable taste in execution. The singing of little Nellie Hallihan was charming. In the touching new Irish song, "Will My Soul Pass Through Old Ireland?" she was warmly applauded, and had to respond to an encore.

NOTES.

During the first act Mr. George Lynch, "Barney O'Brady," was presented, on behalf of the T. A. S. Hockey Team, of which he is captain, beautiful bouquet of flowers.

The thanks of the Dramatic Section is due to ye Heintzman Piano Company for the use of a beautiful upright piano.

The Section also desires to thank the merchants who contributed properties for last night's production.

Mr. G. Lynch was the capable stage manager last evening and the stage settings certainly were a feature of the play, and added greatly to the success of the presentation.

A meeting of the Fortnighly Club will be held to-morrow night in the Y.M.C.A. building, when Professor McGregor Young of Toronto University, will give a lecture on the Monroe doctrine. The regular series of lectures of the club have been of late interrupted owing to the illness of the gentlemen who were on the last two occasions to give the addresses. There should be a large attendance at the coming lecture, as the friends of the club may be assured that there will be a rare treat in store for them.

Town Council Met in Session Last Night.

MORE DWELLINGS NEEDED.

Mayor Roger Drew Attention of the Council to This Fact.

Union With Ashburnham—Report of Committee of the Whole in Reference Thereto.

A special session of the town council of Peterborough was held last night, His Worship Mayor Roger, presiding. There were also in attendance Aldermen Jas. Edgcumbe, B. Shortly, M. A. Morrison, James Finnie, R. F. McWilliams, R. Clinkscale and John Corkery.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications were received and disposed of as follows:

From Arthur C. Mitchell, secretary of the Label Committee of the Trades and Labour Council, asking that the Printers' Union Label be placed on all town printing, as per resolution of the council of 1902, since the passing of which several forms had been printed without the label. Also asking that the Tailors' Union Label be sewn on each piece of the new summer suits to be furnished the police. —Received.

From a number of ratepayers, asking that a drain be constructed on Parnell street, and on Park street from Lake street to the boundary, to drain that section of the town, as those living in that district are greatly injured in health and otherwise by water in the cellars.—Board of Works.

From Harold Barrett, secretary of the Port Hope Canal Association, to the Mayor, stating that he had been instructed by his association to request that Mayor Roger call a meeting of the town council, and Board of Trade of Peterborough, and receive a deputation from the Port Hope Canal Association, who desire to lay before them their claims re the outlet of the Trent Canal, and the advantages which would accrue to the trade and commerce of Peterborough if the outlet is via Port Hope.

The council decided to call a meeting for Tuesday night next.

From D. W. Dumble, re assessment served Mrs. Dr. Fife for property for which she received no rent from its late tenant, and asking that the taxes be remitted, as has been customary under similar circumstances. —Referred to Court of Revision.

From Hampden Burnham, complaining that a blast at the Cereal Company's dam on the evening of March 12th shook his house, No. 527 Water street, so severely, that he is afraid of permanent injury to it, and saying that he would be obliged if the council requests the company to exercise a little more care in their blasting operations.—Received and a copy to be forwarded to the company.

From S. R. Armstrong, secretary treasurer Trent Waterway Association, asking that the town, together with other interested municipalities, again contribute to the funds of the association, which is urging a united effort to secure the whole remaining work on the Trent Canal being put under contract this year. An effort is also to be made to get the members of the Dominion Cabinet from this province to make a trip over the whole route at an early date, and this will entail considerable expense. —Received.

From E. G. Patterson, General Superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Company, as follows:—"We propose making additions to our plant this year in the shape of three buildings or more. One of these buildings will be located on the corner of Park street, and run on Townsend street 450 feet, and in order to utilize this building for the purposes for which it will be put there, it will be necessary for us to have Townsend street graded and macadamized the length of the building, and some arch or brickwork done crossing the sewer sufficient to carry heavy loads upon our lorries. Before proceeding with the building we will be glad to have this presented to the council, so that we may be sure that after we have erected the building we will be able to use it, and that the street will be improved as desired."—Received.

From Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, stating that they have been instructed to enter another action against the town for damages sustained by reason of the premises of Messrs. Ormond & Walsh being again flooded by surface water, owing to the causes which have been set forth in previous correspondence from time to time.—Legal Committee.

From H. P. Zimmerman of the C. P. R., saying that the construction of gates at the George street crossing has been authorized, and the work will be proceeded with at once.

LAST NIGHT'S IRISH AT HOME.

Excellent Programme at St. Andrew's Church.

Miss Geraldine Hastings Played the Harp—All Items on the Programme Were Encored.

A most excellent programme was provided by the Daughters of Erin at the Irish At Home, held in St. Andrew's church last night, a special feature of it being Miss Geraldine Hastings' beautiful playing of the Irish harp.

There was a very large attendance, and, what must have been pleasing to the management was the fact that the audience demanded an encore for every item on the programme.

The programme was opened by an address from Rev. J. G. Potter, who throughout the evening acted as as chairman, and called upon the different members to perform their allotted parts.

The next item on the programme was a harp solo given by Miss Hastings. The expression which this accomplished musician put into the instrumental solo was most inspiring and evoked enthusiastic applause. This was followed by an extremely humourous reading by Lt.-Col. J. W. Miller, which was greatly applauded. The next item on the programme was a vocal solo by Miss Florence Miller, which was rendered with remarkable tenderness and pathos and was most enthusiastically encored.

A very clever recitation entitled "How the Frenchman Entertained John Bull," was next given by Miss Aggie Paterson, with remarkable success.

Miss Hastings charmed the audience with another solo on the harp, which was as successful, if not more so, than had been the preceeding numbers. One of the most appreciated items on the programme was a recitation by Mrs. Dr. Morgan, entitled "A Darkey Sermon." This successful recitation was followed by a guitar solo by Mr. Petrie. The ninth item on the programme was a recitation by little Miss Hazel Pentland, for which the clever little elocutionist received a well merited encore.

Miss Hastings, in her previous beautiful and successful manner again changed the only too attentive ears of those present, with another selection on the harp.

Perhaps one of the most interesting and pretty items on the programme was a Fan Drill, which was executed by about a score of young girls. The youthful actresses gracefully performed many intricate figures and were the recipients of loud and continued applause. The programme was concluded by another excellent harp solo by Miss Geraldine Hastings, which was most suitable for a grand finale to such an excellent and greatly appreciated programme.

The very pleasant evening, which passed off without a hitch, mainly due to the efforts of Rev. Mr. Potter, was sociably brought to a close by the serving of refreshments to all present. This was done by several of the young ladies and gentlemen of St. Andrew's congregation.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,000,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

ARMOUR AND JETTE.

Canadian Commissioners of the Alaska Tribunal.

Ottawa, March 17.—Mr. Justice Armour of the Supreme Court of Canada, and his Honor Sir Louis Jette, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, were chosen yesterday as members of the Alaska tribunal. These two gentlemen, with Lord Alverstone, Chief Justice of England, will be the British jurists.

NEIGHBORS DID NOT KNOW HIM.

Valentine Fisher's Sciatica Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Could Hardly put one Foot to the Ground now he can Walk all day Without Trouble.

Collingwood, March 15. — (Special.) "Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new man of me," so speaks Valentine Fisher, well known in Collingwood and the surrounding country. "I was troubled with kidney disease for 13 years. It developed into Sciatica and located in my left side so that I was hardly able to walk, and could not do so without the aid of a cane. My back was also affected and altogether I was a cripple in the most painful sense of the word.

"And the worst of it all was I could get no relief. Doctors and medicines failed to do me any good until I was fortunate enough to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. The benefit was almost miraculous. My health came back and the change in my appearance was so great that some of my neighbours did not know me.

"Whereas before I could hardly put one foot to the ground and I had to use morphine to ease the pain, I was enabled to go to work selling fruit trees and walk all day without any trouble."

Sciatica and kindred diseases are caused by uric acid in the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills put the Kidneys in shape to take the uric acid out of the blood, and the Sciatica disappears.

Three Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, March 17.—News of a terrible tragedy comes from Huansa, the Icelandic settlement at Lake Winnipeg, some 40 miles north of Selkirk. On Saturday night the residence of Steffin Oddlifsson caught fire while the inmates were asleep. Oddlifsson escaped with his wife and two children, but returned to rescue two smaller children, and all three were burned to death. The wife is crazed with grief. Deceased was one of the most highly respected Icelanders in the district.

The Day of Miracles

is past but many who are cured of itching, bleeding or protruding piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, look upon their recovery as the next thing to miraculous. It is not uncommon for persons who have undergone painful, risky and expensive operations in vain, to be finally cured by this wonderful ointment. It is the standard the world over, and the only guaranteed cure for piles.

ESTIMATES BROUGHT DOWN

Seventy-One New War Ships For Great Britain—Twenty-One Obsolete Vessels Withdrawn During the Year—Many New Ones Being Built—Admiralty-Secretary Arnold-Foster's Explanations.

London, March 17. — Admiralty Secretary Arnold-Foster introduced the navy estimates for 1903-4, providing for an expenditure of $170,184,205, in the House of Commons yesterday. In the course of an explanatory statement, the Secretary remarked that the estimates were unparalleled in peace or war, and, as a private citizen, he could not help regretting the great competition and rivalry in the matter of naval armaments continued to make this enormous and unproductive expenditure necessary. After mentioning the various increases, the Secretary said the Admiralty proposes to complete this year six new battleships, 11 armored cruisers and one second-class cruiser, two sloops of war, four torpedo boat destroyers, eight torpedo boats and three submarine boats. He also asked the House to sanction the commencement of three battleships of a very formidable type, four first-class and three third-class cruisers, four very fast vessels to be used as scouts, 15 torpedo-boat destroyers and 10 submarine boats. The increase in the gun power of the ships, said the Secretary, is steadily progressing, while standardization is augmenting the efficiency of all the work. He incidentally mentioned that 21 obsolete vessels had been withdrawn during the years 1902-3, the largest number on record, and said that, on April 1, there will be under construction the enormous total of 71 ships, viz., 11 battleships, 19 armored cruisers, 2 second-class cruisers, 4 third-class cruisers, 4 scouts, 2 sloops, 18 torpedo boat destroyers, 8 torpedo boats and 8 submarine boats.

Cautious.

A lawyer happened to be acquainted with a juror in a petty civil case, and he met him during a recess of the court. The lawyer was just "lighting up," and under ordinary circumstances he would have offered the other a cigar unhesitatingly, but it occurred to him that it might not look right.

"I suppose," he said guardedly, "that a cigar would not influence your verdict?"

The juror was equally cautious.

"A good one wouldn't," he replied, "but a poor one might prejudice me."

He got a good cigar.

Poor Mamma.

The Dear Child—Oh, Mrs. Bloom, when did you get back?

Do You Look on the Dark Side?

Are You Blue, Discouraged Irritable and Depressed?—It may be Your Nerves are Exhausted and You Need

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Irritability and mental depression, sometimes amounting to melancholy and despondency, are marked symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

In the beginning you feel languid and tired, find it impossible to concentrate your thoughts. The tasks of the day are put off till the morrow, little things worry you, you forget your blessings and look on the dark side of things.

At times there may be nervous headaches, spells of dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness and general weakness of the body. You dread what the future may bring to you and feel the work and responsibilities of life more than you can bear.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"For some years I was troubled with indigestion which developed into nervous dyspepsia and besides suffering from nervousness, strange, dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed and as a result of its use I am quite restored to health."

The wonderful medicinal power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been demonstrated in thousands of cases. Gradually and certainly it creates new nerve cells, builds up the system, and overcomes the weakness which gives rise to nervous ailments and feelings of depression and despondency. New hopes, new confidence, new vitality are instilled into the body and health and strength take the place of disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

SWAMI SPRAGGE

...By Ewan MacPherson

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

"He's some sort of fakir or swami or occult duck. You'll find him at the Grand Circular. I got it privately."

That was what the city editor had said in giving him the assignment, and yet Wickham was not keen on it, for he had planned to happen to be near the ladies' entrance of quite a different hotel that afternoon at an hour when he had good reason to believe that Miss Olive Parker would be going in to get a cup of tea. He was not interested in wandering swamis.

Nevertheless he stuck to his assignment and was presently at the clerk's desk at the Grand Circular, trying to form a plan of interviewing a traveling swami of retiring disposition. The name on the register was in very matter of fact writing: "John Lyndon Spragge, Liverpool, England."

"Nothing mysterious about this fellow, I'll wager—common, everyday British drummer. And in ten minutes from now Olive will"—

Did Wickham say these thoughts aloud or only think them? Of that he never made sure. But a stocky man, dressed in tweeds, tapped him on the elbow from behind.

"Looking at my autograph, sir?"

Wickham started and turned. "Is this Mr. Spragge?"

The man in tweeds smiled pleasantly.

"I'm a reporter," said Wickham.

"So I thought."

"Then you have guessed what I want to see you about?" a fairly good diplomatic stroke, considering how hard it was for Wickham to keep his mind from wandering to the other hotel.

Mr. Spragge smiled oddly. "Oh, I don't know about 'guessed.' Suppose we go up to my room."

As they walked up one flight of carpeted stairs together he tried to guess Spragge's age, and that puzzled him. He studied the red and brown cheeks and neck, and they puzzled him, too, for he thought an occult person should look much less like an eater of thick beefsteaks.

"Is this your first visit to America?"

"Yes, but you didn't come here to ask me that."

Although this remark did not necessarily imply preternatural intuition, Wickham began to feel a little creepy.

"I suppose you—you travel for pleasure."

By this time they were entering the Englishman's room, on the second floor. "Yes," he said; "I do—that and other things." Then, closing the door behind him, he added, "And perhaps Spragge is not my only name."

Wickham gasped and turned to stare at him. "Are you a clairvoyant?"

"I might be, or I might be a mahatma or anything else that would interest your readers, and you might be a reporter for the Express if you were not in fact the representative of the Morning Star. What can I do in particular to oblige you at present?"

Wickham had forgotten all about Miss Parker. "Well—er—do you really possess these wonderful powers?"

"Which? Bilocation? Levitation? Perhaps."

"Then, if you don't mind, perhaps you might"—

The stocky man broke in with a gleeful laugh, throwing his head back in the chair. "If you should see me, for instance, float up to the ceiling, chair and all, what good would that do?"

"I thought you occultists wanted to convince the public."

"And you are one of the public's pairs of eyes? But if I did give you an exhibition like that'— Spragge stopped tantalizingly and looked at the reporter.

Wickham sat on the very edge of his chair in breathless expectation of something miraculous.

"If I did anything of that kind, you'd have two columns about it in the Morning Star, wouldn't you?"

"I should think so," said Wickham, relaxing into a more comfortable attitude.

The Englishman laughed again. "Well, perhaps your editor might let it get into print, but much more likely he would say you were drunk."

There was a pause, Wickham turning over in his mind the probabilities of this hypothetical case. If a reporter was to be accused of seeing double when he reported this kind of thing, what was the use of sending him to interview a magician? He began to think he had better let the interview go at that. Then he remembered Olive Parker again and nervously pulled out his watch.

At this the other man smiled and shook his head. "I'm afraid you're too late. Besides, the young lady has changed her mind and gone to a friend's house."

Wickham's jaw dropped, and the stare in which his face was set was as of one who saw a specter.

That evening the city editor cross examined Wickham, for the city editor was confident there was good news matter in this swami affair.

"You say he admits that Spragge isn't his real name?"

"Yes, in a sort of way."

"Well, what is his real name?"

"He didn't tell me that. He's a magician all right. He knew I was looking at his name in the hotel register when my back was turned to him."

"H'm! Is that all?"

"He knew I was a Star man without my telling him."

"Wickham, if you think it would take a mahatma to find that out—What else?"

Wickham turned red and stammered. It was borne in upon him that the final proof of Spragge's preternatural powers was much too delicately personal to be mentioned to the city editor. As for putting it into print, that was unthinkable.

The city editor sighed in weary disappointment, looked all around the room and sniffed.

Wickham went to his desk feeling that all his rosy prospects of journalistic advancement were fading; but when he reached his desk, behold, a square envelope of a delicate gray green tint! He opened it and read:

Dear Mr. Wickham—Just home from Mrs. Cowley's reception, where Alex would have me with her, and I didn't care to say what in particular urged me to shop just this afternoon.

At Mrs. C.'s something turned up that may make a good item for you. She and a lot of them are theosophists, and it seems there is a man here who gives himself out to be an English swami. But those Boer relief committee women got private warning that this Spragge is the same English detective who was watching them at Philadelphia. He is an old Indian scout service man like you read about. Two of the B. R. C. saw him on the steamboat last night. They teased me about him, because they said he was watching us and taking you to be a recruit I was enlisting for the Boers. At Philadelphia the first thing he did was to find out all he could about newspaper men, gave his name as Southgate and let them think he was some lord in disguise looking for chances to invest money.

Can't you make something of this for the paper? He is at the Grand Circular, I think. Cordially, O. P.

P. S.—This goes by special messenger.

Wickham thought he could, and he lost no time in saying so to the city editor. And that was how it came to pass that next morning the Star had an exclusive story of Mr. Spragge—how Mr. Spragge, who had ostensibly arrived in the city the day before and registered at the Grand Circular, had really spent two days quietly at an obscure boarding house learning all he could about things not obviously his business; how he had played much the same game in at least two other big cities, all to make sure that the Boer relief committees were not shipping contrabands to the seat of war.

It was a great thing for Wickham's journalistic prospects, that story, but it hurt Spragge's career.

The Planet Mercury.

Though Mercury is one of the smallest of the planets, it is perhaps the most troublesome to the astronomer. It lies so close to the sun that it is seen but seldom in comparison with the other great planets. Its orbit is very eccentric, and it experiences disturbances by the attraction of other bodies in a way not yet fully understood. A special difficulty has also been found in the attempt to place Mercury in the weighing scales. We can weigh the whole earth, we can weigh the sun, the moon and even Jupiter and other planets, but Mercury presents difficulties of a peculiar character. Le Verrier, however, succeeded in devising a method of weighing it.

He demonstrated that our earth is attracted by this planet, and he showed how the amount of attraction may be disclosed by observations of the sun, so that from an examination of the observations he made an approximate determination of the mass of Mercury. Le Verrier's result indicated that the weight of the planet was about the fifteenth part of the weight of the earth. In other words, if our earth was placed in a balance and fifteen globes, each equal to Mercury, were laid in the other the scales would hang evenly.—"Story of the Heavens."

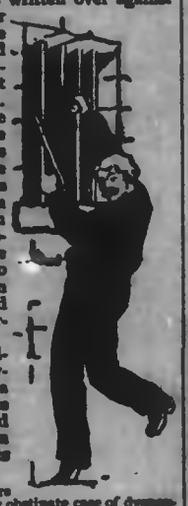
THE PRISONER

Who escapes from jail is by no means free. He is under the ban of the law and punishment is written over against his name. Soon or late he will be caught again and bear added punishment for his short escape from his cell.



Those who by the use of palliative powders and tablets escape for a time from the sufferings of dyspepsia are in the same condition as the escaped prisoner. Soon or late they will go back to the old condition and pay an added penalty for temporary release.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Its cures are lasting.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. H. Secord, Esq., of 15 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep or follow my occupation (tinsmith). Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

THE CITY OF MEKINEZ.

One of the Royal Residences of the Sultan of Morocco.

There is no more interesting city in Morocco than Mekinez. Founded and built by Mulai Ismain, the tyrannical sultan who reigned through the middle of the eighteenth century, it still displays the extraordinary buildings which he caused to be erected, largely by the aid of Christian slaves. Today it is impossible even to guess the purposes for which many of these masses of masonry were constructed. Walls of great thickness, some wide enough to drive a carriage and pair along, are met with in the most unexpected places, running here parallel, here at right angles to one another, and seeming as though built for no purpose except for the employment of the vast number of forced laborers that Mulai Ismain always kept at his court. Here and there are gateways of great beauty, such as the delicate tiled gate of "Mansur el-Alj," with its large marble columns and Corinthian capitals, supporting buttress of gray stone and arabesques, but on the whole it is rather the vastness of the buildings than any artistic value that is remarkable.

The old palaces of Mulai Ismain are in ruins today, and each sultan in his turn has erected new residences till the imperial palace today consists of a collection of buildings of every shape and size, scattered among gardens inclosed by high walls. A tower, which was uncompleted at the time of the late sultan's death, remains today just as the workmen left it, with the scaffolding still standing. Adjoining the palace is a large park, in which are kept a number of mares, ostriches and gazelles.

The city itself is tolerably clean, and possesses no particular features that are not common to all Moorish towns. The entrance of the principal mosque is striking, with great bronze doors said to have been brought by the Moors from Spain. The shops are comparatively few, and the trade never large.—London Times.

An Answer For Gough.

John B. Gough, the famous temperance writer, was once in a New England town lecturing and after painting the tavern as a place of contamination even for the abstainer asked:

"Don't you all agree with me, friends, that there is no place a man should go and of which he should tell his mother and sisters unless he might take them too there? Should there be any such place?"

"Oh, y-e-s!" came drawlingly from a rear seat.

The audience was aroused from its spell of admiration for the orator and turned to look at the voice in the rear. Gough smiled as though he thought no discussion possible and blandly asked:

"Where, friend, would you go telling mother and sisters, but refusing to take them?"

"The barber's," was the laconic reply.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

Liverpool, March 18. — Wheat futures quiet, May and July 1-8 higher, corn quiet 1-8 higher.

New York, March 18. — Some further improvement in the stock market is forecast by the conditions this morning There are too many pessimists in the street and the short interest is large. Money continues to slowly grow easier. Ann., smelting, B.O., Atc., Erie seconds, So. Pa. and L.N. are stocks to bull. Take moderate profits. The market is purely professional and subject to quick changes. London early market for Americans irregular.

TOPICS.

New York, March 18. — Long time money is offered in abundance at 3 1-2 p.c. This is one of the unfailing signs that the spring opening and attractive market will soon be here. Temporarily the speculation will be irregular with Readings, L.N., Manh., So. Pac. and St. Paul excellent purchase for good trading purposes. It is estimated that a compromise may be arrived at in the Southern Pac. U.P. controversy.

There has as yet been no change in the situation. The Keene pool in S.P. is confident of success. Insiders aver that both Penna and N.Y.C. are scraping on bottom and that each will have a substantial rally. T.C.I. and Lead com. may be taken hold of. Keep long of some copper and sugar.

JOSEPH.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 18, 10.00 a. m. — Chances favour a continued narrow trader's market in stock and we do not expect to see anything better develop until there is a very substantial improvement in money situation and outlook. Conditions a little easier than last week but not sufficient to warrant development of any active bull speculation. We expect slightly easier conditions in money market and prospects of another moderate favourable statement Saturday keeps market undertone but we do not expect any extensive fluctuations or any degree of activity.

M. & M.

Senate ratifies canal treaty. Canal payment will not be due until after June 30th and possibly not until fall. S.P. pool extended to April 10th. B. & O. statement for 7 months show earnings better than six per cent. U.S. net earnings for current year probably $136,000,000. Texas Pacific 2nd week March increase 17,000.

Evening Letter, March 17. — Improvement in market to-day due primarily to general covering of shorts, influenced partly by absence of further selling pressure from local outside sources and slightly easier money for time loans, with brokers reporting larger supply offering at 5 1-2 and 5 1-4 p.c. for various dates. Call money much easier with large supply offering and rate not getting higher before delivery hour than 4 1-2 p.c. and afterwards going down to 3 p.c. General market seemed to have been pretty well sold out by most commission houses and brokers generally and it looked as though a large short interest had been created among traders in their operations of past couple of days. Consequently when covering movement started in late trading market gradually hardened and prices advanced about 1-2 to 1 p.c. before this demand brought out a sufficient supply to satisfy it. Pool operations again most pronounced in trading in S.P. and U.P. and fluctuations in these two stocks continued centre of interest. Heavy borrowing demand for S.P. but it is believed to come principally from brokers from the pool which is facilitate marking up prices as much as possible. It is understood that while this pool is engaged in bulling this particular stock, they have kept certain amount of pressure on U. P. There is little chance in general situation beyond improvement in technical speculative position from the conditions noted above to suggest anything better than a narrow trader's market.

M. & M.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 17. — After a weak opening the market became strong although at no time during the day was there any particular activity. Commission houses had but a few orders either way. After one o'clock stocks rallied well the buying however coming principally from the short interest whose commitments are quite heavy throughout the entire list.

N.Y.C. is still heavy, it is thought that the company is selling its treasury stock in preference to offering it to the stock holders with such a money market as we now have.

Notwithstanding a further recovery of crude copper, Amalgamated copper was inclined to weakness, probably on account of state of money market. We however look to see the stock rally sharply on any change for an easier money market.

The banks so far this week have gained slightly and hopes are held out unless something unforseen happens that the statement on Saturday will be fairly satisfactory. Summing up it would seem that decline in prices has about discounted any bad news to come and that purchase of good stocks on the quick dips will pay good profits, however, it would as well be safe to take quick profits. Would advise purchase of Mex. Can. for a long pull. The close was about the best prices of the day.

Chicago — All cereals have ruled weak to-day. Liquidation seems to be heavy in both wheat and corn. It is nearing the period when we will get crop scares and for this reason we believe purchasing both wheat and corn at ruling prices if bought on a scale down of say half point will in all probability yield a fair profit. Closing prices.— Wheat, May, 74 1-4; corn, May, 44 3-8 a 1-2; oats, May, 34 3-8 a 1-2; pork, May, 17.57 1-2; lard, May, 9.80.

ASSISTANCE FOR SUGAR INDUSTRY.

that more water mains are required more particularly with Central Park, the deputation asked that another $100 might be added to the usual grant.

In reply the Mayor thanked the deputation, and as the Society had rendered invaluable services in the past, he said the Council would endeavour as far as possible to increase the grant.

UNION WITH ASHBURNHAM.

Ald. Rush submitted the following report:—

Gentlemen,—Your Committee of the Whole Council, appointed to confer with the Council of Ashburnham in regard to the union of the two Municipalities, appointed a sub-committee which had a conference with the members of the Village Council at which it was agreed that both Committees should report in favour of the Union of the Municipalities, to take effect on Jan. 1st, 1904, the united municipalities to take over the assets and assume the liabilities of the present Town and Village, and the Village to form one ward for all such purposes as wards now serve in the Town or may hereafter serve in the United Municipalities, and in the event of a vote being taken upon the question in the Town it shall be taken upon a date to be agreed upon between the Town and Village Councils so as to have the vote taken upon the question in the two municipalities on the same day, this to be without prejudice to any public works undertaken by either municipality in the meantime.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was received as read.

Mr. M. Green, of the Salvation Army Band, upon motion was heard. He asked the Council to grant his organization $100 towards the maintenance of the band. He contended that the band had grown to one of considerable importance in recent years. His application was supported by Mr. R. C. Braund, and Mr. Dumble, who was present in another matter, also supported the grant, contending, however, that the band should give an occasional concert in the South end.

The Mayor said he appreciated the important factor the Salvation Army band was in musical circles and he assured them that the application would receive due consideration.

Ald. McWilliams, concerning the application of the grant to the Horticultural Society, said that he would prefer to see Central Park turned into a play ground.

Both applications were referred to the Finance Committee to deal with.

CONSTRUCTION OF SEWERS.

Ald. Shortly moved, seconded by Ald. Edgcumbe, that notice be given that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough intends after one month after the last publication of the notice, to undertake the construction of sewers on Hunter street, from Aylmer to Stewart street; on McDonel street, from Aylmer to Downie street; on Reid street, from McDonel to London street, and on Downie street, from McDonel to London street; and to assess upon the real property to be benefitted by such sewer, in proportion to the cost thereof as may be just in accordance with the provisions of sections 664 to 685, inclusive, of the Municipal Act; or as so much thereof as may be applicable thereto, and subject to the provisions of such bylaw or bylaws of the said corporation, now, or hereafter to be passed, as shall be applicable to the same.—Carried.

A QUESTION OF PROTECTION.

Ald. Shortly submitted a draft resolution received from the Beet Sugar Association of Ontario, petitioning the Dominion Government to extend substantial aid to the beet sugar industry of the Dominion, and moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison, that it be adopted by the Council and forwarded to Ottawa.—This was carried.

Mayor Roger was of the opinion that the matter was entirely outside the province of the council and envolved issues of considerable importance to the country, therefore he thought that it was scarcely a matter for the council to deal with.

Ald. McWilliams held similar views.

DOG TAGS.

Ald. Finnie moved, seconded by Ald. McWilliams, that the License Committee be authorized to purchase dog tags.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw to authorize payment for water for public purposes and for fire protection, passed its several readings.

A bylaw repealing all former ones with reference to the market, and regulating the same, passed its several readings.

This bylaw practically consolidates all former ones and brings together all laws governing the market into working shape under one bylaw.

A bylaw to grant $300 to the Children's Aid Society of the town and county of Peterborough, passed its several readings.

HOUSE ACCOMMODATION.

Mayor Roger intimated to the council that there was evidence of the growth of the town in the fact that houses were hard to obtain. He said that the manager of one of the large manufacturing concerns had made a complaint that men were leaving town on account of the impossibility to obtain houses for their families, and similar complaints had come more than once from citizens, who claimed that houses had been sold over their heads, and they knew not where to move, as there were no houses to be had. He thought that there should be building operations commensurate with the general growth of the town.

Mayor Roger also made reference to the fact that complaints had been made that sidewalk and sewer construction is frequently delayed till too late in the season to put the streets in good condition before the snow flies. Such improvements are paid for by frontage tax, and it is the duty of the ratepayers to move first in the way of petitioning for them. He would urge that application for such work be made at an early date.

Mr. McWilliams thought that the Board of Works should be empowered to give notice that such work will not be undertaken after a certain date. This matter will be seriously considered.

On motion of Ald. McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Finnie, it was resolved that as many members of the council as possible extend the wecome of the town to the Orange Delegates at a meeting of the Grand Orange of Eastern Ontario.

On motion of Ald. McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Finnie, it was resolved that a committee consisting of Ald. Shortly, Rush, and the mover, be appointed to confer with other persons concerned for the celebration of one or more of the public holidays, so that the success of the event be assured.

The Mayor mentioned that in the discussion between the committees of the two councils, the Ashburnham representatives stipulated for a sewerage system for the village. The conclusion had been reached that it would be preferable for Ashburnham to proceed with a sewerage system during the present year, and before the consummation of the union. Ashburnham would get in that way precisely what she wanted, without room for subsequent complaint, and Peterborough would know before hand precisely what it would have to face.

Council then adjourned.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

It is a Season When Most People Feel Miserable, Easily Tired and Fagged Out.

The spring season affects the health of almost everyone—of course in different ways. With some it is a feeling of weariness after slight exertion, others are afflited with pimples and skin eruptions. Fickle appeteite, sallow cheeks and lack-lustre eyes are other signs that the blood is clogged with impurities and must have assistance to regain its health-giving properties.

This is the season above all others when everyone—young and old—need a tonic to brace them up, and the best tonic medical science has discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills tone the nerves and fill the veins with new, pure, rich, red blood. That's why they give you a healthy appetite and cure all blood and nerve diseases—anaemia, skin diseases, erysipelas, rheumatism, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart and a score of other troubles caused by bad blood and bad blood alone. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will give you new blood, new life, new energy—you cannot do better than start taking them to-day.

Mr. Jos. Poirier, M.P.P., Grand Anse, N. B., says: "Both my wife and daughter have been greatly benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My daughter was in very poor health, pale, thin and apparently bloodless, but through the use of the pills she has regained her health and is again able to enjoy life. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the best medicine when the blood is poor." Substitutes are sometimes offered, but they never cure. If you can't get the genuine pills from your dealer send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Furs

WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

POWER IS SWEEPING.

Authority of the Commission in the Stratton Inquiry.

WELL-KNOWN JUDGES NAMED

Chancellor Boyd of the Supreme Court and Chief Justice Falconbridge—Mr. Whitney Makes Brief Criticism, But Other Members Discuss Matters Which Are Now Old—Terms of the Instructions.

Toronto, March 19.—When the House assembled yesterday afternoon Premier Ross brought down the long-looked-for instructions for the commission which is to investigate the Gamey charges. One copy was given into the hands of the clerks, another was given to the leader of the Opposition.

Dr. Routledge of East Middlesex and Mr. A. G. Mackay, of North Grey on entering the House were received with applause, appreciative of the recent victories in the courts.

The Commission Presented.

Upon the conclusion of the preliminaries, Premier Ross rose and said:

"Before the orders of the day are called, in pursuance of what I said in the House yesterday, I bring down a draft of the commission to issue in this matter, which has been before the House for some days. I will lay the draft upon the table, and a copy of the draft will be given to my hon. friend the leader of the Opposition. There is a blank in the draft for the names of the commissioners. I may say to the House that Chancellor Boyd of the Supreme Court and Chief Justice Falconbridge have assented to act in this matter, and will form the personnel of the commission. This draft indicates what power is proposed to be given to the commission. Perhaps the Clerk might read the commission."

Mr. Whitney—I think it would be well.

The Clerk of the House then read the instructions to the commission, as follows:—

Commission of Inquiry.

These are the terms of the proposed judicial commission announced by the Premier, determining the scope of the bribery investigation:

Commission of Inquiry—In the matter of an inquiry into certain charges made by Robert Roswell Gamey, a member of the legislative assembly of the Province of Ontario, against James Robert Stratton, a member of the Executive Council of Ontario, and also a member of the said legislative assembly, Sir Oliver Mowat, G.C.M.G., Province of Ontario; Edward VII., by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, etc., etc.:

Whereas certain charges were, on the 11th day of March, 1903, made by Robert Roswell Gamey, a member of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, for the electoral district of Manitoulin, affecting the good government of the province, whereby the said Robert Roswell Gamey, from his place in the said Legislative Assembly, and whilst the Legislative Assembly was in session, charged and declared that James Robert Stratton, another member of the said Legislative Assembly, and a member of the Executive Council of the said Province, did certain corrupt and unlawful acts, by attempting to bribe the said Robert Roswell Gamey by the payment to him of certain moneys, to wit, the sum of $3000, on Wednesday, the 10th day of September, 1902, at the Parliament Buildings, in the City of Toronto, in said Province, and, by the further payments to him of the sum of $1000 on Thursday, the 29th day of January, 1903, at the place aforesaid, to influence and induce corruptly and unlawfully the said Robert Roswell Gamey, who was, at said times, a member of the said Legislative Assembly as such member, to vote for and support the government of which the said James Robert Stratton is now, and was at the said times, a member;

And whereas the said Robert Roswell Gamey further charged that, by the offer of patronage, he, the said James Robert Stratton, did endeavor to bribe and corruptly induce and influence the said Robert Roswell Gamey, as such member, to vote for and support the said government.

And whereas the three several papers accompanying this commission, and marked respectively A, B and C, by the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, taken from the issues of The Toronto Globe, Mail and Empire, and World, respectively, of date the 12th day of March, 1903, contain and fully set forth the said charges so made by the said Robert Roswell Gamey against the said James Robert Stratton;

And whereas it is deemed expedient by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to cause inquiry to be made into and concerning the truth of the said charges, made as aforesaid.

And whereas the said Legislative Assembly presented to the Lieutenant-Governor of our said Province an address, praying that he would issue a commission to investigate the said charges set forth in the said papers herewith, and to inquire into and investigate all matters and things which, in the judgment of the commissioners, relate thereto, or affect the same, and that such commission should be directed to two of the Chief Justices, or to one of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Ontario, and the President of the High Court of Justice.

And whereas our said Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council deems it expedient to accede to the request of the said Legislative Assembly.

Now, know you that we, having and reposing full trust and confidence in you, the said Justice Sir John Boyd and Justice W. G. Falconbridge do hereby, and with the advice of our Executive Council of our said province, appoint you the said Justice Sir John Boyd and Justice W. G. Falconbridge, to inquire into and investigate the said charges, and all matters and things which, in your judgment, are relevant thereto.

And we do hereby confer on you our said commissioners, full power and authority to proceed with all reasonable despatch to hear, inquire into and investigate the said charges against the said James Robert Stratton, contained in the said papers, marked, respectively, A, B and C, and to report the result of such investigation within a reasonable time, together with all evidence, documents, papers, and things that may be given, produced or laid before you, touching the charges aforesaid.

And, we do hereby empower you to hear and examine all witnesses on oath, and to require them to give evidence and produce documents and things, and to issue subpoenas for enforcing the attendance of such witnesses at the instance of either of said parties to said charges, and to cause the evidence given before you to be taken in shorthand, and to administer or cause to be administered by the Clerk of said commission (to be appointed by you) all necessary oaths of witnesses, criers, constables, stenographers and others, to whom an oath may be administered, to the same extent and effect as may now be administered in a court of law.

And we do hereby confer on you all the powers, rights and privileges concerning the hearing and investigation of the said charges, the making of the said inquiry, the execution of this commission, the examination of witnesses, the taking of evidence, and the production of documents and things which are possessed by, or conferred on, a judge in the trial of causes, either by common law or by statute, it being intended that you, the said commissioners, shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as judges of the High Court have in the trial of causes and in respect of all matters incidental thereto.

And we direct that, upon the said inquiry no witness shall be excused from answering any question upon the ground that the answer may tend to criminate him, but that no evidence given by any person or witness before you shall be receivable in evidence against him in any criminal trial or other criminal proceeding against him hereafter taking place, other than a prosecution for perjury in giving such evidence.

And we do further empower you to permit each party to the said inquiry to be represented by counsel, who shall be entitled to conduct the presentation of said charges and the answer thereto, respectively, in accordance with the practice and law applicable to counsel in trials of causes.

And we do further empower you to direct that the evidence taken by the stenographers shall be extended and certified to by them, and the same, when so extended and certified, shall be returned with your report, as the evidence taken before you.

And we do further empower you to appoint the places where, and the times when the sittings of the said commissioners shall be held, and to adjourn, if necessary, from day to day, or from time to time, to enable the presentation of the said charges and the answer thereto, to be fully and completely made, heard and investigated.

We further do empower you to enquire into, investigate and report upon any charges arising out of, or connected with, the charges aforesaid, against the said James Robert Stratton, contained in the said papers, A, B and C, which may be preferred in writing by any member of our Legislative Assembly, against any member of our said Executive Council, other than the said James Robert Stratton, and under and with the like power and authority herein contained, and subject to such notice and terms as may appear to you reasonable and proper to be given to the member so charged.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK

Two Dead and Several People Seriously Injured.

IN TO THE BED OF A CREEK

Accident Occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway a Couple of Miles Above Marden, North of Guelph—Passenger Car Landed in a Swollen Creek—The Dead Are Two Babies.

Guelph, March 19.—Two infants are the victims of the Grand Trunk wreck, which occurred at noon yesterday, a couple of miles north of Marden. Some forty passengers were more or less hurt. Train No. 17 with Conductor Lillis and Engineer Hagelwood left Guelph about 11 o'clock and were running at a fair rate of speed when one of the trucks, it is believed, on the rear coach jumped the track. The passenger coach went off apparently over a trestle above a creek crossing under the track, taking a drop of ten feet into the water, which was swollen by the spring thaw and filled the car one or two feet deep when it turned on its side. The back coach pulled the smoker and mail coach off after it. The baggage car was almost completely turned over, but it held on to the tender and did not go far down the bank, where it went off. The tender was not upset, but its wheels were off the rails. The engine did not leave the track.

The train had about a hundred and fifty people on it.

The dead babies are: Charles Housten, aged two years, son of J. J. Housten of Thessalon; the 21-months-old daughter of William Irwin, of Niagara Falls, N. Y. The Housten baby died in the farm house near the car. The Irwin infant received such severe injuries, being almost drowned and then resuscitated, that it succumbed at 5 o'clock.

General Roadmaster, H. Ferguson, of the G.T.R., was on the ill-fated train as far as Marden, which is about two miles from where the wreck occurred. He gave as his opinion that the accident must have been caused either from a brake shoe dragging or else a broken truck.

Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest on the body of the Housten baby at Fergus at 2 p.m. to-day.

ENGLAND WHITE WITH SNOW.

Great Storm Creates Much Havoc in Ireland and Warwickshire.

London, March 19.—The heaviest snow falls of the present winter were reported from parts of England yesterday. Rain and hail fell elsewhere in Great Britain and Ireland. Between Londonderry and Coleraine havoc was caused by the breaching of the sea wall. Thousands of acres of farm lands were submerged and hundreds of families fled from ruined homesteads. In the northeast part of Warwickshire several villages were inundated and cut off from communication with the neighboring towns.

The Provincial Contribution for Charitable Purposes.

Dr. Chamberlain, Provincial Inspector of Charitable Institutions, has prepared a statement showing Toronto's receipts for such establishments, as compared with the rest of the Province. The province contributed $85,203.25 towards their support. This city gave aid amounting to $65,608.06 to 27 institutions. The city gave $11,000 for outdoor relief. There were for similar institutions caring for 4,286 inmates, and receiving Government aid amounting to $117,003.05, in other parts of the Province.—Globe.

"A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in my back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. May Haule, Edgerton, Wis., President Household Economics Club. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Women should remember there is one tried and true remedy for all female ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Refuse to buy any other medicine, you need the best.

OUR NORTH WEST LETTER.

The Examiner Correspondent Tells of Prosperity.

The Great Wheat Belt of the American Continent—Railway Lines.

Oxbow, Ass., March 15.

It is sometimes since I have written; so much is being written in every journal of the land concerning the great Canadian West, that for me to add my observations, seemed out of place. Indeed, for the last six months we have been close observers of the political situation in the East, but now that Laurier seems capable of the directorship of Dominion affairs without the great "Tarte." I thought that it might be in order to drop you a few lines to again revert your thoughts to the prairies of the West—if indeed your eyes or thoughts have wandered from us.

The present winter has been rather a severe one. Cold weather was upon us before the middle of December; snow covered the ground before the end of the year, and while much more has fallen little has left us except to scud before the wind. While the temperature has not fallen so low as it sometimes does in the West we have had several sharp days with the thermometer hovering around 40 degrees below zero. A great deal of snow has fallen, and at this date—March 15—there is more snow on the ground than I have seen at this period for many years.

Like Cartier of old, let us lift the curtain and see the other side of the picture. Our present winter has been a steady one, as is generally the case. The air is always clear and bracing, and there is very little sickness.

Business is and has been brisk; idle men are not to be found, and now with the spring time of immigration activity is redoubled and the energies of western enterprise will be taxed to the uttermost to meet the requirements of the vast host of immigrants who are even now on their way to the promised land.

The "help" problem will certainly be a serious one with us this year. There are very few available farm labourers and those we have among us are refusing thirty dollars a month. Skilled labour will be still scarcer, and the season of 1903 will close with many buildings still unfinished through lack of masons, carpenters and plasterers.

It has been estimated by Western officials, that the Canadian wheat belt will receive an influx this spring of at least one hundred thousand settlers from the United States, and double this number from Great Britain and the continent. Land is every day becoming a more valuable asset. During the short time I have been in the west, virgin prairie land has crept in price from $3 an acre to $10 and even $15 an acre, and I am safe in predicting that land which is selling at $10 an acre to-day will easily bring $20 an acre, in the open market, three years hence.

The three largest railway corporations of Canada are on the alert, and mean to have their share of the immense business to be done in the fertile regions of the plains. The C. P. R. purpose building additional tap lines from Prince Albert, Medicine Hat and other points. The Canadian Northern will extend its lines into the vast Saskatchewan regions, and the Grand Trunk with all haste, will push westward along its proposed northern route, to the Pacific.

With three such corporations operating here, and with the opening up of so much new territory, it is an easy matter to predict, that an era of growth is before us such as has never been before experienced in any agricultural country.

Vast portions of the Territories are yet in the hands of the Government, but all lands offered for sale by the Government, or by companies, are quickly taken up by American and Canadian companies. It is to be hoped that no more of our fertile lands will be given to the railway corporations, but that all may be kept by the Government, and given as homesteads to actual settlers.

There has been no serious blockade in wheat this season. At present nearly all the elevators are full, and hauling will be discontinued until seeding is over. Many new elevators will be built along the lines during the present year and these together with the additional capacity of 8,000,000 bushels at the lake ports will tend to lessen the pressure this season, when we expect to harvest 75,000,000 bushels of wheat. When spring opens up you will hear from me again.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by

THE SHAMROCK III. LAUNCHED.

Lady Shaftesbury Broke a Bottle, Wished and Named Her.

Glasgow, March 18.—Shamrock III., challenger for the America's Cup, was successfully launched at 1.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Large crowds gathered at the Denys' yards at Dumbarton, in spite of the drenching rain, which, however, ceased before the arrival of the special visitors train. Sir Thomas Lipton escorted Lady Shaftesbury to the christening dais, where a distinguished company had gathered.

Lady Shaftesbury broke the bottle, saying: "I christen you Shamrock; may God bless you and may you bring back the cup." Then, amid loud cheers, Shamrock III. slid easily into the water. After more cheering, the visitors proceeded to luncheon. Sir Thomas regards the yacht as a marvel.

SHE MADE A CHANGE

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

AN ANTHRAX JUDGMENT.

Purchaser Lost Several Cattle and Successfully Sued Previous Owner.

Berlin, March 19.—At the spring assizes Causland v. Goetz, was tried yesterday morning. The plaintiff, Causland, is a farmer, and had bought a farm from Goetz in Peel on the representation of its being first-class, when, as evidence showed, the farm was infected with a deadly poison known as anthrax, where the plaintiff had lost several cattle through it. The farm sold for $7,500 in 1901 to the plaintiff. Judgment was given for the plaintiff. His Lordship gave defendant the option of paying back the purchase money and costs and take the farm back, of $1,500 damages and costs.

POWER IS SWEEPING.

Mr. Whitney said, immediately after the instructions to the judges were laid on the table, that he had not the opportunity of making more than a cursory examination of the document. But it was clear to him that the government did not intend to have a thoro investigation into the charges. It appeared that the commissioners would not be permitted to hear any evidence except what was, in their opinion, applicable to the particular charge under consideration. A unique feature, also, was the clause which says that no person except a member of the House is to have the privilege of making a charge against any other member of the government, and any such charge made against a member of the government is to be made in writing, and notice given.

One factor that arouses the suspicion among the opposition of the sincerity of the government in the premises is that, according to the most liberal interpretation of the terms under which the commission assumes authority, no witness may be asked and forced to answer a question in the investigation which might render him liable to criminal prosecution. The commission derives its authority from Chapter 19, R.S.O. 1897, an act respecting inquiries concerning public matters, Clause 2 of which reads:

2. The commissioner, or commissioners, shall then have the same power to enforce the attendance of witnesses, and to compel them to give evidence, and produce documents and things, as is vested in any court in civil cases; but no party or witnesses shall be compelled to answer any question, by his answer to which he might render himself liable to a criminal prosecution.

It is common knowledge that Provincial Secretary Stratton and the men charged with him, with having given bribes to R. R. Gamey, may, under this provision, absolutely refuse to answer, since criminal prosecutions are to follow the investigation, and it is obvious that any evidence they may give on this point will be in the nature of aiding their prosecution. This is the real basis for the complaint of the opposition, that the House and not a commission, must deal with the charges, to get at the truth. Under this section of the statutes, any witness may refuse to testify by merely alleging that his evidence is calculated to incriminate him, and he may not be imprisoned for contempt, nor forced to give evidence. Before the House the situation would be reversed, on a trial by the House.

Mr. Whitney's View.

On the conclusion of the reading, Mr. Whitney said:—A cursory glance over this copy makes it quite clear in my opinion that the Government are determined to hamper the investigation. That is the quickest and most intelligible way for me to express my opinion. By the provisions of this commission the House has abdicated its judgment. The remarkable and decidedly unique feature in the whole document is the provision that the commission may report upon any charge arising out of or connected with the present charges, which may affect any member of the Cabinet other than Mr. Stratton. But the charges must be preferred in writing, and no person but a member of the Assembly is to have the power or privilege in this British country to make a charge against any other member of the Government except Mr. Stratton. Why, I wonder when hon. gentlemen will stop! The right to make a charge against other members of the Government than Mr. Stratton is to be confined to members of this Legislature, and they are to do it in writing, forsooth! It is a hint to the Judges, it is a declaration that they cannot proceed to consider this investigation as one involving the matter of the Government. I admire, let me here express my admiration of, the astuteness with which the Provincial Secretary got ahead of his colleagues and let out the fact that although he offered his resignation on Wednesday, which had been kept secret by the Premier, it has not been accepted, and we now know that they must stand or fall together. I do not propose to take the time of the House from the consideration of general questions.

Mr. T. H. Preston.

T. H. Preston (South Brant) said that the ordinary citizen was not concerned with what Sir John Macdonald or Hon. Edward Blake said thirty years ago, or what Sir Richard Cartwright said ten years ago bearing on this matter. He was more concerned as to whether the tribunal proposed, provided the instructions are liberal, would be better able to secure evidence than a committee of the House. The more the question was discussed the plainer it became that anything like a satisfactory solution was not attainable by preference to the House. There was too much pre-judging on the Opposition side of the House. They had already condemned the Government to political death. The speaker was not quite so expeditious: the pall-bearers would not be required for some time. He agreed that the people should demand a full inquiry into these matters. That was the view on the Government side of the House. They were not there to condone wrong-doing. He wanted to give the accused the right of British subjects to a fair trial. The members of the Opposition were partial and prejudged the case. He had no sympathy with the methods adopted to deprive the member for South Oxford of his seat, but it was not fair for him to rise and say he was approached unless he was prepared to say who made the approaches to him. The member for South Essex was also bound to put his accusations in such a manner that they could be investigated. That member had said that he had been approached in a jesting way, and the speaker thought it must have been a jest if a new member had been offered the Speakership of the House.

Saleslady's Backache.

There is many a young woman serving behind a counter who can hardly stand on her feet on account of the excruciating pain that catches her in the small of the back.

Must be cheerful and obliging, though the back be ready to break, the head almost bursting and the whole body racked and worn.

Constant standing affects the kidneys, disturbs their blood filtering functions, then the back aches, the head throbs and you feel unfit for work or pleasure.

It is wonderful in these cases how a few boxes of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets start the kidneys acting properly—they carry off the poisons from the blood, then the back ceases to pain, the head stops aching, and you feel yourself an altogether different woman.

SURPRISING BENEFIT.

Miss Lizzie Nix, whose address is 322 Adelaide Street West, Toronto, Ont., says: "When I commenced to use Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets I was tired of doctoring, for my troubles were severe and of several months' duration, and every previous treatment I took proved unavailing. I had a weak back and kidney trouble, and was nervous and run-down. At first I was skeptical about obtaining any benefit from Dr. Pitcher's Tablets. To say that I was surprised at the results that followed their use is putting it mildly. I was astonished, for from the first few doses I commenced to improve, and to-day finds me a well woman. Every trouble has disappeared, and with my general improvement in strength and weight I consider myself in sound health."

Mr. Preston answered the argument about electoral corruption by saying that four Conservatives had been unseated and only one Liberal. He also argued down the popular majority to 4,300, and said that the Conservatives had in Dominion affairs returned a majority of the members on a minority vote of the people of the province. The Government were the custodians of the honor of the Reform party. They had recognized the principle of popular rights which had secured to a certain extent a clean administration of affairs.

In conclusion Mr. Preston argued that the Government were showing their desire for a fair trial by appointing a Royal Commission. In a committee of the House they would have the advantage of a tribunal that had in former cases been partial to the majority of the House. They were giving up this advantage and going before a judicial tribunal in order to have a fair and impartial trial.

Belief in Gamey's Story.

Hugh Clark, member for Centre Bruce, was the next speaker. It was unfortunate that any Legislature should open under such inauspicious conditions. They were degrading to the province. Most of the people of the province believed that Mr. Gamey's story was true. (Order, order.) They were apparently right in judging that the revelations were true according to the record of the Administration for the last four years.

He thought that the Hon. Provincial Secretary had made a shrewd move in announcing—and it was not according to program—that he had tendered his resignation, and thus drew forth from the Premier a halting confession that his resignation was under advisement. The Provincial Secretary was supported by his colleagues. In his newspaper he had coupled the Attorney-General in the charges. The Department of Public Works was implicated by the patronage it had extended to the member for Manitoulin.

Open For Further Orders.

Mr. Latchford (Minister of Public Works): If the hon. gentleman will publish a similar interview in The Globe, promising the Government support, he will receive just as favorable treatment.

Mr. Clark: I was not aware that the Commissioner of Public Works was open for further orders. It is up to me to apply to the Provincial Secretary for another typewritten interview for The Globe.

Mr. Whitney: He's game.

The member for Centre Bruce continued that he would prefer to believe that the hon. Premier was unconscious of the efforts to buy over the member for Manitoulin. He would prefer to think that the Premier believed that the member for Manitoulin had been influenced by the high, clear notes of the Premier's Ontario policy rather than by the higher, clearer and more ringing notes of the Ontario Bank. (Applause.)

The Committee Justified.

Mr. W. H. Hoyle (North Ontario) said the strongest argument so far presented in favor of investigation by a committee of the House had just been presented by the Commissioner of Public Works. (Applause.) He had made an open and public confession that the way by which the Ontario Government desired to entrap members from that side of the House was in and through an interview with The Daily Globe, whereby they were called upon to sign a recantation, yea, more than that, to brand themselves as desirous of evading the mandate of the people who sent them there, and it was openly proclaimed that if they would do that the coffers of the Public Works Department, be the orders as large as they may be, would be open to them in the manner which had been indicated on the floor of the House.

Mr. Latchford—I am sure, Mr. Speaker, that the hon. gentleman has no intention of misrepresenting me. What I stated was that if the hon. gentleman had published an interview in The Globe stating that he would support the Government, and had written me, he would be entitled to receive, and would receive—(Opposition applause)—just as favorable a reply as that which I addressed to the hon. gentleman. (Ministerial applause.) My hon. friends are welcome to all the satisfaction they can get out of that statement. The man proclaimed in the most public way that he was a supporter of the Administration, and when he wrote to me about a matter connected with my departmental administration a few days later, I wrote to him in strict reply, and my letter is just as fair under all the circumstances as he had a right to expect, and no more. While this man was elected as a Conservative, after his statement had publicly appeared, I had no reason to believe that he was not sincere, and I acted accordingly. (Ministerial applause.)

Mr. Hoyle—The Commissioner of Public Works has explained matters in his own way better than anything I can say. (Opposition applause.)

Mr. Hoyle went on to argue for a parliamentary investigation. When the legal profession disagree we have got to fall back on the ordinary common sense that the laymen possesses.

Mr. Andrew Pattullo.

Mr. Andrew Pattullo (North Oxford) said the Opposition showed exceeding bad taste in applauding the statement of Mr. Gamey. It was a solemn occasion and the applause was out of place. He was surprised that the Conservative press should paint Gamey as a sort of hero. He had been taught to entertain a distinct dislike for detectives, informers and spies. He did not think that the methods employed by Gamey were necessary. He need not have gone so far and have accomplished his purpose. (Hear, hear!) The speaker entertained strong feelings against a man who would lay a trap for another.

He did not assume the charges were proved. The Government supporters would accept the innocence of the Minister accused until he was proven guilty. The question of patronage as involved in this matter was not one to involve the Ministers referred to in the charges. The question of patronage was a proper one for discussion in the House, and the hon. members opposite were welcome to make what they could out of the statement of the Commissioner of Public Works (Mr. Latchford.) The charges against the Provincial Secretary, however, were of a more serious nature. The Government had absolute confidence that he would meet the charges in a dignified way. He immediately denied the charges, and the proposed Royal Commission was in accord with the better part of public opinion. The Government, in taking this position, was not adopting any new policy. He had not been impressed any more by the quotations given from former leaders of the Liberal party than by those of the Conservative party.

It had been said by Opposition members that the Premier had promised that the matter should go to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. What the Premier said was that it should go to this or some other tribunal.

Wanted a Roving Commission.

The Opposition objected to putting charges in writing because they might be called upon to prove them. (Applause.) The Opposition wanted a committee to deal with the matter, so that they could bring all sorts of rumors and charges which would not need to be proved. What they wanted was not a Royal Commission, but a roving commission. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Pattullo referred to the disappearance of the Gamey documents.

Mr. Matheson—They'll turn up;

Mr. Pattullo—They should not have been taken away.

Mr. Matheson—They might be burnt?

Mr. Pattullo—No, I am not afraid of that. But I am afraid as to the documents remaining intact. We have no guarantee that those documents will not be added to or taken from. Would the guarantee of their author be sufficient? I think not. Among those documents, Mr. Pattullo said, were the notes of three stenographers from Gore Bay. He was not aware that stenographers grew on trees at Gore Bay, and he doubted the ability of any stenographers to take notes in the dark behind piano boxes. They would like to know whether those notes would be revised before they appeared before the commission. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Macdairmid (West Elgin) and Dr. Lachner (North Waterloo traversed the old ground for the Opposition, and Mr. Carscallen (East Hamilton) moved the adjournment of the debate at 10 o'clock.

St. Patrick's Day Observances.

For the first time on record, St. Patrick's Day was observed on Monday as a general holiday in Ireland. All the business houses were closed in Dublin, and many even of the public houses remained shut. In London the big events of the day were the banquet at the Hotel Cecil, over which John Redmond presided, and the Gaelic League concert at the Queen's Hall; but Irish concerts and Irish dances could be reckoned by the score all over the town.

MR GARVIN TO REMAIN.

Retires From Manufacturers' Life to Become Managing-Director of the Sugar Company.

Mr. J. W. Garvin informs the Examiner that he has made arrangements by which he can remain in Peterborough as Managing Director of the Peterborough Sugar Company. He states that for some time strong pressure has been brought to bear to induce him to retire from his position with the Manufacturers Life, which necessitates his removal to Detroit, and accept the position of Managing Director of the Sugar Company. Mr. Garvin replied that if he could receive an honourable release from his engagement with the Manufacturers Life he would entertain the proposition. Mr. Garvin now announces that he has obtained honourable release and will remain in Peterborough in the capacity of Managing Director of the Sugar Company.

Mr. Garvin also promises in a day or two a letter to the press, giving full details of the local aspect of the beet sugar enterprise.

The King Hotel, Norwood, better known as the McGregor House, which has been under quarantine for the last 14 days on account of Mr. Metherell, traveller of Lindsay, who was a guest for a day and two nights while suffering from small pox, is open to the public again. The quarantine was raised March 18th, and a proper examination has been made of all inmates by the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Redmond, of Westwood. There are no symptoms of small pox on any of the inmates. The house was properly disinfected, cleansed and renovated and the inmates vaccinated. Great credit is due to the local Board of Health for the prompt measurers taken by them, and no disease has been contracted. The citizens and the people of the surrounding country are thankful that no cases have developed.

LAST NIGHT AT ST. JOHN'S

Rev. J. H. Teeney, of Omemee Gave the Address.

Spoke on Duty—Have we Done Our Duty as Children to Our Father Which is in Heaven?

There was a very large congregation at the special Lenten Service held in St. John's church last night. The regular service of Evensong was gone through, after which Rev. J. H. Teeney, of Omemee, gave a most inspiring and eloquent address. Speaking of duty, Rev. Mr. Teeney said that there was no greater or more inspiring word than that. It is duty that makes the soldier brave shot and shell, it is duty that sends the physician to the bedside of persons who are dangerously ill, it is duty that enables the nurse, following her noble profession, to sacrifice her life in order that she may patiently relieve the sufferings of the mutilated the dead and the dying, and it is duty that makes the clergyman go on his daily rounds, visiting all the members of his congregation. This is a sacred word to us because we are citizens of a great commonwealth, for which, in the case of necessity, we would willingly shoulder the musket and face death itself. Men may be disloyal in life, but they cannot break asunder the cords of duty.

We are all God's children, we are not merely His subjects, but He is our Father—He protected us in our infancy, when we thought little of Him. We are thus bound by a sacred responsibility to recognize Him as our Father. When we were baptised we were bound closely to God, and baptism represents unto us a profession which is to follow the example of our Saviour, Jesus Christ.

We are not in total darkness concerning the ways of God, for have we not the Holy Bible, which, when we open we know that the words printed are those from God our Father to us, His children. What a blessed thing it is that we have these opportunities for our spiritual development. Let us do our duty to our Father in such a manner that at the last day He will say "Well done thou good and faithful servant." If we only give a cup of cold water to someone, in the name of Jesus Christ, it will at the last day receive its just reward.

In the past we have been endeavouring to follow in the footsteps of our Lord, now, during these forty days, which our Lord formerly spent in fasting, let us endeavour more strictly, and more closely, to follow in the footsteps of our Saviour.

If someone near and dear to us was seriously ill, would we join in the frivolities of this world? No! Just so with our Lord Jesus Christ who suffered for us that we might be saved. So let us follow the example of our Lord Jesus Christ, who during this period of Lent faced many perils. By thinking of Christ dying for us on the cross we can go out into the world and face all its evils and perils, and one and all of us can be successful in the battles for Christ, so that in the last day He may say:—"Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

The service closed with the singing of hymn No. 540, "Fight the Good Fight with all thy Might."

ANNUAL ROLL CALL

Of the Members of the Murray Street Baptist Church.

The annual roll call of the members of the Murray street Baptist church was held last evening. There was a very large attendance of members present, who responded to their names, expressing their love for God and gratitude for the many blessings received during the past year.

Owing to the great prevalence of sickness at the present time, a number were unavoidably detained from being present, but sent letters to be read in answer to their names.

It was decided to devote the offering, which was a very liberal one, to assist the new church at Wetaskawin, Alberta, of whose workers some were former members of the Murray street church.

DEAD FISH.

Anglers Think Lime from Berlin Sugar Refinery Killed Them.

The spring freshets in the Grand River have revealed a lamentable condition of affairs, which is causing keen regret among the anglers of that section. The waters for days have borne along thousands of dead fish, including large quantities of black bass, many of which have been cast on the shores to rot and form food for muskrats, crows and cranes. The death of so many fish is thought to be largely due to the great quantities of lime in the refuse which the Berlin Sugar Refinery has been pouring into the river all winter. At Blair especially great quantities of dead fish were strewn along the flats, where they lay until the river rose higher and carried them farther down stream. This afternoon hundreds of black bass were lying at high water mark.

The above item has been clipped from the Toronto Star and forwarded to the Examiner by a sportsman, who concludes by saying it is a crying shame. It is to be hoped that the erection of the Peterborough Sugar Factory will not result in a similar destruction of fish in the Otonabee.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE OF EASTERN ONTARIO.

Forty-Fourth Annual Session Being Held in Peterborough.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE OF DELEGATES.

Earnest Interest in the Proceedings—Addresses of Welcome From County Orangemen and From the Mayor and Council.

The Union Jack streaming from the windows of the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street, indicates the presence of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East, convened in its forty-fourth annaul session.

The lodge opened in due form yesterday afternoon at 2.30 with a very large representation of delegates. A veteran delegate made the remark in reference to the present session, that in all his forty years attendance at Grand Lodge sessions he never before saw so large, enthusiastic and earnest a gathering of delegates. He said that the spirit that marked the convention showed the deep interest of the delegates, that they had come together for business and with an earnest aim to promote the interests of the Order in their jurisdiciton and to advance the interests of the Order of which they felt so proud.

With Right Worshipful Grand Master Duncan Munroe in the chair, the lodge was called to order.

Devotions were conducted by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. J. McKee McLennan, Norwood.

The Grand Master appointed Bros. J. A. McWilliams and Alex. Nesbitt, of Ashburnham as inside and outside tyler, respectively.

The Worshipful Master appointed the following committee to strike the Standing Committees, all of whom are Past Grand Masters:

R. H. Holland, Port Hope; Albert Bradley, Hazeldean; T. B. Collins, Millbrook; T. A. Kidd, Burrit's Rapids, and J. H. Delamere, Minden.

The committee reported the Standing Committees, which are constituted as follows:—

AN EVENING SESSION.

An evening session of the Grand Lodge, which met as a Lodge of Instruction, was held in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, which was crowded in every part.

R. W. G. M. Munroe, presided, and the Grand Master and Sovereign of the Order, Dr. Sproule, M. P., was present.

The work was exemplified by the Grand Lecturer, O. W. Landon, Melcombe.

SECOND DAY — THURSDAY.

Since the session of yesterday, there was a considerable addition to the delegates and on the opening of the session this morning, there was a very large number of delegates present.

Routine proceedings were pleasantly interrupted by the presentation to Past Grand Master Alfred Bradley, of Hazeldean, of a Past Master's Jewel. In addition to the reply of the recipient, interesting remarks were made by the Grand Master and Sovereign of the Order, Dr. T. S. Sproule, M.P.

An address of welcome and greeting was also presented on behalf of the County Orange Lodge by Mr. J. B. McWilliams, County Master, who was supported by a large delegation of the County Lodge.

Right Worshipful Grand Master Munroe of Cornwall, replied to the address, as well as Bro. J. H. Delamere, P. G. M., Minden.

At three o'clock this afternoon a deputation from the town council, consisting of Mayor Roger, and Aldermen Batten, McWilliams and Shortly, was received by the Grand Lodge, and the following address of welcome was read by the Mayor:

CIVIC WELCOME.

"To the Grand Master, Officers and Lodges of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East:

"It is my pleasant duty on behalf of our municipal council and of the citizens generally, to extend to you a most cordial welcome to Peterborough.

"We feel that you have honoured us in selecting this as your place of meeting, and trust that the result may be satisfactory to yourselves in a successful meeting, an enjoyable visit, and when that is over, in a safe return to your homes.

"We are naturally proud of our town, and we are anxious that you should carry away with you favourable impressions of it also, and we regret that the season is not more propitious for you seeing it to advantage.

"Peterborough derived its initial prosperity from its agricultural and lumbering industries; the former have grown, the latter are passing away with the exhaustion of the timber supply. Our noble river, Otonabee, which then served to saw or float the lumber to market, is destined to do us even greater service in the future by furnishing us with those two great impulses to industrial progress and prosperity, viz., power and means of transportation.

"The works which are now transforming the Otonabee into a great national highway are at the same time developing superb water powers, which have heretofore lain dormant.

"The recent great additions to our manufacturing industries, the Canadian General Electric Company, the Canadian Cordage Company, and the Quaker Oats Company, are all operated from this source of power, and but the fringe of the Otonabee's possibilities in this respect, has as yet been touched. We expect the Otonabee to do for Peterborough what the St. Mary's River is doing for the Sault; and the Trent Canal to do for Canada what the Erie has done for the United States.

"We think you would find it interesting if you had time to visit the concrete dam now being constructed by the Quaker Oats Company on the river here, or the huge lift lock now under construction by the Government on the canal about a mile from this point, and form some just estimate for yourselves of what these things mean not only to this fair town, but to Canada as a whole.

"You will be pleased, I am sure, to observe the many marked evidences of prosperity which our town now displays, and to learn that we are contemplating a further advance by union with the adjoining municipality of Ashburnham, which will give us a united population of between 13,000 and 14,000.

"We thank you for this kindly hearing, and Peterborough wishes your Order success in every good work it may undertake.

"G. M. ROGER.
"Mayor."

YESTERDAY'S WEDDINGS.

Two Couples Joined in Wedlock in North Monaghan.

A very interesting double wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Dobbin, North Monaghan, last night, when two young couples joined fortunes for life.

Mr. George Fowler, of North Monaghan, and Miss Annie Sophia Elmhirst, were the principals in the first marriage, and Mr. Thomas John Taylor, of Otonabee, and Miss Bella West Elmhirst, principals in the second. Misses Clara and Cleona Dobbin were maids of honour.

The brides were beautifully adorned in white organdie, with handsome bridal veils, while each carried a handsome bouquet of white carnations. The maids of honour were dressed in white and each carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

There were about ninety guests present. Among those from a distance were E. Elmhirst Lightbourne, Cobourg; Mrs. Dr. Lorisson, Richmond Hill; Robert English, Keene; Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmhirst, Keene; Mrs. Richard Short and Mr. R. Short, Jr., Keene.

Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., of St. Andrew's Peterborough, officiated.

After the ceremony the wedding supper was served, the tables being laden in a most dainty fashion with many delicacies.

The brides were made the recipients of numerous presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left this morning for points west, and on their return will reside, the former in North Monaghan, the latter in Otonabee.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. J. Abbott Wedded to Miss Hannah H. Robinson.

At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. Bastow, on Wednesday afternoon, March 18th, occurred the marriage of Miss Hannah H. Robinson, of Peterborough, and Mr. Arthur J. Abbott, of Lakefield.

The groom was attended by Mr. C. L. Brookhouser, a cousin of the bride, while Miss Minnie Scott, of Smith, was bridesmaid.

Their many friends and relatives wish them long and happy lives, with abundant prosperity. Their home will be in Lakefield.

Well Again.

The many friends of John Blount will be pleased to learn that he has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatism. Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured him after the best doctors in the town, (Monon, Ind.) had failed to give relief. The prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords, is alone worth many times its cost. Sold by all druggists.

We have the nobbiest Baby Carriages and Go-Carts in town—all rubber tired (no tired mother.) No bolts to lose, no nuts to fall off—the price are right for good goods. Sallsbury & Co.

THE GAMEY "STATEMENTS."

Reference to the text of the commission provided by the Ross Government, to investigate the truthfulness or otherwise of the statements made by Mr. Gamey, the member from Manitoulin, will show that the Government has fulfilled to the letter its pledge, given the moment the statements were made to procure a thorough investigation. Not only the terms, but the personnel of the commission is a guarantee that the best, most impartial and most exhaustive means will be employed to arrive at the whole truth in reference to the statement made by the member from Manitoulin. The members of the bench selected to act, Chancellor Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge, possess such high characters as both judges and citizens, that the most violent partisan can have no ground to suggest even a suspicion that their conduct of the investigation will not be thorough and impartial, and in keeping with the strictest requirements of justice.

Yet in face of the ample terms of the commission, in face of the unimpeachable probity and unquestionable fairness of the judges, Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, still adheres to the policy of obstructive tactics and delay, when he declares in reference to the commission that the Government is deliberately seeking to hamper investigation. If Mr. Whitney were one-tenth as anxious to arrive at the truth as he is to make petty party capital out of the Gamey incident, the investigation would have been now well under way.

GAMEY STATEMENTS.

Approval of Judicial Commission From an Independent Source.

The following is from "Hardware and Metal" a trade journal without party leanings:—

We have no desire until the guilt of Mr. Stratton has been established, to pronounce him guilty, but there certainly must be an investigation, and an investigation that will satisfy every one. Premier Ross has promised this investigation, and proposes that it shall be made by two judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature or by the president of that court and two other officials to be appointed by the Government without reference to the House.

There may be some objection to the manner of appointing the judges. Under the extraordinary and unfortunate circumstances which prevail it would be much better if the House was given full freedom in the making of the appointment. The charges are too grave to permit of the slightest suspicion in regard to the constitution of the commission or as to its method of appointment.

It is to be regretted indeed that the leader of the Opposition has declared against the proposal to submit the charges to a commission of judges. His proposal that the charges should be referred to a committee of the House will, we are convinced, not appeal to the sense of justice which we believe prevails in the country.

If the committee is to be impartial its members must be taken from the Judiciary and not from the Legislature. If the latter course were adopted, the commissioners would be selected from both sides of the House, with in all likelihood a majority of one or more on the Government side. And no matter how impartial the gentlemen composing it might be, it is only natural that where a point could be strained either in favour or against the accused Minister it would be, for the fate of the Government as well as the guilt or innocence of Mr. Stratton, depends upon the verdict of the commission. For this reason it must be insisted upon that the commission shall be selected from the Judiciary.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Two Cases That Were Run off This Morning.

At the Police Court to-day before Police Magistrate Dumble, Frank L. was charged with creating a disturbance at the Cavanagh Hotel on March 13th last. The accused pleaded not guilty. After a good deal of evidence had been heard, the accused was fined $2 and costs.

The second case at the Police Court was a case of assault.

George Carlton was charged with assaulting Edward Baldwin on St. Patrick's Day. In answer to the charge the accused pleaded not guilty. The plaintiff said that on the day in question, accused came to him with an unjust bill of $1.12. This, the plaintiff alleged was 62 cents more than it ought to have been. On plaintiff's refusal to pay, Carlton, it was alleged, hit him two or three times. Plaintiff's wife and a certain Mrs. Fair were witnesses in the case.

After several witnesses had been called, the Police Magistrate, finding the evidence insufficient, dismissed the case.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell defended the accused.

There will be a Police Court at 8 o'clock this evening.

OWEN MEREDITH.

A Dinner Speech of His That Elicited Howls of Derision.

I once sat at a banquet given in London by Wilson Barrett to Lawrence Barrett, says a writer in an English magazine. Earl Lytton presided, a curled, oiled, effeminate, supercilious fop. He had a Roman tragedy to sell to Wilson Barrett. That was why he came.

He eulogized Wilson Barrett in a speech. "I believe," he said, "that Mr. Barrett won some success with a piece called (consulting his notes) 'The Lights of London.' I suppose it was the work of some dramatic hack." George Sims sat facing him and never said a word.

Then his lordship went drawling on: "I next find on the list of Mr. Barrett's successes something called 'The Silver King.' Here again I know nothing of the authorship. The names of those dramatic carpenters do not interest me." At which Henry Arthur Jones glared and a flush came into the face of poor blind Henry Herman.

"Finally," said Lord Lytton, "Mr. Wilson Barrett has placed on his boards what he humorously calls a Roman tragedy. I refer to 'Claudian,' attributed to one W. G. Wills, of whom I have never heard." This was too much for the banqueters. All of them were personally acquainted with Irving's pet poet, the modest Wills. So they howled derisively.

And Earl Lytton's tragedy, produced a month later, was a dismal failure.

After Fifteen Months of Agonies and Sufferings Mrs. Allenton is Cured by Paine's Celery Compound

The Life-Saving Medicine is the Trusted Spring Remedy in Millions of Homes Throughout the World.

From time to time adventurers and speculators without conscience or soul, actuated only with a desire to make money easily and fast, resort to the compounding of worthless and dangerous preparations, and advertise them as cures for the common diseases that afflict men and women in springtime. Would to Heaven that the cry of danger! danger! could be sounded in the ears of all who unthinkingly buy and use such deceptions and frauds.

Fortunately, honest druggists despise such worthless remedies and refuse to sell them. They will tell you with candor that Paine's Celery Compound is the spring medicine they can recommend. They know its composition, are acquainted with the facts of marvellous cures effected by it, and have seen its happy results amongst their own personal friends.

Can you, reader, hesitate to try this disease-curing medicine? It has restored to health and the full enjoyment of life tens of thousands whom the doctors were unable to cure. Mrs. G. W. Allenton, St. John, N. B., gratefully writes as follows:

"Liver complaint and stomach troubles caused me agonies and continued suffering for fifteen months. The doctors did little for me as far as relief was concerned. I became despondent and low spirited and thought my end was approaching. I read of your Paine's Celery Compound, and thought I would try it. The first bottle did so much for me that I kept on using the compound till better. After paying for and using six bottles, I am in excellent health and gaining in flesh every week. Paine's Celery Compound for the future will be my family medicine."

Some Examples of "Nerve."

In a recent big libel case the foreman of the jury received a letter from a publican, apparently otherwise sane, asking him to insure that the jury should find for the defendant because he had a heavy bet on the result, and this astonishing epistle was read in court. It is interesting to note that the writer lost his bet anyhow. Equally bland was the request once made to Mr. Balfour during his premiership to have dismissed from the commission of the peace a justice who had very properly sentenced the author of the request, a notorious ruffian, to a stiff term of imprisonment for sending begging letters.—London Answers.

EFFECT OF THIRTY SIDES

By Richard Kann

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

Harrington had gone up spasmodically from small parts to leads. While he was playing in stock on the way up he had written a play. Of course the play was never produced. And about that time Harrington began to come down. His coming down had not been spasmodic. It had been certain and sure as fate. He seemed, however, able to hold a position as stage door keeper. He could be scared into coming around on time for successive weeks by the threat that he would be assigned to the billposter's forces.

And he was only thirty-five. Sometimes when he became very bad he would mumble something about "Eleanor." But mumblings about "Eleanor" didn't excuse his condition to Buscoe, who believed that there was no reason on earth good enough to keep a man away from the theater later than 7:30 and no trouble great enough to need an extended stay along a bar rail to drown it.

So Harrington, with all his brilliancy, all his artistic training and his wonderful mind that could absorb thirty sides in a night, got finally to be a back door keeper. It was only because he never attempted to excuse his conduct that Buscoe kept him at all. He was merely penitent after one of his periodical attacks.

And Harrington was the back door keeper when the company moved into New York for a run. He stood, book in hand, checking the company as it arrived for a rehearsal a day before the opening. Harrington got the note, with a doctor's certificate inclosed, telling that Temple, the leading man, had brain fever. He turned pale as he read it. He was that kind of a back door keeper.

Buscoe didn't turn pale, but every one who heard what he said a minute later did.

"Send a boy to the manager," he ordered. "Tell him Temple can't possibly go on tomorrow night. Tell him that unless he wants me to use a bad understudy we'll have to postpone the opening."

Harrington came over to him. "I haven't sent the boy yet," he said. "You know I can get up in that part by tomorrow night. Maybe they wouldn't know Temple wasn't playing it. If you'll let me"— He looked wistfully at Buscoe.

"You could, you know," said Buscoe kindly, "but it's too important. They've been banking on this New York opening. A set of good notices will carry them the rest of the season, and I'd rather postpone than take any chances."

Harrington went mechanically back to the door. Buscoe held the company until he heard from headquarters. "Use the understudy," said the note. "Can't possibly postpone."

Buscoe walked over to the call board. "Company called for all day rehearsal at 8 o'clock tomorrow," he wrote.

"Now, Harrington," he said kindly, "you take this part to my hotel and begin on it. If you're letter perfect by tomorrow morning, you go on in Temple's place. At 4 o'clock this afternoon I'll come over. We'll work on it all night."

The hotel people wondered next morning what had been going on in "42" during the night. Two men had left at 7:30 in the morning with a bar bill of $2 for black coffee. It had gone up regularly every thirty minutes since 4 o'clock. Around on the walls were pinned strips of paper with meaningless sentences written upon them. They took them down and read them curiously. They seemed to be passages chosen broadcast from a book.

They would have understood if they had known that the process of cramming thirty sides of typewritten manuscript into the brain of a man means that the brain must be stimulated with something and that strong coffee is the only harmless thing that will do it. They didn't know that a man's brain sometimes refuses to memorize past a certain amount, but that it will receive impressions of things seen. That was why some of the speeches Harrington couldn't get, although they were repeated to him endlessly, were written on strips of paper, pinned on the walls and stared at him through the night until they sank into his mind.

Buscoe had been cruelly insistent, but his methods had won out. Harrington, haggard and brain weary, went through the 8 o'clock rehearsal with but few hitches. Then Buscoe ran them through again and dismissed them at 12:30 with orders to report at 4 for a dress rehearsal. He dragged Harrington back to the hotel and again sent him over the part, this time with the business included.

He went on that night almost crazed. Forty-eight hours without sleep and not much nourishment but black coffee did it, but in his brain were the thirty sides.

He played the three acts without a break, and he played them as Harrington could when he wanted to. But his big scene didn't come until the fourth. It was strongly written and intensely emotional. It depicted a final parting from the woman he loved, in a set lighted by blue borders, with the foots low. The exit of the leading woman was the cue for the first speech.

Buscoe, all attention, stood in the side entrance as Harrington began. He was playing it low, but fiercely, acting it beautifully. He had the audience breathless. Suddenly Buscoe felt for the curtain signal.

"Heavens!" he said under his breath. "He's way off the text."

Out in the weird light of the blue borders Harrington raved on. Not a line he spoke had even been in the manuscript, but he talked of a parting from a woman. He was horribly earnest, and instead of cursing the woman he cursed himself. Buscoe jammed the signal. The big drop began to slide. Just then Harrington reeled across the stage and fell in a queer heap. The drop came down with a thud within a foot of his face.

Then from out in front came roar upon roar of applause. "They didn't know he was off," thought Buscoe.

"Harrington," he almost yelled, "get up! I'm going to give you a call alone!"

But Harrington was past curtain calls. They carried him to a dressing room and tucked him comfortably on a couch.

He was asleep when the woman asked for him. She was too well dressed to be asking for a man like Harrington, Buscoe thought. Still, he asked himself, how did she know that Harrington was on the bill? The programme said "Temple."

"Nobody here by that name," he told her.

"I know he is," she said quietly. "I was in the audience. I am Miss Burton. I have known Mr. Harrington a very long time."

"Are you 'Eleanor?'" asked Buscoe quickly.

"Yes," she said softly.

When he awakened, she was beside him. So was Buscoe. But Buscoe left at once. He only knew that when Harrington awakened and saw her beside him he seemed to take everything for granted.

She came out a little later and asked that some breakfast be sent in to him. "He will be able to act tonight, he says," she told Buscoe. "He'll tell you about us when you go in."

"I gather," said Buscoe, trying to be diplomatic, "that you are what ailed him."

"But I didn't know it," she replied, "until last night."

Superstition About Cats.

In the Monferrato it is believed that all the cats who wander about upon the roofs during the month of February are really witches, whom it is lawful and even necessary to shoot. A German superstition has it that if a black cat sits upon the bed of a sick man it is a presage of his death, while if after his decease it is seen upon his grave it is enough to arouse doubts as to the locality to which his soul has departed. In Hungary it is thought that cats generally become witches between the ages of seven and twelve years. A French belief concerning the cat is that if the animal be carried in a cart and the wind blow from it to the horses they immediately fall tired. If any part of the horseman's clothing be made of cat's skin, the horse will feel as though it carried a double burden. In other countries, however, superstition is favorable rather than adverse to the cat. A variant of the famous story of the Kilkenny cats is found in Piedmont, the cats being, however, replaced by wolves.

"Exactly Suited To My Case"

Says Mr. Baker, and He Voices the Opinion of Hosts of Kidney Sufferers Regarding

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It frequently happens that people who are cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have previously experimented with other medicines without obtaining the desired results, and consequently a great many make use of this expression, "exactly suited to my case."

The action of this great medicine is so wonderfully prompt and direct, and the effects so marked that people naturally feel that it is particularly suited to their case. Time has proven the merits of this preparation, and consequently it has attained an enormous sale.

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pain in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work, and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 641 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering.

"I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally take a pill in order to keep my bowels regular."

MISS SADIE E. RUSK, OF RUSKVILLE, ONT., HAS A TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Ruskville, Ont., March 1st, 1902.—It affords me much pleasure to testify to the excellency of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. About a year ago I was attacked by a hacking cough. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP highly recommended for coughs like mine, so I purchased a bottle, and it completely cured me. I find it equally beneficial for colds in the head, and any obstruction of the nasal passages. It is an excellent preparation, and too much cannot be said in its favor.—Sadie E. Rusk.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP contains all the essential lung healing principles of the pine tree, and is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pain or Tightness of the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

LIBERALS HOLD SEATS.

Election Petitions Against Dr. Routledge, East Middlesex, and Mr. A. G. McKay, North Grey, Have Been Dismissed.

Toronto, March 19. — The East Middlesex election petition against the return of Dr. George A. Routledge, Liberal, was yesterday dismissed by Justice Maclennan and Chief Justice Falconbridge. The North Grey petition has also been dismissed by Justice Maclennan, and A. G. McKay, Liberal, is also safe.

In the East Middlesex petition, the Conservatives failed on every one of the 185 charges entered. There can be no appeal, either, the rules not permitting an appeal when the petition fails.

The judgment holds that neither separately nor collectively was corrupt intent shown in any instances which were proved either on the part of the respondent or his agents. The petition is therefore dismissed with costs.

McKay Is Safe.

In the North Grey petition, there were two petitions before the court, one by the respondent to have the petition taken off the files or to stay the proceedings for irregularity; and the other a motion by the petitioner, G. M. Boyd, to extend the time for leaving a copy of the petition with the local registrar. It was the omission to leave a copy of the petition at the proper time with the registrar that caused the dismissal.

PREMIER EXPLAINS.

Reasons for Mr. Tarte's Retirement Announced.

A CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION

Cabinet Unity and Essential of Government—Mr. Tarte's Construction of Mr. Fielding's Budget Speech Incorrect—Mr. Tarte Declares He Offered His Resignation to the Premier.

Ottawa, March 19.—The Ministerial explanations were made in the House yesterday, and gave rise to a debate which lasted until 10 o'clock. Owing to the publication of the correspondence between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte at the time of Mr. Tarte's resignation, the nature of the statements to be made was generally understood, but still the greatest interest was taken in the debate. Sir Wilfrid made a plain presentation of the constitutional questions involved, and enlarged upon the facts set forth in the letter to Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Tarte, in his reply, defended himself along the lines of his Orillia speech, and insisted that he had resigned before Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that even if Mr. Tarte's construction of Mr. Fielding's budget speech were correct, which he denied, the ex-Minister should by constitutional practice await the formal announcement by the Finance Minister of the intention of the Government to revise the tariff.

Mr. Tarte in his rejoinder insisted that the Finance Minister had given a pledge by inference, and incidentally intimated that the personal friendship between himself and the Premier had not been broken by the incident, which, so far as he was concerned, was closed.

Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, commented upon the explanation of the Premier as unsatisfactory, and not disclosing the real cause of the changes. He also asked for a statement of the tariff policy of the Government, a request which the Premier pointed out was not at all germane to the discussion.

Mr. Fielding, Mr. Maclean, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Monk, Mr. Bell of Pictou, and Mr. Osler followed, and the House adjourned at 10.30.

Artist and Tradesman.

Although he had been only a few days in this country, says a New York paper, Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the artist, has already had a taste of American progressiveness in advertising.

Just before leaving for a visit to Washington, Sir Philip received a circular letter from a firm engaged in the sale of dried fruit, inviting him to compete for a prize to be given for the best design to be used in advertising their wares. Only one prize, the circular stated, was to be given, and all unsuccessful drawings were to become the property of the firm. After reading the circular, and not to be outdone by the audacious request, Sir Philip sat down and wrote the following letter in reply:

"Manager Dried Fruit Company:

"Dear Sir,—I am offering a prize of 50 cents for the best specimen of dried fruit, and should be glad to have you take part in the competition. Twelve dozen boxes of each kind of fruit should be sent for examination, and all fruit that is not adjudged worthy of the prize will remain the property of the undersigned. It is also requested that the charges on the fruit so forwarded be paid by the sender.

"Yours very truly,
"P. BURNE-JONES,"

Canada's New Era.

Canada is on the threshold of a new era in her development, and she may legitimately look to the Mother Country, with its large population and accumulated wealth, to assist her in the task of defending her political and economical integrity, and of strengthening her position as an integral portion of the British Empire."—London Morning Post.

The crowning joy of womanhood is motherhood and the crowning joy of motherhood is to have healthy children. But there can be no joy in motherhood without health, and without health for the mother there can be no health for the child.

It is of vital importance for women to know that the health of mother and child is in general entirely within woman's control. The thousands of women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when expecting motherhood, have testified that it made them healthy and happy in the days of waiting, made the baby's advent practically painless, and gave them health to give their children.

Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm (Knowsburg Center), Enosburg, Vt., writes: "During the past year I found myself expecting maternity, and in rapidly failing health. I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. Took twelve bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Tenant's Revenge.

In revenge for his landlord's refusal to paint his house an Antwerp tenant has hung out this text: "At the Sign of the Dirty Front."

A MARINE AUTOCRAT.

The Captain of the Battleship and His Absolute Authority.

Over the vast establishment rules the captain in supreme and isolated authority. All his accomplishments must be those of the seaman, for he directs the movements of the ship in all evolutions and his decision upon all professional points is final. His responsibility at all times is grave and exacting. In time of war it will strain the stoutest nerves. In the hour of battle it is nothing short of appalling when he stands alone in his conning tower, having control of all the tremendous forces lying latent in his ship only to be released at the proper moment by a touch of his hand. He is the guiding spirit of an enormous projectile of 15,000 tons that rushes through the water at a speed, it may be, of fifteen knots, and he knows that the slightest mistake of his head or heart may mean a national disaster.

But besides being the naval and military chief of the establishment he is a lawyer—a kind of justice of the peace, as it were, who holds court every morning, investigates reports of misdemeanors and assigns punishment to the guilty. The delinquents are brought to the "mast"—the quarter deck—with their accusers. Both sides are heard, and swift judgment usually follows. In this capacity it will be noted that the captain is court, judge and jury. Not infrequently he acts as clergyman and as such is the bishop of his diocese, acknowledging no ecclesiastical superior, reading the service on Sundays, officiating at the burial of his dead and in the old days occasionally marrying lovers.—Lieutenant Commander Gleaves in World's Work.

A Case of Interpretation.

"What shall we do with the prisoner?" demanded the spokesman of the mob. "Do thou, O royal chamberlain, haste to the presence of his majesty and learn his wish."

The royal chamberlain hurried to the presence and bowed himself thrice to the floor; then he asked the monarch's pleasure regarding the desperate outlaw.

"Away with him!" said the king in a loud, harsh voice.

But the chamberlain was something of a humorist, and when he returned to the mob he laughingly announced that in regard to the misdoings with the prisoner the king had said only that it was "a way with him."

Whereupon the mob reluctantly released their quarry.

But in trying to explain the joke to the obtuse king the royal chamberlain became confused and completely lost his head.

Color of Judas' Hair.

In very early times all pictures of Judas were shown with great shocks of red hair falling down well on the shoulders. This and the fact that the Judas in the "Miracle Plays" was provided with a red hirsute worked the superstitious people of the middle ages up to such a degree that it was actually unsafe for a red haired person to appear in company. Seeing that things were coming to a serious pass, writers of all classes began to rebuke and denounce "the senseless prejudice against those of lively colored hair." Cyrano de Bergerac in his "States and Empires of the Sun" boldly praised and glorified the despised color in the following words: "A brave head covered with red hair is nothing else but the sun in the midst of his rays, yet many speak ill of it because few have the honor to be so."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 19, 2.30 p.m.—Letter—Market showed further disposition to improve to-day, and were it not for uncertainty as to the outcome of contest between Mr. Keene's bull pool and the Harriman interests for control of S. P., the speculation would have been on a broader scale, and further advances recorded. For some days the market has shown distinctive evidence of having been practically sold out by the generality of commission houses as well as traders and largely oversold by the professional element and following in the recent bear movement and with money conditions easing up all around in a natural way from high rates of interest attracting a large amount of funds here from East and West, general sentiment has been materially stimulated and the general effect has been rather to hasten the covering movement among the shorts and stimulate some new buying. This latter movement has not been very pronounced as yet, but it has been increasing the last few days, and with the elimination of S. P. episode, and one or two more good bank statements, it would increase materially and lead to a further general improvement in prices. At the start to-day there was a good deal of hesitation manifested but when assurances were given that no corner was contemplated in S.P., and that the closing of the transfer books, which was due to-morrow, had been extended to April 3rd, to permit the delivery here in time of something like 50,000 shares of stock that recently had been sold for foreign account, to be delivered here and recorded, this feeling of apprehension was discounted. Later with subtreasury statement that banks had lost only $504,000 in cash against $4,000000, for same period last week, stimulated expectations of a good bank statement this week, and there was general buying, under lead of St Paul, L.N., B.O., Atch., U.P., R I, C.P.R., and whole list gradually worked up in sympathy. Call money was abundant at 5 1-2 to 6 per cent.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 19th. — S. Pac. has made a new high price for this movement. I have nothing important to add to previous remarks on this stock. In my judgment Keene holds the winning card.

Harriman will probably be forced to compromise or lose control of the property. Keene controls an overwhelming majority of the floating supply. It will be a great stroke for Keene if he can induce the U. Pac. people to take over publicly the pool holdings at 70 and privately purchase the individual holdings at 80 or 90. However, I understand, and from a prominent pool member, that it was agreed early Wednesday morning that the pool would be extended up to Dec. 31st. As my case against Taylor and Co. will be decided in court before that time and as quite a number of other dissatisfied members will await a verdict in my favour before bringing similar actions, the case is somewhat further complicated. Everybody advised profit taking Wednesday, but market closed a point or so higher. Well if they are good and strong up towards noon you might take profits wherever you see them, as there ought to be some reaction by Friday.

RIDGELEY.

New York, March 19. — The S. P. fight is on in the stock market and we believe it would be well for traders to be conservative on their operations to-day. There is an unconfirmed report to the effect that Keene is short of the general market and long of S. Pac. on the theory that if he forces the latter stock sensationally the rest of the list will decline. In any event we do not expect to see an extended drop for the reason that the public is not in the market and large interests are prepared to extend report. All other conditions favour improvement. Do not wait long for profits in S. Pac. If you bought yesterday on our advice. T.C.I., R.I., Manh., L.N, Erie.s and American smelters are ready to advance. The early London market for Americans was heavy.

TOPICS.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 18. — Stocks opened dull and irregular and almost immediately assumed a strong tone under the leadership of the Pacific stocks together with sugar and T.C.I. It is however, evident that most of buying comes from the shorts and there is a large line yet to be covered. This in a sense is a group that should hold the market strong for a while, but as soon as this demand is satisfied we look to see prices return to about the low levels made a few days ago. It would be as well to secure profits and to wait for a reaction.

A story which was circulated that the pool in Reading had resulted, resumed operations on the bull side and explanation being offered to explain the recent firmness in Reading common. This was thought to be very unlikely, particularly as there would seem no motive for booming minority stocks and its expected adverse developments in the coal trade are reasonably certain. The decision of the anthracite board of arbitration is expected any day now, and should it not prove sufficient attractive to the miners it is likely they will make further trouble. The bituminous miners who are in session at Altoona, Pa., have received the ultimatum of the operations refusing the granting of an 8-hour day. Copper early displayed good strength but later on sold off on profit taking. S.P. continued strong and was heavily taken by the interests prominent in this stock. T.C.I. was also a strong feature. N.Y.C. has been a laggard in this rally one decision was handed down yesterday for $70,000 on account of the tunnel accident. These large judgments against the company have as much to do with the weakness of the stock as many of the arguments lately advanced.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of the mother, says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially woman's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and insures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

ABOUT THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

Practical Side of the Yukon-Alaska Question.

THE TREATY WITH RUSSIA.

The Survey That was Made by Mr. Ogilvie.

The Vast Deposits of Copper, Iron, Coal and Marble—About "Soapy Smith."

In view of the important place the Alaska-Yukon Boundary Dispute is now occupying in the minds of the people, the Examiner has much pleasure in re-producing from the Empire Review, an interesting article upon that subject. The Empire Review says:

The settlement of the Alaska-Yukon Boundary Dispute was indefinitely postponed by the action of the United States Commissioners in refusing to negotiate except upon an impossible condition. So far as the Yukon is concerned, the ownership of the towns and settlements at tidewater, Skagway, Dyea, and Haine's Mission, forms the chief points at issue. The stipulation that Great Britain should yield to the other side in advance any claims she might be able to establish to the "towns and settlements at tide-water settled under the authority of the United States"—that she should solemnly enter upon prolonged international litigation before a tribunal with which she had already filed a consent-judgment against herself—brought deadlock.

Our attempts to secure fair treatment in the matter of the Alaska-Canada boundary, although extremely persistent, have been singularly unsuccessful. Possession of Alaska under the Treaty with Russia of March, 1867, was obtained in October of the same year. Five years later Canada called attention to the necessity of delimitating the international boundary. For thirty years, almost annually, the request has been renewed. Events occurring from time to time brought ever-increasing support to the Canadian contention. In 1876, a Canadian convict being brought down the Stickine, escaped while on the strip and was re-captured, but after conviction at Victoria, he was released on the advice of the Foreign Office, at the request of Secretary Fish. The Bishop of Selkirk in 1893 called attention to the condition of affairs in the Yukon. There was no Government authority of any sort on the British or the United States side of the boundary. Miners' meetings constituted the sole tribunal. There were two hundred miners in the territory, and the Indians had learned from them the secret of making whiskey. Drunkenness was rife amongst the whites and Indians, with much danger from the use of fire-arms. The shedding of blood on one side or the other—the law of the Yukon Indian is "blood for blood"—might at any moment precipitate a deadly war of races. The country was reported generally as being rich in gold, and yet it was impossible to say on which side of the boundary the mines were situate. All these, and other matters, pointed to the imperative necessity for a magistrate, a police force, and a place of confinement for prisoners in the Upper Yukon district. But there was no international boundary line, and the Government replied that "the doubt respecting the location of the boundary line should also cause hesitation, as an attempt to enforce Canadian laws might at any moment result in international complications."

In the year following, Mr. C. H. Hamilton, secretary and assistant manager of the North American Transportation and Trading Company, then doing business at Fort Cudahy, informed the Government that whiskey was being manufactured in great quantities at Fort Cudahy, and trouble between was bound to result. From Miller Creek alone a quarter of a million dollars had been taken out in the previous summer, and the outlook for gold was most encouraging. There was immediate necessity for a collector of customs, a collector of inland revenue, and police protection. The United States Government was sending customs officers into the territory. The trading companies intended to import 1000 tons of merchandise, which they would willingly purchase from Canada if police protection were afforded. This communication had the desired effect, and it was decided to send an inspector of mounted police and one non-commissioned officer of the force, the inspector to "exercise discreetly, but without risk of complications, the powers conferred upon him by his several commissions."

Father Barnum, a missionary just returned from Alaska, published a flaming interview in the Boston Transcrip, which gave rise to much bitter international feeling. The English were trying to steal Alaska. The people of the United States, ignorant of the value of its vast territory, knew it only as "Seward's Ice Chest." The English were trying to filch Glacier Bay, and many fine harbours. Alaska in her fish canneries alone, had done in the previous year alone, a business of $3,000,000, and the greater part of them were situate in the strip in dispute. The untouched forests of the section were greater than any in the United States. Their vast deposits of iron, copper, coal and marble, also by Canadian survey parties, and Alaska would be despoiled of the Treadwell mining property, the Hayward Lane and the Silver Bow. Next day General Duffield, Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, exploded Father Barnum's story, but not before passions had been aroused that could never have been appealed to had there been no boundary question to excite them.

A survey made by Mr. Ogilvie, and afterwards practically acknowledged by the United States Government, transferred the town of Forty Mile—at that time an organized United States town—from Alaska to Canada.

The discovery of the famous placers of Bonanza Creek, in the Klondike, precipitated the rush of 1897-98. The news first reached Forty Mile, Circle City and Fort Yukon in the interior, and Juneau, Wrangel and Sitka on the coast. Next it was flashed to Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco. All except Forty Mile were United States cities or towns, and even it had been organized as an Alaska settlement. Many thousands of United States citizens essayed the crags and passes at Skagway and Dyea. In September, 1897, over three thousand horses and pack animals lay dead in the White Pass, and in the spring following this number had increased to seven thousand—almost a sufficient number lying head and tail to stretch from Skagway to Bennett. The trail from Dyea to the Scales at the foot of the Chilkoot Pass was strewn with similar dealt out in the rush for gold. The White Pass had somewhat the appearance of Waterloo after the battle, as described by Victor Hugo.

The fleet of boats and scows hastily made from whip-sawed spruce, packed Bennett, Nares, Tagish, Marsh and LeBarge, with the continuity of a pontoon bridge. The sails of myriads of craft, of every shape and design, were almost as numerous as the white crests of the waves. Bennett, near the coast, and Dawson, the gate to the gold fields, became great United States town on Canadian soil, vast settlements of aliens in British territory, to be subjected to the requirements of British law and order in a country with a disputed territory, some of which might belong to the United States as a matter of fact, and all of which would belong to Alaska, if the wishes of the governed could have availed anything at the time. The difficulties of customs collections, of police control, of administering the criminal law, of legislative action, of a thousand things, of the practical side of an international boundary dispute under the most exciting and dangerous conditions, at once became evident, and have been emphasized ever since.

"Soapy" Smith and his gang of bandits, could never have terrorized a town of several thousand people had Skagway been within Canadian jurisdiction, nor could they have carried on so successfully in the United States had it not been for the close proximity for foreign soil. The tearing of the British flag from the Canadian Customs House at Skagway within the year, and the occurrences of last winter, when a futile attempt was made to organize a conspiracy, the formation of "The Order of the Midnight Sun," to obtain possession by force of the Yukon territory, should be sufficient to show both side to the dispute that in postponing its settlement, the danger point has been more than once reached. If it were important that the question should have been settled before, it is doubly doubly important to-day. We are no longer concerned with an evanescent camp, a vanishing industry that will soon abandon a vast territory to the solitude from which it was awakened only yesterday. If the Yukon were nothing more than this, there would be few practical inconveniences in a boundary dispute. But the territory is 198,000 square miles in extent—70,000 square miles larger than England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. It is watered by 7,000 miles of streams, many of which are gold-bearing, and all may contain gold in their sands and gravels. It is crammed with natural resources—at White Horse and on the White River, with copper, on the Pelly at Five Fingers, at Rock Creek, at Cliff Creek, at White Horse and elsewhere, with coal.

The balance of this interesting article will appear in future issues.

NOW KILLING TIME.

Opposition Threaten to Use Up All Next Week Talking.

THE INTEREST IS WANING.

The Gamey Charges Still—Mr. Sam Clarke's Eight-Voiced Speech—Mr. Henry Carscallen and Mr. W. J. Hanna Also Speak—Very Quiet Day at the Legislature — The Debate Adjourned.

Toronto, March 20.—Interest has waned in the long debate in the Legislature on the motion to refer the Gamey charges to a commission. The galleries yesterday were not so crowded, and the speeches, while far from uninteresting, lacked the zest which accompanies an attack on a new subject. The indications point to a discussion lasting well into next week, if not to the end, by which time the Opposition, who are doing most of the talking, will have exhausted both their speakers and their ammunition.

Mr. Carscallen.

Mr. Carscallen (East Hamilton) after expressing sympathy to the Lieut.-Governor and reviewing the events which culminated in the Gamey charges, said:

The Government proposed to delegate the duties of the House to two judges of the High Court. The Act was never intended to apply to a case that involved the life or death of an administration. We had the remarkable spectacle of the Ministry of the day advising the Lieutenant-Governor as to the manner of trial and then dictating the tribunal before which it should be tried.

The resolution contained certain provisions for the protection of ministers—it was certainly convenient to prepare one's own mode of trial. It was said that if the case went to a committee of the House, incriminating evidence could be compelled from the witnesses. But the House could protect the witnesses by resolution or by other means so that they could not be proceeded against elsewhere. In the Larkin-Connolly case the justices had declared that no mandamus could be issued to compel the production of evidence adduced before a committee. The speaker quoted from a Dominion Act enacted after this case, specifically stating that the House did not relinquish its right to protect witnesses.

The commission stated that though incriminating evidence might be adduced, it could not be used in any criminal prosecution afterwards. He would ask the Attorney-General what he meant by that.

It needed high moral courage on the part of the member for Manitoulin to take this course, and the protection of the House should be thrown about him. If the matter was given to a commission, it would be by a straight party vote. If it were given to a committee, it would protect the country from high crimes of this nature, because it would be known that the matter would be subjected to the strong searchlight of public enquiry.

Mr. Clarke's Reproof.

Mr. Sam. Clarke (West Northumberland) congratulated Mr. Carscallen upon his speech, which, he said, was quite out of the ordinary. He could not say so much of all the hon. gentlemen opposite. When the hon. member for Manitoulin made his charges nearly every desk opposite was in danger of being broken by the fists of the hon. gentlemen as they applauded with glee. Were those plaudits fitting? Were these the men to whom we should look for an impartial hearing of these charges? He asked whether they were to accept the truth of the hon. member for Manitoulin's statement unreservedly. In view of the hon. gentleman's manner of obtaining his proofs he himself had some hesitation. He could not say anything as to the hon. gentleman's character, but for his own part, when a man once told him an untruth he was not in the habit of believing him a second time. The hon. member had obtained much of his evidence by using untruths. There were some parts in the hon. gentleman's statement that he did not believe. There was the statement of Gamey about the $8,000 he says he got from the Provincial Secretary. This money had been handed to Gamey by others, and yet he says the Provincial Secretary told him the denomination of the bills. If the Provincial Secretary would go so far as to tell Gamey the denominations of the bills, why would he not have given him the money without any round-about process? Was it reasonable?

"When I say I don't believe him, am I a fit judge? There's not a member on this side who does believe him." It was not manly for Gamey to return only $500 of the $4,000 that had been paid him to transfer his allegiance. Mr. Stratton he knew to be a man who stood high among his people. He (Mr. Clarke) was prepared to stand in the House and defend the honor of a man who was not yet convicted. He demanded that the Provincial Secretary be granted a fair trial.

Who Should Be Believed.

W. J. Hanna, West Lambton, said he entertained towards the Premier only feelings of high regard. Knowing the Premier as he did, he felt that he (Mr. Ross) would not have put his great abilities to the uses he had, if he had known of the methods that had been employed to keep his party in office.

It was in bad taste, he thought, for the last speaker to brand the member for Manitoulin as a liar, because he was not known to the members of the House until last week. Must a member be in the House one session before he is entitled to credit? Gamey's name was good enough in Manitoulin, and throughout the Province. (Applause.) He regretted as much as anyone in the House that Mr. Gamey had found it necessary to make that damning impeachment of the Provincial Secretary, an impeachment which included other members of the Government, as well.

The Premier had done well when he said on the floor of the House on Wednesday last, that he would give the House a special committee or the Committee on Privileges and Elections. He was taking the constitutional course. And when the Provincial Secretary tendered his resignation to the Premier, he knew he was doing what the constitution demanded. Why was the resignation not accepted? It was because the same considerations were presented to the Cabinet as are being presented to the House, in favor of a trial by the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

The Legislature had a right to expect from every member involved an absolute and categorical denial of the charges adduced. If the resignation of the Provincial Secretary had been accepted, it would have been his right to sit silent. But, since it has not been, and since other members of the Cabinet are still in their positions, the position was that they, the executive of the Province, stand impeached. The impeached members could run no possible risk by giving explanations of the charges brought against them. The House was entitled to an explanation, or the Government must resign. If they have any denial to make, it would be entitled to more weight now than six weeks hence, when the trial would, in all probability, be concluded.

Mr. Hanna moved the adjournment of the debate, and it was agreed that there should be no night session, owing to the banquet to Mr. Conmee, which a number of the members desired to attend.

A FOLDING ORGAN.

Members of the "Y" Enjoy Spring to Get One.

There is now on exhibition at the Y.M.C.A. a folding organ which the bens are endeavouring to secure for the association for use in meetings outside the building, as well as for camp work.

The instrument weighs but 35 lbs. and can be easily carried, as it folds up into oblong shape. It gives splendid music, and has double reeds, and was made by a Chicago firm.

It is much needed by the association and anyone who would like to have a part in it are asked to leave contributions at the office or with any member of the committee. A special price of $35 has been obtained on it, though the list price is $45.

The basketball match proceeds tomorrow evening are being contributed to give the folding organ fund a start.

The following committee has been appointed to take charge of the fund: H. McCullough, W. Madill, W. Kennedy, S. Taylor and W. D. Campbell, treasurer.

ABOUT THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

Practical Side of the Yukon-Alaska Question.

THE TREATY WITH RUSSIA.

The Survey That was Made by Mr. Ogilvie.

The Vast Deposits of Copper, Iron, Coal and Marble—About "Soapy Smith."

In view of the important place the Alaska-Yukon Boundary Dispute is now occupying in the minds of the people, the Examiner has much pleasure in re-producing from the Empire Review, an interesting article upon that subject. The Empire Review says:

There were only small boats on the Upper Yukon in 1897, but a fleet of steamships valued at $1,000,000 is there to-day. The combined fleets of the upper and lower river are worth $2,500,000. Steamers ply on the Stewart, Pelly, Salmon and Tahkeena Rivers as well as on the Lewis. The White Pass Railway has been constructed from Skagway to White Horse to take the place of the mountain trails, the canyons, and the rapids. The Creeks Railway is now in course of construction from Dawson City over the Dominion Dome eighty miles to the Indian River mining country. Thirty-six thousand tons of freight were carried into the territory last year as against 1,000 tons, Mr. Hamilton's estimate for 1894. Dawson City, a collection of tents in 1894, was assessed in 1901 at $11,648,000, and White Horse, Grand Forks, and other mining towns have shown equal progress. Cities with regular streets, great warehouses, immense departmental stores, extensive Government buildings, pavements, good roads, telegraph, telephone, and messenger services, electric lighting and power, magnificent shops and hotels, churches and hospitals, theatres and newspapers, banks and clubs, have taken the places of the cluster of huts of four years ago.

The reduction of the cost of transportation on the Creeks from twenty-five cents per pound to three cents, of labour from $16 a day in 1898 to $4.50 and board, and of supplies from the phenomenal prices of 1898 to of to-day, has cheapened the cost of mining and multiplied the profitable gold mining area by ten. Thawing machines, steam shovels, conveyers, dredging and hydraulicking, have driven out the old and primitive systems of mining. In six years the country has produced $80,000,000 of gold, and $20,000,000 worth of railways, roads, public buildings, and permanent improvements. The climate has proved suitable to agriculture, vegetables to the value of $100,000 were grown around Dawson City last year, and next year the territory will be self-supporting in this respect. Barley, oats, and timothy are easily produced. Finally, farms are being sold to the settler; the families of miners and agriculturists are rapidly following them to their new homes, and schools, churches, and all the institutions of a permanent civilization are everywhere to be seen.

Mr. J. H. Ross, Commissioner of the Territory, reports to the Minister of the Interior: "With regard to the production of gold, I look for its continuance for many years." The representative of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on Trade Conditions and Prospects in the Yukon, rM. S. Morley Wickett, says: "The camp will remain an important one for many years—how many no one can say." Mr. George Anderson, Commissioner for the Dominion Government to examine into the Yukon trade, sees a great agricultural as well as mining future for the territory. Millions of acres are susceptible of cultivation. The country will, in time, supply its own food. Mr. Henry A. Myers, Professor of Mineralogy in the tells us that "a comparatively small portion of even the Klondike district has been worked out.....There remains the whole Yukon territory, which is certainly auriferous over considerable areas." Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner for the Dominion of Canada in England, speaks of it as: "A great country, possessing 'great resources,' which will endure," and Sir Frederick Young finds it "difficult indeed to realise that such advance had been made in so short a time."

In the meantime our neighbours add injury to insult. While refusing arbitration they remain in possession of the ground in dispute. Father Barnum is said to have stated that Alaska during 1894 in her fish canneries alone did a business of fully $8,000,000, the greater part in the disputed territory. Mr. Alexander Begg reports to the Attorney-General of British Columbia that United States canneries have been established with the following capacities:—Ketchikan, 32,000 cases; Pyramid Harbour, 50,000; Chilkoot, 15,000; Klamak, 28,000; Hunter's Bay, 60,000; Ylos Bay, 32,000; Loring, 68,000; Netlakahth, 20,000; Wrangel Narrows, 100,000 and 200,000 lbs. of halibut; Pritchard's Cove, 12,000 barrels; Wrangel, 87,000; Taku, 12,000; Sunny Bay, Taku Inlet, 10,000. "If," adds Mr. Begg, "Great Britain under the Treaty be entitled to the sovereignty of the north-west coast and frontier of British Columbia, east of Ten Marines boundary from the ocean coast, let the matter in dispute be settled, our rights be confirmed and our legitimate trade established." Since then many other United States canneries have been established on the strip. For thirty years we have been in the position of litigants over an estate worth millions, but without a receiver, possession remaining in the with full liberty to exploit the substance at will.

In trade, although Skagway, Dyea and Haine's Mission, according to the Canadian contention, are clearly well within Canadian territory, they have been erected into United States ports of entry, and we are prevented from entering our own territory, except by complying with United States Customs regulations. According to Mr. George Anderson, in his report to the Minister of Trade and Commerce in 1898, only ten per cent. of the Yukon trade was Canadian, while 67 per cent. was the proportion for the year ending June 1902. Of a total trade of $5,568,512, Canada supplied $3,721,593; and other countries, $1,846,910. This year 20,000 tons of freight have passed over the White Pass Railway, consigned to Dawson alone. Canadian goods shipped from, say Vancouver, to Dawson require to be accompanied by a certified invoice and copy of the bill of lading consigned to the Pacific and Arctic Railway and Navigation Company, to enable it to execute a bond for twice the value of the goods, required by the United States Government before the goods can be loaded on the cars. The cost of the bond and the charge for preparing the necessary papers is paid by the Canadian shipper. Should the required copy of invoice and bill of lading be not forthcoming, the goods are held by the United States Customs pending their arrival. Should any portion of a shipment be left over in Vancouver and come forward on a following steamer, the at Skagway until another copy of the certified invoice and bill of lading is received. Should a shipper in taking stock consigned from Vancouver to Dawson have ten bales of hay and ten bags of feed on his arrival at Skagway, which had not been used on the trip, he will not be allowed to bond it into Canadian territory, on the ground that it does not appear upon the vessel's inward report. He is made to pay duty. On the contrary, should he use ten bales of hay and ten bags of feed on the trip he must pay duty on the ground that it was used in United States waters. Should there be a shortage in goods consigned—they may have fallen off the ship or disappeared otherwise—the Canadian shipper must pay the duty. If stock dies in transit full duty must be paid, and be added to the loss of the shipper.

Let me give a few specific instances of the United States Customs law as it has been recently enforced in Skagway. Potatoes consigned to Ketchikan were stowed for Skagway by mistake. It would have been much cheaper to carry them to Skagway and return them to Ketchikan on the down trip, than to disturb the cargo. Permission to do this was refused, and the boat was threatened with $400 fine. In a shipment of oats from Victoria to Dawson, there was an excess of six sacks, which the ship proposed to sell on account of charges. The six sacks had to be landed and pay duty. A carrier in any part of the world is allowed to open goods and survey the extent of damage before allowing them to go forward. This privilege has been refused at Skagway. Even should a cow calve while en route the shipper must pay excess.

All these and many other exactions must the Canadian shipper submit to while the boundary remains unsettled. On the other hand, United States vessels trading between calling at Vancouver or Victoria, and running for days in Canadian waters, are not required to report outward from Canadian waters at Port Simpson, B.C. Duty is not collected upon food consumed by stock in British waters, nor upon animals in transit dying in Canadian waters, nor upon too adventurous calves ignorant of our neighbour's customs regulations. Certified copies of invoices and bills of lading are not required. Only the railway manifest and the vessel's inward and outward report are scrutinised. The Canadian Government enforces a mild commercial customs against foreign goods, while the Canadian is forced not only to bond his goods over a disputed strip into his own territory, but to submit to an almost preventive customs as well.

THE LOCAL GOLD REGION.

Rumoured that Ledyard Gold Mine Will be Re-opened.

Work on the Extension of the C. B. and N. R. R. to be Commenced.

Cordova, March 18.

It is rumoured that the Ledyard Gold Mine, situated a half mile south of this village, and which has been closed down for the past five years, is to be re-opened under an option obtained by American capitalists, whose representatives are now examining the property, plant, etc.

Preparations are being made to commence work on the extension of the O. B. and N. R. R., northward from Cordova. This road is eventually to connect with the B. of Q. R. R., and tap the mineral and timber lands of the northern parts of Peterborough and Hastings counties, but it is proposed to extend it gradually and only some six or seven miles will be built this season.

Mr. P. Kirkgaerd, of Delora, Manager Canadian Gold Fields Co., was a visitor at Cordova last week, and the guest of Mr. D. G. Kerr, Manager Belmont Gold Mine.

Mr. J. T. Evans, master mechanic, Belmont Gold Mine, has accepted a situation elsewhere and took his departure last Saturday.

One milliner was enough to supply the wants of Cordova last season. This season we are to have two, and and the ladies think this an evidence of progress.

The Foresters' "At Home," which is to take place on the evening of March 24th, is being looked forward to as the society event of the season.

The many friends of Mrs. Thos. Rogers, wife of the genial foreman of the Belmont Mines stamp mill, will be pleased to hear that she has passed successfully through a critical operation, and is now convalescent.

Sidewalks will be laid in the village this spring, and both residents and visitors will welcome the change from paths covered with several inches of sand.

SHE ESCAPED THE KNIFE.

Ten Months of Peace After Dreadful Suffering.

Operations are becoming a fad; every young man, as soon as he is graduated from a medical college, considers himself capable of undertaking the most serious and complicated surgical work, and hundreds of lives are sacrificed annually to this mad frenzy of incompetent men, to rush into work which should only be undertaken as a last resort, and then only by the most experienced and careful surgeons.

It is a pleasure, in view of these facts, to read the following letter from a woman who has been saved from one of these dangerous operations. "I know I should have informed you long ago regarding my case of piles and the good done me, and I believe I am cured. Last December I sent for your book. I have never been bothered since then, and before I had suffered for the last eleven years, and at the time I wrote I had given birth to a child, and they came down with the delivery of the child by the handful. I could not get them back and I suffered everything; and the doctor said nothing but an operation would ever relieve me; but I read of your remedy in our daily newspaper and I told my husband to get me a box and I would give it a trial before consenting to the knife, and thanks be to your wonderful medicine, I was saved from the operating table.

Every person suffering from piles that my husband and myself hear of, we recommend your wonderful medicine. I just used one $1.00 box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and two boxes of Pyramid Ointment and two boxes of Pyramid Pills, and I was, I hope, completely cured. If they ever show the slightest return I will certainly get some more medicine, but I hardly think I will need any more for it will be a year the 8th day of December since I had them and that makes it ten months and past now. Thanking you again and wishing you abundant success, I remain, Mrs. S. Hodgson, 105 W. 11th street, Des Moines, Iowa."

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price, by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. Write this firm for little book describing the cause and cure of Piles.

FROM MT. PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mt. Pleasant, March 18.

The pastor of the Methodist church delivered an exceedingly interesting and practical discourse from the words, "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come."

Mr. Mounteer has been ill with a cold but is improving.

There are a great many in this locality complaining and suffering from colds, caused very likely by the great change in the weather. For the past two weeks the weather has been almost like spring. The wild geese are seen on their journey to the northern lakes, and the robin is to be seen and heard in our orchards and groves daily. Truly we can say that the Lord has been mindful of those who have not had much fuel to keep them warm, and who have not been able to purchase it at the high prices demanded by those who had it to dispose of.

The subject of a discourse given by the pastor of the Presbyterian church on Sunday, was "Replies received by the Peterborough Presbytery as to religion in the homes." The answers given to the various questions proposed, considering the number, and the great difficulty of obtaining answers to them, were very satisfactory, but the most important question to be answered, "Is the church growing more spiritual, and is it doing the work it was intended to do?" See the Master at the well speaking to the woman of Samaria, and hear Him say to the publican, "Come down, I must abide at thy house to-day."

The agent of the Bell Telephone Co. was in our village last week. The company is building a branch line from Cavanville to Bethany, which will be a great convenience for business men in these places. It appears to us to be a great mistake not opening offices in villages when the main line passes through them. Possibly they will take this matter into consideration, as there are private lines being made so as to give accommodation to business men.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

BANQUET TO MR. CONMEE, M.P.P.

Member For Port Arthur and Rainy River Honored by His Friends.

Toronto, March 20.—"New Ontario and its future greatness," was the watchword of the banquet tendered to James Conmee, M.P.P. by his friends at a banquet held here last evening. From far and near the friends of the member for Port Arthur and Rainy River, gathered to do honor to the man who has done more than any one else to bring New Ontario, its resources and advantages, before the people of the Dominion. All sorts and conditions of men were represented. Premier Ross arrived last in the evening, and was accorded a splendid reception.

The chairman, Dr. McMahon, proposed the toast of the King, which was greeted with enthusiasm, after which T. C. Robinette, K.C., enlarged upon the greatness and increasing prosperity of "Canada."

Premier Ross was accorded a great ovation on rising to respond to the toast of "Canada." The Premier was stirred to the point of true oratory, and he delighted his hearers with a stream of beautifully turned phrases and sentences eugolistic of the country of which he said: "I am proud to be a native." The Premier paid a splendid tribute to the guest of the evening, James Conmee. He spoke of his unswerving loyalty, his unconquerable faith in the future of New Ontario, his sterling worth as a man, and his fine points as a politician. "The country is in need of such men as Mr. Conmee," said the Premier, "men who have the courage of their convictions and welfare of the country at heart." Mr. Ross pictured Canada as she is to-day, free from racial and religious troubles, a veritable gem in the Imperial diadem, and resumed his seat amidst loud applause.

The guest of the evening, James Conmee, M.P.P., responded to the toast of guest of the evening. Mr. Conmee made an able and eloquent speech, full of enthusiasm for the great question of the future of New Ontario, and appealed to his hearers for a higher realization of the country's needs, its desires and future greatness.

A large number of toasts, all eloquently responded to, followed. The banquet was a great success.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakirs, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling barbwire.

Big Fire at Dominion Colliery.

Sydney, N. S., March 20.—About 4 o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in Dominion No. 1 colliery at Glace Bay, and up to midnight last night it was still burning. The fire was caused by an explosion following a shot. Officials expect to have it in control in 24 hours. The mine is the second of importance operated by the Dominion Coal Company, and employs 1,400 men, the daily output being between 2,500 and 3,000 tons. It is expected that the mine will be working within a week.

Between London and Montreal.

London, March 20.—The Beaver Line steamers, recently purchased by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, will run between London and Montreal, the new owners having abandoned the plans for a Glasgow-Canada service, which, it was announced, was to be started in April. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, confirmed the statement.

A TARIFF DIALOGUE

Finance Minister and Manufacturers Foregather.

MR. FIELDING WANTS NO CONFIDENTIAL TARIFF.

These Old Free Trade Ideas—A Section of the Public Still Wedded to Them, and It Is Difficult, Says Mr. Birge, to Get Them Away From Their Notions—What Manufacturers Want.

Ottawa, March 20.—One of the most remarkable dialogues in the recent political history of Canada occurred at the Parliament buildings yesterday morning during a hearing given by the Premier and the Ministers of Finance and Customs to the representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which, with 1,218 members, representing over four hundred millions of invested capital, is an organization of very great influence.

President Cyrus A. Birge of Hamilton, introduced the manufacturers to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. William Paterson and Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, A. E. Kemp, M.P.; W. R. Brock, M. P. and S. Barker, M.P., attended with the deputation.

A Ready Made Tariff.

Without much introduction, President Birge, brought his secretary forward, who read a very lengthy memorial setting forth the wants of the manufacturers and the arguments in favor thereof, that was endorsed unanimously by the association on the 12th March.

President Birge then reinforced the arguments presented in the memorial.

He believed that hard times were coming in the United States, and, when they came, Canada would be made the slaughtering grounds for their surplus products. It was incumbent on the Government to act before that evil struck Canada. He declared the manufacturers were a unit in their demands. Schedules had been almost prepared, presenting their desires regarding a detailed revision of the tariff, and he would be pleased to give the Government the benefit of these suggestions in confidence.

Mr. Fielding—Why in confidence?

Mr. Birge—For this reason, Mr. Fielding; we assume that it has never been the practice of the Government to state what changes it proposes to make.

Mr. Fielding—You are not speaking of what we propose, but what you propose. Why should you propose it in confidence?

Mr. Birge—Because we don't think it would be wise for us to submit these schedules unless they are given for the use of the Government in confidence.

The Public Also Interested.

Mr. Fielding—We shall be very glad to get the benefit of your valuable labor in harmonizing these different intestests, but it is very desirable that the public should know what you propose.

Mr. Birge—We have not completed the schedules as yet, and the feeling of the association, for whom I am speaking, was that the Government would desire to use the information confidentially, for their own purposes.

Mr. Fielding—I can tell you at once that is a mistake. The Government desire to have the information and to use it, but they prefer to have it publicly, so that the world at large may know what is proposed.

Mr. Birge said the schedules were not completed, but they could be finished in a very short time.

Mr. Fielding—It was the word "confidence," I objected to, because I did not see why we should receive it in that way.

Old Free Trade Ideas.

Mr. Birge thought that some people were still wedded to old fireside ideas, and it was hard to educate them.

"Then you should educate them," was Mr. Fielding's reply.

Mr. Birge thought that the schedule, if made public, would not be open to fair criticism, therefore he preferred to make suggestions in confidence.

Endorsed by Capitalists.

George Drummond said the facts in the memorial were based on the experience of business men, and that 99 per cent. of the capitalists in Canada endorsed them. In regard to the schedules he thought they might be discussed with the Finance Committee, and when a scheme was agreed on, made public. He contended the grievances of the manufacturers were so serious, and urged that they should be attended to this session. Within a year dark days would fall on the United States. Canada would still be prosperous for ten years to come. Let the full benefit of that prosperity be kept for Canada.

W. K. McNaught contended that the tariff should be kept certain and safe and out of politics. He saw in the trusts of the United States a menace to Canada should they reach out into this country. He characterized the coming in of German goods under the preference as an outrage. He found in his business that his employes were demanding higher wages. They measured their demands by what the United States artizans got, but the Canadian manufacturer was not protected by as high a tariff as was the U. S. He believed a national tariff, not slavishly following that of the United States, but copying it in its main details was the tariff for Canada.

Robert Munro referred to the schedules, and believed they should be kept secret, though if the Government intended to oppose the manufacturers the best thing they would do would be to make the schedule public.

J. E. Ellis declared the woollen industry was in an unsatisfactory condition. Something had to be done, and done quick.

Mr. F. Jones was emphatic in announcing that an immediate revision of the tariff was absolutely necessary for the protection of the iron and steel industry.

The Steel Problem.

F. H. Clergue, Sault Ste. Marie, said he had been in Canada for ten years now and had spent $35,000,000 in construction work and on pay rolls. Every manufacturer in Canada got the benefit of this expenditure. When he first came to Canada the Conservatives were in power. Those whom he represented were used to the policy of protection as it was in vogue in Canada. It had made the United States prosperous. He had every reason to believe it would make Canada prosperous. Hence he started his works in Canada, where the raw material was at his hand. He felt certain then that when his efforts proved their success the Government would come and give him consideration.

Turning his attention to the steel and iron in rails he said that there was no duty on the rails he manufactured when he came to Canada. There was a duty on some styles of rails, but he had been assured that when those styles were made the duty would be imposed. He had spent $10,000,000 on his rail mills. This mill necessitated a daily expenditure of $25,000 to yield a daily product of 500 tons of rails. When these mills resumed he would be able to produce all the rails Canada would need. At present, however, he had not sold a ton of rails. Could he keep the mill going, it was well equipped as any mill on earth, but he had to fight a wage scale that was three times as great as that in existence in Great Britain and Germany.

The matter simmered down to this, that he had to get a certain price for his rails or lose money. The combine in Britain and Germany made it possible to sell rails in Britain at $4 to $6 a ton higher than was asked for the same rails exported, and the bonus on exports from Germany enabled German mills to lay down rails in Port Arthur for less than they cost in Germany. This was what he had to fight against. "We must be protected from being in the condition of a slaughter market, or we can't run these works." He wanted a modest tariff on steel rails. He had turned out 20,000 tons of street railway rails, but he was informed that the street railway men were about to ask the Government to put down the tariff on this class of rails. He claimed he was entitled to some consideration.

Enormous Sums Paid Out.

He had paid to the Canadian Government $500,000 in duties. His development work in Canada had put $2,000,000 into the coffers of the C.P.R. He believed he had thrown more life-blood into the commercial life of Canada than any other single Canadian industry. Was he not entitled to consideration?

Mr. Stevenson told the troubles of the cotton manufacturers. He wanted immediate protection.

Mr. Tayler wanted a revision that would keep United States toilet soap out of Canada.

Mr. Rogers urged an increase in the tariff on furniture, because the United States manufacturers flooded this market with goods that had gone out of style with them, but were still in style with us.

Mr. McLaughlin complained of the importation of United States cheap wagons into the west. He favored fixing the invoice price $50. He did not fear honest-made goods. He predicted hard times would come to Canada.

Mr. Fielding's Reply.

Mr. Fielding, replying to the deputation, said that Ministers had to be listeners and questioners. With much that had been said they could agree; but with much they would disagree, but the present was not the proper time to discuss disagreements.

He regretted that the manufacturers had not been sufficiently definite in their demands. He was disappointed at their representations. He thought the manufacturers could not frame a tariff that would harmonize all interests. He feared they would mix it up, for in the past 15 months they had been trying to harmonize the rural interests and were still trying to do so. One month ago he had told them he would be pleased to receive information on the revision of the tariff. He expected it to-day. He was firm in the belief that this information that the manufacturers promised should be made public, and not kept confidential. The buyers had not yet been heard from.

He had received letters from manufacturers warning the Government against the designs of the Manufacturers' Association. There were some manufacturers who feared the aims of the association. They feared that the imposition of duties would affect their special interests. Here seemed to be a division in the association. Therefore it was necessary to have the manufacturers' views subjected to public criticism.

"You may be proposing what you think is good, but I have letters, the Premier has letters, and other members of Parliament have letters, that urge our leaving things as they are. Let us have your schedules and give them the light of day. It would do you an injustice to conceal you suggestions. We would welcome your information if it was for public scrutiny and give it more attention."

The executive of the Manufacturers' Association will discuss the matter of publicity of the schedules with Mr. Fielding later.

THE LIFT LOCK.

The Steel Work is Being Placed in Position.

A visit to the lift lock just now is most interesting. The Dominion Bridge Works of Montreal, has a large staff of men placing the steel work of the big structure in position, and the large pontoons, in which the boats will rest while being elevated or lowered, are assuming a finished appearance. The land round about the lift lock is quite try and with such fine weather the lift lock should prove an interesting place to visit.

LAST NIGHT'S POLICE COURT.

Merchant Up for Hawking Fish Without License.

At an evening session of the police court, which took place last night, before Police Magistrate Dumble, George Carton was charged with hawking fish through the streets, without a license for the doing of the same. It transpired during the proceedings that two boys acted as accused's agents, so that the latter did not personally hawk the fish. During his defence Mr. Carton said he bought [illegible] Montreal, and did not know whether they were caught in Ontario. After considerable argument as to the meaning of the bylaw, judgment was reserved. The court then adjourned.

Mr. D. O'Connell defended the accused, while Mr. E. H. D. Hall appeared for the prosecution.

TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

Of All Saints' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary

Held in School Room Last Night—The Election of Officers.

The tenth annual meeting of the All Saint's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was held in the school room yesterday afternoon, and was well attended. After an opening service, conducted by the Rector, Rev. W. L. Armitage, the President, Miss Chamberlen, gave her annual address expressing the sadness and sense of loss allf elt at the death of the Honourary President, Mrs. Beck, and of the sympathy of the Branch with Mrs. Williamson, the Diocesan President, in her serious illness. The various pledges had all been paid and two large bales had been sent to Emmanuel College and Montreal Lake. A very satisfactory and successful year's work had been done. Still we could do more if we would keep constantly before us our motto "The Love of Christ Constraineth us."

Mrs. Latimer then read the Secretary's report which showed an increase in the attendance at both the weekly and the monthly meetings. Two bales had been sent out valued at $77.60.

The Treasurer, Mrs. A. Gilbert, read the treasurer's report which gave much satisfaction. The total receipts were $354.31, not including the bales.

Mrs. Wm. Buller, Convenor of the Parochial Mission Collection, in her report showed receipts amounting to $60.25, which with the church collections considerably exceed the Synod assessment.

For the Junior Branch, (Junior Girl's Guild,) Mrs. W. J. Hickey gave a most encouraging report. Several of the members will receive prizes from the Diocesan Branch.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

President—Miss Chamberlen.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. T. H. Hooper.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. D. J. Lundy.
Secretary—Mrs. J. W. Latimer.
Treasurer—Mrs. A. Gilbert.
Convenor of P. M. C. — Mrs. Wm. Buller.
Organist—Miss M. Buller.
Superintendent J. G. G. — Mrs. J. W. Hickey.
Assistants — Mrs. Dobbin, Mrs. Moldon, Mrs. Maughan. and Mrs. Poste.
Delegates to the annual meeting —Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Buller, Mrs. Cooney and Mrs. Hickey.

Rev. Mr. Armitage then gave a short address congratulating the auxiliary on its splendid showing and pointing out the necessity of more fully understanding the missionary needs. The opening of our understandings would mean the increasing of our zeal and faithfulness.

The meeting, which was most encouraging, was closed with prayer, after which refreshments were served.

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Langfeldt gave an interesting address on Mission Work, taking as his text St. Matt. 26, 8, "To what purpose is this waste?"

The eloquent lecturer was greeted by a large congregation, notwithstanding the inclement weather which prevented the attendance of the members from the country. The appropriate discourse was one of the ablest ever delivered on the subject, and at its close Rev. Father McCluskey, for himself, and on behalf of the congregation, expressed their thorough appreciation of the rich treat accorded them.

Owing to the recent troubles with Venezuela and other South American States the Monroe Doctrine has been both praised and also severely criticised, and as a subject for a lecture is one which should attract a large number of people. The lecturer is attached to the Professional Staff of Toronto University, and has gained the reputation of being a most interesting and eloquent speaker, and the public may be assured that there is a great treat in store for those who care to go.

R. W. Deputy Grand Secretary — Thomas C. McConnell, Springbrook.

THE CIVIC WELCOME.

In yesterday's issue was printed the text of the address presented by Mayor Roger and Aldermen Batten, McWilliams, Rush and Shortly, but owing to the reporters not being admitted with the civic delegates, no report could at the time be given of the reply of the visiting Orangemen to the address, and only an imperfect report of what they said, was obtained.

R. W. Grand Master Munroe, on behalf of the Grand Lodge, thanked the Mayor and Aldermen for their cordial welcome and greetings, and expressed the great pleasure the Provincial Grand Lodge had enjoyed at its first meeting in Peterborough. He congratulated the Mayor and the town upon the splendid evidences of prosperity to be seen on every hand.

Dominion Grand Master and Sovereign, Dr. Sproule, M. P., South Grey, in adding his acknowledgments referred to the high reputation Peterborough had acquired throughout the Dominion as a centre of industrial activity, enterprise and progress. In his capacity as a member of Parliament, he had frequently to come in contact with deputations to the capital from Peterborough, and he had been much impressed with the confidence the members such deputations had shown in the town, and from what he had seen that confidence was very amply justified. He was also struck with the faith that they had in the Trent Valley Canal. He had heard much about the great lift lock in Peterborough, and was delighted and surprised at what he had had the pleasure of seeing.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Belleville, Past Grand Master, joined in thanks with the previous speaker, to the civic deputation and offered his congratulations upon the evidences of success and prosperity to be seen in Peterborough on every hand. He had had that morning the pleasure of visiting the extensive works of the Canadian General Electric Company, and if Belleville only had such a concern in its midst he would be delighted. He was particularly pleased to see the active part taken in public affairs by young men in Peterborough, for to the younger men we must look for the energy that would make the place go ahead, and he was especially impressed with the confidence the people of the town had in the great future of Peterborough. He joined with Grand Master Munroe in extending congratulations to Bro. J. B. McWilliams upon the public confidence shown in electing as aldermen, his son, Mr. R. F. McWilliams.

The delegates withdrew to the hearty applause of the assembled brethren.

It might be mentioned here that during the day, the Mayor and Mr. McWilliams, with Superintendent Rogers, as cicerone, took many of the prominent visiting Orangemen to visit the lift lock, and all expressed themselves as much impressed and greatly interested in this, the largest work of its kind, in the world.

THE EVENING SESSION.

The Grand Lodge met in closing session in the evening.

Outside of matters of purely Society interest the business was confined to the selection of the next place of meeting.

After several ballots, the city of Kingston was finally selected as the next place of meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East, on the third Wednesday of March, 1904.

This was followed by the installation of the Grand Officers by Past Grand Master William Johnson, of Belleville, whose effective discharge of this interesting function was warmly commended.

A resolution was enthusiastically adoted, thanking County Master J. B. McWilliams and the local members for the assistance contributed in making the meeting of the Grand in Peterborough successful, and to the council and citizens of the town for the hospitality and kindly treatment extended.

Thus closed one of the most successful of the forty-four annual meetings of the Provincial Grand Lodge.

GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS.

The following is the full text of the address of the Royal Worshipful Grand Master, read at the opening session:

To the Officers and Members of the Right Worshipful Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, in meeting assembled.

Dear Brethren,—I am pleased to welcome you to the forty-fourth annual meeting of our Grand Lodge in this enterprising and thriving Town of Peterborough.

Since last we met our Empire—the grand old English Empire—has passed another milestone on its march to imperialism. The Transvaal and Orange Free State have been added to the red painted portion of the map of the world. Their people—a race whose Protestantism cannot be questioned—have become subjects of our King, and will soon be, indeed they are now, prospering under the benign influence of the Union Jack.

Our Canadian soldier lads had not small share in bringing about this very desirable state of affairs, and also helped to make Canada better and more favourably known throughout the world, especially in Britain, than it was ever known before. A country that can produce such heroes as a Bruce Carruthers, a Charles Evans, and others whose names you can readily recall, is no mean portion of the Empire.

With our agricultural, mineral, and other resources, and a loyal and God-fearing population filled up our prairies and other portions of our Dominion, it requires no great stretch of the imagination to forsee in the not distant future that this Canada of ours will become the Greater Britain, and be in a position to assume larger responsibilities in the defence of the Empire under whose aegis we enjoy so many invaluable privileges.

The King's Coronation.

During the year that has gone the British people on the eve of the date first fixed upon for the coronation of our august sovereign, were suddenly transformed from a jubiliant multitude of humble suppliants at the Throne of Grace for the restoration of our beloved King to his wonted health. Thank God our prayers were heard, and the postponed coronation of our empire's King and his amiable consort was duly celebrated with the royal pomp and splendour befitting the monarch of the greatest empire that has been, on the 9th day of August, and was reproduced with even greater magnificence by his Majesty's loyal Indian subjects in the Durbar, which was held more recently. God grant that the King and his royal consort may be long spared to reign over a loyal and contented people.

I always feel a delicacy in accusing any British subject of being a rebel but when a man talks treason from a public platform and boasts of his enmity to the British Empire, we cannot be blamed if we take him at his word and brand him as such, and also to treat those who associate with him as equally guilty of sedition, even if they refrain from making disloyal speeches. It was a shock to the sensibilities of every loyal British subject to find a once renowned Canadian statesman and loyalist apparently acting as sponsor to the avowed Irish rebel, William Redmond. How have the mighty fallen!

The Grand Lodge Meeting.

The grand meeting and fraternizing of the Grand Lodges of the United States and of British America at Niagara Falls on the 4th, 5th and 6th of June last was a memorable event in the history of Orangeism, and is sure to be productive of much good in the cultivation of a more friendly spirit between the two English-speaking peoples on this continent.

The Triennial Orange Council.

The coming meeting of the Imperial Grand Orange Council in Dublin, Ireland, will be an important one, as representative Orangemen from all parts of the Protestant world will be in attendance and discuss matters of world-wide interest to our common Protestantism, and especially to the sentinels on the towers thereof, viz., the members of our noble Order.

The Silent Majority.

While every delegate will naturally look forward with a certain degree of pleasure to this reunion and the coming in touch with the leaders of the Orange cause throughout the Globe, the joy will be tinged with deep sorrow, as one chair will be vacant, one valiant soldier will be missing. Bro. William Johnston, M. P., of Ballykilbeg, will not be there. His place will be hard to fill. We are consoled, however, in the belief that he has gone to be with his Saviour, which is far better.

Death has been busy in the ranks of the Order within our own jurisdiction during the past year. Some who were with us at last meeting of Grand Lodge have been called up higher. We sadly miss them, and our sympathies go out to the sorrowing relatives in their sad day of trial and bereavement.

The Home Rule Resolution.

I see by the public press that a certain member of Parliament, who would probably never be heard of beyond his own constituency but for the noise he makes over his race and religion, is about again to introduce a resolution in the Canadian House of Commons bearing on Irish home rule or Irish grievances. I trust that every member of the Orange Association will bring all due influence to bear on his representative in Parliament to have him oppose any such resolution.

What have we, the people of this Dominion to do with Ireland? What do we know about the Irish question? Leave such questions to the British Parliament. It is quite able to look after its own affairs. We have all we can do to look after ours.

The Manitoba School Question.

The Roman Catholic Archbishops of Montreal and St. Boniface, as well as some leading politicians, have lately been asserting that the Manitoba school question is not yet settled. To be forewarned is to be fore-armed, and the watchword of some two hndred thousand Orangemen and other loyal Protestants, as well as many intelligent Roman Catholics, must now, as in the past, be "Hands off Manitoba."

While on this subject I would ask every Orangeman, to read, compare, and study the school systems of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, as each affects the interest of the minority. His Grace of Montreal evidently has not done so, or he would hardly have made some of the assertions he is reported to have uttered.

As a sample of the Quebec school law, hear what a prominent Protestant of Montreal stated a short time ago before a mixed audience of Protestants, Jews, and Roman Catholics, when discussing the school question:—"Under the law, six dollars of the taxes of a joint stock company go to Roman Catholic purposes and one dollar to Protestant, though all the members of the company may be Protestant."

Now, in Ontario every Roman Catholic member of a joint stock company can, if he so wishes, have his proportion of taxes go to the support of the Roman Catholic Separate schools. This is only one of the many advantages the Roman Catholic Separate school supporters of Ontario have over the Protestant school supporters of Quebec.

Services at Grand Lodge.

The question of holding a religious service by our Grand Chaplain for the time being in some suitable church during the session of Grand Lodge has been mooted by several prominent and respected members of our jurisdiction. I would suggest that a special committee be appointed to consider this subject and report at this or next meeting of Grand Lodge. It occurs to me that we, as a Christian Association, could not make better use of a portion of our time during our annual gatherings than to join in the public worship of the triune God. Other Orange Grand Lodges have a public service. I am informed that this Grand Lodge, in years gone by, used to have one. Unless there were good and sufficient reasons for discontinuing such service, and such reasons still exist, I would favour returning to the good old way. Every member of the Orange Order should be a member of some Protestant church, and a regular attendant at its services, as well as his pastor's main support in all Christian efforts for the good of mankind.

Lodge Rooms and Fixtures.

While many of our lodge rooms are a credit to the lodges that own or occupy them, as well as to the Order at large, I regret to have to say that there are quite a number that would admit of great improvement, both in building and furnishing. It is surprising to find in some sections that, while the members of our Order insist upon discarding the old log house, and erect handsome and comfortable dwellings, they appear to be content with the hastily erected lodge room of, in many cases, even sixty years ago, and in many cases no renewal of furniture.

Is it not too much to expect our young men, used to living in comfortable and well-furnished homes to be regular attendants at a lodge whose meeting-place is little better than a barn, with furniture to match? If our lodges are to continue to grow and attract the best element in our land, we must provide respectable places for the members to assemble in. I would also urge lodges to provide themselves with proper paraphernalia, to enable them to confer the several degrees properly and impressively.

I find that many lodges are very negligent in this important matter. Many Scarlet Chapters, especially, are very deficient in paraphernalia with which to exalt members to this illustrious degree as befits its dignity.

Necessity for Organizers.

My worthy predecessor in his last annual address called attention, very properly, to the lack of funds in the coffers of this Grand Lodge, and which prevented its employing organizers or in other ways pushing forward the good work. I would ask all Worshipful Masters of primary lodges who have not already done so to see that every brother is made cognizant of the purposes of said address. If the Order is worthy of existence at all, then it behooves us to be ready to sustain it, not only with our lips but with our purses.

Speaking and spouting about our noble Order only will not be enough. We must be prepared to back our speaking with our money, and contribute the means to help sow the good seed in every corner of our jurisdiction.

If Grand Lodge were in receipt of an annual tax of, say, 25 cents per member, which is certainly a very modest sum, we could then keep one good organizer continually in the field. Other societies have several organizers covering the same district as our jurisdiction covers. I think, however, that owing to the manner in which the principles of our Order appeal to the better instincts of the loyal and true Protestants of our land, with one organizer possessing the proper qualifications, such as education, good address, and a fervent zeal for the cause, large additions would be made to the Order we all have so much at heart.

I have read with pleasure the reports published in The Sentinel of Scarlet Chapters, County, District, and Primary Lodge meetings, as well as the reports of their officers in many cases. Such reading is very inspiring, and goes to prove that many of our lodges are well officered.

The Sentinel.

This brings me to speak of the great Orange Tribune and Protestant watchman, The Sentinel.

That any member of ur Order can be found who does not subscribe for and read The Sentinel, when it only costs the trifling sum of one dollar per annum, along with premium pictures worth the money, is to me a mystery. Brethren who are not subscribers to this excellent family paper, take my advice and subscribe for it without delay. I would advise Masters and officers to get up clubs in their respective lodges, and, if possible, induce every member to subscribe for this paper. A Sentinel reading member will be no wishy-washy Orangeman. No primary lodge will run to seed whose members are readers of The Sentinel. A reading Orangeman is an intelligent Orangeman. He is able at all times to give a reason for the faith that is in him.

Progress of the Order.

You will note with pleasure, from the Grand Secretary's Report when submitted, that there has been a substantial increase in the membership of our jurisdiction during the past year.

I have attended several public gatherings of the Order and dedicated one Orange Hall during my term of office.

The Twelfth of July demonstrations held in this jurisdiction during the past year were largely attended, and the brethern taking part in same merited and secured the plaudits of the thousands assembled to witness the celebrations. Their appearance and deportment on these occasions left nothing to be desired, if the reports in the public press are to be credited.

Railroad Discrimination.

I take this opportunity to call the attention of the Grand Lodge to the unfair discrimination shown by many of the railways against our Order. The brethern will do well to ponder the advice given by Grand Lodge some two years ago, viz., to hold no demonstrations that will necessitate the travelling by rail until the railway corporations come to a fair sense of their duties in this matter.

No Order has been the means of placing so much money in the coffers of the railways, and no society has been treated so shabbily.

The Grand Treasurer will submit a statement showing the amounts contributed towards the Wallace-Bell memorial fund, which, on the whole, is satisfactory.

The majority of subscribers to the fund have expressed a wish that the money be applied towards the erection of a home for aged and infirm members of our Order, and that the names of our honoured departed be connected therewith.

I beg to suggest that the executive of this Grand Lodge be authorised to confer with the executive of other Provincial Grand Lodges, as well as of the Grand Lodge of British America, with the view of determining what is best to be done in the premises, and report at next meeting of Grand Lodge as to action taken.

That the Great Grand Master may so guide and govern our deliberations at this meeting of Grand Lodge that we will receive an increase of faith and a more fervent zeal for our holy and just cause is the sincere prayer of

Yours Fraternally,
D. MONROE,
Grand Master Ontario East.

QUIET WEDDING

Of Rev. W. J. Pady and Miss Sadie McGregor.

The Toronto Star contains the following account of the wedding of Rev. Walter J. Pady, formerly pastor of the Park street Baptist church:

"A quiet home wedding took place last evening at the presidence of the bride's mother, 28 May street, Toronto Junction, when Miss Sadie, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary McGregor, was married to Rev. Walter J. Pady, pastor of the Annette street Baptist church. Miss Booth of Galt was the bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by a fellow-divine, Rev. Ralph Smith, of McMaster University. Rev. H. S. Magee of Davenport Methodist church, performed the necessary and interesting ceremony. Only the immediate friends of the interested parties were present, and a sumptuous wedding supper was served. Shortly after the newly-married couple left for Toronto, whence they go to Athens, Ont., to-day. They will remain in Athens for about two weeks.

A CHILD'S LIFE FOOD

Physicians speak of fat food as "life food" and say that all children ought to have it in abundance. They say too, that weak, thin, nervous children MUST have fat food and recommend Scott's Emulsion.

It promptly returns sickly, delicate children to rosy health. It is the life of flesh-creating food and keeps the scale of child-health evenly balanced.

Being prepared for easy digestion Scott's Emulsion is readily accepted by the stomach and quickly passed into the blood. There commences at once the repairing of wasted tissues, the enrichment of the blood and the strengthening of the whole system.

Any child who needs more and better nourishment than it seems to be getting from its ordinary food will be greatly benefited if given Scott's Emulsion:

Perishable Goods.

In a Vermont village there lives a young man who has reached the age of twenty-four with no apparent thought of taking to himself a wife, although all his companions have either "settled" or left the place. He is regarded by the entire community as a confirmed bachelor. His mother looks upon his state with a sadness which has afforded more or less amusement to her summer boarders.

"There's one of his last pictures," said the mother, displaying a photograph on a small card. "It's a good likeness, ain't it? Getting kind of drawed round the mouth, same as his pa, he is. I said to him that I'd been wanting he should have a dozen taken, so I could give 'em round to his friends—young ladies—for sometimes a picture standing on a bureau, facing right to you every morning, will start a kind of affectionate feeling. I've been waiting in the hopes he'd think of it himself, but when I saw that he was beginning to fade and show his age I took matters right into my own hands and marched him to the photographer quick as I could. I only hope some good may come of it."—Youth's Companion.

Breaking the Silence.

A little tot of about five summers held a place recently in one of the United States supreme court seats while the learned justices were handing down their weighty decisions. The court was the embodiment of dignity, so much so that it was almost oppressive. The little girl fidgeted in her place as the justices in monotonous tones expounded fine points of law, and she shook her head, adorned with a big picture hat, in impatience.

There came a pause. One justice ceased to speak, as he had given forth all he had to say on some important litigation. The silence was thick enough to be cut with a knife, as they sometimes say in the books. The messenger by the noiseless folding doors shifted from one foot to the other, the throng of lawyers within the bar waited breathlessly for the next decision to be announced. Still no justice spoke.

It was more than the little girl with a picture hat could endure. "Mamma," said she in a voice audible even up to the judicial bench, "why don't some one laugh?"—New York Tribune.

COAL STRIKE COMMISSION.

President Has Report and It Will Be Made Public Saturday.

Washington, March 19.—Judge Gray, chairman, and Carroll D. Wright, recorder of the Anthracite Strike Commission, called on the President yesterday and presented to him the report of the commission. It is a voluminous document covering fully all phases of the controversy between the operators and the miners. Both sides have promised to abide by the decision of the tribunal created by President Roosevelt.

At the conclusion of the interview with the President Mr. Wright announced that the report would be made public at his office Saturday morning. About the same time it will be placed in the hands of the representatives of the operators and miners, the parties directly interested.

Talk of a Coal Strike.

Huntington, W. Va., March 19.—One hundred or more representatives of the United Mine Workers from every coal field in West Virginia, began a conference yesterday, at which it is said the question of inaugurating a general strike in this state this spring will be discussed.

Ten C.P.R. Clerks Dismissed.

Montreal, March 19.—Eight clerks in the department of the auditor of statistics of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Windsor street station and two in the office of the superintendent of car service have been dismissed.

I AM A NEW MAN.

Angus McMillan, Over Eighty Years of Age, Pays His Respects to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Cured His Dyspepsia.

Nothing tells more forcibly the benefits aged people receive from the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets than the story of one of those old people themselves. Hear then the story of Angus McMillan, of Laggan, P. O., Glengary Co., Ont. Long past the three score and ten mark is Mr. McMillan for he is over eighty years of age, and though for twenty years he suffered the pains and discomforts that only the Dyspeptic knows he is to-day as bright and strong and cheerful as many a man of sixty. He has shaken off his old tormentors. He is a new man. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did it.

"I suffered with Dyspepsia for more than twenty years," says Angus McMillan, "but never met with anything to cure me till a few months back when I commenced taking Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets when after using them for two days all pain and restlessness left me entirely. I am a new man. I have great reason to be thankful for all the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for me."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the antidote for discomfort.

A Quadruple Drowning.

Montreal, March 19.— Four little bodies on the slabs at the city morgue tell the sad story of a quadruple drowning yesterday, in the Lachine Canal. The victims are: Arthur Curtis, aged 11, of 35 Centre street; William Neville, aged 7, of 32 Richardson street; John Hayes, aged 15, of 51 Centre street; Victo Fecteau, aged 9 of 32 Richardson street. They had been playing in rear of the sugar refinery.

The Day of Miracles

is past but many who are cured of itching, bleeding or protruding piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, look upon their recovery as the next thing to miraculous. It is not uncommon for persons who have undergone painful, risky and expensive operations in vain, to be finally cured by this wonderful ointment. It is the standard the world over, and the only guaranteed cure for piles.

Whittaker Wright Refused Bail.

New York, March 20.—United States Commissioner Alexander yesterday refused bail for Whittaker Wright, pending his examination.

Pepperell, Mass.—Over 300 are thrown out of work by the burning of the Griffin shoe factory. A score of dwellings were also destroyed and the total loss is $300,000.

CLOSE-STICKING HABIT.

One of the Difficulties About Smoking—A Definition of Friendship.

The recent agitation against cigarettes has caused Canadian newspapers to recall many anecdotes about smokers and smoking. The Toronto News says, speaking of Parliamentarians who smoke, that it was down at Harvard, when Sir Hibbert Tupper was in his student days, that he learned to smoke. As at most colleges, almost every youngster soon picked up the habit, and once contracted, it stuck to him closer than a brother. That would seem to be the difficulty about smoking. Like every other habit, it is hard to abandon.

George Augustus Sala, who was a world-renowned connoisseur in tobaccos, was once asked for a definition of friendship.

"Well," he said, "I can only give an illustration. Suppose two smokers to be wrecked on a desert island, one of them having preserved a solitary cigar, while the other has none. If the man with the cigar should cut it in half and give one piece to his companion, I think he would give the finest exemplification of true friendship that could be presented."

Sala is pretty nearly correct, but the party of the first part is purely suppositious. It is not to be believed that he ever could exist. He is all right as an example, but he will never be met by anybody. And Kipling, in his somwhat coarse manner, has sung that

A woman is only a woman,
But a good cigar is a smoke.

The Efficiency of Jane.

Lady Aberdeen, whose interest in Canada has never flagged, lectured recently before the Society of Arts in London on "Women in Canada." In the course of her remarks, she said: The chief impression made by Canadian women, after a very close intercourse and friendship with them might be summed up in the word "efficiency." In whatever situation or circumstance you found a Canadian woman, that was her hall-mark. Lady Aberdeen told an illustrative anecdote. "On one occasion, when the Governor-General and I were traveling across Canada, we were to dine one night at a house remarkable even among Canadian homes for its charm and beauty, presided over, as it is, by one of the most attractive of mistresses. We arrived and met with the warm welcome we knew awaited us. A recherche repast was laid out before us, and we were waited on by so trim a parlor-maid, so deft in her movements, so irreproachable in her cap and apron, that Lord Aberdeen felt constrained to compliment our hostess on the result of her training. 'Oh,' said the lady, 'I am so glad you think Jane did well— 'I would like you to tell her so presently.' And when that 'presently' came, what should we discover but 'Jane' arrayed in evening dress, and proving to be the daughter of the house, who, in consequence of the unexpected departure of the servant, had had not only to wait at table, but to cook the meal, with the assistance of her mother, an adept in such matters."

The Dominion Coal Production.

The total amount of coal produced in Canada last year was 6,685,654 tons. Canada imported in the same period, round and slack, $3,806,129 tons, and exported 20,902,068 tons to the United States, Europe, and Newfoundland. Adding to what remained in Canada after the exported coal was deducted, the amount of anthracite consumed, it would be found that the total coal consumption of the Dominion was 9,353,398 tons. The total number of men employed in coal mining in Nova Scotia was 8,500. Of these 6,006 are employed under ground and 2,500 on the surface.

Compulsory Religion.

To such an extent does religion prevail at Gonoatos, in the south seas, that every man, woman and child on that island who does not go to church at least three times a week is liable to be arrested and fined, the fine going to the king.

Irritating Form of Itching Piles

A Source of Continual Worry and Annoyance—Sleep and Rest Impossible Until Relief and Cure Came With the Use of

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

All classes of people are subject to piles, but especially those who are exposed to dampness. Teamsters, farmers, railroad men and labourers suffer greatly from this distressing ailment.

While there are plenty of remedies recommended as a treatment for piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and guaranteed cure. It truly wonderful how the merit of this preparation has become known throughout this continent and Europe.

But when a person has endured the torture of piles, the itching, stinging sensation, the sleepless nights of misery, the annoyance during the day, when going about the daily work, he feels grateful for the relief and cure brought by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and does not forget to recommend it to his friends.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

SILLY

By M. L. Avary

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

Her name was Priscilla, but through abbreviation and corruption it became "S'illa" and finally degenerated into "Silly." "So easy do even names go to the dogs, you know," she explained to Dick.

There were some people in the village who did not hesitate to say that Silly herself would "go to the dogs" some day, she had such "shiftless ways." She preferred to wear plain clothes rather than spend time indoors on needlework. She could not be counted on for the sewing circle nor dragged to the debating society. Moreover, she was not as fond of going to church and Sunday school as she might have been.

"It fits me, Dick!" she cried, her face, pink and white as their petals, framed in a bough of apple blossoms. Her eyes were as blue as forgetmenots, and her hair was like the golden tassels of the corn. "The name fits. I haven't any sense, you know."

"That's one of your attractions," drawled Dick. "When a woman hasn't any sense, it's really a drawing card in these days. She's a novelty, you know. Women are so awfully wise and clever that they put a fellow to the blush."

They were sitting on the green grass within a fragrant bower of pearl and rose. Something like dewdrops gathered in the girl's forgetmenot eyes.

"What's the matter, sweetheart?"

"Dick, it's the name and the fitness of the name. It seems so absurd to care about it. But I do. When I was little, it seems to me they might have cared enough about me to let me keep the sweet name my mother gave me. I suppose they thought it was a waste of time on me to say 'Priscilla.' If I had been their own child, they'd never have called me Silly. And to think it'll stick to me all my life!"

"If it were your last name, now," said Dick, "I could change it for you."

"Don't be silly!"

"You're that when you laugh at my lovemaking. It's poor, but honest."

"Dick, do you think, like all the rest, that sensible talk is wasted on me? Do you, Dick? Oh, what would I not give to be a wise, clever woman with a dignified name! Nobody in the world will ever take me seriously as long as I am called Silly!"

"I'll take you seriously if you'll let me; take you and never let you go."

"Dick, would you be willing—you, a varsity man—to have a wife called Silly? You wouldn't! I can see it in your eyes. Oh, to do something very wise and learned! I'd die happy!"

"For heaven's sake," cried Dick in alarm, "don't do anything wise and learned!"

* * * * * * *

"She never has a serious thought, that girl," her aunt remarked. "If her name don't fit her to a T!"

She was coming up the walk, her arms full of apple blossoms, her hat dangling at her side, singing one of the ragtime tunes with which she scandalised the town.

"She do seem to be light headed," observed her uncle, Samuel Morris. "But, then, she's a good hearted thing."

She could not remember her parents. They had died when she was so little. She seemed to be a sort of accident in her uncle and aunt's family, a rather burdensome and unpleasant one, which by God's grace they must put up with. They lived in an old, old house on the outskirts of a quaint, rambling old village. It was set about with orchards where many birds loved to nest. Silly, when she might have been embroidering herself a petticoat, making a crazy quilt or doing some other sensible thing, preferred to stay out in the orchards with the birds.

* * * * * * *

Mr. Samuel Morris dreamed that a burglar was pressing a pillow down over his face. He tried to cry out, but could not. He heard a great banging at the door and a voice calling:

"Uncle, uncle!"

"Somebody is killing poor Silly," he thought, but he could not move.

Then some one was pulling him out of bed. There were smoke and a gleam of shooting flames. Something wet was slapped over his face. He was being dragged over the floor and down the steps by one who panted hard. A voice—Silly's—was screaming:

"Help me save uncle! Somebody go back for aunt! I couldn't find her!"

"No use!" voices cried back. "Come out quick! The house is about to fall in!"

"I'll save her or I'll die trying! Take uncle!"

They told him afterward, the few neighbors who had seen the fire after it was well under way and had come to help if they could, that as she went back the steps fell down behind her. She had jerked the wet blanket from around him and thrown it about herself.

How she found her aunt in that smoke filled house, with the roar and singing of the flames in her ears, the flash of fire in her eyes, she never could tell. But find her she did, lying insensible on the floor. She jerked the sheets from a bed, tore them into strips, tied these together and bound one end around her aunt's waist, thinking as she did so:

"Ah, how can I lift her and lower her from the window without killing her!"

But she did it, this wise, strong young Silly, who looked to those below like a goddess of the flames. Younger and more daring help had come. A ladder reaching part way up was against the uncertain walls. Dick was climbing it. He received her burden as she lowered it and passed it on to those below. Then he held out his arms.

"Come, beloved," he said. "Come quickly!"

She had fastened one end of the rope about her waist, the other about the bedpost. She was looking down. "Come!" Dick called again. She climbed out of the window and began to descend hand over hand. Her senses seemed leaving her. She let go.

When she came to herself, she was lying on a big white bed in the village parsonage. People were talking.

"She had more sense than any of us; never lost her head; knew just what to do."

"And she's brave! Think of going back into that house with the steps falling behind her!"

"Yes." The pastor was speaking slowly and ponderously. "She's our village heroine, is Priscilla."

Through the door the voice of the rich man of the village rang out:

"I am going to name the new library I'm giving this village for her."

"S-sh!" The village doctor was speaking. "We must have quiet now. She's recovering consciousness."

"What is it, Priscilla?"

"Apple blossoms," she murmured foolishly. "My hands are so hot. Dick!"

He was kneeling by her bed. The pretty face and hands were bruised and blackened, and the flames had not altogether spared the beautiful golden hair.

"Dick, it hurts so bad to be clever and brave. They're saying I'm that. And I've got my name. But, oh, Dick, I don't want to be wise. It's so painful. Let the others call me Priscilla," in a whisper. "It sounds dignified, and I like it from them. But you—you just call me Silly. I'm not wise or brave, Dick. Don't tell anybody. I went back into the fire because I didn't have any better sense."

"You are right, beloved," said Dick. "Wise people do not run back into the fire to save others. Only the brave, the fools and the angels do that."

The crowning joy of womanhood is motherhood and the crowning joy of motherhood is to have healthy children. But there can be no joy in motherhood without health, and without health for the mother there can be no health for the child.

It is of vital importance for women to know that the health of mother and child is in general entirely within woman's control. The thousands of women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when expecting motherhood, have testified that it made them healthy and happy in the days of waiting, made the baby's advent practically painless, and gave them health to give their children.

Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm (Essex Center), Essex Co., Vt., writes: "During the past year I found myself expecting maternity, and its rapidly failing health. I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. Took twelve bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SOUR GRAPES.

The Chicago Journal's Comments on DeArmond's Annexation Proposal.

Nothing could be more ridiculous than Congressman DeArmond's proposal to annex Canada to the United States, or rather to empower the President to enter into negotiations looking to that end, says The Chicago Journal.

We do not believe that the people of the United States are crying for Canada, and we are sure that the people of Canada are not crying for the United States. We are good enough friends and might as well stay that way. Such propositions as Mr. DeArmond's do not tend to strengthen friendship.

We have never heard that there was the least sentiment in Canada favorable to annexation to the Union. There was none at the time of our war for independence, and we failed then as we failed in 1812 in conquering the Dominion. The Canadians have always had the reputation of being the most loyal of British subjects and they are very proud of it.

Besides, what have they to gain by union with us more than they possess already? They have a Government that differs but little from our own, for in the essentials Parliament is quite as independent as Congress. In fact it more nearly reflects the popular will than Congress, for it is modeled after the English Parliament, and, as in England, the Ministry is responsible.

On the other hand what have we to gain from annexation? The extension of our limits to the north pole or thereabouts and that is all. What do we care for all that frozen region under the Arctic circle, where there is nothing either interesting or amusing except the northern lights and the north pole.

We have enough of that and to spare in Alaska, and there is no need for further icy expansion.

Of course, the DeArmond resolution is merely academic, and will hardly meet with a responsive vote, but why can not the Missouri Congressman devote his powerful mind to subjects that will have some interest for his fellow-citizens? Canadian annexation has no attractions for the American people.

Breaking the Steers.

During an old home week celebration in a small town in New Hampshire there were present a learned judge from a western city, a professor from Boston and a United States senator. Grave and austere of manner, as became their age and honors, they addressed each other by the titles which belonged to their several stations. But they had been schoolmates, and when the senator told a story of school days the accumulated ice of forty years thawed in a burst of laughter, and they were John and Bill and Horace once more. The Delineator repeats one of their stories:

"Bill, do you remember breaking the steers?" laughed Horace.

"Now, that's between you and me, Horace."

"No secrets here," said John. "Out with it!"

"One summer one of Bill's steers got mired in the swamp and was killed. Bill wasn't going to miss the fun of breaking the steers, so the next winter he yoked himself up with the one that was left. I met them coming down over the crust like Sam Hill. Bill yelled between gasps: 'Stop us! Stop us! We're running away!' I cornered them in an angle of the wall. As soon as Bill got breath enough he said, 'For goodness' sake, Horace, unyoke the other steer!'"

An Article Balzac Didn't Write.

Balzac was once asked by a French publisher to write an article on the Rue Richelieu. He named his terms, which today would not seem excessive, but the publisher considered them outrageous, whereupon Balzac replied: "If I am to describe the Rue Richelieu in a way worthy of the street and of myself, I must know it thoroughly and must not upon any account fail to investigate all that specially characterizes it. I shall have to commence by lunching at the Cafe Cardinal; then I must buy a gun and a cravat pin at the two shops next door to each other. After that I must go to the tailor's at the corner of the Rue St. Marc"— "Oh, don't go any farther than that," interrupted the publisher in alarm. "You would come to the Indian shop next, and things there are a fabulous price!"

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 19th. — There is reason to believe that some further improvement in the stock market is likely to-day. The call money rated towards the close yesterday is not significant as it represented the efforts of the belated borrowers to get accommodation. Time money the real index to the situation is easier.

With the S. Pac. fight out of the way the market would advance more rapidly but the assurances are extended that no corner is likely and the situation is therefore not so critical. Kansas City Southern is likely to advance soon so is Manh. and Erie seconds. We are bullish on Virginia Chemical and would not be surprised to see St. Paul move higher. London market for American stocks was irregular.

TOPICS.

Liverpool. — Cotton opened 2 to 5 points higher and at 12.30 were steady 1 to 2 points off.

New York. — The market flies with its own wings. In other words it will be found self-sustaining, to an extent not previously seen in some weeks. This does not mean that stocks will soar. They will move rationally and in many instances within circumscribed limits. If a drive be made against Met. because of alleged loss of earnings buy the stock.

Insiders feel confident there will be no strike on the New Haven and Hartford. The settlement of this question will help N.Y. Cen. Sugar is a purchase on any slight recessions. Hold steels. There is no change in Sou. Pac. Union Pac. status, but Pine street is bulling Union Pac. Atch. com. is good to be long of. P.O. L.N. and St. P. will continue good trading stocks.

JOSEPH.

The following despatches have been received by H. M. Pousett & Co.:—

New York, March 20, 9.45 a. m. — General market sentiment has improved to such an extent as a consequence of easier conditions prvailing in time money market with loans offered yesterday 2 1-2 and 3 1-2 and it is believed more outside business will come in and prices advance further if S.P. contest were eliminated from situation. The outcome of this is so uncertain that it overshadows everything. Over 75 p.c. of business in stock for last few days has been by parties most directly interested with Keene's brokers manipulating the stock. Advance in call money rate to 7 p.c. late yesterday is not significent and was caused by demands from belated borrowers.

Lacrosse Clubs are Organizing Everywhere.

The Golf Club Will Have an Increased Membership—Notes on Hockey.

GOLF.

The Golf Club will procure a horse lawn mower.

It is said that quite a number of new men will be seen on the local links this summer.

The matter of transportation to the links is engaging the attention of the members of the local club. For those going up at noon the G.T.R. train service is excellent, but for those desiring to go out to the links at four o'clock, there is no accommodation. It has been suggested that a regular bus service might be a good way out of the difficulty.

HOCKEY.

This is certainly an area of leagues in the Trent Valley District. The Trent Valley Hockey League has been tried and found successful. The football clubs of the Trent Valley district are organizing themselves into a league. The Havelock baseball team is anxious to see a league formed, whilst the probabilities of a curling association to include the towns of this district is sure to materialize next winter.

* * * *

There were thirty-three matches played in the Trent Valley League this season.

* * * *

The Stratton Cup has arrived from Fenelon Falls, and the letters "T. A. S., 1903," will be engraved thereon.

* * * *

The T.A.S. team is being photographed at Whiten's.

* * * *

The hockeyists of Winnipeg will play the game on roller skates.

* * * *

They are actually playing hockey in Belleville yet, as the following item from the Intelligencer of that town will show: "The hockey season will close on Saturday night, when the Bellevilles will play the Cobs of the City League. The game, which should be a good one, is for the benefit of the Bellevilles' trainer, who has worked hard and faithfully in the service of the club this season, and well deserves recognition."

LACROSSE.

The Lindsay Post says that there is is plenty of good material in that town to place a strong team in the Junior C.L.A. A first class team could be chosen from the following, so the Post says. Messrs. Cass, Cameron, Joe Carroll, Gillespie, George Ewart, Bert Menzies, J. O'Leary, F. Martin, Nelson McWilliams, J. Elliott, H. S. White and F. Stanton.

The Shamrocks of Montreal, will have the same material this year that carried off the championship last season. Percy Quinn, it is said, will also turn out.

* * * *

The Millbrook Lacrosse Club organised for the season last night.

* * * *

The lacrosse clubs of the Trent Valley district are asked to send delegates to a meeting to be held in the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday morning, of next week. There is every reason to believe that a strong league will be effected.

BASKETBALL.

The last local game of the Brownies and Harriers will be played on Saturday night in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, commencing at 8 o'clock. There will be a silver collection of 10c. at the door in aid of the "Bellhorn Organ" Fund. the match is to decide the local championship, and ample convenience for a large crowd has been made.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the Excelsior Baseball Club took place last night at the Y.M.C.A. A large number were present and all arrangements were made for the following season. The most important event of the evening was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—Mr. F. Clarke.
Manager—Mr. F. Whitcroft.

TENNIS.

The re-organization meeting of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club will be held to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock, when a full attendance of last year's members and those wishing to play this year is asked. The Y.M.C.A. Tennis players will this year have the privilege of playing on either cinder or grass courts, and the courts will be in charge of a special caretaker.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The local Y.M.C.A. has received an invitation from the Lindsay Y.M.C.A. to take part in an assault-at-arms, which is to be given in the Academy of Music for the purpose of raising funds for the equipment of the Lindsay gymnasium. It is expected that the Peterborough Association will accept the invitation.

ENNISMORE HONOURED ST. PATRICK.

Grand Concert Given in the Town Hall.

HIGH MASS CELEBRATED.

Rev. Father Bretherton Officiated as Chairman.

St. Martin's T. A. S. has now a Membership of 250—Great Celebration.

The people of Ennismore, true to their nationality, celebrated the feast of their Patron Saint, in true Irish fashion. High Mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. by Rev. Father Bretherton, P. P. of Downeyville, at which a very large number received Holy Communion. After Mass the reverend father, preached a very eloquent and impressive sermon, on "The Life and labours of Ireland's Apostle," and added a few more names to St. Martin's T.A.S., bringing the numbers of this young and flourishing society to upwards of 250. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick was in Downeyville on a similar mission, and the T.A.S. of St. Luke's is stronger by some fifty members.

In the afternoon and again in the evening a grand concert was given in the Township Hall at Ennismore, and notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads, the hall was quite inadequate to hold the crowds, assembled from all sides to hear the young people of Ennismore in their annual entertainment. Needless to say the concert was a success, as the township may justly feel proud of its musical and dramatic talent.

The following lengthy and varied programme speaks for itself:

Overture, "Irish Airs"...T.A.S. Orchestra
Song, "The Dear Little Shamrock"]..... Lily O'Connor.
Song, "Gipsy Jane" ... ...Vera Carew
Dialogue, "Signing the Pledge"... Boys of S. S. No.2
Banjo Solo, "Mike, Mike, Mike"...J. K. Galvin
Song, "Katy Mahone" ...Nora Scollard
First act of Irish play, "Shaun Aroon"
Selection ....Orchestra
Song, "Johnny Canuck" Carrie White
Scene from Shakespere... Messrs. McDonald and O'Donoghue
Selections on the gramaphone ... Rev. Father Bretherton
Song, "Mr. Dooley" ... Master M. Fitzpatrick
Song, "Hide Behind the Door when Papa Comes" ... ...M. A. Crough
Second act of the play.
Selection ....Orchestra
Song and Dance, "I'm Happy Sam the Bootblack ....O'Connor Bros.
Song, "Ring Down the Curtain" ...Miss A. Simons
Song, "Barney O'Brien" ...Master Frank Maloney
Duet, "I'll Go Tell My Mamma on You" Misses Creugh and Twomey
Recitation, "Hello Daddy" ...Miss Carrie White
Song, "Calvary" ...Miss Molly Young
Song, "The Faster you Pluck, Thats, etc."... ....Wm. Bell
Third act of play.
God Save the King.

The above programme was still more lengthened by numerous encores, which were occasionally responded to. Father Bretherton filled the chair most agreeably, and complimented most heartily the different performers. Of course, the chief attraction, was the play "Shaun Aroon." This drama is entirely out of the rut of so-called Irish plays—there are no red coats, no drunkards, no vulgarisms, no worn-out prison scenes. The play is new, in plot, in action, and in character. It is brisk, humourous, and true to life. The different parts were well taken, by the following persons:—

"Shaun Aroon" ....Peter Galvin
"Lord Fermoy" ... ...Wm. Cavanagh
"Fergus Riordan" ... ... Jas. Guiry
"Dan O'Grady" ... ... Frank Scollard
"Tom O'Grady" ... Ambrose Sullivan
"Old Hennings" ... ... Steve McDonald
"Nipper" ... ... Jas. Mahoney
"Patrick" ... ...Patrick Moher
"Mrs. O'Grady" ... ...Anne Kearney
"Molly" ... ...Loretta Guiry
"Maggie" ....Lottie Scollard

Peter Galvin, as Shaun Aroon, proved as usual to be a great favourite, and was warmly received at each appearence. William Cavanagh, the good natured landlord, took his double part very acceptably, and well deserved the unstinted praise he received. Jas. Guiry, Fermoy's rascally agent, handled this most difficult role to the satisfaction of all. To Frank Scollard fell the lot of impersonating Dan O'Grady, the sturdy old Irish farmer, and he did it to perfection, leaving no ground for the critic to cover. Ambrose Sullivan, was in look and apt, just such a person as you would expect Dan O'Grady's son to be, while Steve McDonald, was a typical old Shylock. The servant, Patrick, could not have been better represented, than the manner in which it was by Master Moher.

But, while the young men acted their part well, and are deserving of much commendation, the Misses Kearney, Scollard and Guiry, surpassed themselves, and won golden opinions from all who had the pleasure of hearing them. Though it was the first time these young ladies appeared before the footlights, their self-possession, clear accentuation, and graceful movements might well be mistaken for long experience, instead of natural taste and ability. We hope to have the pleasure of hearing them more frequently, if the present is any indication of what we may expect in the future.

Miss Carrie White, that fascinating little elf from Peterborough, was obliged to respond to encores no less than six times, and it was only at the request of the Reverend chairman to spare the child that the next number was allowed to go on. Wm. Bell fared almost as badly, and was again and again recalled. William is a great favourite with the boys of Ennismore, but he pays for his popularity at concerts. Miss Annie Simons of Peterborough, sang in clear, distinct tones, that favourite song, "Ring Down the Curtain." Mr. J. K. Galvin has always something very appropriate, and although an old-timer is still well received. Nora Scollard sang "Katie Mahone," in her usual good form, and Molly Young of Lakefield, strengthened her reputation as a pleasing singer. The children of S. S. No. 2, under the able direction of Mr. Steve McDonald, presented two excellent dialogues.

The success of the other singers, whose names appear on the programme, is mainly owing to the efforts of Miss Loretta Guiry, who spared neither time nor labour to make the concert a success. A novel innovation was the presentation of the funeral of Caesar, with the speeches by Brutus and Mark Antony, as given by Shakespeare. Mr. J. O'Donoghue has an excellent delivery and held the audience spellbound, in the brilliant oration of Brutus. Mr. Chas. McDonald followed as Mark Antony, and set all Rome a-howling.

Rev. Father Bretherton took advantage of every interval between acts and songs to give varied selections on the gramophone. The orchestra under the management of Mr. J. P. Flood, was a splendid acquisition to a splendid programme.

A very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of God Save Ireland, followed by the National Anthem, played by the orchestra and sung by the actors.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Elias Beavis of Douro, Married to Miss Jeanett Armstrong, of Garden Hill.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, March 18th, by Rev. A. W. Coone, at the residence of Mr. J. Armstrong, Garden Hill, brother of the bride, when Miss Jeanett Armstrong was united to Mr. Elias Beavis, of Douro.

The bride was costumed in her travelling suit, which was blue ladies' cloth with white silk waist and trimmings to match. The presents were costly and numerous. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch guard.

The bride has for many years been an earnest Sunday School teacher and League worker, and will be very much missed in church circles. Her friends of Zion Methodist church showed their esteem and appreciations of her personal character and faithful labours by presenting her with a fruit dish set in silver, and a handsome marble clock.

The many friends of the happy couple wish Mr. and Mrs. Beavis a long and happy life, together. They left on the five o'clock train for their future home in Douro.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of the mother, says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially woman's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and insures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

Legislature Listened Lazily to the Gamey Debate.

MR. GROSS' BRIGHT SPEECH.

Mr. Hanna Concludes His Speech Begun the Day Before—Member For North Toronto Makes His Maiden Speech —Conservative Speakers Brought Out Nothing New—Some Questions and Their Answers.

Toronto, March 21.—The members of the Legislature yesterday wore an attitude of resignation, which is usually assumed by them when the estimates or other unavoidable matters are before them, and have to be discussed a certain length of time. There was a scanty attendance on both sides, and few members remained in their own seats for any length of time, but wandered about, engaging in social intercourse. Mr. Hanna consumed more than an hour in finishing his speech, which, delivered in an earnest manner, roused to some extent the flagging interest of the Opposition members. Mr. Gross, who followed for the Ministerialists, spoke briefly, but in that interesting style which always secures him a good hearing. Dr. Beattie Nisbett came next, in his maiden speech. His earlier remarks lacked a good deal of the fire which characterizes his utterances on the stump, but this was remedied in his peroration.

Calling For Denials.

Mr. Hanna resumed the debate on the Gamey charges. After reviewing his points of Thursday, he said there were matters which demanded an explanation from the Ministers, and instanced the letters of D. A. Jones, of Beeton, in which that gentleman declared that he had interviewed a Minister, and had arranged that Mr. Gamey should have the patronage. In the absence of any denial for this or other charges was not the public and the press justified in reaching conclusions?

Continuing, Mr. Hanna strongly censured the Government for leaving the names of the Sullivans out of the charge to the commission and permitting them to go at large. It would be an outrage on justice if at the time of the investigation they failed to show up. Had the Government consented, as the Premier promised, to submit the investigation to a committee, there would not have been a dissenting voice from the ranks of the Opposition.

Taking up the legal aspect of the subject, he said there was no parallel between the Brockville and West Huron commissions and the present case. These commissions simply had to enquire into the conduct of an election, and not the impeachment of a member of the House.

Referring to the nature and scope of the commission he said that the Attorney-General and others had strenuously declared that the commission would investigate everything and everybody. Instead, however, they had made Stratton the scape-goat and made it impossible to investigate Jones, Sullivan, Vance or others implicated.

He asked the Attorney-General if the draft was in the hands of E. F. B. Johnston and A. B. Aylesworth before it was submitted to this House.

Hon. J. M. Gibson—I do not think the hon. gentleman is entitled to any such information.

The country, Mr. Hanna declared, did not care a fig what report was submitted so long as all the evidence was brought out. The public conscience was the tribunal.

Wants Even-Handed Justice.

Mr. Gross (Welland) said that if the member for Manitoulin had been longer in the House, he would have found that it was not the custom of the Opposition to make charges of a specific character. The members on that side dealt in generalities and inuendoes. He gave him credit for his courage in taking a new course.

The speaker asked for neither more nor less than even-handed justice. "We are not living in the United States," said the member for Welland. All Canada was shocked because a young lady of London had been taken to police headquarters in Buffalo and there interrogated in the Star Chamber fashion. That could not be done in this country. The Provincial Secretary was no particular friend of his, but he would stand by him until he was proven guilty by an impartial jury.

In a criminal case the information must be specific, in writing, and must be sworn to. The prisoner selected his tribunal and could tell the police magistrate that he wanted to go to a higher court. There he could elect to be tried by judge or jury, and he had the right to object to any member of the jury. The speaker would object to the Opposition as a jury in this case.

The Opposition wanted a committee on the "Heads I win, tails you lose" plan. If the charges were held not proven they could say that the Grits had a majority on the committee and would win anyway.

Judgment Not Final.

Why should all the rules of evidence be set aside for the trial of a member of this House? The rules of evidence before the House were the same as in a court of law. Witnesses would have the same right to object to giving evidence in the House as in a court of law, the only difference being that a committee would be less strict. The judgment of a committee was not final.

The member for West Lambton had taken the Opposition case apart and had shown how little there was in it. What the Opposition desired was the resignation of the ministry rather than investigation.

It had been said that the judges received their emoluments from the province. That was not so. They receive only a paltry $1,000 for living expenses, the remainder of the salary being paid by the Dominion.

Opposition members had quoted prominent Liberals as against submitting affairs of this sort to commissioners. In such cases equality prominent Conservatives would be found supporting them. In 1873, when Edward Blake had protested against the appointment of a commission, there had been no statute to provide for it. If in the investigation of the matter before a commission witnesses refused to answer questions, what more did the Opposition want for political purposes?

The speaker thought it wise of the Provincial Secretary to keep his mouth shut. The trial would be the time to make his defence. If the Opposition wanted the ministry in irons, they could lay an information before the police magistrate and the ministry would have to eat their supper in jail.

The speaker said he would like to be a member of the Opposition because it was so easy to find fault and so hard to take up active work

The seats of many of the gentlemen on the other side had been protested. How would they have liked their cases to have been tried in a committee, with, say seven Liberals and four Conservatives on it? It might take a long time to convince them that a commission was the proper tribunal, but he would debate till the first of July, if necessary, to do so.

Dr. Nesbitt's Maiden Speech.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt (North Toronto) said he wanted to know what would happen to the report when it was brought in by the commission. Reports of previous commissions had gone to the Attorney-General, and no one had any evidence that they had gone any further. Yet the statutes of Ontario gave the Attorney-General power to take further proceedings.

Mr. Gibson—The report goes first to the Lieutenant-Governor and afterwards may be brought down by a resolution of the House.

Dr. Nesbitt—Is there anything that will prevent its discussion?

Mr. Gibson—Of course there is nothing to prevent its discussion.

Dr. Nesbitt—But will anything?

Mr. Gibson—No.

Dr. Nesbitt—The member for North Oxford had carried party feeling so far as to insinuate that the leader of the Opposition might falsify the incriminating documents before they came before the tribunal.

British justice had been mentioned, and one great principle of this was that a man should be tried by his peers. The House was the proper and competent tribunal. The investigation should be conducted in such a way that all the evidence could be brought before the House and people, so that it would not be hidden by legal verbiage or legal technicalities. Plain questions would be put and plain answers given, and the truth would be open to the people.

He asked the Premier whether he had consulted the two judges named when he asked them to act on the commission.

Mr. Ross—They were out of town and were telegraphed to.

Dr. Nesbitt—Did they consent?

Mr. Ross—They did.

Dr. Nesbitt—And no others were asked?

Mr. Ross—No others were asked.

Dr. Nesbitt—How unfortunate for the others.

Dr. Nesbitt repeated some of the arguments that his friends had offered before him, and said that the whole matter should not be placed upon the Provincial Secretary. He was but the rim of the funnel of which the Premier was the spout.

In connection with a reference to Cap. Sullivan, Dr. Nesbitt spoke of Duncan Bole as an agent of an insurance company of which Mr. Ross was the President.

Mr. Ross replied that Mr. Bole had been appointed when Sir John Macdonald was President of the company.

The name of the company, Dr. Nesbitt continued, was the Temperance & General.

Mr. Ross—Mr. Bole was never employed in the Temperance & General.

Dr. Nesbitt was at a loss to follow up the point, but concluded with a general campaign indictment of the Government and a prophecy of the indignant wrath of the public which was hanging even now like a threatening cloud over the heads of the Ministers.

Mr. Graham moved the adjournment of the debate.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

How Commission Dealt With Anthracite Coal Miners.

THE REPORT IS UNANIMOUS.

Did Not Consider Non-Unionists as a Party Before the Commission, and This Is Taken to Mean Recognition of the United Mine Workers of America — Other Relief Clauses.

Washington, March 21.—The United Mine Workers of America have won a sweeping victory, according to the terms of the report of the Anthracite Coal Commission, which was formulated Thursday and sent to the President and to the Senate.

The document was taken to the White House by Judge Gray, president of the Commission, and Colonel Carroll D. Wright, recorder and member of the body.

The report of the Commission, Colonel Wright said, is unanimous.

The victory of the United Mine Workers and all of their friends consist in these facts:

First.—That the miners are to be paid by weight.

Second.—That the weight is to be honest and is to be ascertained by a representative of the miners (one of their own body), as well as heretofore by a representative of the coal operators.

Third.—The miners are to have an increase of 15 per cent. in wages.

Fourth.—Non-union men were not considered as one of the parties before the Commission.

The preceding fact is equivalent to a recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

The main facts in the Commission report were obtained from a most trustworthy authority.

The only official statement obtainable Thursday night was that the report as to words was very concise. It is said to contain only about 1,500 words. There is an appendix of about 3,500 words.

Cuban Reciprocity Treaty.

Washington, March 20.—After ratifying the Cuban Reciprocity Treaty the Senate adjourned sine die yesterday at 5.15 p.m.. Practically the entire day was spent behind closed doors in executive session.

Packing Companies Heavily Fined.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 21.—The Armour, Cudahy, Swift, Hammond and Schwartzschild & Sulzberger Packing Companies, the five defendants in the ouster proceedings brought by the Attorney-General of Missouri against the alleged beef combine last summer, were fined $5,000 each in the Missouri Supreme Court yesterday, and ordered to pay the cost of the case, which amount to $5,000. Unless the fines and costs are paid within 30 days, the defendants will be ordered ousted from the State.

Death of Well-Known Engineer.

Montreal, March 21.—One of Canada's best known and most capable engineers died yesterday morning at Coteau Landing in the person of Mr. Thomas Monro. Deceased, who was chief engineer of the Soulanges Canal, had also charge of that important waterway during its construction, which cost $10,000,000.

THE LOCAL SUGAR PROJECT.

Mr. Garvin, the Managing Director Issues a Letter

And Sets Forth a few Points Concerning His Company.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, Managing Director of the Peterborough Beet Sugar Company, has issued the following circular letter:—

Peterborough, March 20, 1903.

To the Citizens of Peterborough, Town and County:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having accepted the Managing Directorship of the Peterborough Sugar Company, permit me to lay the following facts before you:—

1. The factory and lot are to cost $500,000, as follows,—$125,000 in cash, $225,000 in Company's bonds, bearing 5 per cent. interest for 15 years, and $150,000 in stock.

2. The capital stock of the Peterborough Sugar Company is $350,000, and the bond issue $300,000. The Company is offering for sale 2,000 $100 shares of stock at par value to be paid for in 8 monthly instalments. Five hundred citizens of this community purchasing an average of four shares would take all the stock for sale, and keep absolute control of the Company and factory in Peterborough. As quite a number of stock-holders are applying for 10 shares each I am hopeful that the average taken will be at least 3one.

3. The probabilities are that the Company will secure the first year at least 40,000 tons of beets, which will yield a dividend I believe, of not less than 10 per cent. This is a satisfactory profit on investment. In subsequent years when 60,000 or more tons of beets are sliced the dividends will be correspondingly higher. I have made careful calculations of the total receipts and expenditures and feel safe in predicting that during no year in the next twenty shall the dividend on the stock be less than 10 per cent.

4. The Directors are taking action to secure the best French experts to instal the plant and to successfully work it. The best ability available shall be secured to manage every important branch of the business.

5. At the earliest possible moment several strong men financially shall be added to the Board of Directors, and a competent auditor appointed.

6. Dr. W. H. Jeffs, ex-County Councillor, an energetic and capable man, is in charge of the Agricultural branch of the business and he has a staff of twenty good canvassers soliciting acreage. Any person who shall agree to grow ten acres or more of beets shall be bound under the contract for one year only, and those growing less acreage for two years only. One man and two boys can thin an acre of beets in a day. It has been proven conclusively in Michigan and Western Ontario that sugar beets can be sown, cultivated, harvested and delivered at the factory for $2 per ton. This cost includes interest or rent on the value of the land. Hence every farmer or other person who undertakes to produce sugar beets for the factory at $4 per ton the first year, which is equivalent to 12c. a bushel, and more subsequently, can safely rely on making 100 per cent. on the outlay. This should be satisfactory to the beet producers. The stockholders of the company will be satisfied with an average dividend of 10 per cent. Beet producers have the same privilege of purchasing stock in the company as others.

7. Gentlemen teachers in the county, retired farmers and others, should engage in the production of beets. They did so in the County of Waterloo last year, and notwithstanding the unfavourable season, because of the unusually wet weather, netted a good profit. School children made good wages after 4 p.m., and on Saturday, thinning beets.

8. As it may be impossible for our soliciting agents to see every person who may wish to purchase stock, a letter addressed to me, or a call at my offices over the Bank of Commerce, will bring about the desired result. Telephone No. 56.

9. Building operations will begin in a week or two. We have seven months in which to erect the buildings and to instal the plant. Berlin accomplished it in that time, and so can we.

10. The residue syrup, about 2,000 tons, or 300,000 gallons annually, will sell for $9,000 at the factory. Millionaires in Toronto, are constructing a new distillery for the sole object of converting the residue molasses from sugar beets into alcohol, vinegar, etc., and they are offering $4.50 a ton.

11. Sugar is an important staple food, the demand for which is ever increasing. Strong and doubtless successful efforts, will soon be made to induce both Governments to increasingly foster this great new industry. The German, French and United States Governments have done so with remarkable success. In Peterborough we have exceptional facilities and advantages. So much so, it is my belief, based on four months' careful study of the sugar beet industry, that three years from to-day no share of our stock can be purchased for less than $200.

In conclusion, let me ask the hearty co-operation of all citizens in this great undertaking, which will circulate annually in our midst not less than $300,000, and largely increase the value of property.

Very truly yours,
J. W. GARVIN.

Sunlight Soap will not injure your blankets or harden them. It will make them soft, white and fleecy. 7B

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing a child involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. She cannot help it, as her condition is due to suffering and shattered nerves caused by some derangement of the uterine system with backache, headache, and all kinds of pain, and she is on the verge of nervous prostration.

When a mother finds that she cannot be calm and quiet with her children, she may be sure that her condition needs attention, and she cannot do better than to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This medicine will build up her system, strengthen her nerves, and enable her to calmly handle a disobedient child without a scene. The children will soon realize the difference, and seeing their mother quiet, will themselves become quiet.

Mrs. May Brown, of Chicago, Ill., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—'Honor to whom honor is due,' and you deserve both the thanks and honor of the mothers of America whom you have so blessedly helped and benefited. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I would feel run-down, nervous and irritable, or have any of the aches and pains which but few women escape, and I have found that it relieved me at once and gave me new strength. Several ladies, members of our Literary Union, speak in the highest praise of your Vegetable Compound, as they have been cured from serious female troubles. One lady, who thought she must submit to an operation, was cured without using anything in the world but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. You have boxs of friends in Chicago, and if you came to visit our city we would delight to do you honor. Gratefully yours,—MRS. MAY BROWN, 57 Grant Place, Chicago, Ill.

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Mrs. McKinny.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and let you know the good you and your Vegetable Compound are doing. I had been sick ever since my first baby was born, and at the birth of my second, my doctor, as well as myself thought I should never live through it. After that menstruation never came regular, and when it came I suffered terribly. I also had womb and ovarian trouble. A friend of my husband's advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. At first I had no faith in it, but now nothing could induce me to be without it. Menstruation has become regular, and I feel like a new woman. Your medicine is a God-send to suffering women. I hope this letter will lead others to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours truly, MRS. MILDRED MCKINNY, 28 Pearl St., San Francisco, Cal." ORANGE GRAND LODGE.

The Report of Grand Secretary of the Order.

ADDRESS OF COUNTY LODGE.

Statistical Information Regarding the Standing and Progress of Orange Interests in Ontario East.

Below will be found the last of the report of the Grand Secretary of the Orange Grand Lodge, and also of the address of welcome presented by Peterborough County Lodge, space for either of which was not available in yesterday's issue.

GRAND SECRETARY'S REPORT.

R.W. Bro. F. M. Clarke, Grand Secretary, presented his annual report, which proved to be a very interesting and instructive document. It is as follows:—

To the Right Worshipful the Grand Master, Officers and Members of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East:

Brethren,—I congratulate you, one and all that we meet under such favourable auspices at the close of another year to take a calm, retrospective view of the many events of interest that have transpired in the Empire of which we are proud to form a part, and consider carefully the circumstances more particularly affecting our beloved Order in this jurisdiction. Our country has enjoyed a large measure of prosperity, and the town of Peterborough is one of the most prosperous, active, and go-ahead centers of industry in our fair Dominion. Our Order has shared in a fair degree of that prosperity in Ontario East.

At once, after the close of our meeting last year, I prepared and forwarded replies to the several addresses presented at that meeting, and had properly engrossed the resolutions referring to the actions of members of Parliament voting expressions of sympathy with Home Rule, etc., and forwarded copies to his Excellency the Governor-General and the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, which have been graciously acknowledged. We also had 10,000 copies of the Grand Master's address printed and distributed among the members and the executive officers, and made an appeal by circular for subscriptions from the members of the Order, through their Primary lodges, to be used by this Grand Lodge in some fitting way, to perpetuate the memory of the late Brothers Bell and Wallace. This latter I fear has not been rightly understood or intelligently responded to by the members, and it seems advisable that the Grand Lodge at the present session take such action as will more definitely place this matter before the several lodges. Some action should be taken at this session to provide for the enforcement of Rule 54 of the Constitution, as this rule is far more honoured in its breach than in its observance.

Statistical.

During the year 1902 there were two new Primary lodges instituted, viz.: No. 686, in the County of East Peterborough, and No. 685, in the County of Northumberland, and four Primary lodges have been reported dormant, viz.: Nos. 397, in West Durham; 139, in Victoria; 7745, in Lanark; and 633, in Stormont. The following Primary lodges have not reported for several years, and some action should be taken to either have them revived, or the warrants returned, viz.: 458 and 494, West Peterborough; 495, South Frontenac; 219 and 1150, Centre Frontenac; 1237, Grenville, and 788, Dundas.

The details from the County Lodge returns as far as reported show that during the year there were 347 initiated, 243 joined by certificate, and 227 reinstated, making the total gains 1,088. Withdrawn by certificate, 45; suspended, 566; expelled, 27; and died, 121; total losses, 1,146.

There are now working under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge 24 County Lodges, 81 District Lodges, and 233 Primary Lodges, with 12,457 members in active connection, and lodge property valued at $179,233, showing a net gain of 241 in membership, and $7,753 in value of lodge property. This year, again, the number suspended for non-payment of dues is abnormally large, and I would again urge that action be taken by the officers of the Primary lodges to prevent this apparently unnecessary leakage.

The Triennial Council.

The Triennial Council of the Loyal Orange Association of the World will meet in the city of Dublin, Ireland, on the 16th day of July next, and it is hoped that the usual representation of this Grand Lodge at this meeting will be provided for.

After reference to some matters of comparatively minor importance the Grand Secretary's report concluded thus:—

I sincerely thank you for all the many acts of kindness and courtesy shown me, and regret that I have not been able to do more for the benefit of the Order in this jurisdiction. Hoping that our meeting together may still further advance the interests of Protestantism, I remain,
Fraternally Yours,
F. M. CLARKE,
Grand Secretary.

Peterborough, March 13, 1903.

COUNTY LODGE WELCOME.

To the Right Worshipful Grand Master and Members of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East.

Sir and Brethern,—It is with great pleasure that on behalf of the Officers and Members of the County Lodge of West Peterborough we tender you a hearty and fraternal welcome to our town.

As brethren engaged in the work of an Order whose mission is to spread justice and liberty and to make truth triumphant through the length and breadth of our fair Dominion we are honoured and rejoiced by the presence amongst us of those who have been deemed by their brethren most worthy to represent them at this high and honourable Grand Lodge, and we trust that your session here may prove both pleasant and profitable to yourself and may redound to the honour and advancement of our cause. Our country has at all times much need for men who are not afraid to stand up for equal rights for both majority and minority in all the Provinces, and if we live up to the principles of our Order and maintain the example of toleration and moderation set by the great King William III, we cannot be but true patriots and worthy citizens.

We are glad to say that in this county there exists a high degree of good feeling and co-operation among all creeds, founded on mutual respect and fair play.

We have special pleasure in welcoming you to this our Town of Peterborough, at this time. We feel that we are citizens of no mean city—of a city whose prosperity rests on firm and lasting foundations and is destined in a very few years to take a place in the front rank of Canada's industrial centres. Nature has blessed us with a beautiful and healthful situation, with rich and fertile fields in all directions around us, with enchanting lakes and rivers a constant source of refreshing life. We have the great advantages for merchantile and manufacturing business of being on main lines of both railway systems, and also on the route of the Trent Canal now nearing completion and providing the shortest and safest outlet for the unlimited products of our magnificent North West. Peterborough has shared in exceptionally large measure in the marvellous prosperity with which Providence has blessed our country and in the last two years has entered on a course of progress with which we are all delighted. A visit to the score of manufactories of which we can boast, especially to the works of The American Cereal Co. and the Canadian General Electric Co., will convince you that Peterborough has already the right to rank as one of the chief manufacturing centres of the Province, and will soon hold a still higher position. We would call your attention also to the Hydraulic Lift Lock, the largest single lock in the world, and one of the greatest engineering works on the continent, and to the splendid dam which the Cereal Co. is now building the first of a series of dams on our river which provide a water power second only to Niagara.

We trust that your visit to our town will be full of enjoyment and profit both as guests and as members of our Order, and our own members will be happy to render every assistance in their power.

May your deliberations be guided by the Hand of Providence, so that the cause of true religion may be sustained and advanced through your efforts.

Signed on behalf of West Peterborough County Orange Lodge.

W. B. MCWILLIAMS,
County Master.
W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
County Secretary.

AGAIN THE CANAL.

Port Hope People are Out Securing Assistance.

Port Hope Guide.

A delegation from the Port Hope Canal Association, Messrs. Barrett, Mulholland and Honor, went out to Millbrook on Monday last and waited on the council of Cavan and Millbrook. Mr. Charles McNeill, reeve of Cavan, received the deputation with much courtesy, and made an appointment with them to be heard later. At the time appointed the deputation addressed the council re the Trent Canal outlet via Port Hope. Afterwards a resolution signed by the Clerk and Reeve was passed, that a memorial be forwarded to the Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, on claims laid down by the deputation.

Mr. W. T. Given, reeve of Millbrook, kindly favoured the deputation by calling a special meeting of the council for 3.30 p.m. After hearing the remarks of the delegates it was moved by Mr. Kells, seconded by Mr. Deak, that a memorial be forwarded to the Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals, seeking for the completion of the canal, and also for an independant survey via Port Hope so that a fair comparison could be made with the Trenton route.

The deputation in a few words thanked the councils for giving them a hearing and granting their requests.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Young's Point, March 20.

The many friends in Young's Point were exceedingly sorry to learn of the death of Miss Vernie McFarlane, daughter of Mr. William McFarlane, which occurred in Bobcaygeon on Monday, March 16th. The deceased, who was 23 years of age, had been ailing for the past two years. She leaves her parents and two sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. Jas. Johnston, of Bobcaygeon, to mourn her loss. The funeral took place from Bobcaygeon Wednesday, March 18th, and the remains were interred in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Young's Point. Her friends at Young's Point were unable to attend the funeral from Bobcaygeon, owing to the extremely bad condition of the roads, but were all assembled at the cemetery here, for hours before the funeral arrived, which showed their extreme sorrow for the deceased.

The water is very high here at present, and we expect to see it still higher before the ice disappears from Clear Lake.

We have lovely spring weather at present, but the roads are in a bad condition.

Mr. Frank McCauley, of Trenton, is visiting his sister, Miss Mary McCauley.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new gates of the locks here.

The small boys are once more amusing themselves by catching perch.

First 1903 Death by Lightning.

Wallaceburg, March 21.—Wm. Tooley, son of R. Tooley, Jr., was killed by lightning here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Tooley was employed at the Sugar Works as foreman among the laborers. He and some of the men went in out of the rain. Tooley stood in the open doorway watching the passing shower, when he was struck down by a shaft of lightning.

SHE MADE A CHANGE

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

LORD'S DAY WEEK

To be Observed Throughout Canada From April 19-26.

"Lord's Day Week" has won as prominent a place in the thought of Evangelical Christianity as the week of prayer—throughout at least the Anglo-Saxon world. In Britain, United States and Canada it is quite generally observed. It always begins with the first Sunday after Easter (19th April). It therefore begins with Sunday April 19th. All societies having for their object the preservation of the Lord's Day have united in an earnest call for the observance of the 26th Lord's Day Week on the above date.

Someone may ask "Why a Lord's Day Week at all?"

We may answer:—

1. Because there is special need of a revival of reverence for the Lord's Day. The divine authority of the Sabbath law is called in question or openly denied.

The Day itself is observed by many—even Christian people with growing looseness. Attendance at Divine service is giving place to general reading, social gatherings or pleasure seeking. What wonder, therefore, if the worldly and non-religious without hesitation or apology make the Holy Day of God a holiday of the world?

If God's Day be dishonoured, neither His Word nor His Name nor other sacred thing will long be revered. Does the 20th century need anything more than a revival of reverence?

2. Because there is serious danger of the Lord's Day, as a national Canadian Institution, being seriously impaired and of its becoming a day of business and toil for large numbers of the people.

Many corporations yield to the pressure of business and make use of the Lord's Day to get relief and increase their profits. Especially is this true of foreign concerns, which, not content with an effort to secure a lion's share of our phenomenal natural wealth, openly scout our religious convictions and defy our laws.

Imported labour, too, — American, European and Asiatic— is ready too often to enter seven-day-in-the-week bondage for the money there is in it, and not a few Canadians will work on the Lord's Day rather than risk losing employment. Between 100,000 and 150,000 in Canada already have no Sabbath rest!

3. Because a general effort, at one season, throughout the country, by all who value the Lord's Day, is bound to make an impression upon the public mind that will last.

How shall we observe "Lord's Day Week?" What use can we make of it? In other years it has been used in the following ways, which may be regarded as suggestions to those desiring such:—

1. Special sermons are preached on the Lord's Day, and Christian people encouraged specially to pray for its better observance.

2. Some special reference is made in Sunday School urging upon the children the claims of the Lord's Day—its sacredness or its benefits.

3. The same is done in Y.P.S.'s, Y.M.C.A.'s, W.C.T.U.'s, etc.

4. Lord's Day Alliance Executives arrange for union meetings in their centre or vicinity.

5. Labour councils or unions arrange for meetings for the discussion of the question from the labour view-point and for the emphasizing of the workingman's special interest in the weekly rest day.

There is no better time in the year than just before the summer season with its special temptations to Sabbath desecration.

Anyone desiring to speak on the present state of the Lord's Day question in Canada can obtain information on application to The Lord's Day Alliance, 123 Confederation Life Building, Toronto.

Physicians say nothing is so helpful for throat and lung troubles, whether acute or chronic, and for wasting diseases, as Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with Hypophosphites. It is pleasant to take and agrees with the stomach.

It relieves congestion and irritation, soothes and heals the bronchial tubes, makes breathing easy, changes the character of expectoration, and cures the cough. Its effects are rapid. It aids digestion, helps assimilate the food, and has a healthy action upon the bowels. Pills and aperients are unnecessary.

I was troubled with bronchitis for ten years, being frequently unable to work for months at a time. I tried many remedies with poor results. I used Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and feel like a new man. I have not been so well for many years.—Robert Wile, Toronto, Canada.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

How Thousands Get Well.

I have actual records of over half a million chronic cases which I have cured in the past 12 years—cured them with my Restorative—cured them on just the terms that I offer you.

My offer is this:—

Simply mail me this coupon, or write me a postal stating which book you need. I will then mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

My Restorative is the leading remedy of the world to-day. I have furnished it on those remarkable terms to nearly 550,000 people, and 39 out of each 40 have paid for it gladly, because they were cured. In practically every neighborhood everywhere there are cured ones telling others about it.

There are 39 chances in 40 that it will cure you, and I'll take the entire risk.

The Only Way to Cure.

In most chronic diseases the only way to cure is the inside nerves.

Remedies that merely doctor the weak organs may seem to bring brief benefit. But real results come only when we restore the inside nerves. This is the power which alone operates the vital organs. And no weak organ can do its duty until that nerve power comes back.

My Restorative does that—always. I have spent a lifetime in phrfecting it for just this one purpose. It treats a weak organ as you would treat a weak engine—by giving it more power. It does all that is needed, and does that which must be done, whether the trouble is little or severe.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spell This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by

Paine's Celery Compound

Saves a Lady from the Dangers and Perils of Insomnia and Nervous Prostration After Failures of Physicians.

It is now generally admitted that insomnia or sleeplessness is caused by exhaustion of nerve force, and a sluggish condition of the digestive organs. Overwork, worry and care have also their effect upon the nerves Sleeplessness in spring time is one of the commonest trouble afflicting men and women, and in too many cases fatal results follow. In thousands of instances the terrible trouble develops insanity and madness — then the asylum with its surrounding horrors.

Paine's Celery Compound promptly banishes sleeplessness and inflammation of the nerves. The wonderful medicine quickly makes nerve fibre and nerve force, cleanses the blood, strengthens the tissues of the brain and gives rest and sleep. Paine's Celery Compound contains exactly the elements needed for your condition in springtime. May Heaven direct you to use it, dear sufferer, at this time. Mrs. A. Lagault of Montreal, writes thus:

"I would have been a lost woman had I continued much longer in suffering. My case was a bad one. Nervous prostration, insomnia, headache and loss of memory made up my troubles and I feared that they would lead to insanity. The doctors treated me with all their skill but I did not get any better. Some of my friends advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle gave me little relief but the second worked miraculously on my nerves. After the use of nine bottles I can positively say that I am cured."

The Age of Brain Work.

In those days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

MR. BLAIR'S SCHEME.

Minister of Railways Explains Railway Commission Bill.

PROVISION FOR ONE APPEAL.

To Governor-General in One Case and to Supreme Court in Another—Powers to Regulate Rates and Deal With Shippers' Grievances — Commission of Three or Five Members.

Ottawa, March 21.—Hon. Mr. Blair introduced the railway commission bill yesterday afternoon. He explained the general principles of the bill in a manner that indicated his willingness to accept suggestions for its improvement. The explanation was followed with the closest attention, and many questions were asked from both sides of the House. Debate is, of course, irregular on the first reading of a bill, but from the tone of the questions it seems probable that the bill will not be discussed from a party standpoint, but as a measure for the general advantage of Canada. Some progress was made with the estimates, and the House rose at 6 o'clock.

The Railway Commission.

Hon. Mr. Blair said he had in drafting the bill been guided by the experience of Great Britain and the United States with railway commissions. His information regarding the conditions had been acquired from Prof. J. S. McLean, late of Toronto University, who had examined the conditions in the United States and Canada at the request of the Government. Some of the provisions in the bill were based on Prof. McLean's investigations.

The history of railway commissions proved that the commissioners prevented arbitrary exactions and were recognized as impartial arbiters of railway questions. They aided the shippers in getting fair treatment. In the United States the commissioners had been hampered by the fact that their term of office was too short, salaries too low, and the best men not available. Besides that the scandalous litigation legalized by the state and federal laws of the United States was detrimental to the railway commission.

Working of Commissions.

Judicial decisions very often nullified the work of the commission. Yet in spite of these drawbacks the railway commissions in the United States had done good work. What were the benefits resulting? Rate wars were lessened, short and long hauls equalized, warnings given of probable effect of certain acts, unjust claims against railways silenced, smaller shippers benefited, tariff classifications made better, valuable statistical work done, proper safety equipment on trains seen to.

All the objects recited were aimed at by the present bill. In order to achieve them the hands of the commissioners would be strengthened. They would be given powers larger and more executive. The powers that would be conferred on the commissioners would go far beyond any previous legislation anywhere on the question of railways.

The commission would assume all the powers of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council. The number of commissioners was left blank. It would be either three or five. Personally, he favored three. It would be a court of record. The term of office would be ten years, but a member, if under 75 years of age, would be eligible for re-appointment. Seventy-five was the age limit, after having reached which a member would have to retire.

The bill as printed contained a clause stating that members were removable only on an address of both Houses to the Governor-General. This clause would be changed in committee so as to read that the commissioners would be removable in the same manner as are Lieutenant-Governers of provinces, viz., by the Governor-General and on cause.

Majority Decides.

A majority of the commission would decide a case, but one member alone might make an order and hold a hearing if the matter was not of a contentious character. The meetings of the commission will be migratory, provided always that the Minister of Railways approve of the place of meeting. As to salaries, he had preferred to leave this an open question.

The commission was given wide powers. It would be absolute judge of both law and fact, subject to certain exceptions. It would always be absolute judge as to facts, but subject to an appeal only to the Governor-General-in-Council.

"Nobody, I apprehend, wants to hamper the great railway interests of the country," said the speaker. "There are occasions when offers of a particular merchandise are made with which railways have to deal at once and have no time to prepare and submit a tariff for the consideration and approval of the board. They are to have power to make such a tariff and apply it at once, advising the board of what they have done, when the board may approve or disallow such tariff."

Mr. Cowan was informed that the commission would control the rates of express companies.

New Charters and Railways.

Mr. Blair, continuing, referred to a question not dealt with in the bill, but which he wished discussed, namely, the exercise by the commission of control over the granting of new charters or the location of new railways.

It would be an absolute judge as to law, except in questions of jurisdiction when a case might be submitted by the commission to the Supreme Court, as in the Railway Committee to-day. The bill gave the commission control of rates so as to guard against discriminations, under preference or advantage of any kind.

It would be given power to alter freight classification in order to make it not only uniform, but also more equitable and just to shippers. The Minister considered this part of the bill most important. The provisions put in it along this line were drawn up after the discussion with expert traffic men who had had large experience. These provisions aimed to protect the interests and rights of transportation companies and assumed for the commission absolute and complete control as to what railway rates should be.

A New Era.

In answer to Mr. Haggart, Mr. Blair stated that the commission would not control the rates of the J.C.R., and those of the C.P.R. by reason of limitations inherent in the charters of their construction. To be provided for the greatest possible publicity for all matter relating to railway tariffs, it would divide tariffs into three classes, standard, special and competitive. At present tariff schedules emanate from the railway companies. That system will cease. Under the bill the companies might draw up their tariffs, but the commission might not approve and could substitute and prescribe another tariff. This would be the standard tariff, and would be the general tariff in operation in such portions of the railway as the commission might determine.

Such control was given to such commissions in the United States, and the commission acted as an advisory board for the state legislature.

The commission was given power to grant or withhold a certificate of public necessity, the possession of which gave leave to build the railway. Another question only for discussion was the giving of the commission power to exercise a very careful supervision and control over the excessive issue of stock and bonds of railway companies. Speaking for himself he thought the permission to issue stock had been abused by railways in Canada.

Legislation Necessary.

"It is my opinion that we would be acting in entire conformity with public sentiment if we turned our eyes in the direction of legislation of that kind," he said.

In conclusion Mr. Blair said: "The bill has been framed in an honest endeavor to put before Parliament a bill which should be effective in its operation. If the country desires that there should be a tribunal constituted for the purpose of exercising a larger measure of control over the railways, I think we would fail in our duty if we did not give that tribunal ample power to carry out that purpose."

Personnel of Board.

Referring to the personnel of the board he said: "It will be necessary that there be in that board a man of large legal experience who has had some means of learning the trend and bearing of railway questions and who has followed railway work generally. He should have technical knowledge. Outside of these two qualifications a large latitude may be exercised. I think the general interest of Canada must also be borne in mind, the interests of the great farming community of Canada. I am satisfied that the selection that we make in respect to the business interests of the country will commend itself heartily to the approval of the farming community and promote and further their interests."

The bill was given the first reading.

The House went into Supply at 4.30 o'clock and passed a number of items with little discussion, adjourning at 6 o'clock until 8 o'clock Monday.

Senate Adjourns.

Ottawa, March 21.—The Senate adjourned yesterday to meet on Wednesday, April 15.

Will of Late Judge McDougall.

Toronto, March 21.—The will of the late Joseph Easton McDougall, senior Judge of York County, was entered for probate yesterday. The will is dated May 14, 1889, with a codicil dated July 26, 1899. The property amounts to $50,965.25. The income of the estate is to be paid to Mrs. McDougall during the term of her natural life and so long as she shall remain a widow.

RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLE

Mrs. Alex. Armstrong, of Fox P.O., Man., Suffered to Such an Extent She Had to Take Laudanum to Relieve the Pain.

Would Lie For Days in a Stupid and Helpless Condition—Could Not Walk Without Assistance and Became a Physical Wreck.

A Friend Advised Powley's Liquified Ozone—Less Than Three Bottles Cured Her Completely—She Is Free From Aches and Pains and Is in Perfect Health.

"For more than two years I have been a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. Many times the pains were so terrible and my suffering so great that I could not endure them, and was obliged to take laudanum to the extent of three teaspoonfuls at a time, and I would lie in a stupid and helpless condition for two or three days. I became a physical wreck and thought I would never recover. I got so weak I could not walk without assistance, and I could only get relief from my suffering by taking laudanum. I took doctor's medicine but got no relief. A friend of mine advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I purchased a bottle and began taking it. I had taken only half the bottle when I began to feel that it was doing me good and I began to get better. I continued the use of Ozone until I had taken over two large bottles, and I am now completely cured. My general health is better than it has been for years. I am entirely free from rheumatic pains and no longer suffer from kidney trouble. In fact I am in perfect health. I am free from aches and pains, and blessed be your Ozone, for it has done it all. I attribute my complete recovery and restoration to perfect health to the use of Ozone alone, having taken no other remedy, and I can recommend Ozone to all sick and suffering women. When all other remedies fail Ozone will restore your health as it did mine.

MRS. ALEX. ARMSTRONG,

MANY OTHER CURES.

The following extracts are taken from the letters of a few of the many persons who have been cured of rheumatism and kidney troubles by Powley's Liquified Ozone:

WM. FLETCHER,

Brinvale, Ont., says: "For about two years I suffered from kidney disease and finally became so ill that my doctor advised me that if I had any business to settle that I had better have it attended to. Fully expecting to die I had him draw up my will. About this time Mr. Conover, a neighbour, recommended Powley's Liquified Ozone. I felt better after taking the second dose and after taking five bottles was entirely cured. Although 73 years of age I am as well that I can do a good amount of work and feel that I am good for at least ten years to come."

WM. GOUGH,

Danforth and Pape avenue, Toronto, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe, which developed into rheumatic fever. I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds. I employed the services of a good physician, but derived no benefit; in fact I became worse. I was advised to try several of the cures advertised, but in spite of all the many remedies I took I grew weaker and weaker. I was advised to go to Preston Mineral Springs, which I did, but I was so weak I could not stand the baths and got worse. I became discouraged and came home to die.

"After taking three bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone the rheumatism left me. For six weeks previous to this I could take no nourishment, as all, but the first bottle gave me a good appetite. I began to gain in flesh and have been steadily increasing ever since. I now weigh 170 pounds and feel as well as possible."

JOSEPH CORON,

45 St. Antoine street, Montreal, says: "Two years ago I was laid up with rheumatism for nearly two months, and since February last I have been very bad. I saw your Ozone advertised and I procured a bottle and began taking it. I had not completed the bottle when I began to get better; my rheumatic pains began to leave me. I have taken only three bottles and my rheumatism is completely cured. I am in better health now than I have been for the last ten years."

D. T. GREENSIDE,

29 Clarence street, London, Ont., says: "For years I had rheumatism and indigestion. I tried all kinds of remedies, but got nothing to help me out of my trouble. Mrs. Harry Hinson, of Toronto, sent me several bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone. After taking it I am happy to say I am now in splendid health. You certainly have the best remedy in the market to-day for chronic diseases, as I have proved to my entire satisfaction."

GEO. BRENNAN,

504 Albert street, Montreal, says: "For four years past I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. Sometimes so severe was the pain that I was forced to lay off from my work. I am a cabman and when I was forced to go to bed I suffered much pain. I tried all kinds of liniments and patent medicines, but got no relief. About July 1st I was induced to try Ozone and when I had taken about three bottles I was free from any pain and my rheumatism was entirely cured, and I felt better than I had for years."

WALTER RAINE,

city traveler for the Hough Lithographing Co., Toronto, says: "For some time I was troubled with kidney disease, which I believe was fast developing into Bright's disease. I also had rheumatism in my shoulders and knees and my digestion was far from good. I tried Powley's Liquified Ozone. The first bottle helped me and I continued taking it until I had taken four bottles, when every symptom of my old ailments was gone. I now keep Ozone in the house and find it an excellent remedy for any sickness that we may have."

MRS. MATILDA DALE,

90 Edwin street, Toronto, says: "My husband contracted a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. He soon became so bad that he had to quit work. Finally he had to be lifted or turned in bed, as he could not move himself. At length we decided to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. At first it made him very sick and he wanted to give it up. But I had heard if Powley's Liquified Ozone caused any sickness at the stomach that this was a sign that the remedy was doing good work, and I prevailed on him to continue it. In one week after, he was able to get out of bed. He continued to take Powley's Liquified Ozone, using seven bottles, when he was entirely relieved of the rheumatism, and is now working every day."

DISEASE GERMS cannot exist where Powley's Liquified Ozone is used. We claim just one thing for Ozone and that is that it cures disease by destroying disease germs wherever located. It is due to this fact alone that Ozone cures rheumatism and kidney trouble when drug preparations prove entirely valueless. Ozone is sold by all reliable druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Our book on rheumatism and kidney trouble is free. Write a postal to-day.

A VERY INTERESTING LECTURE

On Monroe Doctrine Given in Y. M. C. A. Hall.

BY PROF. McGREGOR YOUNG.

Lecture Was Under the Auspices of Fortnightly Club.

A True Definition of the Monroe Doctrine—Can Britain Buy the French Islands off Newfoundland Coast?

A most interesting and eloquent lecture was given last night by Professor McGregor Young, of Toronto University, in the lecture hall at the Y.M.C.A. building. A heavy rainstorm commenced about twenty minutes before the beginning of the lecture and it is a matter of certainty that it prevented several people from coming.

The subject chosen for the lecture was "The Monroe Doctrine."

Mr. J. Jeffries, President of the Fortnightly Club, under whose auspices the lecture was given, introduced the lecturer to the audience, and went on to express feelings of regret that the two previous lectures had been postponed owing to the illness of the lecturers, but said that Professor Wrong would speak on Friday night in the Y.M.C.A. building.

Professor McGregor Young commenced his discourse by stating that during the last five to ten years, owing to important events, such as the Venezuelan boundary dispute, the Panama Canal and the very recent operations during the present year on the Venezuelan crisis, had brought the Monroe Doctrine before the very face of the eastern world and as a consequence there has been considerable comment of late on this policy. It is suggested that the British Empire keep friendship with the United States at all costs. This friendship requires an acknowledgement of the Monroe Doctrine on the part of great Britain. The Americans as a body mean to strenuously insist that there shall not be any territorial aggrandisement in America by any European power whatsoever.

We cannot at the same time both infringe or violate the Monroe Doctrine and keep peace with the United States, for to do the first would be to have war with the United States, and to keep peace with that Republic would necessitate an acknowledgement of the Monroe Doctrine. The adherence to the Monroe Doctrine is one of the foremost ideas of patriotism that any American citizen has—one can never find an American who will not ardently "back up" the Monroe Doctrine.

This policy is only an acknowledged part of international law between the United States and all European Powers, and there is no better thing for the world than international law.

As to the Doctrine itself, there is a marked feeling in England for its acknowledgement. Speaking at Birmingham, Mr. Austin Chamberlain once said "No nation more loyally looks on the Monroe Doctrine than does Great Britain."

This Doctrine is not a rule of international law, it is merely a policy and is looked upon as such by every American citizen.

The Monroe Doctrine does not affect the independence of any European Power. It does not apply to the enforcement of just international claims, as was recently shown in the Venezuela crisis, it only clearly states that there shall be no territorial aggrandisement in the Western Hemisphere by any European power. This policy is not an aggressive one, but it stops any European dominion being established in the Western Hemisphere without the permission of the United States.

If Denmark desires to dispose of her possessions in the West Indies the Monroe Doctrine requires that no European power buy them. In the same way, it would be an infringement of the famous doctrine on the part of Great Britain to buy the French islands which are situated off the coast of Newfoundland. Self-preservation is the first law of nations as well as individuals. This law has been developed, and whenever the danger to a nation is real, imminent and direct, then that nation has the right to take any action she thinks fit for her self-preservation, and combat the threatened or apprehended danger.

The doctrine is a proper method of self-defence. It would be a great menace to the United States if some European power were to occupy that great Republic, Mexico,, which lies on the southern frontier line of that country. This Monroe Doctrine of the United States is not to interfere with the powers; it simply forbids those powers to extend their dominions in the Western Hemisphere, so that they shall not at any time menace the great land which lies south of this Dominion of ours.

Germany has a growing population, one which is beyond its capacity, and she has had her eye on South America as a colonial centre. This latter country is one of great resources; the navigable waters are of great length, leading into the heart of the interior; the farming soil is rich; the natural resources are vast, and the whole country has been crying for Teutonic enterprise and capital, but European capitalists do not care to invest money where there are unstable and ridiculous governments, as are prevalent in South America at the present time.

But come what may, it is the firm resolve of the American people and Government to uphold the Monroe Doctrine, and to prevent any aggrandisement of territory in the Western Hemisphere by any European power whatever.

Mr. Dumble said that the audience was under a great obligation for the splendid lecture, which had been a most interesting and instructive one. He personally believed in keeping friendship with the United States. He had great pleasure in moving a vote of thanks to the renowned lecturer.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams seconded the motion.

After some further discussion on the legality of the Monroe doctrine the meeting broke up.

EARLY PLOUGHING.

Mr. John O'Brien, of Indian River, has Commenced.

Mr. John Q. O'Brien, of Indian River, was in town to-day. He is the well-known thresher, and reports having had a very busy season. Mr. O'Brien says that he just finished threshing on March 13th, and commenced ploughing on March 17th, finishing an eight-acre field. This is pretty early work. Mr. O'Brien says that he will be in a better position than ever to accommodate those requiring threshing done next season, having secured the services of Mr. P. Burke.

OBITUARY.

Sad Death of Mr. Harry Clarke, of Stratford.

It is with deep regret that the announcement of the death of Mr. Harry Clarke, of Stratford, was received in Peterborough. Mr. Clarke died at his home in Stratford after a bad attack of blood poisoning, which resulted from an accident.

Mr. Clarke is well known in Peterborough, having been employed as salesman for Loch Bros., the well known furriers and hatters of George street. He was also a former trombone soloist in the 57th Regimental Band.

The deceased accompanied the Gordon Highlander's Band on their recent trip through the United States.

The young man was a first class musician, and his death will be greatly felt by Peterborough citizens who had the pleasure of his former acquaintence.

THE STANLEY CO.

Has Assigned but will be Re-organized it is said.

The Toronto Globe to-day says:—"The Stanley Piano Company, Limited, of Peterborough, have assigned to R. R. Hall of Stratton & Hall. No figures of the liabilities are given. The company had at one time a factory in Toronto on Niagara street, but several years ago removed to Peterborough. The company have warerooms at present in Toronto at 11 Richmond street west."

It is stated on the street in Peterborough to-day that the company will be thoroughly re-organized and placed on a sound business basis and that the concern will be running again in the course of a few weeks.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Another Proof that Railroading is a Hazardous Occupation.

Mr. Wm. McCrea, G.T.R. brakeman on the Midland way-freight, was the victim of a painful accident a few days ago at Coldwater station, says the Lindsay Post. Mr. McCrea was standing on the top of a box car using the brake as the car was being shunted into the siding. By some means the chain of the brake parted and the unfortunate man was hurled off the car, alighting on his shoulder against the rail.

Although no bones were broken Mr. McCrea sustained several painful injuries which will lay him up for a time. It was a miraculous escape, for if he had fallen in front of the car he would have been run over and killed. Mr. McCrea's home is in Omemee.

LOCATED IN DESERONTO.

Mrs. Coones, of Peterborough, did not Stay in Quarantine.

Mrs. Coones, who resided on Aylmer street, near Hunter, thought she was getting the start of the Chief of Police of Peterborough, but she didn't. A case of diphtheria appeared in Mrs. Coones' family, and the house was placarded on the 13th of this month. The night before last, however, she skipped out of town with her family. Chief Rossel made a little investigation and learned that Mrs. Coones had gone to Deseronto. The Chief of Police of that place was communicated with by Chief Rossel, who advised the authorities there to quarantine the infected arrivals. The Chief of Police of Deseronto to-day notified Chief Rossel that he had located Mrs. Coones and had her house quarantined. He thanked Chief Rossel for the information.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

MUTUAL BENEFIT, is the object of the employees of the Canadian General Electric Company, as represented concretly by the Employees' Mutual Benefit Society, and judged by the report of the semi-annual meeting, printed in another column, mutual benefit is the result. From a very small monthly fee, supplemented by the splendid donation of $1000 by the company, a total of over $1500 is available to give members of the society sick benefits, funeral benefits, etc., which have amounted to nearly $800 in the aggregate. This has been distributed among 65 members, who have received substantial benefits far in excess of the trifling contributions that have been made to the common fund. These benefits are not in any way in the form of charity; for every member has a right to them in the case of illness, etc. Besides, these benefits illustrate the value of both small savings and of the principle of co-operation. Under the conditions, the payment of a sum, which could easily be squandered on useless, and, in some cases, harmful luxuries, pooled into a common fund, brings substantial benefits, suggesting the value of small savings in another direction, and forming, possibly, the beginning of habits of personal and domestic thrift of great advantage. Such a society tends to bring the employees into a greater degree of comradeship, and the co-operation of the employing company, in contributing to the funds, improves the relations of employer and employees. Apart from the general industrial prosperity prevailing, the prosperity of the General Electric Company is largely due to the character and spirit of its employees, as illustrated in one way, by the establishment and success of their Mutual Benefit Society, a movement which is worthy the attention of the employees of other large establishments.

IF THE FRIENDS of the Trent Valley Canal in Peterborough and along its route wish to stave off vexatious postponement of construction operations, they must be alive and alert. It may not be regarded by some as aside from the facts to suggest that the activity of those who favour Port Hope as the southern terminus of the canal is something in the nature of a dog-in-the-manger policy—some go so far as to say that if the terminus cannot be got for Port Hope, no grief might be felt by the Port Hopers if the project for completing the canal were delayed indefinitely or altogether turned down. In the abstract, it would make little difference to Peterborough where the southern terminus of the canal were placed. The benefit of Trenton or the benefit of Port Hope is not the point. The point is the terminus which will make the canal the most effective as a national waterway. And that is why Trenton is preferred—as being the terminus which will afford land-locked barge navigation from Midland to Montreal. This is a crucial point and the friends of the canal should lose no time in impressing its importance upon the Government. And no time should be lost. Governments have such an infinity of demands upon the financial resources of the country, that an excuse is often welcomed that will relieve them of the embarrassment which these numerous and persistent demands naturally produces. No time should be lost in providing for strong deputations. Double activity is demanded by double work made necessary by new developments—to bring about continued construction and neutralize the red-herring-scent which Port Hope is drawing across the trail.

NOW IS THE TIME to clear up domestic premises. The mass of filth accumulated around dwellings during the winter, is exposed by the warm weather in all its loathsomeness, and, especially, on premises where sewerage connection is not in existence,, is, it seems, a menace to health. On such premises the water of the well is the only source of domestic supply, and it stands to reason that unless the surface filth in the vicinity of wells is promptly and thoroughly cleaned away, dangerous pollution of the water supply will follow. It will soak through the soil, and filter into wells, with deadly effects. It is a popular fallacy that the earth will purify germ-laden water passing through it. It will remove physical impurities, but not affect it chemically. The brightest and most sparkling well water may be most chemically impure. The health authorities should not lay aside the activity they have employed during the winter epidemic of contagious diseases, but attend to such matters of cleanliness as suggested, thoroughly and promptly.

THE TOWN is doing well in promptly cleaning the streets, and removing the winter's accumulation of mud, But the work should not stop with the streets. The lanes should receive even greater attention. This suggests reference to the foul condition of the lane in the rear of George street, between Brock and Hunter. Yesterday or to-day one looking down over it from the vantage ground of the rear window of the ante-room of the Sons of England Hall, would see a sea of festering filth, mud and garbage—a monstrous microbe manufactory. Let the members of the Board of Health take the point of view named, and they will see, at a safe distance, the disgraceful condition of this lane, and, if to ocular demonstration, they wish to add the sense of smell, they have only to go down to the lane itself. This matter has been a menace to health a long time, and has been too long neglected.

A MODUS VIVENDI in not a literal and diplomatic sense is the creed of Mr. Hughes-Charles, President of the Board of Trade and President of the West Riding Agricultural Society. Not long ago he declared his faith in the efficiency of banquets as a means of consolidating interest on the part of members, in the affairs of organizations. This may seem a very material view to take of matters, but there is reason in it. The whole economy of nature is planned with reference to man, and animals who eat to live. Among the first gifts made to man at his creation was the promise of food and this promise was confirmed to Noah after the flood —"Seed time and harvest . . . shall not cease." The wise housewife recognises that the shortest route to her husband's heart is through his stomach, and the most potent influence in deepening social relation is the dinner or tea table. If eating and the amenities it represents, are good for oiling the social machinery and keeping it in good running order, why should it not serve the same purpose in business relations. Under the influence of a good dinner and congonial company the heart of man expands and there results that harmony which leads to the most perfect co-operation; and upon co-operation in promoting corporate interest success depends. If the members of a Board of Trade or an Exhibition Board are brought closer together, if a more hearty and co-operative spirit is developed by banquets, then the banquet as a desirable business factor is an established fact.

WITH THE SPRING come the birds; with the birds the bad boy and the catapult, an exceedingly portable and convenient engine for the destruction of bird life. The way in which bird life is thus destroyed is not only cruel in the abstract, but it has a range of destructiveness far beyond the mere death of our beautiful songsters, which are among the first and most delightful harbingers of spring, and the brightest and most cheering influences of our too brief summer. Not only on sentimental grounds but on utilitarian grounds should our bird life be preserved. Birds are the most active and effective natural agents we have for the destruction of insect and vermin life, so destructive to our fruits. Take away all our birds and we should have a hopeless fight—it is hard enough now—to preserve the fruits of our orchards and gardens. It is not likely that there is a single species of our native birds that does not do infinitely more good in its destruction of insect life than it does harm in other ways. The police should make it a part of their business to keep a sharp eye on the boy with the catapult or air gun, and thus lessen the deplorable destruction of our birds, which between the catapult and rifle in the spring and illicit bird nesting, are becoming regretfully fewer, to the great loss and detriment of the community. Parents who encourage or wink at the murder of birds by their children are encouraging the development of the instinct of killing, which is the most persistent survival of a state of savagery and the tie that binds man most closely to the lowest instincts of the brute creation. Spare the birds and better the boy.

Lady Aberdeen and himself maintained the keenest interest in the Dominion, of which they had the pleasantest memories. His own investments in Canada were paying handsomely. He considered that the rapid development of Canada was the most marvellous feature of the Empire's history to-day, that she was destined to hold a position of tremendous importance in the affairs of the Empire and the world. "God speed Canada," is Lord Aberdeen's message to the Dominion.

Where Does the Money Go?

The question has been asked of able financiers "What becomes of all the money that disappears from circulation?" It is a well known fact that many silver and copper coins issued from the mint pass out of sight and have to be replaced from time to time by new coinage. This is also the case with bank notes. It has been stated that bills issued by the Old Gore Bank, out of existence for over thirty years, are still being presented for redemption to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, into which the Gore Bank was merged.

The Dunlop Tire Co., of Toronto, believing that there is more rapidity of circulation and less loss in these strenuous commercial days, have decided to make an interesting test of the "quick returning power" of a number of Canadian coins. They will make an announcement within a few days, which will be worth the attention of everybody.—Item from Local Press.

Valuable Coins in circulation $15.50 Now Worth $400.00

The Dunlop Tire Company a short time ago started in circulation 171 silver coins, each of which bears stamped on its face a miniature of their registered trade mark.

The Trade Mark

These coins have not been impaired nor lessened in any way. There was put into circulation a 50-cent piece, twenty 25-cent pieces, fifty 10-cent pieces, one hundred 5-cent pieces. No mistake can possibly be made in identifying any one of the coins.

Rewards for Their Return

For the 50-cent piece we will pay $100.00 and also give to the finder a Dunlop Perforated Rubber Mat, with his or her initials or name in colored letters on it.

For the twenty 25-cent pieces we will pay $5.00 each and also give to each finder a pair of Dunlop Bicycle Tires.

For the fifty 10-cent pieces we will pay $2.00 each and also give to each finder a pair of Dunlop Comfort Rubber Heels.

For the one hundred 5-cent pieces we will pay $1.00 each on their being returned to us.

There is absolutely no restriction, other than that the coins must be presented before Jan. 1st, 1904. The reward will be paid to the person presenting the coin at our head office. If sent by mail the letter must be registered. In each case the possessor will be requested to state when and how the coin came into his or her possession.

COMMONS IN SUPPLY

Mr. Bennett's Reference to the North York Election.

ATTACK ON JUDGE MORGAN.

Mr. Cowan Re-introduces His Bill Respecting Drainage—Mr. Campbell's Bill to Establish Equal Standard in Milk Cans—The South Shore Railway—The North Ontario Election—Debate on a Contract.

Ottawa, March 20.—In the Commons yesterday, Mr. Cowan (South Essex) re-introduced his bill of last year respecting drainage on and across the property of railway companies. His bill aims to effect a compromise between the Dominion and the Provincial Houses for carrying water across railway tracks. He asks that the power be granted to a municipality to build drains without having to go to the Railway Committee.

Mr. Campbell (West York) introduced his bill to regulate the size of milk-cans and to have a legal size.

Answered by Ministers.

Mr. Blain (Peel) was told that the Government would not publish the prices of bidder twine, because it would not be advisable.

Mr. R. L. Borden was told by Sir Wilfrid that the Redistribution Bill would be introduced at an early date. Mr. Blair would bring in his Railway Commission Bill to-day.

The South Shore Railway.

Victor Geoffrion (Vercheres) called the attention of the Minister of Railways and Canals to the dangerous condition of the roadbed and rolling stock of the South Shore Railway. The employes of the railway had not been paid for five or six months. He called on the Government to send an inspector over the road, and to withhold any subsidies due the railway. Mr. Blair promised to look into the matter, and do something.

Appointment of Judges.

On a Justice Department item Mr. Bennett asked if it was intended to adhere to the principle of appointing to county Judgeships only barristers practising outside of the county in question. He pointed to a number of departures from the salutary rule.

Mr. Fitzpatrick replied that, while the rule had very great advantages, it was one that had been more honored in the breach than in the observance, even in Sir John Thompson's time. He agreed that the rule was a wise one, and, so far as he was concerned, he would adhere to it in so far as it was possible for him to do so.

In answer to a question as to whether any decision had been arrived at in reference to the County Court Judgeship of the County of York, Mr. Fitzpatrick said: "No decision has been arrived at, but my hon. friend will realize at once that the rule would be difficult of application so far as the appointment to the York County Judgeship is concerned. It might be hard to go out of Toronto to find a man for that position, and I think the objections my hon. friend has pointed out as applying in cases where we make appointments from the district would not apply to Toronto."

Mr. Bennett said the Minister of Justice would be called upon, and no doubt was being called upon to-day, in the County of York, because the junior Judge, Judge Morgan, is aspiring to the senior Judgeship. It was a notorious fact that Judge Morgan had been in the political field in the interest of Hon. Mr. Davis, and that there has been a departure altogether from the way in which a Judge should act, because he has been doing work for the Liberal party that certainly should never have been done by a Judge. He had brought the judiciary of the country into disrepute by the course which he had pursued.

Mr. Bennett also said that it was hardly fair to the Minister of Justice, who possessed a high standing at the Bar, that party exigencies have to be met at every possible occasion.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick said he did not desire to apply the tu quoque argument.

The item was passed.

North Ontario Election.

Upon the item for Inland Revenue Department salaries, Mr. Beanett inquired the nature of the contract between the Standard Chemical Company and the Government for wood alcohol, which had, he said, been entered into without compensation. One of the principal shareholders of the company was Mr. Tudhope, the Liberal candidate in East Simcoe, and the company, who were unable to make terms with the former Government, found no difficulty in doing so with this Government. The profits of the contract were something enormous, and, backed by this company and the large subsidy they received, the Liberals had been enabled to increase their vote in the vicinity of the works at Longford by 100, and then the Postmaster-General came back and talked about the great low tariff victory in North Ontario.

Hon. Mr. Bernier in reply, said that the contract was made about five years ago, with the provision that if the company could not supply the article the Government could buy in the United States. He was surprised to learn that gentlemen connected with the company had taken so active a part in the recent bye-election, because they did not appear to have done so in the general election, which had taken place since the contract was made. He thought gentlemen opposite should not blame him if there had been a change in public opinion in North Ontario.

Mr Bennett said the contract ran out next month, and, as the company had been doubtless looking for a renewal, that fact would account for their putting on the screws in order to effect the change of public opinion which had been referred to.

In reply to Mr. R. L. Borden, Mr. Bernier stated that the price agreed upon with the company was the same that it cost to import the article from France and Germany before this industry started. The discussion continued for some time. Mr. Bennett contended that Sir William Mulock's speech at Longford, as reported in The Globe, indicated that the Standard Chemical Company had been promised the Government contract before they commenced operations. Sir William Mulock denied this, and said he did not even know that the contract was made. Mr. Law said that as a result of the manufacture of wood alcohol by the Standard Company the price to the general public had been materially reduced.

Mr. Osler said the possible cause of the haste of the Standard Chemical Co. to renew its contract is that a large German firm was looking into the question of manufacturing wood alcohol by a new process that would cost one-fifth of the present cost to produce. The Longford Mills Company possibly wanted to renew its contract at the old prices.

The discussion was adjourned to be resumed later, and the House adjourned.

If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these Tablets and get well? For sale by all druggists.

A Bible for the King.

Just before the coronation of King Edward VII., according to the report of the British and Foreign Bible Society for 1902, the society, through its president, the Marquis of Northampton, asked the King if he would accept a Bible published by the society for use in the coronation ceremonies in Westminster Abbey. The King replied in the affirmative. Afterward it was ascertained that Bibles used at a coronation service must contain the Apocrypha, and, as those Bibles printed by the society do not contain the Apocrypha, the society was compelled to forego the proposed gift to the King. After the coronation the King expressed a desire for a book printed by the society, which, he said, he would prize highly as a memento of the coronation.

The Bible that the society has prepared for presentation has been completed. Its pages are about 8 by 11 inches. Royal red morocco, tooled, and inlaid, has been used by the binders for the covers. Early Christian symbols and ornamental designs from the Catacombs, in medallion form, decorate the cover. There is a peacock, which was an ancient emblem of the Resurrection, on account of the renewal of its plumage. A lamp in the form of a ship is emblematic of the church, with St. Peter at the helm and St. Paul at the prow.

The central design is a cross, surrounded by vine leaves and bunches of grapes and ears of wheat, typical of the bread of life. The flyleaves are of red silk. There is a royal red velvet case, with His Majesty's cipher and crown embroidered in gold.

BIRTHPLACE OF LITTLE NELL.

Celebration in the "Dickens House" at Bath Is Unique.

The anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens, on the 22rd February last, was made interesting at Bath, which is rich in association with the novelist, by the unveiling of a tablet to his memory upon 35 St. James' Square, which is the house in which the novelist used to stay.

The house is additionally interesting to the lover of Dickens because of the incontestable evidence in his own writings that it was here that the idea of the character of Little Nell first occurred to him. When, moreover, it is known that it was at the celebration of one of his own birthdays that the pathetic little figure rose in his mind's eye the double appropriateness of the proceedings is apparent.

The tablet was unveiled by Mr. Percy Fitzgerald, president of the Dickens Fellowship, who also unveiled a mural decoration to Walter Savage Landor, who was Dickens' greatest friend at Bath.

In the evening there was a notable gathering of Dickens devotees at the assembly rooms, where the Mayor presided at a dinner. The menu card sparkled with quotations from the famous novels, and the toast list was relieved by songs of the novelist's composition. Milk punch such as Mr. Pickwick so dearly loved, was served among the wines. The dinner took place in the identical apartment, still called the card-room, in which for the first time in his life Mr. Pickwick fell among female cardsharpers.

CROSS BABIES.

Some babies appear always ugly-tempered. It can't be always original sin—not in your baby anyway. Your baby is not a cross baby for nothing. He is cross because he is uncomfortable. A difference like like magic is effected by Baby's Own Tablets. They do immediate and permanent good; they cannot possibly do any harm. No trouble; no spilling; no difficulty in getting them into baby's mouth; for very young infants they can be crumbled to a powder or given in water. They are sweet and children like them. No mother has ever used Baby's Own Tablets without finding that they do good to children of all ages. Mrs. M. Watters, Sheenboro, Que., says, "I have used many medicines for little ones but have never found anything equal to Baby's Own Tablets. I simply would not be without them in the house, and I strongly recommend them to all other mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets cure all the minor ailments of little ones, and you have a positive guarantee that they contain no opiate or harmful drug. Sold by all druggists or mailed post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company., Brockville, Ont.

The Passing of the Pie.

A word as to the causes of the disfavor with which pie has come to be regarded. Like other things, it kept a place by force of tradition after its special work was done, and, being always a "hearty" dish, when the savory piece of pie was added to the plenty of the prosperous table in the nature of things it proved the one straw too much and broke down the digestion already weakened by indoor life and airtight stoves.

The pie is not as black as it has been painted, having had to bear the load of many circumstances not its own fault. The viand which has usurped its place at dinner is not as blameless as it is commonly held to be. For children eating no meat pudding may well be dinner, but for grownups a helping of pudding gives as much unnecessary food value as did pie. It must be remembered in discussing pastry also that it was in good hands not the heavy, greasy kind so often found today. The early cooks attained great skill in preparing light, flaky "crusts." The passing of the pie is not to be regretted in view of the greater abundance of fresh food, especially as the making of the pie requires not only skill, but time, and the baking of the pie in modern stoves is a matter of large experience.—Good Housekeeping.

Nerve Disorders of Women

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states: "For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

LOVE IN A MIST

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

Augusta scampered across the pasture, the very mode and pattern of innocent wickedness. Clothed all in faded calico and flapping sun hat, her new pink lawn lay deftly hidden in the depths of her berry basket, with her bronze ties and clocked silk stockings nestled snugly underneath. She was going surreptitiously to a barn dance, albeit her grandmother thought dancing among the deadly sins. She knew she would get a wigging afterward. Still, she did not mean to let the knowledge in any way dim the splendor of the day.

The Radley house lay just beyond the berry field. Once she reached it she was safe. Mrs. Radley had indeed incited her going, offering to take her in the carryall along with her own girls. Mrs. Radley was so plump and yielding and obstinate even Grandmother Wills could not quarrel with her. She was as motherly as she was plump. Now, for two years she had been persuading her son John to marry Augusta, "so as to let the poor thing have a little fun and the chance to feel that her soul was her own." John and Augusta had laughed jointly over his mother's matchmaking. They were the best friends in the world, but had quite other views for themselves.

"Here's a hat, Gussie. I knew you never could smuggle out that fine chip hat you have not worn twice this summer," Mrs. Radley said, setting a picturesque rough straw turban upon the runaway's head as the last hook on the pink lawn snapped into place. "My, but you do look pretty!" she went on. Then over her shoulder to John, "She'll outshine everybody, won't she, Jack?"

"Except one," John answered. "Rose Lee 'll be there, you know. That reminds me. She's to fetch her city cousin. There's a chance for you, Gus! Rose says he has more money than he well knows how to spend."

"I wonder if he has changed," Gus said, laughing, "or if he is the same little whining beast he was that summer nine years ago."

"Why, where did you ever see him?" John demanded in open eyed wonder.

Again Gussie laughed. "His grandmother and mine were cronies at the springs," she said. "Don't you remember our going to the mountains? Those two old ladies thought I was born to take care of Jody. How I should have hated him if I had not been so sorry for anything compelled to suffer that name! He was so sickly and spoiled and just plain hateful along with it. Ugh! I'm sorry he's coming. He quite scorned dancing with me—said I was clumsy—but I always believed it was spite. I beat him so far when it came to climbing trees or even throwing rocks"—

"And you never told me a word of all this," John said a little reproachfully.

Gussie tweaked his ear, answering softly: "Of course not. You have been in love with Rose since you wore trousers. I wouldn't say things about your dear cousin that was to be, Jody Fitts."

Six double sets were already dancing under the big bush arbor when the Radleys drove up. High above the dancers a string band played for dear life, while the leader of it called the figures in a loud, merry voice. Out under the trees other people sat, usually young people, fittingly paired and so kept one in the other they had eyes for little else besides.

A slight young fellow, with a single glass dangling from his buttonhole, leaned against a near tree trunk, looking discontentedly about. He darted at Gussie and caught both her hands saying: "How dare you be late? You must have known I was pining for another real good fight."

"You cried 'Enough!' and promised to keep the peace ever after the last time," Gussie protested. "Besides, I do not fight enemies any more."

"I'm ahead of you," Fitts said, drawing her hand through his arm. "I not merely keep the peace with my enemies; I love them dearly—one of them at least."

"Your pretty speeches must be sadly in need of air," Gussie said, with a little sidelong look at John. It amazed her to see him frown and turn away, gnawing his mustache. Fitts caught the look and smiled a little, but pressed toward the arbor, saying as they reached the edge of it:

"You are going to dance with me. Now, can you longer doubt my devotion?"

"Oh, I don't know. You were always devoted to yourself," Gussie said, smiling wickedly.

Fitts pretended to frown. "I see you are not properly impressed with the change in me," he said. "Understand, I have escaped from the Jody stage. Instead, behold Joe Fitts, very much at your service. Do you know I came down here just to find you?"

"No, and I don't think I shall ever find it out," Gussie retorted, beating time with her foot.

The quadrills was in its last whirls. Fitts raised his hand and nodded slightly to the leader of the band. Instantly the fiddles broke out in the maddest, merriest twostep.

Fitts caught Gussie's hand and said: "I've been waiting for this. Twosteps were invented especially for you. You always romped no matter what the step or the figure."

"Can you wonder? All my dancing has been done under the rose," Gussie said, yielding herself to his impulse. Fast, faster, faster, they went up and down the arbor, eyes brightening, breath quickening. A bare half dozen other couples dared to follow them. Few were so straitlaced as Grandmother Wills in the matter of dancing. Still there was a general feeling that quadrilles, or at most cotillions, were the proper things for big public companies. Even the Radley girls waltzed only at home.

John felt himself grow hot as he watched Augusta and young Fitts through their madly gay rush. No harm in it, of course, but she had never waltzed even with him. His brows drew so portentously together Rose Lee smiled significantly as she came up behind him and touched his arm. Evidently she had it in mind to say something—something a little bit out of the common. But a great clattering stir at the arbor's farther end silenced her. A family carriage, rusty and ancient, had drawn up there, the horses panting and flecked with foam. Out from the door of it strode an awful figure, Grandmother Wills, in dead black, the plumes of her best bonnet nodding hearsewise over her forehead. As she caught sight of Augusta whirling half inclosed by a stranger's arms she gave a cry that silenced every string and brought the sparse dancers up standing.

For half a minute no words would come. Then, with the hissing fall of molten iron, she cried: "Wanton! Shameless wanton! Never, never shall you darken my doors again!"

All in a flash Fitts appeared to comprehend. Lightness fell away from him. He stood upright and said clearly, "Madame, I have the honor to ask your granddaughter in marriage!"

"Who are you? I do not know you! I—I have no granddaughter," Mme. Wills said idly.

Gussie had grown white. She left Fitts and went close to the furious old woman, saying as she bowed her head: "Grandmother, don't, don't curse me, for my mother's sake—and your own. Let me go home with you. It was wrong to trick you"—

Madame turned away as though she had not heard. Softly Fitts held out his hands. Before Gussie could reach him John had leaped to her side and was holding her close in the face of all the world. "You're a trump, but mine is the older claim," he said, holding out a hand to Fitts, who wrung it hard. As for Gussie, she was too happy and too miserable to say a word either way.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

Dr. Pierce's GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY Restores LOST FLESH AND STRENGTH

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. C. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for 'Golden Medical Discovery.'

SMALLPOX v. WALL COVERINGS

In these days when smallpox is so prevalent, the question of how we shall decorate the walls of our houses and insure a healthy condition is one of great interest.

PHYSICIANS ALL AGREE that wall paper with its poisonous coloring, rancid and mouldy paste is unsanitary; that it affords an elegant opportunity for bacteria to thrive. This is evident not only from what they say, but from the fact that the walls of hospitals are never papered.

ANOTHER POINT. Sanitarians all tell us that the walls of a room to be healthy must breathe; that wall paper and kalsomine obstruct wall respiration.

THE BIG POINT IS that Church's Cold Water ALABASTINE has none of the disadvantages of either paper or kalsomine, but all the advantages of a pure, porous, cement-like wall-coating that hardens with age, and can be recoated as often as is necessary to renew.

With ALABASTINE the most beautiful effects can be produced; anyone can do plain tinting. All dealers sell ALABASTINE.

We send to any Lady free, who asks for it, "THE HOUSEKEEPER'S REMINDER." Address,

THE BLACK MAN'S BURDEN.

Take up the black man's burden! child of an alien blood,
Drawer of Albu's water and hewer of Albu's wood,
From the shores of the blue Zambesi to the foam of the further end
They need the sweat of the black man's brow for the white man's dividend.

By the dread of the Yellow Peril, by the slang of the Seventh Sea,
By the godly cant and the royal rant of the race that you set free,
Wherever the red gold glitters, wherever the diamond shines,
Go forth, upon compulsion, and labor in the mines.

The winds of the West have heard it, the stars of the south replied,
When the Lords of the Outer Marches went forth on a fruitless ride,
That the son of the swarthy Kaffir must wake from an idle sleep
When the lone grey Mother calls for toil, and the Lord has made it cheap.

Foster-sons of the Empire, words of the baked Karoo,
This is the law the mother makes and her sword shall prove it true:
"Wherever the red gold glitters, wherever the diamond shines, Take up the black man's burden and labor in the mines."

—G. F. B., in The Speaker.

A Close Combination.

"They can get up combinations in the west to beat the band," said a Philadelphia drummer who had come in off a trip and had a shortage to explain. "In a town in western Iowa I had a difference of opinion with a landlord and called him a liar. He was a deputy sheriff, and he arrested me. His brother was prosecuting attorney, and he was against me. The judge was his brother-in-law, and he tried the case. I said I'd take ten days in jail sooner than pay the fine, but when I came to be locked up the jailer said to me:

"'You'd better pay. I'm the father-in-law of the judge, and it will be my duty to put you in a cell with a prisoner who's gone crazy and wants to kill somebody.'

"I paid and was released," said the drummer, "but I wanted revenge. I went to the only lawyer in town with a reputation and stated my case and asked him to take it.

"'Yes,' he replied, 'but think how it would look. I'm son-in-law to the jailer.'"

Ugly Hindoo Women.

The men among the Hindoos of Bombay are by all odds handsomer than the women, the fashion among the latter of wearing in the left nostril a huge hoop of silver adorned with precious stones not tending to enhance the modicum of beauty they already possess. This ring is often so large that the mouth and chin are covered by it. The married women also chew the leaves of the betel palm, and so their teeth and lips are stained a vivid and disagreeable yellow.

Caste, that strong divider of class, is indicated on the women by stripes of various colors on the forehead. Their arms, which are mostly bare, are fancifully tattooed, and their toes and ankles are ornamented with silver bangles and rings. This latter ornamentation is shared by both sexes. In downright ugliness many of these women approach closely an American Indian squaw.

Modifying a Bow.

Travelers received by the sultan of Morocco were at one time required to make the customary obeisance of the country, but that ceremonial is now omitted. The reason, according to Lady Grove in her "Seventy-one Days' Camping," goes back to a slight social awkwardness involved in carrying out that prescription.

A distinguished naturalist had been presented to the sultan, and as he bowed his head to the ground, instead of supporting himself with his hands, he placed them behind his back; consequently his forehead came against the marble floor with a loud bang, and he had some difficulty in recovering himself.

The sultan was amazed. "Has not the gentleman had the honor of entering the presence of his own sovereign?" he asked another visitor later.

"Probably he has had that honor, your majesty," was the answer.

"Then," said the sultan, "he should have learned the art of making salutations without the occurrence of such accidents."

Thereupon his majesty learned with astonishment that this lowly form of obeisance is not observed at European courts, and he immediately decreed that none but the usual customs demanded by European sovereigns should be required of Europeans when they entered or left his presence.

A Peripatetic Legislator.

The Hon. Duncan Gillies, the Father of the Parliament of Victoria, and its new Speaker, has a legislative record that is unique in Greater Britain. Forty-five years have passed since, as a young man of twenty-five and a working miner, he was first elected by the gold-diggers of Ballarat. With the exception of three years spent in London as Agent-General, he has been continuously in the Victorian Parliament ever since, but he has hardly ever represented the same constituency twice. That is because he has a rooted aversion to raids on the treasury, and doing drudgery for constituents, besides constitutional love of ease. He has lost count of his constituencies. At a recent dinner in Melbourne he said to his neighbor: "Let me see, have I ever represented your district?" "No," was the reply; "I believe it is the only one you have not represented."—London Chronicle.

A Sure Word of Prophecy.

The name of prophet can hardly be denied to Richard Burbage, who recited the following epilogue at the Globe Theatre in 1601 in reference to the succession of James of Scotland to Queen Elizabeth:

A Scot our King? The limping State
That day must need a crutch,
What next? In time a Scot will prate
As Primate of our Church.
When such shall be, why then you'll see
That day it will be found
The Saxon down through London ground
Shall burrow underground.

And sure enough, while Archbishop Davidson is called to Canterbury, London's "tube" system is being pushed on.—London Daily News.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 21. — To take hold of the tractions at this juncture is to have an interest in great mens schemes Met. will disagreeably surprise the bears before long. The seven per cent. guarantee will be fully ratified and will go well above 150. Manh. will sell at these figures while B.R.T. with the new power house in working force will go to 90. Insiders say R. I. com. will cross 50. Hold Atch., B. O. and on slight dips buy sugar for a substantial advance. Big things are predicted for Norfolk, C. & O. and Louisville. St. Paul will go materially higher. Hold steels and buy People's Gas.

JOSEPH.

New York, March 21. — A reaction in the stock market is about due. It may be postponed until the first of the week. The advance has apparently practically discounted a good bank statement. Whether a good showing or an unfavourable report is made it seems entirely reasonable to expect realising thereafter. It is questionable whether the findings of the Anthracite strike commission to be published over Sunday will be bearish or bullish. The short interest has not all covered and is likely to be renewed on the event of a recession.

We recommend the purchase of R.I. com. and preferred Atch., and Erie seconds on reactions. London market for Americans was irregular.

THE following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 21, 9.45 a. m. — Markets generally dull, but steady. South Africans unchanged, coppers strong, consols unchanged at 91 1-4. Market letter: — We do not look for much of a market to-day until bank statement appears. While general sentiment is still inclined to be bullish and look for further advance in general list, it is recognized tha tthe short interest is much reduced. If bank statement shows an increase of several million dollars as is general opinion of most experts, it would suggest further ease in money market and undoubtedly be made the basis for a continuation of bull sentiment and induce traders this level. The S. P. contest seems to be out of the way for the present as far as market sentiment goes. Financial chronicle in week's movement of cash banks lost $461,900 against 4 1-2 million last week. Bankers say undoubtedly been a further decrease in loan account and that this with small change in cash items suggest moderate increase in reserves. Our idea is an increase of about $3,000,000.

Amendment of National Lead charter points to early consolidation announcement. R.I. and S. F. deal practically closed. 41 roads 2nd week in March gross increase 14.93 p.c. Standard Oil crowd more bullish especially on S.P. Dunn Review says labour only distinctly unfavourable feature in business situation. Bradstreet's say excessive moisture drawback to distribution of trade.

CANADIANS IN ENGLAND.

Former Whitby Boy a Candidate for House of Commons.

The York Herald of a recent date says:—At a meeting of the York Liberal Four Hundred last night, a cordial invitation to contest York in the Liberal interest at the next election was offered to Mr. Hamar Greenwood, of the Eighty Club, London.

Prior to the passing of the resolution, Mr. Greenwood addressed the meeting, and afterwards, whilst not giving any definite promise, stated that after the cordial invitation he had received he would be glad in the near future to address several political meetings in York. If after hearing his views it seemed to be the united wish of the Liberals of the city that he should contest the seat, he hoped he might be able to give them an answer in the affirmative.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, who is just past thirty, and a bachelor, was born at Whitby, east of Toronto, and on the shores of Lake Ontario, Canada. His father was descended from a Yorkshire family, and at the time of his death was the oldest barrister in the county of Ontario.

J. H. METHERAL,

ABOUT THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

Practical Side of the Yukon-Alaska Question.

THE TREATY WITH RUSSIA.

The Survey That was Made by Mr. Ogilvie.

The Vast Deposits of Copper, Iron, Coal and Marble—About "Soapy Smith."

In view of the important place the Alaska-Yukon Boundary Dispute is now occupying in the minds of the people, the Examiner has much pleasure in re-producing from the Empire Review, an interesting article upon that subject. The Empire Review says:

The baneful effects of an unsettled boundary are also evidenced in railway legislation and control. Cheap transportation is essential to the proper development of the Yukon valley. The excessive freight rates charged by the White Pass Railway have no doubt retarded development in a marked degree. Although the Canadian Government would have power to reduce the rates under ordinary circumstances the conditions in the case of the White Pass Railway are peculiar. Part of the line is American and part Canadian. The Government can cut the rate from the summit to White Horse—110 miles in Canadian territory — to a reasonable figure, but the railway company can charge enough on the 15 miles from Skagway to the Summit in the United States territory to nullify their action on the other part of the line. The Government by declining to approve of any rate over the Canadian portion unless the through rate was made satisfactory. The railway company claimed that they were taken by the throat and forced to submit to Canadian jurisdiction in United States territory. They have, however, I believe, more or less gracefully resigned themselves to some extent to the inevitable. The effect on the chartering of railways is obvious. There is a desire to construct railways by the Pyramid Harbour route, but so long as the dispute continues it would be clearly inadvisable to grant a charter to build up an interest at Pyramid Harbour, which would be, as matters stand now, an American interest, and another reason for avoiding the settlement of the boundary question.

In the administration of the criminal law, other instances are afforded of the practical side of the Alaska-Yukon Boundary dispute. Sometimes it happens that after committing a crime in one of the provinces, the offender seeks refuge in the Yukon Territory. He is arrested there, but has to be brought out for trial, and there are no legal means of accomplishing this. The same thing of course would be true, although practically it may not happen so often, in the case of a crime committed in the Yukon where the offender is arrested in another part of the Dominion. Sometimes in the case of an offence committed in the Yukon territory, it is necessary upon the trial to call witnesses residing in one of the provinces. The criminal code provides complete procedure for enforcing the in such cases, and there would be no difficulty were it not for this intervening foreign territory, which affords the only means of going. The Canadian process would not of course hold there, and consequently there is practically no way of enforcing attendance of such a witness. We are usually fortunate enough to induce witnesses to attend voluntarily, but there might, and there no doubt will be cases, for one reason or another, where the witness is not inclined to attend, and in such cases the ends of justice may be defeated. An important witness in a capital case is just now being sent in to the Yukon, upon whose testimony depends, perhaps the conviction of two desperate men. If this witness had a sufficient motive to induce her to refuse to go to the Yukon, it would probably have been impossible under present legislation to have made her testimony available. Of course here, as in the last case, the situation would be the same if the trial were being held in one of the provinces, and the witness required was in the Yukon. It is often desirable to transfer prisoners sentenced to long terms of imprisonment in the Yukon territory, because the accommodation for them there is necessarily limited. It is more difficult to provide suitable work for them, and the expense is much less. If these are to be transferred, as is most desirable, to one or more of the penitentiaries, the practical difficulty again presents itself, as there is no legal means of retaining them in custody while in transit through American territory. These difficulties would, of course, all disappear if the boundary were so established as to include a navigable port within Canadian territory.

Another instance of inconvenience arises in connection with the administration of the North West Mounted Police. Of this unique force,

MR. J. H. ROSS RECENTLY SAID.

"I cannot conclude this report without reference to what is justly a source of constant pride and satisfaction to all Canadians. I refer to the freedom of the Yukon territory from crime, and particularly from crime of a violent character. . . . To-day, as for several years past, men travel the loneliest trails, burdened themselves with pokes of gold, or with horses and mules similarly burdened, without guard and without even being armed. This is no fancy picture; this is no story of a single instance; it is the usual daily occurrence during the whole time that gold is being cleaned up. . . . The great cause that has produced this excellent condition is the splendid work of the officers and men who have represented the Northwest Mounted Police in this territory from the first. For a time the force supplied not only police protection to the people of the territory, but and administrators, and gave satisfaction in the exercise of every function. Numerous instances can be given where a private member of the force settled disputes involving thousands of dollars, and settled them finally, and with never an imputation on the disinterested impartiality of the decision. . . . . The force adapted itself with vigour and determination to what was practically a condition approaching martial law, and with grace and promptness handed over to the civil power those functions which, in the early days of the territory, it had executed with so great virility and justness, and to the continued support of which it is lending its most efficient and satisfactory assistance."

The selection of a captain was left to a future meeting.

Mr. W. Cinnamon was interviewed to-day, says the Lindsay Post, as to the prospect of Lindsay having a good baseball team this year. Mr. Cinnamon says Lindsay is a first class ball town, and there is no reason why it should not have one of the best teams in the Midland district. There is plenty of available material to select a good team from, but the difficulty is to get the boys out for practice. He and Mr. Harrow had received a very tempting offer to go to Harrow, Ont., for the summer, but had declined. In speaking about the formation of a Midland League, Mr. Cinnamon said that he had received a letter from Mr. O'Neill of Port Perry, who was very anxious to form a League, consisting of Oshawa, Port Hope, Lindsay, Bowmanville and Port Perry. Mr. Cinnamon looks upon the idea very favourably, and thinks that all baseball enthusiasts should get together, organize and appoint a good delegate to attend the Midland League meeting.

A novel game was witnessed in the armouries last evening, says the Kingston Whig, when teams representing the 14th Regimental Band and the R.C.F.A. met in a friendly match, demonstrating lawn hockey for the first time in Kingston. It is played on much the same lines as hockey, only a small ball is used, and a stick with a much smaller blade than the ordinary hockey stick. The result of the match was a tie, each side scoring one point. Quartermaster Sergeant Farrier Cunningham performed the duties of referee in a most satisfactory manner. A return match will be played next week.

GOLF.

The Hon. President of the Peterborough Golf Club, Mr. R. Neill, has very kindly offered a valuable cup for competition amongst the members. It has not been decided just what series it will be offered in, but it will most likely be a handicap series, in which the new members will be given a good chance. There is a number of new members joining the Golf Club this year, but it is probable that the membership will be limited to 50.

CRICKET.

In an issue of a few days ago the Examiner published an article on cricket as played in Peterborough some forty years ago, with the scores

"77"

Why Dr. Humphreys' "Seventy-seven" is the best remedy for La Grippe:

Because when "77" is taken the instant a chilly sensation is felt, together with some of gentle exercise, until perspiration is induced, it will break up the Grip then and there.

Because the persistent use of "77" will break up a cold that hangs on and has not yielded to other treatment, preventing Grip and Pneumonia.

Because the tonicity of "77" sustains the system during, and restores the vitality after the attack, preventing long and tedious convalescence.

Because a small vial of pleasant pellets that fits the vest pocket, ever handy and ready prepared to take.

I AM A NEW MAN.

Angus McMillan, Over Eighty Years of Age, Pays His Respects to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Cured His Dyspepsia.

Nothing tells more forcibly the benefits aged people receive from the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets than the story of one of those old people themselves. Hear then the story of Angus McMillan, of Leggan, P. O., Glengary Co., Ont. Long past the three score and ten mark is Mr. McMillan for he is over eighty years of age, and though for twenty years he suffered the pains and discomforts that only the Dyspeptic knows he is to-day as bright and strong and cheerful as many a man of sixty. He has shaken off his old tormentors. He is a new man. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did it.

"I suffered with Dyspepsia for more than twenty years," says Angus McMillan, "but never met with anything to cure me till a few months back when I commenced taking Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets when after using them for two days all pain and restlessness left me entirely. I am a new man. I have great reason to be thankful for all the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for me."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the antidote for discomfort.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of the mother, says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially woman's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and insures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

DECISIONS OF COMMISSION.

Board of Conciliation Is to Deal With Disputes Hereafter — No Recognition of United Mine Workers as a Union —Views of President Mitchell and a Representative of the Coal Commission.

Washington, March 23.—The report of the Commission appointed by the President last October to investigate the anthracite coal strike was made public Saturday. The report is dated March 18, and is signed by all the members of the Commission, who are: Judge Gray of Delaware; Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright and Brigadier-General John H. Wilson, both of this city; Bishop John L. Spaulding of Illinois; Thomas H. Watkins of Pennsylvania; E. M. Clark of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Edward W. Parker of this city.

The report is to be illustrated, and it will be accompanied by the testimony taken by the Commission, but thus far only the proper report has been printed. This alone covers 87 pages of printed matter.

In brief the Commission recommends a general increase of wages amounting in most instances to ten per cent.; some decrease of time; the settlement of all disputes by arbitration; fixes a minimum wage and a sliding scale; provides against discrimination of persons by either the mine owners or the miners on account of membership or non-membership in a labor union, and provides that the awards made shall continue in force until March 31, 1906. The Commission discussed to some extent the matter of recognition or non-recognition of the Miners' Union, but declined to make any award on this matter.

VIEW OF JOHN MITCHELL.

Head of United Mine Workers Comments on Commission's Decision.

Detroit, Mich., March 23.—"The decision of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission is on the whole a decided victory for the miners, and I am pleased with it," said President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, in an interview with an Associated Press representative. "The anthracite miners of Pennsylvania have reason to be much pleased with the Commissioner's awards, and I am sure that they are," he said.

"The most important feature of the awards," he continued, "is, of course, the increare of 10 per cent. given the miners. This will result in an annual increase in the wages of the 140,000 anthracite miners of Pennsylvania of $6,000,000. The sliding scale provided for by the Commission is very satisfactory, inasmuch as a minimum of $4.50 per ton is fixed. With white ash coal at $5.50 per ton at tidewater, the increase provided in the sliding scale, will be equivalent to 20 per cent. more on the miners' wages."

President Mitchell was asked if he was disappointed because the Commission did not recognize the union formally, and he replied that he was not, because the decision of the Commission and its award were in themselves recognition of the power and influence of the United Mine Workers.

"After the increase of wages given the miners," said Mr. Mitchell, "the most important of the awards, from the miners' standpoint, are the ones fixing a nine-hour day and providing for a Board of Conciliation. The award gives a nine-hour day, with ten hours' pay, directly to 90,000 men, and practically all of the other employes of the anthracite mines will get a nine-hour day by reason of their comrades shorter hours. The provision for a Board of Conciliation will result in great good, and I am much pleased with it. It will compel investigation of both sides of the controversies between the miners and operators and bring the employers into closer relationship with their men. This cannot help but bring most beneficial results."

The Commission's recommendation on more stringent enforcement of laws against child labor in the mining region would, Mr. Mitchell said, result in great good.

"I think that this will result," said he, "in securing the passage of a law that is now pending in the Pennsylvania Legislature, raising the age limit at which children may go to work to 14 years for boys in the breakers, and 16 for entering the mines."

While he admitted that he thought the Commission's recommendation, that coal and iron police be withdrawn would be a good thing, Mr. Mitchell refused to discuss the effect this might have on conditions in the mining region.

"How will the miners receive the decision of the Commission, that in case of a deadlock in the Board of Conciliation, an umpire shall be appointed by the federal judge for the third judicial circuit of Pennsylvania?" was asked.

"This will be entirely satisfactory to the men," he replied. "Such appointment, if made, will come from Judge Gray, in whom the miners have every confidence."

"Until I have read the entire report," Mr. Mitchell said, in concluding the interview, "I cannot comment on it or discuss it at any length. It is manifestly impossible for me to do this, but I repeat that on the whole the awards of the Commission are very satisfactory and a decided victory for the men."

Non-Unionist Thinks It Is Fair.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 23.—John T. Lenahan, chief counsel for the non-union miners before the Commission, said, with reference to the Strike Commission's report, that all parties should be satisfied, as the findings of the Commission are as fair and equitable as any disinterested and intelligent tribunal could arrive at.

ONE COMMISSIONER'S VIEW.

Some Remarkable Phases of the Investigation by Strike Commission.

Washington, March 23.—"The most remarkable feature of our entire investigation has been the extraordinary unanimity with which every member of the Commission made his deductions from the facts presented," said a member of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission yesterday. "Not only has there never been the least thought of a minority report, but, point by point, as we have arrived at our conclusions and made our deductions, we have discovered that each was impressed in the same way with the same facts, and, to a very large extent, conceived the same remedies for the same evils.

"The task set us by the President was a gigantic one," continued the commissioner, "and as the evidence piled up it seemed appalling, but the facility with which all the members of the Commission worked and the harmony which prevailed throughout added materially to the ease with which it was accomplished. Generally speaking, the members of the commission met as strangers. I think I may say that, without exception, they part as friends. The sincerity with which each has undertaken to perform his duty and render a just and equitable decision has resulted in the greatest respect being entertained by each and every member of the Commission for every other member.

"Quite apart from whatever good may have been done for the persons involved in the controversy we met to settle, the experience has been almost a liberal education for us, and one that, difficult as it has been, I am glad to have taken part in."

Miners Are Pleased.

Shamokin, Pa., March 23.— The strike commission's report was received here with much satisfaction by the miners and labor leaders. When the miners heard the news they cheered for President Mitchell and the commission.

Coal Presidents Refuse to Talk.

New York, March 23.—Presidents of the anthracite coal roads refuse to discuss the finding of the Strike Commission until they have examined it carefully.

Means Increased Price.

Philadelphia, March 23.—C. E. Henderson, general manager for the Reading Coal and Iron Co., when asked for an expression of opinion on the report of the Strike Commission, said: "If the Commission desired to aid the public in keeping up the price of coal they could not have succeeded better."

Railway Strike Settled.

San Francisco, March 23.—After a long conference between the trainmen of the western division of the Southern Pacific and the officials of the company, a settlement has been reached on a basis of 15 per cent. increase of wages for the freight trainmen and 12 per cent. in the wages of the passenger trainmen. These increases will affect between 3,500 and 4,000 employes on the division.

Teamsters on Strike.

Hamilton, March 23.—The teamsters of the Hendrie Cartage Co. went on strike Saturday. They asked for a raise in wages from $36 to $40 a month. The company offered $38 and concessions of shorter hours, which the men declined. About 35 men are on strike.

Labor Riot in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—In a battle between union and non-union structural iron workers employed on the new Seneca street bridge Saturday, three men were badly cut and bruised with bricks and clubs. Twenty-five men took part in the fight.

Ten Per Cent. Increase.

Lorain, Ohio, March 23.—The strike at the American Shipbuilding Company's plant here, inaugurated several weeks ago, and which involved 1,500 men, has been settled on a compromise, and the workmen will return Monday. An average increase of ten per cent. is granted, and the company also recognizes the labor union.

Killed by Falling Timber.

Bothwell, Ont., March 23.—Friday afternoon James Johnston, a farmer, residing a few miles from town, with other men, were getting timber out of the woods, when a storm suddenly arose, which caused the men to run for shelter. Mr. Johnston was unable to go with the rest. He was trying to skid out a large piece of timber. Not appearing when the shower was over the men went to look for him. They found him in a swampy piece of ground, the load upset, with Mr. Johnston lying dead under the log, which had rolled upon him. The deceased leaves a wife.

Elected a Liberal.

Dublin, March 23.—North Fermanagh has elected an Opposition member to the House of Commons in place of the former Conservative member, Mr. Archdale, who resigned. Edward Mitchell, the new member, defeated the Government candidate, Captain Craig, by 152 votes. The Nationalists voted solidly for Mr. Mitchell.

The Dominion Colliery Fire.

Toronto, March 23.—Senator Cox last night received a telegram from Third Vice-President Dugan, of the Dominion Coal Company, dated from Sydney, N. S.: "Reports of fire affecting other mines are false. It is absolutely confined to No. 1, and entirely in small portion of worked-out area. Made some headway against it yesterday. Can certainly extinguish it by flooding if necessary, and only damage resulting from this course would be delay and cost of pumping out. Only 11 horses were lost. No damage so far."

Drivers Miraculous Escape.

East Toronto, March 23.—Pete Taylor, driver for J. Brandon, baker, had a miraculous escape from being killed on Saturday afternoon. He was driving on the 3rd concession, Scarboro, with a team attached to the bread wagon, and upon crossing the C.P.R. track an engine struck the horses, killing one outright and fatally injuring the other. The driver was unhurt.

ABOUT THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

Practical Side of the Yukon-Alaska Question.

THE TREATY WITH RUSSIA.

The Survey That was Made by Mr. Ogilvie.

The Vast Deposits of Copper, Iron, Coal and Marble—About "Soapy Smith."

The following is the conclusion of Mr. Wade's article on the Alaska-Yukon Boundary Dispute:

Although the Canadian Government at a cost of $40,000, with the assistance of the Mounted Police, pursued an English criminal for nearly two years for the murder of three United States' citizens on the Yukon trail, the spread-eagle element at Skagway, has been persistent in exertions directed against the force. Members are compelled to remove their unimorms when passing over the disputed strip. For the purpose of expediting the transhipment and forwarding of supplies, and to give general information for the benefit of the police and others passing to and from the Yukon territory, a member of the force used to be stationed at Skagway. Objection was taken, in the first place, to the man wearing his uniform. Then objection was raised to a sign, "N.W.M.P." being placed over the door of the office used at Skagway for police purposes, and this had to be removed. Finally objection was made to having an officer or any member of the force there at all.

Lastly, there is the necessity of military protection and control. There is no purely military force in the Yukon territory at present, and in all probability the North-West Mounted Police will prove sufficient for all purposes. At the same time a recurrence of the events of last winter is not impossible. The uncertainty of mining titles in the Porcupine district, owing to the disputed strip, appears to have been the immediate cause of the conspiracy of "The Order of the Midnight Sun." During the excitement a Canadian could not stay over-night at Skagway without being shadowed and maligned; the men employed on trains were offensive, and every package of goods arriving at Skagway for the Mounted Police was watched and referred to in the newspapers if it happened to contain

FIRE ARMS OR CARTRIDGES.

It was because of reported "drilling on the creeks" that the Yukon field force was despatched to the Yukon several years ago. The step was a precautionary one, as in case of an uprising of United States citizens in the Yukon it was by no means certain that Washington would permit Canadian soldiers to cross the disputed territory to suppress American filibusterers on Canadian soil. The conveyance of the force over the all-Canadian Stickine route, the building of the barracks at Selkirk, and the cost of maintenance, entailed an enormous expense, all of which would have been unnecessary had Skagway been conceded her true position as a Canadian port. Relations between the various sections of the people of the territory are now so amicable—so many Americans have become heavily interested in mining and mercantile pursuits, and in the maintenance of order—that no disturbance of any nature is to be feared. At the same time, in case of an uprising, how could Canada send her soldiers over the disputed strip? The question is a serious one. It is the duty of the Government to see that no portion of Canada is rat-trapped strategically from the start.

Other illustrations of the practical side of the boundary dispute might be given. The baneful influences of an undetermined line permeate every department of Government. Although British and Canadian diplomacy have been confounded for the time being, it is obvious that the now somewhat aged and hoary struggle for our rights must be vigorously renewed. The arguments in support of the Canadian contention are as conclusive as ever, and although it seems ungenerous to suggest that our powerful neighbours would allow their sense of justice to be warped by self-interest, perhaps the fact that United States trade with the Yukon is rapidly whittling away to a point, and the tide-water towns, Skagway and Dyea,, are being ruined instead of benefitted by existing arrangements, brings us nearer to settlement than before.

F. C. WADE.

FRUIT MARKS' ACT

Was Violated by Some Colborne Fruit Merchants.

A Colbourne despatch says: The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, has been in receipt of numerous complaints from Glasgow, Liverpool and Bristol, in regard to apples packed and shipped from different points in Ontario. Dominion Inspectors Carey and Lick have been making searching investigation in the vicinity of Colbourne, and as a result summonses were issued against B. H. Coyle in respect to forty barrels, the contents of which were said to be inferior to the stamped grade, and against Jas. Coyle and John Coyle, for 20 and 15 barrels respectively, deficient in the same respect. Before Squire Britnell they all pleaded guilty. The Magistrate commented severely on the character of the offence, which was often difficult to detect until some purchaser thousands of miles away found a barrel of Canadian apples which for the fair name of our country should never have left our shores so marked. Severe penalties were imposed, which would have been much heavier, but that the Magistrate accepted and noted the assurances of the defendants that they would use every endeavour to observe the law in the future. Prosecutions are said to be pending in other localities for similar offences.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakirs, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling barbwire.

THE BELMONT GOLD MINES

Old Mines are Likely to be Revived.

The Cordova Mine Said to be Paying the Shareholders Handsome Profits

Whilst gold exists in paying quantities, as has been shown in the mispickel of the Hastings-Peterborough district, it is also found in may localities in the quarts, dolomite and syenite. The ore is usually a low grade, carrying about 15 per cent. of sulphur and the average yield may be set down at $8 per ton, which is sufficient to give a handsome profit when the vein proves true and the operations are on a large scale and properly conducted. True, there have been many failures, but all are directly traceable to one or other of the causes above assigned.

A convincing demonstration of the profitableness of working the free gold deposits of this district is afforded by the operation of the Belmont gold mine, in the Township of Belmont, Peterborough County, by the Cordova Exploration Company, an organisation composed chiefly of English capitalists, with a capital stock of $600,000. On this property are three veins, varying in width from three feet to forty feet, and on these eight working shafts have been sunk. The deepest shaft is four hundred feet, and the vein, which gradually widens, has shown a steady yield of $8 per ton during the five years that it has been worked by the present proprietors, whose entire plant shows that the Superintendent is a master of his business.

The reduction works consist of a mill of thirty stamps, driven by compressed air to the extent of 700 horse power, furnished from Deer Falls, over two miles distant, and conveyed in a twelve-inch pipe. The ordinary mill process is supplemented to a certain extent by the cyanide process and the result has proved very satisfactory. All the shafts are connected by tramways with the crushing mill; the premises and mines are lighted by electricity, and everything that skill and ingenuity can suggest or devise for the economical and efficient working of the mine seems to have been done.

Mining men are proverbially difficult to obtain information from, but it has been learned on very good authority that the amount of rock crushed is some eighty tons per day, or about 2,500 tons per month, giving at $8 per ton $20,000 per month.

On the company's property are two or more veins of mispickel, but no steps have as yet been taken towards their development.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

He was consecrated Bishop on August 15, 8860, at Charlottetown, and was placed in charge of Chatham, where he has been ever since. During his administration the diocese has greatly prospered, and from seven priests under his direction, at the start, the number has grown to 50. He was beloved and gained the respect of people of all creeds.

SIR WILLIAM'S BILL

To Settle Labor Disputes on Railways in the Dominion.

A POSSIBLE CANADIAN G. O. C.

Sir William Mulock's Bill Provides For a Committee of Three Members, One to Be Chosen by the Company, One by the Employes and a Third by the Parties to the Difference.

Ottawa, March 23.—Sir William Mulock's bill to aid in the settlement of disputes on railways has been printed and distributed. It provides for a reference of disputes between railway employers and employes to a committee of conciliation, mediation and investigation, and in the event of such committee being unable to effect an amicable settlement, to a board of arbitrators. The conciliation committee is to be composed of three members, one to be chosen by the company, one by the employes and a third by the parties to the difference. New Militia Bill.

It is said that the militia bill, which Sir Frederick Borden will introduce this session, will provide for an increase in the permanent corps, and also give power for the appointment of a Canadian officer to command the militia force. If this power is granted, and should ever be taken advantage of, it would probably be accompanied by the appointment of an Imperial officer as chief of staff, or some such office.

Found Dead Body.

Toronto Junction, March 23. — Three boys whilst walking in the vicinity of Downsview yesterday afternoon, came across the body of an unknown man at a barn near the south side of the flag station on the G. T. R. at that point. The body of the man was brought in to Speers' undertaking rooms and the clothing was thoroughly searched, but nothing could be found to identify him. Dr. Clendenan thinks that death was due to starvation and exposure, and no inquest will be held. Apparently, the man was about 65 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and would weigh 130 lbs. He was clad in a rough worsted suit. He had a full beard and long grey hair.

PEACE FOLLOWS WAR

Fernie Miners Will Return to Work Immediately.

SERIOUS RIOT AT THE MINES.

600 Masked Men Drive Workmen From the Mines For Eight Miles on Friday —Used Revolvers and Stones, and Threatened Their Lives—Mine Superintendent and Wife Were Assaulted.

Fernie, March 23.—The coal strike in Crow's Nest mines was practically settled Saturday evening, and everyone is jubilant. The Conciliation Committee that morning interviewed Mr. Tonkin, who asked for another interview between the district union and himself. This immediately followed, and negotiations were taken up in rapid order from where they left off on Wednesday. In the evening another meeting took place, and the District Executive agreed to a final settlement, subject to the ratification of the local unions, which will be easily secured. The settlement involves some slight adjustment of the old rates and the recognition of the union. The settlement is to run for two years, subject to two months' notice by either party to the British Columbia Mining Association. The strike has lasted 30 days. This was pay day, but little money was paid out.

Riot on Friday.

Victoria, B.C., March 23.—A despatch from Fernie, dated Friday, says: The strike situation took on an extremely grave aspect here early this morning, when a masked mob of 400 men assaulted the mine superintendent and his wife, drove half-a-dozen men at the No. 1 Coal Creek mines away from town at the point of revolvers, and committed other acts of lawlessness. One arrest was made, and it is expected that several others will be apprehended for participation in the outrages. Chief McMullen of the Provincial Police has wired the Attorney-General for permission to enrol special constables, in fear of further trouble.

According to the despatch, the mob proceeded to the mines, and compelled the half-dozen men who were in charge of the fans of the closed mines to leave town, after first going to the home of Superintendent Drinnan and assaulting him and his wife. A number of shots were fired in the air for intimidation. After driving the men away from the mines, the mob entered houses and forcibly took men from their beds and chased them eight miles with clubs and stones. They were brought back under police protection. The women were also threatened. Some of the men were seriously hurt. One man, J. W. Morrison, is under arrest.

Several Arrests Made.

As soon as the Provincial police at Fernie, under Chief McMullen, heard of the trouble they went to the mine posthaste. Later a special train was made up and went as far as Morrissey, bringing back the men who had been driven out. Their names are: J. Hunt, F. Spence, T. Evans, E. Tasmer, W. Dupree and G. Serimox, and some were seriously hurt. It is expected that several arrests of the suspects will be made ar Fernie this afternoon, and the Attorney-General's Department at Victoria has been notified.

Solving a Murder Mystery.

Brantford, March 23.—Mrs. Quirk, wife of the late James Quirk, who was either murdered or accidentally killed here one year ago to-day, has been married to John Toole. He was interested as partner in the Commercial Hotel. Inspector Murray, of the provincial detective department, has received word that Mrs. Quirk has secretly married Mr. Toole, her late husband's partner, and the couple are living in Buffalo. The hotel in Brantford belongs to Mr. Toole's father. It will be exactly one year ago to-day since the death of James Quirk occurred at the Commercial Hotel. The authorities have not abandoned their search for Quirk's murderer.

Trooper Tye Returning.

London, March 23.—Trooper Tye of Toronto and twenty others of the South African Constabulary, who returning to Canada, report that every Canadian in the South African forces is trying to return home, being sick of Africa and their Imperial officers. They say there is grave danger of a black rising. They tell a pretty story of how Mrs. Chamberlain, while at Lichtenburg, sat up part of a night with the sick wife of a Canadian constable. They also praise the generosity of Mr. J. E. Jardine, the Canadian agent at Cape Town.

G.T.R. Winter Port in Canada.

Montreal, March 23.—"I understand that the Grand Trunk Railway System has quite decided to make their winter port in the lower provinces, and that such decision will be communicated to Parliament during the present session." The statement quoted was made yesterday by Hon. William Pugsley, Attorney-General of New Brunswick.

Will Be Deported.

St. John, N. B., March 23.—Loma Jakobatza, a Hungarian, employed as a guard at the immigration building, has confessed to accepting money for assisting detained immigrants to enter the United States. He will be deported to Liverpool, from whence he came here last November.

The Labouchere System.

Labouchere, the London editor and wit, used to be a regular visitor to Monte Carlo, but that was a good many years ago. In the old days he used to follow a certain plan of play which is known there to this day as "le systeme Labouchere." Not long ago some one asked him regarding this system, and he replied, "Ah, many millions have been won through it—I mean by M. Blanc, owner of the gambling salon."

CASTRO ABDICATES.

President of Venezuela Hands in His Resignation—Believed He Will Be Induced to Withdraw It.

Caracas, March 23.—The Congressional Hall was crowded Friday afternoon, and all the members of the diplomatic corps were present, when President Castro read his message to Congress. He passed in review the terrible conditions which prevailed in the country and denounced the errors of his countrymen.

He proceeded to say that now that the sovereignty of the nation had been safeguarded, "I deliver my abdication in order that you may proceed legally to call on him who should take my place, so that there may remain to no Venezuelan the slightest pretext for hostility to his country, or for connivance with foreigners who, without any ground save force, fell upon unfortunate Venezuela, trampling under foot reason and justice to the detriment of civilization, and the beautiful conquests of right."

Confirmed at Washington.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Secretary Hay received a despatch from Mr. Russell, the United States Charges at Caracas, confirming the report of President Castro's resignation, but stating that he doubted if the Venezuelan Congress would accept it.

Toronto, March 23.—About 10 o'clock yesterday morning Geo. Leslie of 53 Alice street and Eddie Bond of the Stag Hotel found the dead body of a man lying in an area-way in the rear of 105 York street. The police were notified, and the body was removed to Murphy's undertaking establishment at 479 West Queen street. The body was identified as that of George Vivian of 1,404 West Queen street. Just how Vivian came to his death is a mystery. When found he had evidently been dead several hours. From the position of the body it looks as if the man was smothered or choked to death by ashes. Vivian was 23 years of age. An inquest will be held.

Two highwaymen felled him to the ground with a blow on the temple, and made off with $14, gold watch and chain. When he came to he found his head enveloped in a bag, tied tightly around his neck. He has a nasty cut under left eye.

New Patrol Wagon.

The police have a new patrol wagon! A man was found drunk on Hunter street, and the local police force, or rather a part of the local police force, consisting of P. C's Stewart and Adams, seeing a buggy on the roadside, deposited the arrested "drunk" in it. Stewart then got between the shafts while Adams kept guard over the man. It is reported that the "patrol wagon" galloped up to the station in fine style.

A False Report.

A large number of our exchanges are giving credit to the report that Havelock and Norwood citizens are talking about forming a company for the purpose of generating electricity at Crow River and transmitting it to the two villages. This report is not true. Havelock citizens are forming a company among themselves to supply the village with electric light the power being obtained from the North River at the Burnt Dam bridge. Holland, both of town. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Julia Hanlon took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, No. 39 Elm street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery for interment. A large number of the friends of the deceased lady attended the funeral and the pall bearers were Messrs. George Lynch, J. Dennaird, H. Chancy and A. Deiere. There were a number of beautiful floral remembrances including a cross and crown from employees of the lamp department of the Canadian General Electric Company, where the deceased was employed. This morning Rev. Father McColl sung requiem Mass.

DR. HARLEY SMITH

Gave a Straight Talk to Men at the Opera House.

The third of the series of special services for men only, was held yesterday afternoon in the local opera house, there being a large number present. Mr. Gilbert Markle gave a beautiful sacred solo on the violin, of which instrument the player has a creditable mastery.

The chief feature of the service was of course the address which was given by Dr. Harley Smith, and was entitled "A Straight Talk With Men." Dr. Smith commenced his address by saying that every man has daily temptations, all of which must be regarded as opportunities for victory, and must be treated as such. Impurity, whether it be intemperance or of any other kind, is injurious to the whole body, and impurity is known to be hereditary — It passes from the father to the son. There is only one way in which impurity or temptation can be overcome, and that is by the strength of Almighty God. There is a day coming when one and all of us will have to account for all our sins to our Maker. Our temptations as a whole resemble a quick-sand, into which a man falls, only to sink after frantic struggles, and finally die an awful death. Had there been a rock standing in the middle of the treacherous sand, that man could have been saved. Towering high above temptation, the quick-sands of life, there is a Rock standing steadfast and sure—that Rock is our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the only one able to save us from the temptations and impurities of life.

The meeting closed with the singing of sacred hymns and with prayer.

THE MARKET TOLLS

Were Sold This Morning by Mr. Chas. Stapleton.

There was held this morning in the town council chamber a public auction sale of the Peterborough market tolls for the year commencing April 1st, 1903, and ending March 31st, 1904. The auctioneer was Mr. Chas. Stapleton. Only two men, Messrs. William Taylor and Warren Hall, the present Market Clerk, entered the arena of the biddera. It was announced that there was a reserve bid of $1000.

After the conditions of the sale had been read by Alderman R. F. McWilliams, and after securities of $200 by each had been produced, the bidding commenced by Mr. Warren Hall at $1010, which was followed by Mr. Taylor for $1020, at which price the tolls were sold.

The amount paid last year was $1270. This year's figure is the lowest since the market tolls were put up at auction. The highest figure was that of 1895, $2250.

A SERIOUS LOSS

Was Caused by Fire in a Stable Early This Morning.

A serious fire occurred early this morning in the stable of Mr. Mongraw, a barber of Simcoe street, the estimated loss of which is at least $250. It was about six o'clock this morning when Mr. Stewart, one of the neighbours, discovered that Mr. Mongraw's stable, corner of Simcoe and Queen streets, was on fire, and immediately sounded the alarm.

There were in the stable at the time of the outbreak of the fire, two valuable Jersey cows, and a good little mare, all of which were very badly burned. The mare broke her halter, and on the door being opened dropped dead, with the blanket and the hair burned off her back. One of the cows had her legs almost burned off.

The brigade did excellent work in quenching the fire. There was no insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

SMALL FIRE

That Occurred on Parnell Street This Morning.

The fire brigade was this morning called to the house owned and occupied by Mr. Irwin, on Parnell street. The building was a frame structure, and the fire was making rapid headway when the brigade arrived. The flames were quickly extinguished, but not before about $300 damage had been done.

Rev. Father Murphy addressed the members of the local T.A.S. yesterday afternoon, and in the course of his remarks referred to the great reputation the town had achieved through the T.A.S. winning the banner at the Dubuque Convention, which took place last summer. The speaker praised the excellent work the Society had been doing in the past. He furthermore referred to the recent coal strike which took place across the line, and said that it was the opinion of President Mitchell that the miners would never have secured the decisive victory they did had it not been for their total abstinence principles.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robb Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Wedding.

On March 17th last, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Robb, of Stony Lake, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering, it being the occasion of the golden wedding of the above couple. There were about 40 guests present, among whom were, Rev. W. T. Atkinson, of Warsaw; Jas., Thomas and Andrew McMillan, of Dummer, and Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, of Norwood, the four last mentioned gentlemen being brothers of Mrs. Robb; the two Misses Clydesdales, nieces; Mr. and Mrs. John Robb, Mr. Jas. G. Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robb, Mr. and Mrs. William Robb, sons; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rutherford, Mrs. Joseph Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie McCullough; besides no less than fourteen grandchildren. There were nine grandchildren who were unable to attend. Letters were received from Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pearce, of Norwood; and Mrs. J. Vandervort, of Marmora, expressing regret at not being able to be present, but sending their hearty congratulations, and expressing earnest wishes that they might be long spared to see many returns of that day.

At five o-clock all sat down to a most bountiful and neatly spread table, and after ample justice had been done to all the good things Rev. Mr. Atkinson rose to extend his congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robb, on behalf of himself and the older members of the company who had known the aged couple for many years.

Mr. Robb rose on behalf of himself and his wife to express the great pleasure it gave them to have so many of their friends and children and grand-children present, and to expresse their hearty thanks to Almighty God for His loving kindness to them, all through their lives.

The evening was spent in music, singing and games. At about ten o'clock the following address was read by Mrs. R. D. Rutherford, their eldest daughter, to her parents:

not before $200 damage had been done.

Dear Father and Mother,—We, your children and friends wish to extend to you our most hearty and joyous congratulations on this the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding day—your golden wedding. We feel to thank Almighty God that in His kind providential dealings you have been spared to us so long. You have been fond and loveing parents to us, ever pointing us in the direction of rectitude and true prosperity. Under the shadow of your parental influence we have grown up. And we turn this day to bless the guiding hands which have led us this far. Our sincere wish and prayer to God is that you may still be spared many years to us all. But we know that when the day of earthly seperation comes, we can look in faith to that eternal day whose sun shall never set, and when we shall all meet to part no more in a home which shall be complete, where none are missing and where no ties are broken. We then in commemoration of this memorable day ask you to accept this purse, not because of its value, but as a token of our good wishes and love. We pray God's blessing to rest upon you in the closing days of your journey together, and that He bring you safely into His haven of rest.

JOHN A. ROBB,
JOHN McMILLAN,
R. D. RUTHERFORD.

At the close of the reading of the address, a well filled purse was handed them by Harold J. Robb, a grandson.

The recipients were quite taken by surprise. Mr. Robb had often stated that if they were spared by God's blessing to see their fiftieth anniversary that he wanted no presents, but he thanked them heartily for the purse and for all their kind wishes, but above all he thanked God for the love and kindness that had always existed between his wife's brothers and himself, who had all been as one family.

About two o'clock a.m., the party broke up, all well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

A POOR SEASON

For Maple Syrup, so the Farmers Say.

Regarding the maple syrup season the general opinion is that it is a failure around here. There has been very little made so far, and the farmers say that there will be very little more. It is poor sugar weather as the sap buckets get filled with rain-water. It takes a lot of rain-water to make a gallon of syrup. The syrup is generally of a poor quality, being very dark. The farmers say it is impossible to get the golden coloured syrup this year.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Local Baseball Season Opened on Saturday.

Basketball and Other Sports in Y.M.C.A. —Great Wrestling Bout.

BASKETBALL.

One of the most interesting Saturday night programmes of the season was run off in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium on Saturday evening last. There were two basketball matches, one between the Thistles and the Beavers, the latter winning by 14 to 8; while the other was between the Harriers and the Brownies, the former winning by 16—15. The other features were, a blindfolded boxing bout, which brought forth rounds of laughter; a wrestling bout between F. Richardson and S. Laing, and a fencing bout between Messrs. M. Watson of the Bank of Montreal, and H. Ayers. The latter was a three-minute contest and ended in both opponents having scored three points. At the conclusion of the programme, the Brownies entertained the Harriers at a banquet, which was served in the parlours of the Y.M.C.A. building.

* * * *

The Belleville basketball team will play here on Friday night against the Harriers, the City League Champions, who have made arrangements for the accommodation of not less than 300 spectators. There will be a gymnasium programme. The admission fee will be 15c or 2 tickets for 25c. The Harriers' team will consist of the following: — Campbell and Richardson, defence; Laing, centre; Dobbin and Kemp, forwards. Mr. McGuire will umpire and Mr. H. E. Ayers will officiate as referee.

WRESTLING.

A great night's sport is offered to the public on Tuesday, March 31st, in Bradburn's opera house. A couple of the young men of the town have entered George Gauthier, the well-known local wrestler, who has beaten all his opponents this year, and Dan Simons, the Quebec champion, to wrestle for a purse of $50.00, catch-as-catch-can style, best two out of three falls to count. Simon returned to Canada this winter from a tour on the coast, where he won nineteen matches against men of all sizes. Gauthair has never had a man force him enough to show what he can do on the mat, and this ought to be a great match. It will be for the welterweight championship of Canada. The promoters of the entertainment have matched Willie Popp, 115 pound champion of Canada, and Pete Barry, 115, Champion C. A. A.U. last year, to box for a purse of $50 and the 115 pound championship of Canada. This will be a ten round bout. Both of these boxers are very clever and it should be a great bout.

There will be a four round boxing bout and a wrestling bout, in which Jack McDonough will attempt to throw a local man twice in half an hour.

Another feature will be a bag-punching competition between Arthur Edmunds of Toronto, Jack McDonough and another local man. This will be a new thing to a Peterborough crowd and will be exciting. Between bouts singing and dancing by well known local artists will amuse the crowd.

This is certainly the best programme ever offered at an athletic entertainment in Peterborough, and everything will be put on just as advertised. The management are under a heavy expense procuring the above attractions, and it is sure to draw a large crowd of the lovers of good clean sport.

LACROSSE.

The clubs of the Trent Valley District are reminded of the meeting to be held in the Oriental Hotel, on Saturday morning next, for the purpose of organizing a lacrosse league.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the employees of the American Cereal Co., who are interested in football, has been called for this evening at eight o'clock, in the T.A.S. Rooms for the purpose of organizing a football club. All who can possibly attend are urgently requested to do so.

BASEBALL.

The first game of baseball of the season took place on Saturday afternoon at the Murray street Seperate School grounds, when the Excelsiors and the American Cereal Company's team played a practice match, resulting in a victory for the Excelsiors.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Met in Discussion This Morning in Town Clerk's Office.

A meeting of the Peterborough Board of Health was held this morning in the Town Clerk's Office at 9.30 o'clock. There were present,—Mr. Robert Neill, chairman; and Messrs. A. Parker, Geo. Schneider, Wm. Eyres, Dr. Burnham and Mayor Roger.

On motion of Dr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Eyres, it was resolved that Chairman Neill and Mayor Roger consult the Nicholas Hospital authorities with a view of having a double walled tent erected in connection with that Hospital, for the convenience of the diphtheria patients, which disease is prevalent in town.

On motion Messrs. Schneider and Eyres were appointed a committee for the purpose of engaging some medical man to take the place of Dr. Bingham, the Medical Health Officer, during his present illness.

On motion of Mr. Eyres, seconded by Mr. Parker, the Board will meet the Town Council and Water Commissioners for a conference in regard to the health of the town.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The Toronto Globe says: Mr. Gus Thomas, the well-known comedian and tenor, is at present touring the province in one of the season's successes, a farce comedy in three acts, entitled, "Hunting for Hawkins," written by Guy F. Steely, the author of "The Stork." Mr. Thomas is a son of Mr. M. A. Thomson, the former well known proprietor of the English chop house at Toronto, and a brother of the present proprietor. Mr. Thomas has the leading part and is surrounded by an excellent company, including Miss Nita L. Pierson, a very beautiful and accomplished New York girl, and Mr. F. H. Stevens.

PREACHED ON CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE

Rev. Father Murphy's Sermon at St. Peter's.

WHAT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Did for Civilization in European Countries.

How it Regards the Marriage Laws—Its Efforts to Abolish Slavery.

Rev. Father Murphy, of the Paulist Order of New York, is in town and yesterday evening at vespers at St. Peter's Cathedral, delivered an interesting address.

About a year ago it will be remembered Rev. Father Murphy visited Peterborough, and delivered a powerful sermon on the evils of intemperance.

There was a large congregation at St. Peter's last night to hear the reverend father, who deliyered an interesting discourse on "A Chapter from the History of Christian Marriage." Rev. Father Murphy's remarks were in part as follows:—

"What therefore God hath joined together, let man put not asunder." Matt. 19; 6.

"But if any man have not a care of his own, and especially of those of his own household, that man has denied the faith and is worse than an infidel." 1 Tim., 5-8.

We are told by more than one philosopher that the world is being civilized by a few ideas. It may be well to add the statement that these few ideas are divine. The Catholic Church claims the honour of being founded by the One who brought them to the world. At the same time she claims the honour of being for almost twenty centuries the greatest educating and refining influence at work among the human race. If there is a civilization in America to-day, we owe it to Europe. And if Europe is civilized, she owes it to the Catholic Church. And if the Catholic Church has succeeded in raising up the human race to higher standards of thinking and of life, she owes it principally to one fundamental idea, which she received from our Divine Redeemer Himself, and which she gave to Europe and to the world Europe civilized. That fundamental idea is the Christian concept of what the family and the home should be. This morning we are going to spend a few minutes together in reading over one chapter from the history of that idea. The chapter I have selected is an introductory one. We are going to see some of the difficulties the Catholic Church had to contend with when for the first time she came to Rome in the person of St. Peter, and began her civilizing influence within the Pagan capital.

At the time of our Divine Redeemer's coming, the Roman Empire was the mightiest embodiment of Paganism. Rome was first in power and influence; and there was no second. The city of the Caesars was the capital of the world. And the world was ruled by the ideas that prevailed at Rome. If those ideas were elevating the whole race profited by them. If they were destructive, the whole world suffered from them. And at the time of our Divine Redeemer's coming, the ideas that prevailed witched within the Pagan Capital were destructive of every best interest of the human race. There was the idea of Roman supremacy which made every other people slaves. There was the idea of Roman extravagance which made every other people want the very necessaries of life. There was the Roman idea of pleasure which made cruelty the national pastime. There was the Pagan idea of man's superiority over woman, which made the very name of the mother-sex a byword and a term of reproach. There was the Roman idea of marriage, which permitted and encouraged divorce. There was the idea of the absolute dominion of the father over his own household, which made him the arbiter of life and death, even for his own children. Sum it all up in one word.—There was everything in existence and in action in the Everlasting City that could possibly tend in any way to the destruction of home life with all its moral advantages. But before going on to the idea of what the Catholic Church did in Rome by introducing Christian marriage, let us see some of the facts which indicate the terrible condition of affairs with which she had to contend. The darkest pages in the history of the Roman Empire were written just about the time of our Divine Redeemer's coming. And these pages were written by the hands of those who suffered from the evils they describe. They are not exaggerated; there was no motive for exaggeration. They are the plain and simple statements of incontestable and astonishing facts.

Rev. Father Murphy then went on to contrast the things St. Peter brought to Rome from Christ, with the things he found at Rome. He contrasted the Pagan life and the Christian life of Rome, and dwelt at some length on the condition of Europe with regard to slavery and the utter disregard of the marriage laws. He pointed out the work the Roman Catholic Church did in remedying these evils and concluded thus:—The philosophers of Rome in the days of the Empire's decadence, did not know the nation's greatest need; or if they did, they were unable to secure it. That need was the placing of the family upon a solid basis. It was upon the family alone as a foundation that the permanent state could be built. The Catholic Church recognized the fact that the home was everything in any scheme for reconstruction. She recognized more then that. She realized the fact that woman was the most important element in the family. It was the Catrholic Church that raised up woman from her social degradation. It was the Catholic Church that made her position as a wife secure. It was the Catholic Church that made her the queen of the domestic circle. It was the Catholic Church that made her the guardian of the home and the equal sharer in the responsibilities of the family. It was the Catholic Church that required her husband to respect her. It was the Catholic Church that taught her children to call her blessed and to make her so. It was the Catholic Church that made her position secure in society, by first making it secure in her own home. The best test of civilization in any state is the condition of the families in that state. The best test of the perfection of any form of Government is found in the ideals that Government has concerning the home. It was the Catholic Church's idea of marriage and the family relationship that brought about the civilization of Europe. It was the Catholic Church's unalterable determination to cling to the highest standards concerning the oneness and the indissolubility of marriage that placed Europe and the nations Europe civilized so far in advance of all the other nations of the world. She had to assert, in the words of Bishop O'Farrell, the divine rights of marriage against the fierce passions of the half-barbaric tribes as well as against the false ideas of the Roman civilization and the unbridled lusts of despotic rulers. Throughout the centuries, from the first to the fifteenth, and louder still in the days of the great rebellion against the Church and her ideals, there was one voice that constantly proclaimed with no uncertain sound the only perfect law of marriage. It was the same voice that cried out when women were being made to fight the wild beasts and wilder men in the amphitheatre. It was the same voice that sounded in the ears of the northern barbarians; and found an echo in their own wild hearts. It was the same voice that cried out through all those ages when Europe was being Christianized and civilized by the same mighty power. It was the same voice that cried out in the North and in the South, in the East and in the West. It was the same voice that whispered in the ear of the peasant and shouted in the hearing of the despot: "It is not permitted to divorce your lawful wife. What God Himself hath joined together, you cannot break asunder, even if you are a King." It was not against the little rulers of insignificant dominions that the Church spoke loudly and in no uncertain tone. It was against the mighty monarchs of France and Germany and England that the fundamental principle of the unity and the indissolubility of Christian marwas asserted and maintained. The Catholic Church was built on the idea of Christian marriage. To-day the Catholic Church is still standing on the same ground. Is it any wonder that we love the grand, old Catholic Church?

Losing Flesh

That means a low condition of health; the body is poorly nourished and thinness follows. The system is then susceptible to disease—any one of a number of ailments finds easy access. Get plump.

How? Scott's Emulsion.

Plumpness and health go together usually; it's safer to be plump anyway. And in Scott's Emulsion there are the very elements that make new flesh and repair wasting.

We call Scott's Emulsion a food-medicine because it does so much through nourishment. When there is a loss of flesh and wasting conditions exist it is an evidence of starved tissues and nerves; flesh and blood are hungry. They want the nourishment and food principles so perfectly blended in Scott's Emulsion.

The whole body soon feels the influence of the new force and a noticeable change for the better takes place at once. That is why Scott's Emulsion is so good for those who are losing flesh or suffering from any wasting disease.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

HONOR TO CHAMBERLAIN.

An Address of Welcome From the City of London.

London, March 21.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain yesterday received the City of London's congratulations on his mission to South Africa, in the Guild Hall, where Lord Mayor Samuel and the corporation presented him with an address of welcome in the presence of a large gathering of distinguished persons. Among those present were Premier Balfour, most of the Cabinet Ministers, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Roberts, the Duke of Fife, the Duke of Argyle, Lord Strathcona, Lord Lister, Vice-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Signor Marconi, Sir Thomas Lipton, and Sir Henry Irving. Many ladies were also present, to extend greetings to Mrs. Chamberlain. The greetings of the populace were also remarkably enthusiastic.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech was largely a reiteration of his recent speech at Southampton, and was summed up as follows by the Colonial Secretary:

"In the words of my friend, General Delarey, the Boer leaders will be as loyal to their new Government as they were to the old."

Later at the Lord Mayor's banquet Mr. Chamberlain made a speech of the same tenor.

The Premier, in toasting the Lord Mayor, paid a few words of tribute to Mr. Chamberlain, saying that, never in the history of mankind, had so great a result been achieved in so brief a period of time. Mr. Chamberlain has deserved the blessing he pronounced upon the peacemakers.

THAT SAME OLD PAIN IN THE BACK

May Lead to Diabetes or the Dreaded Bright's Disease,

Unless it is Promptly Banished by Dodd's Kidney Pills—Berlin Man Talks About it.

Berlin, March 23.—(Special.) — The remark "My back is bothering me again," is so frequently heard nowadays that aside from its discomfort many people look on pain in the back as something too trivial for more than passing notice. They forget, and often until too late, that it is one o fthe surest symptoms of Kidney Disease, and unless cleaned out of the system will almost inevitably lead to Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or some of those other terrible complaints which are but Kidney Disease in a more advanced stage.

This is what makes the case of Andrew Hauss, of this place, of particular interest. "I had been troubled with a pain in my back for over a year," says Mr. Hauss. "I tried everything I could that I could get to rub with or to take inwardly, but could not get relieved from it. One day I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I did, and I got better from the time I started to take them till I had finished one box, when I was completely cured."

All Kidney pains and dangers fly before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Bank Robbers Captured.

Halifax, N. S., March 23.—Two of the men who burglarized the agency of the Union Bank of Halifax at Granville Ferry and secured $3,100 in cash were run down and captured 15 miles out of Bridgetown yesterday morning. The robbers were called on to surrender and did so without making a fight, though they were heavily armed. Only $15 was found on them.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

THE NAME FAMILIAR

THE SATURDAY REVIEW ON THE DECLINE OF MANNERS.

Statesmen Are Now Addressed by Their Christian Names and Ceremonial Is at a Discount—Premier Balfour Is "Arthured" Not Only by His Colleagues But by His Under-Secretaries—A Matter of Fashion.

It has been attempted in the celebrated case of the hour to draw an inference from the fact that persons not related call one another by their Christian names or some nickname, says The Saturday Review. Whether the inference will be accepted or rejected by the jury we cannot say. But the more discussion of the point—from which alas! there is no escape at present—suggests that the fashion of men and women calling one another by baptisinal and pet names, if they meet at all often, has grown very rapidly and spread very widely during the last few years. It is decidedly a matter of fashion, though the fashion is not merely capricious, but may be traceable, in some measure at least, to the court. At the beginning of the eighteenth century manners were ceremonious, and Anne's Court was stiff and dull. Toward the middle of the century manners relaxed, and by the end of the century, when the Prince Regent ruled the roast, they had become very easy. In the set of which Fox, Lord Carlisle and Selwyn were leaders everybody was Charles or George. This sort of thing continued throughout the reign of George IV., but with the passing of the Reform Bill and the accession of Queen Victoria we had a reversion to primness. A Queen on the throne always makes for stiffness, and the invasion of society by the middle-class after 1832 induced discrimination on the part of the elect.

The First Breach.

Perhaps the beginning of relaxation in modern political circles was the translation of the Fourth Party to the Treasury Bench. Then it was nothing but "Randolph" and "George" and "Arthur." There is a story, it may be invented, but, if so, it is well invented about a colleague of Mr. Balfour who, after delivering a carefully prepared speech on the complicated question of rating, sat down mopping his Olympian brow and asked: "How did I do, Arthur?" "Splendidly, Harry, splendidly." "Did you understand it, Arthur?" "Not a word, Harry, not a word." During the last few years we have had a rapid and alarming development in the direction of casual and endearing address. Mr. Balfour is perhaps the first Prime Minister who has been "Arthured," not only by his contemporaries, but by his Under Secretaries. To realize the startling advance in familiarity which these manners denote, one has only to reflect on their possible application to the leaders of the last generation of politicians. Can anyone imagine Mr. Disraeli, outside the circle of his relatives, being addressed as "Benny," or "Benjy," or even "Benjamin?" "Dizzy" he was called, but never to his face, except by that impudent buffoon, Bernal Osborne. And this reminds us that there are a great many statesmen who are called by disrespectful abbreviations behind their back.

The Joseph Speech.

Mr. Chamberlain is often spoken of as "Joe," but we will wager a considerable portion of our substance that he is never so addressed to his face—though Mr. Bowles in his famous Joseph speech went perilously near. It is inconceivable that the stately Pitt should ever have been addressed as "Billy," yet the Parliamentary records have it that when his friend Dundas was condemned for malversation by the casting vote of the Speaker, the rowdy Whigs crowded up to the Treasury bench "to see how Billy Pitt looked." Is it thinkable that anyone should ever have clapped Lord Salisbury on the back and called him "Bobby," or even "Robert?" There is a kind of floating tradition that there is, or was, a man who, having been with him at Eton and Christchurch, was in the habit of speaking to Mr. Gladstone as "William." But serious and well-informed men regard the statement as apocrypal, and stoutly disbelieve in the existence of such a person. For some reason there is a great deal more of this affectionate familiarity on the Conservative bench (on whichever side of the Speaker it may be) than on the Radical front bench. We remember to have heard Sir William Harcourt address one of his co-tenants as "a damned fool," but we cannot recall any nearer approach to intimacy among the Radical leaders than this somewhat ambiguous phrase.

A Matter of Fashion.

It is all a matter of fashion. No one pretends that the Prime Minister is less respected or respectable than his predecessors; and if we have made Mr. Balfour the peg whereon to hang our moral it is only because he is the first man in the country. The fashion is fostered by the habit of playing bridge and golf. It is difficult to treat with distant respect a partner who has blocked your long suit or an opponent who has "missed the globe" on the teeing ground. A friend asked a distinguished statesman the other day: "How can you ever play bridge with So-and-so," (naming a leader of the Opposition), "again, after his outrageous attack on your good faith in the House the other night?" "It was a disgraceful attack," replied the Minister thoughtfully, "and I shall not play bridge with him again—for a fortnight."—Saturday Review.

Fruit In France.

The habit so general in the United States of preserving a large provision of fruit every fall does not prevail in France, where the people eat their fruit raw.

Thread Lawn.

By "thread lawn" is meant Irish or pure linen lawn. The term was greatly used many years ago, originating in Ireland, and was used to designate an all linen from a mixed lawn, as thread lace meant a pure linen lace.

Breakfast For One.

That keen observer of nature, John Muir, tells in "Our National Parks" a pretty story of a woodchuck. In the spring of 1875 he was exploring the peaks and glaciers about the head of the middle fork of the San Joaquin and when passing round a frozen lake where the snow was ten feet deep was surprised to find the fresh track of a woodchuck.

What could the animal be thinking of to come out so early while all the ground was snow buried? The steady direction of his track showed he had a definite aim, and fortunately it was toward a mountain 13,000 feet high that I meant to climb. So I followed to see if I could find out what he was up to.

From the base of the mountain the track pointed straight up, and I knew by the melting snow that I was not far behind him. I lost the track on a crumbling ridge, partly projecting through the snow, but soon discovered it again.

Toward the summit of the mountain, in an open spot on the south side, nearly inclosed by disintegrating pinnacles among which the sun heat reverberated, making an isolated patch of warm climate, I found a fine garden full of rock cress, phlox, silene, draba and a few grasses, and in this garden I overtook the wanderer, enjoying a fine fresh meal, perhaps the first of the season.

How did he know the way to this one garden spot, so high and so far off, and what told him that it was in bloom while yet the snow was ten feet deep over his den? He must have had more botanical, topographical and climatological knowledge than most mountaineers possess.

Scotch Prisoners.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh states states that there are 1,400 prisoners per 100,000 of the population in Scotland, compared with 700 in Ireland, and 500 in England.

By One Arm.

"It is a matter of surprise to me," remarked a man who is a keen observer, recently, "that half the children of this country do not grow up minus an arm."

"But wherefore?" asked the person to whom he was speaking.

"Here is an illustration," continued the first speaker. "Do you see that woman walking with a little child? Now, notice her when she crosses the street."

At the crossing the woman lifted the child by one arm. It dangled in the air, and its feet did not touch the earth until it was across the street, when the mother dropped it on the sidewalk.

"Well, the arm held, didn't it?"

"But," continued the philosopher, "I was afraid at one time it would be wrenched from its socket. Now, that is a sight you can witness every hour in the day—mothers dragging children out of street cars, across the streets or up a flight of stairs by one arm. I wonder how the mothers would like it if a being four times as large as themselves should suddenly swoop down and lift them by one arm. I'd like to see it tried once, I just would."

This Boy was Weak and Languid

Doctors Said He Grew too Fast—Parents Became Alarmed and Used With Splendid Results

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

So mild and gentle in action is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that it is peculiarly suited for the use of children. Both boys and girls are under a very severe strain during the time that their systems are developing into manhood and womanhood. The tax on the blood and nerves is frequently too great, and some external assistance is necessary. We do not believe that it is possible to secure better treatment at such times than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this belief is backed by the testimony of very very many parents who have seen health restored to their children by means of this great restorative.

Mrs. George F. Brisbin, Lake street, Peterborough, Ontario, states: "One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed about him, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long until we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better colour and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along under this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food soon wins the confidence of all who are pale, thin, weak, or exhausted, for by noting your increase in weight while using it, you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body and realize that weakness and disease is giving way to strength and vigour, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

I would not be without it if it cost $1.00 a bottle, and I can recommend it to everyone bothered with a cough or cold.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

MACHINATIONS OF BOBS

By LOUISE LAMPRAY

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

"Why, I don't know, Bobby. What would you like to name him?" From under her filmy gray parasol Fairfax Browne regarded her son with a look grave in its perplexity. Bobs adored his pretty mother because she never laughed at him; also because she had big blue eyes and a mass of fluffy red gold hair precisely like a princess in a fairy tale. Therefore, as a matter of course, the pepper and salt terrier was brought to her to be christened.

"Call him Rags," suggested Captain Frederick Lawton, the navy officer, who chanced that morning to be attendant. This had happened so often of late that dowagers were beginning to suggest in penetrating undertones that if dear Mrs. Browne were really thinking of marrying again she could not do better than to take Captain Lawton, suitable in age, good looking and quite independent of his profession. And every one knew that Mrs. Browne had but little besides that ramshackle old plantation in Louisiana, or was it Maryland?

Bobs had overheard one or two of these suggestions and, revolving them in his seven-year-old brain, had come to the conclusion that something portentous was impending. This or something else made him regard Captain Lawton's suggestion with vague disfavor.

"I don't like that," he said shortly. "It might seem disrespectful, you know."

He turned a sturdy blue back on them and trudged off, with the meek terrier under his arm. Presently came in sight a fresh faced young subaltern.

"Hello, Bobs! Where are you going with—what's his name?"

"He hasn't got any yet," said Bobby soberly. "That old Captain Lawton said to call him Rags, but I shan't. How would he feel if his father had named him Rags, I'd like to know?"

"That is a question which Captain Lawton has probably never considered," answered Charteris gravely. "But you might call this little beggar after General Kitchener."

"Is General Kitchener a great soldier?"

"The greatest next to Bobs," avowed the lieutenant. And that settled it. Henceforth it was Bobs and Kitchener to all the American colony.

Meanwhile, as the gossips had surmised, Bobs' mother was pondering in the remote depths of her subconsciousness the question of accepting Captain Lawton. There were times when she felt a longing for the home and position which he could give her. It would be home for Bobby, too—Bobby, who looked at her with his big, honest, adoring gray eyes, so like his father's. But, curiously enough, as often as those eyes met hers she felt a strong distaste for Lawton, with his precise speech and immaculate uniform.

She had no idea that Bobby was also considering the merits of a prospective stepfather, but he was.

"Mr. Charteris," he said one day, "you aren't married, are you?"

Charteris blushed all over his boyish face. "Not yet," he said.

"Because," said Bobby with deliberation, "I've been thinkin' it over, and I believe I'd rather have you for a father than anybody that's here now."

Charteris gasped. "It's very good of you, I'm sure," he said, smothering an impulse to laugh, "but your mother might have something to say about that."

"Pooh! She wouldn't mind," said Bobby superbly. "She'd like you any amount better than that old navy captain. My father was a cav'lry off'cer, and his sword's hangin' up in the libr'y at home. I'm goin' to wear it when I grow up, but I won't be in the navy. A man's no good 'less he can ride."

Bobby's tone was that of long settled conviction, and in his heart Charteris, subaltern of hussars, with a medal won in Africa, may have agreed with him. At any rate, when he made a third that day in a group otherwise consisting of Mrs. Browne and Captain Lawton the latter inwardly cursed the inclination of the subaltern to talk of cross country hunts in England, rough riding on the plains and wild dashes over the African karroo. All the more violent was his emotion as he saw the rare color come into Fairfax Browne's face.

"He was the best rider I ever saw," Charteris said at the conclusion of one of his stories, "a big, gypsy looking chap—one of those men who don't seem to come from any place in particular, though I believe he was born in New York; chap that was always sure to do great things some day, by Jove!"

Charteris' eye had fallen on a paragraph in the paper on his knee.

"What is it?" inquired Mrs. Browne, interested.

"The very man. He's in Brighton—just back from South Africa."

Nobody noticed that as the group separated Bobby secured the newspaper and studied it carefully.

Arrived at the hotel, he begged the clerk for a sheet of paper, an envelope and a stamp and, producing a stubby pencil from his trousers pocket, composed a letter, sitting on the back veranda, while Kitchener made love to the cook. When the letter was done, he addressed it in a scrawly but distinct hand to "Mr. Edward Wharton, Brighton, England."

The letter ran as follows:

Dear Mr. Wharton—Mr. Chartris told about you and I like you my father was a cavlry officer to and I dont like the navy one bit and I dont want a navy man for my new father

I think Kickner and Id rather have you if youd like it Im sure Mama and you would be grate friends Yours with love

ROBERT FAIRFAX BROWNE.

"By Jove!" said Wharton, and he threw back his head and laughed—a splendid, ringing laugh that consorted well with the gleam of his white teeth in the dusk of his beard and the flash of his deepset dark eyes. "This is certainly uncommon. It must be Charteris of the hussars, and—let's see; that's a Scheveningen hotel. I'd like to see the boy again. I'll run over there after I've been to London."

Some days later Bobs and Kitchener took it into their heads to play in an empty boat. Kitchener found the boat, and Bobs led the way into it. Then it gently parted company with the land and drifted away. The place was almost deserted at that time of day, and Bobby, half frightened, half elate, held his peace, wondering if it would be manly to call for help. A sudden gust of wind struck the craft, and somehow or other the two went over the side just as Captain Lawton and Mrs. Browne came strolling along the pier.

Mrs. Browne gave a cry of terror. "It's Bobby!" she exclaimed.

A moment's hesitation was all that saved Captain Lawton's immaculate garb, and in that instant a huge, swift moving form went by them, dropped into the water with a tremendous splash and swam with strong, assured strokes toward the dots in the water.

It was all over in a minute, and Mrs. Browne, all regardless of soft silk draperies and floating laces, had Bobby in her arms, and Lieutenant Charteris, who had come running up, was saying:

"'Pon my word, Bobs, you and Kitchener"—

Then his eye fell upon the rescuer, and he broke his sentence off in the middle to grab the hand of the big, tall, very wet man who had dropped his traveling bag to take an impromptu swim. There were introductions and handshakings and tears. When Bobby heard the name of Wharton, he stared round eyed, and when Wharton heard the name of Bobby he, too, said, "Upon my word!" to himself.

Perhaps all this had something to do with the fact that when on the following evening Captain Lawton came for his final answer to his suit the pretty widow knew her own mind and answered him with a gentle but decided "No."

At about the same time Wharton was confessing frankly to his friend Charteris that he was bowled over for the first time in his life, and would there be any chance for him? That naval officer, you know—

Charteris grinned. "I don't think you need worry about him," said he. "Go in, old chap, and here's luck."

The rapidity of Wharton's courtship shocked the whole place. It was not more than six weeks after his first appearance that he was walking in the twilight with a charming, gay gowned dame, and she was saying in that delicious soft voice of hers:

"But it wasn't all what you did that first day, Edward, though I'd have been friends forever with any one who had saved Bobby's life. It was just that you were you, and—don't you think it was fate?"

"I think," said Wharton, with a twinkle in his eye, "that it was the machinations of Bobs."

And then he told her.

Several Doctors Attended But Did No Good.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills CURED.

Read what Miss L. L. Hanson, Waterside, N.B., says: "I feel it my duty to express the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. A year ago last spring I began to have heart failure. At first I would have to stop working and lie down for a while. Then I got so bad I had to give up altogether and go to bed. I had several doctors attend me but they did me no good. I could get no relief until urged by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before I had used three quarters of a box I began to feel the benefit and by the time I had taken three boxes I was completely cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, skip beats, and all troubles arising from the heart or nerves.

"I wrote to Doctor Pierce, who sent me a very kind letter and advised me."

Thousands of weak and sick women can trace the beginning of a new life of perfect health to that letter written to Dr. Pierce.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures weak and aching backs, headaches, nervousness and other womanly ailments by curing the womanly diseases which cause them.

"In the spring of 1900 I became very ill," writes Mrs. Alvlena Scholtz, of Lake Washington, Lesueur Co., Minn., "my back was very weak and ached so that I could do no work at all, so I was obliged to take to my bed. I felt a constant desire to urinate and the pains in abdomen were almost unbearable. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, who sent me a very kind letter, and advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of each and am a well woman now. I cannot say enough in favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

A Fish Story.

"There are as good fish in the sea as were ever taken out of it," remarked Small to Young, who had been refused by Moneybag's daughter.

"Yes, I know, but they are not goldfish."

To Purify Water.

An ounce of powdered alum stirred into a hogshead of putrid water will render it sweet and fit for use in the course of a few hours.

Edible Mushrooms in China.

Large quantities of fungi are eaten by the Chinese of every province, and some have medical or dietetic properties assigned to them. The polpori or boleti are generally preferred to the agarics, so largely eaten in Europe.

LAUGHTER.

Not Only a Good, But a Necessary Thing, Like Song.

Laughter in itself is not only a good thing, but a necessary thing, like song. Did not Chamfort say that that day was wasted in which we had not had at least one hearty laugh? The man without laughter is, according to Carlyle, as dangerous a man as Shakespeare deemed the man without flesh on his bones or music in his soul. Laughter is, as it were, the breaking up of that habitual and guilty self-control which is imposed upon us by prejudice, and remorse, and disappointment, and all other rebellions against the experiences of life. The laughter of a child is light because it has no load to lift. But the rarity of a man's tears is due to the same cause as the violence of his laugh—when it comes—since both tears and laughter spring from a deep fountain which by incrustation becomes charged like a volcano. And when a man spends a whole year without laughing, it usually means that the sources of his being have remained unstirred. No shaft has entered the inmost shrine. His cloak is unpierced. He is, if you like, immaculate; but he is a prisoner within his own personality. And here it is, perhaps, that we find the explanation of the complementary fact that if a man is wholly consumed by love to other men, it is not always in his nature to indulge in laughter. In this case, the stream of his affection flows forth so equably that, since it is nowhere checked, it nowhere culminates in an explosion. Some of the best men who have ever lived—and they include one incomparable Exemplar—do not seem ever to have laughed. For the rest of us, the importance of laughter consists in the very consideration that it is a moral remedy, that, like a cough, it clears away the incumbrances of disease, that without it we choke.—London Daily News.

Remarkable Coon Pictures.

One of the most striking and amusing series of pictures—impressions in miniature—at the recent exhibition of the London Sketch Club, was painted by Mr. Alastair Macdonald, says M.A.P. Mr. Eugene Stratton, a coon actor, was the subject he had chosen, and the artist had exactly caught the pose, and expression—I had almost said the movement—of the famous coon actor, and yet some of the little portraits could literally have been sketched on a thumbnail, and the biggest would hardly have covered the palm of one's hand. Mr. Alastair Macdonald is a young Scotsman. His grandfather's estate, "Waterdale," in the Isle of Skye, was the scene of his early impressions of his own country. A short experience in an architect's office in Glasgow only made Alastair Macdonald more determined than he had ever been before to become an artist. So he commenced to work for The Scot's Pictorial, and made his first sketches at the theatre. But, after a little while, encouraged by the offer to join the staff of a paper in London, he left Glasgow behind him five years ago. Tall and grave, with the look of hardy, lean, muscular strength of a typical Scotsman, Mr. Macdonald is finding that work comes to his hand readily in London. His weekly illustrations of the "Social Biograph," written by Mr. Burgin, Miss Helen Mathers, Miss Clo Graves and others, and appearing in The Lady's Pictorial, are both characteristic and interesting. He has just completed a set of postcards—types of the English girl—and he is already working on New Year calendars for 1905!

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 23. — The Southern Pac. controversy is to be compromised. Taylor and Harriman are not nearly such enemies as they have the public believe. Southern Pac. should be pretty good spec. around present prices. Of course Keene will come out of his 150,000 shares with a handsome profit and the pool members may be relieved of their holdings without loss or the pool may be extended. This last is a surmise. As to the general market we ought to get some reaction after a week's advance, but it is by no means cetain. I would take profits on the bulges and buy on the weak spots. Union Pac. looks good. Union might easily run above par. L.N. should go higher. Sug. is said to be a buy on tips. If the market should react a point or two to-day, buy stocks and take profits on the bulge to-morrow.

RIDGELEY.

New York, March 21. — To-day's market exhibited a remarkably strong undertone. Under influence of firmer London quotations our market opened stronger. Mex. Central which has often been called to your attention in these letters as a desirable stock for investment advanced sharply on large trading during the first hour. In fact the whole market shared in an advance and better feeling. U.P. was a trifle backward, but will do better as soon as the Keene-Harriman dispute is settled which will be the natural outcome of the present difficulty. While trading remains highly professional, the market acts well and selling pressure for the fall is conspicuous by its absence. A bull market may not be expected immediately, but there is confidence throughout the street that the marke will show gradual improvement. Taking in consideration the market has experienced from the five to ten points rally think a little reaction would not be out of the way. Purchases can be made then for fair profits.

Bank statement showed an increase of over 2 millions in reserves, and a decrease in loans of nearly 13 millions, while deposit decreased 13 millions.

Chicago.— Lower foreign market was reflected by cables to-day by showing slightly lower prices.

We look for market to work slightly lower. (Would purchase July corn around 43.

The Grand Secretary's Statement Most Satisfactory.

The report of the Grand Secretary of the I.O.F. for the year has been issued and shows a very satisfactory state of affairs in the Order. There were 2,679 brothers who received sick benefits during 1902. This number added to the number of weeks for which benefits were paid makes the total weeks' sickness 22,012 4-7. As there were no sick benefits for the first week of sickness this number of weeks, 2,679, calculated at an average of $3.50 per week, shows a saving of $9,376.50 to the lodges which had sick brothers, and no individual brother suffered to any appreciable extent. The assets of the Grand Lodge over all liabilities is $1,104,370.93.

THE CHURCHES.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The meeting of Sunday school teachers announced for to-night, stands postponed until Thursday at 7.45 p.m.

The Lenten services at St. John's on Wednesday will be of exceptional interest. It will be conducted by Rev. Canon McNab of Toronto, on the Reformation Period. To-night Canon McNab will give in St. Luke's the lecture so greatly enjoyed in St. John's last Lent, on the "Early History of the Church of England," to which the lecture on Wednesday will be a sequel. They will be illustrated by magnificent limelight views, including many historic scenes and buildings in England and Scotland.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The pulpit of the George street church was occupied on Sunday morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, who gave two very thoughtful sermons on the subjects of "The Church in the Home," and "The Temptations in the Wilderness." The morning anthem was "Hast Thou not Known?" and in the evening the choir sang the anthems "Hosanna!" and "The Mellow Eve is Gliding," Mr. Mulligan taking the solo in the former.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The lecture on "The History of the Church of England," illustrated by lime-light views, which Rev. Canon McNab, Toronto, will give, will be held in St. Luke's Sunday school at eight o'clock to-night. Silver collection at the door to defray expenses.

The choir and congregation sang last night "The Story of the Cross." Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., took the tenor solo, "The Appeal from the Cross." After the sermon, Miss L. Jackson sang in excellent voice "Face to Face."

"Hunting for Hawkins."

The latest recruit from social life to seek histrionic triumph is Miss Vivian De Wolfe, a young and very beautiful Boston girl. Being fired with an ambition to accomplish something through her own efforts and feeling that the stage offered the opportunity, Miss Martin sought and secured a modest opening. During her first season, she was called upon in an emergency to play an important part on short notice, sickness having suddenly attacked the leading lady of the company. Barring a slight timidity, Miss De Wolfe greatly pleased her audience and further attracted the attention of the management and from that time her advancement was rapid. During the course of the season she was cast for one of the important parts, at which time the company played an engagement in Boston, and after much persuasion the members of Miss De Wolfe's family consented to attend the performance. Considerable opposition had met her first suggestion of following a stage career, but she now evinced such an evidence of ability as to overcome absolutely all objections, and she is now following a stage career with the consent and approbation of all the members of her family. In the short space of three years she has advanced from an obscure part in one of the small travelling organization to the leading role in one of the season's greatest successes. In "Hunting for Hawkins," she lends a vivacity and charm to the part of Mrs. Hawkins, which immediately establishes her on a friendly footing with her audience. "Hunting for Hawkins" will be presented at Bradburn's opera house to-night.

BUILDING A SKY SCRAPER.

Some Interesting Facts Concerning High Buildings.

Chicago Had the First Building Erected on the Principle of the Steel Bridge.

Fourteen years ago there was not a single steel frame building in the world. To-day there are thousands of them.

In America we have buildings which overtop the mightiest of the pyramids. They range from seven to thirty stories in height. Even less than a generation ago such structures were undreamed of.

There have been buildings almost as long as there have been men. Every large building that the world has seen for thousands of years was constructed with enormous walls of masonry to bear up the inner frame work of partitions and floors. This method of construction was satisfactory and substantial and there appeared to be no need of changing it. But one day a man with an idea, a daring builder, astonished the world by completely reversing the established order of things, and building an inner frame work of steel strong enough to bear the weight of the building and hold up the outside walls of masonry.

IS AN INVENTION.

This invention—for an invention it certainly was—proved an instantaneous success, with the result that to-day the construction of a tall building is "not architecture," as one builder remarked, "but engineering with a stone veneer."

The value of the idea of the steel skyscraper was instantly recognized. Brain met capital, and the modern skyscraper is nothing more or less than a steel bridge standing on end with passenger cars travelling up and down in it.

The inventor also achieved one of his greatest feats by applying it to a practical railroad system, whose cars traverse vertical tracks at a speed that almost passes belief.

Chicago claims the distinction of possessing the first building erected on the principle of a steel bridge. The Tacoma Building in Chicago, and the Tower building in New York, both of which were completed in 1889, were among the very first buildings constructed along the lines of the steel cage idea.

All of these earlier steel frame buildings of great height were run up in the face of tremendous opposition and boundless ridicule. Prophecies were current on almost every hand that the buildings would prove utter failures. Even experienced builders, and the commissioners who issued the permits were skeptical and predicted failures.

A DIFFICULT TASK.

It would be difficult to find a mightier task, one fraught with more difficult problems, than the building of a modern skyscraper. The construction of a great railroad line, a great steamship, or a huge steel bridge is not to be compared to it.

Knowing the character of the ground upon which the structure is to stand and how high the building is to go up, the architect must determine how deep down he must go. He must determine upon what the building is to rest.

The architect and builder must know, almost to a ton, how much the completed building will weigh, and he must also know the weight of every part of it so that the load may be equally distributed over the framework in order to avoid any tendency to tip over.

The "live" weight which the building is expected to carry must also be computed—the tenants themselves, with their safes, furniture, and other articles.

From the character of the soil upon which the building is to rest he must decide just how much weight it will be safe to place on each square foot of ground, whether it will bear one or two tons to the square foot.

The exact strain which each girder, each column, even each rivet, will bear, must be taken into consideration and computed almost to the pound. The overloading of any single girder endangers the whole structure.

Then the architect must calculate how much wind will blow against his building, and from what direction most of it will come. Precaution must then be taken to strengthen and brace the structure in order to meet any amount of wind coming from the most exposed quarter.

MANY TRIFLING THINGS.

There are many things, exceedingly trifling in themselves, which must be strongly considered in drawing the plans for a skyscraper. Were a man to stand on the ground floor of one of these gigantic structures, particularly at the foot of some open shaft that extended up its entire height, such as an elevator shaft, and play a violin for half an hour every day, the result in the course of ten or twenty years would be far more disastrous than the effects of a man knocking with a sledge hammer upon the steel framework every day for a like period.

The constant rumble and jar from the streets are also highly injurious, they will in time have a tendency to work rivets loose and unsettle foundations unless precautions are made.

A score of people may stand in one of the rooms of a building and jump up and down on the floor with all the force they can command, but no harm will result from it. But let one person stand or sit in that room and merely move one leg slightly up and down with a rapid movement, the foot always resting on the floor. At once a jar is created which can be felt all over the room, and which will surely have a bad effect upon the structure if continued any length of time.

Further, provisions must be made for pumping water to the top stories. Fires must be provided against, and this is one of the most difficult of all problems. All possibility of rust in the steel work must be considered. Proper light and ventilation must be assured, so that, if possible, every room has its windows with a street front.

OTHER OBSTACLES.

The hampering limits of a city's building laws are also one of the great obstacles in the way of the architect who sets out to design the plans for one of these modern buildings. But these are only a few of the thousand of intricate details, not to consider the tremendous cost, with which the builder must grapple.

And then it often happens that he is blamed and severely criticised if he does not succeed in making this tower of steel, with its vast number of rectangular windows, a thing of grace and architectural beauty.

Securing a solid foundation for one of the modern towers of Babel is another of the most difficult tasks that has to be encountered by the builder. All of the great buildings of Chicago rest upon what may reasonably be called flatboats.

When these great buildings sink or settle they go all in a body. There is no dropping of one corner and consequent twisting of the framework. All this is carefully provided against and the frame is braced accordingly. If there is any settlement the entire building goes together, and the structure as a whole is none the worse off for it. The tall buildings of New York, all of which rest upon a solid foundation of bed rock, or fine wet sand, have settled from one-quarter to nine-sixteenths of an inch.

The St. Paul Building, New York, and the Marquette Building in Chicago, have provision made at the bases of their foundation columns for raising them with powerful hydraulic presses and inserting a packing of steel, should they settle too much.

PARK ROW BUILDING.

The tallest inhabited building in the world, and one of the greatest in point of modern furnishings and equipment, is the Park Row Building in New York City. It loome up far above its fellows, and can be seen far out in New Jersey, from Long Island, and from the deck of every ship entering the harbour. It has 21 stories, and is 501 feet in height—exceeding by 50 feet the extreme height of the Great Pyramid. The structure weighs about 20,000 tons, and including its furniture and live weight, its total dead weight amounts to 61,400 tons. There are 950 rooms in the building, and its average population is fully 8,000, a number that would do credit to many a flourishing country town.

The place is provided with restaurants and handsomely furnished apartments, so that business men may live there the year round, and live comfortably, too, without going outside the enormous building.—Architects and Builders' Journal.

PORT HOPE CITIZENS STATED THEIR CASE.

An Important Meeting in the Council Chamber Last Night.

THEY WANT THE TRENT CANAL TERMINUS

Peterborough Speakers State Their Views on the Matter—Mr. Dumble and Mr. Carnegie Condemn the Port Hope Route for Barge Navigation.

An important meeting, bearing upon the matter of the southern terminus of the Trent Valley Canal, was held in the Town Council Chamber last night. The meeting was called at the request of the Port Hope Canal Association, which desired to place before the people of Peterborough the claims of Port Hope towards securing the outlet of this great national waterway.

The proceedings were most interesting throughout, and a great deal of valuable information was obtained as to the relative merits of the two routes, namely, via Trenton, and via Port Hope. The interest Peterborough people took in the matter was evidenced by the large number who were present, whilst the speeches throughout showed that both the Port Hope and Peterborough gentlemen had given the matter a very careful study, and were pretty well posted as to the details of the various surveys that have been made of the two routes.

The chair was occupied by His Worship Mayor G. M. Roger, whilst Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, the president of the Peterborough Board of Trade, sat close to his side. There were present nearly all the members of the Town Council, a great many members of the Peterborough Board of Trade, and a number of Peterborough's most prominent citizens.

The Port Hope delegation was a representative one, and included Dr. L. B. Powers, president of the Port Hope Canal Association, Mr. H. A. Ward, M. P., for East Durham, and First Vice-President of the Port Hope Canal Association, also Messrs. J. F. Clarke, R. A. Mulholland, J. H.Helm, Harold Barrett, D. F. Chisholm, Sam. Purser, Sam. Bennett,, Alf. Long and Col. Wm. McLean.

Mr. Jas. Kendry, M.P., for West Peterborough, was also present.

It might be stated at the outset that whilst the representatives of the Port Hope delegation received a courteous and attentive hearing, the general opinion of the Peterborough people regarding the outlet of the canal remains in favour of Trenton.

THE ORATORY COMMENCED.

His worship Mayor Roger called the meeting to order shortly after 8 o'clock and after briefly extending to the visitors a hearty welcome he threw the meeting open to the Port Hope gentlemen.

The first speaker was Dr. Powers, president of the Port Hope Canal Association. After a few introductory remarks he stated the object of their Association. He mentioned how it was that the Association had sprung into existance, which was upon the discovery of the report of an old survey that had been made years ago claiming that Port Hope was the most feasible means of reaching Lake Ontario from Rice Lake. More than that, 18 years ago he was engaged on a survey himself in which the Engineer who went over the route favoured the Port Hope terminus.

Some people state that it was mean of the Port Hope people to make an effort to have the canal terminate there after the other towns had worked for the early completion of the canal years ago. However, when Port Hope discovered the report of the old survey he referred to in which it was asserted that the Port Hope route was the most feasible route, they at once bestirred themselves in the matter. He contended that it would bring Peterborough and Port Hope nearer together. They would be glad to be a suburb of Peterborough if nothing else. It would be an advantage for Peterborough to be so near the lake, which they certainly would be if the Port Hope route were adopted. They did not want to obstruct the early completion of the canal, but what they wanted was an independendent and exhaustive survey of the two routes and then an honest decision as to the merits of each of them. He contended further that Peterborough would be placed nearer a lake port by having the terminus at Port Hope, and again asked the Peterborough people to assist them in impressing upon the Government the desirability of an independent and exhaustive survey. Dr. Powers also thought that all future constructions on the canal should be of a deeper draught than the works that are already completed.

MR. J. H. CLARKE'S VIEWS.

The next speaker was Mr. J. F. Clarke, a member of the Port Hope Canal Association. He said:

We are here to-night to discuss the advisability of a deep waterway from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario. At the outset I would remark that this is no new idea with us. Three years ago we advocated this policy before the Minister of Railways and Canals, and two years ago we presented it by letter to your Mayor and Council. We are deeply interested, because we have spent $350,000 on our harbour and $700,000 on the Midland Railway. The question of transportation is one of great national importance. How to get the many millions of bushels of grain from the great West Land to the sea, expeditiously and cheaply, is a most perplexing question. There are many who think the proposed canal not sufficiently deep to successfully compete with other routes. The N.Y.C. Railway and the Erie Canal have taken the lion's share of this traffic. Shipments via the Welland Canal only average about 11 per cent.

The report for 1896 states that Buffalo received 163 million bushels of grain and Montreal 35 million bushels. Now supposing the T.V.C. were completed as at present projected, and could secure one-third of this traffic—or say 67 million bushels—it would require over 6,000 barges with a capacity of 2,000 bushels each, to transport this quantity; and provided we had 200 barges and a tow consisted of 4 barges, and that it took two weeks to make the round trip of 800 miles, it would require nearly three years to do the work.

In the year referred to, 1896, the Erie Canal received 26 million bushels, and the railways the balance, 128 millions. Our enterprising neighbours to the south have discovered that their canals cannot compete in the grain trade, as they now are, with the modern railway, and have voted something like 100 million dollars to deepen and improve their canals, and in view of this fact and that steamers on our great lakes can carry from 60,000 to 110,000 bushels of grain, and considering that the St. Lawrence canals now have 14 feet depth, I would ask would it not be wise to advocate that the sections of the T.V.C. remaining to be completed should be at least 8 feet deep? and that the intervening sections be deepened as soon as possible to the same depth? I understand provision has been wisely made for this enlargement. Were this policy adopted probably the route by the Trent river would have to be abandoned because of the enormous cost to make such a canal in the solid rock.

Another important consideration might render such a decision necessary, viz., the fact that the water in Lake Ontario is about five feet lower than it was years ago, and last summer Trenton harbour by actual measurement had but 7 feet of water, whereas Port Hope harbour had 14 to 15 feet.

Permit me to state that we do not blame our Trenton friends for fighting hard, nor our Peterborough friends for sympathizing with them in the struggle, but what we want is that the question of outlet be decided upon its merits. If Peterborough had a deep waterway via Port Hope she would have the advantages of the lake front. Large vessels could come right to your door. You would be 88 miles nearer to Toronto than by the Trenton route, and 33 miles nearer Oak Orchard, the coal station on the American side. You would doubtless benefit by return freight rates. Take as one single example the article of coal. Supposing your new city with its 15,000 people, consumes 25,000 tons per year, and saved 75c per ton, there would be a saving of $18,750 per year. Perhaps some think that this estimate is too high. If so I would remind such that coal on the south shore ports costs 15c a ton less than it does at Suspension Bridge. Freight on coal from Oswego to Port Hope is about 30c per ton, and I suppose the extra to Peterborough by the Canal would bring it up to 50c or 60c laid down, whereas the present freight by train from the Bridge to Peterborough is $1.25, so the saving would be fully 75c per ton. Aside from the ordinary consumption of coal for fuel, your large and growing factories would consume considerable, and the C.P.R. and the G.T.R. would likely require large quantities for their roads, and probably establish coal stations. Besides quantities could be landed in April and May very cheaply. The G.T.R., realizing the fine position of Port Hope for the importation of coal are about to erect a coaling station there.

I have heard friends in Peterborough say that the Port Hope route is impracticable. Many in our own town thought the same. An engineer in Col. Williams' time visited Port Hope and one fine day drove out with some friends to the head of Rice Lake, a distance of nine or ten miles, had a good dinner with lots of champagne, drove back to town, took the evening express, and was never seen again in the neighbourhood. This man reported the route as "impracticable." Four years ago our Board of Trade engaged an engineer themselves, who found within about two miles from Rice Lake a deep natural ravine running into Port Hope. This same gentleman found among his papers, away down in Kentucky, a report made in the year 1833 by W. Mainqy, engineer for the Lt.-Governor of Upper Canada, a few extracts from such report I would like to read:

"That the position of Port Hope is particularly favourable for the termination of such a work, must appear evident to every impartial observer. It is not only the shortest possible distance from Lake Ontario to Rice Lake, possessing a safe and commodious harbour, but its eminence presents every facility for defence in case of war, and the communication from Lake Ontario to Rice Lake, up to Lake Simcoe, can by this route be completed for a sum not greater than is necessary merely to open the navigation from the mouth of the Trent to Rice Lake. These are facts that cannot be refuted."

"He discovered a natural passage or ravine through it, well calculated to assist in passing through this formidable ridge; although its adoption will occasion the route of the canal to be more circuitous than could be wished, from it being necessary to follow the ravine the whole distance to Port Hope."

"Commencing at Orton's Creek, follows the natural passage before mentioned, in a southerly direction. After crossing the Cobourg road the land rises very rapidly until it arrives at the summit of the ridge, distant from the lake one mile and a quarter, and 66 feet and 15-100 part of a

ACTIVITY IN THUNDER BAY.

Mr. James [illegible] Many Prospectors are at Work.

Mr. James Murphy, a leading transportation agent of Fort William, was interviewed recently by a reporter at the Rossin House.

Mr. Murphy stated that great activity was being manifested in the Thunder Bay District at the present time. Large numbers of prospectors were busily at work near the international boundary, searching for iron. The Mesaba Range, the greatest bessemer iron range in America, was only a short distance from the boundary, and it was generally expected that iron ore of that quality would be found somewhere near the boundary. There was a great fortune for the prospector who located such a range, as not only was the Mesaba ore the best in America, but the cost of mining it was very light, as it was taken out with a steam-shovel, and blasting, which was so expensive in mining, had not to be resorted to.

Settlers were rapidly going into the country, and last year alone between three and four hundred families had located in the district.

WILL BE ABOLISHED.

Law Preventing School Trustees From Sitting on Municipal Councils.

It is probable that when the Legislature is in a position to transact business, that an Act, striking out the clause in the Municipal Act, members of school boards from serving on municipal councils, will be brought up. It was introduced last session by Mr. Hoyle, the Conservative representative, of North Ontario, to meet a special case in his own riding. It went through without discussion, and few were even aware that it was on the statute book. The result has been that there have been unseatments every week since the first of January, of men legitimately elected in ignorance of the clause. It has proven a good source of revenue to country lawyers, but is not regarded as useful in other respects.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. A. C. Bell's Motion of Want of Confidence Discussed.

EMBARGO ON OUR CATTLE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply to the Charges —Not Fair to Press the Matter Until Papers Are Brought Down—The Amendment Withdrawn—Estimates on Public Buildings Passed.

Ottawa, March 25.—After devoting yesterday afternoon to the discussion of Mr. Bell's amendment to supply, condemning the Government for not having more vigorously pressed for the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle, which was finally withdrawn the House yesterday afternoon made excellent progress with public works estimates, passing all the items for public buildings in the Maritime Provinces and Quebec. A number of private bills were introduced.

The Railway Policy.

Before the orders of the day were called Hon. John Haggart asked for an explanation of the policy of the Government respecting the proposed construction of transcontinental railways. He read a telegraphic report of the speech by the Postmaster-General at the Liberal banquet in Toronto, and suggested that from its tenor the Government had apparently decided upon its policy in the matter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said that he had not seen the report in question, and would prefer to wait until Sir William Mulock's return, when that gentleman would speak for himself, as he did not know the report was accurate. When the Government arrived at a conclusion in the matter referred to their policy would be announced to the House in the usual way. Speaking for himself and his colleagues, the Premier said that he recognized it was their pressing duty to secure better means of communication between the east and the west than now existed.

British Embargo on Cattle.

Upon the motion to go into supply, Mr. A. C. Bell (Pictou), in accordance with previous notice, moved in amendment that:—"In the opinion of this House there is no justification for the application of diseases of animals of Great Britain to Canadian cattle; that Canadian cattle, at the time of the passing of said act, and ever since, have been free from all contagious diseases. This House is of opinion that the application of the said act to Canadian cattle has an injurious effect upon the cattle trade of this country. This House regrets that the representatives of Canada at the Colonial Conference utterly failed to obtain any redress or promise of redress for this grievance. This House further regrets that this Government has not succeeded, by more vigorous protests or by other effective steps, in finding means to obtain the removal of the existing unjust restrictions on the sale of Canadian cattle in Great Britain."

He went into history—our cattle were shut out in 1892 because one animal in a cargo was diseased. Now Canadian cattle must be slaughtered at the port of entry within ten days of their arrival. In 1892 it was maintained in Canada that the disease discovered was not pleuro-pneumonia, and that no cause existed that should shut Canadian cattle out of Britain's inland markets. He cited authorities to prove his contention.

Cattle Interests Menaced.

The cattle of other countries were not as free from disease as Canadian cattle. In Glasgow 18 per cent. of the cattle killed were tainted with tuberculosis. Less than one per cent. of those killed in Canada and the United States were so tainted. Even Minister of Agriculture Hanbury declared that disease did not exist in Canada. It was important that Canada should have this trade, because exports of Canadian cattle had been very extensive.

Mr. Bell strongly urged that the unfair discrimination against Canadian cattle should cause the Government to protest to the Mother Country with emphasis. When the preference was given Great Britain was a good time to have asked for the removal of the embargo, but that chance was let slip. Again at the Colonial Conference the question was put aside because "it was of not sufficient interest to the general public." True, it had been referred to Mr. Hanbury, but what had the Canadian representatives done?

Mr. Fielding's Reply.

Mr. Fielding, in reply, said that the time and the circumstances were not favorable to discuss this question, for two reasons, which he would give. The first reason was that the method, manner and terms of the resolution marked it as a motion of want of confidence, and, as such, he would ask the members of his side of the House to accept it as such and vote it down. Again, a motion had passed the House recently asking for all papers regarding the embargo on cattle, and until these papers were brought down the House could not discuss the matter intelligently. When the papers were brought down it would be time enough to discuss the proposition. He declined to discuss the merits of the question, believing the matter of presentation was irregular.

Dr. Sproule blamed the Government for not securing the removal of the embargo.

Mr. Maclean (East York) said the motion might be one of want of confidence, but the exhibition presented by the Minister of Finance showed that the Government lacked confidence in itself. It could not justify its record. If an Imperial preference was expected from the Motherland, Canada would have to shout for it. The representatives of Canada at the Colonial Conference did nothing.

In conclusion, he declared that the Empire must be independent of all the outside world for its food supply. But Great Britain could never look to Canada for aid unless our representatives had a firm policy and were prepared to do their share in the defence of the Empire.

And the Canadian farmer wanted something in return. He felt sure the British public were prepared to give up some of their free trade ideas if they could find that the colonies were prepared to join them in some kind of trade relations involving a preference to one another.

Embargo a Hardship.

Mr. Robinson (Elgin) said he was sorry that no member of the Government had thought it proper to explain what measures had been taken to present Canada's views on the embargo question. The British Government should be told that Canadians were unanimous against the restrictions placed on the cattle trade, and the slander that disease was prevalent in Canadian cattle should be nailed. The Government should speak in no uncertain way on this matter. Canada should show Great Britain that we were ready to supply her with foodstuffs.

Relating to his own experience as a shipper he said he had found the embargo a great hardship. It involved a loss to shippers of from $10 to $15 a head, when, by reason of the Atlantic voyage, cattle went off their feed.

He asked the Government to tell the House what had taken place between the Canadian representatives and Mr. Hanbury at the time of the Colonial Conference, and declared the farmers of Canada would not be satisfied unless a great effort was made to put our cattle right.

Mr. Casgrain thought Mr. Fielding had treated the matter in a very high-handed manner. Some information should be given to the House.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Lauier in response to Mr. Robinson's request for information said the question was not discussed by the conference, but was referred to a secret discussion with Hon. Mr. Hanbury, because the embargo was a question that affected Canada alone. It was Sir William Mulock who discussed the matter with Minister Hanbury, and, by next Monday, the papers in connection with that discussion would be brought down. Then the House could decide whether the Government had done its duty, or not. Till then, it was not fair to press the resolution moved by Mr. Bell.

Referring to the motion itself, he said it could be looked on only as a vote of censure, and so dealt with. He excused Hon. Mr. Fisher's absence by saying it was very important that Canada should get a share of Japan's trade. He expected Mr. Fisher back before long, and he could speak for himself.

Mr. Tarte said Canada had a right to complain of the treatment meted out to our cattle by the British Government. The branding of our cattle as diseased, when they were not, was unfair. The Britishers wanted to protect their farmers, and, at the same time, call themselves free traders. He did not blame the Canadian Government. There was one lesson Canada could learn from John Bull. John Bull, when his interests were at stake, could take care of himself. Canada should apply that rule, and take care of herself, when hit. He would not vote for the resolution, because it was a motion of censure. He thought Mr. Bell should withdraw it.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Sherritt (Middlesex), who argued in favor of putting a quarantine on United States cattle if that would remove the embargo; H. Cargill (Bruce), who advised farmers to ship only finished cattle to Great Britain; J. McGowan (Wellington), N. Boyd, Dr. Roche, Clancy, Hackett (P. E. I.), and then Mr. Bell withdrew his motion, Mr. Fielding promising that the papers would soon be brought down.

The House then took up public works estimates, and, when the items touching Ontario were reached, the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

SPRING AILMENTS.

The Blood Needs Attention at this Season—Purgatives Should be Avoided.

Spring is the season when your system needs toning up. In the spring you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap. With new blood you will feel sprightly, happy and healthy. Many people take purgatives in spring, but this is a serious mistake, as the tendency of all purgatives is to further weaken the system. The one and only sure way to get new blood and new strength is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make new, rich, red blood—they are the greatest spring tonic in the world. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily banish all spring ailments. Miss Belle Cohoon, White Rock Mills, N. S., says: — "I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a splendid spring medicine. I was very much run down; the least exertion exhausted me, and I had a constant feeling of langour and sluggishness. My appetite failed me and my sleep at night was disturbed and restless. After I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, there was a speedy change for the better, and after taking a few boxes, I felt stronger than I had done for years."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not let any dealer persuade you to take a substitute. Substitutes never cured anyone—the genuine pills have cured hundreds of thousands in all parts of the world.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY.

Dominion Opposition Leader Touches on the Transportation Question.

Toronto, March 25.—In an address to the Liberal Conservative Association last night, Mr. R. L. Borden ridiculed Sir William Mulock's new slogan for the Liberal party of the night before, and then proceeded to discuss public questions. On the transportation question, he said:

It was one of the most important before the people to-day. The resources must be developed. Canada had tremendous resources. Great Britain was the leading market for Canada's products. In his recent tour to the West, the speaker had given it as his opinion that the Government ought to seek expert advice, so as to find the most feasible scheme for transportation, and then proceed to work that scheme out. He noted that the Government had adopted his suggestion, and their latest utterances foreshadowed the inauguration of such a scheme.

The speaker touched upon the subject of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and said that the public rights must be guarded in every respect. Care must be taken that any franchise given should not be exploited for private gain. Any railroad so built must be an all Canadian road, with no diverting of Canadian trade from Canadian ports. It must have its terminals in Canada, and be, in fact, an all-Canadian route.

A Burden to Self and Others.

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it, and thus become a burden to yourself and perhaps to others." When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory systems in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. There is no medicine so generally used and none so successful. One pill a dose; 25c a box.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

TO THE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Foy Submits the Amendment of the Opposition.

MR. FOY GETS INFORMATION

Special Legislation May Cover Case of Incriminating Evidence — Attorney-General's Announcement—Besides Mr. Foy, Mr. Duff of West Simcoe Speaks—Mr. A. G. Mackay Begins His Reply.

Toronto, March 25.—The introduction by Mr. J. J. Foy (South Toronto) of an amendment to Premier Ross' motion to refer the Gamey bribery charges to a Royal Commission of two Judges was the most important event at the Legislature yesterday.

The speakers during the afternoon, in addition to Mr. Foy, were J. S. Duff (West Simcoe) and A. G. McKay (North Grey). Mr. McKay, in the course of fifteen minutes, which was left before the adjournment, outlined what will doubtless be an important contribution to the debate when the House resumes to-day.

At the opening of the House Premier Ross presented a motion that the time for receiving private bills be extended until April 15.

Mr. Duff Resumes Debate.

Mr. Duff (West Simcoe) continued the debate on the Premier's resolution to relegate the Gamey charges to a commission of judges. He described the scene in the House when Mr. Gamey made his charge, and proceeding said the statement made by the Premier immediately after the charges were made that they would be investigated by a committee of the Legislature were received by both sides of the House with satisfaction, but in 24 hours all was changed, and to the surprise of members supporting the Govetnment, as well as members of the Opposition, the Premier had gone back on his promise of a full investigation.

Not one commission appointed by the Government had been of any value, except, perhaps, the commission appointed by the Minister of Agriculture to investigate the dehorning of cattle.

He hoped the people would continue to show respect for the judiciary, but things had transpired which had made the people wonder. Was it fair that one man who had treated to the extent of 50c. six months before the election should be unseated, and another who had spent $4 or $5 a day right up to the election should hold his seat on the ground that he had formed a previous habit of treating?

There had been a good deal of gossip about the two gentlemen named to act on the commission, and if one-half of the gossip was true these gentlemen should not for a moment think of acting. There were only two courses open to the House, either grant a full inquiry or dissolve the House.

Mr. Foy Moves Amendment.

Mr. Foy then arose and moved the following amendment:

That all the words in the motion after the word "that" be struck out, and the following substituted therefor:

Whereas, certain statements and allegations were, on the 11th day of March, 1903, made in this House by Robert R. Gamey, member for the electoral district of Manitoulin, involving the independence of the House and the honor and privileges of its members, and containing a direct accusation that the Honorable James Robert Stratton, a member of this House, and a member of the Executive Council of this Province; one Captain John Sullivan, one D. A. Jones and one Frank Sullivan, did attempt to bribe the said Robert R. Gamey, in order to influence him in his proceedings as such member, by the offer and payment of money, the procuring the dismissal or abandonment of a petition against the said Robert R. Gamey, under the Controverted Elections Act, and by the transfer and allotment to the said Robert R. Gamey of the patronage of the said electoral district of Manitoulin, and other considerations.

And whereas the said statement and allegations also implicate the following members of this House and members of the Executive Council, viz., the Honorable George W. Ross, Premier and Provincial Treasurer; the Honorable John M. Gibson, Attorney-General; the Honorable Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education; the Honorable Elihu J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Land, and Honorable Frank Latchford, Commissioner of Public Works, and cast suspicion on the remaining members of the Executive Council;

And whereas it is the undoubted right and duty of this Legislature to enquire into all charges of misconduct in office against Ministers of the Crown, and the reference of such matters to a Royal Commission, created upon the advice of the accused, is at variance with the grave responsibility of Ministers of the Legislature, and tends to weaken the authority of this House over the Executive Government and its members.

And whereas it is the right and duty of this Legislature to take all steps necessary to the protection and preservation of its own honor;

And whereas the Premier of the Government, representing himself and his colleagues, when the said charges were presented to this House, then gave this House the solemn assurance,

"That investigation should be made at once, under the rules of the House, either by a special committee, to be appointed by the House for that purpose, or by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, in the usual way;"

Therefore, the matters set forth in the statements and allegations made to this House by the said Robert R. Gamey, as aforesaid, and all matters and things which relate thereto or are connected therewith, or affect or may arise out of the same, be forthwith referred to the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections, with instructions to enquire into and report thereon, and with power to send for and examine all necessary persons and papers in or concerning the premises.

Mr. Foy's Speech.

Mr. Foy then proceeded with his speech on the amendment.

The case had been argued at great length, he said. Every argument had been advanced pro and con., and the case was ripe for the decision of the House. The members had had ample time to fully weigh all the arguments and make up their minds. He would like to be able to convince the gentlemen opposite that the proposition he would bring forward was the proper one under the circumstances. They were dealing with a principle and laying down a policy applicable to all cases of the kind, treating it as future cases may have to be treated. The decision ought not to be swayed by reference to the individual case under discussion.

Referring to the instructions to the commission, Mr. Foy said clause 11, requiring witnesses to answer incriminating questions, was not worth the paper it was written on; it superceded the statute under which the commission was created. The House was entitled to an explanation of the point from some member of the Government.

Goes Further Than Statute.

Mr. Gibson said the clause was not put in the instructions without consideration. It goes further than the statute, and it is not without force. because it amounts to a declaration on the part of the Crown that no witness may be excused from giving evidence on the ground that it would be against him. They were going the length of the amendment to the Dominion Evidence Act of 1898. It could be said that a witness, notwithstanding the protection from punishment promised, might say: "I refuse because I am not obliged to answer." That would be a very odious position to take when the witness had assurance from the Crown of immunity from punishment. Mr. Gibson said he should have availed himself of the opportunity of making the explanation at an earlier stage of the debate. However, notwithstanding the explanation, if the Opposition thought legislation was necessary to adapt the Dominion Evidence Act of 1898 to the commission, he could see no reason why this could not be done if it was the unanimous wish of the House.

Can It Be Effective?

Mr. Foy was obliged to the Attorney-General for his explanation, but it would have been better if it had been given earlier. The explanation, however, fell short of making the speaker believe that the clause in question was worth anything, unless it was followed by legislation. If it was desired that no witness should be excused, it should not depend on the unanimous consent of the House to make that clause plain. The assurance of the Attorney-General, coming a little late, showed the value of having the subject under discussion for so long a time. It was perfectly clear to him that, notwithstanding clause 11., witnesses could be excused from giving evidence, and that the clause was a dead letter.

The Attorney-General had admitted that any witness could defy the instructions. There should be no illusory clauses in a document of this kind, and legislation should be adopted which would make the clause a truthful one.

Mr. Foy quoted Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge in support of the contention he was advancing. He preferred the Committee on Privileges and Elections for many reasons. The House had a duty to perform in this matter, and should perform it, even though it be unpleasant.

The Attorney-General had said the Committee on Privileges and Elections was practically obsolete. The Government would like to do away with committees, with the authority of the House, and to have a Government by order-in-council. The people wanted Government by the House.

Objections to Draft.

It was claimed by Liberal speakers that the Committee on Privileges and Elections would bring in partisan reports. If that were the case, it would mean that men charged with a high duty to take evidence under oath, would disregard altogether the testimony, and that they would not be true to themselves. This was a serious charge to make. It was preposterous that any gentleman would violate his duty, and not give a verdict according to the evidence adduced.

This was not a question of law, but of fact. Judges were not the best persons to come to a sensible view on an ordinary question of fact, and Mr. Foy cited the West Elgin investigation as illustrating his point.

The speaker said that several members of the Government were implicated, and yet the judges were instructed to investigate the point of the Provincial Secretary only.

What would be the result of having two judges, when the question of the admissability of evidence would arise. If they did not agree, the one who negatived the evidence would prevail. This would be more convenient for the Government than to have one judge, or three.

There should be directions to the judges to clear up doubts about the admissability of evidence. The proposed method is to give them power to throw out evidence.

Not Referred to Committee.

Mr. Foy asked, in the event of the Government resolution passing, would the Opposition have the opportunity of discussing the clauses more fully?

Mr. Gibson replied that the debate had gone on for a week.

Mr. Foy argued that, in the Parnell investigation in England, a bill was introduced, and it was discussed in committee. He continued by saying the Premier's resolution took greater care of the two Sullivans and D. A. Jones than it did of the Provincial Secretary. There ought to be an opportunity given of making this right. There ought to be no loophole. When the instructions go before the judges, they would take them as a hard, cast iron document. The Legislature was competent to judge on the evidence, whether a man was bribed in the manner charged.

A Straight Issue.

After the amendment had been read by the Speaker the Premier rose and said:—"While not attempting to discuss that matter now, I desire to point out that the form of the amendment is contrary to the rules of the House. The recitals are irregular in drafting an amendment."

Mr. Whitney replied that it was not necessary for him to say anything, except that the form of amendment was not, in his opinion, contrary to the rules of the House.

Mr. Mackay's Commencement.

Mr. A. G. Mackay (North Grey) expressed satisfaction with the calm, judicial, courteous manner of the speech of Mr. Foy. It contrasted very strongly with the frantic manner of his leader a couple of weeks ago. (Applause.) The admission that excitement has subsided showed that hon. gentlemen had been greatly worked up, and were not fit to serve on a jury.

Mr. Mackay announced that in his speech he intended taking up the subject from four standpoints: (1) He would endeavor to show by precedent that the House, in adopting the reference to a commission, was pursuing the usual and proper course; (2) that the powers of the committee, as defined by statute, were no greater than the powers of a commission in forcing evidence that might tend to incriminate; (3) he would trace the history of the statute under which they were proceeding, and show that it had had the unanimous support of the Legislature, and (4) he would discuss the width and scope of the commission.

At 6 o'clock Mr. Mackay moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned.

THAT SAME OLD PAIN IN THE BACK

May Lead to Diabetes or the Dreaded Bright's Disease,

Unless it is Promptly Banished by Dodd's Kidney Pills—Berlin Man Talk About it.

Berlin, March 23.—(Special.) — The remark "My back is bothering me again," is so frequently heard nowadays that aside from its discomfort many people look on pain in the back as something too trivial for more than passing notice. They forget, and often until too late, that it is one o fthe surest symptoms of Kidney Disease, and unless cleaned out of the system will almost inevitably lead to Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or some of those other terrible complaints which are but Kidney Disease in a more advanced stage.

This is what makes the case of Andrew Hauss, of this place, of particular interest. "I had been troubled with a pain in my back for over a year," says Mr. Hauss. "I tried everything I could that I could get to rub with or to take inwardly, but could not get relieved from it. One day I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I did, and I got betfrom the time I started to take them till I had finished one box, when I was completely cured."

All Kidney pains and daugers fly before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakirs, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicne as much as in selling barbwire.

Serious Stabbing in Toronto.

Toronto, March 24.—At about 1.80 o'clock this morning Detectives Cuddy and Forrest arrested Christopher McGrain on a charge of stabbing George Williams. McGrain is a man 65 years of age, and lives at 2 Virgin's lane. There is slight hope of the wounded man's recovery.

SMALL-POX AT BURLEIGH.

A Case has Developed Near Mt. Julian.

Precautions Have Been Taken to Prevent the Spread of the Disease—Its Origin.

A telephone message from Burleigh Falls states that a case of smallpox has developed in the Township of Burleigh, about nine miles from Burleigh Falls, and about one mile from Mount Julian.

The victim of the disease is Israel Church, a resident of that neighbourhood. The message states that Church was in Warsaw a week or two ago, and it is alleged that he came in contact with a traveller who had the disease.

Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the contagion. A member of the Provincial Board of Health staff has been sent for, and the patient is isolated, as are also others with whom he may have come in contact.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH

Of Mrs. W. H. O'Neil, of Bolivar Street—Dropped Dead.

Death came very unexpectedly to Mrs. W. H. O'Neil last night, and the members of her family will have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in their sad bereavement. The deceased's home was on Bolivar street, and yesterday afternoon she started out in her usual apparent good health to pay a visit to some friends. She only got as far as the home of her son, Mr. H. O'Neil, No. 155 Stewart street, when she dropped dead at the doorstep. Death was due to heart disease.

The late Mrs. O'Neil was a daughter of the late Wellington Boyce, of Smith, and she was married about 30 years ago to her late husband.

She leaves two sons and two daughters. The sons are Messrs. Hilmer and Wilbert, both of town.

The deceased had lived in Uxbridge before coming to Peterborough, and was a faithful member of the Methodist church of that town. A funeral service, conducted by Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, will be held at the home of Mr. O'Neil, No. 155 Stewart street, at 7.30 o'clock this evening, and the remains will be conveyed to Uxbridge for interment to-morrow.

THE CHEMONG BRIDGE WAS BADLY SMASHED.

The Ice and the Wind did Great Damage Last Night.

The New Pier was Powerless to Stand the Force—The Bridge in Several Pieces.

The Chemong Lake floating bridge, the pride of the Village of Bridgenorth and the residents of Enniskmore is in a rather demolished condition to-day, after the windstorm of yesterday.

Word reached Peterborough this morning of the danger to the new structure, and the news was afterwards confirmed by several residents of the village who were in town today. As a result of the damage traffic between Enniskmore and Peterborough will be interrupted for some time. It is the same old story—the ice and the wind. The County Council and the other people who are interested in the bridge, were about congratulating themselves on the fact that the bridge had passed through the second year of its existence satisfatorily. However, the ice in Chemong Lake is very thick this year and it only required a stiff breeze to cause trouble. This arose yesterday afternoon and the lake broke up. The residents of the village noticed the bridge commencing to give, and at 8 o'clock the climax was reached. The ice came with great force from the north-west corner of the lake, and the bridge from the centre pier to the Smith shore gave way. The greatest damage was done at the embankment, or the filled in portion of the bridge that extends out to the swing. The earth, stone and other materials were forced over the embankment and into the lake at the opposite side. The apron was wrenched and damaged very badly, whilst the new pier did not appear to be of much use in staying the force. The bridge from the new pier to the pier in the centre of the lake is now at the mercy of the wind, and would be at the Indian village perhaps if it were not for the fact that the ice is intact in that portion of the lake below the bridge.

Traffic over the lake for some time will, as a consequence be interrupted. The last conveyance passed over the bridge at 7 o'clock last night. People who were in town last night and who arrived at Bridgenorth after eight o'clock were compelled to go around by the head of the lake.

The bridge cost in the neighbourhood of $30,000, and was a substantial looking structure. It was thought that it could stand any kind of a storm.

LARGE REDUCTION IN THE WATER RATES.

Water Commissioners Announce an All-round Reduction.

A Laudable Effort to Induce Larger Consumption by Lower Rates.

Our Water Commissioners deserve much credit for the practical grasp they exhibit of their responsibility, and the energy they show in making the Waterworks a real and tangible benefit to the people by bringing as far as cost is concerned, city water within the reach of all. Briefly stated the reduction on house rates is 50 per cent. In the case of small houses, and larger houses will get a reduction of 30 per cent. That is to say, for a five-roomed house with six occupants, the old rate was, with 10 per cent. discount for cash, $7.20; under the new tariff the rate for the same house, with 20 per cent. less for cash, is $3.60. Similiarly a 9 roomed house with 8 occupants was, under the old rate, $14.40; under the new rate the figures are $10.00. The new lawn tariff graduates the rate to the size of the lawn area, instead of the fixed and unfair rate which taxed a small lawn as heavily as one ten times its size. Below is the new tariff which comes into force on April 1st.

THE TORONTO OPERA HOUSE WAS BURNED.

A Big Conflagration Broke out This Morning.

Occupant of Roomb Escape With Their Lives Only—Heavy Loss.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Toronto, March 25th.—The Toronto Opera House was the scene of a disastrous fire, at 4 o'clock this morning. At 6 o'clock the department seems in a fair way to confine the flames to the four-storey building in the centre of the block, where it broke out. For three hours the whole business section of the city was threatened by flying embers. Great red brands filled the air and fell thick over adjacent buildings. All firemen that could be spared from the main fire were sent to the relief of other buildings, and thus a general conflagration was avoided.

The dramatic escape of a family with three little children through the skylight and across the slippery roofs to the street, narrowly avoiding death in the flames, was one of the exciting features of the affair.

At 6 o'clock the building was simply in ruins, although the front stands and seems untouched, but from the beginning of the auditorium right back to the rear walls, there is nothing left.

The building and contents are a total loss.

To the south of the Opera House is the rear of Kay's carpet warehouse on King street. Directly to the east are the big factory buildings on Johnston's lane occupied by Whaley, Royce & Co.

Owing to Mr. Small's absence from the city, no definite estimate of the loss or insurance could be had. Mr. Small is lessee of the place, with E. D. Stair. It is thought their loss will be some $75,000, and that is a low estimate.

PORT HOPE CITIZENS STATED THEIR CASE.

foot above its level; on the north and south sides of such summit (at a few yards assunder) two springs take their rise, one sending its overplus water into Rice Lake through Orton's Creek, the other running south from the head of Howe's Creek, and discharges itself into Lake Ontario."

"The whole distance from Orton's Creek, in Rice Lake, to the wharf at Port Hope, is 14 miles within a fraction, and the difference of level between the two lakes is 361 feet and 32-100 of a foot, as per annexed estimate, which has been carefully made; the amount required for completing the communication will be £101,426, 6s., 6d."

"The ultimate success of any measure for facilitating the communication of Rice Lake with Lake Ontario depends wholly upon its connection with an accessible harbour. The Reporter considers that he has sufficiently informed himself of the localities of the shores of Lake Ontario, to be able to say with confidence that Port Hope from its position is not only the natural but the most accessible point of communication tot he chain of navigable lakes by which this section of country is everywhere intersected. Its natural disadvantages are very few, and capable of being greatly improved, the harbour, when completed, which will be this summer, will be one of the safest and most convenient ones between this and Quebec, and capable of sheltering any number of ships that are likely at any time to be found on these waters."

I will not trespass further on your time as there are several other speakers, but simply add that the Port Hope route is well adapted for a deep waterway, overhead bridges and hydraulic locks, and that we would like to see an up-to-date, first-class deep canal constructed without delay between Port Hope and Peterborough, a canal of which we would all feel proud.

EAST DURHAM'S MEMBER.

The next speaker was Mr. Harry Ward, M.P., for East Durham, who prefaced his remarks by thanking the chairman for the courtesy extended to the Port Hope delegation on being privileged to come out and lay their case before them. He went on to refer to an incident that occurred in the House at Ottawa some time ago, when he brought up the matter of the Port Hope route, and Mr. Kendry claimed that the matter of the Port Hope route was generally treated as a huge joke. (Laughter.) He thought that Mr. Kendry could now agree that they were in earnest. It is only reasonable, Mr. Ward continued, that the request of the Port Hope people should be considered by the Government, and an independent survey made of the two routes. He alluded to the matter of the importance to the town of Peterborough that it should be placed in a position to reach a lake port as quickly as possible. He contended that the time to reach Lake Ontario would be a day and a half longer than by Port Hope. He also referred to the railway crossing, which he alleged they would have to pass five times.

Mr. E. J. Toker interupted to say that ample provision had been made for that.

Continuing Mr. Ward went on to say that the delays in the passing of bridges, etc., would be considerable, wherein by the Port Hope route they would not have to cross a single railway bridge. When they reached Port Hope the barges would quite easily pass under the G.T.R. viaduct on the main line. He would not pretend to say that they did not want the money that would ensue from the construction of the canal at that point, but their real object was to obtain the best outlet for the canal. Mr. Ward also went into figures to show that Mr. Rogers' estimates were derogatory to the Port Hope route, but he felt than a careful and impartial survey of the two routes would show that the Port Hope was the cheaper. He endeavoured to show that Mr. Rogers' estimates via Trenton did not make provision for rock cutting along water portions of the river, which was absolutely necessary. He concluded by stating that if the independent survey showed that Port Hope could not have the terminus of the canal they would be satisfied.

MR. MULHOLLAND.

Mr. R. A. Mulholland was then called upon. He went on to answer the different objections that were raised against the Port Hope route, and claimed that canal boats coming out of Port Hope harbour were perfectly safe, especially as there were many harbours of refuge in case of storms. Erie canal boats navigated Lake Erie, heavily laden with steel, and Rideau canal barges traversed Lake Ontario to Oswego, a distance of 60 miles.

Councillor S. Purser held that by building Government dams along the Trent, power would be generated, and transmitted to other towns along the river to the detriment of Peterborough. He apologized for the fact that the Mayor of Port Hope was unavoidably detained from being present. He urged very strongly for the support of the Port Hope route by the people of Peterborough.

Mr. J. W. Garvin asked for a map of the country between Rice Lake and Lake Ontario, but no map could be produced.

Lt.-Col. Wm. McLean made reference to his connection with the town of Peterborough. He had commanded the 14th Durham Field Battery, and had met a great many of Peterborough's young men, to whom he paid a warm tribute for their services in behalf of their country. Reverting to the Trent Valley Canal Lt.-Col. McLean covered much the same ground as the previous speakers. He only asked that a proper survey be procured and if it is found that the Port Hope route is not feasible they were contented to let the matter drop. He paid particular attention to the matter of the transportation of coal, which could be obtained from Oak Orchard at very reasonable rates as compared with other places.

Mr. Samuel Bennett, the secretary of the Port Hope Canal Association, who introduced the speakers, at this juncture thanked the Mayor of Peterborough, and the chairman of the Board of Trade, for their kindness in allowing the Port Hope gentlemen the privilege of addressing them, and for the courteous hearing that had been accorded them.

PETERBOROUGH'S SIDE OF IT.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, who has given the matter of the Trent Valley Canal a great deal of study, was the first speaker to lay the policy of Peterborough before the Port Hope gentlemen. He did so in a carefully delivered speech, in which he reviewed the respective merits of the two routes. He began by expressing the pleasure in having the Port Hope gentlemen present. We in Peterborough had had a Trent Canal Association for years, and they were not aware that any other Association, with a similar object, was in existence. They had never heard of the Port Hope Association.

Mr. Dumble then alluded to the early survey of the Port Hope route which he said had been made at a time when there were no railways and provided for a four foot canal. It would have done at that time, but it will not now. The question is "What are we aiming at?". He contended that our object should be to reach Montreal. He dwelt upon the desirability of a through route to the sea bound coast as a means of conveying Canadian grain from the West to the markets of the world. That being the case the local traffic counted for very little. We in Peterborough had never thought of any other than the Trenton route, but he assured the Port Hope gentlemen that if they could show that they have a better scheme it is but right that they should bring it to the attention of the Government. We in Peterborough saw in it a delay, however, and whilst the Peterborough people would not for a moment insinuate that Port Hope was desiring to cause such a delay, they felt that the results would be that.

To take the canal via Port Hope the distance to Montreal is much greater as you have to go 10 miles out of your way to get as far west as Port Hope, and then you require to come back the 10 miles. At this stage of Mr. Dumble's address he warned Port Hope that it was bad policy of them when they were promoting a scheme to make an attack on any one in the manner they had done on Mr. R. B. Rogers. They should not allege mean motives to that gentleman. He denounced in strongest terms the allegations made against Mr. Rogers, that he had purchased land for himself. He merely did so for the Government and to prevent certain speculators from trying to do the work that they had imputed against Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Ward protested against Port Hope being charged with abuse towards Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Dumble claimed that the Port Hope paper had done so, and this Mr. Ward did not deny.

Reverting to the merits of the two routes Mr. Dumble contended that barges going down around Brighton harbour would meet all kinds of trouble. This is one of the reasons why we are wedded to Trenton. The Port Hope route is not feasible for barge navigation. He went on further to say that the matter of barge navigation had been discussed at great length by the most expert men of the United States, and they condemned Lake Ontario for such purposes. The speaker asked why there should be another survey made of the route, when they had as accurate a survey as they might desire.

Mr. Dumble was asked who made this survey, and he was told Mr. R. B. Rogers, whose honesty and ability they were bound to accept. Continuing with his criticism of the Port Hope route Mr. Dumble pointed out that there would not be a pound of power developed by the Port Hope route, whilst there would be many horse power by the Trent route. Then Mr. Mulholland had stated that there was rock cutting by the Trenton route and not any rock cutting by the Port Hope route, but Mr. Dumble contended that they would likely encounter clay, which was very often more difficult to excavate than rock. If they did not believe him he could take them to some excavating that was now in progress at the Cereal Company's works at Peterborough, and show them where they have to use drills and explosives just the same as if they were excavating rock. Mr. Dumble laughed at the suggestion of one of the Port Hope gentlemen that there would be an excellent market in Toronto for the wood in the country back of Peterborough. Why, Peterborough did not want this fuel to go any farther down the canal than their own town. It would find a ready market here. Today we are paying $7 a cord. Speaking as to coal, Mr. Dumble said we get more coal from Oswego than from Charlotte, and the former port is nearer Trenton than is Charlotte. The insurance on cargoes would be much lighter on the Trenton route, which was also an important matter to consider. From all these considerations we cannot see, continued Mr. Dumble, and good and tangible reason for forsaking our former ideas as to the best outlet for the canal. The Port Hope route may be feasible, but when we get to Port Hope have we really what we want? Once again the speaker reverted to the danger to canal barges in navigating Lake Ontario from Port Hope to Trenton, and concluded by stating that he felt sure that when Port Hope people were shown the advantages of the Trenton route over the Port Hope route they would join Peterborough in pushing to an early completion this great national waterway.

TRENTON HEARD FROM.

Mr. George Young, editor of the Trenton Courier, was pleased to be present and was more than pleased with the attitude displayed by Peterborough in regard to the routes.

The Trenton people took it that the Peterborough people were disinterested in the matter, at the same time recognising the advantages of the Trenton route.

Mr. J. W. Garvin wanted to know how long it would take to make the survey asked for, and what it would cost. The Peterborough people he thought had no prejudices in the matter, but they had a few main points to consider, one of which was,— was it safe for canal barges on Lake Ontario? Mr. Garvin thought we should also consider the matter of the local trade as well, and in this regard Toronto was an important centre to reach.

Mr. James Stevenson said that if he had any favouritism at all it was towards Port Hope. He could not add further to Mr. Dumble's argument further than to point out that the outlet at Trenton was nearer Oswego than it would be at Port Hope, which is a strong point in favour of the Trenton Route.

Mr. Stevenson regretted that attacks had been made on Mr. Rogers, the Superintending Engineer, who even had his salary cut down of late years. (Laughter.)

MR. WARD AGAIN.

Mr. Harry Ward asked permission to make a statement regarding Mr. Rogers, whom he had known for many years. He had inquired at the department at Ottawa and had learned that Mr. Rogers had purchased the land, he had been in some quarters, accused of purchasing for himself, had been purchased for the himself, for the Government. However, with all due respect for Mr. Rogers the Port Hope people are not satisfied with his survey. For instance he asked for two lift locks, which they thought were unnecessary.

Mr. J. J. Turner, who has had considerable experience in navigation on Lake Ontario, said that he strongly favoured the Port Hope route.

MR. JOHN CARNEGIE.

There were calls for Mr. John Carnegie, who, perhaps, has given the Trent Valley Canal more study than any other man in town. Mr. Carnegie strongly advocated the Trenton route in preference to the Port Hope route. When he started to advocate the construction of the canal years ago they were told by persons opposed to the scheme that barges could not navigate from Trenton down. If we want a short route to Toronto, why not advocate the building of a canal from Lake Simcoe to Lake Ontario? What we want to do is to reach Montreal as quickly as possible and with as much safety to barges as possible. He condemned the Port Hope route as dangerous to barge navigation, and proposed the following resolution:

"We are pleased to have heard the deputation from the Port Hope Canal Association, to have seen the evidence and the interest the people of our neighbouring town feel in the waterway, and to have listened to their arguments in favour of the canal, and of Port Hope as an outlet; but that, with the information we have, regarding the matter — information gathered during years of deep interest in the waterway and its completion — we regret that we cannot see that it would be to its advantage to cause further delay by asking for any more surveys to settle a point which we believe has been already determined upon sufficient data."

The resolution was seconded by Lt.-Col. E. B. Edwards, who spoke strongly in favour of the Trenton route.

Mr. Hughes-Charles, president of the Board of Trade, expressed the pleasure of the Board in having the Port Hope gentlemen visit Peterborough on such a mission, and also thanked them for the able manner in which they had put their case. He thought it not good taste, however, to press Mr. Carnegie's motion.

After some consideration of the matter the resolution was withdrawn and the Peterborough people were left to deal with the matter after further consideration of Port Hope's version of the matter.

Mayor Roger expressed the pleasure he felt in having the Port Hope gentlemen present, and assured them their arguments would be duly considered.

The meeting then adjourned.

SCROFULA

Bad air, poor food, insufficient clothing, dark, damp or crowded apartments are frequent causes of scrofula. Perhaps this explains why the ailment is so common in the poorer sections of large cities. It is but a step from scrofula to consumption and herein lies the great danger. It is just as well to avoid the step.

Scott's Emulsion contains the very things that nature requires in curing scrofula. The pure Norwegian cod liver oil helps to build up the whole body and enables one to acquire new, healthy, solid flesh. The hypophosphites of lime and soda act as a tonic, replacing the waste and giving strength and new structure where it is most needed.

There is nothing that will do more good in the case of scrofula than Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

FAST LINE CANARD.

Report From London That Allans Have Got Contract—Denied at Ottawa and Montreal Allans Are Skeptical.

London, March 25.—An agreement has been signed between the Dominion Government and the Allan Line for the establishment of a subsidized fast service between Canada and Glasgow and Liverpool. The arrangement stipulates that the steamers are to make at least twenty-one knots, and specifications for a number of large steamers of this speed are now being prepared. The vessels will be built on the Clyde, on the Tyne and at Belfast. The service will be started within two years.

The Allans Skeptical.

Montreal, March 25.—Mr. Andrew Allan has no advices of the granting of the fast line contract. He knows of no change in the situation, and regards it as most improbable that there will be any change until June, the first date set by the Government for tenders to be received.

The Story Not True.

Ottawa, March 25.—The story from London that the Allan firm has been awarded the contract for the fast Atlantic service is erroneous. Tenders will be received until June 1, and the contract cannot be awarded until after that date. What is meant probably is that the contract for the carriage of the Atlantic mails has been renewed with the Allans for another year. The aggregate sum paid for this service will probably amount to between $150,000 and $170,000. Payments are on a sliding scale in proportion to the speed of the service. If the speed falls below a certain figure deductions in payment will be made.

THE DAY IN SUPPLY.

Considerable Progress Made With the Estimates Monday.

PUT DOWN INDECENT PLAYS.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick's Bill Passed by the Committee and Stands For Third Reading—Three Other Bills Read a Second Time—Questions by Members Answered by Ministers—$50,000 For the Mint.

Ottawa, March 24.—The greater part of the day was spent by the House of Commons in Committee of Supply.

Hon. James Ross, ex-governor of the Yukon, the first member from the district, was introduced by Sir Wilfrid and Walter Scott, M.P, amid applause.

Col. Thompson, M.P. (Haldimand) introduced his bill to extend the power of loan companies. In explanation, he said the object of the bill was to give existing loan companies incorporated under an earlier act, the same powers held by other companies incorporated under a later act. He would enlarge on the bill at a later stage.

In introducing his bill to amend the Criminal Code, Mr. Fitzpatrick said it had been drafted on the suggestion of the municipal administrators of the large cities of Canada, and aimed to put down indecent and immoral plays.

Sir Hibbert Tupper declared that well-meaning people did all sorts of things to reform the world suddenly. He feared there was a tendency among certain persons to reach reform through extreme legislation, that only frustrated the good objects they had in view.

After further discussion it was decided to allow the bill, with a minor amendment, to go up for a third reading. The bill now reads: "Every person who, being the owner, lessor, lessee, or manager of a theatre, presents or gives, or allows to be presented or given therein any obscene play, opera, concert, acrobatic, variety or vaudeville performance, or other entertainment or representation is guilty of an indictable offence, and liable, if convicted upon indictment, to one year's imprisonment, with or without hard labor, or to a fine of $500, or both, and, or summary conviction, to six months' imprisonment, or to a fine of $50, or to both."

"2. Every person who takes part or appears as an actor, performer, or assistant in any capacity, in any such indecent immoral play, opera, concert, performance, or other entertainment or representation, is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to three months' imprisonment, or to a fine not exceeding $20, or to both.

"3. Every person who so takes part or appears in any indecent costume is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to six months' imprisonment, or to a fine of $50, or to both.

"4. In this section, the word 'theatre' includes any hall, room, or other place open to the public, gratituously or otherwise, where dramatic, musical, or other entertainments or representations are presented or given."

Questions and Answers.

Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe), who is gathering information on transportation topics, was told that the total quantity of wheat taken from Port Arthur and Fort William in Canadian boats to Canadian ports was 22,087,791 bushels, to Buffalo's 636,558 bushels. The quantity taken by American vessels to Buffalo of grain taken to Canadian ports, was 11,256,528. This makes a total of grain taken to Canadian ports 23,551,643 bushels, and to foreign ports, 12,126,873, a grand total of 35,698,516 bushels.

Dr. Roche (Marquette) was told that Judge Myers was appointed to succeed Judge Prendergast on Jan. 8, 1903, though he was an M.P.P. for Minnedosa when the appointment was made.

Jabel Robinson (Elgin) was informed that the Government had under consideration the advisability of introducing a system of free rural mail delivery in some part of Canada during this year.

Mr. Fielding told Mr. McGowan that the Government was not contemplating the introduction of any legislation regarding private bankers, because private bankers are in the same position as the promoters of any private concern.

Mr. Bennett was told that the total number of bushels of grain shipped to Sarnia in 1902 was 3,884,391, and to Goderich, 3,226,660.

Mr. Clancy, speaking for Mr. Taylor, asked for a return showing the total cost of taking the census for 1871, 1881 and 1891; also the amount paid on account of the taking of the census for 1901 up to March 1, 1903. This had been asked for before.

Mr. Fielding moved an amendment to make the statement show the nature of the census information, and the mode of remuneration in each case. Mr. Clancy objected because the additional information would entail more work, and consequently the return would not be brought to the House immediately. Mr. Fielding, however, promised him no time would be lost.

Up For Second Reading.

Four bills were read a second time and reported for a third reading. They were: An act to amend the Expropriation Act; an act to amend the Yukon Territory Act; an act to amend the Criminal Code; an act to amend the Juvenile Offenders' Act of New Brunswick. They were all fathered by Minister of Justice Fitzpatrick.

When the House reassembled at 8 o'clock, the estimates on civil Government were taken up. The customs items were passed.

The main estimates of Mr. Blair's department went through with slight discussion.

Famous Soldier Goes Back to Face a Court-Martial.

SENSATION IN ARMY CIRCLES

Charges Against Sir Hector, It Is Alleged, Are Based Upon Immoral Acts—Nature of the Charges Leaked Out at a Dinner to a Highland Regiment—Goes Back on Advice of Lord Roberts.

Colombo, Ceylon, March 25.—Charges of the most serious nature have been brought against Major-General Sir Hector MacDonald, commanding the British forces in Ceylon. In consequence, the Governor of that Island, Sir Joseph West Ridgeway, has been authorized to convene a court-martial to try General MacDonald. The latter, when the charges were filed some time ago, went to England to confer with his friends and superior officers, and now, it is understood, he will return and face the charges, which, it is alleged, are based on immoral acts.

Major-General MacDonald, who is an aide-de-camp to King Edward, was born in 1853, enlisted in the Gordon Highlanders, and served nine years in the ranks. He was appointed to command the British troops in Ceylon in 1892. The General has been repeatedly mentioned in official despatches for gallant conduct in the field, and has about half a dozen orders and medals, and nearly a dozen clasps.

Charges of Immoral Conduct.

London, March 25.—The announcement from Colombo that Major-General MacDonald is to be tried by court-martial on most serious charges of immoral conduct undoubtedly will prove to be the greatest sensation in British military circles since the case of Col. Valentine Baker, who was sentenced Aug. 2, 1875, to pay a fine of $2,500 and to undergo 12 months' imprisonment for indecently assaulting a lady in a railroad carriage. General MacDonald was regarded as one of Britain's great soldiers. He rose from the ranks in the Gordon Highlanders to his present position, and the service list shows no more honorable war record than that of MacDonald, while few officers possess more hard won decorating. He was extremely popular in the army, and in civil life.

When Story Leaked Out.

While the army officials and many of his brother officers were aware that charges were pending against General MacDonald, no intimation of their nature leaked out until the dinner of the officers of a Highland regiment, March 21, at which MacDonald was not present. Lord Roberts, the Commander-in-Chief, paid tribute in a speech on that occasion to the Highland officers who had served with distinction, but he did not mention MacDonald. This attracted considerable notice, and the sensation was increased when another speaker, who was not aware of the facts in the case, lauded MacDonald as a typical Highland soldier, and found that his remarks were received in cold silence by the majority of the officers present.

General MacDonald, it is announced, left England for the Continent some days ago, and it is understood he is returning to Ceylon, under the advice of Lord Roberts, after hearing MacDonald's version of the charges.

DREADFUL PAINS SWOLLEN ANKLES

Kidney Disease Developed Into Dropsy—After Fifteen Years of Suffering, Cure was Effected by

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Dropsy is a natural result of neglected kidney disease. When the kidneys become deranged uric acid is left in the blood, and the blood becomes watery and vitiated. Flesh and weight gradually decrease and strength is slowly exhausted. Swollen ankles and legs are among the first indications of dropsy, and the symptoms arise from the fact that the system is filled with water that should pass off by way of the kidneys.

There is probably no ailment which leads to such dreadfully painful and fatal disease as derangement of the kidneys, and consequently the good which Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills do in checking disorders and preventing dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes, etc., can never be estimated. Mr. Arthur Walden, Ferryville, Carleton Co., N.B., writes:—"My wife was a great sufferer from kidney disease for several years. She was troubled with pains in the small of the back and in the side, was frequently losing flesh and growing weaker. She got into a very bad state, suffered dreadful pains, and her ankles would swell up so that we were afraid of dropsy. We had a book of Dr. Chase's in the house, and reading about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, decided to try them. Relief soon came with this treatment. My wife has been cured and says she would not be without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten times the price."

I am using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food myself, and it is building me up wonderfully."

DUMMY DEE AND THE BISHOP

By L. E. Chittenden

Copyright, 1903, by the S. S. McClure Company

Dummy Dee had come to call upon the bishop.

The bishop and he were very particular friends and therefore shook hands, as man to man, in a very cordial manner.

"I came," said Dummy Dee, "on very particular business, and I would have been awful sorry not to find you at home."

"I am very glad to be here, Dummy Dee," said the bishop, smiling at his guest.

There was a short pause, Dummy Dee frowning thoughtfully into space for ideas and the bishop waiting to hear the manner of his guest's business.

"Are you ever lonesome, bishop?" asked Dummy Dee at last, leaning forward and clasping his short arms around his knees.

"Yes, often," said the bishop, the note of truth vibrating through his tone.

Childless and wifeless and of strong and often unpopular opinions, the scholarly bishop was indeed a lonely man, just now particularly so.

A controversial point had forced him into a position where he stood almost if not quite alone. He tried to believe his position was a matter of principle. His enemies said it was obstinacy and dogmatism, and even his warmest friends were silent and regretful over the matter at issue.

He had when Dummy Dee came in been writing on the point, and bitter, fiery words were penned on the sheets of paper that strewed the open desk. He glanced at them now as he spoke, and from them to the beautiful pictured face of his young wife, who had died very early in their married life.

Yes, he was very lonely.

Dummy Dee nodded and looked thoughtfully at the glowing grate fire.

"Nice things happen sometimes when you're lonesomest, though," he said by way of giving a small crumb of comfort to his friend.

"You know mother is sick and down south getting her health and father busy at the settlement work, and sometimes I get kind of a stomach ache in my heart and a lump in my throat.

"My, it most chokes me," he added feelingly. "But just the other day the summer boarder sent me these bicycle trousers," sticking out his short leg for the bishop to see, "or I never could have stood it in the world. She knew how I felt about kilts and aprons and always having to wear something of the other children's 'count of their growing so fast and me not. I slept with 'em that night in bed, and once when I woke up and thought about mother I just reached over and felt of these, and then I felt better. Did you ever try anything like that?" he asked, looking at the bishop's trousered legs stretched out on the other side of the fire.

"No," the bishop replied bravely; he had not thought of it.

"Then there are always things to do for folks, you know, and that's one thing I came to see about," continued Dummy Dee. "I've been taking soup and books and things up for the settlement people to a little girl who lives in an attic near the settlement.

"She's got a kind of mother, only she's an aunt and awful bad to her. She drinks something out of a bottle"—and Dummy Dee lowered his voice to a shocked whisper—"and she is awful mean to Nora."

"What is the matter with Nora?" asked the bishop.

"A spinal back I think they call it," said Dummy Dee, with a learned air, "and I feel so sorry. I asked father if he'd adopt her, and he said he thought he couldn't. I've thought I'd marry her if necessary, but father would have to adopt us both then. What do you think?"

The bishop's principal thought was a desire to laugh, but he held his peace, so Dummy Dee went on:

"She's English. I've told her about you. She calls you lord, but I said not lord exactly, only kind of next to the Lord, you know."

At this the bishop could contain himself no longer, but put back his head and laughed a pealing laugh that startled the shadows in the dim, quiet library, and he only stopped when he beheld Dummy Dee gazing at him in mild surprise.

"Come," said the bishop, springing up like a boy, "let us go and see Nora."

Goodby!" said Dummy Dee, getting up, or sliding down, rather, from his chair. "That's what I wanted. Let's walk. It isn't very far, and it's a fine day."

But before they started the bishop swept up the written sheets of paper and threw them on the grate. They blazed cheerfully.

"Hi!" said Dummy Dee. "See 'em wriggle as if they hurt."

"I intended they should hurt others," said the bishop softly, with a curious smile.

Many curious eyes turned to watch the two, the dignified ecclesiastic in his churchly garb and the sunny, romping, rosy child, who, not altogether unaware of these glances, took them largely as a tribute to his beloved bicycle trousers and strutted proudly.

Two delightful stops were made before they reached the tenement where little Nora lived, and they went on, laden with books, games and flowers.

"Father says she looks like a picked flower without water," said Dummy Dee as they climbed the steep, rickety stairs.

They entered the room in response to Nora's summons, and Dummy Dee, somewhat embarrassed, made the bishop known to the pale faced child lying on the dingy bed.

No one had ever seen the scholarly bishop in so delightful a mood as the two children found him that afternoon.

Nora's cheeks grew pink with happiness and her eyes brighter than ever as she listened to stories, guessed riddles and played games with the bishop and Dummy Dee.

At last the shadows grew longer.

"I've a last story to tell you two children before we go," said the bishop, "and you must be very quiet and listen hard, for there is a guessing part to it.

"Once upon a time," began the bishop, "there lived a man alone, and, as sometimes happens to lonely people, he grew selfish and bitter hearted. He forgot the teachings of the one whom he had vowed to serve, but tried instead to serve himself and was unhappy, as all such men are.

"There came to him one day a dear little friend of his who was also lonely, but who tried to forget his loneliness by helping others and was comforted by doing this. So the man learned a lesson from his little friend, and he, too, found comfort and happiness as the boy had.

"Now, the man naturally did not want to be lonely and unhappy and bitter again, for he found the better part, so he thought out a plan. He would take the boy down south to his mother, who is almost well, but not quite so well as she will be when the man brings to her her youngest boy."

There was a queer gurgling sob that was half a laugh and half a cry and altogether a mixture of homesickness and coming delight, and Dummy Dee shot himself bodily into the bishop's arms, cuddled against his shoulder and lay there sniffing happily. He groped vainly for his handkerchief that could not be found, and his fingers closed gratefully over the bishop's fine lawn that he found within his grasp.

"Guessed," said the bishop, laughing, with a shake in his voice. "The first part of my puzzle story guessed without a mistake. Now for the second. Then he took the little sick girl to a white, bright room that he knows of in the children's hospital, where, surrounded by birds, books and flowers and loving care, she can get well and perhaps come to live in the lonely house, of the lonely man to brighten it."

Another little cry from the bed, and Nora's slender, groping fingers sought the bishop's hand. "Me?" she said. "Me—Nora? Would my aunt"—

"I think so," said the bishop. "We will find a way. But what a fine pair of guessers these two are! Never to make a mistake!"

When the kind hearted woman on that floor came in to look after Nora, her aunt being away serving time for drunkenness, they went away and left the happy child, already better, with hope and joy working miracles with her.

"You make up your mind the best and quickest of any one I ever knew. How did you think of such beautiful things?" asked Dummy Dee as they felt their way down the rickety stairs.

"It's a thank offering, Dummy Dee," said the bishop, with a return of his curious smile, "for burning the papers."

Fully Qualified.

The story is told of a man who by some unaccountable blunder by the appointing authority was made judge of a minor court.

He could neither read nor write, but that did not give him any uneasiness, although it aroused some fears in the breast of his wife.

"What are you going to do when there's any reading or writing comes into cases?" she timidly inquired.

"The folks that bring the readin' will read it, and the folks that want the writin' will write it," calmly replied his honor, "or if they can't I shall commit 'em. All I've got to attend to, Hitty, is the judgin', and I can do that as quick as anybody."

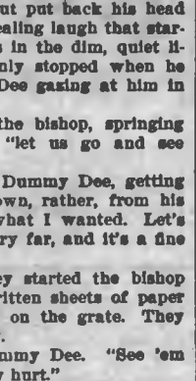
ENGAGED.

Marriage is very largely an accident. In few cases do men or women set up a standard of manly or womanly excellence and choose by it. In most cases people become engaged as the result of propinquity rather than because of any deep rooted preference.



And so it often happens that the wife enters upon the obligations of maternity just as thoughtlessly as she entered on the marriage relation, because no one has warned her of the dangers she faces.

Thousands of women become invalids for lack of knowledge of themselves. It is to this large body of women that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes as a priceless boon, because it cures womanly ills.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"After my first child was born," writes Mrs. Jordan Stout, of Fawcettgap, Frederick Co., Va., "my health was very poor for a long time, and last winter I was so bad with pain down in back I could hardly move without great suffering. My husband got me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and a vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' which I used as directed. In four days I was greatly relieved, and now, after using the medicine three months, I seem to be entirely well. I can't see why it is that there are so many suffering women when there is such an easy way to be cured. I know your medicines are the best in the world."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the favorite family laxative. One 'Pellet' a laxative, two 'Pellets' a cathartic dose.

When lying down at night I was almost afraid to go to sleep for fear I would never wake up. When I arose in the morning I would feel a little better, but as soon as I started to work my heart would start fluttering, my head would become dizzy, faint weak spells would come over me and it seemed as if black objects were floating before my eyes. I was growing worse every day until I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. When the box was half gone I could feel that they had done me good and by the time it was finished I was in excellent health and would advise all sufferers from heart and nerve troubles to try them."

INACTIVE OLD AGE.

More Conducive to Dreariness Than to Shortening Life.

There is far more evidence for the belief in the dreariness of old age after active work has been laid aside than for the shortening of life which results from the enforced inactivity. Two notable instances and perhaps freer from doubt than most as to whether it is ennui alone that kills and not the disease of old age or a more specific malady are those of Napoleon the Great and Bismarck. The one lived six years in St. Helena, the other eight years at Friedrichsruh, each "eating out his heart." If ever there were men who ought on the supposition to have been killed by the total suspension of their activities, these two ought to have been, but it would be extremely difficult to show that they were. Though Napoleon was no more than fifty-three, yet it was the specific disease of cancer of the stomach of which he died, and the connection between his exiled loneliness and the direct cause of his death does not seem very apparent. On the other hand, Bismarck at the age of seventy-five, when he was dismissed from the chancellorship, could not have had a likelihood of more prolonged years than he actually enjoyed out of office even if he had continued in office until the end. A wise man if not too dyspeptic will never lose touch with actual life. There are old men with young hearts, and the elder when he has a young heart is perhaps the most delightful type humanity can show us. —Saturday Review.

Freak of a Thunderbolt.

The annals of a French academy of science tell of a tailor's adventure with a thunderbolt. He lived in a house provided with two chimneys—one for a fireplace and the other for a stove, the latter not in use. During a thunderstorm a tremendous report was heard, and everybody thought that the house had been struck by lightning. Instantly a blue flaming ball dropped into the fireplace and rolled out into the room, seemingly about six inches above the floor. The excited tailor ran around the room, the ball of fire playing about his feet. Suddenly it rose above his head and moved off toward the stovepipe hole in the ceiling, which had a piece of paper pasted over it. The ball moved straight through the paper and up the chimney. When near the top, it exploded and tore the chimney into thousands of fragments. The sight of the debris left by the explosion showed the family what would have been the consequences had it exploded while on its gyrating passage through the room.

Learn From the Animals.

Learn of the animals. The horse teaches us to be silent under punishment and patient in suffering. From the lion we learn bravado. From the cat we learn to prowl at night. From the dog we learn how to be faithful to a friend. The camel teaches us abstinence. The elephant teaches us how to be calm in adversity. The hippopotamus teaches us repose. The shy little rabbit teaches us how to die without a murmur. The antelope teaches us the foolishness of idle curiosity. The hop-toad teaches us the evils of gluttony. The ant teaches us industry and wisdom in council. The hen teaches us to go in out of the wet (yet I have seen fool hens which did not know the difference between sunshine and rain). The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 25, 11.15 a. m. — Grain — It would be a very natural thing to expect some reaction after this severe decline in grain list, but with May liquidation started and good weather conditions from now on, together with small volume of outside speculation, makes situation look very discouraging for the longs, as we would suggest that on any rally from last night's closing prices to get out of long stuff, especially May.

MURRAY.

Stocks — Our brokers report stock market weakening under renewed good selling by commission houses and traders and looks like going lower. There was some support on opening. The selling better than buying and market now heavy.

M. & M.

New York, March 25. — Stock market better on a cessation of selling and covering of shorts by traders and a better class of buying coming in which has been encouraged by closing London cables reporting a very sharp rally in markets there and consols rallying from 89 7-8 to 90 3-8.

M. & M.

Morning letter Market likely to be further depressed by the London advices to-day. There was so little rally in the market yesterday that traders who had been buying and supporting the market in forenoon in anticipation of such a movement began to throw over their stocks at last hour and market closed weak under their selling and absence of support. It looks as though we would see some further slump to-day with a dull sagging market. Consols are down to 90, a decline of 3-8 since yesterday, which is low record since the Franco-Prussian war, 30 years ago.

Grain — Liverpool opening, wheat, 1-4 penny lower; corn 3-8 lower; car lots wheat, 17; corn, 58; oats, 182.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt's Eloquent Address.

Woman's Auxiliaries of St. Luke's, St. John's and All Saints' Churches.

A most impressive memorial service was held yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in St. John's church, Revs. J. C. Davidson, W. L. Armitage and E. A. Langfeldt being present. The service was largely attended by the auxiliaries of St. John's, All Saints and St. Luke's.

The last rays of the dying sun were casting beams of all colours through the stained glass windows into the body of the church, where a large number of women had assembled to pay their last tribute to Mrs. Williamson, who died recently in Toronto—a woman who devoted her life to the organization of the Woman's Auxiliary, of which she was the president for this Diocese. In the course of her duties in this respect the beloved deceased brought out remarkable mental forces, which caused everything to run off perfectly smoothly. For some time past nearly every parish in Ontario had in heart watched at the bedside of the late Mrs. Williamson, and now that her death has at last occurred, memorial services are being held in almost all the churches in the diocese.

The preacher, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's church, took his text from the 116th Psalm and the 15th verse, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints."

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt commenced his sermon by saying:

These are words interesting and touching to all of us, inasmuch as they speak of that thing, which is common to all, which all must encounter, and which forms the most important event in the history of every individual. Yes, my friends, death is the great event that awaits each one of us, and on which depend, oh, what unspeakable consequences!—the fixing of the soul either in Heaven, before the presence of God, and in the midst of the innumerable company of angels, and the general assembly and church of the First-Born,—or in the eternal woe. In other words, the fixing of the soul forever in that state and character wherein it is found when the Saviour comes.

But who are meant by His saints? They are those, that are made such by the grace of God; His by the eternal election of the Father; His by the redemption work of the Son; His by the new creating power of the Holy Spirit, who, (as the Church of England teaches her children in their earliest form of instructions) "sanctifieth all the elect people of God." Disallowed, indeed, of men, but chosen of God and precious. Death! Oh, how does one thought of death correct our estimate of things and persons! When a wicked man of old was plotting the ruin of God's people, the thought of death came across his mind, and he was constrained to cry out: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like His!"

Would to God we all had known more of the saintly life and sickness and death of this dear Saint of God, whose death has brought us here together to thank God for having taken her out of the miseries of this sinful life. It is only to God's praise that "the death of His Saints" should ever be recorded. And if I now speak of the holy and active life of that dear sister in Christ, and say, how for the last ten or more years, it was marked by that true and noble devotion to the service of God and the extension of His kingdom on earth; if I speak of her most ready, simple and cordial reception of the gospel, in all its doctrines, promises and precepts; her close communion with her God and Saviour; if I mention her sincere spirit and temper, so liberal, so affectionate; her firm and resolute adherence to whatever she once perceived to be the line of truth and duty. Her readiness and devotedness to every good work and word, both at home and elsewhere; her fascinating personality and kindness of heart, that made her so beloved by all, and that gave her such a prominent position in the W. A., in which she served as President for so many years. If I mention these things, I mention them only "to the praise of the glory of His grace," Who made her what she was, and before Whose throne she has now cast that crown of righteousness and life which He purchased for her and has given her, joining in the humble confession of all the saints in glory: "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto Thy name be the praise. For we got not the land in possession by our own sword, neither was it our own arm that helped us; but Thy right arm and the light of Thy countenance even because Thou hadst a favour unto us."

Mrs. Williamson's death has removed from our midst a true and loyal member of the church and a devoted servant of God. To you, my dear friends, the members of the W. A., she has left a legacy to continue with fervent devotion, the work she was so much attached to,—the obedience to the Master's last command, the extension of His kingdom. She has given you a blessed and able example and nothing better could you do, nothing better to show your love for her and your admiration of her work, than follow her example and devote your life to the cause she held so dear. Her death is her eternal gain, "Ours only are the tears that weep around her tomb." May God give you grace, so to follow the blessed example of His saints, that with them we may be partakers of His heavenly kingdom.

The memorial service of one, whose memory should never be forgotten, ended after some of the prayers of the burial service had been read.

YOUNG MEN ENTERTAINED YOUNG MEN.

St. Andrew's Guild at St. Paul's Last Night.

REV. E. A. LANGFELDT'S TALK

Seventy Young Men Present at a Banquet

Prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's—Some Eloquent Speeches Made—Ladies Were Complimented.

A joint meeting of the Young Men's Guilds of St. Andrew's and St. Paul's churches was held last night in the lecture hall of St. Paul's church, the Guild of the latter church being the entertainers.

The programme was divided into two parts, the first being a business half, and the second one of pleasure. Not only was the second and latter part of the programme one of pleasure, but the business part was also one of pleasure.

The president of the entertaining Guild, Mr. J. H. Connal, was in the chair. There were also present Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. A. Wilson, and Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's.

In the lecture hall the regular routine of business was run off, after which the chairman called upon Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, to give an address.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt prefaced his remarks by saying that this was the third time he had had the pleasure of speaking to a Presbyterian audience, and he was under great obligation to that church for the cordial manner in which he had been received. In the course of his remarks, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt said that practical Christianity was greatly needed. We must be Christians in both thought and deed. To say we are Christians is quite an easy matter, but we must have our credentials which are three in number, and without which we cannot be counted as disciples of Christ. "If any man cometh after Me, and hateth not his brother, and father and mother and sister, and his own life, he cannot be My disciple." In other words, if there is anything in our hearts that stands between us and the Lord Jesus Christ, then we cannot be the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ. He must be first—the best of our affections must be given to Him. This can be done by the attendance of the week day services on the part of the men. Women come to these services but the men, especially the young men do not. Then another of our credentials must be in the fulfillment of the following passage: "Whosoever does not bear his cross and come after Me, cannot be My disciple." What does this mean? Supposing you were offended by some man and you were to say to yourself that you would not speak to that man again. That would not be bearing the cross of our Lord and Saviour.

Then the third point which arises in the question concerning our credentials is: "Whosoever it is that renounces not all that he hath cannot be My disciple." Everything must take a secondary place to religion. To build a character without religion is like a house which is built on the sea shore, which fell when the tide came up.

In closing his remarks Mr. Langfeldt said that there is nothing we can do better than to consecrate ourselves to our Lord Jesus Christ.

Rev. J. D. Potter took the opportunity to move a vote of thanks to Mr. Langfeldt for the practical address which he had given. The motion was eloquently seconded by Rev. J. A. Wilson, and all present were unanimously in favour of it.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt in rising to respond, thanked all for the hearty welcome they had given him and said it was a great pleasure for him to speak to young men such as were in front of him.

The members then adjourned upstairs, where a most excellent and well prepared banquet had been made ready by the Ladies' Aid Society of the entertaining church.

THE BANQUET.

Until the banquet had commenced the seventy men present had no idea that they were to be entertained in such a magnificent manner. No less charming were the young ladies of St. Paul's Ladies Aid Society, who satisfied to advantage all the wants of the several participants. At the conclusion of the many courses, the President, Mr. J. H. Connal, called the audience to order, and after a few words of appreciation and thanks to the ladies, proposed the health of "Our Most Gracious Lord and Sovereign, the King," to which all responded most heartily.

Rev. J. G. Potter then asked all to join him in a toast, wishing all prosperity to "Our Country." This was heartily responded to. Rev. Mr. Potter took the opportunity to express his pleasure and delight at meeting St. Paul's people in this way. "There is no finer country on the face of the earth," continued Rev. Mr. Potter, "than this Canada of ours, and we must do all we can to foster in ourselves a patriotic feeling. We have never had reason to be ashamed of our warriors who have gone forth to fight the battles for the honour of our Empire. It is to the young men of the land that our country looks for aid, and if Canada is to build up a character of honour and strength it is the young men who must build up similar characters."

In response to the toast, Mr. R. F. McWilliams, said that this toast to "Our Country," which was not thought so much about some years ago, was now one of the foremost at every banquet. Our country had increased her wealth and prestige, and in the same proportion had the popularity of this toast increased.

Mr. J. Dawson then rendered a vocal solo in his usual characteristic manner. He was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Wildgust.

Rev. J. A. Wilson, on rising to his feet asked the members of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's to rise and drink the health of their fellow guildmen of St. Andrew's. This was enthusiastically done amidst the shouts of "For they are Jolly Good Fellows."

Speaking of their Guild, Rev. Mr. Wilson said that St. Paul's Guild was under a great obligation to that of St. Andrew's church, for the help the latter gave in the organization of the former.

"In early English times," Continued Mr. Wilson, "men of all trades and professions joined together in guilds, thus showing the importance of such institutions." The value of guilds was unquestionable and he hoped each church would always have one and that the young men would attend in large numbers.

Mr. W. S. Campbell, President of St. Andrew's Guild, who was, during the banquet, seated at the President's right hand, rose and, on behalf of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, thanked the hosts on their magnificent reception, and further congratulated them on their excellently organized Guild.

In rising to his feet Mr. R. M. Glover eloquently thanked all for their toast and also Mr. Langfeldt for his very practical and inspiring address, which had been a source of great pleasure to all.

Mr. Wildgust then beautifully sang that patriotic song entitled "Fighting for the Dear Old Country," which was most heartily and enthusiastically received by all present.

The President then called upon Mr. Horace E. Ayers to introduce the toast of "The Ladies." This Mr. Ayers eloquently did, while the appreciation of the ladies could be seen neath their heavy eyelashes—for not even could these hide the sparkling eyes of the ladies as compliment after compliment was paid them. On Mr. Ayers resuming his seat, and after the health of the ladies had been drunk amidst the strains of "For they are jolly, good fellows," Mr. L. Thornton continued the oration of compliments which Mr. Ayers had so eloquently set on foot.

Mr. A. P. McLean having been asked to respond, did so in a very amusing manner.

The last toast of the evening was proposed by Mr. H. H. Edmison, it being "The Health of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church," which the St. Andrew's men quaffed to a popular refrain.

The very pleasant social, yet intellectual evening was closed at a late hour by the singing of the National Anthem.

A SPLENDID SPEECH

Mr. A. G. MacKay on Precedents For Inquiry by Commission.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR ENGLAND

Opinions of World's Great Parliamentarians—Young Member For North Grey Fully Answered Mr. Foy—Division Expected To-morrow—House to Adjourn Till April 21—Many Short Speeches.

Toronto, March 26.—The speech of Mr. A. G. Mackay in the Legislature yesterday in support of the Government's proposal to refer the Gamey charges to a commission was a splendid deliverance, and places the young member from North Grey at once in the front rank of debaters in the House. Mr. Mackay first explained the methods of dealing with charges against members in the British House, the mother of Parliaments, and showed by numerous quotations that the Premier's motion followed the British precedents. This argument was rendered almost unassailable by quotations from the opinions of a First Lord of the Treasury, the late Mr. W. H. Smith; Sir Edward Clarke, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and the Marquis of Salisbury. The remainder of the two hours occupied by Mr. Mackay was filled with concise argument and quotation, which kept the attention of the House at the highest point. Col. Matheson replied briefly, and the balance of the evening was occupied with a host of short speeches. Early in the afternoon the Attorney-General introduced the bill which is designed to remove all doubt on the point of incriminating evidence. The debate will go on to-day, and it is expected that a division will be reached to-morrow. Premier Ross has given notice that when the House adjourns it stands adjourned until April 21, to allow the commission to meet.

Attorney-General's Bill.

The Attorney-General arose to introduce a bill to make effective the clause in the instructions regarding the compelability of evidence, following the suggestion he made on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gibson hoped that the passage of the bill would be facilitated through the various stages. He expressed the view that the same effect was practically gained by the clause in the instructions, but, in order to avoid further discussion on the point, and to satisfy the public, so that there should be no room for a witness holding back evidence on the ground that he might incriminate himself, he deemed it wise to bring in the bill. Without the legislation proposed, he claimed, the commission would be in exactly the same position, so far as compelling evidence was concerned, as under the rules of the House. Common law was clear on the point that no person is liable to incriminate himself by testimony given by himself.

Fine Speech by Mr. Mackay.

Mr. Mackay (North Grey) who had the floor when the House adjourned Tuesday afternoon, resumed the debate. He submitted that the question before the House was merely one of procedure, which was the better way of getting at the facts, and having the matter reported to the House? He discussed the question from four standpoints. First, the standpoint of precedent; second, as to whether a committee of the House has more power to draw out the facts than a commission of judges; third, to trace the history of the statute and amendments thereto, fourth, the scope of the inquiry. He cited the English practice, and the Parnell case. In that case, Sir Edward Clarke laid down the principle that the court should listen to legal evidence only. But here, the gentlemen opposite were frank enough to say that they wanted to drag in hearsay evidence, what some persons might have said, not in the presence of the accused persons. Joseph Chamberlain was quoted as saying that a commission of judges would be more satisfactory than a committee of the House.

After the Parnell Commission had done its work Mr. Justin McCarthy expressed satisfaction with the finding, although he had strenuously objected in the House of Commons to the appointment of a commission.

Mr. Mackay cited numerous authorities to bear him out in his argument. The Pacific scandal was gone into at length, and analogies drawn to the position taken by the Government. The gentlemen opposite did not believe in British constitutional law and precedent. They had prejudged the case against the accused. In the West Huron and Brockville cases the charges made would have driven a member of the British House of Commons from public life. But those charges were not backed up.

The statute passed 19 years ago providing for a reference of such cases to a judicial commission, without objection from the leader of the Opposition at the time, covered the case, and the Conservatives were stultifying themselves when they went back upon their record of 19 years.

The member for North Grey observed that two of the High Court judges of the Province were appointed by a Conservative Government.

The Opposition had no right to put a member of the House in a lower position than the meanest criminal. There was no division among the Liberals on this point. They stood as one man behind the Provincial Secretary, holding out to him the same measure of justice that is accorded to a criminal from the slums. They asked no more, and they intended that he should get no less, and if the charge be proven by the member for Manitoulin then he for one would vote to drive the Provincial Secretary from public life.

Col. Matheson Replies.

Col. Matheson replied. The Parnell case, which the member for North Grey had spent a good deal of time discussing, was not analogous, in his opinion, to the case under discussion. The charges against Parnell were not made in the House of Commons, but by The Times newspaper, and the argument used did not apply. All the ground covered by Mr. McKay had been gone over by previous speakers, and effectively answered. He congratulated Mr. McKay on his fight for technical objection. The Government speakers had abandoned the principles of Liberalism for 200 years, in attempting to take the question out of the hands of Parliament. The freedom of speech which was the right of members of the Legislature was the foundation of British liberty.

Continuing, Col. Matheson said it was a cowardly commission which threw the whole charge on the shoulders of the Provincial Secretary. The gist of the indictment was that there was a conspiracy; the payment of the money was but an incident. On the other hand every line of the commission to investigate the conduct of the Brawling Brood of Bribers in 1884 breathed conspiracy. In this commission every effort had been made to blot out any reference to the acts of any other Minister. Could the commission, he asked, investigate the charges against the Premier?

Mr. Ross—Yes.

Col. Matheson—Not unless some member makes a charge in writing.

Mr. Ross—Why not do so then?

Col. Matheson—The member for Manitoulin has made that charge and it will not be investigated under the instructions.

Mr. Ross—Wait and see what they'll do. In 1884 there was a charge of conspiracy, and it was investigated.

Col. Matheson—The charge breathed full on the word "conspiracy," but under this commission not a word showing conspiracy would be admitted.

The speaker left the chair at 6 o'clock, Dr. Routledge (East Middlesex) having the floor for the evening session.

Sunlight Soap is useful in more ways than one. It will demonstrate its wonderful cleansing power in every cleansing operation. 28

1st Vice-President—Dr. Halliday.
2nd Vice-President—Dr. McNulty.

Executive Committee and Committee on Programme to consist of the above officers.

The next meeting of the Association will meet in Peterborough some time in June.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Four Young Lakefield Men Charged With Assaulting Chinamen.

The Court House yesterday was crowded, nearly half the Village of Lakefield being present to witness most amusing and interesting case, in which four young men from Lakefield were charged with entering a Chinese Laundry at that place and assaulting the Celestial proprietor.

During the course of the examination it transpired that three of the young men were returning from a banquet between one and two o'clock on Saturday morning, March 14th, when seeing a light burning in the laundry, they entered "to have some fun," as they put it. One started switching the electric light off and on and this attracted another passerby, who also entered to discover the mysterious "antics" of the light.

The joke then went too far, the young men laying hold of the travellers from the far East, and nearly frightening the poor Celestials out of their wits.

An interpreter from Montreal was obtained, as the Lakefield complainants were not able to speak much English.

The case was brought up before County Police Magistrate Edmison, who discharged the person, who it was alleged only wished to ascertain the cause of the electric light going out and then being turned on again, while the other three men were found guilty and had to pay all expenses, amounting to about $100, which is rather an expensive sum to pay for a practical joke.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood and Col. E. B. Edwards, K.C., appeared for the prosecution, while Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and O. A. Langley, of Lakefield, defended the accused.

BREWERY BURNED.

The Victoria Spring Brewery Went up in Smoke Yesterday.

The Victoria Spring Brewery, of Lindsay, owned and operated, by Mr. Fred Cornell, was destroyed, together with its contents, by fire at an early hour Tuesday morning.

Mr. Cornell's loss will be heavy. When interviewed he said that he had lost everything. He only had $2,000 insurance, and his loss will total up to $6,000.

The Victoria Spring Brewery was one of Lindsay's old landmarks, having been built about 30 years ago by by Mr. H. Calcutt, of Peterborough. After Mr. Calcutt had operated it for several years it passed into the hands of Lloyd & Goldie, after which the late Mr. Haslam got possession and ran it for seven years. After his death the sons carried on the business for over ten years, selling out to Mr. Cornell three years ago. The business never paid very well until Mr. Cornell got possession, but the latter's reputation as a first class brewer soon spread throughout the country, and as a result his goods always found a ready sale.

THE CANAL TERMINUS.

The Port Hope delegation sent to Peterborough to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of Peterborough in the scheme of making Port Hope the terminus of the Trent Valley Canal, must have been somewhat disappointed with the result of their mission. They received no encouragement to speak of, although they had not much to complain of in regard to the cordiality of their welcome, and the respectful hearing that was given the statement of their case. One or two speakers on the part of Peterborough might have refrained from a few sarcastic little "digs" that were administered. It should be remembered that Port Hope is quite within its rights in fighting for the terminus of the canal at their town; indeed they would be lacking in local loyalty if they did not take the most energetic action in that direction. From their point of view it would be a great thing for Port Hope to be the lake outlet of the canal, and on purely local grounds that town has a strong case, and it is perfectly justified in taking the action that has been taken. But the matter must be regarded in a larger light — in the light of the undertaking as a national work, with national benefits, instead of a local work, with benefits of a corresponding character. If the idea is practically insisted on that local benefits furnish the chief reason for the completion of the canal, the hostility the project has met on this very ground will be intensified, and the work that has been done to dispel this idea will have to be repeated. Of course it is inevitable that the construction and operation of the Trent Valley Canal will incidentally, or even directly, largely benefit the places through which it passes as well as places in its vicinity. The Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence system have the same effect, but that circumstance does not detract one iota from the national character of these great transportation avenues. The raison d'etre of the Trent Valley Canal is its national importance, as an outlet for the great grain traffic of the Northwest and for the commercial traffic resulting from the rapid development and settlement of New Ontario. It has been pointed out in these columns frequently that when the wheat areas of the great Northwest are exploited to even one-tenth of their productive capacity, all the existing and projected routes of transportation will be insufficient to move the crops. In addition to those we have, the Trent Waterway is an urgent necessity, and a great deal should be conceded to the necessity of bringing it into operation at the earliest possible moment. For this reason the Port Hope proposal is to be earnestly deprecated. Its imediate result, whether it may or may not become effective, is delay and delay is hostile to the interests to be served by the completion and operation of the canal. A still stronger reason why Port Hope's contention should not prevail, is that the placing of the southern terminus at that town, would denationalise this waterway and make it, what all large interests concerned require that it should not be made, a practically local work. To make the canal a national grain highway we must have the conditions that make for the most perfect barge navigation—a land-locked route. This will be provided only by making Trenton or Frankford the southern terminus. This condition will be destroyed, if the outlet is placed at Port Hope. By this route barges would be exposed for the 40 miles, between Port Hope and Prasqu' Isle, to the sweep of the lake storms at a season of the year when both grain traffic and storm activity are at their height The national character of the Trent Valley Waterway must be kept to the front and its friends should take on the greatest possible energy in promulgating this idea, as the essential means of enlisting the sympathy of our parliamentary representatives and their co-operation in urging immediate construction operations by the Government. No time should be lost in arranging strong deputations.

Mr. Borden, leader of the Dominion Opposition, has been offered the nomination for South Ontario in the Dominion Parliament. Mr. Borden has the matter of acceptance under consideration. The walloping, Mr. Foster, the eloquent ex-distinguished and ex-tinguished member of the Conservative party, recently received in the sister riding of North Ontario, does not furnish an encouraging outlook to Mr. Borden. There seems to be a charming unanimity in regard to the status of candidates in Ontario County. The Conservatives are very anxious for outside candidates, and the obliging Liberals very obligingly meet their desires by keeping them outside candidates.

The sugar beet industry is now more favourably looked upon.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY

Held Adjourned Meeting in Port Hope Tuesday.

Several Divines and Elders Were Present—Two Resignations Accepted and Other Business Transacted.

An adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Walton street Hall, Port Hope, the purpose of the meeting being to finish the business of last meeting, which was held in Peterborough. There were present—Revs. W. Bennet, Peterborough; Peter Duncan, Colborne; Dr. Torrance, Peterborough; C. S. Lord, B.D., Grafton; Wm. Johnson, Millbrook; J. G. Potter, B.A., Peterborough; J. W. McIntosh, M.A., Centreville; R. F. Hunter, B.D., Baltimore; A. G. Sinclair, M.A., Port Hope, while the elders present were —Messrs. P. Harrison, Peterborough; Duncan Robertson, Cold Springs; J. F. Clark, Port Hope.

The first part of the business was the reading of one or two resignations. The resignation of Mr. Sinclair, which was tendered at the last meeting was considered. Many delegates of Mr. Sinclair's church were heard, all of whom expressed their great respect for the pastor, and hoped all would be done to induce Mr. Sinclair to withdraw his resignation. But, in view of Mr. Sinclair's fixed purpose to retire in order that he might pursue his studies at College, the Presbytery accepted the resignation, which will take place in the middle of June.

Mr. McIntosh was appointed to declare the church vacant, in the middle of June, and was given power to moderate a call to another minister. He was also appointed Moderator of Session.

For the same reasons and in the same manner the resignation of Mr. R. F. Hunter, of Baltimore and Cold Springs was also dealt with.

The resignation was accepted. Mr. Lord was appointed Moderator of Session during the vacancy after the resignation, which is to take place in the middle of June. Leave was granted to Mr. Lord to moderate a call when the people were ready.

The clerk, Rev. Wm. Bennet, reported that he had received a call from Woodville on behalf of Mr. Wm. Kannawin, of Omemee, which was largely signed. This will be considered at a meeting to be held in St. Andrew's church, Peterborough on April 7th at 2 o'clock, when all parties interested are cited to be present.

An interesting report from Mr. R. Harrison, Convenor of the Augmentation Committee, regarding the success of his visit to the Assembly, held in Toronto last week. In consequence of his visit, grants have been promised to the weaker congregations.

A very interesting report was read from the Sunday School Committee. The report was ordered to be completed and forwarded to the Synod's Committee on Sunday Schools.

The meeting then closed.

The next regular meeting of the Presbytery will be held in Port Hope on the second Tuesday in July.

OMEMEE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The Commercial House has changed hands, by Mr. J. Graham selling out to Mr. Beatty of Yarker, who comes highly recommended as a fit and proper hotel keeper.

The funeral of the late Thos. Nelson of the 2nd concession of Emily, on Friday, was largely attended, showing the respect in which the deceased was held by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. He was a consistent member and elder of the Presbyterian church, and a Liberal in politics. After a lingering illness he departed this life at the age of 72 years, leaving a widow and one son and two daughters to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate father and husband.

There was a number of Omemee citizens on the wrecked car last Saturday when the coupling broke when within one rod of the bridge over the river at Lindsay. Had not the coupling broke there would no doubt have been another appalling disaster.

ONLY PARTLY TRUE.

Popular Ideas Regarding Catarrh.

It is the common belief that what is popularly known as catarrh is simply a chronic cold in the head. This is true as far as it goes but as a matter of fact catarrh is by no means confined to the nasal passages, but extends wherever the mucous membrane extends, which means nearly every part of the body.

The mucous membrane is the inside skin of the body and is nearly as extensive as the outside skin, and any inflammation of this membrane causing an extra secretion of fluid is really catarrh.

Catarrh is therefore an old enemy, disguised by many confusing names, for instance:—Rhinitis is nasal catarrh; laryngitis and pharyngitis throat catarrh; gastritis, stomach catarrh; cystitis and nephritis, catarrh of the bladder and kidneys.

Therefore, although the location of the trouble gives it various names, in reality the sum total is catarrh, and nothing else.

Do not make the mistake of thinking that you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is a cough, tickling in the throat and hoarseness, you have throat catarrh; if there is no appetite, but nausea, gagging and disgust for food, especially in the morning, you have catarrh of the stomach.

The surest treatment for every form of catarrh is an internal remedy which acts especially on the blood and mucous membranes; such a remedy is the new preparation sold everywhere by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a medicine in pleasant tablet form, and containing all the best and latest specifics for catarrh.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain in highly concentrated form, blood root, red gum of the Eucalyptus tree, and many other equally valuable curative elements, and no one who suffers from any form of catarrh, and has seen the inefficiency of douches, powders and sprays, will ever go back to them after once trying so pleasant a preparation as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and one which gives so much relief in so short a time.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50c. for full sized package and the regular daily use of them will effectually cure this troublesome and dangerous disease.

"Oh, Betty," he sighed one day to his nurse, "I wish I was a cat!"

"Why?" asked the astonished Betty.

A DAY FOR IRELAND.

Measure to Settle the Feuds of a Thousand Years.

THE BILL OF A STATESMAN.

Mr. Wyndham's Land Purchase Measure Introduced in the House of Commons —A Free Grant of $60,000,000 For the Purposes of the Bill—Business Transaction Complete in Fifteen Years.

London, March 26.—The Irish Secretary, Mr. Wyndham, introduced the Government's long-anticipated Irish Land Bill in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. It proposes a free grant of $60,000,000 for the purposes of the bill. The House was crowded. Mr. Wyndham began to speak at 2.40 o'clock.

At the outset, he announced that the Government thought cash aid was necessary for the fulfilment of the proposed scheme, but it attached greater importance to the credit operation than to the cash operation. He then unfolded the scheme, which provides for advances of money for the purchase of land by tenants. The advances will be in the shape of cash, and not of stock; but, in order to enable the cash to be raised, a new stock is to be floated. It will be called "Guaranteed 2½ per cent. stock," and will be unredeemable for thirty years.

Mr. Wyndham doubted if $500,000,000 of the stock will be needed. It will be issued at the rate of $25,000,000 yearly for the first three years, and afterwards, possibly, in larger sums.

In addition to this, the Government proposed a free grant of $60,000,000, to be raised by additions to the stock, the interest and sinking fund of which will be borne by the Treasury, and the maximum annual charge of which will not exceed $1,950,000.

May Involve $500,000,000.

The advances to tenants, through the provisions of the Land Bill, are limited to $2,500 in the congested districts, and $3,000 elsewhere. The bill will become effective Nov. 1. Mr. Wyndham said $750,000,000 could safely be advanced on Irish land, but he thought the scheme would not involve $500,000,000. The Irish Secretary explained that, while the maximum charge of the English Treasury would not exceed $1,975,000 in a single year, the reduction in the cost of the administration of Ireland would amount to $1,250,000.

Against this charge on the British Treasury, the Irish Government proposes forthwith to commence reductions in the cost of administration amounting to $1,250,000 per annum, forever.

Proceeding, Mr. Wyndham dealt with the points of the bill, which contains a bewildering mass of figures, showing how advances will be made, and the terms of repayment, but it seems, in the main, to be on the lines laid down by the Land Conference report, and will be satisfactory to the landlords and tenants.

In the course of his speech, which was punctuated by cheers, Mr. Wyndham said the landlords of Ireland were being ruined financially, and the tenants were being ruined morally, and the taxpayers of England were paying $700,000 per annum to the Land Commission and $7,000,000 to the Irish Police, which largely was needed to deal with illegalities arising from the land question.

"Is it remarkable under these circumstances," asked the Irish Secretary, "if the landlords and tenants come together." Mr. Wyndham did not think any recondite or veiled reason need be looked for. Past experience showed that the state incurs no risk in giving such aid. From the taxpayers' viewpoint it was stated that aid for land purchase was a safe commercial transaction. By the aid of the state, 20,000 tenants already had bought their holding, und the state had not lost a half-penny. Public opinion supported repayment. and this was high, moral security, besides which was the security of the land itself.

Mr. Wyndham also said that the number of anomalies which had to be dealt with rendered the work most embarrassing, complicated and very difficult to present to the House in an intelligible manner. The state of things in some parts of Ireland was such as could be scarcely believed in England. He instanced one village in which a landlord was in the workhouse during the greater part of the year, while the tenants lived under conditions worse than those of the Kaffirs of Africa.

What the Government proposed to do to remedy this state of affairs was, briefly, while withdrawing no existing rights, it contemplated that the purchase of land in the future should proceed by the sale of estates, under three commissioners—Michael Finucane. Under Secretary to Minister of Bengal Revenue; Frederick S. Wrench and William F. Bayley. The commissioners, who will be known as "estates commissioners," will be under the general control of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. They are empowered to decide what constitutes an estate, which does not necessarily mean the entire property owned by the vendor, as a considerable portion thereof may remain in his hands.

The commissioners may refuse to sanction the sale of poor holdings unless there are reasonable facilities for their enlargement, where necessary, and for adequate access to turf as fuel.

Mr. Wyndham proceeded, saying that in view of the strong recommendation of the recent Land Conference, the Government had provided that the landlords might make their own arrangements with the tenants if they tallied with the policy of the present bill, which, instead of expatriating the landlords, as stated in some quarters, would, he hoped, enable them to remain in the country.

The Government thought the period for the repayment of loans should be sixty-eight and one-half years. There were strenuous provisions against subdividing mortgages on holdings.

In conclusion, Mr. Wyndham said he was sure the landlords and tenants will continue to act in the reasonable spirit which actuated the conference. The country could prolong for another 150 years the present tragedy in Ireland, he said, or could now initiate and henceforth prosecute a business transaction occupying some fifteen years, based on the self-esteem, probably, and mutual goodwill of all concerned.

Mr. Wyndham finished speaking at 4.10 p.m., and the Irish land bill passed its first reading.

The Irish Leader.

John Redmond, the Irish leader, followed Mr. Wyndham, saying everybody would admit that the tone and temper of the Secretary's speech showed he realized the gravity of the situation in Ireland, and that he was anxious to sincerely attempt to grapple with it. Mr. Redmond depreciated hasty judgment of Mr. Wyndham's proposals, either for or against them. No one could question that the proposals were an enormous advance upon those of last year, or that they really aimed at a settlement of the question. He, however, took exception to the commissioners, especially Mr. Wrench. If the Irish concluded that the bill offered a reasonable hope of a settlement it would be accepted by them.

No Hasty Judgment.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said he would not pass summary judgment on the "great measure presented with so much power, and which raised such great issues," but he would ask for information on certain points, which he enumerated.

Mr. Healy (Irish Nationalist) gave the measure a cordial reception. He suggested alterations in the direction of the provision for the distribution of the free grant.

Mr. Wyndham replied. He said $60,000,000 formed the limit. The Government would go no further. The Secretary asked that no hasty judgment be passed in the House of Commons.

The bill was then formally introduced and passed it's first reading.

The second reading was set for April 22.

Opinions Favor Bill.

The opinions expressed in the lobby of the House of Commons were generally favorable to the Land Bill, and pointed to the probability of its being accepted in principle by all the parties. It produced in the House a feeling of intense satisfaction.

John Redmond, the Duke of Abercorn, and Lord Dunraven, all agreed in saying Mr. Wyndham had made a genuine effort to settle Ireland's troubles on the lines of the Dublin Conference. They pointed out, however, that many details must be minutely discussed and perhaps be altered before the bill is accepted.

Revolution Is Succeeding.

Monte Christi, Republic of Santo Domingo, March 26.—Advices received here from San Domingo show that Gen. Alejandro Wos Y. Gil and his revolutionary followers are masters of San Domingo City. Revolutionists are in possession of two of three Dominican war vessels, namely the cruiser Independence, and the gunboat Colon.

Several skirmishes have taken place in this vicinity and about 20 Government soldiers have been killed and a number have been wounded.

Was Governor Removed.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, March 25.—The Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution providing that a cable despatch be sent to Colonial Secretary Coamberlain urging the immediate removal of the governor of this island, (Sir Cornelius Maloney), and the principal officials, "in whom the public has officials, "in whom the public has entirely lost confidence," and asking for the appointment of a royal commission of inquiry.

Modern English Music.

Toronto, March 26.—The guarantee fund for the coming festival of modern English music in Massey Hall on April 16, 17, 18, now amounts to about $50,000 and sets forth to the world at large in no mistaken degree that Toronto is possessed of the artistic side of life and capable of aspiring to the best in the realm of musical art. The program discloses the fact that the principal features of the concerts will be the performance of the works of the best known British composers, especially those compositions which have been written for and produced at English festivals. The series of festival choruses in Toronto and other Canadian cities has been prepared by Mr. C. A. E. Harriss, Ottawa, and will be personally conducted by Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the great English composer, assisted by London and Paris soloists.

Punctuality a Thief of Time.

Mr. Max Hecht writes: "On Thursday of last week at 3:30, the hour fixed for the rehearsal of 'Trial by Jury,' I met Mr. Gilbert at the stage door of the Lyric and congratulated him on his punctuality. 'Don't,' he replied, 'I have lost more time through being punctual than through anything else.'"—London M. A. P.

BURDENS OF THE FARMERS.

Oppose Higher Tariff and Object to Subsidies to Railways.

Ottawa, March 26.—The Manufacturers' Association having presented to the Government their case in favor of increased protection, a deputation representing the Farmers' Association yesterday laid before the Premier and the Ministers of Finance and Customs reasons against the raising of the tariff. They also opposed the granting of subsidies to railways, and advocated the passing of Mr. Cowan's bill for drainage across railways.

Mr. Fielding's Questions.

Mr. Fielding asked if the farmers represented in the deputation had railway facilities and means of shipping their products to market.

A reply in the affirmative was returned.

Mr. Fielding—Then, would you say that the farmers in some other portion of Canada should not have equal facilities.

Mr. Smith—I would say that the railways should be built entirely at the expense of the promoters, or as a Government undertaking.

Mr. Fielding—That is not an answer to my question. Should not other farmers be entitled to the same facilities that you enjoy?

Mr. Smith—Our position is, not another dollar for railway bonuses.

Sir Wilfrid thanked the deputation for favoring him with their views, and promised consideration.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by Smothered by Sand.

Yellow Grass, N.W.T., March 26.—While removing a crib in a newly-dug well, Alvin Johnson, aged 27, was smothered to death by a cave-in from sand, which poured down from above. His father tried to pull the lad up by the windlass, but the sand dribbled down too rapidly for him to do so.

Toronto's First Boxing.

Toronto, March 26.—The opening boxing show of the year will take place in the Mutual street rink on Saturday, April 4, the Crescent Athletic Club to-day having matched the featherweights Jack McClelland of Pittsburg and Billy Ryan of Syracuse to go 20 rounds at 126 lbs.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. Life Saving Devices.

Mimicry among butterflies, moths and other insects would be comic were it not a matter of life or death. Not a few moths have at the hinder ends of their wings a black mark and two or more tails resembling the horns of their own heads. A veteran in warfare not seldom has these portions missing, a proof of the value in having saved his life. Thus the lizard's brittle tail, which, first attracting the enemy, comes off at his touch, lets his would be prey escape. When at bay, crabs distract the enemy by throwing off their claws, and lobsters do the trick more neatly by seizing the enemy with a claw and then throwing off limb and enemy. Thus the bushy tail of the squirrel is accounted for. There is a chance of escaping the enemy minus only a mouthful of fur.

Now, however, Professor Wrong has found a spare date, and will speak to-morrow night.

REVISED WATER WORKS TARIFF

An Error in Figures is Made Right.

In the revised tariff of water rates of the Peterborough Water Works, prepared by the Commissioners and printed in last evening's Examiner, a transposition of figures should be corrected. As to water closets the tariff for these in private dwellings should read "$3," and hotels "$5."

It's a Case of "Have to."

If we were in the railroad business we would'nt mind moving; but when it comes to picking up a quarry of granite and marble made up into monuments and tombstones, you can't walk away with it so easy. Necessity has no law, and so the only way to help us out is to chip away at the prices and sell at rock-bottom or quarry figure. Our Thirty Days' Removal Sale is helping us to do the moving. LADY GOLFERS' ANNUAL MEETING.

Mrs. W. H. Hill was Elected President.

A Very Successful Season—Much Enthusiasm Shown—The Reports.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Ladies' Golf Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlour on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of the members of the club.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. R. M. Donnistoun, Mrs. Campbell was asked to take the chair.

The reports presented for the year were most favourable, the report of the captain, Mrs. Campbell, being particularly so, showing that the last season had been a most pleasant one for the players; the interest in the tournament and matches being very keen and well sustained.

The following officers were elected for the year:—

Hon. President—Mrs. J. F. Donnistoun.
President—Mrs. W. H. Hill.
Captain—Miss Clementi.
Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Jessie Donnistoun.
House Committee—Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. McLellan.
Match Committee—Mrs. Campbell, Miss Kingan, Mrs. Sanderson.

A vote of thanks was passed to the retiring officers, also to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of the parlour, and to the press for their unfailing kindness and courtesy during the past year.

The prospects for the Club this year are most encouraging. In addition to the regular tournament matches a handicap round will be played one day each week for a prize of two balls to be presented by Mr. Donnistoun, the President of the Golf Club, every week till the 1st of July.

SUTCLIFFE'S MILLINERY.

A Beautiful Display of Latest Spring Goods.

Messrs. J. Sutcliffe & Sons held a most successful spring opening last night. The front windows and the inside departments were artistically decorated with ribbons, giving a pretty effect to the eye, which generally sees the sides of shops one mass of white cardboard boxes arranged in pigeon-holes.

In the up-stairs department a very pretty stock of spring hats was displayed. It is but a matter of suggestion of the artistic trimming and fashioning of these hats to say that this part of the shop was crowded with ladies from early in the evening till late at night.

We can safely say that this was one of the most successful, if not the most successful, spring openings in town.

A PRESENTATION

To Lady Cheverille by the Members of Lady Maccabees.

A very pleasing affair took place at the residence of Mrs. C. H. Cheverille, 594 George street, last evening, when a number of the members of the Lady Maccabees assembled to show their regret at the loss of a member, who is leaving town. On behalf of the members Lady Wharton made the presentation, while the following address was read by Lady Titterson:

Dear Lady Cheverille,—We, the Lady Macabees, members of the Queen of Canada Hive, No. 338, desire on this occasion to tender you and yours our individual and collective good wishes for your future home.

Our relations as a fraternal society have always been of a sociable and friendly nature. Your unvaried kindness towards us and your earnest devotion in advancing our society have won our deepest gratitude and we therefore ask before departing from us to accept this gift as a slight token of your efforts.

Signed on behalf of the members of the Hive.

Peterborough, Ontario, March 25th, 1903.

Lady Cheverille was taken much by surprise but made a very pleasing and feeling reply in a few words.

THE FLOATING BRIDGE.

County Engineer Belcher Visited the Structure To-day.

Mr. John E. Belcher, County Engineer, this morning visited the Mud Lake floating bridge, in company with Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee of the County Council. Mr. Belcher states that the extent of the damage is not as great as it at first appeared, or as it now appears to anyone looking at it from the shore. Mr. Belcher states that the apron is badly damaged, but that no portion of the bridge has broken loose, the anchors having merely moved out of their places by the great force of the ice, and that even this is nothing more than may be expected each year.

COME WITH THE CROWDS ON SATURDAY!

A NIGHT OPERATOR FACED A REVOLVER.

Daring Attempt at Robbery at Tweed.

Masked Man was Captured and Lodged in Cell—Plucky Night Operator.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Tweed, March 26th. — A hold-up, after Western fashion, was attempted at the C. P. R. station here about 3 this morning. The night operator, Mr. L. Murphy, was taking a nap on the office desk, when he was suddenly awakened by the pressure of cold steel against his face, and opened his eyes only to see a masked figure holding a revolver pointing at his head. Murphy jumped up, kicked the revolver out of his would-be assassin's hand, and grabbed the man. In less time than it takes to tell it. Mr. Burglar was on his back, and in the firm grasp of the athletic and plucky Murphy.

The operator gave an alarm, and was reinforced by the night baggageman, and the agent, Mr. Gordon. While the struggle was going on the burglar tried to get free, but Murphy held him fast and discharged the weapon past his head to make him realize his position, and when he let up the man was black in the face from the firm grip which Murphy had on his throat.

The man was locked up and awaits trial. He is a young man, but rather undersized.

GOUGH BROS.' BIG OPENING.

A Grand Illuminated Display of New Stock.

Last Night's Elegant and Successful Spring Opening.

Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men, never do things by halves—except in the matter of cutting prices in two—and this applies to the magnificent spring opening of their immense establishment, which is packed like an egg with meat, with the most elaborate, most excellent, most superb collection of ready-made clothing, gentlemen's furnishings, hats and caps, boots and shoes, in fact everything needed to clothe mortal man or boy from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot—a range typical of the spirit of the relations of Gough Bros. to the public—the top notch of quality and kind and the bottom price—always in evidence. This is the reason why Gough Bros. court an illuminated inspection of their goods, why their palatial magazines of clothing wares were subjected to the fierce white blaze of the electric light. High class music was there to strike the keynote of high class goods, piled high and wide around the throngs of interested spectators who came to admire and will come again to buy. Gough Bros. great clothing opening was to the public an opening to the best stock of goods and the best values ever concentrated under one roof, and one that would raise the roof, if the enthusiasm of the throngs last night over the splendid goods displayed, could be converted into the material energy of jack screws.

The third annual spring opening of Messrs. Gough Bros., clothiers and boot and shoe furnishers, took place last night. From without, the whole establishment presented a most attractive appearance, and the strains of the orchestra wafted through the open door acted like magic, and induced a very large number of people to step inside and view the extensive stock of spring goods, which are selling at ridiculously low prices, considering their most excellent quality. Ferns and plants were set to advantage in every convenient place, and were obligingly supplied by Mr. Cobb, the well-known florist. The almost myriads of electric lights went a long way to invite the people inside, while the several clerks made everyone feel at their ease. One of the most fascinating attractions in the entire shop was the excellent orchestra, which, small as it was, effectually enticed and kept within the shop a very large number of people, by the beautiful renderings of several of the most popular and latest airs. The orchestra consisted of the following: Miss Lottie Bell, violinist; Miss Maggie Doherty, pianiste; Mr. J. Butcher, flute; Mr. J. Miller, cornet. Miss Bell's beautiful playing is well worthy of special mention. It might be here noted that Messrs. Gough Bros. were by the courtesy of the Heintzman Company, loaned a most excellent piano.

The superintendents in charge of the various departments might be mentioned on account of the interest they displayed in the welfare of their respective departments and of their well known and highly respected establishment. These were, Gentlemen's furnishings, J. McFadden; ready-to-wear clothing, J. T. C. Lang; hats and caps, J. Gorham; tailoring, D. Cameron; boots and shoes, F. C. Taylor.

The success of this, the third annual spring opening, was greatly due tot he efforts and interest displayed by the genial head managers, Messrs. Tully and McGrell, who are to be greatly complimented on their magnificent work.

ANNUAL CONTEST.

Trinity College Held Their Annual Gym. Contest.

Yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium of the Trinity College School, Port Hope, the annual gymnastic contest took place among the students who had been prepared by Sergt.-Major Davidson. The contest was very successful, there being a large number of spectators, particularly students and ladies. There were nine participants, all attaining such proficiency that it made the work of the judges a most difficult one. There were only thirteen points between the winner of the first medal and the man scoring the least number of points.

From a spectator's standpoint the work was pleasing to watch, as the boys took considerable pride in doing their work neatly, besides doing some feats that were certainly daring, but were backed by apparent confidence.

At the conclusion of the test, Dr. Symonds gave the boys a few words of encouragement, congratulating them on the splendid showing they made on the bars and flying rings, and their fine appearance in general.

Following are the names of the contestants with scores in order of merit:—McCaffrey, 82 per cent.; Holcroft, 81; Rhodes, 80; Bevan, 78; Wilkins, 76; Kerne, 76; Haggarty, 74; Chowne, 71; Allan, 67.

The contest was conducted by Messrs. Fred A. Clarke and H. E. Ayers, of town.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

IT IS KNOWN as Peterborough's band — the Fifty-Seventh — because the people are proud to own it, not in a proprietary sense, but to cheerfully recognize it as one of the best musical organizations in the province. And the people have also a material interest in our band — they contribute to its maintenance, not, perhaps, as liberally as effective equipment makes desirable, but in a fairly liberal way as regards many of our best citizens.

OUR BAND is now making preparations looking to the work of another season, and the public are being given an opportunity of assisting in the work. How excellent our band is, is shown by not only by the performances we are privileged to hear, but by comparison with the work of world-great band organizations. A few days ago the Royal Italian Band, led by Guiseppe Creatore, appeared in in Toronto, and among the numbers of its programme were five selections which are performed by our own town band — Chopin's Funeral March; the Sextette from Lucia, by Donisetti; Sousa's El Capitan; the Traviata Prelude, Verdi; and Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Scotland." Creatore's band is of world-wide reputation, and the fact that our band plays the same music, is a tribute to its excellence, we have every reason to appreciate, as well as the further fact that the Fifty-Seventh Band performs these selections as well, and in some regards better, than the Royal Italian Band. Of course the instrumentation of the latter band is more complete and elaborate, but in the matter of taste, variety of shading, just interpretation and artistic musical effect, the work of the Fifty-Seventh, under Mr. Gliddon's direction, is, in a real musical sense, preferable to the extravagant pyrotechnics elaborated by Creatore. The Fifty-Seventh Band justifies the interest and pride our citizens take in it. It is well instructed and conducted, and it is composed of capable and painstaking musicians, who have a delight in their work, and recognise the necessity of responding sympathetically to the exacting demands of their instructor, whose motto is thoroughness and finish.

APROPOS. "That anthem was beautifully sung," remarked a worshipper to a choir-master, after an evening service, not long ago. "I am glad to hear you say so. I should be disappointed if it were not — the choir has been working at it from time to time for months." There's a lesson in this for church choirs. No choir, no matter how clever, can sing well, without steady and long practice. When a choir learns to sing an anthem its work can by no means be regarded as done. The next step is to learn how to sing it. Choirmasters of long experience, especially the late Mr. Sewell, one of the best musicians, if not the best, we ever had in Peterborough, have asserted, and assert, that the rock in the way of effective choir music, is the cleverness of the average choir. The members know their music before they know it, and consider further practice a work of supererogation, or an insult to their musical ability. In taking this attitude, members of choirs are responsible for a great deal of sloppy church music, which they could avoid if they were willing to put the necessary work on their work. A rural choir in a couple of hours will stumble through a composition — which Westminster Abbey Choir would spend a month upon—and come up smiling on Sunday with a performance that is a parody on what they could do if they took the pains to practice. If any music should be perfectly—or as near as may be—perfectly sung it is church music. A preacher is as much justified in preaching a sloppy, disconnected, ill-arranged and crude sermon as a choir is in presenting music of a similar character. Besides, in taking an "O-that's-good-enough stand" in regard to their work, choirs are doing an injustice to themselves, and missing opportunities for improving themselves under competent instruction, in an art whose exercise is, both the divinest medium of praise and devotion and religious expression on earth, and the prelude to the perfect worship in the temple "not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens."

"TRENTON THE TERMINUS of the Trent Valley Canal" was the practical outcome of the joint conference last Tuesday night with the Port Hope people. The only dissenting voices outside the Port Hope delegation were those who were not familiar with all the underlaying conditions, which make Trenton the only proper and feasible terminus. So impregnable is this position that it is hardly open to question. The Port Hope proposal derives its sole importance from its weight as a factor in delaying construction—our demand is not obstruction but construction—and giving the Government an excuse for delay. To enlist general interest in the canal we must make it a national highway—the highway between the wheat fields of the Northwest and Montreal and this can be effected only by barge navigation which requires a land locked route such as the Trenton terminus will alone provide. By thus nationalizing the canal, the Government will secure a wider support of representatives in undertaking further construction work. As far as the mere matter of terminus is concerned it makes little difference whether it be at Port Hope or Trenton, but in the matter of making the canal a national highway it is a matter of vital importance. It might be better for Peterborough if the terminus were at Port Hope, but that is not the point. The point is to keep the canal as a national work to the front. By that means only can we get Governments to act, and Peterborough is concerned in the completion of the canal and is willing to even sacrifice some local advantages such as might result from the canal terminating at Port Hope, for the sake of having the work completed, which can never be done, unless it is done as a national work by the aid of national resources.

* * *

ONE OF THE PORT HOPE delegates mistook the pith of the matter when he appealed to Peterborough's local interest in the matter of the possible development of water powers on the Trenton route. The possibility of such development is an argument in favour of the Trenton route. It is estimated that sufficient horse power can be developed, to pay at the rate of $2 per horse power—the price fixed by Government—the interest on $4,000,000, more than enough to complete the canal from end to end. The real lesson of the conference last Tuesday night is to the friends of the canal—to take new and more energetic action in the direction of urging upon the Government further construction work. With Trenton as the southern outlet we shall have the canal as a national highway; if Port Hope is selected, that town will be the terminus in a double sense—the end of the canal as a national highway.

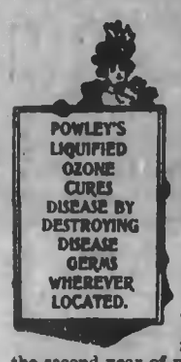
Catarrh and Bronchitis Eradicated

Contractor Ernest R. Cross, of Montreal, Was So Sick That He Could Not Walk and Was Reduced in Weight to Ninety-five Pounds.

Treated by Chicago Specialists, He Was Told He Had But Six Months to Live ---Then He Resorted to Patent Medicines, But Continued to Grow Worse.

Hearing of Powley's Liquified Ozone He Tried It—Soon He Noticed a Relief in Breathing—Now He Eats Well, Sleeps Well, Works Daily, and Has Gained Thirty Pounds in Weight.



Five years ago, ago, when suffering from catarrh, a serious bronchial cough made itself manifest and I at once took steps to have it checked, employing a good physician for that purpose. I continued to grow worse and became very weak in the course of time. I had periods of severe coughing and expectoration, especially in the mornings, and from the second year of my sickness suffered much from night sweats.

I had the attention of nearly every specialist in Chicago, whose final opinion was that I would not live another six months. I then fell back on patent medicines, in the vain hope that I would find something in them to meet my extreme case, but these also failed and I was brought to Canada and to Montreal. I was at length reduced in weight to ninety-five pounds, and last winter my life was considered not worth anything. However, I would rally a little at times and try and walk out. On one occasion I took an hour and a half to walk seven blocks and was then completely exhausted.

Last summer I took pneumonia; which seemed likely to prove the closing event of my long illness. Rallying from this, I could not walk across the room for the sense of suffocation. At this juncture in July last I heard of Powley's Liquified Ozone. I sent for a bottle and began taking it according to directions. I soon began to notice relief in breathing, while the night sweats and coughs were less severe.

I have now used in all four small and two large bottles, and I have no night sweats, but little cough, and am working hard every day without the least inconvenience. I sleep and eat well and have gained thirty pounds in weight.

I consider Powley's Liquified Ozone a boon to humanity and can honestly and heartily endorse all that is claimed for it.

THEORY VS. PROOF.

Have you ever noticed that while the patent medicine dealers are supplying you with theories as to why their remedies should cure disease that we are furnishing proof of the most positive, convincing kind that Powley's Liquified Ozone does cure disease? By destroying the disease germs, as it did in the case of Mr. Cross, it effects cures in cases that the ordinary drug preparations could not touch. Never has a preparation been so enthusiastically endorsed as Ozone From coast to coast letters are received telling of the great good that this infallible drugless preparation is doing in eradicating disease.

BANKRUPT RAILWAYS.

An Interesting Discussion on Two Motions by Mr. Tarte—The Date of Calling Parliament.

Ottawa, March 26.—As this was private membe s' day a wide range of subjects were dealt with in the House. The greater part of the afternoon was taken up with a discussion as to the fixing of a date for the calling of Parliament. A strong feeling in favor of autumn sessions was shown by a number of members, particularly from the western and the Maritime Provinces. Sir Wilfrid Laurier favored the end of January or the 1st of February, and explained that the session this year would have been called at the usual time had it not been for the state of his own health. Last night the estimates for Ontario public buildings were taken up, but owing to persistent opposition from the left only four items, aggregating $43,000, were passed.

Mr. Geo. D. Grant, member for North Ontario, was introduced by Sir Wm. Mulock and Mr. Robert Holmes. He was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the Liberal members.

Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Tarte moved for all correspondence between the Government and the Grand Trunk Railway.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that, as the Government was still considering a proposition made by the Grand Trunk Railway, and, as nothing definite had yet been done, it would be imperative that he should wait. The Premier intimated that information would be given to the House shortly, possibly within two weeks.

Mr. Tarte's motion was withdrawn.

A further request for papers in connection with the Canadian Northern Railway was approved of.

Insolvent Railways.

The discussion of the afternoon ensued on the following motions of Mr. Tarte: Address—Copies of all correspondence between the Government or any department and the officers or managers of the South Shore Railway during the last twelve months; also, copies of all representations that may have been made to the Government in reference to the working of that road.

Address—Copies of all correspondence received by the Government, and of all answers made thereto, concerning the Southeastern Valley Railway and the United Counties Railway; also copies of all reports that may have been made regarding the actual condition of such railways.

Mr. Tarte declared the South Shore Railway had received $1,000,000 of a subsidy, but had not, or did not, take the power to make the present owners of the road run it satisfactorily. The road was run only sufficiently to keep it alive. The Government should put an end to this condition of affairs.

Mr. Casgrain complained of the unsatisfactory state of the law relating to insolvent railways. A creditor of the South Shore Railway could not recover a dollar to-day, because of conflict between Provincial and Federal authority. The Winding-Up Act should be made to apply to railways.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was agreeable to accept an amendment to the Exchequer Act.

Mr. Blair said a Government inspector was already inspecting the South Shore Line. As to Mr. Casgrain's contention, he complained it was not so easy to find a remedy.

The first motion carried.

Mr. Tarte, speaking to his second motion, said it was a fact that the Eastern Valley Railway and the United Counties Railway were closed. Here Canada had given a bonus to railways, yet when they ceased operations nothing could be done. The roads, ran through a rich country, and the traffic would pay.

Mr. Blair—Why are they not run, then."

Mr. Tarte said the subsidies voted by the Government had been diverted by the people who promoted the roads, right and left, and the builders were to-day short of funds. Was it not possible for Parliament to prevent a Government aided road getting into the hands of the people who wanted merely to exploit it?

Mr. Blair wanted to know who the owners of the road were. Were they financially responsible? Perhaps the Government could force them to operate the roads

Sir Wilfrid Laurier admitted that no doubt a lamentable condition of affairs existed in that section, but, although the roads had been closed for five or six weeks, this was the first intimation the House had of the fact. The law was apparently imperfect, and should be amended in some way, so that precautions may be taken, when granting assistance for railway construction, to give some assurance that not only would the road be constructed, but that it would be operated.

Mr. Puttee (Winnipeg), Dr. Sproule, Mr. Monk, Mr. Tarte, and Mr. Parmalee, continued the debate, after which the motion was carried.

The Calling of Parliament.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in discussing the motion presented by Mr. Boyd, as follows:

"That this House is of opinion that this Parliament should be called for the despatch of business on or about the last Thursday of November of each and every year."

Boundary Question.

Mr. Borden asked Sir Wilfrid if Canada had agreed to the Canada-Alaska boundary treaty.

Sir Wilfrid replied in the affirmative, and repeated much of what he said when he spoke on the address.

Ontario Estimates Up.

When the House reassembled at 8 o'clock, Ontario estimates were taken up.

Hours were consumed in discussing grants to public buildings in Ontario, and finally four items, aggregating $43,000 were passed, and the House adjourned.

FIGHTING MAC DEAD

Gen MacDonald Killed Himself in a Hotel in Paris.

SHOT IN THE RIGHT TEMPLE

Sir Hector, Famous British Soldier, Expired Almost Immediately—Nothing Bearing on the Tragedy of His Life Found Among His Papers or Baggage — Body Now in British Hands.

Paris, March 26.—Major-General Sir Hector MacDonald, commanding the British forces in Ceylon, and one of the foremost officers in the British army, against whom charges, based on immoral acts, were filed some time ago, committed suicide yesterday at the Hotel Regina here. He shot himself in the right temple shortly after noon and expired a few minutes later.

The general was alone in his small chamber, on the Mezzanine floor of the hotel at the time of the tragedy. One of the female attendants heard the pistol shot, and opening the door, saw the general's figure outstretched on the floor with the blood gushing from a bullet wound in the head. She ran screaming to the balcony. The proprietor of the hotel was the first to reach the expiring man. Medical help was immediately summoned, but was found to be useless, death ensuing quickly.

No money or papers of any kind were found in Sir Hector's baggage. Two notes written in English were found lying on a table in his room, and these were taken possession of by the authorities, but it is understood their contents have no bearing on the suicide.

In the general's coat, lying on the bed, were found some photographs. The British Embassy and Consulate were notified later, and Consul-General English visited the hotel and took charge of the body, which was placed on the bed. The door was then locked, the Consul-General taking the key. The French officials took possession of the revolver.

Sir Hector MacDonald arrived in Paris last Friday evening from London on his way back to Ceylon, where it was understood that an immediate court-martial would be held to clear up the charges made against him.

On reaching the hotel at 11 o'clock at night he said he only intended to stay a day or two in Paris. Little was seen of him since his arrival. He was, however, in the hotel lobby, about noon yesterday, and it is believed that a newspaper printed in English, containing a resume of the grave echarges brought against him and embellished with the general's portrait in full uniform came under his attention.

He left the lobby, going to his room, and the pistol shot followed soon after.

Both the British Embassy and Consul-General English have advised London of the tragedy and are awaiting definite instructions.

The general's suicide has profoundly shocked the British officials here. These, about the hotel, who had conversed with Sir Hector MacDonald recently, say he showed no signs of excitement or mental worry.

Major-General Hector Archibald MacDonald, C.B., D.S.O., was called from the Schrind District in India to succeed the late General Wauchope in command of the Highland Brigade. He had a most distinguished career. He owes everything to his own energy and military ability, for he rose from the ranks to a commission. He fought through the Afghan war, and accompanied Sir Frederick Roberts on the great march from Cabul to Candahar, and was made a second lieutenant for his brilliant services. He was in the Boer war of 1881, and was present at Majuba Hill. Much of his experience was won in fighting on the Nile. His regimental service has been with the Gordon Highlanders and the Royal Fusiliers.

Has De Jonge Suicided?

Ottawa, March 26.—Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., believes that Gen. De Jonge, who has disappeared from Toronto, has committed suicide. A few days ago he received a letter from the general saying he intended to make away with himself. His wife had disowned him for aiding the British, and Col. Hughes thinks the general was mentally unbalanced.

The Passenger Pigeon.

Apropos of the recent discussion concerning the wild pigeon, Mr. L. H. Smith, Strathroy, writes: I was pleased to read in Canadian papers recently some very pertinent remarks on the passenger pigeon, and hope that it will be the means of reports being made by farmers, lumbermen and others who may be so fortunate as to find the nests or see any of those now almost extinct beautiful birds. I am a bird student, but have not had the pleasure of seeing a passenger pigeon for many years.

The cause of the almost total extinction of these birds, which in my time swarmed here in countless millions is a puzzle to naturalists. My own theory is they were slowly starved. The natural food of the passenger pigeon was beechnuts, acorns, wild fruits of many kinds and mast, of which there was an endless supply in the thousands of miles of forests which was never touched by the axe till the white man came. Settlement commenced at the Atlantic seaboard, and it took many many years, but the time came when this immense Atlantic-slope forest of deciduous trees was all destroyed and the passenger pigeon's fate was sealed.

My bird record, which I have kept since 1869, shows that the passenger pigeon began to dwindle in numbers in this part of Ontario in the sixties, and the last I saw here was in 1883. Perhaps the cause of the extinction of this beautiful bird will never be positively and satisfactorily settled, but I think my theory is a possible and very reasonable one.

GIVE IT A REST.

That is What the Stomach Signals for—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will Digest the Food While the Stomach Rests.

Those who are suffering from the first mild discomforts that are the forerunners of Dyspepsia, little realize what the future has in store for them, unless the warnings sent out by the distressed stomach are heeded. The stomach signals that it needs rest, and if it does not get it it grows more tired and less able to do its work as time wears on, and the while those discomforts grow to pains, and the pains to agonies that are a terrible menace to life itself.

Take warning from those who have learned by terrible experience the pains and dangers of dyspepsia. Mrs. John F. Sillars, of Western Bay, Newfoundland, is one of them. Here is what she says:

"For seven years," Mrs. Sillars relates, "I suffered from Dyspepsia. I could not eat without suffering intense agony. I doctored some but to no avail, and I had almost given up myself to die. An advertisement in a paper drew my attention to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I bought some and began to take them. From almost the first dose I found relief, and after using five boxes I found myself well and strong."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food themselves. They give the overworked stomach a chance to get the rest that it needs.

An English Joke.

A story is going about with regard to a certain financier whom we will call Low, because though it is not actually the name, it fits well into the remark. The great dream of his life has been to obtain a foreign barony from some potentate in return for "financial services." He is also, perhaps, a little addicted to stimulants. There is now a prospect that his dream will be fulfilled and that he will become a baron of a small German state. He is very anxious about his title and has consulted all his friends. One of them, slightly bored, suggested "Baron Low de Vie" (l'eau de vie.—Anglice, brandy.)—London Tatler.

Nerve Sufferers Need Sympathy

And More Than That, the Nerve Cells Must be Restored and Revitalized by the Use of

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Too many doctors have no sympathy with the sufferer from diseases of the nerves. They do not understand the nervous system, and when the victim of nervous exhaustion or prostration appeals to them he is told to "brace up," forget his trouble, and he will soon be all right.

Anyone who has had nervous prostration, been scarcely able to drag about, felt energy and vitality growing less, and been in constant dread of paralysis, or even insanity itself, knows how utterly useless and discouraging is such advice.

Nervous diseases cannot right themselves. Exhausted, shrivelled nerve cells can never revitalise themselves without assistance from outside. If the blood is weak and watery, and fails to afford proper nourishment, restoratives must be used. Recovery is bound to be slow, but it is none the less certain, and there is no combination of ingredients which has proven so successful as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This famous food is not a stimulant to arouse false hope, but a true restorative, reconstructing wasted cells and tissues, and instilling into the blood and nerves the essential principles of life and vigour.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food soon wins the confidence of all who are pale, thin, weak or exhausted, for by noting your increase in weight while using it you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added to the body, and realize that weakness and disease are giving way to strength and vigour. Fifty cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 1

Father and Son

BOTH CURED OF KIDNEY TROUBLE BY

Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Benjamin Brooks, a well-known farmer of West Cape, P.E.I., tells of how his son was cured of Kidney Disease, and how he was cured of Backache.

The First Sign of Kidney Trouble.

He says: "Our little boy was troubled with kidney disease. We had tried many kinds of kidney pills but they only helped for a time. We got Doan's Kidney Pills and one box effected a perfect cure. About six weeks after this I caught a very bad cold that settled in my kidneys. My back was so sore I could hardly walk. I went to the drug store and got a box, took them according to directions and the result was that my back was completely cured. I believe they are the best kidney pill on the market to-day."

There is not a kidney trouble from Backache to Bright's Disease that Doan's Kidney Pills will not relieve or cure. The price is 50 cts. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25 and may be procured at all dealers or from

THE NATION'S VOICE.

VOCAL ORGANS OF THE MAKERS OF CANADA'S STATUTES.

The Parliamentary Style Has Changed Since Demosthenes Ranged on This Sphere — Stained Glass and Actors' Methods Have Departed From French Law Making—Virility of Thought Is Heightened by the Modern Methods.

The late lamented Demosthenes used to say that all of oratory was in action. Time has reviewed the old Greek's conclusions, and in Anglo-Saxon deliberative assemblies at least, the whole of oratory is in the voice. Even the French members of the Canadian Parliament are affected by this prejudice against facial play and appropriate gesture. At first they think it strange that such a splendid rhetorician as Sir Richard Cartwright should get up and deliver his liveliest invectives with a passionless voice, a straight face, and a body as immobile as an Egyptian mummy in its swathings. But after a while it dawns on them that, perhaps, the spoken word gains force by its detachment from theatrical arts, and that a great speech stands out more clearly if it is free from sage posturings and stained glass attitudes. Parliamentary speakers of note, refuse to rob the thought of its virility by the methods of the actor.

Modern Methods Different.

There are, of course, reasons for this. It is not every politician who could adorn his language with suitable gestures. A man must have a natural bent that way, or he must have been trained in a dramatic school. Besides, nowadays the statesmen who should unite the gifts of a Garrick with the eloquence of a Burke would be too compelling to be comfortable. We must thank Providence and a constitutional monarchy that these things are kept decently within metes and bounds. It was all very well for Demosthenes, or Aeschines, or Pericles, or Cicero to sway the multitude with nuances of voice and graces of action, but there were no newspapers in those days. A speech depended for its currency on the mouth-to-mouth report. Consequently it was the statesman's business to make as deep an impression as he could when he got the chance. The public man of to-day knows that, through the press, he addresses a national audience, and that the few immediate hearers need not be tickled because the far greater part of his audience will read what he said in a place where charm of manner cannot be set down. This leads to an emphasis of matter, and by easy steps to the abandonment of all manner save what belongs to the man himself. In Quebec oratory flourishes in the good old way because Quebec is not the newspaper-reading Province that Ontario is.

The Frenchman Modernized.

It doesn't take the French member long to realize that in speaking to the larger audience of the newspapers he accomplishes nothing by throwing his arms about, working his eyebrows, or indulging in the gesticulating practices that influence a political meeting in Quebec. Presently his gestures become less sweeping, less frequent, though he rarely forsakes them altogether. He is willing to make some concession to custom and common sense, though he isn't quite convinced that the English way is best. True, it has logic and the conservation of human energy at bottom; it leaves more time for thinking and less for studying poses before a mirror; but it is, to some extent, a sacrifice of graphic oratory and the modes that prevail in Quebec. However, he bows to the dominant feeling, and teaches his hands and eyes to disregard his utterances.

But when it comes to the voice—to those fine shadings that denote the emotions, and that make a French speech intelligible to a listener, who knows nothing of that tongue, he will not yield one iota, says H.F.G. in The Star. His lyceum training is too strong for him, and so we have the rotund, the sostenuto, and all those formal effects of elocution which good (debating and dramatic) schools inculcate. If—so he argues—the word is the body of the thought then the voice is its beauty, the outward and visible sign of an inward, spiritual grace. Why then should he send a grand thought out into the world without some sweet garniture of expression?

Mr. Paterson's Voice.

There is one English voice in the House of Commons, a voice always de profundis, a voice that shakes the lacunas in the ceiling with as little effort as the car rumbling over the stony pavement. That voice belongs to the Minister of Customs, not so tremendous now as in days of yore, but still big enough to make the French members sit up and envy the possessor of that splendid instrument. This voice of Paterson's, which caused the Indians of Brant County to call him Big Thunder, is equal to all occasions. It never breaks, or falters, or grows rugged. It is always vast and imposing. When Senator McMullen was in the House of Commons the green chamber used to revel in the contrast between the Niagara tones of the Minister of Customs, and the shrill, high-pitched organ of the member for North Wellington.

The Premier's Style.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is quite English in his repose of manner while delivering a speech, though a few of the stock gestures of the lyceum stick to him and are used occasionally. Also he dispenses largely with reflections of voice and relies on matter more than on manner. Outside his accent, anything we may call Gallicism in his speeches is to be referred to the political form in which he couches an idea rather than in the way he delivers it. The Premier's best speeches are classical in form—a classicism he gets from Racine and the French poets. His voice is not a flexible instrument, and none realizes its limitations better than the Premier himself. He makes no large calls on it, being content with its ordinary timbre, which carries well to all parts of the House.

Other French Voices.

As far as vocal equipment is concerned, Bourassa is the best provided of the French members of the Commons. His voice is clear, high, ringing, and in declamatory passages strindent and impassioned.

Hon. Mr. Tarte, late Minister of Public Works, is in a class by himself, with his broken, ejaculatory English, and a certain nervous unease in his tones, which makes him a hard man to follow. Bernier, Minister of Inland Revenue, speaks rarely, and then in a gruff voice that goes well with the general burliness of the man. Bernier is not an academician, and cultivates none of the fine arts of oratory.

Carroll, Solicitor-General, has a voice cold and clear, and in none of its moods melting. Somers of St. John and Iberville unites great facility of gesture with as much immobility of style. His style of delivery is strenuous, and his voice strepitant.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's Rich Voice.

The Minister of Justice, Mr. Fitzpatrick, has a rich voice in the conversational register, with just a suspicion of what we know as a Dublin accent, but it is not a voice that soars far. It is a persuasive voice—a voice di camera, as the Italians say. For a stout man Mr. Blair has a thin voice. The Minister of Marine never addresses the House, he talks to it in the same familiar way that he uses in No. 16. Sir Richard Cartwright has a voice that is meat for the mimic—somewhat throaty, high, and metallic, but deep pitched; the kind of voice that might take the tenor part in a quartette.

Tears in Theirs.

There is one well-defined class of voices in the House to which John Haggart, Cochrane of East Northumberland, and Col. Tisdale belong. This may be described as the plaintive voice. John Haggart never speaks but one recalls that verse of Gray's Elegy:

"The moping owl doth to the morn complain."

When Col. Tisdale addresses Mr. Speaker, he seems always to be on the verge of tears. One more sin on the Government's part, and the gallant colonel would break down and sob aloud. Cochrane has a touch of indigestion in his grief — like the naughty boy who has been spanked for playing truant. It seems, however, that they always spoke this way even when they were on the right of Mr. Speaker, and that circumstances have not made them thus dolorous. They are in marked contrast to E. F. Clarke, who seems to radiate good cheer in the most despairing words, and who is always calm, deliberate and in high spirits. The voice of Sproule has a soporific quality. It never raises. It has the same drowsy persistence as the song of the telegraph wires—soothing but mournful.

The Fast Ones.

The Maxim gun style of delivery, rapid, sharp, sometimes jerky, explosive but fluent the terror of the Hansard men—includes many of the members. At the head of the list stands the Minister of Finance, who can compress three hours of speaking into an hour and a half by sheer speed in delivery. Mr. Fielding's voice is high-pitched and dangerous, so high-pitched that it leaves him no room for impassioned perorations or thrusts of rhetoric. It is at full tilt all the time. Along with him must be classed Col. Sam Hughes, Northrup of East Hastings, W. F. Maclean, Dr. Russell, and A. E. Kemp. All these men are lightning speakers, and the despair of the Hansard staff. There are two men in the nasal class—Dr. Macdonald and Mahlin K. Cowan. There is this difference: The Deputy Speaker's voice is high-pitched; Cowan's is low. Both of them, judging from their accent, might be taken for down east Yankees. The member for South Essex has another mannerism, in that he alternates the high and low pitch with the regularity of the antiphones in a cathedral choir and with much the same intonation. John Charlton adopts the conversational tone, and when he gets into statistics it is quite easy to imagine him reading from one of his own magazine articles. Fraser of Guysboro hardly has the voice that one would expect from his size. The big Nova Scotian always speaks as if he were scant of breath.

The leader of the Opposition has a voice full and rich, and treats his vowels with English generosity. His lieutenant, Monk, shows a baritone quality, but is distressingly nasal, as often happens to men who speak French and English with equal fluency.

Handling the Reins.

There is one way of handling a spirited horse that upon certain occasion I have found particularly serviceable, remarks a correspondent in an exchange Not a few farm horses that are restive and afraid when around railroad trains and nearing crossings are made so by the seeming timidity of the drivers. If the driver is the least bit nervous and begins to pull a little on the reins, the horse discovers it instantly and is upon his mettle, while if the driver is cool and handles the reins precisely as elsewhere there are few horses that discover anything to be afraid of even when the train appears in sight. The action of the driver in many cases determines the action of the horse.

Three Signs.

When I was a young man, said an old timer, I was employed in an Ohio town of some 1,800 inhabitants. One day the town was billed from roof to foundation in flaming letters, "They're Coming!" One couldn't go amiss of the big letters. They followed him everywhere, and half the town would awaken in the middle of the night with those huge letters staring them in the face, while they wondered what it all meant.

A week or more passed, and one morning every one of those signs was covered with another equally flaming "They Have Come; at Town Hall Tonight!" And you may be sure the town turned out in force. There wasn't standing room, although a liberal admittance fee was charged. Inside a big curtain excluded the stage, and to this all eyes were turned as the appointed hour drew near. There was a little delay, and it was about half past 8 when the curtain slowly rose, disclosing to view another of the big lettered signs, only the wording was different this time.

The sign read "They Have Gone!" And you can bet your last dollar it wasn't long before the townspeople had gone. Some clever fellows had worked the game successfully and got away with a snug little sum, leaving only a couple of townspeople to pull up the curtain.

Could Not Sleep At Night.

Was All Run Down.

Had No Appetite.

FOOD WOULD NOT DIGEST.

Mrs. L. W. Warner, Riverdale, N.S., is glad there is such a remedy as Burdock Blood Bitters.

IT CURED HER

AND WILL CURE YOU.

She says: "I wish to add my testimony to the many others who have spoken so highly as to the unfailing virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was all run down, had no appetite, lost all ambition, could not sleep much and had terrible headache and backache, and my food did not digest properly. I saw B.B.B. advertised, so concluded to give it a trial, thinking if it did no good it could do no harm. But after using one bottle I began to feel better, and by the time I had used three bottles I was feeling like a new person. I am so glad there is such a remedy provided for suffering humanity, and cannot praise it enough for I think there is no medicine like it on the market."

Draw Your Own Conclusions After Reading This Letter.

Mr. T. W. Dobbie, a popular citizen and Provincial Land Surveyor and Conveyancer, of Tilsonburg, Ont., writes as follows:—

"I have been a constant user of your Malt Breakfast Food since last spring. Now, I never have a breakfast without it when I am at home. It is a grand food for promoting good digestion. I find that I am not troubled with dizziness or biliousness while using Malt Breakfast Food."

If you have doubts about the virtues of Malt Breakfast Food, ask your grocer for his opinion. Physicians and food experts say it is the only true health food in the world. Try it and be convinced.

CHILL WINDS

Are the dread of those whose lungs are "weak." Some fortunate people can follow the summer as it goes southward, and escape the cold blasts of winter and the chill airs of spring. But for the majority of people this is impossible. Family cares and business obligations hold them fast.

"Weak" lungs are made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures the obstinate cough, heals the inflamed tissues, stops the hemorrhage, and restores the lost flesh to the emaciated body.

"I am a railroad agent," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay, Osage Co., Kans., "and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines, will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—
X-d, 3½%

New York, March 26, 10.10 a. m. — Southeran Pacific 1-4 lower and St. Paul and Reading 1-2 lower. Money conditions unchanged. South Africans and home rails fractionally lower. Consols 1-16 lower at 90 5-16 in London. Outlook for unsettled market, general sentiment depressed by disappointing action and uncertainty of money situation, further agravated by uncertainty at London and depressed conditions of that market generally. While there may have been some increase in short interest in yesterday's trading, most of selling was long stock coming from disappointed buyers and tired holders. Beyond slight rallies from covering of shorts there is nothing in situation to encourage anything better than a continued narrow and irregular market with downward tendency.

New York, March 26, 11.20 a. m. — Wheat opens strong, some big common people buyers. Our advices. West and South West says conditions of growing crop is simply perfect. This is bearish feature.

11.30 a. m. —The stock market is steadier on support and more resistence to bear pressure. London sold about 10,000. Most of the selling after the first hour came from the traders. Some disposition to discuss bank statement and it can hardly be expected to be as favourable as last Saturday's. Our own opinion is that the statement will prove a negative one.

1.10 p. m. — Covering of shorts has furnished the chief support to this slight improvement in stock market. It continues professional and very narrow. Nearly four days' sagging is sufficient to cause a rally. We do not believe rallies will be extensive or hold. In copper the pool has sold a great deal of stock and shaken out the weak long interests. Inside brokers have been buying it on the break. There has been no important news developments.

Liverpool close, wheat 1-4 higher; corn 3-8 higher.

M. & M.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 26. — To-day's security market drifted in a desultory way with the tendency early towards slightlower levels. A.C.P. was under pressure declining over a point during the first two hours. Met. Ry. was advanced a point and a half during the same period, balance of list was rather neglected. Early efforts of the bears to hammer the market was met by supporting orders and the attempt was abandoned. Noon-day session was dull and featureless with trading very light. For the present likely to a trading market but hardly look for prices to work much lower and advise buying on the breaks, reselling on a fair bulge. Confine your operations to standard issues and be satisfied with moderate profits. Most of the offices in the street were practically deserted and commission houses report little or no business.

We feel friendly to B.O. and Tex. Pac. and especially Mex. Cen. Any decline in these take some on. Do not hold for big profits or make the mistake of buying on bulges. Even Amal. copper scored a further reaction in the afternoon session, but good support appeared under 69 which checked the decline for the time being. Later on A.C.P. sold as low as 68 on persistent hammering by bear party, the whole list late displayed great weakness and the close was at the bottom figures for the day.

Chicago. — Closing Prices: — Wheat, May, 73 3-4 a 7-8; corn, May, 43 1-8; oats, May, 33 1-4; pork, May, 17.95; lard, May, 10.10.

Wheat held fairly well throughout the day; hardly think present conditions warrant present low level as bears have forced market to lower point than can be consistently maintained. While our opinions expressed in these letters have been bearish ever since wheat was selling 10 points higher; think time has come to cover short contracts. Corn think well to favour the long side as there are too many people talking bearish.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Meeting of the Rugby Executive To-morrow Evening.

Expected Organization of Trent Valley Lacrosse League—Other Sports.

BASKETBALL.

All who possibly can should turn out to see the basketball match between Albert College, Belleville, and the Harriers of Peterborough, which will be played off in the Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium to-morrow night. Besides the match there will be an interesting fencing and gymnastic performance. The local Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium authorities expect a very large number of spectators, accommodations for about 300 having been provided for. The home team will consist of the following: — Campbell and Richardson, defence; Laing, centre; Dobbin and Kemp, forwards. Mr. McGuire will umpire and Mr. H. E. Ayers will officiate as referee.

There will also be two fencing bouts of three minutes each between Sandford Hall of the Bank of Toronto, and Mr. Watson of the Bank of Montreal.

GOLF.

Mr. George Cummings, professional of the Toronto Golf Club, will spend a day at the Peterborough golf links in the near future. He is passing through Peterborough to St. Andrew's, N.B., where he will lay out a golf course. As he has covered the 18 hole course of the Toronto Golf Club in 66, his play will be very interesting and worth watching. The Toronto links contain some holes of 600 yards, so that one can see that his playing must have been phenomenal. He will have a game with several of the local players. Date and particulars will be mentioned later.

RUGBY.

The executive and players of the Rugby Football Team will hold a meeting to-morrow night in the Oriental Hotel.

LACROSSE.

As the Trent Valley Hockey League did something to arouse a friendly rivalry among the towns in the Trent Valley District, it has been proposed that a lacrosse league be organized on much the same basis as the hockey league. To this end a meeting has been arranged to take place in the Oriental Hotel on Saturday next, at ten o'clock. Lacrosse clubs from the surrounding towns, wishing to join the proposed T. V. Lacrosse League have been asked to send two representatives to this meeting, at which it is hoped that organization will be effected.

HOCKEY.

Any of the T.A.S. Hockey Team, who have not had their photos taken yet, should not fail to go to Mr. Whiten's studio not later than Saturday of this week.

WRESTLING.

Tuesday, March 31st, will be a night of great interest to local sports. On this date Geo. Gauthier, the well-known local wrestler, who has beaten all his opponents this year, will wrestle with Dan Simon, the Quebec champion, for a purse of $50, catch-as-catch-can style, best two out of three falls to count. The promoters of the entertainment have matched Willie Popp, 115 pound champion of Canada, and Pete Barry, 115, Champion, C.A.A.U. last year, to box for a purse of $50, and the 115 pound championship of Canada. This will be a ten round bout.

There will also be a four round boxing bout and a wrestling bout besides a bag-punching competition between Arthur Edmonds of Toronto, and John McDonough of Peterborough. There will also be other attractions. This nigh should be a most exciting one to all lovers of good clean sport.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL NEEDED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir, — My attention has been called to the dilemma of the local Board of Health caused by their inability to provide sufficient accommodation for persons in our midst suffering from infectious diseases.

The existing infectious ward at the Nicholls Hospital has been during the prevailing epidemic entirely inadequate and of course can only furnish room for one kind of disease at a time.

Scarlet fever having established itself in the ward, all cases of measles and diphtheria had to be declined, as well as some cases of scarlet fever, for lack of room.

Now, in a place of the size and growing importance of Peterborough, such things ought not to be. Think for a moment of the expense and inconvenience forced upon citizens, whether well-to-do, or not, through accidental infection by one or other of said diseases. First, a medical attendant makes daily visits for one or two weeks, and orders certain medicines; medical comforts, and possibly appliances for the proper treatment of the disease. Second, a professional nurse must be secured, if possible. Third, the other occupants of the house must either give up their business or employment, to say nothing of entire retirement from social life of all kinds, or live at additional expense some place else. Fourth, after the five or six weeks required by law have elapsed, the house and contents, (including such of the clothing as has not been destroyed in the process of treating the disease) must be fumigated, and the much-dreaded house-cleaning campaign begun.

Now, contrast the condition of affairs if the patient is sent to the hospital:

There a physician, nurse (day and night) medicines and nourishment suitable for the patient's requirements from stage to stage may all be provided for 40 cents per day, or for SIX weeks, $16.80, a sum equal to what a nurse alone would cost for ONE week in a private family. Then, in addition the home life goes along as usual, and the friends are not wearied with attendance upon the sick, and extra household duties.

Let me state here, by way of parenthesis, that in view of all the advantages derived from the use of the infectious ward, 40 cents per day is altogether too small a charge. This ward should be made at the least self-sustaining.

But the point I wish to make just now is that for the above reasons an isolation hospital for the Town and County of Peterborough, open to all creeds and nationalities, is an absolute necessity. I think it should have a wing each for diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, tuberculosis, and, possibly, small-pox, the whole being under the control of a resident physician, giving his entire time to the treatment of infectious diseases. The result would be that the general practitioner would be relieved from all possibility of infecting his patients through non-attendance upon infectious cases.

It seems to me such a hospital could be made largely self-sustaining. Should not its erection be seriously considered by the proper authorities before the epidemic of another winter overtakes us?

Perhaps at some future time you may be good enough to again place some space at my disposal for the purpose of discussing the treatment of tuberculosis, than which there is no disease so widespread, and yet so easily controlled and cured by timely intelligent supervision.

Your obedient servant,
J. W. BENNET.

Peterborough, 26th March, 1903.

Mr. Ball, of Chatham, Ont., Was Told That He Would Never Walk Again.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Great Spring Cleanser and Life Giver Saved the Popular Auctioneer's Life When all Other Agencies Failed.

Paine's Celery Compound is to-day the most reliable and most successful spring medicine in the world. The present enormous demand is the best proof of its popularity. It has almost entirely displaced the common remedies in pill and liquid forms once so common, and in many respects so dangerous to health and life.

Paine's Celery Compound has been marvellously successful for the simple reason that, in every instance it accomplishes more than is claimed for it. It is the one spring remedy that physicians and the best people indorse. Men and women of wealth and high social position, able to command the services of the most eminent medical men, use Paine's Celery Compound in springtime, having full confidence in its virtues. Paine's Celery Compound is, par excellence, the great blood purifier; it increases the constructive capacity of the vital fluid, nourishes the tissues and builds up the body. It is the only remedy that copes successfully with all forms of kidney troubles. Mr. H. Ball, a prominent citizen of Chatham, Ont., says:

"I was so seriously ill I was obliged to take to my bed, where I lay for four months. The doctors here and in Toronto said my trouble was Addison's disease of the kidneys, and told me I would never walk again. I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound, and after the use of a number of bottles was enabled to attend to business, and felt like a new man. Before using the compound I was very much reduced in flesh; to-day I weigh over 200 pounds. I can affirm that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

—Gilmour and Rathbun Companies have gangs of men at work running logs out of Union Creek, Galway township, which empties into the Burnt River near Rettie's Station. The creek is only about six miles long, but it is difficult to navigate. It is very narrow and has about fifty twists to the mile, making it very difficult to avoid jams.

About Drainage

You know the deadly consequences if a house is badly drained. Only a madman or a criminal would himself incur the risk, or subject others to it, for one unnecessary minute.

But do you realize the danger of a badly drained body? Are you aware that it poisons the blood, the very fountain of life?

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. T. B. Jobe Married to Miss Grace Williams, of North Monaghan.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Park street Baptist church on Monday afternoon, when Miss Miss Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Williams of North Monaghan, was united in holy wedlock to William J. E. Jobe of Ware street, town.

The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her brother, at 4 o'clock, in the presence of may relatives and friends, and was was united to the man of her choice, by Rev. Mr. Bastow, of the Murray street Baptist church.

The bride was prettily sweet in a gown of pearl cashmere, trimmed with white silk and carrying a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Gibson, who was attired in navy blue and white and carrying a bouquet of white carnations. Mr. John Williams supported the groom. The ceremony over they drove to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding feast was served to about forty guests, with all the good things of the season, and with Rev. Mr. Bastow presiding at the table. The young couple received the sincere good wishes of all for a happy married life.

The attractive array of useful and costly presents spoke very plainly of the esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. Jobe wishes to return many thanks to the employees of the Trent Valley Canal for their token of respect by sending a beautiful extension oak table and a large lamp.

Dr. Pyne's Story Comes to a Very Sudden Stop.

CHARGE OF DR. REAUME, ALSO

Mr. John Lee and Mr. J. A. Auld Explain—Speakership Gives Entry Into Toronto's 400—House Sees the Humor, and the Ambitious Ghost of Dr. Reaume Is Laid — Debate Drags—Division Prospects.

Toronto, March 27.—The Legislature opened yesterday with one of the smartest skirmishes of a lively session, and after another speech, lasting three and a half hours, by Mr. St. John, closed with several short speeches. Dr. Pyne had hardly begun his remarks before he charged that the Speakership had been offered to half a dozen members, Premier Ross at once asked for the names, and Dr. Pyne, after hedging, finally admitted that only one had been offered that honor. That was the entering wedge, and Dr. Reaume felt constrained to repeat his charge that he had been offered the chair of the First Commoner. Mr. John Lee rose and said he was evidently the member referred to; that the conversation on which the statement was based was purely a joke; that Dr. Reaume had admitted this, but had been urged by his party to make the charge. At the same time Mr. Lee said if the hon. member would not admit the jocular version he would meet him in any tribunal he might choose. Dr. Routledge said Dr. Reaume had recently told him the affair was a joke, and Mr. Auld, who heard the original conversation, confirmed Mr. Lee's view. Dr. Reaume, however, refused to admit it was a joke, but after he had stated that Mr. Lee had said the Speakership would give him the entree into Toronto's four hundred the House seized the humorous side, and the incident dropped. During the discussion Mr. Evanturel spoke, and, replying to Mr. Whitney, said significantly that if the gates of discussion were to be opened he might have something to say himself.

Dr. Pyne then resumed his speech, and Mr. St. John, following, spoke until 10.30. Mr. W. R. Smyth and Mr. W. Rickard concluded the day's debate.

Read a Second Time.

The first thing in the House yesterday when the preliminaries were concluded was the bill introduced Wednesday by the Attorney-General. The Attorney-General asked if there were any objections on the part of the Opposition to have the bill dealt with then.

Mr. Whitney thought the bill would require some discussion.

Mr. Gibson said he would be glad to receive any suggestions or any amendments, but it was intended that the bill should be only applicable to the present case. If it was agreed that the principle was to be generally applicable it was most important that the bill should receive the most serious consideration.

Mr. Whitney said it was important that legislation should not be allowed to pass hastily, as had been done in the past, with equal blame to both sides. It was important to consider whether it should not be made of general application.

The bill was read a second time.

Dr. Pyne was given an uninterrupted hearing as he resumed. The bye-elections were referred to at length.

Mr. St. John said the Parnell Commission established no precedent. He declared that in addition to several members of the Liberal side of the House who had voted for the Liberal platform in 1893, in which it was declared that it was the undoubted right of Parliament to investigate the conduct of its own members, Capt. Sullivan, D. A. Jones and Jackson of South Oxford fame voted for the principle. He asserted that the principle was established in England.

Evening Session.

Mr. St. John continued after recess. He said that it was humiliating for the Premier to have to go down to Government House with a statement showing that he was violating the principles of Liberalism. To depart from the principles of Liberalism was an admission of guilt.

Mr. St. John pointed out what he believed was the standard of public honor and statesmanship in England. He asked the Premier to determine the standard of Canadian honor by the words of Lord Strathcona, who is quoted in the book of Hon. G. W. Ross with endorsement. Lord Strathcona was a Conservative member for Manitoba, when the Pacific scandal charges were made, and he said at that time that he could not vote to continue confidence in the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald, although he believed the money was not accepted by Sir John for a corrupt purpose. Lord Strathcona went on to say that for the honor of the country no Government should exist that had a shadow of suspicion resting on it, and for that reason he could not support it.

After Charges Were Proven.

Mr. Ross—That speech was made after the charges were proven, and after the report of the committee was before the House.

Mr. St. John—Lord Strathcona said he believed in the innocence of the accused.

Mr. Ross—But he (Sir John) took the money.

Continuing, Mr. St. John challenged the statement that no one more than another was charged by Gamey. They all stood alike.

Mr. Harcourt's Denial.

Mr. St. John was reading from the Gamey statement, and came to the reference to the "acting manager." He asked, was the Minister of Education the acting Premier on Aug. 16?

Mr. Harcourt—I have this to say: I cannot believe that any hon. member in this House in reading the words "acting manager" could believe that I was the party referred to, and I am compelled now to say, sir, that neither directly nor indirectly, in any form whatever, material or immaterial, had I anything to do with any of the parties named, either D. A. Jones or either of the Sullivans, and, further, I had no knowledge, material or immaterial, directly or indirectly, with any body, thing or occurrence which can possibly be connected in any way with what are charged in the Gamey charges. (Ministerial applause.)

No Doubt About It.

Mr. St. John said without a shadow of a doubt cash was paid and the patronage was given to the member for Manitoulin in defiance of the principles of the Liberal party. He was glad the Minister of Education had put himself right. Would that all the Ministers would do the same. The Minister had stated his position frankly, and he (Mr. St. John) believed that statement.

Why did not the Premier frame the scope of the inquiry, so as to find out who the acting manager was at the time the charges speak of?

He believed the Minister of Education was heartsore over the action of the Premier in violating the pledge of the acting Premier in regard to the Centre Bruce protest. The people wanted to know why the Premier broke his word after saying he would grant a committee of the House to investigate the charges. The Conservatives had made one mistake—they trusted the Premier over night.

Policy of Concealment.

The whole policy of the Government in this matter was one of concealment. Here were some of their acts, he said:

1. The Premier declared for a full enquiry, and when cornered refused to say that the commission was a full enquiry.
2. Convinced the Liberal press that the commission was not only given full powers, but was an actual tribunal.
3. Resignation of the Provincial Secretary concealed for days.
4. Counsel advised with the accused and prepared the scope of the enquiry under which one only of the accused shall be tried.
5. Concealment of the charge of conspiracy.
6. Insertion of terms in scope of the enquiry that were wholly nugatory.
7. Preparation of a bill in acknowledgement of the futility of the terms by which they proposed to compel witnesses to answer.
8. The bill prepared is not worth the paper it is written on, and as nugatory as the insertion of the previous terms in the scope of the enquiry.

Mr. St. John charged that the Attorney-General had, either deliberately or through neglect of a full consideration of the powers of the Legislature, framed a bill that has no effect and is ultra vires of the Province of Ontario.

ANOTHER CASE.

Small-pox Said to Exist in the Village of Warsaw.

There are places in the county of Peterborough, other than Burleigh, whose inhabitants have been alarmed at the appearance of the much dreaded small-pox. It is reported that a traveller, infected with the disease, stayed for some days in Warsaw, and that infection has resulted from his presence in the village. The only case so far reported is that of Mr. A. F. Choate, the postmaster.

It is reported that Dr. Bryce, the Provincial Health Officer, has been communicated with in order that measures for the stamping out of the disease and the isolation of those affected may be taken.

SEVERE EPIDEMIC

Exists in the North Country—Five Deaths.

There is now an epidemic of scarlet fever and "black throat" in the north country that is causing the people considerable anxiety. In Minden alone there are fifteen more cases, and deaths are quite frequent. On Sunday five deaths occurred, and yesterday two. At Lockiln a family of nine children are all down with the disease, and several deaths have occurred.

LAST AND BEST

Of the Series of Sunday Afternoon Meetings in the Opera House.

The closing meeting of the series for men that have been held in the opera house during the past month, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A., will be held on Sunday and promises to be the best of the series. It is confidently expected that the opera house will be well filled, as it has been during the past few Sundays. The speaker for next Sunday is Mr. Joseph Gibson of Ingersoll, a platform speaker of wide reputation and ability. Mr. Gibson's addresses are full of fire and he always has a message that interests men. Those who fail to hear him on Sunday will regret it. The musical attractions will be strong. Miss Florence Carolyn Hall will sing, and the All Saints' Male Quartette will render several selections. All men are invited. The meeting will begin at 4 o'clock sharp.

A COMPLAINT.

A Citizen of Havelock Writes the County Engineer.

The County Engineer has received a letter from Mr. John Vanvickle of Havelock, claiming that in consequence of the dam supplying the power to the Cordova mines overflowing, the roads around Deer Lake in the Township of Belmont, in this county, are rendered impassable for the reason that the water is backed up so high that it entered his buggy on the public road, and seriously injured one of his horses. These circumstances suggest that some action should be taken by the County Council of Peterborough to prevent a recurrence of such conditions.

DRAGGING DEBATE IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Grounds of Opposition Were Undermined.

Government's Determination for Thorough Investigation.

Hon. J. M. Gibson has greatly increased the difficulties of those seeking to sustain the pretence that the Gamey investigation will be suppressed. He introduced a bill Wednesday afternoon specifically covering the points raised by the Opposition with regard to compelling witnesses to give self-incriminating evidence. It was explained that while there was no doubt that the commission, without the new legislation, would be in precisely the same position as a committee of the House, the bill was introduced to make it clear beyond the possibility of doubt and to satisfy the public that there would be no excusing of witnesses on any grounds whatever. The explanation of the Attorney-General gave another illustration of the perfect willingness and eagerness of the Government to facilitate a thorough investigation in every possible way, and of the determination of the Opposition to make it appear that a plan is being devised for the suppression of evidence.

The moribund discussion was resuscitated by Mr. Mackay of North Grey, who adopted the novel course of dealing with the matter before the House. In spite of the previous vantilation of the case he made a strong and interesting address, reviewing exhaustively the arguments advanced regarding the choice of a tribunal, and sustaining by precedents and authorities as well as by the logic of experience the position assumed by the Government. The specializing tendency of the age was used to illustrate the advantage of entrusting the taking and weighing of evidence to men familiar with that work through long experience. His address throughout was powerful and logically connected, and it seemed almost a matter of regret that it should be wasted on behalf of a case already fully established. The Committee on Privileges and Elections was not abandoned by the relegation of its duties to the courts until after every scheme for making it efficient had proved futile. An interesting point brought out by Mr. Mackay was the frequent changes in the form of the committee of the British Parliament from the time of Lord Grenville down to 1867. These changes were made in the hope of rendering the committee competent for the duties for which it was established, but the hope was finally abandoned and the trial of election cases transferred to the courts.

The case of the late Charles Stewart Parnell was cited as a precedent, and especially as showing the positive conviction of leading British statesmen that a committee of members was absolutely incapable of trying political cases. Mr. Parnell was accused in The London Times of complicity with a number of crimes in Ireland, and with being in communication with some of the men who had been guilty of outrages during the intense strife between the Land League and the evicting landlords. The Times published in fac simile a number of incriminating letters which men familiar with the Irish leader's handwriting pronounced genuine. The case against him seemed strong, and many of his former supporters feared that the intensity of his zeal for the Irish cause had betrayed him into countenancing and promoting crimes. When Parliament and people were divided by violent dissensions over the Irish question he asked for a select special committee of Parliament to investigate the charges made against him. But the leading British statesmen saw that any such committee would be quite incapable of dealing with the matter, which was consequently relegated to a judicial tribunal. The result was one of the most sensational disclosures in modern political history. The chief witness, Piggott, completely collapsed under cross-examination, owned himself a forger and perjurer, and shortly afterwards ended his own miserable career. Whether he would have sustained his forgeries and perjuries before a Parliamentary committee having a majority of members anxious to convict or asmirch the reputation of Mr. Parnell, already convicted by half the newspaper press of the country, is a fit theme for speculation. The case was effectively used by Mr. Mackay to show the consensus of opinion among British statesmen as to the unfitness of Parliamentary committees for the trial of political or election charges.

Mr. Matheson made a warm and enthusiastic speech in favour of trial by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, but was evidently hampered by the new legislation removing the possibility of doubt as to the power of the commission to compel and protect witnesses. He sustained the idea of suppression by a supposed case in which a member would learn that public money had been wrongfully appropriated. The committee would require the production of all the accounts and make a complete investigation. But the discussion had been too complete for the public to forget that if that or any other charge is made by any member in writing, the commission can order the production of the accounts. As the debate goes on the pretence of suppression and obstruction becomes more and more difficult to sustain. Neither the Government, the Liberal members, the Liberal press, nor the Liberal electors, would tolerate for a moment the suppression of evidence on technical or any other grounds. The Opposition know this, and continue their determined efforts to give the impression that it is intended to thus obstruct the investigation.

In the evening the floor and galleries were unusually attenuated, even the rare attraction of Mr. Gamey in his place being insufficient to retain the attendance. The determination of the Government to have a complete and satisfactory investigation is now so obvious that the public will not seriously heed pretences to the contrary. Dr. Willoughby, Mr. J. J. Preston of East Durham, and Mr. W. B. Morrison of East Hastings, took occasion to repeat that one of the judges had several members of his family in the employment of the province. This was accompanied by the familiar repetition of recent campaign material. Mr. George A. Routledge, of East Middlesex, gave a clear review of the leading points in favour of an enquiry by a commission. Mr. Holmes of Haldimand, reviewed some pertinent experiences in our political history, including the operations of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, in the protest of Amsden against Harcourt in Haldimand, in 1858. That committee sat for three consecutive sessions on the case, and the chairman, Mr. Scott, now a Senator, gave 140 casting votes. Shortly before the Parliamentary term expired a decision was given confirming Mr. Harcourt in his seat.—Globe.

PORT HOPE'S VIEW OF IT.

The Guide Reply's to the Examiner's Criticism.

Claims That Canal Boats can Easily Navigate Waters of Lake Ontario.

Regarding the Examiner's article a few days ago dealing with the matter of the southern terminus of the Trent Valley Canal, the Port Hope Guide says:—

Port Hope is not in the preserved fish business; and if Peterborough wants the canal finished in a hurry, it had better join forces with us, for no doubt it could be built this way in half the time and for millions less.

Lake Ontario is made the bugbear for this route, but it should not be lost sight of that the traffic will not be all east. It will come and go south, west and east, and north through the canal. What is to hinder coal loading in United States ports and going direct to Peterborough without transhipment? There is nothing to prevent freight going and coming in all directions, for it is well known that canal boats from the Erie canal navigate in tow from Cleveland to Buffalo, a distance of about one hundred miles, on Lake Erie, and this is where there is no shelter for a longer distance than from here to Presqu' Isle Point, and in this twenty-eight miles there are shelter harbours.

Canal boats not only navigate the south shore of Lake Ontario, but they also run from the Rideau canal right across Lake Ontario to Oswego.

Everyone, who has run a craft, from paddling a canoe to navigating a liner, knows that faster time, with less power, can be made through deep water than shallow; and we assert, without fear of successful contradiction, that there would be several hours saved in favour of the Port Hope route over that of the Trent, even from Peterborough to Montreal, or any Bay of Quinte port.

Craft that can safely cross Lake Simcoe could easily go from here east. Anyone who has noticed the excursion business on Lake Simcoe know that the passenger steamers are frequently delayed through stress of weather—even during the summer.

Pleasure craft that navigate Lake Ontario would enter the canal at Port Hope and cruise through the Kawartha Lakes, would hesitate before spending an extra day to get into the back lakes and another day to get out, as would be the case via the Trent.

We are not delaying the project. On the contrary, we are doing everything possible to hasten the completion of the canal; and if, as the Examiner puts it, "it makes little difference to Peterborough where the southern terminus of the canal were placed," and the people of the north country are in earnest and desire a waterway that will be of commercial advantage, they had better join with us and hurry it through by the short route. If an independent, impartial survey is made of both routes, we have no doubt of the result.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least one Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my milage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a travelling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakirs, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself ofr I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicne as much as in selling barbwire.

LAND OF THE IRISH.

John Redmond's Views on Bill Dealing With Question.

IRISH LEADER IS CAUTIOUS.

Objectionable Details in the Bill Make Amendments Necessary—The Measure May Be Modified in Committee—Irish Members Will Wait Till After Nationalist Convention on the 14th April.

London, March 27. — Yesterday morning's papers, in their editorial comments on Wednesday's proceedings in the House of Commons and the Irish land bill, universally compliment Mr. Wyndham, but they hesitate to express a definite opinion on such a complex measure without having fuller acquaintance of it, on the ground that its success depends wholly on the nature and working of the complicated financial details. However, all the newspapers agree that, although the bill will place a burden on the British taxpayer, it will be well worth the money if the objects are attained.

The Times says: "If the Irish landlords and tenants consider that Mr. Wyndham's plan satisfies to a reasonable extent the expectations that were aroused a few months ago, we do not believe the people of the United Kingdom will show a niggardly spirit in giving the financial aid needed to forward an honest and earnest attempt to remove a grave difficulty in the path of the Imperial policy."

Mr. Healy's View.

In an interview, Timothy Healy says he calculates that the tenants will pay twenty-five years purchase for the holdings under the new bill. He understood that the bill had undergone more transmutations than the late Mr. Gladstone's bill of 1881. He anticipates that the Government will adopt a give-and-take attitude in committee, and that the bill will emerge from the committee stage much improved.

The Irish members of the House of Commons are reserving serious criticism of the Irish Land Bill, until the text is published, and are awaiting the decision of the convention of the Irish Nationalists to be held in Dublin April 14 for the purpose of considering the bill, before committing themselves to a definite policy.

Redmond's Estimate.

John Redmond has written the following:

"The Land Bill in many respects is a far-reaching and important measure. It proposes a loan for the purpose of enabling the landlords to be bought out to the extent of a hundred million pounds in addition to a bonus not to be repaid, to amount to at least twelve million pounds. The bill does not fill all the requirements of the case. It does not provide as good terms either for the landlords or tenants as proposed at the recent land conference, but it marks an enormous advance on any measure of its kind hitherto proposed by an English Government. It is the direct result of the unity of the National movement in Ireland, and the National party in Parliament for the last three years, which led to the breakdown of coercion in Ireland, and which induced the landlords to come to the conclusion that their best interests lay in making friends with the Irish people instead of continuing in conflict with them. The land conference which ensued spoke in the name of United Ireland.

"Regarding the result of this measure, I cannot speak with any certainty. Its details, many of which seem to me highly objectionable, are capable of improvement by discussion. If this measure should provide, as every one hopes, a settlement of the land question, not only will a great social and industrial problem be put once for all on a sound basis, but it will make a concession to home rule in answer to the united demand of all classes in Ireland a certainty in the near future.

"Until the clauses of the bill are actually in my hands, I cannot say, of course, whether they will actually carry out the project in view. Therefore, I cannot say to a certainty if the bill will be accepted by the National convention which assembles in Dublin April 14. This great assembly will have the deciding voice in the matter. If it rejects the bill, the measure will be dead. If it accepts it, subject to certain amendments, it is quite possible the bill may be moulded in committee into such a shape that it will entirely transform Ireland.

(Signed) "J. E. Redmond."

A NEW DAY DAWNS FOR OLD IRELAND.

Secretary Wyndham's New Land Bill.

How it Keeps Faith With the Dunraven Treaty.

There is at least a very bright beam of light bursting through the rift in the clouds which have so long overshadowed Ireland, and while there is but a rumour that some kind of Home Rule will be extended to the long suffering island there is certainty that the bill of the Imperial Government, introduced on Wednesday by Mr. Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, designed to provide for land purchase will pave the way for such a measure of conciliation and justice. It was the result of the recent conference between the landlords and tenants, and what has come to be termed the Dunraven treaty signed in Dublin early last January. It may be worth recapitulating the conditions of this agreement which contained two main points on which the remainder may be regarded as subordinate, in order that comparison may be made with the actual conditions of the bill itself. The first of these points provides each landlord shall receive for his property a sum equal to the capitalization of a sum equal to the capitalization of the present second-term rents at 3 per cent., or in case of Government guarantee, at 3 1-2 per cent. Second-term rents are those rents that have been fixed by the land courts for the second period of fifteen years since the passage of the land act of 1881, and imply an average reduction of 38 per cent. upon the rents in force in the previous year. The second point is of the utmost moment, as it deals with the amount tenants shall pay for their holdings and the agreement runs as follows:—

"The payment of the purchase money shall be extended over a series of years at such a rate as will at once secure a reduction of not less than 15 per cent. or more than 25 per cent. on second term rents, or their fair equivalent, with further periodic reductions as under existing land-purchase acts, until such time as the treasury is satisfied that the loan has been repaid. This may involve some assistance from the state beyond the use of its credit which . . . we consider may be reasonably granted."

This suggests a threefold question, which asks the amount the landlords would receive, the tenants pay and the State have to provide. The first question may be answered with the proposition that, for example, taking a holding that brings the landlord a second-term rental of £10 a year, and from this sum, we deduct 10 per cent. as the cost of collection we have £9 as the sum that must be converted into a lump sum to extinguish his title. The sum that must be invested at 3 per cent. to yield £9 a year would be £300, and at 3 1-2 per cent. in case of Government guarantee, £277. But the £300 at 3 per cent. would be what the holding would yield in thirty-three years, and the £277 at 3 1-2 per cent. would be what it would yield in thirty years. In commercial terms the landlord will receive thirty-three years' purchase of £9 in one case, and thirty years' purchase in the other. If his gross income of £10 is taken as a basis, he will receive, according to the rate of interest, either thirty years' or twenty-eight years' purchase. The average, however, is an eighteen year purchase, and it is not thought that any Irish estate is up to a thirty years' purchase. What the tenant would have to pay is less evident, but it is clear that he is now paying £10 on the supposed holding, and that he is to receive a reduction of from 15 to 25 per cent. on this sum. Under the treaty he may be regarded as paying £8 a year, which includes both interest and sinking fund. How much money must he pay, and how many years must his payments extend over before he receives a clear title to his holding? As to this there seems to be room for difference of opinion. A writer in the Contemporary Review, who deals with the question thoughtfully if not in all cases, convincingly, holds that if the landlord receives £9 a year, and the tenant pays only £8, the state bonus would be £1, or ten per cent of the gross sum. As the rents in Ireland amount to £5,000,000 a year the annual bonus would be £500,000 for an unlimited period. Mr. Davitt thinks that 17 1-2 years purchase would be fair, and that assuming thirty years' payment £60,000,000 would cover the state subscription, which is the amount Mr. Wyndham's bill provides. Mr. Russell, however, differs and suggests twenty-three years purchase for the tenants' payments, and twenty-eight for the landlords. The Contemporary Review takes the via media and holds that the British taxpayer need not be unduly burdened, as the settlement of a disturbing question, disturbing from its continuance, a great saving will be effected by the absence of agrarian crime. The police could be reduced, and the unduly large share Ireland contributes to the Imperial taxation lessened. The introduction of the bill shows how far the Government means to endorse the treaty, and to how far the olive branch is extended. The success of the bill may be a great day for England as well as for Ireland, and it depends on the former. It is to be hoped that it will be a measure satisfactory to all, and that such a measure of Home Rule will be accorded later as will make Ireland so contented and happy a part of the three kingdoms that the next generation will look on the pages of the history of the past with amazement.

GIVE IT A REST.

That is What the Stomach Signals for—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will Digest the Food While the Stomach Rests.

Those who are suffering from the first mild discomforts that are the forerunners of Dyspepsia, little realize what the future has in store for them, unless the warnings sent out by the distressed stomach are heeded. The stomach signals that it needs rest, and if it does not get it it grows more tired and less able to do its work as time wears on, and the while those discomforts grow to pains, and the pains to agonies that are a terrible menace to life itself.

Take warning from those who have learned by terrible experience the pains and dangers of dyspepsia. Mrs. John F. Sillars, of Western Bay, Newfoundland, is one of them. Here is what she says:

"For seven years," Mrs. Sillars relates, "I suffered from Dyspepsia. I could not eat without suffering intense agony. I doctored some but to no avail, and I had almost given up myself to die. An advertisement in a paper drew my attention to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I bought some and began to take them. From almost the first dose I found relief, and after using five boxes I found myself well and strong."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food themselves. They give the overworked stomach a chance to get the rest that it needs.

"Dorothy Dodd" Shoes

That the "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe meets with the approval of the critical, discriminating woman was demonstrated beyond question at our opening. The large number of women in attendance were a unit in their expressions of approval of the new shoe.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is the outcome of a twentieth century woman's thought. The ideas incorporated in this Shoe are those evolved by the application of a keen, trained, feminine intelligence to the study of the requirements of women in the matter of footwear. That these ideas are correct has also been proved beyond question.

We cordially invite all of those women who were not present at our opening to call and examine the new styles.

BANK CHANGES.

Mr. F. A. Paddon, of the Bank of Montreal, Goes to Rossland.

Mr. F. A. Paddon, teller of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, has been transferred to Rossland to fill the position of assistant-accountant. Mr. Paddon has been a resident of Peterborough for several years, and has made many friends here. He has been connected with No. 4 Company of the 57th Regiment, and has taken a great interest in its affairs. Mr. Paddon will be succeeded by Mr. Watson, who has been ledger keeper of the local branch, while Mr. Watson will be succeeded by Mr. Clarke, late of the Chatham branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Concerning the bank changes in the West, the Rossland Miner says:

"The vacancy in the management at the Greenwood branch has been filled temporarily by the appointment of A. W. Strickland, accountant at the Rossland branch, and formerly of Greenwood. It is generally believed that the appointment will be confirmed in the course of the next month or two. Mr. Strickland will leave for Greenwood this week. The local vacancy will, it is understood, be filled by the promotion of Edgar Duthrie, who has been assistant accountant here for some time. Mr. C. C. Walker, of the local branch, will go to Spokane to take a position in the bank under Mr. Finucane."

Mr. Strickland was formerly connected with the Bank of Montreal, in Peterborough, and comes originally from Lakefield.

REV. J. McDOUGALL GAVE A LECTURE.

The Indians of the Northwest and British Columbia.

An Interesting Address in George Street Church Last Night.

A fair sized audience listened to a most interesting lecture in the George street Methodist church last evening, by Rev. John McDougall, the noted Methodist Missionary to the Indians of the Northwest and British Columbia. After opening exercises with a few remarks Rev. Mr. Wilson introduced the lecturer of the evening whose hospitality, he stated, it had been his pleasure to enjoy and see for himself the great work accomplished by this great missionary.

Mr. McDougall in his opening remarks gave a description of the country as he knew it first, with its forest-clad mountains and the passes first formed by herds of the great buffalo. In thought he took his hearers with him in company with a party of gold seekers on their way across the mountains with their pack horses and saddles, armed with knives and six-shooters, with an abundant supply of amunition, fully prepared for an encounter with what they considered the natural foe of the white man—the Indian, whose sudden appearance in their midst from time to time led them to believe an encampment was near. Vividly he portrayed their arrival at the encampment. The hearty welcome accorded them by the Indians, which, however, they failed to understand. Their hostile attitude to the red man, their retirement for the night fully armed and prepared for a sudden attack, their great surprise a short time afterwards to hear from the neighbouring lodges of the Indians the old familiar strains of Gainsborough and Old Hundred, and the immediate dispelling of their fear and their ability to lie down conscious that they were in the hands of fiends, not enemies. This, Mr. McDougall claimed was one result of the efforts of the missionary. Another great result was the opening up of the vast resources of the country. And here the speaker dwelt at some length upon the great possibilities of this vast, rich and highly favoured country.

At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. D. W. Dumble moved a vote of thanks to Mr. McDougall for his interesting and inspiring address, and also for the great work he had accomplished, not only for the Indians and the Northwest, but for Canada as a whole. This motion was ably seconded by Mr. Eyres, who stated he could fully endorse what the speaker had said, as more than once it had been his privilege to visit the great wheat fields of the Northwest.

The benediction by Rev. Mr. Kilgour, brought the meeting to a close.

A LITERARY EVENING

Held by the Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T. A. S.

The Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T.A.S. held a very interesting literary meeting last evening, when a very instructive and ably prepared paper on "Dante" was read by Miss Kate McGrath. Although at the outset, Miss McGrath disclaimed entire originality, still the subject she chose was a deep and a most interesting one, and in her task she acquitted herself in a very excellent manner. The writer went back to the early ages, tracing the life, career and immortal writings of "Dante," and in the course of her reading was listened to by a delighted audience. At the conclusion of her reading Miss McGrath was warmly applauded by those who had the pleasure of hearing her paper.

A very instructive address by Rev. Dr. O'Brien was also listened to with much pleasure and attention.

Miss L. Sullivan occupied the chair, and introduced the following pleasing programme:

Piano Duet...Misses Aileen and Genevieve Sullivan
Vocal Solo ... .Miss Kathleen Conroy
Recitation ... ...Miss Nanno Hayes
Vocal Solo ... ... Miss May Callaghan
Violin Solo ... ...Miss Kathleen Wallace

The next Literary Evening will be held on Tuesday next, March 31st.

PROFESSOR WRONG

Will Lecture To-night in the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

A lecture on "The Study of History," will be delivered in the Y.M.C.A. Hall this evening by Professor Wrong, under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club. The lecture is a member of the professional staff of Toronto University, and has a reputation of being a most eloquent and convincing speaker. For a subject, Professor Wrong has certainly chosen a most interesting one, and one that should certainly attract a large audience.

Some time ago the public were informed that Professor Wrong would speak here, but the expected lecture was postponed through the illness of the speaker. The dream of the Fortnightly Club has been realized and it is assumed Professor Wrong will deliver a most delightful lecture.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE GIVES REASONS.

Why Trent Canal Outlet Should be at Trenton.

He Contends That Port Hope Would not be a Suitable Terminus.

The reasons that induce the Peterborough people to support the Trent route in preference to the Port Hope route for the Canal are briefly stated as follows:—

1. From a common point, say the mouth of the Otonabee River to Trenton is some miles shorter by the river route than by Port Hope and Lake Ontario.
2. It is cheaper to build.
3. It is quicker in time, for the lockage is the same and there would be no waiting for storms to blow over.
4. It requires less capital in boats. The Ontario Lake route would call for stronger, heavier boats, and every pound of weight in the boat displaces a pound of freight.
5. Insurance rates by the lake would be heavier.
6. The water powers on the Trent would be developed, thus encouraging growth of manufactures, population, etc., along the route. There could be no water power developed by the Port Hope route.
7. The Government revenue from the water powers at the price charged at Peterborough—$2 per horse power—would pay interest on two millions of dollars.
8. Barge navigation with Oswego could be carried on, and coal got there for Canadian consumption. The coal could be brought in special boats built for the purpose and run in the calm water season.
9. Barge navigation from Cleveland to Buffalo was tried, and proved a failure—and the steel barges built for the purpose were sold. Skilled testimony taken before the New York State Canal Commission led the Americans to abandon the Lake Ontario route from Oicot to Oswego as part of their great ship canal project just adopted by the State Senate at Albany. This canal will cost $100,000,000.

Owing to the large proportion of open natural lake and river waters the Trent Waterway will have unlimited capacity in carrying grain to Montreal, and the return boats, besides bringing heavy freight for local ports will bring immense quantities of freight to be forwarded in the empty grain vessels at nominal rates to Port Arthur, en route for Manitoba and the Territories.

D. W. DUMBLE.

Peterborough, March 27th, 1903.

THE LATE JOHN SHAW.

An Interesting Sketch of an Old Cavan Resident.

The Millbrook Reporter contains the following interesting account of the life of the late John Shaw, one of Cavan's oldest residents:

Our oldest resident, who departed this life on Monday, March 16th, was born in the County of Fermannagh, at Lisbellaw in the year 1806 and at the age of nineteen years, emigrated to Canada settling first in Manvers. Over sixty years ago he moved to Cavan upon the farm where he lived until his death. The late John Shaw was one of those sturdy and shrewd early settlers, who knew no difficulties which his energy and ambition could not conquer. The hardships of pioneer life in the woods held no terrors for him and his noble wife, Mary Thorn, whom he married shortly after coming to Cavan, and who entered into her rest some fifteen years ago. That he lived to almost the century mark was a proof of his robust constitution and temperate habits although his days were spent in severest toil. He had the good fortune to amass considerable of this world's goods. He was amongst those, who shouldered his gun and joined in the MacKenzie Rebellion in 1837, Mr. Wm. Richardson his companion in arms, being now the last survivor, perhaps, of that stirring event. Mr. Shaw attended the first funeral at St. Paul's church and he and his wife were the first couple to be married therein after its consecration in the year 1836. He lived to see five monarchs on the English throne: George's III and IV, William IV, Victoria, and Edward VII. He was an enthusiastic Orangeman, and rarely missed a Twelfth even up to his last years. In religion he was an English churchman. Two sons, Robert on the homestead, and William who recently moved to near Peterborough, and seven daughters, Mrs. Dr. Hassard and Mrs. Mulligan, Millbrook; Mrs. Dobbin, California; Mrs. Cummer, Owen Sound; Mrs. Shaw, Chesley; Mrs. Gainor, Michigan, and Mrs. Fallis, Sunris, represent the family still living, of the deceased. The funeral took place on Wednesday the 18th March to the Front Church Cemetery.

NEW WATER WORKS TARIFF.

The Water Commissioners seem to take their duties seriously, and to feel that their office is no sinecure. They have very energetically undertaken the duties of their office, and seem determined that municipal ownership of the Water Works shall be justified, and that the people, who are the real owners, shall have the benefit of such ownership.

Acting on the assumption that the more general the use of the city water, the greater the public benefit, they have spent a great deal of time and consideration in the revision of the tariff of rates, whose result was announced a day or two ago, and which are to come into force on the first of April next. They saw that the high rates prevailing under the superseded tariff prevented the general consumption of water by the citizens, and they provided by the new tariff, that water be brought within the reach of citizens of the most modest means, for the general reduction will amount to about 30 to 45 per cent., on the all-round average. The effort has been made to have the rates not only low, but equitable.

The old tariff was adopted twenty years ago, and before the present it has been subjected to no revision, except as to hydrants. When the period of purchase was extended ten years, the Water Works Company made a reduction in hydrant rental from $50 to $35. This reduction did not affect direct users of water; it only affected the mass of citizens through reduction of taxation required to meet hydrant expenditure. The object of the commissioners is to give direct consumers the benefit of reduced rates. This may result in reduced income, but the view of the commissioners clearly is that the accumulation of a surplus to be handed over for expenditure in general is less desirable than bringing water within the reach of everyone, thus insuring greater cleanliness and promoting the best sanitary conditions.

The Commissioners hope that the reduction they have made will result in effecting this, and at the same time will permit of an income that will pay interest and sinking fund and still meet expenses. The idea, for the present at least, is not a surplus of revenue, but the increase of consumers on the line of existing mains, and if there is a considerable increase there will be a corresponding increase of revenue, which will compensate ultimately for the loss of income the lowered tariff will produce. If the number of consumers, especially for house services, can be doubled—two where there is now one—a great advance will have been made. The new tariff is an encouragement to persons of moderate means. Under the old tariff a five-roomed house with six occupants, paid $8 per year, which with 10 per cent. discount for prompt payment, made the net rate $7.20. Under the new tariff the rate is $4.50, with a 20 per cent. discount making the net tariff rate $3.60, or 50 per cent. reduction, while with, say a 9-roomed house with 8 occupants, the reduction is only 30 per cent. This brings city water within the reach of persons of modest means, and tends to encourage a much larger general consumption, and more widely distribute the unquestionable benefits that will follow in both comfort and health.

It is to be hoped that the citizens will co-operate with the Commissioners to give effect to their commendable policy—the greatest good to the greatest number. Much can be said of the benefits attending the successful application of such a policy and the subject will bear future and more particular reference.

DOURO TOWNSHIP CENTENNARIAN.

Mrs. Thomas Sheehan Died at 105 Years.

She Saw Life in Three Centuries—Lived Under Four Sovereigns.

A day or two ago the Examiner announced the death of a centennarian in the person of Mrs. Thomas Sheehan, of Douro, who passed away in the Township of Douro on March 23rd at the unusual age of 105 years.

The deceased lady was a native of Ireland. She was born in the County of Cork in the year 1798, the year of the Irish Rebellion. She lived through the making of a great deal of history, and had the rare human experience of having lived in three centuries—born in the closing years of the 18th century, living the whole of the 19th century and the first year of the twentieth century. She saw four different Popes fill the chair of St. Peter, and was twelve years of age when the present Pontiff, who is 93 years of age, was born. She saw the light before the days of the Union Jack for it was not till she was two years of age, on the occasion of the Union of Ireland to Great Britain, that the Cross of St. Patrick, the Irish "Sabtire," was superposed upon the already blended crosses of St. George and St. Andrews, forming the Union Jack as it floats over us to-day. She was thirty years of age when Dan O'Connel was in the hey-day of his glory. She saw the accession and death of four British Sovereigns, the repeal of the Test Act and the passing of the Irish Emancipation Bill, and if she had lived a few months longer she might have seen the passage of Wyndham's Land Purchase Bill, conferring important privileges upon Ireland.

Mrs. Sheehan came to Canada in 1847, the year of the cholera scourge, when so many in-coming immigrants fell victims to the pestilence. Her last husband predeceased Mrs. Sheehan some twenty years. After his death she sold the farm he left to her, and has since lived with the family of Mr. James McElligott, Douro, the fact of the latter's ancestors being known to Mrs. Sheehan in Ireland, making his house seem more homelike to her. Even in her advanced age Mrs. Sheehan had few of the infirmities that usually accompany old age. Her strength and activity of body were maintained to the last week of her life, and after she had passed the 100 year mark she frequently went on foot considerable distances to visit old acquaintances. Her mind was also clear and her faculties active up to the very time of her death.

Mrs. Sheehan leaves no direct descendents. Mrs. Hanrahan, of Ashburnham, who is 78 years of age, is a niece of Mrs. Sheehan, and Mrs. M. Kylie, with whom Mrs. Hanrahan resides, and also Mrs. John Sullivan, Gilmour street, town, are grand nieces.

A LIVELY TIME.

The Newsboys Hooted the Newspaper Representative.

Quite a stir was created on George street last night at about 8 o'clock. The matter was the outcome of a disagreement between the "King" of the newsboys in Peterborough and a Toronto evening paper. It is stated by the local dealer who has the agency for the evening paper in question, that the difficulty arose over the action of the "King" in raising the price of a certain paper to two and sometimes five cents, when it was, they claim, printed to be sold at one cent. The publishing company thereupon placed their agency with a local gentleman from whom, they alleged the newsboys could secure their papers at the same rates as they had been heretofore receiving it from Toronto, but by the local arrangement a check would be placed on the raising of the price by the "King." Last night when the Peterborough townspeople were waiting for this particular Toronto evening paper they were told by the "King" and his assistants that it was not for sale. At the same time the "newseys" were offering several other Toronto evening editions.

The circulation manager of the Toronto evening paper that was not for sale on the streets by the "King" and his assistants, started out from a local news stand with a bundle of his papers under his arm, and accompanied by a "scab" newsey, proceeded to announce that the paper could really be had. Then the fun started. He was hooted most unmercifully by boys, crowds gathered to see the outcome. Finally the circulation manager, who is an elderly gentleman, was forced to go "away back" to his headquarters, where he was further hooted.

The news boys have another side of it of course. They claim that the affair was the outcome of a conspiracy to rob them of their sales and they are highly indignant over the unexpected turn of events.

There will be no solicitation for the sale of tickets for the Harry DeWindt lecture, in St. Andrew's Hall, on Friday evening next. Tickets at Examiner office, J. D. Tully's and H. H. Edmison's drug stores. Admission 25c. There is sure to be a large audience. 1d

Consumption's Small Beginning

No matter how strong you imagine yourself to be, if you are not breathing plenty of good air every day, if you are over-working, keeping late hours, or in any way using up your energies faster than they are repaired, you are making it easier for consumption to come into your lungs. This is the small beginning.

Let your own good sense and your doctor prescribe your habits and the necessary medicine. For nourishment nothing will do you more good than Scott's Emulsion. It contains elements which you cannot get from ordinary food and is rich in the best materials for making good blood.

Scott's Emulsion is a wonderful food; it furnishes a great deal of nourishment though you take so little of it. That little enables the body to overcome wasting and to build up the run-down and worn-out tissues. Moreover Scott's Emulsion is a great flesh-builder, and when the consumptive can gain flesh he is getting the upper hand.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

PETITION OF G.T.R.P.

Route of the Proposed Railway Described Therein.

DIVORCE MOTION WITHDRAWN

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply to Mr. Charlton Indicates That Such a Court Is Not Required—Mr. Lancaster's Cattle Guards Bill Sent to the Railway Committee on First Division of Session.

Ottawa, March 27.—Mr. McCarthy, M.P., presented the petition in the House yesterday of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The petition says:

"Your petitioners are desirous of obtaining the passage by your honorable House of an act incorporating your petitioners and such other persons as may become shareholders therein a body corporate and politic under the name of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, having a capital of $75,000,000, and granting to the said company power to lay out, construct and operate a railway of the guage of 4 feet 8½ inches from a point at or near the city of Quebec, to a point at or near either Gravenhurst or North Bay, in the Province of Ontario, thence in a northwesterly and westerly direction, passing to the north of Lake Nepigon to a point in or near the city of Winnipeg; thence westerly and northwesterly, passing through or near Battleford, Edmonton, Dunvegan and by such more feasible route as may hereafter be located, but following in a general direction that herein indicated and by way of either the Peace River Pass or the Pine River Pass, or such other pass in the Rocky Mountains, as may be found most convenient and practicable, to Port Simpson, or Bute Inlet, or such other port on the Pacific Coast, between the said points as may be considered more accessible and better adapted for the purposes of the company, and also branch lines of railways from points on the main line to Port Arthur, Brandon, Regina, and Calgary respectively and to any other point or points in the provinces, districts and territories through which the main line runs; and also a branch line from some point in British Columbia, to Dawson City in the Yukon Territory, together with such other powers, rights and privileges as are usually or may have been granted to companies having similar purposes in view, and as may be reasonably necessary for the successful carrying out of the undertaking contemplated by your petitioners."

It was signed by Hon. G. A. Cox and others.

The Federal Buildings.

Dr. Sproule moved that papers be brought down showing how Federal buildings in Ottawa were being erected, and on what principle. Speaking to it, he thought the Government should purchase a tract of land and erect all necessary buildings on it, so that they might be kept together.

Mr. Sutherland said he thought Dr. Sproule was right in his contention. The time had arrived when the House should seriously consider that action should be taken to erect departmental buildings, so as to more facilitate business. He favored better buildings. They should be erected as soon as possible. He hoped to report some progress along this line this session. He promised the papers at an early day.

Not a Militia Measure.

Hon. Dr. Borden informed Mr. Casgrain that no representation had been made to Canada by the Imperial Government as to the advisability of locating the next Canadian transcontinental road in such a manner that it may be remote from the frontier and useful for military purposes.

Sir William Mulock, taking the place of Mr. Sifton, answered a series of questions put by Uriah Wilson, M.P. In 1890 no homestead entry in the N. W. T. was made by Doukhobors; in 1901, 62, and in 1902, 207; in all, 269. It cost $7,292 to take the wanderers back to their homes last year.

Mr. Charlton's bill, relating to railway subsidies, was read a second time. He explained that he aimed to so amend the present act that a subsidy might be paid to a railway so soon as it had spent $30,000, instead of $60,000, on the construction of its line. It was reviewed in committee, but not disposed of.

Cattle Guard Question.

The cattle guard amendment to the Railway Act came up for discussion last evening, and brought forth an interesting discussion, begun by Mr. Lancaster of Lincoln. It also precipitated the first vote of the session, dividing the House on the question whether the amendment should be discussed in committee of the whole or sent to the Committee on Railways and Canals. After a very spirited discussion, the amendment was sent to the committee on the first division of the session by a vote of 99 to 53.

A Divorce Bill.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Charlton presented to the House of Commons his resolution favoring the establishment of a divorce court in Canada. The debate was continued last evening in the presence of the largest and most fashionable gathering of ladies that has yet graced the galleries this session. Sir Wilfrid Laurier offered strong opposition to the resolution, as inopportune and unwarranted by existing conditions, and, after an animated debate, Mr. Charlton, bowing before the evident disinclination of the House to adopt so radical a reform, withdrew his resolution.

The evening session of the House adjourned at 9.20.

BODY HONORED.

Late Gen. MacDonald Will Be Buried in Scotland.

Paris, March 27.—The body of Major-General Sir Hector MacDonald, who committed suicide at the Hotel Regina here Wednesday, was removed yesterday to the British Mortuary Chapel, where it will await shipment to its final resting place in Scotland.

The French law requires that the bodies of suicides be taken to the morgue, but owing to the urgent desire of the British officials, that the body of the distinguished officer be not deposited in the public morgue, the usual legal requirement was waived.

It was said at the British Embassy that no orders have been received from London concerning the disposition of the body, and it is expected that the family of the deceased General will make the funeral arrangements.

Both the officials of the British Embassy and the Consulate-General of Great Britain disclaim any knowledge of the existence of letters which were reported to have been found in the room.

Pain at Publicity.

Paris, March 26.—Efforts have been made to-day to trace the letters and documents received by Major-General MacDonald from the War Office shortly before his suicide, as it was thought that they might throw light on the motive for the act, but the magistrate, who has taken charge of the dead man's effects, says no letter or documents were found except some unintelligible scribbling, which would indicate that the writer was in a dazed condition. As a number of letters from the War Office were delivered to him last Wednesday and Thursday, the authorities conclude that the general coolly prepared for his end by first destroying the letters.

The Figaro asserts that one of the letters received by Sir Hector MacDonald from the War Office on Wednesday morning was an ultimatum ordering him to leave forthwith for Ceylon, thus destroying his last hope of a reconsideration of his case by the war authorities in England. The fact, however, that the general took his life soon after he was observed scanning two newspapers published in English, giving the charges made against him and publishing a portrait of him, is taken as indicating that pain at the publicity rather than any action by the British War Office determined his act.

The lake is very deep, and none of the bodies have been recovered. The boat belonged to John Nicol, whose son William was one of the drowned, with James McLellan of Owen Sound, and one McCallum and one other, whose name is not known yet. The men all worked in Aeam and Middle Bros.' lumber camp.

Kidney Trouble and Lumbago.

Thirty Years of Backache and Rheumatism—Winter Season's Especially Severe—Attributes Cure to

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

This season of the year is especially trying on the older people. The pains and aches grow more severe in the cold and changeable weather, the kidneys get out of order, rheumatism and lumbago torture their victims, there are aching backs and limbs, stomach derangements, urinary and bowel disorders and serious, painful and fatal maladies.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are particularly suited to the needs of persons of advanced age. They regulate and invigorate the liver, kidneys and bowels and prove effectual when ordinary medicines fail. This letter from Mr. Robert Jackson gives some idea of what this treatment is accomplishing every day.

Mr. Robert Jackson, ship builder, Port Robinson, Ont., writes: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble and lumbago for about thirty years. The winters were always very severe on me, and I was many times incapacited with all the serious symptoms of both troubles. I had backache, biliousness, rheumatism, headache and constipation, and was wrecked physically. I used all sorts of medicines and have been treated by the medical profession to no purpose.

In the spring of 1902 I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and from the start received great benefit. I continued the treatment until I fully recovered good health and vigour, my old trouble being a thing of the past. I am seventy-five years old, and if, at my advanced age, I have received such grand results from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills after years of unnecessary suffering, there can be no doubt of their efficacy in the treatment of younger persons. I recommend them to everyone. I have tried to think of words to express my gratitude, but it is beyond expression for they have done more for me than I could have believed."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 2

ONTARIO DOG TEAMS

HAVE SENSE ENOUGH TO "SMELL THE ICE A-BREAKIN'."

No Easy Road for the Member for Manitoulin to Travel to Reach Parliament Buildings, Toronto, in Winter—How the Journey Has to Be Made—An Interesting Part of New Ontario.

When Manitoulin's member of the Legislative Assembly packed his trunk and started for Toronto to attend the session called for the despatch of business, he had no easy journey before him, for you shall come from St. Louis to this town, says The Toronto News, more easily than from the big oyster-shaped island in Huron's broad bosom. In the summer-time, if the flies—of which twelve usual weigh one pound avoirdupois—would stay away, Manitoulin would be a beautiful part of New Ontario, but the flies will not make an exception in her favor when they are doing what may fairly be described as a drawing business all over the rest of the Northland.

Almost Cut Off in Winter.

In winter-time Manitoulin is almost completely cut off from the rest of the country by the North or Inner Channel. There, when the ice is thick, you shall find the twenty-mile road from Gore Bay to Massey or Spanish River indicated by cedar branches planted in the snow. The journey may be made safely enough in sleighs plentifully supplied with buffalo robes and fur rugs. But when the sun has climbed higher; when the people of Toronto and Southern Ontario have commenced to shed overcoats and sealskins, the passenger who attempts the passage takes a certain amount of risk. The ice is becoming rotten, and it will not support a horse and sleigh. Then the dog-team comes into use. The dogs of the Grand Manitoulin are not useless loafers like those in these lower latitudes. From puppyhood, if they are of any size, they are taught to put their shoulders up into the rawhide neck-yoke, and to do their part towards pulling the dog sleigh.

Dog Train No Unusual Sight.

It is true that they have not as much work of this kind as their parents were called on to perform, but even nowadays the dog-train is no unusual sight on the Island. In the early spring dozens of them cross the strait between the Manitoulin and the North Shore, hauling behind them passengers and merchandise. The wholesalers of Toronto and Hamilton, when they receive mid-winter special orders from the merchants of Gore Bay and the other towns, are always instructed to have the goods put up in small bales. The reason is, of course, that the dogs cannot haul a heavy load. Also, of disaster come through the sleighs going through the ice, the loss is so much the smaller when the goods are done up in small parcels. Accidents of this kind are not many, however, for the Islander who has had much experience with dog-teaming, will assure you that the dogs can, as he puts it, "smell" thin ice. He points, in corroboration of his theory, to the alleged fact that teams which are allowed to pick their own way seldom have accidents, while the team that is forced by the driver—who always runs beside the dogs—frequently "goes through." There is not a Manitoulin old-timer who does not firmly believe that the dogs know thin ice from afar off by what the veteran calls "the smell of the water coming through."

Dogs Smell the Break-up.

And if superior persons, who poohpooh such beliefs had ever lived on the North Shore, they would not be so cocksure in their ridicule of the convictions of these hardy woodmen. It is a fact, known to many a commercial man who has the Island and the North Shore for his "territory," that on some occasions, late in the spring, the dogs, even when harnessed, have refused to budge. The drivers said the dogs could "smell the break-up," and declined to start out on the journey across the Strait. Two years ago, on an occasion like this, a Toronto traveler, who had crossed to the Island two days before, and who was very anxious to catch his train at Spanish River, offered what to the driver seemed a fabulous sum if he would take him across with his dog-train. The driver refused. He acknowledged that he would like to have the money, but he pointed to his team:

"Look at them dogs," said he. "Look at old Buckskin, the leader. He's a smellin' that East wind, an' he's told me straight as any dog can tell a man anythin' that him an' his mates jus' won't move a paw across them Straits. They all smell the ice a-breakin.' I'm a-goin' to unhitch 'em. Might as well. They wouldn't move a paw for me if I cut the livers out of 'em with this whip."

The commercial man protested, but to no effect. The driver assured him that he wouldn't move for love or money. The dogs were cast loose, and the sleigh shoved into the shed.

A Foolhardy Commercial.

Now, that traveler esteemed himself as being some pumpkins when it came down to a question of determination, and he vowed he was not to be beaten by any Manitoulin dog-team. He had left his heavy trunks on the Mainland, bringing across the Straits nothing but a small valise that he could easily carry in the hand. So, as it was a bright, clear morning early in the third week of March, he announced that he would walk across. He also threw in the information that all Manitoulin residents were condemned fools; that anybody who believed that dogs knew more than men was probably right when the men lived on the Island, and that he didn't propose to be held up and kept back in his business by any old woman superstition. So saying, he took to the ice, and marched bravely away through the blue and white Northern day, with his pipe going famously, and the crystalline snow squeaking faintly under his big arctic overshoes.

Watched Black Figure Disappear.

The Manitoulin men stood in a group and watched him for half an hour as he plodded along the track to the Northern Mainland. They could have seen that black figure, could these keen-eyed Islanders, for six or seven miles, but the day darkened. Out of the East began to blow a stiff, almost warm breeze. It smelt of pinewoods, for it had swung over the lake after a journey of hundreds of miles above the kingdoms of pine forest that lie below the chine of the Laurentides. The Islanders looked at each other. They knew that the ice must have been pretty well honey-combed by the hot sun of the past few days; they knew that the dogs' instinct had never been mistaken, and they remembered that for years longer than they could remember the pine-scented East-wind, blowing up the Strait, meant the lifting of the ice bridge, leaving in its place miles of dull, steel-colored, angry water, covered with warring, shrieking, crashing ice-floes. They did not want even that pig-headed Toronto drummer to freeze to death on a drifting icefield, and so the whole tribe of a dozen or twenty of them, yelling like all possessed, started helter skelter after the little black spot that was crawling across the white tablecloth that had a black rim—the North Shore—on its upper border. The Islanders knew they could never catch him up before the almost inevitable smash came, so two or three of them rushed to the houses and dashed after the others with shotguns and rifles. They fired as they went along.

The Black Spot Stopped.

The black spot became stationary. The drummer had heard the signals. Out on the ice, where for weeks there had been a dead calm, there now was a bustling, hustling gale, that they well knew would be a tempest before the now obscured sun had reached high noon. The black spot stopped. The men howled in unison. They danced frantically and waved their arms. The drummer, two miles away gazed wonderingly at them, decided that the entire settlement had got drunk, turned his face once more to the northward, and took up his trudging journey. But he did not go far. From away to his right, down the Strait, he heard a long, rippling, screaming "C-r-r-r-ack." It was the first fissure in the ice. The drummer did not know what it was, but he was, although he scarcely acknowledged it afterwards, even to himself, slightly afraid. He looked back and saw that the little knot of darkness behind him was gaining apace. The Islanders were, he thought, moving pretty fast for drunken men. As a matter of fact, they were moving very fast indeed, for moccasins are very good footgear when it comes to running on packed snow, and moccasins can move very fast when a human life is at stake. The Islanders, of course, had heard the report of the breaking ice. They knew what it portended, and every quarter of a mile they halted, and howled in unison!

"Back! Come back!"

A Wiser Drummer.

Of course, you must know the rest. The drummer sat on his bag until the pursuers came up. In the twenty minutes' intervening there were other shrieks from the East. The drummer, truth to tell, was fairly well "on his nerves," but he was a game drummer, too, and when the pack of Islanders came up to him, they found his pipe a-burning cheerfully.

"This ice is a-goin' to break in an hour or so," shouted the leader. "This gale'll break her up soon. Come back along with us. If you don't, we'll drag you with this here dog-trace."

Now, that drummer saw fire in the eyes of his friends. Moreover, he did not want to be hauled along with a raw-hide surcingle around his middle. So he went peaceably.

And an hour after noon, the open channel in the Strait was a mile wide, and the Eastern gale was roaring across the Michigan at forty miles an hour, while minute by minute the gut of angry open water widened and widened.

The drummer believes that the dog is an intelligent animal.

Danger in Cold Baths.

There is no more dangerous fallacy than the belief that cold baths all the year round are good for everybody. The truth is that they suit comparatively few people in cold weather. Those who enjoy them are, of course, enthusiastic about their beneficial effects, and they convert many people to their views who should not dream of taking a cold bath except during warm, summer weather. The immediate effect of a cold bath in winter is injurious. It lowers the temperature of the body. This makes it necessary for the body to put forth a great effort to warm itself. If the body be robust it succeeds; if not, it doesn't. And if it doesn't succeed, then the resulting injury is very serious. No one who feels chilly for a quarter of an hour after the bath should take one.

Neither should anyone who has a weak heart or is at all out of sorts.

All of One Fold.

Principal Gordon struck the right keynote when, in addressing the Canadian Mining Institute at Montreal, he dwelt upon the inter-relation of the agricultural, mining, and manufacturing industries of this country. There is nothing truer than that each of these is largely dependant upon the others. They can do much more by co-operation than by slant-eyed jealousy, and it is pleasing to vote that the men engaged in them are recognizing this fact. The suspicion with which in some quarters manufacturers were regarded a few years ago is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Fortunately, our High School books no longer tell the pupil that Canada possesses few natural advantages for manufacturing industries.

High Rents in London.

Some parts of London are the most highly rented places in the world, far exceeding the most expensive localities of Paris or New York. Cornhill is absolutely the dearest rented district in the world. One room near the exchange was let a short time ago at £2,500 per annum. Six rooms on the first floor of a house at Throgmorton street were advertised recently to be let at a rent of £2,000 per annum. Bond street is the dearest neighborhood in London for a man to start business in. A small shop in Bond street will cost its tenant £1,000 per annum, and be it observed the word shop has strict limitations and only includes the shop and basement, the rest of the house being let separately. The rents in the Strand have increased hugely during the last twenty-five years, and a lease of a shop renewed lately cost the tenant an increase of £200 per annum on his rent.—London Tatler.

Time seems most untimely when he brings a woman to the turn of life. Life is or should be at its ripest and best for her, and she approaches this change with a dread of its effect born of her knowledge of the sufferings of other women at this season.

There is not the slightest cause for fear or anxiety at this period if Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is used. It gives health of body and cheerfulness of mind, and by its aid the pains and pangs of this critical period are prevented or cured.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is woman's medicine with a wonderful record of cures of womanly diseases. Diseases that all other medicines had failed to cure, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"I feel it my duty to write you as I have received so much benefit from the use of your medicine," says Mrs. Lizzie A. Bowman, of New Matamoras, Washington Co., Ohio. "I have taken four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and change of life. Before I began taking it I could not do anything. I had such pains in my head and in the back of my neck that I thought I would lose my mind. Now I can work every day. I recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all females suffering in the period of change of life. It is the best medicine I have found."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 27. —A good recovery is about due in the stock market while the bond refunding plan of the treasury only releases about five million dollars in cash, there are other ways in which it will confer benefits on the money situation, and most important of it shows that the treasury department is ready to come to the relief of the money market in case of necessity. We believe there will be a great deal of short covering to-day. On account of the heavy gain of the sub-treasury from the banks reported yesterday the bank statement is likely to be an indifferent one with possibly a slight increase in reserve which occurred in the corresponding week a year ago. We expect to see American smelting go still higher. Atchs., Erie, Reading and R.I. should do better. We would not be surprised to see Union Pac., Penna., Mop., St. P. and Ill. C. recover rapidly. There are strong bull points out on Met. London Americans strong.

TOPICS.

New York, March 27. — There is a large short interest in Penna. The buying of Wabash preferred is not only good, it is excellent; much higher prices are predicted for it. Keep long of some of the tractions. Met. is certain to go higher. The outlook favours higher prices for A.C.P. Amn. Car Foundry around 40 may safely be bought.

JOSEPH.

New York, March 27. — There is a very influential bear party at work under leadership of Mr. Keene and these people are very generous with their tips of much lower prices. There is also concerted buying or at least support of Atch., U.P., St. P., Mop. and other leading stocks. You must take your choice which side will be successful. Observe that none of the leaders, U.P., St. P., Mop., Atchison So. Pac. have gone as low as the low prices of 15 days ago. Until they break these prices, I fail to see any danger in buying.

NEWS.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 26, 2.45 a. m. — Relief afforded to money market by treasury refunding bonds estimated from 5 to 6 million. Waldorf-Astoria crowd reported covering shorts. Banks lost to sub-treasury since Friday $2,158,000. Rumoured M.O.P. earnings this year will be equal to 12 p.c. on stock.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Grain.—Liverpool 1.30 p.m.—Wheat, 1-8 lower; corn, 1-8 lower; car lots wheat, 19; corn, 100; oats, 253. Argentine shipments.—Wheat, 2,424,000; corn, 32,000.

Crop advices continue most flattering. Cash demand at all centres has been very favourable past few days.

Ladenbourg Thalmann and Co. New York; N.Y.C. has been sold because that company is expected to make an additional issue of stock before very long. The market is to a great extent in the hands of professional traders and operators and the supply of stocks has been increased by liquidation on account of weakened margins. Rallies have come mainly through covering of shorts, but it is probabl true that this accounts has been considerably increased and recovery in the last hour yesterday was due to this. We think on any slight reaction from present prices the general list may be bought for a turn.

MILLAR.

Laidlaw & Co.—The market closed dull and stronger last night, both in tone and in technical position. An unfavourable bank statement would probably invite another attack, but should surplus reserves remain intact or increase we are inclined to look for a higher market next week.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 26.—There were very few visible signs of support to to-day's market, most of the buying being covering of short contracts put out few days previous. The street has not taken kindly to the issue of new Penna stock. Amal. copper was pounded down to still lower figures again to-day representing a decline of nine points from the high water mark. To-day's price will probably be the lowest for some time to come. Money rates continue at 5 1-2 and 6 p.c.. In the course of next 30 days money rates should be to normal figure again and with this influence out of the way the market should work to higher levels. Until then can hardly advise making purchases except for a turn and then on sharp dips only. After the continous selling of the past few days there is without doubt a heavy short interest in he whole list which sooner or later must cover. The recent decrease in prices has to great extent discounted all of the bad news and we believe purchases made on recessions will pay fair profits. There was a short lived rally after 2.15 p.m. but the bulls found too much long stock offering and gave up the idea. Close was at an advance over the low prices but continued weakness of Penna still unsettles the market.

Chicago Closing Prices. — Wheat, May, 73 5-8; corn, May, 43 1-4; oats, May, 33; pork, May, 18.10.

Think advisable to take profits on long May wheat around 73. It may go to 73 1-2, in which case would sell a little.

Corn is well worth the price it is selling at. Look for it to fluctuate between 43 and 45 for some time to come. Trading dull and featureless.

The Rugby Executive Meets To-night—Basketball Match.

An indoor baseball match will be played before the match to-night.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the executive and players of the Rugby Football Club has been called for to-night. The meeting which will take place at 8 o'clock in the Oriental Hotel, is for the purpose of discussing the affairs of the club.

LACROSSE.

LACROSSE LEAGUE.

Lacrosse clubs are reminded of the organization meeting of the proposed Trent Valley Lacrosse League, which will be held to-morrow morning at 9.30 o'clock, in the Oriental Hotel. Clubs wishing to enter this league are asked to send two representatives to the meeting. It is proposed that the new league be organized on much the same basis as the Trent Valley Hockey League, which did so much to promote a friendly rivalry amongst the teams of the towns in the Trent Valley district.

(Lindsay Post.)

The Lindsay team will have the honour of having among its players this year two men who have been members of championship teams. We refer to Mr. Cass Cameron, who played with the Checkers of Beaverton in 1899, when that team landed the intermediate championship, and Mr. Howarth, of Cannington, who figured with the Champion Dufferins, of Orangeville, a couple of years ago. Both men are fast and expert stick-handlers. Besides these there are Mr. Gillespie, who played with Oshawa two years ago, and Mr. Jas. Davis, formerly of Cannington, who has played with Bracebridge, Huntsville and other clubs. With such excellent material in town lacrosse surely ought to boom in the Sengog town this year.

HAROLD BARRETT WRITES A LETTER.

Refers to Port Hope's Claims on the Trent Canal.

Thanks the Examiner for its Fair Report—Mayor Roger and Mr. Hughes-Charles Also Thanked.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The President and members of the Port Hope Canal Association, who visited you city on the 24th inst., desire to thank you for the very fair and extended report of their remarks published in your enterprising paper.

We did not expect to convert your people to our way of thinking off hand, but endeavoured to give them some facts to think about and that, with your assistance, we have surely accomplished.

We would like to reply through your paper, briefly, to the "Rip Van Winkle's Canal" story published in the Review. We think they have misplaced the characters, for surely the real "Rip" is the writer who harps back to what he did thirty years ago at Bobcaygeon and the then small town of Peterborough.

What they then thought a big canal undertaking will not do now, nor will the route our ancient friend then selected, now prove to be the better.

We are not "so utterly ignorant on the subject of canals, barge navigation, etc." as he states, nor do we take as final the report re Erie Canal from which Mr. Dumble quoted at the meeting. The New York State Engineer has reported to the Assembly that the best and most feasible route for the improved Erie Canal is the open lake from Oswego to Olcott, a distance of one hundred and thirty miles, while we only propose a lake run of thirty miles with three harbours for shelter.

We dispute the statement altogether that a "succession of Engineers of repute have given professional opinions adverse to the Port Hope contentions." There have only been two surveys made, one by Mr. Maingey, strongly in our favour, the other by Mr. Rogers, who said it was feasible, but that the open water on Lake Ontario was an objection and that it would cost more than the Trenton route; that is, that thirteen and a half miles of canal with less than half a mile of rock cutting via Port Hope, would cost more than nineteen miles of canal largely through rock and twelty one miles of "improved river navigation via the Trent.

That "the main design of the Trent Canal is to take Western produce to ocean-going vessels" may be perfectly correct, but now that these ocean vessels can, and do, come up to Lake Ontario and the Great Lakes beyond, they could and no doubt would be loaded at Port Hope directly from the canal barges and thus save the time and extra expense of taking the small craft to Montreal.

We do not think we should be blamed for delaying the completion of the work. We simply propose a deep waterway from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario, and we believe this could be constructed in from one to three years less time than a light draught canal via Trenton.

The delegation also wish to thank Mayor Roger and President Hughes-Charles of the Board of Trade, for calling the meeting and presiding as they did in such a dignified and courteous manner.

The attention and close attention of so many of your prominent citizens was most flattering and demonstrated how deeply in ernest they are regarding this important matter.

Thanking you, Sir, for your valuable space.

Respectfully,
HAROLD BARRETT,
Secretary Port Hope Canal Association.

THREE LEGGED RUNAWAY.

A Horse Belonging to Canadian Express Company did a Strange Act.

Mr. Robert Howland, one of the drivers of the Canadian Express Company, had an exciting experience yesterday morning. The horse which was attached to his wagon, had not been out of the stable for some days before, and was consequently somewhat frisky. When Mr. Howland was with his outfit on the top of the Court House Hill, his horse thought there was an elegant chance to run away, and gave the alarm by an impromptu exhibition of high kicking. The first drive of the hind leg of the beast went up on top of the foot board to the front of the express wagon, striking Mr. Howland on the leg and causing severe injury to him. The feature of the affair was, however, that the horse's hoof caught, and remained in this elevated position. But the horse started its headlong flight down Court House hill on three legs. Mr. Howland was on only one leg. He turned the horse into the Canadian Canoe Company's factory, where it was brought to a standstill. Mr. Howland limped back to the office. The horse remained for some minutes with its hind leg in its elevated position. It was a peculiar accident, and at the same time most exciting to Mr. Howland.

A Naval Station.

A meeting of the Kingston branch of the Navy League was held Wednesday evening. The president gave a resume of the aims and objects of the league, and stated that the Minister of Marine intended placing half a million dollars in the estimate for training ships throughout the Dominion. It was the intention of the Kingston branch to ask the Government that one of the training ships be located at Kingston, which is one of the best ports in Canada, for a naval station.

Ten Months of Peace After Dreadful Suffering.

Operations are becoming a fad; every young man, as soon as he is graduated from a medical college, considers himself capable of undertaking the most serious and complicated surgical work, and hundreds of lives are sacrificed annually to this mad frenzy of incompetent men, to rush into work which should only be undertaken as a last resort, and then only by the most experienced and careful surgeons.

It is a pleasure, in view of these facts, to read the following letter from a woman who has been saved from one of these dangerous operations. "I know I should have informed you long ago regarding my case of piles and the good done me, and I believe I am cured. Last December I sent for your book. I have never been bothered since then, and before I had suffered for the last eleven years, and at the time I wrote I had given birth to a child, and they came down with the delivery of the child by the handful. I could not get them back and I suffered everything; and the doctor said nothing but an operation would ever relieve me; but I read of your remedy in our daily newspaper and I told my husband to get me a box and I would give it a trial before consenting to the knife, and thanks be to your wonderful medicine, I was saved from the operating table.

Every person suffering from piles that my husband and myself hear of, we recommend your wonderful medicine. I just used one $1.00 box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and two boxes of Pyramid Ointment and two boxes of Pyramid Pills, and I was, I hope, completely cured. If they ever show the slightest return I will certainly get some more medicine, but I hardly think I will need any more for it will be a year the 8th day of December since I had them and that makes it ten months and past now. Thanking you again and wishing you abundant success, I remain, Mrs. S. Hodgson, 105 W. 11th street, Des Moines, Iowa."

GAMEY CHARGES GO TO ROYAL COMMISSION

Premier Ross Closes the Debate With a Great Speech.

MASTERLY REVIEW OF SITUATION.

House Decides by Majority of Five to Send the Gamey Matter to a Commission.

Toronto, March 28.—Mr. Gamey's charges against Hon. J. R. Stratton will be investigated by the Royal Commission promised by Premier Ross. The definite stage was reached late last evening, when, after a day of stubborn debating, the Government defeated two amendments and carried their own motion by 50 to 45, every member of the House being present. Mr. Gamey and Mr. Stratton both voted. Mr. Gamey read a statement before the division, criticizing the commission, declaring that if his charge was altered he would repudiate the whole business. He was prepared to prove the charge before a committee of the House. Whether this means a refusal to go before the commission can only be conjectured, for beyond the statement Mr. Gamey will say nothing.

The day's debate was a battle of the two leaders. Premier Ross spoke an hour and a half, and concisely covered the whole situation. His speech was deliberate, argumentative and illuminating. He covered some of the ground previously exploited, and, after referring to the unsatisfactory history of some of the hollow cries of the Opposition.

Mr. Whitney spoke for two hours, reviewing some of the Premier's arguments and emphasizing the points previously brought out.

There were three divisions. Mr. Foy's amendment for a reference to the Committee on Privileges and Elections was first disposed of. Mr. Carnegie moved a want of confidence motion, which met the same fate, and the Opposition insisted on a division on the main motion, which was carried without any change. Mr. Whitney wanted time to consider the evidence bill and the question of adjournment, and promised to conclude on Monday if the members are there to vote.

The Premier's Speech.

When Premier Ross rose at 4.10 to close the debate for the Government there was a loud burst of applause. He hoped to show, he said, that he still regarded the charges of the hon. member for Manitoulin as partaking of the same serious character with which he had originally regarded them. It was no light matter when a member of the House charged an hon. getleman with the heinous crime of bribery, much less that the charges should be levelled against a member of the Government. The Opposition filled an important duty in the function of criticism, but he could sometimes wish that the criticism was more often directed from a provincial standpoint. (Applause.) Mr. Ross expressed admiration of the breadth of learning displayed by many of the new members and at the fact that they would be able to take up the work when the rulers of to-day stepped down and out, which would not be for some time. (Applause.) Both sides could congratulate themselves on some very happy acquisitions to their membership. The question then before them was not in any sense a political question at that stage. It was not a reflection alone upon the Government side of the House but upon the whole House, for all hon. gentlemen shared the duty of custodian of the honour of the House. Nothing had so satisfied him that he was right in removing the question to an outside tribunal as the attitude which hon. gentlemen opposite had adopted towards the case. (Applause.)

Partisan Conduct.

He remembered as a member, that when Mr. Huntingdon made his Pacific scandal charges in the House of Commons in 1873 they were received in silence.

"There was silence deep as death,
And the boldest held his breath
For a time."

When the bribery charges were made in 1884 the whole machinery of State received a shock. He regretted that the charges made by the hon. member for Manitoulin had not been received in that spirit. He hoped the demonstration did not represent the inmost feelings of hon. gentlemen opposite. When the hon. member for Manitoulin placed his charges and papers in the hands of the leader of the Opposition instead of those of the Speaker, that indicated the partisan spirit of the Opposition. Then the leader, after consideration and reflection, as it were, handed the documents back, as if by that means to furnish him with an escape from the consequences of the charges which he had made. (Applause). That, in fact, had characterized the attitude of hon. gentlemen opposite throughout the debate. The hon. member for West York (Mr. St. John) had criticized him because he had shaken hands with the member for Manitoulin (Mr. Gamey) the day after the opening. That act had been merely in following his usual custom on the opening of the House, when, on this occasion in walking about the House, he had been introduced by Mr. Truax to Mr. Gamey.

Mr. St. John said he had intimated no impropriety in the act, but used the incident to justify a conversation between Col. Matheson and Dr. Reaume before the latter had delivered his speech.

Mr. Ross insisted that the hon. member had had a sinister motive in mentioning the incident, and had suggested that he had previous relations of an improper character with the member for Manitoulin. (Applause.) It had also been stated that the Minister of Public Works had spoken to Mr. Gamey. That was not true. His hon. friend must have been spotting the members of the Government. (Applause.) They were not there as units, but as a body, whose usefulness depended upon their standing upon the maintenance of their honour, upon their honour, upon their efficiency, and upon their devotion to duty. The public would form an opinion as to their usefulness by the code of honour which they established. That British principle that every man was considered innocent until proven guilty seemed to be violated here with impunity. As soon as the charge was made the guilt of the Provincial Secretary was accepted by many hon. gentlemen opposite. Supposing the accused Minister were brought up in the Police Court and the jury on hearing the indictment read, broke into applause, what would the judge say as to their fitness to try him? (Applause.) The attitude of hon. gentlemen opposite was almost as partisan.

Committees Partisan.

There were three modes of dealing with the case—reference to the Privileges and Elections Committee, reference to a special committee, and reference to a Royal Commission. In the first two the conditions were almost identical. The former had been the machinery in Britain, in Canada and in Ontario for some time, but had been found ineffective and partisan. Mr. Ross briefly reviewed the work of the committee at Ottawa. The first case, in 1883, was of a minority candidate, whose case was considered on a party basis. In the McGreevy and Langevin case 55 sittings were held, and every division was on a party basis —(applause)— although McGreevy was ultimately driven out of public life. The same party divisions occurred in the Cochrane case, in 1891, the Turcotte case in 1894, and in the West Huron and Brockville cases. So that the history of that committee was a history of failures so far as getting an adjudication on judicial lines. (Applause.) In Ontario the House had in 1884 passed an act authorizing the appointment of Royal Commissions to deal with cases involving the honour of the House. And in the nineteen long years this was the first case that had occurred. That was a testimony to the honour of members of the House. The tribunal was not the choice of the Government; it was the choice of the House. The man in the street would have no hesitation in saying he would not get justice from such a jury as a committee of the House. In the reference to a commission they were following the mandate of an old leader of the Liberal party (Sir Oliver Mowat,) who introduced the law, and of an old leader of the Conservative party (Sir Wm. Meredith,) who supported it.

Defends the Judiciary.

Some hon. gentlemen could not trust the Judges. Our lives and property were to a great extent in their hands, and we were bound to trust them. He resented the criticism of the member for West York (Mr. St. John,) who frequently used the word "whitewash" in connection with the report. That was an imputation upon the honour of the judiciary of the country. (Hear, hear.) Then it had been suggested that this tribunal was "loading the dice," which had been afterwards explained as not being a reference to the judiciary, but to the mode in which the examination would be conducted.

Mr. Whitney—I did not explain that.

Mr. Ross—You will withdraw the explanation, and we will leave the words "loading the dice." (Applause.)

The commission of 1884, the Premier went on to say, had been appointed by the Government, and they heard no reflections upon the manner in which it had been appointed. The Carson commission was appointed by the House, and in the Parnell case the appointment was by act of Parliament. In the present case they were following the precedent of their own statute.

Scope of the Commissions.

It was said the scope of the commission was not wide enough. It was as wide as that of 1884, when the commission was appointed by Liberals to try Conservative raiders. They were taking for themselves no larger measure of privilege than had been given their opponents. (Applause.) In fact, they had gone further in drawing evidence from witnesses which might criminate them. Mr. Ross then read from the proceedings at the commission in 1884, when it was decided that the charges must be formulated. Mr. Meredith thereupon formulated his charges against Fraser, Pardee and the other Ministers. When in 1872 a commission was moved for in the Legislature to inquire "whether any, and, if any, what," corrupt inducements were offered to Hon. E. B. Wood, the words "whether any" were regarded as a vague charge, and it was stigmatised as a fishing committee, and the charge was made more specific.

Mr. Ross professed no anxiety as to whether the commission made a finding, so long as they brought the evidence before the people; but they had a precedent to giving a finding in the West Elgin case. The Opposition wanted to get all sorts of evidence—that was, hearsay evidence. Committees in dealing with such cases invariably submitted majority and minority reports, except in the Rykert case, when it was unanimous. A recent instance of divided reports was the emergency rations investigation at Ottawa, a simple business matter. Hon. gentlemen opposite would very much like a trial before a committee in order to get a new supply of political campaign material. (Applause.)

The Liberals' Platform.

It had been charged that the Liberal platform favoured inquiry by committee. Nevertheless, in 1900 they laid down the principle of commission in the Brockville and West Huron cases, and were supported by Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Foster, Sir Louis Davies and other leading Parliamentarians. He had been charged with changing his mind after announcing the day the charge was made that the investigation would be by committee. It was unfortune to have a mind that he could change. He really thought hon. gentlemen opposite had changed their minds. That evening on finding the statutory provision for a Royal Commission, he had concluded, having in mind the fact that the steute had been approved by eminent Parliamentarians, that that was the proper tribunal. They had been taunted with having inaugurated what was called the new Liberalism. The most Conservative Parliament in the world, the British House, had abandoned the committee for investigations of this type. Was that a new Liberalism? It was nineteen years old. They had given the Liberals at Ottawa a lesson in the evolution of Parliamentary government. He would always trust that the Liberal party of Ontario would be prepared to advance on any line, whether it be in municipal legislation or as to the independence of the House in regard to the enlargement of its rights and privileges. He wished to advance on any line which would strengthen the control of Parliament, and which would raise Parliament in the estimation of the people. The new Liberalism! Were they taught Liberal doctrine by hon. gentlemen opposite? (Applause.) How much did they know of the inspiration which Liberalism had given to the country? To what extent had they aided new Liberalism in extending the bounds of freedom and in laying the foundation of national security? What aid had been given in the promotion of the reforms the House had dealt with? On every question the Government had had to move the inertia of public opinion, and drag the Conservatives by their chariot wheels or they would have lagged behind in the race. (Applause.)

Same Old Tactics.

"But what is the new Toryism which we have just heard?" asked Mr. Ross. "It is the other side of the question. There is no new Conservatism. It is the same old Toryism to condemn a man before he is tried. (Applause.) Justice as you see it in the books of the antiquarians—hang a man first; try him after. He is as much condemned now as he can be in the minds of a great many of the hon. gentlemen opposite. Has the Provincial Secretary no rights that this House is bound to respect? (Hear, hear.) Has this Government no rights that hon. gentlemen are bound to respect? We admit the right of the member for Manitoulin to make charges, but he should have been bolder and placed them in the hands of the Speaker. (Laughter.) What a delightful thing new Toryism is!

"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
And waste it's sweetness on the desert air."

One of these flowers has not been quite born to blush unseen, but it will waste its sweetness—not its vileness—in the overwhelming condemnation which the announcement of the new Toryism will receive from the people of Ontario. (Loud applause.)

Slander and Misrepresentation.

New Toryism—to trust in the repetition of falsehood, the repetition of the statement of the wilful burning of the ballots, although three Judges say it was done inadvertently, (Opposition laughter.) Don't tell the whole truth; give a garbled statement of the facts. Why, go through the whole list of campaign charges that have been made from time to time, they are mainly slander, mainly misrepresentation, mainly a repetition of charges which, by iteration, have been believed, I am sorry to say, in some cases. And at the same time, that new Toryism, with a charity necessary for self-preservation, the first law of nature, always conceals its own crimes. Mr. Ross quoted recent instances of Conservative corruption, and went on: "We gain nothing by these reprisals, as an ordinary rule. But what I want to point out is that this new Toryism wraps itself up in a mantle of self-righteousness, but if you will just remove the mantle you will see the festering sore of electoral impurity and corruption abounding as it did there for the last quarter of a century." (Loud applause.)

Mr. Ross regretted the campaign of slander and misrepresentation, which had a tendency to degrade the good name of Ontario among the sister Provinces of this Dominion, and wherever its history was known. (Applause.) They must submit, he supposed, to those exposures in order that the festering sores which sometimes crept into the public life may be cleansed. He regretted that more time was not given to discussing means for the betterment of Canada.

The Honour of the House.

"I leave our fate as a Government," he concluded, "in the hands of the House, in the hands of the jury of the whole people. We have been thirty years in the fierce light that beats upon the Legislative Assembly. Our leaders have held their own with the best in the Dominion as exponents of constitutional law. We have gone in and out amongst our fellow-citizens in various positions in life. Only once before in these thirty years has a cloud hung over the honour of this House. That cloud arose, unhappily, on the other side. This time the cloud is upon our side. We survived the attention of public opinion which prevailed at that time. The honour of the House was vindicated by a commission. We survive the attention which prevails at this time. The honour of this House shall be vindicated by another commission. (Applause.) The people of the country have confidence that that will be the result, and when we will emerge from this sad, unfortunate and distressing period in our history, I hope both sides will endeavour to feel that bygones shall be bygones, and that this great Legislative Assembly of Ontario, representing two millions of people, has a higher function than to scandalize its members or to indulge in vituperation and vilification. That is not working for the public good." (Loud and long-continued applause.)

Mr. Whitney's Speech.

Mr. Whitney said he had just listened to a most remarkable and astounding speech. That the Government was in sore straits was shown by the strange arguments produced. Some of the remarks were specially called for notice. The Premier had said that he welcomed new men to his side of the House. He (Mr. Whitney) would go further than that, he welcomed new men to both sides of the house. He welcomed the public denunciation by the member for South Brant (Mr. Preston) of the scoundrelism that had taken place in South Oxford.

Mr. Whitney said he did not take seriously the insinuation that had been made by members on the other side that the papers entrusted to him by the member for Manitoulin

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

All Correspondence Is Sacredly Confidential

This is a very important consideration in a woman's correspondence with Mrs. Pinkham. It is a great satisfaction to feel that one woman can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only,—a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and with a knowledge of woman's ills greater than that possessed by any other person.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

The reason Mrs. Pinkham is so amply qualified to give advice in cases of female ills is for the reason that over one hundred thousand cases come before her each year,—some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day, and day after day. Twenty years of constant success,—think of the knowledge thus gained. Surely, women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

As an illustration of the good coming from such advice we herewith publish two letters and portrait of Miss Hattie DeGroat, the reading of which should give every sick woman confidence in Mrs. Pinkham's ability to help them. This is only one of thousands of the same kind of letters which Mrs. Pinkham has on file.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write to you, for I have been suffering for a long time. I have such bearing-down pains, and such shooting pains go through me. I have headache, backache, and feel tired. Menstruation is very painful, sometimes have to stop work and lie down. My stomach bloats terribly, and I am troubled with whites. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain, July 24th, 1900. MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Succasuma, N. J."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can hardly find words to thank you for your advice and wonderful Vegetable Compound. I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached, was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your letter told me just what to do, and your medicine cured me, and I cannot express my thanks."

March 8th, 1901. MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Succasuma, N. J."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends. Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is just as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit. Follow the record of this medicine, and remember that the thousands of cures of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

TO GAIN TIME.

The fatuous course being pursued by the leaders of the Opposition in Toronto in connection with the Gamey charges is, says the Ottawa Free Free Press, not only apparent to those who do not follow the lead of Mr. Whitney and his friends, but to the clearer heads and juster minds in the Conservative ranks. Dissent from the present factious course is expressed privately by many Conservative leaders, and we note that the Citizen, a most pronounced Conservative organ, comes out flat-footed in its condemnation of the long drawn out irrelevant talking now in progress, and tells its friends that "if the Opposition in the Provincial Legislature proposes to exhaust the patience and interest of the country with a long debate on the Gamey charges, or rather on the mode of investigation to be pursued, it is simply playing into the hands of the Government." We have no objection, though the Government's position is not doubtful, and it can justify itself without any playing to. But the people of the province have a right to protest without respect to party lines. So in fact have the people of the Dominion generally because the charges made are of such a character as reflect on our entire political system, and its purity, and also on the integrity of our public men. The people are anxious for an investigation. Let it proceed. There is a limit to the patience even of a long suffering populace.

TIMES CHANGE

And Opinion Also Changes With Them.

There is something grimly ironical in the statement of Michael Davitt that when he remembers that he served his first term of imprisonment for proposing almost exactly what a Conservative Irish secretary proposed to-day, he realises how times change. Although he has had much provocation he has the magnanimity to rise above it and say: "This partial triumph is merely a forerunner of Home Rule. Far be it from me to stand in the way of anything that may help even slightly to bring that about." That is it. The scales are falling from the eyes of the Britisher, and when the right arm which has been paralyzed by ill usage for years and years, is restored to strength generations to come will marvel at the past and desire to have its history obliterated from its records. Butler has said that nations as well as individuals can be afflicted with insanity. The conduct of Great Britain towards Ireland can only be styled insane. However, late repentance is better than none, and we feel sure that the British, now that they have begun to make reparation, will be "thorough" in their penitence.

GOLD IN THE YUKON.

"There's Corn in Egypt Yet."

The official report of the comptroller and gold commissioner of the Yukon territory with reference to the gold output, for 1902, disproves the assertion so frequently made that the Yukon gold fields are fast playing out. The season of 1902, according to the official figures, yielded 861,422 ounces of gold, which at the standard rate of $15 an ounce, amounted to $13,000,000. Besides this, a great deal of low grade gold was held in the territory to be used as a medium of exchange. The previous year's returns showed a grand total of nearly $3,000,000 greater, but the reduced output for 1902 was due to the fact that last season many of the larger operators changed their system of mining from the ordinary placer methods, to the open cut and hydraulic system. There are now thirty leases of hydraulic concessions, which extend over an aggregate distance of 107 miles. These changes delayed operations for a great part of the season and made the output much less than it would have been ordinarily. There are 80 miles of creeks and their tributaries which are known to be gold-bearing, and on which placer mining is carried on. Much of the ground formerly tied up in unworkable concessions is now being opened to the prospectors, and no doubt will add very materially to the miners' harvest. With up-to-date machinery already installed, with more advanced methods in use, and with the gold areas being constantly increased, the output during the present year should exceed all previous records, and the opinion entertained by the men on the ground is that this is what we ought to look for.

DRAGGING DEBATE IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Groundless Opposition Charges Dispelled.

The Speakership Offer Ghost was Laid.

Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill, removing all doubts raised by the Opposition as to the power of the Royal Commission to compel reluctant witnesses, was read a second time on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Whitney is not inclined to regard the bill with favour. It removes every vestige or excuse for his strongest demonstrations—robs him of his choicest grievance. He said it was a serious matter, and demurred to the passing of it through all its stages without discussion, although Mr. Gibson was willing to consider any suggested alteration or amendment. The alleged offer of the Speakership to Dr. Reaume of North Essex, was cleared up in a breezy debate precipitated by Dr. Pyne, who declared that the office had been degraded, peddled all over the province, and offered to half a dozen members. The wild extravagance was called in question at once, and the Premier demanded that it be withdrawn or substantiated, a demand sustained by the Speaker as due to the honour of his position and the dignity of the House.

There was some general cross-firing on the Speaker's ruling. Mr. Whitney protested that Dr. Pyne could not be called to account, as he had not charged members of the House with making the offers. This satisfied nobody. The half-dozen members were reduced to five, then to four, and it soon became evident that the nursery rhyme tragedy of the ten little Indians was about to be repeated. When it was narrowed down to one, Dr. Reams, who enjoyed the lonely distinction, declared again that he had been approached, that a member of the House had offered him the Speakership, and that while withholding the name of the member he was prepared to divulge it if necessary. Mr. Evanturel, through many protests and appeals to the rules of order, read from the only French newspaper published in Windsor, an editorial showing that the offer of the Speakership to Dr. Reaume was regarded as a joke in his own county. The newspaper quoted, although Liberal, had supported Dr. Reaume, and regretted he had made the ridiculous statement to the House. Mr. Lee, of East Kent, who had evidently underestimated the doctor's vanity when he laid the foundation for the Speakership story, made an explanation that removes it from the list of Liberal high crimes and misdemeanors. It was he who made the offer of the Speakership to Dr. Reaume, and he made it in a Windsor hotel when several mutual friends and acquaintances were present. Mr. Auld of South Essex gave Mr. Lee the reputation of being the greatest jollier in his county, and the last man likely to be entrusted with or to undertake any diplomatic negotiations.

It was apparent from the explanation that Dr. Reaume was partly inclined to regard himself as seriously considered for the Speakership, and partly actuated by a desire for the prominence which the office would confer on him. He protested that Mr. Lee had been urging the Speakership on him as early as last July, and had pointed out that it not only entailed an indemnity of $2,000, but gave the entree to Toronto's four hundred. But Mr. Auld, who was present in the Windsor Hotel in January, was certain Dr. Reaume said he had not received a previous offer. Thus ended the celebrated story of an attempt to bribe a member of the House by an offer of the Speakership, a story with a brief though eventful and sometimes exciting career. It is now laid away, with Mr. Whitney's denunciations of the rules of evidence before the Royal Commission. The debate aroused by Dr. Pyne's exaggerations was a profitable feature of his address.

Mr. St. John came forward armed to the teeth. He had a double row of heavy constitutional authorities extending completely across the aisle besides his desk, and threatening to break the shins of all hon. members who might incautiously venture to pass. His eulogies alone would have made reputations for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Edward Blake and Hon. David Mills, when he quoted from their historical deliverances in favour of investigating charges by Parliamentary committees. After recess he acquired an easy dexterity in lifting the ponderous British precedents from the floor, and it soon became apparent that he had settled down to a long, happy, comfortable speech.

At nine o'clock there was only one constitutional authority remaining ing on the floor, all the rest having been transferred one by one to the promiscuous pile that covered his own and the adjacent desk. At times he rose to a pitch of dramatic fervor. In reply to a question aimed with an outstretched index finger, Mr. Harcourt made the most complete and absolute denial that could be made of any complicity in or knowledge of negotiations, promises or bargainings such as were mentioned in the Gamey charges.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Dropped Twenty Feet Into Boiling Water—How it Occurred.

A terrible thing occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at Black's pork packing establishment on South Front Street. A gang of men were at work killing hogs. The pigs are quartered on the ground floor and they are hoisted by one hind foot with a windless up to a platform, where their throats are cut and they are passed along a tramway to an immense vat of boiling water, where they have their bristles scalded off. They then continue on their journey until they come out smoked ham and breakfast bacon. The water in the big iron vat is kept boiling by means of steam pipes from the boiler in the engine room. Yesterday the man whose duty it is to stand at the vat dropped twenty feet into the boiling water. Fortunately for the man they were pigs' feet. It was a narrow escape, but it was fatal to the pigs.—Belleville Ontario.

THE GREAT WEST.

Mr. James Laidley, of Omemee, Tells of Its Extent.

(Omemee Mirror.)

Mr. James Laidley, formerly of town, but who, with his brother, Howard, is now running a large ranch in the Northwest, returned last evening after a year's absence, looking hale and hearty. The west evidently agrees with Mr. Laidley, as he has not lost any of his old time vigour, and is the picture of health. In conversation with our representative Mr. Laidley said that their ranch is a large one, stocked with over two hundred head of cattle. The ranch is about 112 miles west of Moosejaw, and about 30 miles north, being situated near the Saskatchewan River Valley. Owing to heavy rains last fall, and the cold snap coming on immediately after, they had the misfortune to lose some cattle, but this, Mr. Laidley says, is a common occurrence with ranchers.

Speaking of the west, Mr. Laidley says it is a great country, but he thinks that like all new countries it is being boomed a little too much. Ranching is a great business, and it is great sport to jump on the back of a broncho and spend a half day rounding up the cattle. The weather in the winter time changes often, but the coldest day they had this year was on February 13th, when the mercury dropped to 48 degrees below zero. In summer mosquitoes are very troublesome. Antelopes are very numerous in their district and it is quite a common thing to see a herd of a couple of hundred at one time. Mr. Laidley will be in town a few weeks, and while here will spend considerable of the time picking up live stock to take back with him to the west.

CURE OF DEAFNESS OF 15 YEARS DURATION.

In the December "Supplement" to the "Journal for the Deaf" is related a remarkable cure of a Canadian lady, Miss A. E. B., of Beresford, Brandon, Manitoba, who had been deaf for 15 years. This is also a striking illustration of the successful treatment of ear ailments by the Drouet Method of local application, of which the editor has collected during 1902, no less than 383 cases. In the particular case under notice the patient has given the editor full permission to furnish her address to anyone desiring to communicate with her privately, and to obtain this it is only necessary to write to the Secretary, Drouet Institute, 10, Marble Arch, London, England. The Secretary will also supply free the latest issue of "The Journal for the Deaf," containing a full description of the Drouet Method, with instances of numerous cures, and a Patient's Report, by means of which anyone can receive advice for applying the treatment at home.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

Write for My Help

And Get Well at My Risk.

Nearly 500,000 sick ones have accepted my help, and got well without risking a penny.

Over 65,000 of them have written me testimonials, without solicitation. I shall be glad to send you all that you will read.

On Jan. 11, 1903, I publishd in the Chicago papers the names and addresses of one thousand people in that city alone, whom I had cured of chronic diseases in just the past six months. That is a record which has never been approached in the history of medicine.

I can cure you, too.

Simply send me this coupon, or write me a postal stating which book you want. I will then mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

That offer itself is the best evidence possible that my Restorative will cure; for if it failed often the offer would ruin me.

The remedy that makes that offer possible, strengthens the inside nerves. It brings back the nerve power which alone operates the vital organs. It is the result of my lifetime's work.

A weak organ must have more power. It is useless to doctor the organ itself. It is like a weak engine that needs more steam. And my Restorative forms the only way known to bring back that nerve power, and make the weak organ again do its duty.

My Restorative, kept in the house, will enable you to head off the serious diseases by treating the little troubles promptly. But if a chronic trouble has developed, it is very probable that this remedy forms the only way to a cure.

MISS VINA TELLS OF HER GARDEN.

Interesting Talk re Religious Denominations.

Lovey Mary Contributes a Story to a Recent Number of the Century.

In the February Century, Lovey Mary, Mrs. Wiggs, and all the other delightful folks of the Cabbage Patch go on as unique a picnic as any pleasure seekers ever enjoyed. Before this outing Lovey Mary is sent on a Sunday trip to Miss Viny for some yellow root, and Miss Viny tells her all about her "denominational garden:"

"This here is a denominational garden, an' I got every congregation I ever heard of planted in it. I ain't got no feverite bed. I keer fer 'em all jes' alike. When yer come to think of it, the same rule holds good in startin' a garden as it does in startin' a church. You first have to steddy what sort of soil you're goin' to work with, then you have to sum up all the things you have to fight agi'nst. Next you choose what flowers are goin' to hold the best places. That's a mighty important question in churches, too, ain't it? Then you go to plantin', the thicker the better, fer in both yer got to allow for a mighty fallin' off. After that yer must take good keer of what you got, an' be sure to plant somthing new each year. Once in a while some of the old growths has to be thinned out, an' the new upstarts an' suckers has to be pulled up. Now, if you'll come out here I'll show you round.

"These here are the Baptists," said Miss Viny, waving her hand towards a bed of heliotrope and flags. "They want lots of water; like to be wet clean through. They sorter set off to theyselves, an' tend to their own business; don't keer much 'bout minglin' with other flowers."

"These is geraniums, ain't they? One of the girls had one, once, in a flower pot when she was sick."

"Yes," said Miss Viny; "they're Methodist. They fall from grace, an' has to be revived; they like lots of encouragement in the way of sun an' water. These phlox are Methodist, too; no set colour, easy to grow; hardy and vigorous. Pinchin' an' cuttin' back the shoots makes it cuttin' back the shoots makes it flower all the better; needs new soil every few years. Now, ain't that Methodist down to the ground?"

"Are there any Presbyterians?" asked Lovey Mary, beginning to grasp Miss Viny's meaning.

"Yes, indeed; they are a good, old, reliable bed. Look at all these roses and tiger-lilies an' dahilias; they all knew what they were goin' to be afore they started to grow. They were elected to it, an'they'll keep on bein' what they started out to be, clean to the very end."

Miss Viny crossed the garden, and stopped before a bed of stately lilies and azaleas. "These are 'Piscopals," she explained. "Ain't they tony? Jes' look like they thought their bed was the only one in the garden. Somebody said that a lily didn't have no pore kin among the flowers. It ain't no wonder they most die of dignity. They'r like the 'Piscopals in more ways 'n one; both hates to be disturbed, both likes some some shade, an'"—confidentially—"both air pretty pernickity. But, to tell you the truth, ain't nothin' kin touch 'em when it comes to beauty. I think all the other beds is proud of 'em, if you'd come to look into it. Why, look at woddin's an' funerals! Don't all the churches call in the 'Piscopals an' the lilies on both them occasions?"

"And here," continued Miss Viny, "are the Unitarians. You may be 'sprised at me fer havin' 'em in here, 'long with the orthodox churches; but if the sun an' the rain don't make no distinction, I don't see what right I got to put 'em on the other side of the fence. These first is sweet-william, as rich in bloom as the Unitarian is in good works, a-sowin' theyselves constant, an' every little plant a-puttin' out a flower."

"Ain't there any Catholics?" asked Lovey Mary.

"Don't you see them hollyhawks an' snowballs an' laylacs? All of them are Catholics, takin' up lots of room, and needin' the prunin'-knife pretty often, but bringin' cheer an' brightness to the whole garden when it needs it most. Yes, I guess you'd have trouble thinkin' of any sect I ain't got planted. Them ferns over in the corner is Quakers. I ain't never seen no Quakers, but they tell me that they don't b'lieve in flowerin' out; that they like coolness an' shade an' quiet, an' are jes' the same the year round."

RAISE CHINESE TAX.

The Premier's Resolution Passes in the House of Commons.

A BILL TO MAKE IT $500.

Case of the Japanese—Explanation of the Disallowance of B.C. Legislation in This Regard—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Speech Gives Many Facts and Figures About the Yellow Scourge.

Ottawa, March 28.—In the House yesterday afternoon, Mr. McCarthy introduced a bill to amend the General Inspection Act. It aims to obtain uniform hide inspection.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill, relating to obscene plays, was presented for a third reading.

Mr. Leonard moved in amendment, aiming to put contraband on all plays that ridiculed married life.

Mr. Fitzpatrick thought amendment was an attempt to define an immoral play, and, as such, would fail. He considers the word obscene met the difficulty.

The amendment was lost, and the bill was read a third time and passed.

The House then went into committee of the whole on a resolution to bring in a bill to remedy the effect of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, so that superannuation might be calculated on the basis that if the period of service included a fraction equal to no greater than one-half, the fraction shall be deemed to be an entire year. The bill was necessary to over-ride a decision of the Auditor-General. All past allowances would thus be confirmed. The resolution passed, and Mr. Fielding introduced a bill based on it. It was read a first time.

Chinese Poll Tax Raised.

Sir Wilfrid's resolution regarding the $500 poll tax on Chinese was then presented. He said in British Columbia a strong feeling existed against the influx of Chinese. It was undesirable to class the Chinese with the Canadians. In 1875 a capitation tax of $50 was put on Chinamen coming into Canada. It was sufficient for some years. Later, however, because of increased immigration, the tax was raised in 1900 to $100. Now a further request was made to the Government, consequent on the report of the Chinese Commission. The report concluded that Chinese immigration ought to be prohibited, or narrowly restricted, and suggested that the tax should be made $500 at once.

In regard to Asiatic immigration, he was sorry to say British Columbia thought as it did about Japanese immigration. He thought the Japanese were great people. But he bowed to the Western opinion. The problem had been solved by the Japanese Government prohibiting Japanese immigration to Canada.

It was most opportune action by Japan. Only three classes of Japanese could come to Canada—residents of Canada on a visit to Japan; families of Japanese resident in Canada and merchants and students.

Mr. Borden asked what acts referring to these questions passed in British Columbia were disallowed by the Federal Government.

Sir Wilfrid replied that the acts referred to the putting out of Chinese and Japanese laborers in mines. The acts were disallowed because Canada did not wish to make a break between Japan and Great Britain, that were allies. He hoped all future legislation along this line in British Columbia would be confined to Chinese alone.

Speaking from an Imperial standpoint, Mr. Borden asked if there was any reason why British Columbia should not be allowed to legislate as strongly as had Natal against immigrants.

Sir Wilfrid said the action of the Federal Government was from a Canadian standpoint. Canada wanted trade with Japan and was making steps in that direction in many ways. Had the Japanese Government, however, not acted as they did, the matter might have been different.

Mr. Borden thought the Government was assuming a position as a court of appeal for British Columbia legislation. Sir Wilfrid was not a great champion of provincial rights. If the question of trade was a good ground for disallowing legislation, it was a good ground to urge against shutting out Chinese.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said similar legislation in British Columbia was disallowed in 1884. At that time it was laid down that a law prohibiting the incoming of immigrants into a province was not a purely provincial matter, but a national affair. An immigration act must be applicable to the whole of Canada.

The resolution passed and a bill based on it was read a first time.

The Expropriation Act.

The bill to amend the expropriation act was amended in accord with the suggestion of Sir Hibbert Tupper so as to make equitable awarding of damages for limited possession more certain. Before this was done, however, considerable discussion took place. The bill was put through committee and stands for a third reading.

The bill to amend the act respecting the publication of the statutes was given its third reading.

The bill to amend the Dominion controverted elections act was put through committee and stands for a third reading.

The House then went into supply, and a number of items for public buildings in Ontario were passed.

The Cattle Embargo.

Yesterday was handed down the correspondence that has gone on with the Imperial Government, touching Canada's application that the embargo on Canadian cattle should be removed. It begins with June 21, 1901, and brings one down to December, 1902. Sir William Mulock, who interviewed Hon. Mr. Hanbury on the matter in London at the time of the Colonial Conference, gives a statement of what he asked and the reply he got.

The sum of it all is that the embargo is on to stay, and no extension of the time in which cattle must be slaughtered was granted.

The Imperial Government has been asked to consider if Canada is not entitled to some reciprocal treatment following the second preference given by Canada to England. No answer has yet been received by Canada to this.

Cost of the Census.

A return presented yesterday shows that the cost of the census of 1871 was $511,330.48; of 1881, $456,-904.19; of 1891, $570,115.54. The cost of the census of 1901 up to March 1, 1903, was $1,112,900.20. The number of enumerators required in Ontario in 1901 was 3,759; in 1891 1,887. The total enumerators in Canada in 1901 were 8,800. The scale of pay in 1901 was for each living person 8c; for each farm 15c; for each death 8c. and for each factory 20c. One hundred and ten enumerators were required for the Yukon.

WHEN YOUR COSTLY WATCH

is out of order you have it regulated, you don't at once throw it aside. Why, then, when your bowels are out of order, do you treat them as useless?

That is precisely what it means to take violent cathartics. They do not regulate the bowels, but take their work away from them, debilitate them, and make you more constipated than ever.

You had far better throw away your good watch than treat your bowels roughly. You can get another watch, but you cannot renew your intestines.

The only cure for Constipation is a gentle laxative with tonic action.

Popular Ideas Regarding Catarrh.

It is the common belief that what is popularly known as catarrh is simply a chronic cold in the head. This is true as far as it goes but as a matter of fact catarrh is by no means confined to the nasal passages, but extends wherever the mucous membrane extends, which means nearly every part of the body.

The mucous membrane is the inside skin of the body and is nearly as extensive as the outside skin, and any inflammation of this membrane causing an extra secretion of fluid is really catarrh.

Catarrh is therefore an old enemy, disguised by many confusing names, for instance:—Rhinitis is nasal catarrh; laryngitis and pharyngitis throat catarrh; gastritis, stomach catarrh; cystitis and nephritis, catarrh of the bladder and kidneys.

Therefore, although the location of the trouble gives it various names, in reality the sum total is catarrh, and nothing else.

Do not make the mistake of thinking that you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is a cough, tickling in the throat and hoarseness, you have throat catarrh; if there is no appetite, but nausea, gagging and disgust for food, especially in the morning, you have catarrh of the stomach.

The surest treatment for every form of catarrh is an internal remedy which acts especially on the blood and mucous membranes; such a remedy is the new preparation sold everywhere by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a medicine in pleasant tablet form, and containing all the best and latest specifics for catarrh.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain in highly concentrated form, blood root, red gum of the Eucalyptus tree, and many other equally valuable curative elements, and no one who suffers from any form of catarrh, and has seen the inefficiency of douches, powders and sprays, will ever go back to them after once trying so pleasant a preparation as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and one which gives so much relief in so short a time.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50c. for full sized package and the regular daily use of them will effectually cure this troublesome and dangerous disease.

Miss Agnes M. Clerke.

The works of Miss Agnes M. Clerke, whose writings have done so much to assist and popularize astronomy, are too well known to need more than brief mention here. Miss Clerke was born in Ireland, and in her case an instinctive passion for the stars dates from earliest childhood. "Arcturius, I think it must have been, shining in at my nursery window," she writes, "seemed to me a vision of unearthly beauty, and before I was twelve I had read eagerly the astronomical books in my father's library, settling my fundamental conceptions by the aid of Sir John Herschel's 'Treatise,' and exciting my imagination with Mitchell's 'Orbs of Heaven' and kindred works." Failure of health perforce checked for a time the youthful astronomer's zeal for study, but during a longthened residence in Florence she wrote and sent to The Edinburgh Review an article on "Copernicus in Italy," the instant acceptance of which decided her to devote henceforth her best energies to astronomical writing. Since then, though she has done actual observational work at the Cape Observatory and elsewhere, it has been in the field of scientific literature that Miss Clerke has achieved her greatest success. "A Popular History of Astronomy During the Nineteenth Century," which Messrs. Black engaged to publish before a line of it was written, was her first book, followed by the "System of the Stars," "The Herschels and Modern Astronomy," articles in the Encyclopaedia Britanica, etc., and other writings too numerous to mention.—From Gertrude Bacon's article, "Leading Lady Scientists of England," published by The Lady's Realm.

THE IRISH LAND BILL.

Important Clauses Not Given Out During Mr. Wyndham's Speech.

London, March 28.—The text of the Irish Land Purchase Bill, which was introduced in the House of Commons by the Irish Secretary, Mr. Wyndham, Wednesday last, was given out yesterday. It occupies thirty-nine pages of a Parliamentary paper and bristles with technicalities.

The full wording reveals many important features which are not mentioned in Mr. Wyndham's speech when the bill was introduced. All arrears of rent due at the time of the purchase of land are recoverable by the Land Commission and not the arrears for a year only, as previously cabled. The Land Commissioners, however, are given power in special cases to remit a part, or all, of the arrears.

The Commissioners are not permitted to purchase estates which are not mainly agricultural or pastoral. Thus, Killarney is exempt under this clause. In case of untenanted estates purchased by the Commissioners, they are empowered to execute the necessary works of improvement, which tremendously enlarges the scope of the Commission's expenditure. The Commission is empowered to declare sub-tenants to be tenants of any holding occupied by them, which will vastly benefit hundreds.

Fishing, sporting and mineral rights, which are among the most controversial, will be vested in the Commissioners when an estate is purchased and can be disposed of as the Commissioners decide. The Commissioners also are empowered to determine boundary and other disputes between the proprietors of holdings under the bill. The Commission has the first claim to purchase bankrupt estates and can resell them to tenants or use portions of them for the repatriation of evicted tenants. The latter point is regarded as being one of the most vital features of the bill.

Three Bodies Recovered.

Owen Sound, Ont., March 27.—Word was received here to-night from Bass Lake that five boats were dragging the lake all day to recover the bodies of the four victims of yesterdays boating accident. The body of James McLellan was the first to be discovered, about fifty feet from shore. He had followed Smith's lead for land, but succumbed, exhausted with the ice-cold water and heavy clothing. The bodies of Hugh McCallum and Harry Boulter were also recovered later in the day. That of Wm. Nicol still lies at the bottom of the small lake. The search will be renewed again to-morrow.

Williams Murder Inquest.

Toronto, March 28.—The inquest on the body of George Williams, who was fatally stabbed on Monday night, was opened by Coroner Crawford at St. Michael's Hospital last night. After the jury viewed the body, Dr. W. O. Simpson, Dr. John Caven, who performed the autopsy, gave medical evidence. The cause of the fatal hemorrhage was the blow from the knife. The inquest was adjourned until Tuesday night next.

Two Months For Grave Robbers.

Brockville, March 27.—James Hutton, the Queen's University student charged with grave robbery at Lansdowne on the night of March 12, was brought before Judge McDonnell for trial this morning, and was sentenced to two months in the common jail here.

Order Mine Flooded.

Halifax, March 28.—The various coal companies' officials met last night to consider the fire situation in Dominion No. 1 colliery at Glace Bay. After the consultation an order was issued to flood the pit.

The White Winged Dove.

Montevideo, Uruguay, March 28.—An assembly of the chiefs of the revolution just ended yesterday ratified and acclaimed peace in the convention which was signed with the Government last Monday.

Prohibition Law Revoked.

Concord, N.H., March 28.—The License Bill was signed by Gov. Batchelder yesterday. This ends statutory prohibition in New Hampshire, which began under a law passed in 1845.

GIVE IT A REST.

That is What the Stomach Signals for—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will Digest the Food While the Stomach Rests.

Those who are suffering from the first mild discomforts that are the forerunners of Dyspepsia, little realize what the future has in store for them, unless the warnings sent out by the distressed stomach are heeded. The stomach signals that it needs rest, and if it does not get it it grows more tired and less able to do its work as time wears on, and the while those discomforts grow to pains, and the pains to agonies that are a terrible menace to life itself.

Take warning from those who have learned by terrible experience the pains and dangers of dyspepsia. Mrs. John F. Sillars, of Western Bay, Newfoundland, is one of them. Here is what she says:

"For sevas years," Mrs. Sillars relates, "I suffered from Dyspepsia. I could not eat without suffering intense agony. I doctored some but to no avail, and I had almost given up myself to die. An advertisement in a paper drew my attention to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I bought some and began to take them. From almost the first dose I found relief, and after using five boxes I found myself well and strong."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food themselves. They give the overworked stomach a chance to get the rest that it needs.

THE HARRIERS WON FROM ALBERT COLLEGE.

Basketball Match at the Local Y. M. C. A.

Belleville College Team Visited Peterborough Last Night—Fencing Bouts.

Several hundred people gathered at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night to witness the basketball match between the Albert College boys, of Belleville, and the Harriers of Peterborough. The Harriers were on deck to win and they fully fulfilled the expectations of their friends.

The evening's entertainment started out with an indoor baseball match between the Beavers and the Collegiate Institute teams. The Beavers won by a score of 32 runs to 21. After the baseball match, a fencing bout between Mr. Sandford Hall, of the Bank of Toronto, and Mr. Watson, of the Bank of Montreal, was put on. In the first bout Mr. Hall won by one point to nothing; and in the second bout Mr. Watson won by two to one, thus making the score a tie. The young men put up a good exhibition of the art and several fine thrusts were warmly applauded by the spectators.

After a brief intermission the Belleville boys were called to the floor, and shortly after the Harriers appeared also, determined to do their prettiest. They were cheered as they made their appearance and the boys by their play showed their appreciation of the spectators' interest in them. The play all through was very fast, and the Belleville boys, although they put up a good game, found that they were "up against the real thing." The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 3 in favour of the Harriers.

During the intermission the gallery was entertained by a wrestling match between Messrs. Thornton and Robertson. It proved very interesting, both young men making good throws. Neither man had a fall, although Thornton tried hard to get Robertson on his back. Robertson, however, refused to be turned and therefore at time the bout was declared a tie.

At the referee's call the basketball teams again took the floor and the game proceeded fast and furious. Several brilliant throws and combination plays being enthusiastically cheered. At the conclusion of the play the score stood 19 to 8 in favour of the Harriers. The Belleville boys joined in three lusty cheers and "a tiger" for the winners. The teams lined up as follows:—

Belleville — Astle, centre; Hunt and Black, defence; Grundy, left forward; Wilson, right forward.
Harriers — Dobbin, centre; Richardson and Campbell, forwards; Kemp and Lang defence.

NOTES.

The Harriers' men have surely got the range of the baskets.

Astle and Grundy for Albert College put some sure throws over the edge of the rings.

The crowd in the gallery was very enthusiastic every time the pigskin fell in the right place.

The Harriers combinations were at times very pretty to watch.

The Belleville team was in a great measure handicapped by not being used to the side line.

Both teams played a fair gentlemanly game.

But the Harriers meant to win—and they won.

DO YOU EAT TO LIVE?

Sensible people of all classes "eat to live." It should be borne in mind that the ordinary prepared breakfast foods contain too much insoluble starch and blood irritating ingredients. Oatmeal and other cereal foods produce skin troubles and dangerous stomach difficulties.

Malt Breakfast Food keeps the blood pure and clean and always at a proper temperature; it builds up solid, clean flesh, strengthens the nerves and clears the brain. Those who "eat to live" should always use health-giving Malt Breakfast Food at the morning meal. It gives to young and old a sustaining energy and vim that no other food can bestow. Ask your grocer for it.

THE SMALL-POX CASES.

The Warsaw Case Reported to the Provincial Board of Health.

Mr. A. F. Choate, of Warsaw, suffering from small-pox, has been isolated, having been placed in a cottage not far from McCracken's Landing, Dummer.

This cottage, being near a spring, it was feared that the drainage from the hospital cottage would pollute the spring, and cause infection. Mr. George Cochrane, as president of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, reported the matter to the Provincial Board of Health, and received the assurance that there was no danger of infection from the proximity of the spring to the cottage. However, Dr. Bryce said that he would send down a man on Monday to take official action in regard to the small-pox situation, which seems to be needed, as it is rumoured that another case has developed at Warsaw—a son of Mr. Choate is said to be also affected.

THE RUGBY CLUB HELD A MEETING

And Talked Over Next Seasons Prospects.

Great Enthusiasm, Notwithstanding a Deficit of $54.

There was an air of Rugby enthusiasm around the Oriental hotel last night, notwithstanding the fact that the fall and not the spring is supposed to be the Rugby season. However, it was a special meeting of the executive of the club, and the players of the senior team who were called to discuss the financial situation of the club, and the new rules of the game, which will be submitted at the next meeting of the Ontario Union for approval.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Hal. Burnham, President, and there were present Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, A. W. McPherson, Will Crowley, J. Hurtubise, Will Meagher, J. Dainward, "Buck" Asselstine, T. Thornton, Gordon Lee, Ross Craig, E. S. Clarry and several others.

The Secretary-Treasurer, E. S. Clarry, presented a statement showing the club to be in debt to the extent of $54. Ways and means were discussed as to how this amount should be raised.

The matter of the new rules then came up for consideration, and the rules were discussed clause by clause.

The boys then turned their attention towards the consideration of next season's prospects, and great enthusiasm was shown. It was resolved to get out to practice at once, so that the team may be familiar with the new rules when the Rugby season opens next fall. The boys will practice every Saturday afternoon from now forward.

The Peterborough club will be strengthened this year by the addition of several new men who have located in town lately. One of these is Kennedy, formerly of Ridley College Fifteen, St. Catharines. Peterborough will not, however, think of going into senior company, but will be found in the Intermediate series once again. It is felt that by the introduction of Association Football in town this summer, which will be played by many of the Rugbyists, the Peterborough team will be in fair shape by September.

THE LATE BRAKEMAN HULLEY

Was Well Known in Railroad Circles—Lived in Lindsay.

Concerning Brakeman John Hully, who met his death at Stirling the night before last, by falling between two freight cars, the Lindsay Post says:—

Deceased was one of the oldest employees of the G.T.R. on this division, having been in the company's service for over twenty-four years. He was a faithful and reliable man, and was always ready to do his duty. For over seventeen years he was a brakesman under Conductor Bert Kelley, now of the Whitby mixed, Conductor Bouprey as his mate. When leaving town yesterday he ceased was in excellent spirits, being highly delighted over news of his coming promotion to the Belleville mail train, which is in charge of Conductor McMillan. His new duties were to commence on Monday next. Mr. Hully resided in Belleville, and is survived by a wife and a family of four children, the oldest being about 15 years of age. He was a member of the Sons of Scotland and Orange Orders. The funeral takes place to-morrow in Belleville, and we understand several of his fellow-employees will attend.

WEDDING IN CHEDDAR.

Mr. John S. Moore, of Minden, to Miss Bertha Southworth, of Cheddar.

At the residence of the bride's parents, "Beech Hill," Cheddar, March 25th, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Bertha Southworth, eldest daughter of Mr. A. Southworth, to Mr. John S. Moore, of Minden. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Whyte, of Minden, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride entered the room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Anna Matheson of Havelock.

Misses Maud and Maggie Southworth, sisters of the bride, acted as bridesmaids, while Mr. E. Patterson ably assisted the groom. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white silk organdie. The bridesmaids looked very pretty in white organdie over pink.

The presents were numerous and costly. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch and to the bridesmaids beautiful gold brooches.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for Toronto and other points west previous to going to British Columbia to reside.—Com.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE

On "The Study of History Delivered by Prof. Wrong,

Of Toronto University, in Y.M.C.A. Hall Last Night—Large Audience Present.

A most interesting lecture on "The Study of History," was delivered by Professor Wrong, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last night, there being present an exceptionally large number of people, for Professor Wrong's ability to deal with his subject and his eloquence were both widely known in this district.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club, the President of this distinguished group, Mr. J. Jeffries, occupied the chair. After due introduction of the lecturer, by Mr. Jeffries, a most entertaining and valuable discourse commenced.

In the course of his lecture Professor Wrong dealt with three questions—What? How? Why? That is to say, what is history? how can one study history? and why should such a study be made?

In dealing with his first subject, "What is History," the learned Professor said that history is a study for the training of the human mind. The aim of history is to know the truth concerning the paths of man. When we study history we study truth, for it is purely a subject of facts and facts only. History is past politics and politics is present history. This study of the gradual and continual development of man was not much thought about fifty years ago. The historian has to keep himself from wandering off into interesting regions in order that he may "stick to the point." He is not the champion of any race, creed, or political party, neither ought he to be supposed to teach patriotism—we must all be patriots—but we do not study history to learn true patriotism.

American historians, as a rule, are champions of democracy, but a true historian takes neither one side nor the other—he simply states the true facts—and his action may be said to be precisely that of a scientific man towards nature's phenomena. Then, in dealing with the second question as "How may we study History? Professor Wrong said that there was a great difference between the ancient and modern historian. Nowadays severe criticism quickly pulls to pieces any stories with no fact foundation. Referring to the actual work of the historian, Professor Wrong said that after the documents have been obtained, the name and particulars of the author must be discovered. Then the great point must be proved. Is the document authentic? This is a serious work and a task that no man can completely conquer.

Then as to "Why do we Study History?" the answer which first comes to our lips is because it is interesting. We have a natural interest. Go to Europe, London, Westminster Abbey, or similar ancient places, and we naturally wonder who built them? what their ages are? and many other like questions, all showing that we have a natural interest in history. The study of history, moreover, enables us to read and understand individual character, and also to have a wider scope of interest in all portions of the globe. "History," said Bismark, "teaches one how far one can go." This was Napolean Bonaparte's great mistake — he never knew when to stop—things never seemed impossible to him, and it was the latter who said that history was a fable.

To study history to advantage we need impartiality and fairness of mind—we must take neither one side nor the other—we must simply discover the naked truths of the past.

In conclusion Professor Wrong remarked that a modern historian must look facts in the face, see the truth and give the knowledge they have thus gained to the rest of the world.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, in moving a vote of thanks, said the lecture had been a most eloquent and instructive one, and he was sure it was one that was appreciated by all present.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, in a few well chosen words, seconded the motion, which was unanimously approved of by those present. In reply, Professor Wrong thanked everyone for their attention and said it was a pleasure for him to speak in such a place as Peterborough, which he had not seen for twenty years.

LATE MAJOR-GENERAL KERR.

Brother-in-law to Mr. H. J. Daubus of Peterborough.

The Cheltenham Examiner of Glowcestershire, England, contains the following account of the death of Major-General Kerr, a brother-in-law of Mr. H. J. Daubuz, No. 539 Reid street, town:—

The death is announced of Major-General William Henry Kerr, of Prestbury Court, which took place at his residence on Monday night. The son of Mr. R. Kerr, the deceased was born on January 25th, 1826, and had thus attained his 78th year. He joined the Army as subaltern in the 13th Prince Albert's Light Infantry in 1846, was promoted lieutenant in 1857, and obtained his company in 1854. He saw active service in India during the Mutiny, being in command of the left wing of his regiment in the action at Amorah on April 17th, 1858., commanding 180 men in action before the same place eight days later, and on the 28th of the same month leading the whole left wing of the regiment in the attack and capture of the Fort of Nuggar. For his services on these occasions he was mentioned in dispatches. He took part in the attack on the rebels' position at Amorah on June 9th, and on August 29th shared in the defence of Hurriah. He received the medal, and also the brevet rank of major as a reward for these services. His promotion to LieutenantColonel took place on March 25th, 1869; from 1872 to 1878 he held a post on the staff Assistant-Adjutant and Quarter-Master-General in Nova Scotia; and on his return to this country he took over the command of the 17th Brigade Depot. His retirement from the Army took place in 1881, with the honorary rank of Major-General. Coming then to reside at Prestbury Court, General Kerr at once took a kindly interest in the affairs of the parish, and for nine years served in the office of parish warden. A Conservative in politics, he was one of the founders of the village Habitation of the Primrose League, of which he became first Ruling Councillor. He had also been, from its foundation, one of the directors of the Cheltenham Theatre and Opera Company. The deceased officer married (in 1868) a daughter of Mr. Jas. Baril Daubuz, D. L. for Essex, who survives her husband. Deceased also leaves a son and two daughters to mourn his loss.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

THE LETTER of Mr. Barrett, Secretary of the Port Hope Canal Association, published in yesterday's Examiner, was conceived and written in a spirit which should mark a controversy, both parties of which are anxious to have prevail the contention they think in the real interests they represent. While the Examiner is grateful for the kind words of Mr. Barrett, commending the fairness of the report of the meeting, no special praise is called for — it is the proper function of a newspaper's news columns to give a fair report, and as full as circumstances permit — to give the facts on which the public can base an opinion. The people of Peterborough were interested in knowing what arguments the Port Hopers might advance, in favour of Port Hope, as the terminus of the canal. They could then know what action was necessary in order to sustain the contention — that Trenton is the best terminus. Slang-whanging and abuse of Port Hope, will do no good in deciding the question. They will only arouse irritation, excite bad temper, becloud judgment, and delay arrival at a decision on the merits of the question. It would be better policy to "jolly" Port Hope along; treat them fairly and give them credit for honesty of purpose. They, as well as we, want the canal; it is only a matter of detail that separates us. We want to take a course that will bring, and keep, to the front, the canal as a national undertaking—that will bring action on the part of the Government—and not waste our energies in petty local recriminations. Port Hope has done this much for the canal: It has emphasized the necessity of prompt and energetic action, in order to, in turn, stimulate the Government to action. If we, who desire the canal so badly, had everything our way we might grow supine, and indifferent. Opposition, even in details, only stimulates us to action. Let us obey the spur and act.

THE OTONABEE Township Council has taken action to severely punish any person guilty of cutting or destroying roadside trees; and they are to be commended. Trees are of the first importance in the matter of beauty and utility. A proposal has been made to turn Central Park into a play ground for boys. Such a play ground—or play grounds—is badly needed in town. But it would be nothing less than outrage to cut down the growing trees in Central Park to provide such a place of recreation. Children should have other places for playing than the streets. But to propose cutting down scores of growing trees to provide one is like asking a housewife, who takes pride in her beautifully furnished drawing room, to dismantle it to make a play room for her children; only infinitely less defensible. A drawing room can be made at any time, by spending a little money; but no reasonable expenditure will replace a grove of growing trees in a day. The curse of this country is the destruction of our tree growth, and the greatest minds are working hard on the problem of reforestery and general tree planting in order to restore to some extent the equable climatic conditions that were and will be, in proportion to the extent that reforestery obtains, for the comfort and material benefit of the country. Nothing but the most serious considerations of the safety of society justifies the taking of the life of a man by legal or other process, and nothing but the most serious necessity should sacrifice the life of a growing tree. Destroy the tree life of Peterborough and you destroy its beauty. "Woodmen, spare that tree."

THE EXAMINER yesterday dealt generally with the aims of the Water Commissioners in reducing water rates. One object is increased consumption, resulting in ultimately increased revenue. But the other results of larger water consumption have an important bearing upon the public health. Apart from the general effect of increased domestic and personal cleanliness resulting from cheaper water and its more general use the disuse of well water will mean a correspondingly decrease of certain diseases due to impure water. We have had recently a great deal of scarlet fever and diphtheria and there are mournfully many little mounds in our cemeteries and vacant places in many homes. While these diseases are directly due to infection or contagion, the ultimate cause is constitutions weakened and prepared by unsanitary influence, as nests for the development of the disease. It is asserted that the great majority of the cases of the diseases mentioned have occurred in families whose water supply for domestic and personal use was drawn from wells, while the largest immunity was secured by families using city water. The water of all wells is not impure, but nearly every well in a thickly inhabited district is liable to be defiled by sewage. Peterborough has an exceedingly porous subsoil of gravel which permits the easy passage of water. This explains why wells can be and are easily polluted with water from privy vaults and cess pools. Who over heard of one of these becoming filled with water—the liquid contents are taken up by the soil and flow to the most convenient openings. The other day a workman opened a trench and noticed a stream of foul smelling water trickling into it. This was traced to a cess pool 300 feet distant. If a well had been where the trench was it would have received the contents of the cess pool. What would be the effect on wells only a few feet away? There are many wells with scores of cess pools or vaults a few feet away. It stands to reason that the water must be frightfully impure. The water of some of our wells has been analyzed and found to be supersaturated with disease germs and sewage impurities. With the more general use of city water the danger from foul wells would be infinitely decreased. There is no sensational object in reciting these facts, the idea is to make people think and—act.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mr. DeWindt to Lecture on "From Paris to New York, Overland."

It is with much pleasure that the St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild announce having succeeded in securing for an illustrated lecture the famous explorer and traveller, Mr. Harry De Windt, who has lately accomplished a feat which has astonished the scientific and commercial worlds, a journey overland from Paris to New York. While the press has elaborately published accounts of this daring exploit, the narrative as related by Mr. De Windt, accompanied by over one hundred stereopticon views, made from photographs taken by Vicomte de Clinchamp, a member of his expedition, is one of the most interesting, instructive and fascinating tales of adventure ever told.

In London he has lately appeared before the Royal Geographical and other Societies with tremendous success and no other explorer since Nansen related the thrilling tale of his dash for the Pole has succeeded in awakening such interest. The conservative English press have published columns in his praise and as a result of his work attention has been universally directed toward the accomplishment of an all rail journey from Paris to New York, which is undoubtedly one of the events to be accomplished in the distant future.

Mr. De Windt's is a most interesting personality. He has travelled all over the world, has written books of adventures under the tropics and in the polar fastnesses; the jungles of India and the prisons of Siberia. Recognized as an impartial observer he was invited by the Tsar's Government to visit the prisons of Siberia and give to the world an unbiased opinion of the exile system. He has proved himself a fearless and intrepid explorer, a graceful and facile writer, a graphic and forceful speaker; a man with a message to the present generation of the possibilities of the future. We are sure that a Peterborough audience will be delighted to welcome Mr. De Windt and hear his remarkable experience. In the lecture hall of St. Andrew's church, Friday evening, April 3rd. Admission 25 cents.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

WRESTLING.

The management of the boxing and wrestling contest on Tuesday Tuesday evening next, have made arrangements to get the returns of the Corbett-McGovern battle in San Francisco, and they will be read from the stage during the bouts. Popp and Barry are expected here on Monday so as to be well rested for their ten-round go. Letters from both men claim that they are in the pink of condition, and able to put up a good bout. This is the first time a championship bout has been put on in Peterborough, and it should be a treat to all lovers of the sport. A great deal of interest is being taken in the wrestling match between Gauthier and Simons and considerable betting has been going on during the past week. Simons in writing to a friend in town, claims that he has been training hard at the M.A.A.A. in Montreal, and will be in fine shape for the match; he will arrive here on Monday. Gauthier has been doing some great wrestling in practice all week, and he is faster than ever and stronger, too. He says he will make Simons wonder where he is at, and let him see that Peterborough has some wrestlers. The programme will be announced on Monday evening and it is a corker. The management the entertainment are local people, and assure the public that everything is genuine, and no fake, like the last show put on by the Toronto aggregation a few weeks ago.

CRICKET.

LINDSAY ORGANIZED.

The Lindsay Collegiate Institute team has elected the following officers for the ensuing season:—

Captain—Ross Harstone.
Committee—J. N. Fogleson, C. J. Burns.
Secretary—V. L. Gladman.

Owing to heavy expense in connection with the large amount of material needed and coach's services, and keeping ground in order, an effort will be made to raise money by subscription list. Last year's eleven played five matches, defeating Trinity College School twice, St. Cyprian's (Toronto,) and Peterborough Colts, and losing to Trinity College School at Port Hope. An effort will be made to arrange matches with Trinity College School (four teams,) Upper Canada College, St. Andrew's College, Gordon-McKay, Grace Church, Uxbridge, Orillia and other clubs.

Belleville will have a cricket Club this year and The Intelligencer of that city says it is a game that everyone can play without the wrangling prevailing in other sports.

Mr. Sheldon, the English coach, who has been secured by the Collegiate Institute team, of Lindsay, is expected to arrive in Lindsay this week. The school boys are getting the crease in shape and it is expected a large crowd will be out for the first practice game.

LACROSSE.

The Millbrook Lacrosse Club met in the Fire Hall on Thursday evening last for the purpose of re-organizing for the coming season. There was a good attendance of old and new players, and we have no doubt that Millbrook will be represented by a fast team this season. The following are the officers:

Hon. President—H. W. Johnston.
President—Chas. Needler.
Vice-President—Geo. Duncan.
Manager—W. T. Wood.
Field Captain—R. J. Doak.
Treasurer—S. Grandy.
Secretary—Jos. A. Thorndyke.
Managing Committee — Messrs. W. Coombe, W. Strain and S. Sloan.

The selection of a captain was left over until the first practice is held.

HOCKEY.

Mr. J. T. Sutherland, the well-known hockey enthusiast of Kingston, says that the proposed Eastern Hockey League is as good as started. He says the general feeling in the east was that the time had come for the east to govern itself in hockey. As good talent, rinks and executive ability existed in the east as well as anywhere in Canada. He wished the O.H.A. every success, and thought that criticism of the proposed new league came with bad grace from the Toronto press. The speaker quoted a number of instances as showing the alleged unfairness of the Toronto O.H.A. tribunal.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures, eczema, salt rheum and piles so thoroughly and promptly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to others. See testimonials in the newspapers.

Eczema

Physicians pronounce Eczema one of the most stubborn diseases they have to contend with. To effect a permanent cure the disease germs, to which Eczema is due, must be destroyed. There is only one remedy that will do this without injury, and that is Powley's Liquified Ozone. It will eradicate every trace of the disease, leaving the skin as clean and smooth as that of a child. It has worked wonders for others and will work wonders for you. The following are a few of the many persons who have been cured :—

J. B. BANKS,

787 West Queen Street, Toronto, writes: "For twenty years I was troubled with eczema in my left leg, which was swollen three times its natural size and apparently mortification had set in. The skin had broken in several places and matter was oozing from the ulcers. The leg was black and rawish-red in parts right up to my hip and the itching was frightful.

My wife had been much benefited by Powley's Ozone, so I decided to give it a trial. It was not long before I noticed an improvement in my blood. The humors began to disappear and soon my leg had resumed its natural healthy tone and I was perfectly well in every way."

MRS. F. SCULTHORPE,

72 Cobourg St., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I was terribly afflicted with eczema, which broke out on nearly every part of the body. The irritation was almost unbearable and my life was a misery. I commenced to use Powley's Liquified Ozone, and after using nine fifty cent bottles there is no trace of the disease left."

RODGER PILSON,

Downsview P.O., Ont., says: "For eight years I suffered with eczema and spent hundreds of dollars in medicines, but could get nothing to help me until a friend advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I did so and before I had entirely used three large bottles I was completely cured."

MRS. H. J. WISE,

corner Barton Street and Smith Avenue, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My daughter had been afflicted with eczema for over two years, and we had tried all the different remedies known for eczema—various patent medicines and also doctors' prescriptions, but nothing that we tried did her good.

We finally tried your Powley's Liquified Ozone and we are happy to tell you that after using four bottles our little one is entirely cured and is in perfect health."

W. DORSEY,

22 Sultan Street, Toronto, writes: "I had a very severe attack of eczema in my left leg. It became very angry and sore, and seemed to eat right into the flesh. This gave me such great pain that I was nearly out of my mind. Different friends advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I bought three bottles and by the time I had taken them every trace of the disease had gone."

Dr. MECKLENBURG,

corner Craig and Bleury Streets, Montreal, writes: "For over twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema. My hands and limbs were so bad that blood would ooze out of my skin, and I had a very bad sore on my right leg at the knee. It was so painful that I was unable to walk and at times my hands were so bad I could not attend to my practice and I was compelled to wear silk rubber gloves. I was treated by leading specialists on skin disease, but got no relief. With hope almost gone I finally decided to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I noticed an improvement almost immediately and continued until I had used eleven bottles, when I was completely cured. My skin is as clean and smooth as a baby's."

Powley's Ozone Ointment is advised for external use in cases of Eczema and all skin diseases, where a more speedy cure is desired. With Powley's Liquified Ozone taken internally and the Ointment applied externally all germ life is soon destroyed, when a speedy and permanent cure becomes a certainty. Both remedies are sold by leading druggists, Powley's Liquified Ozone at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle, and Powley's Ozone Ointment at 50 cents per box.

A Curio in the Wood.

Mr. Fred O. Loft, accountant at the Toronto Asylum, and formerly of the Six Nations, called at Premier Ross' office recently with some curios made from the wood of the first lilac tree planted in America. The lilac was planted in 1762 by Sir William Johnston, the founder of Johnston, N. Y. During last summer a resident of Johnston presented Mr. W. L. Loft of the Six Nations with a piece of the tree, and a portion of this his brother offered to the Government to be made into a gavel or something of the kind for use in the Legislature. In sawing the wood, Mr. Loft happened on a crosssection, the outlines of which bore a resemblance to the features of the former owner, Sir William Johnston, and by some artificial touching up a most striking likeness of the old baronet has been obtained.

Mr. Loft is an Indian, and his native name is Onandaga. When presented to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall, it was as Onandaga he persisted in being known, saying he would be presented as such, or not at all.

NOTES OF THE LOBBIES.

Beet Sugar Men Ask Aid From the Dominion Government.

Ottawa, March 27.—A deputation of over one hundred gentlemen, representing all the leading centres of Ontario, accompanied by many members of Parliament, waited upon the Minister of Finance yesterday morning and urged that encouragement be given to the beet sugar industry. They asked that countervailing duties be imposed upon bounty sugar from Europe and elsewhere, and that protection be afforded to Canadian sugar either in the form of an increase of duty or a bonus.

Mr. Fielding's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Fielding, in reply, pointed out that it would be a mistake to suppose that the sugar industry had no encouragement under the present tariff. On raw sugars imported from abroad there was a duty of 33 per cent., which was practically protection to that amount. On refined sugars there was a duty as against European and United States sugars of about 50 per cent., which was a great deal more than the average Canadian industry enjoyed. As to the countervailing duties if he had been a member of the Imperial Parliament he would have supported their adoption. The conditions in England were different from what they were here. There was no tariff advantage to the refiner in England, and they were free to take the position. There must be countervailing duties to meet bounty fed sugar. In Canada we gave bounties and so we were not in a position to throw stones, or insist upon countervailing duties. However, his colleague, Senator Templeman, would report the representations of the deputation to Council and they would be given careful consideration.

Ottawa Notes.

The Town of Whitby sent a deputation to ask Hon. Mr. Sutherland to take over Whitby harbor as a Government work, which is owned by David Galbraith and others. The Minister would not express an opinion, as the deputation was not empowered to fix a price on their proposition.

This Hold-Up Failed.

Tweed, March 27.—At 4.30 yesterday morning L. Murphy, night operator at the C.P.R. station, was awakened from a nap by a cold revolver muzzle pressed against his face by a masked man. He gave fight and threw the would-be robber on his back and had him arrested. He is a young man named Stevens, who has been working on a nearby farm. Magistrate Newton committed him for trial.

Little Boy Killed by Car.

Toronto, March 27.—Samuel Birnbaum, a three-year-old son of Harry Birnbaum, peddlar, 38 Edward street, was crushed to death by a trolley yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The boy had wandered away from home, in company with another child, and was crossing Queen street, at the corner of Simcoe, when he stumbled and fell in front of westbound car No. 504.

N.B. Legislature Opened.

St. John, March 27.—The New Brunswick Legislature was opened yesterday afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor Snowball. The Speech from the Throne referred to the prospects of the province and Canada as a whole, the fishery award, the effort put forward against the redistribution of federal representation in Parliament, and other matters of less importance.

Navigation Opening Early.

Quebec, March 26.—The River and Gulf of St. Lawrence stand to make a new record of very large dimensions in the early opening of navigation this season. Orders have been issued to have all the lighthouses go into operation on the first proximo, and the government steamship Druid is now taking on buoys for the river below. This is very much earlier than ever before known.

Colds are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It-s only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. It always cures and it is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

Big Exodus From Denmark.

Copenhagen, March 26.—The Hellg Olave, the new 10,000 ton steamer of the Scandinavian-American line has left here on her maiden trip for New York. She carried 1500 passengers, which is a record number from any Scandinavian port. The American emigration fever is now worse than ever thruout the Danish peninsula, and has called forth a number of newspaper protests.

Prairie City's Clearings.

There is nothing to equal this remedy for healing and strengthening the weak kidneys and giving to the little child vigour and animation.

Mrs. G. Grove, 70 Euclid avenue, Toronto, says, "My little boy, Robbie, has been subject to kidney and bladder weakness for some time past, which caused me much anxiety. I gave him half a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and he was completely cured and has not been troubled since. The Tablets not only have strengthened his weak kidneys, but in addition has made him healthier and brighter than he ever was before."

ROYALTY AND CAMERA.

The King Is Easy to Take, But the Kaiser Is Otherwise—Some Interesting Photographic Gossip.

Since the invention of the camera royalty has spent no infinitesimal proportion of its time in being photographed. To prose so many times a year for this purpose is, in fact, one of royalty's minor duties, which to neglect would mean a detraction from its popularity. The man in the street likes to be familiar with his king and queen in every attitude and costume that ingenuity can devise.

The royalty whom photography flatters, or at least does not disfigure, can endure the incessant ordeal placidly enough, but the illustrious sitter whose features are not his or her strong point naturally does not enjoy the process. No great lady makes a more charming picture than Queen Alexandria, and a success is generally ensured without much trouble. She takes a genuine interest in the result of the photograph, has apt little suggestions to make of her own, and is never in an obvious hurry to finish the "sitting."

King Edward is the most good-natured of sitters, although he owns, laughingly, that being photographed is "a bore." He is inclined to distract the photographer's attention by asking him questions, and criticising former pictures of himself.

The Prince of Wales goes through the performance in business-like fashion, adopting readily every suggestion, and wearing a more serious expression than is usually on his face. None of Queen Victoria's daughters have cared for over-much publicity with regard to their portraits, and the Duchess of Argyll has refused for many years to allow her "counterfeit presentment" to be exhibited.

Of foreign monarchs the Kaiser is no easy subject for the photographer who has the dubious felicity of being summoned to his presence. Nearly every negative shown to him meets with his disapproval, and as he refuses to listen to any directions or suggestions the results are generally artistically unsuccessful. All negatives rejected by the Kaiser have to be destroyed in the presence of one of his officers, who signs a document certifying that the process of destruction has been duly carried out.

William II. always poses in military uniform, and endeavors to assume the most martial and awe-inspiring of aspects. When a photograph chances to come up to his ideal its lucky producer is sure of a handsome honorarium. The Kaiser enjoys superintending the proceedings when the Kaiserin or the royal children are being photographed, when Her Majesty amiably adopts the attitudes and poses suggested by her lord and master.

King Leopold of Belgium is not fond of having his portrait taken. "I would rather face a cannon full of grape-shot than your machine—I hate it," he once told a well-known photographer. Yet he makes a striking photograph, and is generally taken in profile—a pose in which few royalties would dare to be immortalized. His Belgian Majesty is, however, a great patron of the photographic artists in Brussels and Paris, as he delights in adding to his gallery of photographs, and is constantly having pictures of beauties and celebrities taken for him.

The Adventure of Mr. Dillon.

One of the funniest experiences of the traveling politician I have ever heard was that which happened to Mr. John Dillon during a tour many years ago in America. Mr. Dillon, it will be known, has a very light frame, is very delicate, and though he is of a very equable nature, with his deep, dark eyes, with his beard and hair, which, now turning grey, were a few years ago black as the raven's wing, he looks rather melancholy, though, as a matter of fact, he has one of the most equable tempers I have ever known. He and the late Mr. Parnell appeared once together, on a platform in America. There was a threatened famine in Ireland. When the meeting was over, the chairman took Mr. Dillon by the hand, and with tears in his eyes, said, "Ah, Mr. Dillon, when I heard Parnell speak I was not moved. There, I said to myself, is an aristocrat who knows nothing of suffering, but when you, Mr. Dillon, got up, I shed tears. There, I say to myself, is a man who has known hunger. He has hunger in his face!" Mr. Dillon tells the story still with much delight.—M. A. P.

It Wasn't Seasonable.

"I've withdrawn the big snowstorm scene from our play."

"Why did you?"

"Because the audience can see a better one outside."

KILLED AT HAMILTON.

Grand Trunk Railway Engineer Martin Run Over.

Hamilton, March 28.—Robert Martin, 25 Magill street, a G.T.R. engineer, was killed yesterday afternoon in the Stuart street yards. He got down under his yard engine to make an examination, when, from some unexplained reason, the engine started forward. The unfortunate man was horribly crushed. He was 52 years old, and had been an engineer for about 30 years. He leaves one daughter and two sons.

Fire Insurance Statistics.

Toronto, March 28.—The annual report of the Inspector for Insurance for Ontario, Dr. J. Howard Hunter, shows three joint stock fire insurance companies in the province, with 14,019 policies in force and $12,816,450 involved in risks. There are eleven cash mutual companies, with 95,578 policies in force, on which the risk involved amounts to $102,841,733.43. Of purely mutual companies there are 74, with 105,945 policies in force, net amount of risk, $150,911,396.49. The amount of fire losses paid was $205,472.04. The total amount of risk in the province on December 31, 1902, was reported as $184,608.94.

To Rest 'Neath the Heather.

Paris, March 27.—The British Consul, A.P. Inglis, to-day issued a formal note announcing that the body of Major-General Sir Hector MacDonald, who killed himself here on Wednesday, will be transported to Scotland, where the funeral service will occur. Orders from the War Office in London are to give every assistance to the family in the removal of the body to Scotland.

This statement is intended to set at rest the reports that the body was to be buried here to-night.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by Remarkable Race for Life.

A remarkable race for life occurred during a recent run of the Carmarthenshire hounds. The fox entered a railway tunnel, followed by the hounds and the M. F. H., Mr. Robert Harries, of Trefigarne, Haverfordwest. Mr. Harries had galloped about a quarter of a mile into the tunnel when a train entered from the other end. Turning the horse's head he clapped spurs to it, and they raced for life at a breakneck pace through the black tunnel, the train thundering on in hot pursuit. Fortunately the engine-driver noticed the flying horsemen silhouetted against the white light of the tunnel's mouth, and he slackened speed. Mr. Harries and his horse were saved. The fox and the hounds also escaped uninjured, having passed through the tunnel before the train entered.

Bronchial Colds and Chest Pains

Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs and Colds Yield Promptly to

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There are many reasons why you should use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in preference to any other treatment for diseases of the throat and lungs. Of these the most important one is the fact that it has been tested for years and absolutely proven its right to first position.

Nearly everybody knows of the remarkable value of turpentine and linseed as remedial agents. They have been so combined with half a dozen other ingredients in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as to form a most thoroughly effective and at the same time pleasant medicine.

As is frequently the case with an unusually successful article, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is imitated. There are now hosts of preparations with names similar to this, and some even go so far as to imitate the bottle and wrapper. It therefore becomes necessary for you to be very careful when buying. Insist on seeing the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the wrapper.

We know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine will not disappoint you, because it has stood the test of time, and the sales, which are at least triple that of any similar preparation, are steadily increasing year by year.

As a positive cure for croup, bronchitis, asthma, throat troubles, and severe cough and colds, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has a reputation which cannot be stolen by the cheap and oft injurious cough mixtures which are offered in place of it by some dealers.

Even the consumptive, who has reached the latter stages of his insidious disease, finds ease and comfort in the use of this preparation, while it is impossible to estimate the countless number of less severe cases which it has actually cured. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle. Family size, three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 5

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM AND ADDED TEN POUNDS IN WEIGHT.

Mr. Ed. J. Harris, Newbridge, Ont., was in poor health, but has now been restored to full health and vigor. Here is what he writes us: "Last spring I was in a very critical condition, my system was all run down. I felt drowsy and miserable, and thought I would surely die if I did not get something to build me up. After reading one of your almanacs I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I had taken two bottles I had gained ten pounds in weight, and am now in perfect health, and I can certainly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to build up the system."

FIGURES ARE HIS FORTE.

Auditor-General an' Author Who Shows a Varied Style and Independence of His Patrons' Opinions.

To Canadian literature the Auditor-General makes an annual contribution of two thousand pages—sometimes more, never less. For some obscure reason these pages are not numbered consecutively. Mr. J. Lorne Macdougall—that is the auditor's name— takes more room to tell his story than does the Auditor-General of the British Empire. Some of the members of Parliament complain that the thing is too long.

Is it any wonder, under these circumstances, that the Auditor-General despises members of Parliament? Is industry to be slighted this way? It is quite true that Mr. Macdougall does not produce the same results as a Zola, a Hardy, a Tolstoi, or a Kipling, but he combines all their habits of working.

How the Auditor Works.

For instance, sometimes for weeks at a stretch he will emulate Zola, doing a regular stunt of about five pages a day. Again he will imitate Kipling, writing fiercely when the inspiration seizes him, or when the material is at hand, and turning out stacks of copy that make the Printing Bureau shiver from cellar to ridge-pole. At another time he takes Dumas pere for a model, and dictates rapidly to six secretaries, giving them the skeleton and allowing them to fill in the details. Also, he has a familiar spirit in his department, a brilliant graduate of Toronto University, Hayter by name, whose mind is full of trigonometry and conic sections. Hayter, on instructions from his master, goes out, brings in a report, a beautiful concinnate report, which the Auditor-General boldly incorporates in his great serial romance. Something like this the great Raphael used to do when he was pressed for time, writes H. F. G. in Toronto Star. The maestro would formulate the grand conception, the ensemble, so to speak, and leave his best pupils to paint in the figures.

Pro lific and Varied.

It will be seen, therefore, that the Auditor-General pursues all the best methods of literary work, and consequently he turns out a chef d'oeuvre every twelve months. In it will be found styles to suit every whim. Critics have taken objection that his language is too figurative, but they speak without a proper knowledge of other parts of his book where the narrative runs more smoothly. The Auditor-General is a ready letter writer, and the epistolary interruptions in his story are quite equal to anything that Wilkie Collins could invent. As a matter of fact, the Auditor-General has to be figurative to hold down his job. If the gray matter of his brain were analyzed, it would be shown as full of figures as a ripe Stilton is full of mites. Some authors run to words, others to dashes and brackets. The Auditor-General, like the artificial school poetry, relies mainly on figures. Left to follow his natural bent, the Auditor-General would probably be a happy blending of Burke and Gibbon, but public taste demands that the Auditor-General shall be figurative or nothing; and so this great mind has to defer to false standards. However, he has this advantage: If truth is beauty —and the philosophers say it is—the Auditor-General is truth personified. Figures cannot lie.

A Much Sought For Book.

The Auditor-General is a proper candidate for membership in the Canadian Society of Authors. He realizes all the qualifications. He publishes every year, not fugitive pieces in the feuilleton corner of a newspaper or a magazine, but something ponderous and enduring. This annual effort is bound, first in blue paper, afterwards in boards, and becomes a valuable work of reference. It is a veritable store-house of good things, and members are always rummaging its pages for plots. Hall Caine gets his best plots—so he has confessed—in the Bible; other writers of fiction find them in the classical dictionary, the Encyclopedia Britannica, and human nature. Very few of these have hit upon the Auditor-General's report, because that is a repository which a literary Opposition is keeping jealously to itself. Some writers are suggestive. One adjective of Carlyle's may induce a whole train of thought with a buffet car and a sleeper on the end. But there is not a writer in America as pregnant as the Auditor-General. He carries suggestiveness to such limits that the Opposition suspects a plot under every statement of account. If the Auditor-General had lived prior to the French Revolution he would have been an encyclopedist like Diderot.

He Is Inquisitive.

Like all the great authors, the Auditor-General's work discovers an undercurrent of sadness, a sort of Omar Khayam cynicism, developed by the contact of a sensitive mind with the sordid affairs of politics. From his name, Auditor-General, you would naturally imagine that his functions are entirely passive. He is to be, so to speak, a national whispering gallery, an omnipresent listener, a ubiquitous confessor, receiving all the secrets and simply looking to it that the vouchers are all right. But that is not his idea of his office. At various times since the seventies he has set himself against what he calls irregular practices, which means that he will not stretch punctilio for an emergency. He has sometimes refused to sanction outlays.

This brings him to blows with the Finance Department, and the Deputy Minister, Mr. Courtney, steps into the ring. Mr. Courtney has an upper cut which invariably puts the Auditor-General out of business. This form of punishment is known as the Treasury Board, and by statute law the Auditor-General must publish the Treasury Board overrulings. This is aggravated humiliation for a proud spirit, but the Auditor-General gets even by publishing likewise, his end of the correspondence, which, by the way, the law does not demand, but public curiosity justifies. The tone of this correspondence is what constitutes the undercurrent of sadness. It is a plaintive "aside."

Where His Power Is.

The Auditor-General has great license in the way of complaint. He is not the officer of the House of Commons, but the officer of the whole Parliament, and can be removed only by impeachment, and on a two-thirds vote of both Houses. If a commoner fails of election, he must drop out. If a Senator "goes broke," he must quit. Only the Auditor-General is set above these vicissitudes of fortune. Change and decay in all around he sees. He alone abides. Immutable, steadfast, what wonder that he lectures ephemeral Parliaments! Naturally his attitude must be:

Come one, come all! This rock shall fly
From its firm base as soon as I.

Fond of His Office.

Very rarely does the Auditor-General come out of his cave. He never does so voluntarily. To many members of Parliament he is a sort of Veiled Prophet of Khorasan, something strong and terrible, not to be viewed with the naked eye. But when he is summoned by the Public Accounts Committee he must put in an appearance. There, once in a while, he may see his particular bete noir, Mr. Courtney, and the two official enemies scowl at each other diligently.

The Auditor-General, whom most of us have hitherto known only by his work, is discovered to be a florid gentleman, with a white moustache, gold-bowed spectacles, an alert mind, and a tone of voice that grandma might use in arguing with naughty little Willie. There is a protest in it. He seems to say: "Gentlemen, why am I subjected to these foolish questions?"

A Lost Art.

"Graceful bowing," remarked the statuesque young lady at the head of the tea table, "is fast becoming one of the lost arts. Few are proficient in it, and, indeed, the difficulties are many. I am referring of course to men. Women are still mistresses of the art, but not all of them, either.

"But I have seen men who were fat, not to say tubby, and they find that a mere inclination of the head is a burden, for it induces disagreeable rushes of blood to the head, and that is bad for men who wear twenty inch collars. And there are men who are tall, lean and scraggy, and when they bow, being sensitive plants, they think and make the spectator think, of strings of marionettes, and they dread the smile of the man in the street.

"And I have seen men whom the critical moment found unprepared, with hands in pockets. And I have seen them when they were wearing caps and clutched vainly and instinctively at bat brims, and I blushed at their grotesque poses and involuntary caricatures of the line of beauty."—New York Times.

Inseparable Words.

"Say," asked the red faced man in the hotel writing room. "How do you spell 'unmitigated?'"

"Why," replied the stranger next to him, "it's u-n-m-i-t—say, my friend, I wouldn't advise you to call a man a liar of any sort in a letter. You'll get yourself in trouble."

A Born Growler.

"How's all the folks?"

"All well, but—the measles is in the neighborhood."

"Well, you orter be thankful you're a-livin'."

"I reckon so but—we've all got to die."

The Repeater.

Jim—Would you call a man who steals another man's funny stories or his plots and uses them a literary thief?

Jams—No. I would call him a second story man.

THE COAT.

To-day is only won from yesterday;
The flower must lose its sweet to dower the bee;
The breeze is gathered in the great wind's way;
The river bears its largess to the sea.

And we must pay for laughter with our tears;
Mint coin of sorrow for each cherished breath
Of happiness; buy knowledge with the years;
And give our lives to know the peace of death!

—Charlotte Becker.

Electric Reptile Lights.

Electric footlights are the novelty of the smart dinner tables of the season in London, not glaring light running round the table, but fascinating little globes tucked in among the flowers, the bonbon dishes and beside the dinner plates. They illuminate in an artistic way and admit of endless possibilities in decoration. To make them effective the general lighting of the dining-room is subdued. A woman with a mania for the curious is planning a "reptile" dinner, with which to dazzle her guests. It isn't the menu which is is to be of crawling things, but the footlight decoration. Her scheme is original, to say the least. In the centre of the table she has planned to have a miniature lake, or, which will float water lilies and their pretty green pads. About the lake and scattered all over the table will be a profusion of sinuous reptiles, with an occasional frog and brilliant beetle to enhance the effect. These odd creatures will be gorgeous in hue and big as to eye, for it is in the grotesque bulging eyes that the electric lights will be placed to glisten upon all beholders. In the bodies of the snakes other lights will be concealed to illuminate their whole scaly lengths.

Patti and Insurance.

It was Mme. Patti who originated the idea of insuring the voice. Hers is "underwritten" for $5,000 a performance or $40,000 for total loss of voice. Only twice has she drawn this insurance, although she is nearly sixty years old.

A MAN CAN'T swim in shackles. It isn't a question of his winning a race, but a question of being able only to keep afloat. The man who is suffering from malnutrition is like the fettered swimmer. His stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased. It is not a question with him of winning in the race for business but of simply keeping up under any circumstances.

Whenever disease affects the stomach it is affecting also the blood and the health of every organ of the body. For blood is only food converted into nutrition and nutrition is the life of the body and every organ of it.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and enables the perfect nutrition of the body which means perfect health.

"For six long years I suffered with indigestion and my liver and kidneys, which baffled the best doctors in our country," writes E. L. Rassell, Esq., of Woolsey, Prince William Co., Va. "I suffered with my stomach and back for a long time, and after taking a 'cart-load' of medicine from three doctors I grew so bad I could hardly do a day's work. Would have death-like pains in the side, and blind spells. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' Before I had taken half of the second bottle I began to feel relieved. I got six more bottles and used them, and am happy to say I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Paine's Celery Compound

Used in Springtime Will Give That Strength, Vim and Bodily Activity That All Are So Eager to Possess.

Pure Blood and Well Nourished Nerves Are Essentials to True Health.

Pure blood and well nourished nerves are the great requisites at this season for every man, woman and child. Too many of our people enter the spring season with systems charged with deadly impurities. The blood is foul and stagnant; the liver and kidneys work imperfectly, and very often are diseased. With many, rheumatism, neuralgia and dyspepsia are daily tormentors. Life is not safe when such ailments are permitted to run unchecked.

If you, dear reader, find yourself burdened with any of the forms of disease just referred to, do not fail to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial. It is your only safety—your only true and certain deliverer from perils that end in death. Paine's Celery Compound has cured tens of thousands every springtime; it will do the same blessed work for you. One bottle will cost you less than a visit to consult a physician, and will convince you of its power to cure. Mr. John Y. Gourley, Halifax, N. S., gratefully writes as follows:—

"Overwork, worry and cares during winter season almost made me a physical wreck. My blood was impure and stagnant, my digestion was bad and I slept little. I became so weak that I felt I was nearing the grave, especially when my doctor could not give me any relief. I was advised to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and I thank Heaven it was brought to my notice. After using five bottles I am quite restored to health and strength and attend to my work with increased interest and attention. Paine's Celery Compound is a true life saver. I recommend it with all my heart."

The Risks of Shaving.

In spite of the fact that those who use the razor frequently cut themselves yet it is rarely that anything more serious than a cut follows, the slight wound generally healing quickly, and the risk of septicaemia arising in this way would seem to be almost nil. In the majority of cases therefore it is clear that the razor blade must be bacteriologically clean —i.e., free from septic matter—which may be attributed to the fact that probably it is dipped into hot or sterilized water before use, or else that the soap lather is antiseptic. The latter explanation seems the more probable of the two. The amount of soap rubbed on the skin is considerable if the shaving is to be in any degree comfortable, and soap has considerable antiseptic power, a six per cent. solution being sufficient to destroy the typhoid bacillus. . . . In a word, soap in the operation of shaving not only facilitates the process but plays the same valuable role when the shaver is unlucky enough to cut himself as does the antiseptic in surgery.—London Lancet.

A Commander Who Commands.

Lord Kitchener has not yet been a week in India (writes our Calcutta correspondent under date Dec. 4), but he has already made a very effectual protest against the excessive forms and ceremonies of the Anglo-Indian.

On landing at Bombay Sir Power Palmer, the outgoing Commander-in-Chief, presented to him the various high military officials of the Presidency. Lord Kitchener's greeting was not the usual "Glad to see you," but to the principal medical officer, "What's the health of the Bombay troops?"; to the officer commanding the artillery, "I shall inspect the forts at 1.30 to-day;" and to the commanding Royal Engineer, "I shall be coming to see you this afternoon."

In Delhi Lord Kitchener escaped a public reception by arranging for his special train to arrive some hours before it was expected. — London Mail.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—
New York, March 28 — Nothing has developed to satisfactorily account for or even explain the extraordinary decline in the investment issues. The raid that has started on St. Paul, N. Y. C. and Penna caught many stops and according to specialists their books are now clean of selling orders. A rally of a few points is to be looked for the market however will continue temporarily feverish and spotty. Although Mop. has been fairly well protected it is likely to be put through its facings. It was around par in the month of Dec. when Union and Paul were approximately 10 points above their present prices.
There is good buying of U.P and B. & O. and Atchison. Each of these at going figures is to be commended. Wab. preferred and Mex. C. are safe to buy and to hold.

GAMEY CHARGES GO TO ROYAL COMMISSION.

might be tampered with while in his possession.
The Government had said that the committee would not be a calm and judicial tribunal. But the committee was not a tribunal or jury, it was a referee. It would have to receive evidence and report upon it to the House. The House was the tribunal. The duties of a committee would be inquisitorial and partisanship would be the best guarantee that every fact would be brought before the notice of the House. (Opposition applause.)
He would quote the Premier's words: "The charges made against the Provincial Secretary and his colleagues," and again "enter on our defence." These were unintelligible except on the hypothesis that he realized that the charges were against his colleagues and the Government. The party on trial had proposed that the House adopt a mode of trial drawn by themselves, and they proposed to name their judges themselves. They would stand up and vote on this matter when every precedent would compel them to step out and refuse to vote.
The Premier had found fault with the cheering by the Opposition when the Gambey charges were made. He thought the members on his side were to be excused for showing their appreciation when the member for Manitoulin declared that he had not deserted his party, and had come to follow his leader.

Cheered Mr. Gamey's Return.

The Premier had deemed himself justified in giving the matter into the hands of a commission by the tone of the debate. Was it not strange that time-honored precedents should be abrogated and a little party spirit on the Opposition side be given as sufficient cause?
The Premier had been annoyed and cause he passively received the papers in the case. On the day he received them the Premier had not suggested that he knock down the member for Manigoulin, or any alternative action. He would dearly have liked to have them placed where he and his crew could dispose of them. The member for Manitoulin was looking for a safe repository for his evidence, which he was not sure might not be taken from him any evening by the spies and spotters of the Government. He gave them to him (Mr. Whitney) not thinking the risk he also ran.
It had been suggested that the papers had been returned to the member for Manitoulin to give him a chance to escape the consequences of his charges. The truth was that he had consulted his solicitor, who had advised him to get his proofs. He had received them back in the same open manner in which he gave them.
The Premier had said that the Government did not choose the judges—that the Parliament chose the judges. Who was it that put the names of judges in the proposal now before the House? Was not this a bold, unblushing, shameless attempt to deceive the Legislature and the people of Ontario? On account of the attitude of the House the Premier had felt compelled to take the matter outside. How had he discovered this attitude between the time when he promised a committee and the next day, when he said it must go to a commission?
He had been charged with referring to the appointment of a court as "loading the dice," a reflection on the judiciary. What we had said was that if the Government took advantage of their power to name their own tribunal they were playing with loaded dice.' and, like all gamblers, they would find that such methods did not lead to success. He did not infer that the conduct of the judges would be wrong, but that the indictment that would be laid before them would be restrigted in its scope and would not satisfy the honest people of Ontario. The charges included every member of the Government. The resolution before the House restricted them to the Provincial Secretary. Any other charges must be made separate and in writing. There was an endeavor to cloud the issue.

The New Liberalism.

Mr. Whitney described the new Liberalism at great length. This doctrine was to object to a reform when that reform happened to be proposed by gentlemen who did not happen to be of the same political stripe as themselves. He alleged instances of measures proposed by Conservatives being voted down and afterwards brought in as a Liberal measure and carried.
Mr. Whitney justified the methods adopted by Mr. Gamey to snare the bribers. These were the methods pursued by the Liberal members of the Legislature in 1884 to snare the men who tried to bribe them. There was no dishonor in making conviction sure and bringing home guilt as the member for Manitoulin had done. No man thought any less of Balfour in 1884, who died a member of the Cabinet, and no man would think less of Mr. Gamey.

Five Counts in Indictment.

The Conservative leader arraigned the Government under five headings: That the charge was not against the Provincial Secretary alone.
That the Provincial Secretary and the other members of the Cabinet al Commission. In the first two the conditions were almost identical. The Committee on Privileges and Elections was the machinery of the British House of Commons, the Dominion House of Commons and the Ontario Legislature for some time, but it was found ineffective for many reasons, the chief of which was its partisan character. The speaker went over the list of cases heard by this committee at Ottawa. It was a history of failure, so far as adjudicating on judicial lines was concerned.
In Ontario the committee was little employed. Since 1884 there had been no reference to that committee, and there had been only one case where it was even proposed to refer it to that committee. It was an old method which had practically served its purpose, and a new method of procedure had been adopted. A trial by judges had been found to be eminently satisfactory, although it was true there had been some complaints by parties who had not succeeded in obtaining what they wanted.
In 1884 the Province of Ontario made an act, chapter 19 of the revised statutes of 1897, providing for inquiry into public matters and providing that where a member is charged with bribery the matter may be taken to the judges. The speaker did not say that the House must refer this matter to the judges because of that act, but it had been placed on the statute books in 1884, and had remained there ever since as an open door, as a guide how to deal with cases such as the present.
He was not taking the case from the House and he did not think it would be unconstitutional if he were to do so. But this was an alternative course and he took it. If the act of 1884 had been unconstitutional it would have been disallowed by the Dominion Government.

An Impossibility.

Honorable gentlemen opposite had described the commission as a tribunal of their (the Government's) own choice. He denied that. It would be a tribunal agreed upon by Parliament, and in this respect it was different from some tribunals which he referred to at some length. If it was impossible to get a fair jury from inside the House, what was there to do? They had to go outside. Then, if they were to go outside, what was to be their guide? First, their own act framed by an old leader of the Government, and endorsed by the best constitutional authority on the other side of the House.
Who could not trust the judges? There was no other place for the House to go unless to a commission of laymen, the Supreme Court of Canada or judges of another province. The Government had been forced by the actions of the gentlemen opposite to abandon all hope of justice from a committee of the House, and the people would be satisfied that the investigation will have discovered the truth and dissipated whatever falsehood there might be in the charges. He must resent the criticisms of the gentlemen opposite that it would be a "whitewash commission," which was an imputation on the honor of the judges. When there was the suggestion as to "loading the dice," which was afterwards explained as not being a reference to the judges, but to the mode of procedure.
Mr. Whitney—I never made such an explanation.
Mr. Ross—Then you withdraw the explanation and leave the words "loading the dice."
Continuing, Mr. Ross said that any one who shakes the confidence in the judiciary shakes the confidence in one of the fundamental principles of our liberties.

As to Other Charges.

They had been asked, Could other charges be formulated? The last clause in the commission says so. He quoted from the remarks of Sir W. R. Meredith that charges of this nature should be properly formulated. The Government would be warranted in taking the ground that the charges of Mr. Gamey should be specifically formulated.
Then the question was asked: Could the commission report its finding? He did not know whether the judges would report merely the evidence or a finding, but no doubt the commission would follow precedent in this respect. An attempt had been made to argue that the scope of the enquiry was limited. What do they want to get in that which ought not to be got in and they can't get in? the Premier asked. He knew that the Opposition would like to have an opportunity of supplying the almost exhausted condition of their political material. That was the reason why the Committee on Privileges and Elections had been abandoned.
The Government were taunted upon their new Liberalism, but he had hoped he would never become so conservative that he would not agree to changes and improvements. But what was the new Toryism? It was the same old Toryism of condemning a man before he is tried; to cheer a man when he makes an attack on the honor of a member of the House; to put the political pistol to his head. Had the Provincial Secretary no rights that the House was bound to respect. He admitted the right of Mr. Gamey to make his charge, but being so bold, he should have been bolder and placed his charge in the hands of the Speaker. The new Toryism was to discredit the judges; to trust in the repetition of falsehoods for success, and to conceal its own offences.

Leave It to the People.

After entering a plea for a higher plane of politics, he said he would leave the question in the hands of the people. The Liberal party had been thirty years under the fierce light, and only once had a cloud hung over the House. He believed the Government would survive the tension and that the honor of the House would be vindicated by a commission, as it had been vindicated by a commission in 1884. When that time came he hoped that both sides would let by-gones be by-gones, and charged had no right to vote on the question.
That the Premier promised that the reference would be to the Committee on Privileges and Elections or a select Committee of the House.
Instead of the proposed committee, the Premier has granted a commission with powers so narrow that it can only inquire into the acts of the Provincial Secretary. The Opposition, Mr. Whitney said, had no confidence in any commission that could be issued by the present Government, and he pointed to the West Elgin Commission and the Financial Commission as giving grounds for the statement.
Fifthly, the Premier was cognizant at the time of the dealings that were in progress with the member for Manitoulin. According to Mr. Gamey's statement, Mr. Stratton had asked him why he had altered a letter to the Premier written at North Bay and undertaking to support the Government. If Mr. Ross had not recived this letter, how did Mr. Stratton know it had been altered? If he had received it, he must have known of the dealings in progress. Mr. Whitney concluded with a reference to what he termed the slow but inevitable decay of the Liberal party since Mr. Ross became its leader.

Mr. Gamey Charges Conspiracy.

Mr. Gamey said he had made his statement on the floor of the House on his responsibility as a member of the House, involving a charge of conspiracy on the part of members of the Government, with other persons mentioned. That was his charge, and so it stands before the House. Some of the accused wanted to alter that statement and to make it appear to be against the Provincial Secretary. "I don't propose to allow them to alter that charge, and to put words into my mouth. I made it on my responsibility as a member of the House. I have weighed that responsibility and I am prepared to accept it. I am prepared to prove what I said, but if the persons against whom my charge is made alter it so that it ceases to be my charge, then I repudiate such action. Surely the position I take is definite and can't be misunderstood, and I leave it to the House to deal with it."
The Speaker called for the "ayes" and "noes" on the amendment of Mr. Foy.
The Premier rose to say the amendment was out of order. He would not, however, press the point, but desired it to be entered upon the minutes that an objection was taken so that it could not be regarded as a precedent.
Mr. Whitney thought it was late in the day to enter objection.
The Speaker said if the point had been called to his attention earlier he would have been obliged to rule the amendment out of order.

The Voting.

The first struggle came on the Foy amendment to refer the charges to a committee of the House. It was defeated by 50 to 45. Then the Carnegie amendment suffered the same fate. This was to designate the Lieutenant-Governor as the proper person to select the commission and outline the scope of the trial. Premier Ross was quick to reply that this was equal to resignation of the Government. Finally the original motion of Premier Ross prevailed—to refer the entire case to the royal commission, in effect, and the same party vote adopted it as the law of the House, the Opposition being solid against it.
Mr. Ross moved that the address be presented to the Lieutenant-Governor by the Executive Council. This was carried without objection.
The Premier asked the House to vote supplies for April. He asked for $845,000 on account. Let over.
He asked if the Opposition would agree to a vote on Mr. Gibson's bill respecting evidence, the address in reply to the speech from the throne, and the proposed adjournment till April 21.
Mr. Whitney thought there was not much time for discussion.
Mr. Ross—Will we be able to finish on Monday.
Mr. Whitney—We want to put ourselves on record, and the members may not all be here on Monday.

BROKE THE RECORD.

C. P. R. did Journey Between Toronto and Detroit in Record Time.

On Thursday the C. P. R. broke the time record between Detroit and Toronto. The 231 miles were covered in 289 minutes, half an hour of which was taken up at the ferry. The train was in charge of Conductor Tom Collins, the engineers were Chas. Clarke and Ed. Tant, while the passenger men in charge were J. J. Rose, Toronto, and A. E. Edmonds, of Detroit. The last named is a son-in-law of Mr. Wm. Cowie, of town. The train was the Kindergarten Special and the school teachers adopted a resolution thanking the officials for the speed and comfort with which their special was rushed over the road.

MAY ADJOURN TO-DAY

Judges Will Meet Soon After, If the House Concludes

OBJECTIONS OF OPPOSITION.

They Will Offer Some in the Legislature —Still Assume a Critical Attitude Towards the Evidence Act—Tribunal Will Organize Immediately on Passage of the Bill—Will Fight Over Adjournment.

Toronto, March 30.—The proceedings in the Legislature to-day will to a large extent determine the immediate course with reference to the Royal Commission on the Gamey charges.

The Opposition still assume a critical attitude toward the evidence act, but Mr. Foy rather withdrew his open hostility when Col. Gibson challenged him on the occasion of the last references to the measure.

If the bill passes to-day Chief Justice Moss will make a special trip to the Parliament buildings to give royal assent, and the commission will organize some day toward the end of the week, though they may not commence taking evidence before next Monday.

A Fight Over Adjournment.

The Opposition promise a fight over the question of adjourning the House until April 21, though Mr. Whitney said he hoped to conclude the business to-day if the members are present for voting.

The other contentious matter is the voting of $340,000 supplies asked for April, without which the service and all persons having business with the Government will be greatly inconvenienced.

Then there will be the address in reply to the speech from the House, the proposal to pass which Mr. Whitney objected to on Friday night. The disposal of this, however, is not absolutely necessary before adjournment, although His Honor may not think the House very respectful if they defer their formal offering of thanks until after the approaching long adjournment.

Gamey as a Witness.

There seems little doubt but that Mr. Gamey will go before the commission. At least the concern of the Opposition over the terms of the evidence bill gives color to that view. In any case Mr. Gamey, if summoned, as he doubtless will be, will be under the same regulations for compulsory attendance and answering of questions as any person else.

Ready For the Trial.

Meanwhile counsel for accuser and accused have prepared their cases and are ready for the opening of the inquiry whenever it may be begun.

D. R. A. UP-TO-DATE.

What the Annual Report Will Show at Wednesday's Meeting.

Ottawa, March 30.—The report of the Dominion Rifle Association, which will be presented at the annual meeting on Wednesday, is quite the most up-to-date publication in the history of the association, containing, as it does, in addition to the annual statistical and financial data, a creditable series of half-tone engravings, illustrative of rifle events during the year, such as the contest for the Palma Trophy, and portraits of leading riflemen and patrons. Among the latter are the Governor-General and the Minister of Militia.

The receipts of the association in 1902 from affiliated associations, 24 in all, were $412, or $48 less than the previous year. Receipts from members' fees were $884, while special donations from individuals amounted to $1,765, an increase of $1,123. Donations from Canadian banks amounted to $800; from Canadian manufacturers were received $304. The cash prizes distributed totalled $8,086, an increase of $945 for 1902. Bisley team expenditure was $4,848. The total expenditure amounted to $23,245, leaving a balance of $236 to the association's credit.

The report contains a reference of regret to the death of Lord Dufferin, a former patron, and of H. S. Howland and Patrick Hughes of Toronto, the one a life member and the other a well-known competitor at the annual matches.

THE RE-DISTRIBUTION BILL.

South Monaghan to Remain in Peterborough County.

The Two Durhams to be Merged Into One Constituency.

A special correspondent from Ottawa deals with the main features of the Redistribution Bill, says:—

"In framing the bill the principle of county boundaries has been strictly observed. There are two exceptions, which, however, prevailed at the time of confederation. In 1867 the townships of Osgoode and Gloucester were attached to the County of Russell, where they have always remained. The other exception is South Monaghan, which for municipal purposes belongs in West Northumberland, but Rice Lake cuts off the former from the latter, and South Monaghan's intercourse, socially and commercially, is with Peterborough. The Parliament of 1867 decreed that for electoral purposes South Monaghan should remain in Peterborough. Here again the wishes of the fathers of confederation will be respected. There will be a number of constituencies with one member. They include Peel, Halton, Wentworth, Lincoln, Welland, Haldimand, Norfolk, Durham, Prescott, Russell, Glengarry, Dufferin, Prince Edward and Carleton, and possibly Lanark, Stormont, Grenville, Peterborough and Northumberland. The Cities of Ottawa and Hamilton at present have two members each who are elected by the voters at large. The intention is to create two constituencies in each municipality. The scrupulous observance of county boundaries upon which the Government insists takes constituencies from two of their own supporters. The two Durhams will be merged, and West Ontario will no longer exist when the townships which compose it have been restored to North York, South Ontario and North Ontario."

THE TWEED ROBBER

Has Been Committed for Trial—Nineteen Years of Age.

Belleville Ontario. — Constable Beatty of Tweed arrived in the city this afternoon with the prisoner who attempted to rob the C. P. R. station yesterday morning. The man gave his name as Wesley Stephenson, and says that he was born in New York. He is only 19 years of age. He came to Tweed from Smith's Falls, and had only just got the train a few minutes before he attempted the robbery. He was taken before the Magistrate yesterday morning at Tweed and committed for trial. Mr. W. P. McMahon has been engaged to defend him.

Galt, March 30.—"Foxy" Smith, the Galt burglar, highwayman and all round desperado, has been captured. He is the man who attempted to hold up the C. P. R. station agent at Tweed Wednesday. Operator Murphy was too quick for "Foxy" and, knocking his pistol aside, grappled with the husky crook.

Smith has been the leader of a band of young Galt crooks for years and is a bank burglar and "stick-up" man of more than average daring and cunning. These young crooks operated extensively here and in London last fall and caused the police much trouble. Chief of Police Clark secured a tip that the masked man caught at Tweed was Foxy and went down and identified him on Saturday.

"Foxy" comes of respectable family and was born born in Galt.

GET RICH QUICK SCHEME.

New York Authorities Found a Letter From Peterborough.

The police authorities of New York have been making a dead set upon the "get rich quick concerns," which have been operating with great success to the promoters of late. These concerns advertise throughout the country offering fabulous inducements for the payment of sums of money alleged to be for stock in mines of various kinds.

It is a well-known fact that some Peterborough people have been taken in by such alluring inducements. This morning the Examiner received a despatch from New York, stating that the police had made a raid on those employed in indexing the letters. The letters were seized by the United States authorities, and a letter from a prominent Peterborough mechanic, was found amongst the number. The letter was postmarked Peterborough, but the Examiner does not care to give the gentleman's name to the public. The authorities would not disclose the amount the gentleman had invested.

THE ROYAL COMMISSION.

The Gamey charges will be investigated by a Royal Commission of Supreme Court Judges. In accordance with the vote of the Legislature Friday night, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor will issue Commissions to Chancellor Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice W. G. Falconbridge, to whom instructions will be given to make full inquiry into the statements and allegations of Mr. Gamey, and to report their findings, with the evidence, to His Honour, for submission to the Legislative Assembly. With these findings and that evidence before it, the Legislature will then take such action as in its judgment, the ends of justice demand, and the people of Ontario will be in a position to judge for themselves as to innocence or guilt.

The fortnight of discussion has abundantly justified The Globe's proposal of a Royal Commission of Judges as preferable, under the circumstances, to a committee of the House. The whole country is now assured that the partisanship and self-interest of the legislators would defeat the interests of justice and lower the dignity of Parliament. Had the Opposition accepted the Premier's proposal two weeks ago the investigation would probably by this time be well-nigh completed, and the serious waste of a moral kind, which the debate has caused, would have been avoided.

The instructions to the Royal Commission are such that, if they are interpreted in the broad and liberal sense in which they have been drawn, everything essential to the fullest investigation can be submitted in evidence and inquired into by the commissioners. This commission is the widest in its scope ever issued in Canada, and in this respect is paralleled in Britain only by the one issued in the Parnell case. It will not be the fault of the terms of the commission if the facts are not discovered.

Notwithstanding the appeals to partisanship and prejudice made so violently in the Legislature and in the press, our conviction is that the most searching investigation, absolutely regardless of private or party concerns, and seeking only the high and enduring interests of political morality and public honour, will be made. The making of such serious charges, the manner in which they were made, and the trifling and the partisan treatment accorded to them, have all combined to the degradation of Canadian politics. There must now come a calmer, more serious, more judicial procedure, if the ultimate effect of it all is not to be lasting hurt to our public life. Certainly the Liberal party has no interest in a miscarriage of justice in this investigation, and would not submit to it were it attempted. And our hope is that, as a result of this whole incident in our political history, there will come such a clearing of the political atmosphere and such a recalling to the higher political standards, that the present humiliation will not appear too great a price to be paid.—Globe.

THEIR NEW UNIFORMS.

The Boys Have Been Outfitted by a Military Tailor.

(Lindsay Post.)

The Sylvester Band, who have been making very gratifying progress under the leadership of Mr. Roenigk, will be attired in new uniforms this summer. The new suits, which are of a blue-black colour with gold trimmings, arrived yesterday and are superior to any we have yet seen. They are of the Artillery pattern and were manufactured by Mr. Austin, the military tailor, of Toronto, at a cost of over $400. In the front of the caps is inscribed the word, "Sylvester," in gilt letter.

We understand Mr. Sylvester intends sending the band to the Winnipeg and Brandon Exhibitions this summer, after which other towns as far west as Calgary will be visited by this musical organization.

THE DEBATE IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The Time Killing Tactics of the Opposition.

The Closing Speeches of the Leaders Analyzed.

The killing of time is a matter over which hon. members of the Legislature have full control, but it rests with the newspapers, fortunately, to decide how much space shall be given to their lucubrations. Early Friday afternoon Mr. Foy made it clear that there were to be no facilities afforded by the Opposition for the passing of Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill to compel reluctant witnesses at the Gamey investigation. The bill as introduced was changed to meet the eloquent objections of Mr. St. John, and the supposed defects remedied. But Mr. Foy found some very long faults with it, and by combining a number of Provincial and Federal statutes, was able to suppose an excuse that a witness might urge for not answering a question. Mr. Harcourt removed that difficulty by suggesting the insertion of words to the effect that no witness could be excused from answering on any grounds whatsoever. It was obviously a quibble for the killing of time, as the idea of any such refusal as suggested was absurd. Then Mr. Foy discovered in the bill an excuse for discussing whether all the Ministers or only one of them, was charged with bribery. As every member has a right to charge every Minister a dozen times with conspiracy and all other offences, the importance of the point is not obvious. The discussion on the Gamey commission is a deviation from the debate on the address. When the Attorney-General saw the intention of the Opposition to deviate from the deviation into a debate on the bill, to facilitate the taking of evidence before the commission, he deferred the submission of the bill to the House in Committee. A debate within a debate within a debate would be rather too much involved.

The debate on the investigation was resumed by Mr. Jessop of Lincoln, who told the House all the good and wise things the Opposition members had said, and all the unwise and wicked things that had emanated from the Government side, arriving at the not altogether unexpected conclusion that the Government and all its supporters were wrong on every point, and the Opposition universally, completely and at all times right, even in the contention that the members of the House were competent to judicially deal with charges of political offences.

The premier received a spirited ovation, and his address abundantly fulfilled the expectations of those who looked to him to rescue the debate from the inane condition in which it threatened to fall. He made an impressive appeal to the members not to forget the real functions for which the Legislature existed, nor the higher duties devolving on them as representatives. There was a moving force in his words when he deplored the tendency to regard the Legislature as existing for the struggle of opposing parties for a mastery, often sought by the blasting of reputations with insinuation and slander. The contrast between the lower and the higher mission of public life could scarcely be made more striking. On the one hand, there was the duty of leading toward the high mission of the Province in all its varied activities; and, on the other, the warring of faction and the struggle to obtain advantages by the lowest devices. It was the lower course that made public life a thing to be avoided, and deterred many from devoting their ability to the service of their country. The premier dealt with the pretences by which the Opposition leader called the unseating of any of his followers the stealing of a seat, and the unseating of an opponent the vindication of purity. It was on account of such partisanship that the Committee on Privileges and Elections became useless, and its former duties were transferred to the courts. The Premier's words on the progressive nature of Liberalism, the need of abandoning old precedents and establishing new ones with the progress of the age and the gaining of wider experience, were replete with the broad spirit of advancement. Such addresses are needed in times like the present to sustain an appreciation of the higher duties devolving on public men.

Mr. Whitney addressed himself at once to the question of whom the charge is against, whether the Provincial Secretary or the entire Cabinet. As he can charge one and all of them as often as he likes and have all his charges investigated, any defect he may find can be easily remedied. After recess he rose to fever heat in denouncing the Government on all points of the compass, his address being a red hot repetition of all that had been said on the question before the House and on all the other questions that had been linked with it.

Mr. Gamey, always the centre of interest, added his quota to the effect that the charges he had made had been altered, that his charge was one of conspiracy against the Government and certain other persons mentioned in his statement, and that such charge he was prepared to prove. The division on Mr. Foy's amendment in favour of investigation by the committee was defeated on a vote of 45 to 50, the first trial of strength in the new Legislature. Before the original motion was put Mr. Carnegie, East Victoria, moved another amendment, which both he and afterwards the Speaker had much difficulty in deciphering. Mr. Whitney had written it hastily with a lead pencil, and, as it was practically the dismissal of the Government by the House through an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor, it was lost on the same division. The motion of the Premier for investigation by a commission was carried, and so the first stage of the Gamey charges came to an end.—Globe.

SUCH LETTERS NOT UNCOMMON.

(From the Brantford Expositor.)

A good deal has been made in the Conservative press over the fact that correspondence passed between the Minister of Public Works and Mr. Gamey relative to the expenditure of the moneys for colonization roads in Manitoulin. There is nothing wrong in such correspondence. There is no member of the Opposition having colonization roads in his constituency who has not occasion to write the Minister relative to those matters. Even Col. Matheson, the financial critic of the Opposition, admitted in the House that he controlled the expenditures made for this purpose in South Lanark, but his complaint was that constituencies supporting the Government got larger grants than constituencies supporting the Opposition. Mr. Gamey was told that his requests were too large, and he was asked to have them cut down, a suggestion which has been made to many a member of the House, under similar conditions, and which certainly carries with it no flavour of corruption.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Alberta May Bickell to Herbert W. Girvin.

On Wednesday evening last the home of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Bickell, Smith, was the scene of joyous festivities, the occasion being the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Alberta May, to Mr. Herbert W. Girvin, of Douro.. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Winters, of Lindsay, the bride entered the parlour leaning on the arm of her father, and took her place beside her future husband beneath a beautifully arranged floral arch, Rev. T. W. Leggott performing the cermony that made them one. The bride, who was attired in a beautiful white silk costume, was attended by Miss Ethel Girvin, sister of the groom. The groom was assisted by Mr. S. Thompson, of Deloraine, Man. After the cermony, and the happy couple had received the congratulations of those present, the guests to the number of about eighty sat down to a most sumptuous spread. The evening was then spent in a most enjoyable manner. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and costly presents amply testifying to the esteem and affection in which she is held by her large circle of friends. The happy couple will take up their residence in Douro, and have the best wishes of their friends for their future prosperity and happiness.

LAWS RE. RAILWAYS

The Bill for Railway Consolidation Distributed.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Powers Delegated to the Commission Under Proposed Amending and Consolidating Bill—Presentation to Sir Louis Davies—Names of the Next Canadian Bisley—Sir Louis Davies Sets a Lecturer Right.

Ottawa, March 30.—Prof. Bracy of Vassar College, lectured before the Ottawa Literary and Scientific Society, Saturday night, on the Newfoundland French Shore question. He took the French side of the controversy throughout, claiming that under the declaration which followed the treaty of Versailles in 1783 the rights of the French were fixed and exclusive. For this reason he thought the Newfoundlanders were trying to oust the French. The Newfoundlanders would refer the matter to arbitration, he believed, but that Britain usually got the worst of it in arbitration.

Sir Louis Takes Issue.

Sir Louis Davies, who was in the audience, took issue with this statement. He said England had participated in 75 cases of arbitration. Of these she had lost 18, had wholly gained 25 and in 32 she had been awarded the predominance of power. Sir Louis further reminded Prof. Bracq that all territorial rights in Newfoundland belonged to Great Britain. He protested also against the unfair statements by the United States press of Canada's claims in the Alaska boundary dispute.

Railway Consolidation.

The bill to amend and consolidate the law respecting railways has been printed and distributed. It is of great length, containing not less than 104 pages. The provisions creating a board of railway commissioners are the most interesting in the bill, and although they have already been explained in general terms, there are some details which have not yet been published.

The interpretation contains such definitions as the following:— "The expression toll or rate means and includes any toll, rate or charge made for the carriage of any traffic, or for the collection, loading, unloading or delivery of goods, or for warehousing or wharfage, or other sources incidental to the business of a carrier. The expression undue preference means and includes an undue preference, or an undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect, in favor of or against any person or particular class of persons, or any particular description of traffic."

What Commission May Do.

The board is given authority to make regulations with respect to the following matters:—Limiting the rate of speed at which railway trains and locomotives may be run in any city, town or village, or in any class of cities, towns or villages described in any regulation, and if the board thinks fit, the rate of speed within certain described portions of any city, twon and village, and allowing another rate of speed in other portions thereof, which rate of speed shall not in any case exceed six miles an hour, unless the track is properly protected; with respect to the use of steam whistles within any city, town and village, and allowing thereof; with respect to the method and means of passing from one car to another, either inside or overhead, and for the safety of railway employes while passing from one car to another, and for the coupling of cars; requiring proper shelter to be provided for all railway employes when on duty or awaiting duty;57-58 V.C 53, C.1, A.M.; requiring the use on any engine of such nettings, screens, grates and other devices, and the use on any engine or car of such appliances and precautions as, in the opinion of the board, may be necessary and most suitable to lessen or prevent danger from fire; requiring the use of such rolling stock, apparatus, appliances, signal methods, devices, structures and works upon the railway, as shall provide means for the proper protection of property, of the employes of the company, and of the public, with respect to any matter or thing which the board may, consistent with the powers vested in it by this act, and not otherwise provided herein, deem necessary and advisable. The judgments of other courts in questions of fact are not to be binding upon the commissioners where jurisdiction is not to be affected by collateral suits. The board's finding upon questions of fact is to be conclusive.

Compliment to Sir Louis Davies.

The presentation to Sir Louis Davies, former Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and now a justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, of a group photograph of heads of the branches of the department, took place in the present Minister's room Saturday. Messrs. MacKinnon and Hughes, members from Prince Edward Island, were also present. Lieutenant-Colonel Gourdeau, Deputy Minister, made the presentation.

Sir Louis Davies in reply expressed the pleasure it gave him to receive such a handsome collection of portraits of the gentlemen who were heads of the different branches of the department during the time he presided over it.

He was proud to know the finances of Canada were in such a prosperous condition that he might hope to see their services recognized in a tangible way.

The presentation piece consisted of a portrait of Sir Louis in the centre of grouped photographs of the heads of all the branches of the department.

The Bisley aggregate was, of course, shot on the condition that the Bisley team was liable to be reduced from twenty to fifteen.

BACK FROM BOERLAND.

Another Crowd of Constabulary Home With Same Complaints.

Halifax, N. S., March 30.—Three ocean steamers, the Dominion Liner Canada, and the Carthaginian, and the Bavarian of the Allan Line, landed a total of 3,382 passengers here Saturday. This was the largest number ever known to come to this port in one day.

The Carthaginian had among her passengers 32 returning Canadians of the South African Constabulary. They tell the same story as related by others recently arrived; of Canadian officers being removed and British and Burgher officers being put in their places, and otherwise disgusted with the manner in which affairs were being conducted.

They had to pay their own way from South Africa to London, and Lord Strathcona, the Canadian Commissioner, paid their way to Halifax, and they were assisted from here to their homes.

The returning soldiers are: John Lehrman, Calgary, N.W.T.; W. G. Birney, Calgary, N.W.T.; W. Thomas, Calgary, N.W.T.; W. MacGillivray, Calgary, N. W. T.; J. Miller, Dunnville; F. Hodgson, Toronto; F. Arrests Deepens Mystery.

Toronto, March 30.—W. T. de Jongh, or the wily Boer gentleman who assumed that name, is now under arrest in New York. The pseudo-Boer persuaded the Walker House to cash a cheque for $55 and then took flight for fresh fields and pastures green. He is now in New York. The authorities in that city are now waiting word from Toronto as to what is to be done with him. In the meantime much mystery surrounds the movements of the original Boer general of that name. He has been having troubles; and, according to a letter to Col. Hughes, he may have suicided. No news of him has been received since he wrote the letter to the man that was instrumental in his capture on the veldt. He faded away like his prototype, and real fears are entertained that he has killed himself.

Burned Catholic Bibles.

Vancouver, B.C., March 30.— The following mail advices have arrived by the steamship Moana from transpacific points: Three hundred Roman Catholic Bibles have been designedly burned in the public squares in Fiji by natives who were originally Catholics and are converts to the Protestant missionaries.

The Bible burning has caused bitter feeling among the Roman Catholics and Protestants.

According to letters from Missionary Burns of the Episcopal Church, a public meeting was held by the converts and 300 Bibles were burned in one bonfire, the head of each family contributed one Bible.

Coming to Hold Special Meetings.

Rev. Henry Wilson, D. A Distinguished Lecturer.

Your attention is drawn to the announcement that Mr. Harry DeWindt, F. R. G. S., the distinguished British traveller and author, will lecture in St. Andrew's lecture hall, Tuesday evening, April 3rd. Mr. DeWindt belongs to a prominent English family, is a personal friend of the King, and was originally started on his world-wide travels by Queen Victoria. He is probably the most noted traveller alive to-day. He is well and favourably known, is a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, and his lecture has created a sensation abroad. The subject of his lecture will be his overland trip from Paris to New York, by way of Siberia and Behring Strait. The illustrations are remarkable, and are by the Vicomte de Clinchamp, a member of Mr. DeWindt's expedition. Mr. DeWindt went over the route of the Trans-Siberian Railroad in advance of its construction, and was also engaged by the Czar of Russia to make an investigation of Siberian prisons, and to contradict, if possible, the statements of Mr. Kennan on that subject. On this overland trip Mr. DeWindt narrowly escaped death. An article by him may be found in the January number of the Strand Magazine. Tickets, 25 cents, at J. D. Tully's and H. H. Edmison's drug stores.

A MIDLAND DISTRICT FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

Was Organized at the Y. M. C. A. Building on Saturday.

The Election of Officers—Representations From Other Places Present.

On Saturday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A. building a meeting was held at which an Association Football League was organized and named the Midland Football Association.

Five clubs have up to this time entered and three others have expressed the willingness to do so as soon as possible.

In this district such a league is badly needed and, when it becomes more widely known, the clubs are certain to give their hearty co-operation. It was thought that at least ten clubs will enter the league, and with such a number its success is assured.

Deputations from Bethany, Millbrook, Bridgenorth, Omemee and Peterborough were present, while letters were received from Cordova, Pontypool and Norwood, expressing their intention of entering the league.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President — Dr. Brereton, Bethany.

President—Dr. Morgan, Peterborough.

Vice-President—Dr. Keith, Omemee.

Secretary-Treasurer—H. E. Ayers.

Executive Committee — The officers and the representatives from the clubs entering the league.

Until more places have been heard from the schedule will not be drawn up.

A sub-committee of Messrs. A. W. McPherson, H. E. Ayers and Dr. Morgan was appointed to draft a constitution to be submitted at the next meeting.

A fee of $1 for each club will be charged.

Now that the first meeting of the league has been held it is thought that the required number of clubs will be easily obtained.

Death of the Late George Read ex-M. P. P., Keene.

Prominent in Local Affairs for Many Years—Was 84 Years of Age.

The death occurred in Keene on Saturday of Mr. George Read, ex-M.P., for East Peterborough, at the age of 84 years. His death was due to cold contracted a week ago and his death was unexpected by his friends. The late Mr. Read was one of the most widely known men in the district. He was born in Augusta, Grenville County, Ontario, in the year 1819, being the son of the late Guy Carlton Read. He was educated at Brockville and afterwards entered a commercial life. He became clerk in a store at that town and acted as clerk in the office of a contractor who built two locks of the Cornwall Canal, and on its completion he returned to Brockville, holding a clerk's position there. Having previously worked in Belleville, Kingston and Napanee, he finally settled in Keene and commenced with the assistance of a partner, a business which proved successful.

As a volunteer he served at the battle of Windmill Point, Prescott, 1838, and for many years he held a commission in the volunteer force of Canada. He held a great many local offices including coroner, postmaster, Clerk of the Division Court and treasurer of the Township, the two latter for a period of over 37 years. In addition he was one of the oldest magistrates living in Canada, having been a Justice of the Peace for over 40 years. In politics Mr. Read was a Conservative and represented East Peterborough in the Ontario Legislature during the whole of the first and second parliaments after Confederation. He was twice married, first to Miss Crawford Reid, of Brockville, of which union there were born four children. In 1861 the death of his wife occurred and the year following he married again Jane, sister of his deceased wife, the result of which marriage was one child—a son. His wife and two daughters died some years ago and the deceased leaves two sons and a daughter.

The late Mr. Read was considered to be one of the wealthiest men in Peterborough county, and his real estate is said to consist of more than 1,500 acres in the county.

In religion he was a Presbyterian, and he was a generous contributor to Missions. He was quite active up until a week ago, and personally attended to the business arising out of his large estate.

His surviving sons are Messrs. John of Westwood, and Wm. of Keene.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m., to the Keene Cemetery for interment.

THE LATE MR. HEWSON.

His Death Occurred This Morning After a Lingering Illness.

After an illness extending over several years, Mr. Fred D. Hewson passed away early this morning at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Bradburn, London street.

The late Mr. Hewson was 39 years of age and was a native of Barrie. At the completion of his school studies he entered the services of the Bank of Toronto, and for some time was connected with the local branch of that institution. About nine years ago he was united in marriage to Maud, the eldest daughter of the late Thomas Bradburn, who with one child, survives him. He also leaves several brothers. They are, Messrs. Charles, a barrister in Barrie; W. H., a barrister in Penetang; Edward, an editor also of Penetang, and Thos., of Barrie. He also has a brother residing in the States.

Owing to ill health the late Mr. Hewson was compelled to sever his connection with the bank.

He was a man of information and intelligence that made his society most congenial, and there are many in Peterborough who will regret exceedingly to hear of his untimely demise.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow to Little Lake Cemetery.

Wrist bags are the correct thing, and our half-dollar and dollar beauties are unmatchable value. Nothing nicer in or out of the city. A. H. Stratton & Co.

AN ACCIDENT.

Woman's Feet Were Taken off by the Train.

An unfortunate accident occurred at about 3.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, on the C.P.R., at Maberly, a station a short distance below Sharbot Lake Junction. Mr. A. Hall, a farmer, accompanied by his wife, were driving home, and attempted to cross the track before the express due here at 5.10 p.m., passed them. The horse was killed and Mrs. Hall's both feet were cut off just above the ankles. The unfortunate woman was removed to the Kingston hospital.

Wall and Window Wants.

All this week, at The Peterborough Bookstore we will make a specialty of wall paper, window shades and cornice poles. Everyone who has saw our designs and colourings in wall paper concede the fact that we have the daintiest wall paper ever shown in Peterborough, and the prices are within the reach of all. In window blinds our lace effects and lace insertions are all new this year and make very effective window decorations. We are in a position to show you the newest in oak and cherry cornice poles and trimmings in silver, also gilt trimmings, and our prices, as usual will be as low as the lowest. THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

More Precaution With Contagious Diseases Ought to be Taken.

A meeting of the Peterborough Board of Health was held this morning at the Town Clerk's Office at 9.30 o'clock, there being present Mr. R. Neill, chairman, and Messrs. A. Parker, Wm. Eyres, Geo. Schneider, Mayor Roger and Drs. Burnham and McNulty.

The secretary, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, read a communication from Mr. G. Stevenson re Dr. Bingham, who is at present in Toronto, in bad health, in which it was stated that the Medical Health Officer would be ready for duty about the first of April.

Mr. Eyres said that in view of this he and Mr. Schneider had taken no action towards procuring a substitute during Dr. Bingham's illness.

The Chief of Police reported that on February 10th two cases of scarlet fever were reported in town. The children were sent to the hospital, and on March 22nd were released. Four days later they returned home, and in a short time another case was reported in the house. This child was taken to the hospital, where it died on March 29th.

On motion of Mr. Eyres, seconded by Dr. Burnham, it was resolved that the secretary of the Board be requested to write to the hospitals asking them to take extra precautions with scarlet fever and diphtheria cases before they are returned home and also that the physicians of the town be written to the same effect.

After some further discussion on the general sanitary condition of the town the Board adjourned.

REV. MR. JOLLIFFE'S INTERESTING SERMON.

In Charlotte Street Methodist Church Last Night.

His Subject was "Personal Devil or Abstract Principle of Evil"—First of a Series.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffee delivered in the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening the first of a series of sermons, and judging from the crowded congregation and the hearty reception given the exposition, the sermons are bound to prove vastly instructive and profitable.

The subject of the discourse was "Personal Devil, or abstract Principle of Evil?"

The text was taken from I Peter v, 8, "Be sober, be vigilant, because your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." Mr. Jolliffe first gave his hearers for what they might consider it worth, the theory held by some, that this earth was formerly the abode of angels, who fell, and that their moral catastrophe was followed in the physical world, by chaos. After the restoration of order man was created and his fall is the second which has taken place upon the earth.

The Bible teaches us that part of the angels fell, and at their head is Satan, whose design and aim is opposition to God and ruin to man. The speaker contended that though, some like the Sadducees of old would like to believe neither in a hereafter nor a Devil, and though some considered the name Devil merely as a figure in the personification of evil, and others that it meant a Jewish or pagan priest, the Devil was an evil spirit, and like all spirits had personality, and that every reference to it in the Bible was of such character as to indicate personality.

Some concrete examples were then given from Eph. vi, 11 and 12, also John viii, 44, and the temptations of Christ. This, it was argued, was neither fable nor allegory, but an actuality, and that the only logical conclusion to the argument that Christ was tempted by a principle of evil, is that the evil must have existed in the mind of our Saviour, which was impossible, hence the argument is absurd. Mr. Jolliffe said that just here some advanced the objection that such an idea of Satan would mean that the Devil was omnipresent, but he did not think that this necessarily followed. There was but one omnipresent being and that was God. But just as the mind of Lord Roberts projected itself into and directed the movements of the many columns operating simultaneously in South Africa, so Satan going to and fro upon the earth, was the directing and controlling power in numerous emissaries of evil. The fall had resulted in a complete reversal of his moral character and all his impulses, motives and intentions were directed to what is bad. He is the enemy of God and man.

In dealing with the argument advanced by some, that God would not allow such a personality to tempt and destroy the race, the speaker said that God allows the world and the flesh to do so, and is it unreasonable to hold that the Devil has the same permission? A striking quotation was given from Mr. Beecher supporting the idea. No man who watches what men do to each other need have any scruple as to the belief that evil spirits are occupied in tempting men. "The question is settled in every street that God does allow men to live whose business seems to be largely that of pleasing themselves by injuring others." The purpose of this temptation is the development of manhood, but of this we may rest assured that those who fall before the temptation cast themselves down; Satan may tempt but no power on earth or in hell can make man go down but man's own will.

—The steamer Hamilton, which calls at Port Hope during the summer, and which has been laid up at Sorel, Que., the past winter, has been rebuilt and lengthened about forty feet. Her cabins have been remodeled and fitted with new furnishings and up-to-date facilities.

—Dr. Jeffs, of Peterborough, was in the village on Thursday of last week, in the interests of the Beet Sugar Company of that place. A meeting will be held in the village in the near future when the advantages of growing sugar beets will be discussed.—Lakefield News.

—There was a large congregation at St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, yesterday at both the morning and evening services. At the latter Rev. E. A. Langfeldt preached on "True Temperance vs. Prohibition." It might be incidentally mentioned that the singing was excellent.

—The stretcher bearer section of the 57th Regiment will meet Tuesday evening in the Non-Commissioned Officers' rooms, Simcoe street, at 8 o'clock sharp, for the purpose of arranging the coming drill season. As the strength of the corps has been increased there is an opening for a few recruits.

—Several of the cheese factories east of Norwood have arranged for the disposal of all the cheese manufactured by them up to the 10th of May at 12 1-2 cents per lb. It is understood that Melrose Abbey factory has been offered and received 12 1-4 cents for the product of their factory up to the same date.

—The different companies of the 40th Regiment received their new Oliver equipment a few days ago, and also the new regulation Lee-Enfield rifles. They also received new uniforms recently, and this, coupled with the promise that privates will get more pay while at camp, should cause a larger number to enlist.

—There has been an exceptionally big lumber cut in the Georgian Bay district this winter. The weather has been favourable, cold, and with three feet of snow, and the biggest output that the district has known will be recorded. There will be at least 550,000,000 feet of lumber, 65 per cent of which will be marketed in the United States.

—Wilson Ellis, the young son of Mr. John F. Ellis, who lives near Sturgeon Point got hold of a 22-calibre revolver and some cartridges the other day, and took them to school. During recess he undertook to load the weapon, and finding the cartridges a tight fit, he endeavoured to force them in with a nail. The friction caused an explosion, and the bullet lodged in the little finger of his right hand. Dr. Wilson, of Fenelon Falls, extracted the bullet and dressed the wound.

MR. GIBSON AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Best of the Services for Men Only, was Held Yesterday.

The All Saint's Choir Quartette and Miss C. Hall Sang—A Large Number of Men Present.

For the past week it had been announced that the last and best of the series of services for men only, which have been held in the Opera House under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A., would be held on Sunday afternoon, March 29th, at 4 o'clock. The service yesterday afternoon which was largely attended, did, in every respect surpass the preceeding ones. Public sentiment, it can be safely said, was inclined this way. A Scotchman, after the service had been concluded was heard to say "Mon! but it was gran' an' there was nae 'dude' aboot him." And therein lay the point of the success of these meetings. They have all been talks from a man to his brother men—the speakers have never thought themselves superior to their listeners, as is often claimed to be the case in a regular church sermon.

The service opened in the usual way, with song and prayer after which the All Saints' Quartette consisting of Rev. W. L. Armitage and Messrs. Jos. Legg, R. Helderman and R. Shepard, gave a most excellent vocal quartette and a second one at the conclusion of the address. The singing of the quartette was exceptionally excellent.

One of the chief features of the service was the beautiful song given by Miss Hall, who sang with a great deal of feeling and pathos, the timely selection from the "Messiah," "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

The speaker, Mr. Jos. Gibson, of Ingersoll, is a typical Englishman, and and held his listeners with his ready wit and wisdom for over an hour.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Gibson said he was sorry that people jumped at conclusions so rapidly without giving the matter serious consideration. He referred to the death of Maj.-Gen. Hector Macdonald, the brave Scotchman who had done so much to build up the empire over which floats the Union Jack. The unfinished letter in the room where Gen. Macdonald shot himself, showed clearly that the brave and honourable man was mentally deranged. Nowadays somebody makes a charge and everybody says yes, without giving the matter due consideration. It was not because that Scotch soldier was afraid of his enemies, it was because he was insane at that time that "Fighting Mac." committed suicide. To quote Shakespeare—"There are sermons in stones, good in everything." A man once said "Every ordinary workingmans' breakfast table ought to teach some good. So it should. If the cloth is not clean, if the table is not set tidily, it all teaches the children, on whose minds such things are impressed for life, to lead bad lives. If you wish to save your boy from the deadly snares of city life, consult your little wife, the wife that has cheered up many a strong man in his sorrow. Never let the honeymoon die. Real happiness can be paid in the pursuance of duty. Do your duty to both God and your wife and you will be happy. Some men have an idea that "they can paddle their ow canoe," but they cannot They need the co-operation of their fellow mortals, more especially of women. If half the flowers which are bestowed upon the grave of a young wife had been strewn in her path when alive, she would not have died so young. Speaking to the young men, Mr. Gibson said "Go to bed with a resolution that from that time on you will do something to make this bad world better." And advising to fathers he said, "To train your child up to be a good citizen you must have a home in which love and cleanliness are combined, and this should be the first duty of every man. Do your duty and you will pass into the love of God, into the „Kingdom of Heaven. The service then closed with the benediction, which was said by Mr. Williamson.

The Y.M.C.A. is to be heartily congratulated on the success their meetings have had, and it is the sincere hope of all that, such meetings for men, will be held again at no distant date.

NEURALGIA

If a person has neuralgia in his system this is the season when it will be felt. It is an ailment that may spring from a variety of sources. Anæmia or any depressed state of the bodily functions are frequent causes. The exhaustion resulting from rheumatism also makes it easy for neuralgia to get a foothold.

Scott's Emulsion has for years been recognized as a powerful agent for good in giving new life to the worn-out nerve centers and building up the weakened tissues which are responsible for neuralgia.

In Scott's Emulsion the pure cod liver oil is combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda, the latter contributing strength to the blood and bones.

As the principal mission of Scott's Emulsion is to give healthy, solid flesh, active tissue, pure blood and rich bone marrow it will be readily seen why Scott's Emulsion is so effective in driving out the causes of neuralgia.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,680,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

NO OFFER OF $10,000.

Poor Prospects Held Out to the Depositors in the Defunct Anderson Private Bank at Oakville.

Oakville, March 30.—The depositors in the defunct Anderson & Son's private bank met the inspectors Saturday at the town hall. There were 125 present who had money invested with the Andersons. John McDonald, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the condition of the bank and look after the interests of the depositors generally, was present. At 2.30 o'clock the chairman called the meeting to order.

The secretary, W. S. Davis, was called upon to read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mr. Davis' report contained the records of the happenings since December 17, last year, when the bank closed its doors, owing depositors in the community $117,000.

A report was read setting forth what had transpired since they last met. It was stated that the inspectors had found a surplus of $4,769 over the bank's statement, made up by general securities $2,587, and securities in Oakville properties amounting to $575. They also found that property on Oakville valued at $8,000 could be realized on. This property was now in E. K. Scott's name, but owned by C. Anderson. To get possession of this asset, the inspectors thought legal proceedings would be necessary.

An examination of C. W. Anderson and his son failed to disclose any further information. Both swore positively that nothing was held back. The gentlemen appointed to investigate find that the C. W. Anderson & Son failure was due to speculation in stocks and unwise investments at Palmerston and other places.

The private assets of C. W. Anderson are $650 and E. B. Anderson $1,000, of which none can be got for the depositors, as the law holds that prior claims shall be satisfied. The prior claims exceed the amount held by each of the Andersons.

The rumor that the Bank of Hamilton had offered $10,000 towards settling the business is without truth. So say the inspectors.

Mr. John Young moved that the inspectors, assignee and solicitor be given power to act as the representative of the depositors to confer with the Bank of Hamilton and others interested as their solicitor may from time to time advise.

The matter of Mrs. Anderson's dower was discussed at length. According to mortality figures this was estimated to be worth $400. Mrs. Anderson would not, however, give a release for less than $8,000.

SCOTCHMEN PROTEST.

Desire to Give Sir Hector MacDonald a National Funeral—Hundreds Gathered and Placed Wreaths on the Coffin.

London, March 30.—The despatch of the remains of Major-General MacDonald, who committed suicide in Paris, to Scotland last night by train, was the occasion for a remarkable demonstration owing to the fact that his widow had decided that the burial shall take place at 6 o'clock in the morning, immediately after the arrival of the body at Edinburgh.

Hundreds of Scotchmen, representing the Highland societies, and several Scotch members of Parliament, gathered on the platform at the King's Cross Railway Station here. Most of the Scotchmen wore their national costumes, wreaths were placed on the coffin in the name of different clans and the pipers played national dirges as the body was entrained.

All attempts to persuade the widow to delay the interment and permit the Highlanders to arrange for a national funeral in the Highlands having failed, a large number of influential Scotchmen adjourned to the hotel in the railway station and held a meeting of protest. The Scotch members of Parliament, Allan and Galtoway-Weir, and others made speeches, and a resolution was adopted urging the Lord Provost of Edinburgh to renew the efforts to get the funeral postponed.

A. W. Holman Used Dodd's Kidney Pills for Diabetes

And the Dreaded Kidney Disease Speedily Vanished—His Statement to the Public.

Toronto, March 29.—(Special.)—One of the most dreaded and dangerous forms of Kidney Disease is Diabetes. With its sense of weight and acute pain in the loins, bleeding of the gums, swelling of the feet and ankles, emaciation and weakness, and its other painful and disagreements, it is held almost in horror by those who have been unfortunate enough to make its acquaintance, and every evidence of a complete and reliable cure is hailed with delight by all classes of society.

For this reason the statement of A. W. Holman, of 1931-2 Mutual street, Toronto, is of peculiar interest. Mr. Holman says:

"I have been troubled with Diabetes for years and I have tried all kinds of medicines, but it was of no use. My attention was called to an advertisement of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. From the first box I got relief, and after using six boxes I am in a position to say that I am completely cured. I highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who may suffer as I have done."

Diabetes is a Kidney Disease pure and simple. Dodd's Kidney Pills unfailingly cure all diseases of the Kidneys.

A CROSSING ACCIDENT.

Farmer and Wife Badly Hurt in Smash at Moberley.

Moberley, March 30.—The C. P. R. express from Ottawa Saturday afternoon crashed into a rig driven by Albert Hall, a farmer, who was accompanied by his wife. Hall was thrown about 20 feet into a plowed field, and when picked up was found to be severely cut about the head and back. His wife was more seriously injured. The horse was killed.

The accident occurred not at a regular railway crossing, but at what is known as a farmers' crossing. The road takes a sharp turn and an approaching train cannot be seen until one is on the tracks. No blame can be attached to the crew of the train, as the whistle was blown as the train approached the spot.

Farmer's Narrow Escape.

Toronto, March 30.—John Weldrick, a well-known farmer, living on the third concession back of Newtonbrook, on Friday night while driving up the north side of the York Mills hill, on the car tracks, was struck by the south-bound Newmarket car. The car was stopped by the shock of the collision. Weldrick was thrown out on the road. He was picked up and carried into Birrell's Hotel. At first it was feared he had received serious injuries, but later in the evening he was able to be taken home. Both horses were killed. The vestibule of the car was badly smashed and the tongue of the wagon, breaking through, inflicted a wound on the leg of Albert Thompson, who was standing with the motorman.

Carnegie's Gifts to Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, March 30.—Andrew Carnegie has added $1,550,000 to his library donations in Pittsburg. He will give $1,400,000, in addition to the $1,750,000 already provided, for an addition to the present Carnegie Library, and $150,000 for the building of the new east end branch library. This new gift of Mr. Carnegie makes his contributions to the greater institution $5,000,000. The proposed addition to the Carnegie Institute will make it five times larger than the present building, and will contain not only quarters for a museum, but also an immense art gallery.

Of Interest to Labor Men.

Kingston—It is said that the painters are likely to go on strike after April 1 for a $2 a day wage, eight hours a day and a re-arrangement of the apprenticeship question. The employers oppose the request.

Norfolk, Va.—Representatives from eight states in conference here have formed a combination of almost all the wooden dish manufacturers in the country.

Rossland—A special from Fernie says a settlement of the miners strike has been effected by vote, and the agreement is ratified for the space of two years.

Toronto, March 30.—W. D. Scott, Commissioner of Immigration, was asked last night if there was "anything moving" in immigration. His reply was: "Well, eight special trains are moving to-night between Halifax and Montreal. They are carrying about 2,000 immigrants to the Northwest."

London.—The annual report of the Cunard Steamship Company shows a profit of $1,418,085. A dividend of four per cent. is declared.

Many Doctors Have Many Minds.

But No Doctor Can Deny the Extraordinary Restorative Powers of

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure is composed of a number of the most potent blood builders and nerve restoratives that is known to medical science.

It is thoroughly scientific and prepared in such proportions as Dr. Chase found most effective after years of testing in his own extensive practice.

While doctors naturally prefer that you go to them for treatment, there is yet to be discovered a single case where a doctor when asked his opinion of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has not spoken of it in the highest terms of praise.

The evidence which is most satisfactory, however, is that of the persons who have been cured of such serious ailments as paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous prostration, nervous exhaustion and all the accompanying ailments by the use of this preparation.

When you find yourself losing energy and vigour, becoming easily tired, subject to headache, neuralgia, indigestion, faintness and dizziness, despondent, discouraged and unable to sleep or rest, it is time to be warned of approaching nervous collapse.

These are unmistakable indications that your nervous system is being undermined, and that you must seek such assistance as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food alone can give.

By noting your increase in weight while using this great system-builder you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue is being added to your body. Fifty cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE VICTORIA CROSS.

History of the Decoration Since Its Inauguration Forty-Six Years Ago—Aristocracy Was Then Aristocracy.

The Victoria Cross was born Jan. 29, 1859. Forty-six years ago, when there was much less talk about democracy than there is to-day, when aristocracy was frankly regarded as aristocracy, and the people were less feverish than we are to add letters of distinction to their names, it entered into the head of a far-seeing leader of men to recommend the institution of a distinction to convey honor upon and to recognize that quality of mankind which is more to be admired than any other. Moreover, it was a quality which is in no sense reserved to the possession of the high and mighty. Quite the contrary, in fact. The ordinary soldier has probably a greater opportunity of manifesting "conspicuous bravery in the sight of the enemy" than have his officers. And amid all the criticism which has been leveled at the English military system, no fact stands out more plainly than the number of ordinary privates who have been decorated. Here there is no question of nepotism, or petticoat influence, or toadyism. The most coveted honor in English heraldry is given with a catholicity of recognition which cannot but be appreciated by those who pause to think.

It is said that it was the genius of the late Queen to hit upon bronze as the material for the adornment which should bear her name for all time. We have heard of the Iron Cross and the Iron Eagle, but the bronze cross has a wider significance. At once we associate it with the cheapest coin of the realm. It is the act which wins the Cross and not the metal of which it is made which represents the value. Birth may bring a Garter; diplomatic success may bring an Order; but the one decoration which can be earned by merely personal valor is the Victoria Cross. It is well that we should recognize the price at which it is purchased. That simple bronze which adorns many a breast means that the wearer offered his life in one consummate act to his King and country. The little motto—"For valor"—includes a fullness of meaning which no phrase of the College of Heralds' designing ever could include. Whitaker places the honor behind page after page of decorations which have a greater dazzle and glitter more in the heraldic eye. But the great public know the V. C. They know that it connotes all that England is and can be.

When we look back upon the history of such decorations we find that it took the world a considerable time to open its eyes to the value of personal bravery on the field. No doubt had Julius Caesar established some such honor, we should be led to realize that the Roman Republic cared more for the common soldier than history leads us to believe. In those days the soldier of the legion was a unit, and no more. If he was called upon to show personal valor of a high order it was recognized, to use a common phrase of to-day, as "all in the day's work." We remember that when the Victoria Cross was instituted certain cavilers—there are always such cavilers—argued that it was lowering to the dignity of the soldier to be specially rewarded for doing a soldier's duty. The caviler urged that Napoleon needed no mere adornment to lure his soldiers over the Alps in the thick of the Winter's snow. We have a reply to all this ready to our hand. The soldier of the British Empire does not need the decoration to lure him to valor. It is the Empire itself which yearns for a method of recognition of more than common valor. Imagine Xerxes, or Hannibal, or Barbarossa, or Napoleon offering their soldiers a tribute!

But in the Victoria Cross we have an honor for which even the King is practically ineligible, since he can never be permitted to risk his person in the presence of an enemy. We may look through the list most carefully and we shall find very few exalted persons. This is not to insinuate that exalted persons are lacking in bravery, but that the work of generalship and administration necessarily handicaps them. Yet there is one Field Marshal—need we say it is Lord Roberts?—there is one Admiral of the Fleet, Sir N. Salmon. Coming a step nearer to the rank and file we find a handful of Generals and a similar number of Rear Admirals. The list is headed by a Chaplain; it contains seamen and privates in considerable numbers, and it closes with the names of four who, but for an untimely end, would now be wearing the coveted distinction.

It is well for us in times of peace to cast our minds over such a list. The public memory is painfully short. A year ago, and we spoke of heroes and had great regard for the virtues which are manifest on the battlefield. Alas, to-day we are busy once more with political and domestic enterprises, and the writer of the latest novel is more to us than the defenders of the Empre. In Grecian days, year by year, the roll of honor was read out to the people. It was not such a roll of honor as this which we commemorate on Jan. 29, for in those days of intellect and speculation the mere ordinary man was but his country's asset and slave, think we as highly of Greek civilization as we may. We might do worse than read out the Victoria Cross roll annually in the market places of our great towns. It seems hardly fair to confer so great an honor, adding to it the somewhat paltry pension of an annual £10, and then to banish the names of those who are thus adorned to the oblivion where all men, even the greatest, must go nowadays. Even Whitaker, that kindly monitor of the public mind, only retains surviving recipients in his list. How proud would we all be of a permanent list, in St. Paul's, for example, a public reminder to all time of those who served us and offered their lives in our service!—London Globe.

She writes: "I was so run down that I was not able to do my work, was short of breath, had a sour stomach every night and could scarcely eat. My heart palpitated, I had faint and dizzy spells and felt weak and nervous all the time. My husband got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills but I told him it was no use, that I had given up hope of ever being cured. He however persuaded me to take them and before I had used half the box I began to feel better. Two boxes made a new woman of me and I have been well and have been able to do my work ever since."

BLINDFOLD.

Blindfold a woman and she loses all confidence in herself. Her step is slow, hesitating and uncertain. Her hands are raised to ward the imaginary blows which threaten her. When a sick woman seeks the means of health she is often like a woman blindfold. She has no confidence. She cannot tell what her effort will lead to. She turns now to this side and then to the other in uncertainty and doubt.

The sick woman who uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may do so with absolute confidence. It invites open-eyed investigation. There need be no hesitation in following the hundreds of thousands of women who have found a perfect cure for womanly ills in the use of this medicine.

"Favorite Prescription" cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"With a heart full of gratitude to you for sending out over the land your wonderful medicine I send these few lines, hoping that some poor suffering women will try Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Cora L. Hoot, of Greenspring Furnace, Washington Co., Maryland. "I had suffered severly from female weakness and had to be in bed a great deal of the time. Had headache, backache, and pain in left side when lying down. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and had not taken two bottles when I was able to be around again and do my work with but little pain. Can now eat anything and it never hurts me any more. Have taken seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and one of his 'Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets.' Feeling better every day. My husband says I look better every day."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

LABOR PENSIONS.

Scheme Outlined by Mr. J. G. Graves for the Benefit of His Staff.

A few weeks ago Mr. J. G. Graves of the University Supply Stores, Sheffield, outlined a scheme of old-age pensioners for the benefit of his staff. The scheme has now been fully prepared, and being the first, or nearly the first, adopted by a private firm, is attracting general interest. The objects are to provide a fund for the provision of a pension or superannuation allowance to (1) such of its members who shall attain the age of sixty-five years; (2) such of its members who shall attain the age of sixty years, and have been in the employ of the firm for a period of forty years without intermission; (3) such of its members who may from time to time be incapacitated from following their usual occupations, provided they have been subscribers to the fund for a period of ten years previous to becoming so incapacitated. Every employe between the age of twenty years and fifty-five years is eligible for membership. Contributing members are to contribute a sum equal to 2½ per cent. upon their wages, and the firm is to contribute a like amount. In the case of employes who have been in the service of the firm for five years, Mr. Graves pays all contributions for these five years, so that those fortunate persons, without having paid a penny, start with five years to the good. With regard to benefits, it is provided that every contributing member who shall have attained the age of sixty, and completed a continuous service of forty years, or who shall have attained the full age of sixty-five years, shall be entitled, on resigning or otherwise ceasing to hold his office or employment, to receive through life an annual superannuation allowance or pension in accordance with a scale dealing with membership from ten to forty years. Contributing members leaving the service of the firm before superannuation are to receive back the whole of their contributions, with compound interest. Lady contributing members leaving to be married can withdraw the whole of their contributions, together with the firm's contributions, exclusive of interest. Mr. J. G. Graves is to be President for life and the fund is to be administered by trustees, committee of management, and all proper officers. —London Times.

A Man Sent by Mail.

A city man discovered recently one of those hiddon resources of the London Postoffice, which has hitherto been suspected by very few people. The city man called at the General Postoffice to consult the directory as to a certain private address of a customer, who lives in a remote part of Balham.

He mentioned casually to the man in charge of the express parcel counter that he did not know the locality, but it was necessary for him to see the customer immediately. He received this reply: "I will send you there, sir; the fee is threepence per mile."

The city man accepted the offer, and in telling the story says: "Then in response to a bell a smart youth came to my side and, tapping me on the arm, said: 'Are you express for Balham, sir? This way, please.' The youth carried in his hand a small printed slip with a description of myself under the heading of an article required to be delivered. I was detained on the street through meeting my partner. The youth, saluting me respectfully, said to me in a reproachful voice: 'You are express, sir,' and I thereupon resumed my journey. The youth delivered me safely, and my customer signed a document testifying to the safe receipt of the article consigned."

FARMER DELEGATES.

The Canadians Who Are Doing Work for the Dominion in England.

A London correspondent, writing from the Metropolis on the 3rd March, says: We have fifty five Canadians more this week in England than we had last week. All the farmer delegates from Manitoba and the Northwest have arrived, and have distributed themselves throughout the length and breadth of the land to talk and perhaps sing the praises of the great Dominion of Canada. There is very little doubt but that their work of the next few weeks will result in great good for Canada, and even now the announcement in the newspapers that these delegates have arrived has aroused keen interest to hear what they have to say about Canada and the chances there are there to get to the top of the tree.

The farmer delegates have been distributed as follows:—London, including south and west of England, 18; Birmingham district, 11; Liverpool district, 10; Glasgow district, 5; Cardiff (for Wales), 4; Belfast, Ireland, 2.

Cost of an Acre of Wheat.

While on the subject of emigration the following perhaps may be of interest to many wheat raisers in Canada, as it shows the cost of producing an acre of wheat in this country. The cost is as follows:—Twelve carts of manure at 5s per cart, £3; ploughing, 10s; rolling, 1s; harrowing twice, 2s; seed, 7s 6d; drilling, 2s; harrowing, 1s; striking up, 1s, water farrowing, 1s; harrowing in spring, 1s; rolling, 1s; hoeing over, 2s 6d; harvesting, 15s; thatching, 2s; threshing, 7s; carting out, 5s, rent, 12s; taxes, 2s 6d. To Paint Historic Picture.

Sir Laurence Alma Tadema, the famous artist, who attended the ceremony of the inauguration of the great Assouan dam on the Nile, has been interviewed by M.A.P.'s Cairo representative. Asked as to the picture he has been commissioned to paint by Sir John Aird, he stated that it was not a picture of the dam which he was to be engaged upon, as was reported, but one of the Pharonic temples, and that it is to be of large dimensions. He is now on the Nile taking the necessary sketches, and will be thus occupied for some weeks. This is the first time that he has visited the land of the Pharaohs. "When I saw him near the Pyramids," writes the Cairo correspondent, "he exclaimed to me, 'I have never seen so much sand, so much sun, and so much color.'"

Sir Philip Magnus, who has accepted the invitation of the graduates of the London University to stand as Unionist candidate in view of the impending retirement of Sir Michael Foster, is, according to the same authority, one of the clever and distinguished sons of Israel. He is best known to the world as a brilliant educationist, and is himself an old pupil of University College, President of the National Association of Manual Training, a member of the London School Board for some time, and holder of innumerable educational posts. A tall, distinguished-looking man, he was at one time intended for the Jewish ministry.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 30. — The labour situation is again said to be the dominant feature. The bridge and structural iron companies men are the last to demand recognition and have appealed to President Roosevelt. Four hundred thousand men are involved. It is probable that the bears on the market will endeavour to make capital out of this new complication, but the fact remains that stocks are cheaper than they have been in years and conservative purchases from this level must speedily return big profits. Buy B. & O. on moderate scale; hold Atch. and Eries. Sell M.O.P. on quick rallies.

The shorts in M.R. will fare badly. The Moore Bros. are buying R.I. freely. Keek long of Mex. Central.

JOSEPH.

New York, March 30. — Liverpool wheat opened unchanged; corn 1-8 to 1-4 lower.

New York, March 30. — The American quotes J. W. Gates as hinting that he may take an active part in the market in the near future.

It is reported that James R. Keene is still far from well, but tells his friends that he expects to be able to attend to business to-day as usual.

New York. —While there are signs that on account of the higher rates for money and the security congestion attacks on the fancy issues may be continued. Technical conditions are operative for a recovery in the stock market. However, apparently inspired bearish utterances in certain financial columns of the press this morning are likely to maintain the pessimism that has been prevalent. At this writing we do not see our way clear to advise either one way or the other.

Dallas, Texas.—The Texas Senate held a night session Saturday night and about mid-night passed the Southern Pacific Railway Consolidation Bill, which will be sent to the government to-day.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 30, 9.45 a. m. — Americans better this morning with prospect of easier financial conditions and there is talk of reduction bank of England discount rate in near future.

M & M.

Letter.—Course of market to-day will, we believe, reflect to a certain extent a better feeling though an extended advance in list is hardly to be expected. Labour troubles are now in the air in their incubating tage for the spring campaign and so much depends upon the attitude of leaders on both sides of controversy that little can be said of the possible effect of expected struggle. It may be that conciliation and arbitration will rule. It is now thought that decline in some of better class of securities, notably N.Y.C., has been much to the deferring of greater merger plans in connection with properties as from any other cause. It is undoubtedly the sentimental effect of loss of value in these shares which has had much to do with want of confidence on present average traders.

M. & M.

U.P. will show decrease 400,000. H. V. shows earnings of 8 p.c. on both stocks. Better prospects of peace among conflicting copper interests. S.P. in demand flat and at small premiums. Bank statement considered favourable, especially in item of cash.

DOW, JONES & CO.

New York, March 30. — Opening of stock market shows evidence of effect of labour situation as shown by morning papers suggesting possibility of a confliction involving the traders. Subtreasury gained $1,178,000 from banks since Friday. There is continued scattered liquidation going on. The refunding plan was worked out with reference to the probable needs of money market next fall and not with idea of influencing situation at present.

M. & M.

Grain.—Car lots wheat 15; corn, 91; oats, 190. Liverpool opening.— Wheat, 1-8 to lower; corn, 1-8 higher. On passage. —Wheat, Dec., 1,176,; corn, inc. 567,000; world's corn shipments 4,061,000 against 2,891,000 last year of which 2,618,000 American against 139,000 last year. World's wheat shipment 8,712,000 against 6,632,000 last year of which 2,904,000 American against 2,901000.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 28. — After an irregular opening bear pressure was again renewed on the whole list and market sold off rapidly. U.P., S.P. together with Can. Pac. being the special objects of the bear attack. In our opinion this bear drive has about reached its limit and it is dangerous to be caught short at these levels. Would buy the market Monday if it sells off for good rally. The bank statement was more favourable than anticipated and a sharp rally followed which carried prices up over a point in most cases from the low figures. After the earlier estimates of the conditions of the associated banks, we have to view with suspicion the favourable showing of to-day and it looks to us as though the statement was rigged to stop the decline; if so, it served the purpose as before statement was published the market was fairly demoralized. The close was at the rally.

Chicago. — No feature in this market to-day, both wheat and corn are holding firm.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures, eczema, salt rheum and piles so thoroughly and promptly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to others. See testimonials in the newspapers.

Student's Easter Rates.

The Grand Trunk will issue to students and teachers of schools and colleges, on surrender of standard certificate, signed by the Principal, return tickets at Single Fare and One-third; going April 4th to 11th, inclusive. Valid returning until April 21st, 1903. Further particulars in another column of this paper, or from W. Bunton, C. P. & T. A., Peterborough. 10d74

Peterborough Tennis Club Organize This Evening.

To-morrow Night's Entertainment in the Opera House—Gauthier Confident.

The organization of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League makes a new epoch in lacrosse in this district and the promoters of the league have every confidence in the future of the organization. Hastings, Campbellford, T. A. A. and the Athletics of Peterborough would themselves make an interesting schedule, but there is every reason to believe that before the first game is played that several more teams will be in the running. There is a desire on the part of every club in the new league to stamp out everything in the shape of professionalism, "ringerism," or anything that would tend to injure the game by the employment of illegitimate methods. Hon. President Kenner has promised that he will see that a suitable trophy is put up for competition and there is reason to believe that a revival of lacrosse spirit in the Trent Valley District will result from the formation of the League.

WRESTLING.

The entertainment at the opera house is causing a great deal of excitement in town, and the prospects are that a big crowd will see the show. Barry, the Toronto man, who meets Popp, arrived in town on the noon train, along with Art Edmunds and W. Jones. Barry looks to be in good shape, and says that he will be in the game from the sound of the gong. Popp is expected this evening and report says that he is in fine shape. The management have arranged a four-round bout between Edmunds and Jones, which will be a clever exhibition. The bag-punching exhibition will be a new feature and some fast work will be done by McDonough and Edmunds. The new platform is the most complete ever seen in Peterborough, and is very fast.

A handicap wrestling match which will cause about as much excitement as the main one, will be between Jack McDonough and Eugene Hurtubise. McDonough is to throw Hurtubise twice in thirty minutes, or forfeit the match. Eugene is the big husky player of the Rugby team, and is wonderfully strong. He will keep Jack very busy gaining two falls in thirty minutes. Simon will arrive on the 5.10 C.P.R. train and is in good shape. Gauthier is ready for the fray, and the match will be the best seen here in years. There will be good singing and dancing during the bouts, and a continuous programme is promised. The curtain will rise promptly at 8.15. No waits.

BASEBALL.

Bowmanville News. — If the Midland Baseball League is re-organized this year, there is no reason why Bowmanville should not land on top. Cobourg will be right in line again this year. It is probable that a league will be formed of Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope and Cobourg, and we see no reason why a league of this kind would not prove a success to all.

CRICKET.

The annual meeting of the Lindsay Cricket Club will be held on Tuesday night. The Ontario Cricket Association intend to divide the cricket clubs of the province into groups this year, the same as in curling, the winners of the groups to play off for the Ontario championship in Toronto. A very compact group could be formed with Uxbridge, Barrie, Orillia, Lindsay and Peterborough.

CHURCH SERVICES SUNDAY.

Anniversary Services in the George Street Church.

Excellent Music at St. John's Church Yesterday—Church Notes of Interest.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's last night the music, though of the subdued Lenten character, was excellent, and showed careful rehearsal. The beautiful crescendo in even the familiar Nunc Dimittis, was worthy of special mention. At the offertory Mr. H. Morphet sang Adam's "Holy City," and it is no exaggeration, perhaps, to say that, as a contribution to church music, it has never been sung better in Peterborough, that is, with more artistic colouring and in a more reverent and devotional spirit. The organ accompaniment, by Miss Lottie Cochrane, was quite in keeping and furnished a beautiful background for the beautiful tone-picture of the soloist. Miss Cochrane always furnishes a sympathetic, effective and musicianly accompaniment.

AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Both services yesterday were attended by large congregations. In the evening the choir rendered an anthem with pleasing effect, and Miss Florence Miller, a vocalist who is rapidly singing herself into the front ranks of music, sang "The Holy City" in a voice of great purity and with excellent method. Her beautifully clear and distinct enunciation was not the least pleasing feature of her work last night.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

Sunday school anniversary services were held in the George street Methodist church yesterday. In the morning the body of the church was occupied by the members of both George street and Grace Sunday schools, who listened to a most interesting address by Dr. Smith of the Carleton street church, Toronto, based on the words, "Deliver my darling from the power of the dog." Instead of the usual anthems by the choir, a couple of hymns were sung by the choir. The church was nicely decorated with palms and ferns, and the service proved most enjoyable, not only to the members of the school, but also to the parents and friends present.

In the afternoon instead of the usual session both schools assembled in the church, where reports for the year were given, the prizes for attendance were distributed, and Dr. Smith was again heard in an interesting address.

In the evening a large congregation listened to a most excellent discourse from Dr. Smith, on the subject, "Words of cheer for obscure workers." His remarks were based on the sending out of the seventy disciples.

The anthems, "Fear Not, O Land," and "Clap your Hands Together," were sung in an excellent manner by the choir, Miss Chasty taking the soprano solo in the latter in good voice.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The special character of the services in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday, attracted large congregations. The beginning of a series of sermons on special subjects by the pastor, the first of which is referred to at considerable length in another column, was one of the attractive features. The understanding that Mr. Keough and Mrs. Killin-Keough would sing, attracted a great many musical people, who, however high their expectations, were not disappointed. Mrs. Killin-Keough sang a recitative and aria from Gaul's "Holy City," and fairly electrified her hearers. She has a splendid lyric soprano voice of great sweetness and compass she being able to sustain high C with ease and even sings high D without apparent effort. Her selection was of oratorio character and brought out not only the smooth, robust, but refined voice of the singer, but her excellent method, in a most satisfying way. However, her specialty is music of a more florid order, such as the gems of Italian opera, like selections from Verdi's Traviata, etc. With a splendid voice, whose effective use and mature resources, first class culture has developed, and with a fine dramatic instinct, Mrs. Killin-Keough has only to be heard to be appreciated. At the Charlotte street church, her husband, Mr. J. P. Keough, a most effective basso, contributed a solo of quiet character, a composition by Mrs. A. H. Taylor. Simple as the music was, its artistic rendition shows Mr. Keough to be an artist of high order, and in conjunction with his brilliant musical consort, capable of giving an entertainment that will afford the highest musical enjoyment, as can testify all who heard them at the Charlotte street church last night, and as the announced concert in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Friday night next will, they feel confident, serve to demonstrate.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

At All Saint's church last evening Rev. W. L. Armitage, the rector, preached the fourth of a series of sermons on "The Prodigal and His Brother." The male quartette, which distinguished themselves at the opera house in the afternoon, excellently rendered "The Wayside Cross." Rev. E. R. James of Hastings, will preach on Thursday of this week. On Sunday evening Rev. W. L. Armitage will speak on "The Prodigal's Brother."

Mr. Stewart, of the Cereal Works Wants Franchise.

COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT.

Will Town Renew Street Lighting Contract?

That is What the Cereal Company Asks —Mr. R. R. Hall, of the Otonabee Power Company Makes an Offer.

There was a large number of prominent citizens at the Council Chamber last night, it having been given out during the day that a proposition would be submitted to the Council last night from the American Cereal Company for the resurrection of the Peterborough Street Railway Company. The chair was occupied by His Worship Mayor Roger, and there were present Aldermen H. Best, J. Corkery, Jos. Batten, R. F. McWilliams, D. O'Connell, H. Rush, M. A. Morrison, B. Shortly and Robert Clinkscale. There were many prominent citizens present, including Messrs. D. W. Dumble, R. M. Dennistoun, J. W. Garvin, D. Hughes-Charles, R. R. Hall, W. H. Meldrum, A. Stevenson, Wm. Davidson, W. H. Hill, T. F. Matthews, R. Fair, T. E. Bradburn, G. S. Matthews, John Carnegie, J. Shook, A. P. McDonald, W. A. Sanderson, O. Kirn, F. H. Dobbin and R. E. Layfield.

MR. DENNISTOUN SPEAKS.

His Worship Mayor Roger announced that he understood that Mr. Dennistoun had a proposition to make to the Council on behalf of the American Cereal Company.

Upon motion Mr. Dennistoun was heard.

Mr. Dennistoun began by stating that he appeared before them to offer a proposition which had in view the building and equipping of a modern and up-to-date electric railway in the Town of Peterborough. It was just 10 years ago that the town granted a franchise to the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway Company, and at that time they felt that they had settled for some time to come the matter of street railway franchises within the town. However, the system was not a success. There was not sufficient traffic to warrant its service being continued. The gentlemen who had taken the matter in hand in a purely speculative manner, had to throw up the enterprise and lose the capital they had invested in it. During the past eight years the Council has had many promoters before them asking for franchises, etc. He, himself had made application to the Council for a franchise for Mr. Starr and had received a promise from the Council for a $20,000 cash bonus. But Mr. Starr could not float the bonds that were required, and Mr. Dennistoun went on to recite the various ways in which time had been spent by Mr. Starr and other gentlemen in their endeavour to interest capital in the matter, but to no avail. Financial men would not float the bonds as they realized that the street railway would not carry itself in Peterborough. Nor did Mr. Dennistoun think that it would for some time yet. Experts have been in Peterborough for some months past enquiring into the possibilities of successfully operating the Peterborough Street Railway. The report of the expert employed by the American Cereal Company was to the effect that the town would not support a street railway.

About two years ago the American Cereal Company located in Peterborough, and the speaker thought that it was a fortunate thing for the town that the Company did locate here. This was admitted on all sides. Anything they have done so far has been highly satisfactory. Coming down to the main question Mr. Dennistoun said that Mr. Robert Stuart, the Treasurer of the Company, had always taken a very deep interest in the progress of the town. Upon taking the matter of the operation of the Peterborough Street Railway into his consideration he thought that he could effect an amalgamation with certain interests which might result in the resuscitation of the street railway in Peterborough. Mr. Dennistoun then proceeded to recite the fact that the Cereal Company had now the controlling interest in the Peterborough Light and Power Company. If the Street Railway Company and the Light and Power Company were amalgamated there could be a great saving in the cost of operation. The same office staff would do; the same electricians, etc., resulting in a great saving. Mr. Beck, the Company's engineer had reported on the feasibility of the scheme. His report was that the street railway end of the concern would be a heavy drain on the other end. This was not a very encouraging state of affairs. Apart from this, there was the fact, however, that the street lights of the town were costing $65 per light and the further fact that the present contract with the Light and Power Company will terminate very shortly. What is to be done for the next 10 years to come? There are two courses that the town might take in the matter. They might go into street lighting on their own account, or they might throw the street lighting contract for the next ten years open for tender. The proposition the Cereal Company wished to make was to enter into an arrangement with the Company for supplying it and the Company with power to some extent, and a considerable saving in the operation of the system for some years to come. When Mr. Dennistoun had finished this arrangement was the matter of floating the combined concern, they had seemed favorable and had submitted a proposition to him. Senator Cox, he would float a bond issue for a new company at Peterborough before the project to amalgamate the Light and Power Co. with the Peterborough Radial Railway, or have a bond issued to him or some one of his company, have the people of Peterborough lose by the deal? Nothing was asked for the town to guarantee Mr. Stewart and Mr. Cox what they would not give to anyone else. What they were asking was to renew the present contract with the Light and Power Company for a further period of 10 years. Mr. Dennistoun considered that the present rate for street lighting was very reasonable. Some one might ask for tenders, but Mr. Dennistoun thought that the representatives of the other companies present would bear him out in what he stated in saying that the present rate was not at all unreasonable.

Mr. Dennistoun then went on to say that if the town attempted to go into municipal lighting they would find that their plant at the pump house would not be sufficiently large to enable them to generate power for electric light purposes. The proposition he made was a reasonable one, he contended, and a business one. They would want a 30-year franchise of the streets, of course, such as had been granted to the old company. He requested that they be not tied down to any conditions re the building of lines through outside municipalities. This would tie the hands of the company. They would make extensions to Chemong and Lakefield in time, but the present was just a business proposition. The names of the gentlemen connected with the venture was a sufficient guarantee of a paying investment. Concerning the probable route of railway lines in town, the speaker said that they would construct at least five or six miles of railway. It would be extended to the river below the locks, out McDonel street to Park street, with a spur line to Jackson Park. The minor details of the undertaking could be left over for future consideration; he only asked them to consider the main parts of the offer. If the council thought favourably of the scheme, he would have the experts of the company here forthwith. He hoped that he would receive the hearty co-operation of the townspeople in the undertaking, and he thought the agreement between the town and the company should be arrived at without difficulty. The men at the back of the proposition are not men who will allow the railway to fall into disuse once it is established.

MR. DUMBLE SPEAKS.

At the conclusion of Mr. Dennistoun's address, Mayor Roger announced that he would be glad to hear the views of any ratepayers present in regard to the matter.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, on rising to speak on the subject, said he wished merely to state his own views in regard to Mr. Dennistoun's proposition. He reviewed the history of street railways in other towns, Belleville included. The Brockville street railway did not pay, but the Galt-Hespeler railway was being operated successfully. We had not many small towns tributary to us, and at a short distance away from us. Lakefield was the nearest. Mr. Dumble went on to review the reasons which led up to the failure of the road, and contended that, to be operated successfully the system must be extended to the parks, the Locks, Ashburnham, etc. If we want the railway we should not bind the promoters down to a guarantee to run their lines to outside points. A point Mr. Dumble emphasized, was that a street railway built up the town's suburbs. It was a grand thing for the town in this regard, he contended. The people want the street railway, and that we may take for granted. His opinion was, however, that for ten or fifteen years there will be no money in the street rail-

Miss Alice Bailey, of Atlanta, Ga., tells how she was permanently cured of inflammation of the ovaries, and escaped the surgeon's knife, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The universal indications of the approach of woman's great enemy, inflammation and disease of the ovaries, are a dull throbbing pain, accompanied by a sense of tenderness and heat low down in the side, with occasional shooting pains. On examination it may be found that the region of pain will show some swelling. This is the first stage of inflammation of the ovaries.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life.

"I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation.

"I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. I had gained eighteen pounds and was in excellent health, and am now.

"You surely deserve great success, and you have my very best wishes."—MISS ALICE BAILEY, 50 North Boulevard, Atlanta, Ga.

Another woman saved from a surgical operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read what she says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot thank you enough for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. If it had not been for your medicine I think I would have died.

"I will tell you how I suffered. I could hardly walk, was unable to sleep or eat. Menstruation was irregular. At last I had to stay in my bed, and flowed so badly that they sent for a doctor, who said I had inflammation of the ovaries, and must go through an operation, as no medicine could help me, but I could not do that.

"I received a little book of yours, and after reading it, I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now a well woman. I shall praise your medicine as long as I live, and also recommend the same to anyone suffering as I was."—MRS. MINNIE OTTOSON, Otho, Iowa.

All sick women would be wise if they would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be well.

IN PURSUIT OF SIR OLIVER.

Mr. Maclean Brings Up the Lieutenant-Governorship Again.

SIR WILFRID'S WARM REPLY.

Premier Declares That Sir Oliver Mowat Is All Right—Purchase of Hay and Oats on Account of War Office—Mr. Monk's Motion For an Investigation Is Defeated on a Division.

Ottawa, March 31.—Mr. W. F. Maclean, for the third time this session, yesterday afternoon, brought to the attention of the House the situation which he alleges was created in Ontario by the incapability of Sir Oliver Mowat to perform the duties of his office as Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. F. D. Monk, the Conservative first lieutenant for the Province of Quebec, also raised the question of the constitutionality of the limited commission issued to Chief Justice Moss to perform certain duties appertaining to the Lieutenant-Governorship.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after relating the circumstances under which the commission was issued, at the request of Sir Oliver, who is, owing to an accident, confined to his room, expressed sorrow that Mr. Maclean had declined to wait until to-day in order that he might telegraph for permission to submit Sir Oliver's letter to the House. He suggested that as Mr. Maclean had declared his confidence in Sir Oliver Mowat, he would accept that gentleman's statement that he was in good bodily health, and quite able to perform the duties of his office, except those which required him to leave his residence. The Premier recalled the circumstance under which Sir George Kirkpatrick was allowed to remain in the office, and asked why similar treatment should not be accorded Sir Oliver Mowat, who more than any man enjoyed the confidence and admiration of the people in his ability to direct the Province in the existing political crisis. Upon the constitutional question raised by Mr. Monk he pointed out that the Government had followed the precedent set by the Government, when Sir Alex. Campbell was Lieutenant-Governor.

An animated discussion and a division took place on a motion for the production of papers in reference to the purchase of oats and hay in Canada for the Imperial Government. Mr. Monk declared that the Imperial Government had been cheated by speculators. The Government took the ground that as the matter was one which entirely concerned the Imperial Government, the officials of the Department of Agriculture, acting solely for them, it was not competent for this House to interfere.

Before adjournment Mr. Fielding announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will probably introduce the redistribution bill to-day.

Answered Questions Rapidly.

Mr. Puttee was told the C. P. R. holds approximately 165,000 acres in Manitoba, which they claim is exempt from taxation under the contract of 1881.

E. F. Clark was told that from June 30, 1901, to March 1, 1902, 1,885,836 tons of soft coal were imported into Ontario; in 1902-1903, 2,257,280 tons; in 1901-1902, 279,067 tons of bituminous dust; in 1902-1903, 836,789 tons of bituminous dust; in 1901-1902, 764,701 tons of anthracite coal; in 1902-1903, 470,946 tons.

Col. Hughes was told the amendment to the Militia Act would be brought in at the end of this week or the beginning of next. The Minister of Militia said that there was no misunderstanding about the publication of Lord Dondonald's confidential report, because it was confidential and would not be made public. It was like the report of the Defence Commission of 1898.

During the past two years 200,151 acres of Dominion lands have been sold; 52,493 for mining, 135,840 for farming and 11,818 for ranching. They were brought by settlers. For ranch lands $1.25 an acre was received; for farming lands $3; coal lands $3; coal lands only $7. The condition attached was that to coal lands 10 cents on every ton produced to be paid to Canada. The Government does not propose to sell any more lands.

Mr. Lemieux spoke in support of his motion, asking for all papers in connection with the request for further subsidies from the Dominion by the provinces. He made a general plea for money, particularly for Quebec.

Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Monk asked—Is it true, as currently reported, that the Grand Trunk Railway Company has concluded an agreement with the Government, since the meeting of Parliament, to build a transcontinental line, from North Bay to Port Simpson for a subsidy of $20,000,000.

Mr. Blair replied—I am not aware that such a report is current, but if it is, it is not true.

Mr. Monk—Is it a fact that some members of the Government are urging the said Grand Trunk Company to purchase the Mann & Mackenzie system; and that the said Grand Trunk Company is asking for a large land grant as a condition of said proposed purchase?

Mr. Blair—This is not a fact; nor is the Grand Trunk Pacific asking a subsidy in the form of a large land grant.

Mr. Monk—Has the Government come to an agreement in regard to the building of said transcontinental line?

Mr. Blair—No.

Mr. Monk—What is the cause of the delay in putting the measure for such new line mentioned in the speech from the throne before the House?

Mr. Blair—There was no mention in the speech from the throne regarding a new transcontinental line, hence there is no delay on the part of the Government.

Mr. Monk—Is it a fact that divisions in the Cabinet are the sole cause of such delay?

Mr. Blair—This is not a fact, but if it were, there is not the slightest foundation in favor of such a statement.

Bills Introduced.

Several bills were introduced yesterday. To incorporate B. C. Southern Railway Co., Mr. Morrison; to incorporate Northwest Bank of Canada, Mr. Scott; to incorporate Joliet Colonization Railway, Mr. Champagne; an act respecting insolvency, Mr. Monk. Nine bills received their second reading yesterday and were passed on to committee.

After Mr. Maclean had spoken of his telephone bill, Sir William Mulock said he could not say whether the Government would bring in a telephone bill or not, but in any case it would not affect that of Mr. Maclean.

Mr. Maclean also made a speech in favor of his bill to throw all railway stations open to all telephone companies.

Three bills were given second reading, and they were: To amend the election act, Mr. Charlton; respecting telephone companies, Mr. Maclean; to amend the Railway Act, Mr. Maclean.

Mr. Fielding adjourned the House at 9 o'clock.

STURGEON POINT WILL BOOM.

Brisk Enquiry for Cottages—The Season Will be a Gay One.

Lindsay Post.

By all accounts Sturgeon Point, Lindsay's popular summer resort, will boom this year. There is already a good demand for cottages, and in the course of a couple of weeks every dwelling available will have been leased for the season.

Mr. Paddon, of the Bank of Montreal, who has occupied the Gregory cottage for four seasons, will have it again this season. Mr. Barton, of Cincinnat, a popular American tourist, has leased the Dundas cottage, and Mr. J. H. Clarry, of Toronto, will occupy the Jennings cottage. Dr. Robt. Allan of California, has secured Mr. Fremont Crandell's cottage, facing the lake front, and Mr. J. Parnell Morris, the Neeland cottage. Mr. H. Gladman has purchased the Ellis cottages at Sandy Point which will be thoroughly renovated and fitted up for rental. Mr. Bigelow will make some improvements to his cottages and will give them a fresh coat of paint. Mr. Bigelow says that several parties have seen him about renting them, but he is more anxious to sell them to rent.

THE HOG AS A PROSPECTOR.

Kaladar Pig Roots up the "Root of Evil."

This county owes a great deal of its prosperity to the Canadian hog, which, reduced to bacon, is in much demand abroad. The trade amounts up into millions, and is increasing rapidly.

But now the native hog appears in a new role. Isaac Gunnell, of Kaladar, killed a pig last week, and found in its throat a $200 gold nugget. People are saying to-day that where a pig can find such a nugget, a man with some experience in gold prospecting should be able to find a mine, and many busy hands are at work hunting the records to see where Kaladar is. Some persons are recalling the fact that one of the richest finds of gold made in Australia was brought about through a stone being picked up as a missile to throw at a steer. The stone was so heavy for its size, and proved to be so odd a stone, that the man carried it home, and found it to be a valuable gold nugget, and search soon located more of the precious metal.

It may be taken for granted that the ground over which the Kaladar pig pursued its humble way will be thoroughly searched by people from far and near.

The Canadian immigration agents in England should be cabled at once the story of the pig that found the $200 gold nugget in the barnyard. It is a novel advertisement, and beats "casting pearls before swine."

Who can now say the common barnyard hog has no sense? Observe how the Kaladar pig, having no pocket, carried that $200 gold nugget in its throat at much inconvenience to itself. There were plenty of worthless stones in the fields, but it carried none of them. The inferance is that it knew a good thing when it saw one.—Toronto Star.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy, nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

C.P.R. Freight Clerk Guilty of Unlawfully Deserting Employment.

Winnipeg, Man., March 31.—After hearing further evidence in the case of William F. Grundy, one of the striking C.P.R. freight clerks, at the Police Court yesterday morning, Magistrate Baker found the defendant guilty of unlawfully deserting employment, and sentenced him to pay the costs of the court. Much interest centred in the case, as it was regarded as a test case.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

RESTS IN SCOTLAND

Mortal Remains of Gen. MacDonald Buried in Edinburgh.

MILITARY MEN NOT PRESENT.

Considerable Feeling Roused Among the People Because MacDonald the Soldier Suffered For Sins of MacDonald the Man—A Short, Simple Service at the Grave—Major Ramsay Only Officer Present.

Edinburgh, Scotland, March 31.—All that was mortal of Major-General Sir Hector MacDonald was laid to rest beneath the heather of his beloved Scotland early yesterday morning. The burial was pathetic. "Not a sound was heard, not a funeral note," and although a few persons were at the graveside when the casket containing the remains of one of the Empire's bravest sons, there was a marked absence of military men. The absence of those who, in loyalty to his virtues should have forgotten his faults at the last hour, and who should have shown at least respect and honor for MacDonald, the soldier, what e'er was the error of MacDonald, the man, was glaringly apparent, and has roused considerable feeling among the people at large.

The interment took place at 6 o'clock in the morning. Rev. Dr. White read Psalm 130 and a page from the Epistle to the Romans, commencing, "Oh, death, where is thy sting?" That was the only service.

Lady MacDonald, her son, the late general's brother and two cousins, were the chief mourners. The coffin, which was of oak, was inscribed: "Hector MacDonald, born 1853, died March 25, 1903."

The funeral party was a gathering of members of various clans and societies of Edinburgh. The coffin was placed in a plain canopied hearse. The cortege consisted of five mourning carriages and four others. Only a few persons were allowed to go within the gates of the cemetery. The gates were closed immediately after the procession passed.

The grave is on the north side of the new part of the cemetery. The son stood at the head of the grave during the service. Lady MacDonald, who was greatly affected, stood at his left. Six men who had served under Gen. MacDonald carried the coffin, only one, an officer of militia, Major Ramsay, in his uniform of office. Dr. Rawlinson of Toronto was also at the graveside. They pursued this plan in accordance with the old military rule that anyone who commits suicide when under charges does not receive military burial.

For a Disordered Stomach.

"I have been troubled for some time with indigestion and sour stomach," says Mrs. Sarah W. Curtis, of Lee, Mass., "and have been taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which have helped me very much, so that I can eat many things that before I could not." If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these Tablets and get well? For sale by all druggists.

Canada the Land of Promise.

London, March 31.—According to a Parliamentary report, covering emigration returns, the number of emigrants leaving England, as reported at the information office, was 26,407 in 1902, and 15,757 in 1900. These figures cover emigration to Canada alone. To South Africa, in 1902, there were 43,224 persons who emigrated from England, and 23,193 in 1901. The report shows that the homestead entries in the Northwest Territories of Canada were 14,668 in 1902, compared with 8,167 in 1901.

While Canada still has plenty of room for more, the report says that South Africa is glutted with labor, and, in Australia, there is no demand for labor.

EVIDENCE GATES OPENED WIDE.

Important Amendments to Attorney-General Gibson's Bill.

NO EXCUSE NOW FOR ANYONE.

Mr. Gamey's Second Statement Accepted as a Charge—Mr. H. Carscallen Moves That the Commission Simply Hear Evidence and Make No Finding of the Fact—The North Renfrew Election.

Toronto, March 31.—The Legislature progressed some distance yesterday on the remaining fag-ends of business before adjournment, but at least this afternoon will be needed to reach the conclusion. The principal matter discussed was the evidence bill, and in this the Attorney-General introduced two important amendments. One provides that no person shall be excused from answering questions which may lead to any punishment, penalty or penal proceedings. The other largely embodies the principle contained in an amendment offered by Mr. Gamey, and provides that the latter's statement of Friday last shall be deemed to be a charge against the Ministers other than the Provincial Secretary, under the terms of the last clause of the commission. The Opposition declaimed against the substituted amendment, but allowed it to pass without a division. The questions to be disposed of still are an amendment of Mr. Henry Carscallen that the commission bring in only the evidence and no finding, the supply vote, and the long adjournment.

North Renfrew Vacancy.

Mr. Whitney inquired whether the writ for the bye-election in North Renfrew had been issued.

Mr. Ross—The writ has not been issued.

Mr. Whitney—Can you give us the reasons why?

Mr. Ross—It is still under consideration.

Mr. Whitney said the duty of the Government under the statute was plain. After the Speaker had done his duty there was nothing for the Government to do but to issue the writ. He considered it unwarrantable interference for the Government to prevent the statute being conformed to.

Mr. Ross—The returning officer has not been named. That means also a date must be fixed. We have been so intensely occupied with the question before the House that we could not give our attention to the matter. This matter has been under consideration. The Speaker has only given his mandate a few days ago. The matter will be disposed of as soon as we can give it our consideration.

Mr. Whitney replied that it was the duty of the proper official to issue the writ, and he knew of no provision in the statute providing that the Executive should consider it.

Witnesses Before the Commission.

Mr. Whitney inquired of the Attorney-General how he proposed to deal with the attendance of witnesses before the Royal Commission.

Mr. Gibson replied that they would follow the usual practice. Subpoenas would be placed in the hands of the counsel conducting the case.

Address Laid Over.

The Premier expressed a desire that the debate on the address be disposed of without further delay.

Mr. Whitney suggested that the wisest course would be to allow the debate to remain open, because when the investigation takes place the House did not know what it would desire to say. He was quite satisfied that the Lieutenant-Governor would acquit the House of any discourtesy in laying the address over until after the proposed adjournment.

Mr. Ross said he was anxious to dispose of the address, but if hon. gentlemen opposite wished to debate it at great length it would be better to allow it to remain over.

Gates Open For Evidence.

The House then went into committee to discuss the Attorney-General's bill respecting evidence, with Mr. Caldwell in the chair.

Mr. Gamey moved—That in proceeding before the said commission the charges to be investigated shall not be in the limited and restrictive terms set out in the said commission, but as made and stated by the said Robert Roswell Gamey in this House on the 11th of March, 1903, confirmed by his statement made to this House on the 27th of March, 1903, as follows: (Here follows the original statement as already published.)

A New Charge Accepted.

Col. Gibson said the preceding was not at all in order as an amendment. His hon. friend need not be at all alarmed about his statement. The Government were perfectly content to accept it as a charge by a member of the House in writing under the last clause of the commission. No difficulties would be thrown in the way of investigating the charge of conspiracy—(applause)—and with that assurance he hoped hon. gentlemen would be satisfied. Under the circumstances he hoped the amendment might be withdrawn. It was not entirely germane, and certainly would look peculiar as a matter of drafting.

Mr. Whitney said that as a rule such amendments did not appear; and as a rule such bills did not appear either. He did not, however, see how the Attorney-General's assurance could affect the Judges, who must accept the terms of the commission that charges must be made in writing. That being so, the Attorney-General's undertaking would not be as effective as his intention would make it.

Exclude the Sullivans.

Mr. Hanna said the undertaking of the Attorney-General, if carried out, would be anything but satisfactory, when one considered what the last clause of the commission meant. That clause limited the charges. The charge of Mr. Gamey was conspiracy, but it would be impossible to include the Sullivans, Jones and the other men named in the indictment. It meant the exclusion of a lot of evidence which was either true or an absolute forgery.

The Attorney-General said that there was no ground for apprehension. If there were 100 persons in the conspiracy and only one member of the executive with them the charge of conspiracy would lie against the one member. The amendment was out of order because it was a renewal of a matter that had already been disposed of. He assured the House that there would be no exclusion of evidence.

Mr. Foy said the commission limited and restricted the operation of the charge of conspiracy to one member of the Cabinet. It was well understood that the judges would not look at undertakings, but at the instructions given them. There would be the limit of their authority. A good illustration was given in the Scrap Iron Bill, which was prefaced by the intentions of the Legislature, but the judges said they must look to the words of the act.

The Minister of Education said that the statement of Mr. Gamey made on the 11th was the full statement charging conspiracy. He wanted it to be understood that the Government courted a searching inquiry. Both sides did not differ in what they sought to do. There was no need of an amendment, but lest it should be said that an attempt was being made to limit the inquiry some amendment could be made which would meet the views of both sides.

Attorney-General's Amendment.

Mr. Whitney asked if the judges would be bound to accept the undertaking of the Attorney-General.

Hon. J. M. Gibson moved—That the statement made to the House on March 27, 1903, by the said Robert Roswell Gamey shall be deemed to be a charge coming under the last clause of the said commission.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt—

Mr. Carscallen (East Hamilton) said the charge made on March 11 was levelled at the Ministry, but, as it was dealt with in the Royal Commission, it was not so regarded. As the Government did not see fit to accept it, Mr. Gamey found it necessary to make a further statement on March 27. It was due to Mr. Gamey to give him every assistance in making his charge good.

The Premier said that the commission would deal with all the charges relevant to the matter; surely that was broad enough. He then referred to the statement of the Opposition leader, that the charge of Mr. Gamey was proven, so far as it implicated him (Mr. Ross) in the deal.

Mr. Whitney denied that he had made any such statement.

To Get in His Evidence.

The member for Manitoulin said he did not care whether his statement was put in the bill or not, but he did want to know whether he would be able to put in all the evidence about all the persons connected with the deal. He believed some sort of a clause could be framed to get in all the evidence.

The Gamey amendment was then declared lost.

The Chairman then put Col. Gibson's last amendment, and the Opposition not calling for a vote, it was adopted.

To Report All Proceedings.

Mr. Carscallen moved—That, notwithstanding anything in the said commission, contained or expressed, the said commissioners therein named shall not make or report any finding or decision of fact, but shall report all proceedings, had or taken, in connection with the inquiry and investigation directed by the said commission, together with all the evidence given or tendered before them.

The bill was reported with amendments, and it was decided to take up Mr. Carscallen's amendment when the third reading stage was reached, the bill being reprinted in the meantime.

Mr. Whitney said his side would not consent to the supply, but not much time would be required. They would also object to the adjournment to April 21, but he thought the House could finish up on Tuesday, perhaps before 6.

The House adjourned at 6.10 p.m.

The Commission Signed.

Sir Oliver Mowat, Lieutenant-Governor, yesterday signed the commission authorizing Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge to deal with the Gamey charges.

ONLY PARTLY TRUE.

Popular Ideas Regarding Catarrh.

It is the common belief that what is popularly known as catarrh is simply a chronic cold in the head. This is true as far as it goes but as a matter of fact catarrh is by no means confined to the nasal passages, but extends wherever the mucous membrane extends, which means nearly every part of the body.

The mucous membrane is the inside skin of the body and is nearly as extensive as the outside skin, and any inflammation of this membrane causing an extra secretion of fluid is really catarrh.

Catarrh is therefore an old enemy, disguised by many confusing names, for instances:—Rhinitis is nasal catarrh; laryngitis and pharyngitis throat catarrh; gastritis, stomach catarrh; cystitis and nephritis, catarrh of the bladder and kidneys.

Therefore, although the location of the trouble gives it various names, in reality the sum total is catarrh, and nothing else.

Do not make the mistake of thinking that you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is a cough, tickling in the throat and hoarseness, you have throat catarrh; if there is no appetite, but nausea, gagging and disgust for food, especially in the morning, ye have catarrh of the stomach.

The surest treatment for every form of catarrh is an internal remedy which acts especially on the blood and mucous membranes; such a remedy is the new preparation sold everywhere by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a medicine in pleasant tablet form, and containing all the best and latest specifics for catarrh.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain in highly concentrated form, blood root, red gum of the Eucalyptus tree, and many other equally valuable curative elements, and no one who suffers from any form of catarrh, and has seen the inefficiency of douches, powders and sprays, will ever go back to them after once trying so pleasant a preparation as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and one which gives so much relief in so short a time.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50c. for full sized package and the regular daily use of them will effectually cure this troublesome and dangerous disease.

"Dorothy Dodd" Shoes

That the "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe meets with the approval of the critical, discriminating woman was demonstrated beyond question at our opening. The large number of women in attendance were a unit in their expressions of approval of the new shoe.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is the outcome of a twentieth century woman's thought. The ideas incorporated in this Shoe are those evolved by the application of a keen, trained, feminine intelligence to the study of the requirements of women in the matter of footwear. That these ideas are correct has also been proved beyond question.

We cordially invite all of those women who were not present at our opening to call and examine the new styles.

Sawdust Beds Near the Cereal on Fire,

The third fire to-day is a blaze in the island of sawdust, owned by the Cereal Company, south of the dam. It is supposed to have caught from a spark from one of the shunting locomotives. It looks as if the brigade will have rather a hard job to keep it under control. The fire has been smouldering and burning in the interior and is breaking through the surface in places. The brigade have several streams playing.

Later—3.35 p.m.—The firemen are doing splendid work, and are getting the fire under control. The west side of the mass of sawdust is under control, but difficulty is experienced in reaching the east side.

NO SMALL-POX AT WARSAW.

Mr. Harold Choate Was Not Attacked With the Disease.

The report that Mr. Harold Choate, son of Mr. A. P. Choate, of Warsaw, was attacked with small pox, is, it is a pleasure to say, utterly without foundation in fact. This morning the Examiner was speaking over the telephone to Mr. Harold Choate, who affirms that he has not the small pox, and is in no danger of having it, and that there are no cases nor sign of any cases in the village of Warsaw.

Mr. Choate informs the Examiner that his father, Mr. A. P. Choate, who was attacked with the disease, and is now in isolation hospital near McCracken's Landing, Stony Lake, is doing nicely and is well advanced to recovery.

PASSED AWAY UNEXPECTEDLY

Death of Mr. F. A. Waldon, Secretary Dickson Company.

A Loss to the Community and to the Corporation he so Faithfully Served.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Frank A. Walden, which occurred at the family residence, on Water street this morning, will come as a great shock to his many friends and to the people of Peterborough generally. Mr. Walden has been ailing for two weeks only and it was not known to his friends that his condition was so critical. However, his heart failed him and he passed away this morning.

The late Mr. Walden was a gentleman of unusual high standing in the community, and during his ten years residence in Peterborough he won the esteem of his fellow citizens with whom he came in contact, in a business or social manner, or in church affairs, in which he took so prominent an interest. Mr. Walden came to Peterborough from Ayton, Grey County, about ten years ago, to accept the position of accountant for the Dickson Company. This position, in addition to that of secretary of the company, he has continued to fill with credit to himself and satisfaction to his employers. He was a most reliable, capable and energetic official, familiar with all the details of the company's business, and genial and affable in the discharge of his duties. He possessed superior abilility as an accountant and his loss to the Dickson Company is severely felt.

Apart from Mr. Walden's business affairs, he took a deep interest in church work and was one of the most energetic members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. He was general secretary of the Sunday School at the time of his demise and had for four years filled the office of secretary of the Board of Managers. He was a valued member of the church where his association and assistance will now be sadly missed. Mr. Walden belonged to several societies and was everywhere popular.

The deceased was 39 years of age. He was married to a Miss Parker, of Guelph, who together with a son four years of age is left to mourn his demise. Mr. Walden leaves several brothers, but none of them reside near here. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

THE COMPANY'S LOSS.

Mr. J. C. Shook, Manager of the Dickson Company, was seen by the Examiner to-day. He said that Mr. Walden's death is very deeply mourned by the individual members of the Company and by himself. He had been a faithful employee of the Company for 10 years and during that time he had been most efficient and energetic in the performance of his duties which consisted of secretary of the Company and accountant of the business. They had always placed the most implicit confidence in Mr. Walden, who was held in the highest possible esteem by all connected with the Company. He was an honourable man. His position in the Company's office would be hard to fill as he was well versed in the most minute details of the Company's business for many years past.

A DOUBLE PROPOSITION.

The proposition made last night by Mr. Dennistoun, on behalf of the American Cereal Company, in reference to the combined matter of the extension of the electric light contract and the revival and operation of the street railway, and the counter proposition of Mr. Hall, on behalf of the Otonabee Power Company, in reference to street lighting, present a somewhat complex problem, whose merits cannot, self-evidently, be determined off-hand. One thing is palpable: the interests of the citizens at large is vitally concerned, and the council has acted wisely in taking the matter into immediate consideration. The citizens having the facts, as far as brought out at last night's council meeting, before them,, will with the further developments likely to be made in the Committee of the Whole Council, before long be in a position to pronounce an intelligent judgment upon the distinct propositions submitted.

A CHILD UNBURIED FOR THREE MONTHS.

Startling Disclosures at the County Police Court To-day.

The Child put Into a Box Stove, Where it Remained Three Months.

At the County Police Court this morning, before County Police Magistrate Edmison, Mortimer Heeley, of the Township of Asphodel, was charged with unlawfully neglecting to bury his child. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Elizabeth Heeley, the wife of the defendant, was the first witness called. In the course of her evidence she said that her last child was born on December 12th last, and was still born. The body was placed in a box and put out into a box stove in the back shed by Mr. Heeley, the father. It remained there until the week before last. It was then taken out and buried in a field behind the shed. I had many times spoken to him, and asked him to bury it, but he made the excuse that it was just a well in the stove as in a vault. He consented to bury it when I said that I would ask the boy, Nelson Gray, to bury it. When the child was born my husband was suffering from rheumatism. The weather was cold, and the child being born dead was not baptised. I am a Catholic; my faith says that an unbaptised child cannot be buried in a consecrated cemetery. I looked at it in the stove every day for three months. He was well able to give the child a decent burial. My mind was never weak, although my husband said that it was.

Mortimer Heeley, the father of the child, was next put in the witness box, and on being sworn said: At the time of my wife's confinement she used to say she felt as if she was going out of her mind. She started trembling at every sound. She used to be rough on her children and also threatened to poison myself and the children. When the child was born I got a box and put the child in, nailing the top down. We then put it in stove in the driving shed. The shed stands about 25 feet from the house. Clean clothes were put on the body after it had been washed. I am a Catholic and knew that my child could not be buried in consecrated ground. I was laid up with rheumatism at the time of the birth of the child. I could not do my chores every day and got a young boy to milk my cows, as I could not bend. My cows in the end got dry. There was at that time two and three feet of frost in the ground and I could not dig a grave. I admit that I might have buried it a week or two before, but as it was so safe in the stove I did not do so.

Margaret Christy, mother of the accused's wife, was next called, and said she was present at the time of the child's birth. I washed the child and it was put in a box and taken away. That was the last I saw of it. Mr. Heeley has always behaved kindly to his wife.

In closing his defence Mr. O'Connell said that Mr. Heeley had acted as he thought right, and as the husband had, according to his mother-in-law, always been kind to his wife, he hoped his worship, the Police Magistrate would give the accused the benefit of any doubt that might arise.

County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood said that it had been proved that the child had not been buried for three months. It is the duty of every Christian to bury a child as soon after the death as possible; the accused had not made any effort to get any one to come and bury the child.

The County Police Magistrate, taking all things into account was unable to find the accused not guilty. If he, himself was unable to bury the child, he could have obtained a man to do so. In view of this the Magistrate imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Brisk Day's Work for County Constable Cochrane.

High County Constable George Cochrane had a very busy day at Havelock yesterday looking after the morals of the good people of that place and the neighbourhood.

Mr. James Lawrence, of Belmont, was placed in custody in Havelock on the charges of bigamy and theft. He will appear for trial on Monday next.

George A. Parcels was arrested on two charges, viz., for obtaining money under false pretences and for cutting open muskrat houses, thus violating the game laws. As sufficient bail was furnished, Parcels was released, and will appear at Havelock on Monday.

High County Constable G. Cochrane also laid information against Albert Nicholls for assault, for which he was fined $5.00.

As the High County Constable is also Sanitary Inspector for the Township of Monaghan, he ordered a dead horse which he found on the river bank, to be buried.

Mr. Chochrane deserves great praise for such a day's work, and for its complete success.

Burnham's complaint of damages done his dwelling through a dynamite explosion, at the Company's new dam at London street. Mr. O'Toole explained that on the date in question he merely used 18 lbs. of dynamite, which is an unusually light charge, and he cannot understand how Mr. Burnham's house in particular was affected by the shock. There are several other houses within 300 feet of the work, also the power house, which is not more than 150 feet distant, and he had no complaints of any damage being done to any of those buildings. Mr. O'Toole also explained that in excavating sewers on public streets in towns and cities, more than twice the above quantity of dynamite is used in one blast, within 25 feet of houses, without doing any damage. In this connection Mr. MacDonald, superintendent of the Company asked to be informed of any further complaints of a similar nature to that made by Mr. Burnham.—Received.

From Geo. H. Duncan drawing attention to the bad condition of the road between King and Sherbrooke streets.—Board of Works.

DEWEY'S WARM TALK

Admiral Admitted a Pointed Reference to Germany.

ON THE PRESIDENT'S CARPET.

Newspapers in the Kaiser's Country Resent the Admiral's Tone—Suffers From a Disease of Infancy. Lack of Modesty—Some Sarcastic Opinions Expressed by Even Moderates of German Press.

Washington, March 30.—At the instance of the President, Admiral Dewey called by appointment at the White House Saturday and made a full explanation of a recent newspaper interview, in which the admiral was quoted as saying the Caribbean Sea manoeuvres were an "object lesson to the Kaiser, more than to any other power." The admiral assured the President that he had no intention of reflecting in the interview upon Germany, her Emperor or her navy, and that while the statements credited to him were substantially as he said, he neglected to caution the interviewer against quoting him.

Afterward the admiral declined to make any statement for publication. At the White House it was stated that the admiral's explanation was satisfactory to the President. It is not believed that further official notice will be taken of the incident.

DEWEY TALKED TOO MUCH.

German Press Criticises Admiral's Words on the Kaiser's Navy.

Berlin, March 30.—The German Foreign Office officials say they do not believe that a diplomatic incident will result from the recent interview with Admiral Dewey (published in a newspaper of Newark, N. J., and containing references to the German navy and German Emperor.)

They Remember Coghlan.

The interview with Admiral Dewey has angered the newspapers here. Even those of usually moderate tone refer to it in a bitter manner. For instance, the Vossische Zeitung says:

"The American navy evidently is suffering from a disease of infancy—lack of modesty. Its leader evinces something unspeakably immature. One can only stand amazed that such intensified self-complacency should take root in a people of Germanic origin. Such behavior would not excite wonder if it had occurred in some Central or South American republic, or in Hayti. Admiral Dewey is a worthy imitator of Captain (now Rear-Admiral) Coghlan, who, at a New York Club, gave a boastful toast bristling with insults to Germany, and warmed up the exploded story that Admiral Dewey compelled the German fleet, at Manila, to lay to when it refused to respect the blockade. Captain Coghlan, seems, however, to have spoken from Admiral Dewey's own heart."

The Tageblatt sees in Admiral Dewey's quoted words confirmation of "its official repeated assertion that the United States' easy victory over Spain has produced a certain exaggerated military self-conceit."

Fire Among the Mail Bags.

Toronto, March 30.—The baggage room on the west of the Union Station was nearly the scene of a serious blaze, attended with fatal results. About 7.30 last night smoke was observed issuing from the baggage room. An attendant at the station rushed into the room. He became blinded by the smoke and lost his way out. Others that were attracted followed him to the room and discovered a number of mail bags ablaze. The burning bags were quickly removed to the outer station and the blaze extinguished. The young man was discovered in a dazed condition and almost suffocated. It is supposed cigarettes was responsible for the fire.

Fire Record.

New York.—A double-deck ferry boat of the C.R.N.J. was burned to the water's edge, Sunday. Loss $50,000.

Pittsburg. — While answering an alarm on Sunday, Fireman R. H. Wilson was killed and three others injured. The hose wagon crashed into a wagon that turned into the street ahead of them, and the firemen were thrown to the ground, Wilson being crushed by the wheels.

Late Hours and Long Life.

A German doctor who has been collecting information about the habits of long lived persons finds that the majority of those who attained old age indulged in late hours. Eight out of ten persons over eighty never went to bed till well into the small hours and did not get up again till late in the day.

London. — Brigadier-General Sir Frederick Lugard, at the head of the British force, occupied Sokoto, in Northern Nigeria, after a feeble resistance from the Sultan of Sokoto, who fled with his chiefs. Considerable importance is attached to the expedition, as Sokoto is the religious centre of Mohammedanism in Northern Nigeria.

READ IT THROUGH.

Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by

Emaciated by Kidney Disease

Suffered Greatly From Backache, Sleeplessness and Headache—Now Enthusiastic in Praising

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

One feature of kidney disease is the gradual loss of flesh and wasting away of the tissues of the body. Slowly and surely the victim feels strength and vigour ebbing away and realises his awful condition. The following letter suggests a remedy which has brought back health and happiness to thousands of sufferers from kidney disease.

Mr. William E. Halditch, Fort Robinson, Ont., states: "I was for several years a great sufferer from kidney trouble from which dread disease I am now happily free. I had all the usual symptoms in an aggravated degree and at times was completely incapacitated with pains in the back, biliousness and headache. I had little or no appetite, insomnia resulted and my condition was really wretched. I became emaciated and grew despondent and hopeless of relief as I had taken treatment from doctors to no avail.

"Finally on the advice of a friend, I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and, after using a few boxes I was again enjoying health and vigour as the worst symptoms had entirely passed away. When I think of my present good health in comparison with my miserable condition of three years ago I would not go back to my former state for any amount of money. I may be considered enthusiastic over Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, but, considering the benefit derived from them, I have every reason to be."

I was so bad with kidney trouble that I could not get around the house. My feet and ankles were so swollen and painful that I could get no rest day or night. I tried several remedies but could get no relief whatever until a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I soon perceived a decided change for the better and had only taken two boxes when I was able to do my housework again, and three boxes made a complete cure."

THE NEW RAILWAY.

Hon. F. R. Latchford on Temiskaming Route—Drove Out Fifty Miles From North Bay—Great Progress.

Just before the opening of the Legislature Hon. F. R. Latchford returned from a tour along the line of the Temiskaming Railway. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the progress of the work. "Construction has proceeded continuously throughout the winter," he said, "and no difficulty has been experienced in handling either earth or rock. Between 1,900 and 2,000 men are now at work. The sum of the grading completed to the end of February is about 22½ miles. This covers some of the heaviest portions of the work. Grading is in fact in progress north of Boyce Lake, 50 miles from North Bay, and the most northerly point I was able to reach. Here the contractors have established a large depot for supplies. During the winter from 150 to 200 teams have been continuously engaged in drawing in supplies from North Bay over a road constructed by the contractors. At Boyce Lake quite a village has sprung up in the last two months. Five large warehouses have been erected, and a sixth is in process of construction. Stores aggregating over 3,000 tons have been collected from all parts of the Province of Ontario. Every town in the Province has already felt the stimulus of the demand created by the construction of the railway.

Progress So Far Made.

"The line along Trout Lake and the North River, where it rises some three or four hundred feet, encounters some heavy work. The grades, however, are easy, the maximum being 0 per cent. going north and 1½ per cept. going south. The maximum curve is six degrees, and there will not be many as sharp as this, most of the curves being of one and two degrees. There are no reverse curves, and the ends of all curves are eased. Piles are being driven at all points where piling is necessary over the whole of the first 60 miles, and all work of this kind will be completed before the ice break up. The bridge timber for the first year's work has been taken out near Moose Lake and sawn. By June it is estimated that 40 miles will be ready for the steel, and track-laying will proceed at the rate of about 25 miles per month afterwards. Lake Temagami, it is confidently expected, will be reached by the end of the present summer. The contractor states that he will commence grading southward from New Liskeard during the summer, and hopes to complete twenty miles from that end this year. No difficulty has been experienced in providing ties along the road. Tamarac is found in immense quantities, and although the trees are all dead, having been killed, like all tamaracs throughout America, by the sawfly about eight or ten years ago, they are still sound, and make excellent ties.

More Material Needed.

"It is probable that in addition to the 175,000 contracted for, about 40,000 additional ties will be required in view of the progress that is being made, and about 2,000 tons of steel rails in excess of the quantity first ordered. The embankments are sixteen feet wide and cuttings twenty feet wide, and the roadbed will be first-class in every respect, and up to the standard of trunk lines. Construction camps, warmly built and well ventilated, have been erected at points about ten miles apart, and excellent fare is provided for the workmen. Hospitals also have been erected at North Bay, at the end of the 25th mile at Moose Lake, and at the end of the 50th mile at Boyce Lake, and three physicians are constantly employed. Freighting from North Bay to Boyce Lake is paid for at the rate of $16 a ton, and as this work is largely done by the settlers in the vicinity of North Bay.

The Wealth of Timber.

"The north half of the Township of Merrick, the Townships of Stewart and Mulock, and the south half of Osborne, are covered with dense growths of excellent white pine. Lockhart, Blyth, Notman and Hammell are also largely clothed with pine. From the crossing Jocko Lake in Osborne a level country is encountered, thickly forested with spruce, rather small in size along the streams, but very large on the higher ground, and everywhere very long, and set close together. Near Bush Lake and Boyce Lake, which are tributary to the Sturgeon waters, the spruce is much larger, but more scattered. The supply of pulpwood is practically inexhaustible. The birches, black, white and yellow, exist in enormous quantities on the higher ridges. Cedar is found also, but not in large quantities, nor of a large size. Along the upper reaches of the line, near the Montreal River, the cedar is, however, of very great size, and perfectly sound. Location has been kept well ahead of construction, thus affording time for revising locations. The great mineral-bearing belt is encountered in the vicinity of Lake Temagami, where numerous discoveries of copper and iron have recently been made. A large area of level land at the headwaters of the Jocko River appears to have excellent agricultural possibilities.

The Sportsman's Paradise.

"The road passes through the heart of the greatest moose territory in America. This monarch of Canadian woods, whose horns furnish the finest sporting trophies to be found in any part of the world, occurs in large numbers, and, notwithstanding the advent of the railway, will find in these vast forests a comparatively safe asylum for many years to come. The streams abound with fish, but the true terrestrial paradise of the sportsman will be only reached at Temagami, at the end of the 72nd mile from North Bay. It is regarded as certain that at the opening of the hunting season of 1903 a tourist leaving Toronto at night will be able to take his breakfast the next morning at his camp fire on the shores of Lake Temagami."

It is a great affliction for a woman to have her face disfigured by pimples or any form of eruptive disease. It makes her morbid and sensitive, and robs her of social enjoyment. Disfiguring eruptions are caused by impure blood, and are entirely cured by the great blood-purifying medicine—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes from the blood the poisonous impurities which cause disease. It perfectly and permanently cures scrofulous sores, eczema, tetter, boils, pimples and other eruptive diseases which are caused by the blood's impurity. It increases the action of the blood-making glands and thus increases the supply of pure rich blood.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main Street, Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Tortured with Pain.

Too Weak to Work.

ULCERS, BOILS AND PIMPLES ALL OVER HER BODY

Such was the condition of Mrs. Samuel Deitz, Zurich, Ont.

She happily found relief from her terrible suffering by using

Burdock Blood Bitters.

A remedy without a rival for the cure of all diseases and troubles arising from bad blood. A record extending over a quarter of a century and thousands of testimonials will prove this. Mrs. Deitz writes: "Too weak to work, tortured with the pain of ulcers, boils and pimples all over my body, especially on my face. I had almost made up my mind to give up trying to have them cured. I was ashamed to have any person come to see me, my face was in such a terrible state. I tried everything I could think of but got worse and worse. I was then led to try Burdock Blood Bitters and was surprised at the wonderful change the first bottle made. Altogether I took seven bottles and am now completely cured and am in perfect health again. I feel that B.B.B. saved my life."

PEOPLING THE EMPIRE.

A Colony Within a Colony—British Farming Men for Canada—The Land and the Men.

An interesting project is about to be carried into execution at the instance of the Canadian Government. Two thousand English farmers and agricultural laborers are to go to the Dominion within the next few weeks to settle in the District of Saskatoon, in the Northwest Territory. They are to pay their own passages, and the Canadian Government does the rest. Each family is to receive a free grant of 160 acres, and not only are they to be granted special facilities, but they are guaranteed protection by the Government, who will secure them from the encroachment of any other nationality. The effect will be an English colony, within a colony, upon whose preserves no foreigner will be permitted to settle save by special arrangement.

The Land and the Men.

The general arrangements for peopling our colonies need the stimulus of a periodical exodus of this character. The Old Country has the men and women to spare; our territories beyond the seas are badly needing them. In Canada is a territory three and three-quarter million square miles in area, rich in minerals, with soil of extraordinary richness, with mighty lakes and rivers abounding in fish. Writers with an eye to the picturesque have made a point of depicting this fair land as the home of snow and frost. As a fact there is no finer climate. And yet with all its advantages there are to-day fewer than five and a half million people. Of these 3,190,000 are British born or of British descent; 2,130,000 European other than English, with two millions of that number of French extraction; and 99,000 blacks, etc.

A Government's Matrimonial Agency.

Australia, with its 2,970,906 square miles, is 26 times the size of Great Britain and Ireland, yet it has a population of 3,818,728. Of these there are 200,000 blacks, Asiatics, etc., and the remainder are of British extraction. New Zealand, with its 104,471 square miles, has but 830,758 people. The United Kingdom, with its paltry 121,115 sqaure miles, has 41,456,953 people crowded together, for the main part in the towns.

Many enterprising and ingenious attempts have been made to get Englishmen to go out to this part of the Empire. Sir Horace Tozer, Agent-General for Queensland, has conducted the biggest matrimonial agency on earth in order to get young women out to this state to settle down and marry. He has sent out thousands of young women who have found good homes and husbands there. It cost Queensland three million pounds to do it, but she is getting her reward in a numerous, settled and prosperous population.

Australia's "No Admission."

But many and vexatious restrictions are imposed, making difficult the task of peopling our colonies. The objection raised by the trades unions to the entry of additional craftsmen is most unfair. Only the other day we had what promises to become an historic instance of six hatters detained at the coast, unable to enter Australia until the courts had decided that their labor was of such a skilled character as to be obviously beneficial to the state. The colonies want healthy men and women, and for this party and that to deliberately place obstacles in the way of immigration, which the whole policy of the Empire is to encourage, is preposterous and inexcusable.

To what lengths prejudice and vexatious opposition may be carried is shown by the fact that when Prince Ranjitsinhji, the famous Cambridge and Sussex cricketer, visited Australia with the English cricket team, a special act had to be passed to enable him to be admitted. All whom he met during his tour impressed upon the Prince of Wales the dire need of the colonies for more flesh and blood from the Old Country, and the Prince handed on his message to the nation at home. Let the rest of the colonies prove themselves as ready to help and to receive as Canada is, in the case already cited, and the men and women will not be lacking.—London Black and White.

Mr. J. G. Colmer, C.M.G.

Mr. Joseph Grose Colmer, C.M.G., whose resignation of the post of Secretary to the office of the High Commissioner for Canada, was recently announced, was born in London, England, in 1856, and educated at the City of London School. Some time after leaving school he came to Canada, and occupied a position in the Merchants' Bank, Montreal. Subsequently, says Morgan, he was appointed private secretary to the Hon. (afterwards Sir) John Abbott, and in 1881 to the position he has just resigned. He also acted as Secretary of the Imperial Royal Commission on Colonization and Honorary Secretary to the Committee of Canadian Governors at the Imperial Institute. He has read papers on Canadian subjects before the Royal Canadian Institute and many other organizations, besides contributing articles dealing with this country to the magazines and the press. In 1896 he shared with another competitor the prize of 1,000 guineas offered by The Statist newspaper, London, for the best essay on the subject, "A Commercial Union of the Empire." The competition was opened to the world. He was appointed a C.M.G. in 1888. Mr. Colmer leaves the Canadian service to become a partner in the banking firm of Coats, Son & Co.

Doukhobors and the King.

It will be recollected, says a London correspondent, that the Doukhobors, the interesting body of Russian refugees of the Quaker type who settled in Canada, were recently in a state of grave unrest owing to their being unable readily to accommodate themselves to the economic conditions of civilization. However, I now learn that these quaint people are afraid that their action may be attributed to ingratitude, or to disloyalty to King Edward. Hence, they meditate sending a letter to King Edward, in which they will assure him that they are animated by a sense of loyalty towards his person and of admiration of the catholicy of his rule. Of course, this is not the first occasion on which the Doukhobors have addressed the reigning monarch. In the last months of the reign of Queen Victoria they despatched to Her Majesty a letter which, in its simplicity and gravity, greatly touched that venerable lady. The letter in that instance was conveyed to the Queen by a nephew of Count Tolstoi.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, March 31. — J. P. Morgan is out with a heart to heart talk in which he insists that the general pessimism is in no sense justified by facts. He avers not only is there prosperity everywhere but the promises of a continuation of that prosperity for a long time to come. May he have the courage of his convictions but give substantial demonstrations of his faith. Big insurance companies that were recently heavy lenders of money are now buying four or five per cent dividend paying stocks. This absorption is bound to tell.

The Gates Waldorf crowd continues outspokenly bearish, but is likely to turn about on any evidence of Morgan support. This should be first seen in steels, Southern Ry. and Eries.

Equitable Life Assurance people are buying B. & O. and Union Pac. Hold Rock Island.

JOSEPH.

New York, March 31. — J. P. Morgan interview exclusively published by the New York Times this morning may be taken as a warning by the bear element of what is likely to ensue, if further reckless attempts are made to unreasonably depress the price of Morgan stocks. He says the general pessimistic talk is in no sense justified by the facts, the general situation is most promising, new securities issued are essentially sound.

We expect to see following stocks much higher than their present level within 30 days: At., At. preferred, A.R., B. & O., Erie 2nd, Man., Met., Reading, R.I., Sou. Pac. and Union Pac. Lon-Amns. strong.

TOPICS.

Sug. sold off on the cut in prices by Arbuckles.

U.P. was strong and was helped by some foreign buying which was also apparent in other parts of the market.

Messrs. [illegible] F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 30. — Stocks opened dull and irregular this morning, after which a bear raid was made and carried prices to about the low level of Saturday and in the case of A.C.P and S.P lower.

A rally followed in which the whole list participated carrying prices one to one and a half points above the lowest. After the noonday session dullness again ensued. Near the delivery hour another attempt was made to break the market which was fairly successful. N.Y.C. making a new record as soon as the pressure was removed. The money situation should become easier as the month of April comes in. Money is a little easier if anything now and call rates from 5 to 5 1-2. Shorts from the west indicate that the crop of winter wheat is in good shape, in fact far better than for many years past.

Railroad earnings reports are fairly satisfactory; on the other hand without doubt there is a very strong bear party at work in the market and so far they have been successful in forcing prices to lower levels without having trouble to cover their contracts. The fact that there is bitter feelings between some of the big interests and if it should come to open warfare would hurt values very badly. The only course to pursue with this condition of things is to buy only on shor tdips and be satisfied with moderate profits. After 2.30 p.m. another savage attack was made on prices and further declines were recorded.

Chicago.—Wheat was strong to-day, selling up over one cent per bushel. Corn was also firm, May selling up to 43 7-8 from 43 1-4. On this rally we advise taking profits and selling for a turn.

Closing prices.—Wheat, May, 73 1-4; corn, May, 43 3-4; oats, May, 33 7-8; pork, May, 18.12 1-2; lard, May, 10.07 1-2.

A GASPING LAMENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In the present condition of the streets and with the prevailing high winds it seems as if we were to have a fulfillment of the scriptural prophesy, "Dust unto dust." Our ears, nose, eyes and mouth are not only filled with dust, but the opening of a shop door lets in clouds of pulverized, microbe laden mud, which destroys in the aggregate hundreds of dollars worth of delicate goods. One would think that with water at cost price, the town authorities would have the sprinklers at work. This thought brings a few lines to my memory:—

"Sprinkle, sprinkle, little cart,
How I wonder where thou art."

Yours Truly,
"GASPING."

Since the above was in tpye, the welcome water cart made its appearance on the street, and it is to be hoped our gasping correspondent will now be able to breathe.—Ed.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY STILL A LIVE ISSUE.

way for the promoters, so that if they do happen to make money out of it in the last fifteen years of their franchise they should be glad to see them make it. Then if we want the railway, whom could we give it to with more confidence than to these gentlemen? We could not have a better guarantee of success. Mr. Stewart should have the preference, as he has the power with which to operate the road. Then what are we willing to offer to any one who will take hold of the matter? It is said that the street lighting could be done by the town at a lower figure than $60. But suppose that we do give $10 a light more for our street lighting than we could actually get it for it might amount in ten years to bonus of $10,000 to the American Cereal Company for furnishing us with a street car service up-to-date in every particular. So far as Mr. Dumble could learn as to the state of public opinion in town it would be well for the town to enter into such an agreement. In 10 years hence they might be better able to undertake their own street lighting than now. Mr. Dumble concluded by an eulogistic reference to the work of the Cereal Company in Peterborough. He appealed to the townspeople to cultivate a friendly feeling towards the Company and we would have no reason to regret doing so.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, President of the Peterborough Board of Trade, thought it advisable to get the street car service into shape. It was desirable that there should be transportation facilities to our near-by watering places. Personally he was not in favour of street railways, he preferred a good horse yet. (Laughter.) The street railway will not be run unless it pays and the fact that it is not running now is proof that it did not pay when it was in operation. The Galt-Hespler road has only paid one dividend yet. He thought the Cereal Company's proposition was a fair one and he did not think they would ever get the street railway, unless they gave something in with it such as the street lighting contract. Mr. Stuart was a good man to have interested in the town and he believed that the present proposition was the only bonefide proposition that the town has had in years and it would, in his opinion, be very foolish to turn it down. It would be a while before they would get such an offer. He felt sure that the railway would not pay at first but it eventually would, though how soon he would not like to say. The Woodstock and Guelph railways were not paying.

Mr. J. W. Garvin strongly urged the acceptance of Mr. Dennistoun's offer to the town.

Mr. Garvin thought that the Otonabee Power Company had no right to come to the meeting and make an offer for street lighting in a verbal manner after they had heard another proposition.

MR. ANDREW McNEIL.

Mr. Andrew McNeil was in favour of giving the Cereal Company the contract upon the conditions they named.

MR. ROBERT FAIR.

Mr. Robert Fair thought that the proposition was a reasonable one, and coming from such a reliable source it should commend itself to the judgment of the citizens of the town.

MR. R. R. HALL.

Mr. R. R. Hall, of the Otonabee Power Company, arose to speak in opposition to the Cereal Co's offer. If the people of the town were made fully aware of the practical terms they were giving to Mr. Stuart, very well. There were two propositions before them, Mr. Hall contended. One to light the town, and the other to operate a railway. The street railway will not pay—they never pay in small towns. This, Mr. Stuart's representatives have admitted. Then if we want the street railway the question arises as to how much they were willing to put into it. It has been suggested that they operate the street railway at the expense of the street lighting and incidentally of the consumers of light. The result is that such an arrangement would give the company represented by Mr. Stuart a special advantage over other companies as to pole lines, etc. It is an indirect benefit to any company to have such a contract with the municipality. Mr. Hall then referred to Mr. Dumble's figures as to the probable terms such a contract might amount to. Mr. Dennistoun's figures might be correct but the speaker wished to state that there were other companies in town that were prepared to tender on the street lighting contract. The lighting in houses in this town had been cut in two of late. He was prepared to state that the company he represented is ready to enter into a contract to light the town of Peterborough for the next ten years at $32 per light, instead of $65 per light. In view of these facts the proposition to give the Cereal Company a contract for ten years at $65 a light, was equivalent to a bonus of $30,000 for the resurrection of the street railway, which is admitted to be a failure. If they were going to submit the proposition of Mr. Dennistoun to the opinion of the ratepayers of the town, let them fully understood that they were giving a bonus of $30,000 for the resurrection of the road. He submitted that the proposition that they had before them was a matter that required very careful consideration. The fact they wanted to know was "What was it going to cost us for the resurrection of the road?" Is it going to cost ten, twenty or thirty thousand dollars? Mr. Hall ridiculed Mr. Dumble's statement that it would build up the outskirts of the town. Here again, Mr. Hall contended, the town would require more road work, more pavements and more light, which would mean additional profits to the company having the contract with the town. He submitted that it would not be in the interests of the town to accept Mr. Dennistoun's proposition, especially in view of the counter-proposition he was empowered to make on behalf of the Otonabee Power Company.

MR. DUMBLE AGAIN.

Mr. D. W. Dumble expressed amazment at Mr. Hall's style of argument. He contended that Mr. Hall's was a rival company that was endeavouring to block the deal on imaginative figures. He thought that the public would see through their object in opposing the renewal of the contract. They had never made such a proposition to the Council as they now said they were ready to enter into.

MR. MELDRUM.

Mr. Meldrum held that the members of the Council were well aware of the fact that the Otonabee Power Company was prepared to tender at $32 a light. They had no desire to block the scheme. It was purely a business transaction. If the corporation wants to go into street lighting itself the Otonabee Power Company will furnish them with the power at $10 a horse power.

Mr. Dennistoun—Will they do the street lighting at $60 and run the steet railway?

Mr. Hughes-Charles in speaking again on the matter contended that by the operation of a railway to Chemong and Lakefield they would draw the trade from Bobcaygeon and other points.

Mr. John Carnegie agreed with the proposition on the general principle of the scheme. Speaking for himself and the interests he represented he would favour the renewal of the contract.

Mr. Meldrum claimed that his friend Garvin had no right to speak in the manner he did. Had Mr. Dennistoun submitted a written proposition? He had not. The Council was well aware that the Otonabee Power Company was prepared to light the town at $32 per light. They had cut the house lighting in town in two, and the citizens were thankful to them for it. They merely wanted the companies of the town to be placed on an equal footing.

Mr. H. LeBrun favoured Mr. Dennistoun's proposition.

Ald. Best moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council, and that expert information be obtained as to the probable cost that the town could develop its own power for fighting.

ALD. O'CONNELL.

Ald. O'Connell gave a careful review of the situation. He sized up the matter and he felt that it was a bonus proposition and they should determine whether or not it is too expensive a deal to go into. They must determine whether ten, twenty, thirty or forty thousand dollars was too much to pay for the reconstruction of the road. In view of this he felt that the matter should be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.

Ald. Morrison concurred in the proposal to lay the matter to the Committe of the Whole.

Ald. McWilliams thought it best to take up the matter in Committee of the Whole.

A DEPOSIT.

Mr. Dennistoun said that it might not be a bad idea to have a deposit put up as a guarantee of good faith. He would deposit the sum of $5,000 as a guarantee that what he said would be carried out. Would the Otonabee Power Company do the same?

Mr. Meldrum said that they would quite readily do so.

Mr. Best's motion was amended somewhat so as to read that the matter be looked into and reported on at once. The motion was carried.

Swell Suitings Stylish Dresses

The Golden Lion is up-to-date in everything. The idea that controls this business is that goods must be the newest and styles for the most part exclusive.

The New Spring Modes in SUITINGS and DRESS FABRICS are rich and distinctive, and emphatically reflect leadership.

The best and most critical dressers concede Fair's to be an ideal place to secure fashion elegance and worthy qualities at a fair price.

Even in the modest-priced stuffs there's character and individuality, style and good taste; and shoppers know by actual comparison that values are better here and also more satisfactory.

It's the same with our LADIES' TAILORING and DRESSMAKING. Our reputation for consistent prices is easily proven.

HIGH-CLASS DRESSMAKING.

Never has this department received so many compliments as Miss Reild has been the recipient of this Spring. We feel certain, more than ever, that the fashionable women of Peterborough look to Fair's for the smartest and most advanced ideas in Dress and Suit making.

One of the most conspicuous features of this department is that many orders come from out-of-town and distant parts as far away as the Northwest.

MODERATE CHARGES

FOR DRESSMAKING is also a characteristic of Fair's. Ours and our patrons' interests are so closely woven together that we cannot allow charges to over-reach in the smallest degree. So that no long sermon is necessary to emphasize Fair's moderate and consistent prices.

THE SMALL-POX SCARE.

Mr. Harold Choate has not Contracted the Disease as Reported.

Warsaw, April 1st.

The people of this village and the surrounding country were given quite a scare last week, when it was announced that Mr. Choate had contracted the small-pox. There is no doubt he got it from the traveller who was here not long ago. It appears that Mr. Choate was ill over a week before the general public knew anything about it, and it is evidently well that he did keep it quiet as long as possible, as when it did get out it made a good foundation for concocting stories which have proved to be injurious to the tradesmen of the village, and which when started, grew worse at each telling, until there is no telling where they will stop. We do not hesitate to say that everything is perfectly safe in the village, as regards small-pox. We do not blame the people who have been misinformed by those widemouthed bellowers for not wishing to come within reasonable distance off such a hotbed of disease, as this village was reported to be. The report that Mr. Harold Choate had taken the small-pox is without foundation, as he is carrying on the business and acting as postmaster in his father's absence. We join Mr. Choate's host of friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

BOSCOVITZ DEAD.

The Great Pianist Dies in Denver, Colorado.

The despatches state that Frederick Boscovitz, the great pianist, died from general debility in Denver, Colorado. He was the last living pupil of Chopin. He will be well remembered by music-loving people in Peterborough. He was for some time the instructor of Mrs. W. J. Morrow, who brought him to Peterborough, when they jointly gave a recital, Mrs. Morrow creditably taking part in a pianoforte duet with the eminent master.

High Cheese.

If the price paid for April make of cheese is a criterion of what will be paid during the coming season, this article of food will indeed be a luxury. A number of factories in the vicinity of Belleville have sold this month's make for 12 3-4 cents per pound, and one factory obtained 12 7-8 cents.

CHEMONG FLOATING BRIDGE.

Repairs Completed, Bridge now Open for Traffic.

The Damage by Ice was Comparatively Trifling.

Mr. John Telford, of Ennismore, crossed over the Chemong floating bridge this morning. Patrick Sullivan, who carries the mails between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon, was the first to cross—Tuesday night. Mr. Telford informs the Examiner that Mr. Leary, the caretaker, under the direction of County Engineer Belcher, with the assistance of thirteen or fourteen men has completed the bridge ready for traffic, though there are some minor repairs, such as replacing of railing, to be done.

It is surprising how little serious damage was done by the ice jam, the greatest being to the apron on the Smith shore end. With the repairs completed it is expected that the bridge will be practically none the worse for its rough experience with the March winds and icebergs.

REVOLUTION IS SPREADING.

Bonilla's Easily Won Victories—Capture of the Capital of Honduras Imminent—Fall of Puerto Cortes—Crew of Gunboat Mutiny, Steal Away With Government Cash and Turn Pirates.

Sofia, Bulgaria, April 1.—The Macedonian Committee has announced that a revolutionary band of thirty-one men and the inhabitants of the village of Abalitoha, near Istib, have been massacred by Bashi-bazouks. The band, it is added, was surrounded in the village, and artillery was brought up. After ten hours' fighting, the village was completely razed and burned. All the inhabitants were massacred. The Turkish losses are reported to have been even greater than those of the other side.

Revolution Is Spreading.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—The Russian Consul at Uskub, European Turkey, confirms the reports of the dangerous spread of the revolutionary agitation in the village of Kossovo. He adds that the revolutionists are spreading the belief that Russia is aiding the movement. The Consul considers that the movement is artificial, and not really approved by the bulk of the population.

EASY WINS FOR BONILLA.

Capture of Capital of Honduras Imminent—Fall of Puerto Cortes.

New Orleans, April 1.—The fruit steamer Breakwater has reached port with news that Gen. Bonilla and his army are sweeping every point in Spanish Honduras, and that it is only a matter of a few days until Tegucigalpa, the capital, falls into his hands, if he does not occupy it already.

Puerto Cortez, the most important port on the Atlantic coast, was captured March 22. The fall was easy, as the Government troops mutinied and killed Mayor De Plaza and the second officer. Commandant Villardi of the Puerto Cortez district escaped with all the money available on board the gunboat Tetumbla, the navy of President Arias.

Sailing to Belize, Villardi went ashore, leaving the money on board. No sooner had he left the ship than her crew steered her out to sea, and she is now a pirate in unknown seas without a flag or country. San Pedro was captured by the rebels March 24.

Considerable significance is attached to the meeting.

THE DR. REAUME INCIDENT.

Discussion in House Over the Charge,

Made by Conservative Member for North Essex.

The Windsor Record on Friday contained the following despatch from the Legislature dealing with the Reaume incident:

The debate on the Gamey scandal was continued this afternoon in the House by Dr. Pyne, of Toronto East. The doctor had scarcely got started when he made a bad break. In congratulating the Speaker on his elevation to his present position he declared that the position had been since degraded by the peddling of the Speakership among members opposite by the Government. It had been offered to four or five or half a dozen of them. The Premier instantly took the doctor to task, and a sensational scene was the result, which lasted for half an hour. In answer to Mr. Ross' challenge, Dr. Pyne named Dr. Reaume of North Essex, and also Mr. Sutherland of South Oxford.

Mr. Pattullo immediately pointed out that the member for South Oxford had never made any such statement.

Dr. Pyne was further pressed to name the four or five of half dozen members who had been offered the Speakership, or to withdraw his charge. The speaker spoke warmly of the doctor's statement as a reflection on the House and held that Dr. Pyne should withdraw them. This led to a discussion on the point of order.

Finally, Dr. Reaume of North Essex was forced to his feet and repeated his former statement that he had been offered the Speakership, although it had since been asserted that it was a joke. He had been asked by a man who made him the offer not to say anything, but he was willing to clear the matter up it it were necessary to do so, and to tell all about it.

The doctor's statement brought the Hon. Mr. Evanturel to his feet, for the first time this session. He pointed out that Dr. Reaume had declared that he had been offered the Speakership merely because he was a jolly, good fellow. Mr. Evanturel declared that the whole thing was evidently a joke, and he read from the newspaper, Le Progres of Windsor, which had supported Dr. Reaume, an article regretting that the latter had ever made a statement in reference to an incident which was accorded in that city as a joke.

Dr. Routledge, East Middlesex, arose next and declared that only a few days ago he had been told by Dr. Reaume that the alleged offer of the Speakership to him was a joke.

John Lee, the giant from East Kent, then took a hand in the game. John said he believed that he was the member referred to by Dr. Reaume. He told the story of the alleged offer. It was made at a social gathering at the British American hotel in Windsor on the 9th of January. There were a half dozen or more present, some of whom he named. They were "jollying" each other and he had remarked what a good Speaker the doctor would make. The story of an alleged offer to him had been widely talked of, and Dr. Reaume then declared in the presence of all present that no such offer had ever been made him, or any approach in reference to the Speakership. He could prove this by all present. As to what occurred on this social occasion, the whole talk about the Speakership on his part was a joke; but he was willing to have it cleared up, considering the way that it had been used in the House and in the press.

Dr. Reaume, arising the second time, amazed both his friends and opponents. He said that the incident referred to by Mr. Lee was not the one he had referred to. The offer of the Speakership had been made to him in July last, and he had told of it at a Conservative meeting afterwards in Toronto. He had been told that the Speakership carried with it $2,500 a year, while as a private member he would only be getting $600. "And, further," said the doctor, "I was told that the position would give me an entree into the 400 of Toronto."

This was too much. The members on the Liberal side burst into roars of laughter which seemed contagious on the floor and in the gallery. The humour of somebody negotiating with the new member from Windsor to enter Toronto society by way of the Speakership was about the funniest thing that has struck the Legislature this season. When Dr. Reaume sat down everybody felt that he had put his foot in it so deeply that he would not get out for many a day.

Mr. Auld's name having been used by Mr. Lee, the member for South Essex took the floor. He corroborated what the member for East Kent had said. Mr. Lee's allusion to the Speakership was only a joke. He (Lee) was one of the greatest "jollers" in Western Ontario, and everybody present understood that he was "jollying at the time. Dr. Reaume must be Scotch and not French when he hadn't been able to see the joke. Mr. Auld stated positively that the doctor had declared on this occasion that the stories about his being approached by Liberals in reference to the Speakership were not true. No offer, he said, had been made him up to that time. Mr. Auld illustrated Dr. Reaume's conduct by telling a story about two squaws who went about selling baskets. One was very stout and tall and strong; the other was a little wizened up consumptive creature who trudged after her. The first went about calling loudly the good qualities of her wares, as Mr. Gamey had shouted his charges against the ProvincialS ecretary. When she did so, the little wizened up consumptive just cried, "Me, too! This was what Dr. Reaume had done when he heard Mr. Gamey and Donald Sutherland make charges against the Government. (Roars of laughter and applause long continued.) Mr. Auld loudly protested against the statements made by Dr. Reaume as bringing dishonour on his county, especially on his French speaking compatriots. He thought the doctor for his own sake and the sake of Essex, should withdraw them.

A social joke should not be used to bring discredit either on the Government or on members of the Legislature. Dr. Reaume's statement had attracted attention in Essex and Detroit, but there was no one in the county who did not know that the whole thing was a joke, although it was being used seriously elsewhere against the Government. It would be as ridiculous to offer Dr. Reaume the Speakership as to make him King of the Canibal Islands. And who would think of sending John Lee to do such work? (Loud laughter.) Mr. Auld expressed surprise at the action of the doctor, but it was perfectly well known that he had been urged into it by members opposite, and it is rumoured in Windsor that a gentleman had come back from that city to stiffen his back to make a statement which he would have reason to regret.

The remarks of the Liberal speakers were constantly punctuated by loud applause on the Government side of the House, while Opposition members looked distinctly uncomfortable.

OTHERS WHO WERE THERE.

The Toronto Star has the following despatch from London:

The statement made by Dr. Reaume, M.P.P., for North Essex, re the Speakership offer, is still the subject of much jocularity among men of both parties here, who are intimately acquainted with him. The doctor has always borne a reputation for good natured raillery, and the startling statement which he made re the alleged offer by John Lee, M.P.P., was regarded as anything but seriously here until the doctor persisted in saying that he was really approached by a man representing himself as an agent of the Government.

A Star representative called on Ald. Keogh last night for the purpose of getting an authorative statement from that gentleman, who was present on the occasion of Mr. Lee's alleged offer as to what passed between the latter gentleman andd Dr. Reaume. Asked what he had heard at that time, Mr. Keogh said:

"I was never more surprised in my life than when I heard that Dr. Reaume claimed that he had been offered the Speakership. I did not even call to mind the incident at the British American Hotel, which I was reminded of after the charge was made by Dr. Reaume in Toronto. It didn't occur to me at the time that the statements made pro and con, between Dr. Reaume, Mr. Lee and Mr. Auld were anything but mere jokes. Everybody appeared to be in a jocular frame of mind and joining heartily in the fun. I heard Mr. Lee say something about the doctor coming over to the Liberal side, and being made Speaker of the House, but I am quite sure that the offer was a fine bit of jocular sarcasm."

M. W. Barrett, of Amherstburg, who was also present at the time of the alleged offer, was spoken to with reference to it. Mr. Barrett treats the whole matter with contempt. He says, "The affair from start to finish was a huge joke, and so treated by all present, including Dr. Reaume, who would probably have hotly resented it had he regarded it as anything else.

"I heard that offer made. Of course I did. It was made purely as a matter of fun, and we all entered into the spirit of the affair. I don't remember Mr. Lee's exact words, but they were something to the effect that now that the three Norths had been won things looked all right and Dr. Reaume ought to come over to the Liberals, and have the distinction of being Speaker. Dr. Reaume made some jocular reference to Mr. Auld's protectionist inclinations to which Mr. Auld made some humorous reply, and everybody joined in the laugh.

"Jocularity pervaded the whole incident and I never gave the matter a thought until I saw it alluded to in the papers. I cannot give the story too emphatic a denial. Mr. Lee's statement in the House is substantially the same as made at that time."

The discourse by the pastor of the Methodist church on the 29th inst., was founded on the words—"Do not My words do good to him that walketh uprightly." The lessons read were the 1st Psalm, and the 1st Chap. of the first epistle general of John.

Mr. Stringer and Mr. Tilley, of Peterborough, who are connected with the Bell Telephone Company, were in town this week making arrangements for the opening of an office here for the benefit of the public. The opening and closing exercises in the Presbyterian church was conducted by the pastor; the remainder of the time was taken up by a layman advocating the claim of the Augmentation fund.

GERRYMANDER EVILS UNDONE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Introduces Redistribution Bill.

BASIS—COUNTY BOUNDARIES

No "Hiving" by the Liberals—Distribution of Population Causes Some Disturbance in Proportion of Representation—Changes to Be Made by Committee of Four Liberals and Three Conservatives.

Ottawa, April 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday introduced the Redistribution Bill. The measure covered but one typewritten page, setting forth clearly and succintly the number of members allotted to each Province, the principle that county boundaries shall be observed as far as possible, the division of counties to be made in a schedule which shall be prepared by a joint committee of the House, composed of four Liberals and three Conservatives. The Provinces east of Lake Superior lose representation, and those west of it all gain in proportion to their increase. Sir Wilfrid, in introducing the bill, made an admirable presentation of its provisions, which, he explained, closely followed British precedent.

Mr. R. L. Borden declared that, on the face of it, the measure was a fair one, and gave Sir Wilfrid credit for it, but he suggested the possibility of unfairness in the committee. The reference to a committee came as a surprise to the majority of people here, as it was not generally known that this principle was to be adopted.

The Premier's Speech.

After a number of private bills had been introduced Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose, amid the applause of the Liberal members, and said: I arise, Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of presenting to the House a measure for the redistribution of the representation in the House of Commons, rendered necessary by the last census.

It was not a discretionary measure as was the measure introduced three years ago, but it was the fulfilling of an imperative and needed duty. It was necessarily unfortunate that the redistribution would cause serious disturbance in many provinces in their proportion of representation. Passing to representation by population of the provinces, he read a table showing the census returns of 1901-1901.

Representation by Population.

	1901.	1901.
Canada	4,833,239	5,371,315
Prince Edward I....	103,073	103,259
Nova Scotia	450,396	459,574
New Brunswick	321,233	331,120
Ontario	2,114,221	2,182,947
Manitoba	158,206	255,211
British Columbia	98,173	178,657
Northwest Territories	66,799	158,940
Quebec	1,488,535	1,648,898

Quebec is the pivotal province for the allotment of seats, and, as Quebec had 65 members, according to the B.N.A. Act, the unit of representation was 26,267 for all the provinces.

Hence Prince Edward Island would, by the new bill, have only four members, losing one.

Nova Scotia 18 instead of 20.
New Brunswick 13 in place of 14.
Ontario 86 instead of 82.

Thus all the provinces east of Lake Superior except Quebec, lose members.

But to even up the losses British Columbia will have seven instead of six.

Manitoba 10 instead of seven.

N.W.T., not coming under the special provision of the B.N.A. Act, is given 10 members.

Noted the Excitement.

The Premier noted that there had been excitement in the provinces that were losing members, but nothing could be done, as the letter of the law had to be carried out. Personally he was sorry some members would have to disappear, but law, and more particularly mathematics had to be applied. Parliament was merely the instrument of the law in allotting the number of seats to the provinces. But as the creation of constituencies the power of parliament was not limited. It could be exercised for good or for evil. In previous redistribution bills the Liberals had claimed that they were not fairly dealt with. Sir Wilfrid promised not to take unfair advantage of his opponents.

"I would avoid on this occasion, which in some respects a solemn one, I would avoid, as far as I can any recrimination concerning the past. But without any recrimination let me call attention to a list of 42 constituencies in Ontario, created by the redistributions of 1882 and 1889, in which the total of the popular vote recorded gave a clear Liberal majority, but in which there was a clear Conservative majority of members elected.

List of Constituencies.

The names of these constituencies are as follows: Bruce, E., W., S.; Hastings, N., E., W.; Durham, E., W.; Elgin, E., W.; Essex, N., S.; Kent, Lambton, E., W.; Leeds and Grenville, Leeds, S.; Grenville, S.; Lanark, N., S.; Northumberland, E., W.; Peterboro, E., W.; Oxford, S., N.; Renfrew, N., S.; Ontario, N., S., W.; Victoria, N., S.; Perth, N., S.; Waterloo, N., S.; Wellington, C., N., S.; Wentworth, Brant, N., S.

"Here we have 42 constituencies in which the popular vote for the Liberal candidates in the last election was 88,-365 and the popular vote in favor of the Conservative candidates 86,502, a clear Liberal majority of 1873. The result was that in 42 ridings which gave a clear Liberal majority there were 25 Conservatives elected and 17 Liberals. Such a condition of things is not fair or just, not conducive of good government.

Would Undo Evil.

We certainly intend to undo this evil. We intend to undo the injustice perpetrated at the expense of the Liberal party and yet not to perpetrate a similar injustice at the expense of our opponents. We wish to introduce a fair measure of justice, freedom and responsibility. We have always maintained that the guiding principle in redistribution should be that the county boundaries should be preserved. We should take the map of the municipal organization of the Dominion and make it the basis of the parliamentary representation."

Follows Britain's Policy.

There were counties for which one member was sufficient and to which the principle of population would not warrant giving more. Then there were others so small relative to the unit that they should not send even one member. There was a combination needed. Then he came to the most delicate point of all. By whom should the divisions of the Dominion be made, by whom the union of ridings, so that the unit of population could apply? This was of great moment. He considered the best policy to follow was the method and rule laid down by Great Britain. Hence he proposed to follow British precedent in his bill. In 1884, when Gladstone brought in his readjustment of the British seats, he suggested that the details be prepared by a conference of the two parties, and Salisbury was invited to meet and discuss the measure with the government. The Liberals had always advocated this move. They did so in 1892, but the Conservatives, then in power, would not accept it.

By House Committee.

Therefore, he intended to have the details of the redistribution bill discussed by a select committee of the House, if that was acceptable to the opposition. He then read the bill, as follows:

An act to readjust the representation in the House of Commons:

"Whereas, the result of the census of 1901 necessitated a readjustment of the representation in the House of Commons, pursuant to the provisions of the B.N.A. act, 1867, other statutes made in that behalf and it is expedient at the same time to provide for an increased representation in the said House of the N.W.T.

Therefore His Majesty by and with the advice and consent of the Senate of the House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

214 Members in All.

1. The House of Commons shall consist of 214 members, of whom 86 shall be elected by Ontario, 65 from Quebec, 18 from Nova Scotia, 13 from New Brunswick, 10 from Manitoba, 7 from British Columbia, 4 from Prince Edward Island, 10 from Northwest Territories, and 1 from the Yukon Territory.

2. The said province and territories respectively shall for the purpose of the election of members to serve in the said House of Commons be divided into electoral districts and be represented as provided in the schedule to this act.

3. Every town, village, township, parish or place lying within the territorial limits of any electoral district, and not specifically included in any other electoral district by the said schedule, shall be and be taken to be part of the electoral district in which it is so locally situated.

the part of the electoral district in which it is so locally situated.

4. Wherever in the said schedule any word or expression is used to denote the name of any territorial division, such word or expression shall, unless the content otherwise requires, be construed as indicating such territorial division as it exists, and is bounded at the date of the passing of this act.

5. This act shall take effect only on the dissolution of the present parliament.

Committee of Seven.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid picked up the thread of his suggestion of a special committee, and said he proposed on the second reading of the bill to refer it to such a committee, composed of seven members, three of whom would be selected by the opposition. This committee would create the constituencies to elect members to the Commons. He took credit to himself that in this way he could not be charged with presenting a bill to be swallowed holus bolus by the House, but a bill every detail of which would be discussed with his opponents. Thus the bill would be free from the blemishes of its predecessor, if the opposition would agree to meet the government fairly, and it would not be a disgrace or a measure of mere pretension.

Letter of Constitution.

In regard to the representation of the Northwest Territories, he cited that they had a population according to the census of 158,940. This would give them six members, but the government was bound by the letter of the constitution. The Northwest Territories would be given ten members. The population was now at least 250,000, and it was increasing by leaps and bounds.

Mr. Taylor: But they must be British subjects.

Sir Wilfrid replied that was so, and the government wished to make all the new-comers to the west British subjects and Canadians. With a parting word as to the peaceful measure he had introduced, Sir Wilfrid sat down.

Mr. Borden's Reply.

Mr. Borden spoke briefly in reply. He said Sir Wilfrid had not searched the Ontario constituencies as he would have done. He would have found forty-two constituencies that sent twenty-five Liberals and seventeen Conservatives to parliament, tho they had a popular Conservative majority. Greater anomalies than the one the Premier had cited could be presented.

On first glance the proposal for a conference to determine the boundaries of constituencies would impress one with fairness, but the fairness might not be so real on closer inspection. However, he believed the Premier meant well, he said, when he declared he aimed to make a fair bill, and it would be open of course for the committee to bring its results to the House and have them discussed.

What Canada Means.

Mr. Borden then read several sections from the British North American Act, from which the contention could be made. The word Canada meant the four original provinces, and that the proportion of representation should be estimated with regard to these four provinces, and not of the Dominion as it existed to-day. Subsection four of section 51 was the important clause. It read: "On such readjustments the number of members from a province shall not be reduced unless in the proportion which the number of the population of the province bore to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding readjustment. If the number of members of the province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one-twentieth part or upwards."

Section 5 was also important: Canada shall be divided into four provinces named Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. What was the meaning of "Canada?" If section 51 in its entirety constituted a compact with the four original colonies then the representation should not be changed, and clear language would have to be found for the new departure.

The bill was read a first time.

Home Rule Resolution.

Hon. John Costigan presented his home rule for Ireland resolution, and supported it in a speech.

The vote was taken at 1 a.m., and Mr. Costigan's resolution was carried by: Yeas 102, nays 41.

A. W. Holman Used Dodd's Kidney Pills for Diabetes

And the Dreaded Kidney Disease Speedily Vanished—His Statement to the Public.

Toronto, March 29.—(Special.)—One of the most dreaded and dangerous forms of Kidney Disease is Diabetes. With its sense of weight and acute pain in the loins, bleeding of the gums, swelling of the feet and ankles, emaciation and weakness, and its other painful and disagreements, it is held almost in horror by those who have been unfortunate enough to make its acquaintance, and every evidence of a complete and reliable cure is hailed with delight by all classes of society.

For this reason the statement of A. W. Holman, of 193 1-2 Mutual street, Toronto, is of peculiar interest. Mr. Holman says:

"I have been troubled with Diabetes for years and I have tried all kinds of medicines, but it was of no use. My attention was called to an advertisement of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. From the first box I got relief, and after using six boxes I am in a position to say that I am completely cured. I highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who may suffer as I have done."

Diabetes is a Kidney Disease pure and simple. Dodd's Kidney Pills unfailingly cure all diseases of the Kidneys.

Increase over March of last year	$14,812.19

This represents an increase of over 125 per cent. The collections at Peterborough last year were within a couple of thousand of those of the City of Kingston, with 4,000 or 5,000 more population, and according to the collections of this year so far the customs collections at Peterborough will be far in excess of those of Kingston.

STRIKE NOW ON.

The Labourers at the Cereal Co's New Dam.

There is a strike on amongst certain of the labourers employed at the Cereal Company's new dam, at the foot of London street. The trouble is with the foreign element, the Italians, numbering about seventy, demanding an increase of ten cents a day in their wages.

It is said that the Italians have been receiving $1.50 per day, and upon being refused $1.60, they decided to quit work. Otherwise the work at the new dam is going ahead uninterruptedly.

A LITERARY EVENING.

A Paper on "Sister Margaret Bourgeois, Foundress of the Congregation de Notre Dame.

The Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T.A.S. held a very interesting literary meeting last evening, when Miss J. O'Heron read an excellent paper on the life of "Sister Margaret Bourgeois, Foundress of the Congregation de Notre Dame."

The writer portrayed the life of this venerable woman in the most vivid and beautiful language. The story of her departure from "Sunny France," and her subsequent difficulties in the work she had undertaken in the early days of Canada, were ably dealt with, and proved to be highly interesting.

In addition to the many excellent qualities of the paper, it was read in a distinct, pleasing manner, and was highly appreciated by those, who had the pleasure of hearing it.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien then favoured the audience with a short, but interesting and profitable address.

Miss Kate McGrath presided during the evening and introduced a short musical programme.

The next literary evening will take place on Friday, April 24, when a paper will be read by Miss Colman.

—It is said that the men who go to work on the river for the lumber companies this year will be paid from $24 to $30 per month, which with board and lodging is as much as the average mechanic earns. The day of low wages for lumbermen has gone by, and as a result lumber of all kinds and other building material has advanced in price double, and even three times what it was some years ago. There is a larger amount of work being done than ever before, and it seems impossible to supply the demand for men.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: It was thought that the lakes would have cleared this week, but the relapse of the weather has checked the thaw. The Manita was ready on Thursday, and it was rather expected that she might get through to-day, (Friday,) but it is reported that there is still a large block of ice west of Jackson's Island. It is loose and there is a considerable space between shore and ice, and if is quite likely that a skiff could make its way along the windward shore. A heavy wind on Sunday or Monday will give it a shaking. Pigeon Lake has large sheets of open water, but some fields of ice. A couple of Indians from Indian Village came up the lake on Wednesday, by dragging their canoes across the intervening stretches of ice.

LAST NIGHT AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Large Crowd Attended Wrestling and Boxing Matches.

Some Excellent Boxing and Bag Punching Witnessed—Dave Simon Defeated George Gauthier.

A most interesting entertainment of really good sport, took place in the Opera House last night, there being a very large number of men and boys present.

The programme was arranged by private enterprise and some very interesting and excellent, boxing, wrestling and bag-punching was witnessed. As had been announced the curtain rose promptly at 8.15 o'clock. The first part of the programme was purely musical, Mr. W. Breen figuring conspicuously. Mr. Arthur Edmunds, of Toronto, gave an excellent exhibition of bag punching, which was continued later by Jack McDonough and Chris. Graham, of town. "Silly Kid Skit" by Ed. Graham, greatly amused the audience by its fire of jokes at them. Keen local hits, some good fresh ones, it might be mentioned, were unproariously received.

A four round exhibition boxing bout, 125 lbs., took place between W. Jones and Art. Edmunds, both of Toronto, both of whom seemed fairly evenly matched. It being only an exhibition bout, of course no decision was given.

The next item was a 10-round boxing bout for the championship of Canada, at 115 pounds, between Willie Popp and Pete Barry, both of Toronto, for a purse of $50.00. Barry was much the stronger of the contestants, but Popp seemed nimbler and surer of his aim. During the 5th round Popp received a hard blow, to which he fell, but from which he recovered before time had expired. In the next round Popp reciprocated Barry's action and the latter fell heavily, but also recovered himself in time. The tenth round was a most exciting one, both scoring heavily off each other. Barry's defence was superb while Popp's attack was equally so. In fact so well matched were the boxers that the bout was declared a draw. Mr. W. Breen refereed.

The next item was a wrestling match, in which Jack McDonough was to throw Eugene Hurtubuise twice in thirty minutes or forfeit the match. Ten minutes expired between each fall. After seven minutes had expired Hurtubuise secured a fall. Seven minutes after the match had recommenced McDonough secured a fall, thus leaving him 14 minutes in which to again "floor" his opponent. The next fall was secured by Hurtubuise after eight minutes of most exciting wrestling, the latter thus winning the match.

The last and most exciting item on the programme was the wrestling match for the welterweight championship of Canada, and purse of $50, best two in three falls, pin falls to count, strangle hold barred, between Geo. Gauthier, of Peterborough, and Dave Simon, of Montreal. Gauthier seemed to be the stronger-looking of the two men, but appearances are not everything, for the Peterborough champion met more than his match. Dave Simon secured the first fall in three minutes, and a minute after the customary time had elapsed after the fall, again secured another, thus winning the championship in less than four minutes of actual wrestling.

The programme was most excellent, and the organizers certainly deserve great credit for the admirable way in which everything passed off.

HARRY DeWINDT EXPLORER AND LECTURER.

The Daily News, London, England, of Nov. 27th, 1902, says:—In the St. James' Hall last night Mr. Harry De Windt entertained and astonished a large audience by an account of his recent journey "From Paris to New York, Overland."

It was a story of hardship, suffering, and persistency crowned with success.

The sympathies of his hearers were strongly excited by what he said of Sredni-Kolymsk—the most remote political settlement in Siberia. Only two of the exiles, he certified, are criminals; the others are "absolutely innocent." So great are the sufferings of the little community from cold and hunger that thirty per cent. become insane, and a large proportion commit suicide. "This accursed spot, this Artic Inferno," was the lecturer's comment, "should be wiped off the face of civilisation."

After they had passed through "the coldest place in the world, where the temperature was 78 degrees below zero," after many of the reindeer had died, and their provisions had run low, they were about as well equipped for continuing their journey as a man arrayed in silk pyjamas would be for duck-shooting at Christmas. But they pushed on over the twelve hundred miles of desolation.

Often they could find no drift wood, which meant no fire, and no fire meant no food, for their frozen provisions were useless until thawed. When a blizzard occurred the dogs lay down and howled. One dog went mad from cold and bit others.

In St. Andrew's Lecture Hall, Friday evening, April 3rd, at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents.

OBITUARY.

Sad Death of Mr. Walter Flowers of Town.

The sad death of Mr. Walter Flowers occurred on Monday afternoon, at his residence, Bolivar street. The deceased, who was an Englishman, emigrated to Canada about a year ago. His death, which was due to dropsy, occurred at the age of 44 years. The deceased leaves a wife and family who came to this country with him.

The funeral took palce at five o'clock yesterday afternoon from his late residence to the Little Lake Cemetery.

FOURTEEN FIRE ALARMS.

Have Occurred this Year in Peterborough.

In referring to our fires we find that the local fire brigade has been called out to fourteen fires this year. There was one in January, five in the following month, and no less than eight last month. Happily in all but one or two cases, the alarm was for trifling fires, or fires were speedily subdued by our effective brigade.

The following is a list of them with their dates and where they occurred:

Jan. 31st—Mrs. Ensign's, Simcoe street.
Feb. 7th—Cressman's store.
Feb. 17th—T.A.S. Rooms.
Feb. 20th — Denne's, George street.
Feb. 24th—Smith's store.
Feb. 28th—Corner of Park and Sherbrooke streets.
March 14th—Corner of Brock and Donegal streets.
March 23rd—Mongraw's stable.
March 28th — T. F. Matthews' stable.
March 28th—176 McDonel street.
March 29th—Strickland's hedge, in Ashburnham.
March 31st—Corner Waterford and London streets.
March 31st—Park street, chimney.
March 31st—Cereal Company's sawdust bank.

The brigade is to be complimented on its success in handling so many fires, and it is assured that, after the way in which they acquitted themselves at the blaze yesterday, that their success will long continue to be as complete as before.

We Must Move Them.

If you have any idea of the trouble and expense of moving granite and marble monuments and tombstones, you will understand our anxiety to sell what you see standing in our yard rather than have to move them to another stand. Our landlord is preparing to erect a new brick block on our corner, and rather than move our stock, we are asking but a fraction of what our monuments are worth to save moving. The Moore Monumental Company.

Wall and Window Wants.

All this week, at The Peterborough Bookstore we will make a specialty of wall paper, window shades and cornice poles. Everyone who has saw our designs and colourings in wall paper concede the fact that we have the daintiest wall paper ever shown in Peterborough, and the prices are within the reach of all. In window blinds our lace effects and lace insertions are all new this year and make very effective window decorations. We are in a position to show you the newest in oak and cherry cornice poles and trimmings in silver, also gilt trimmings, and our prices, as usual will be as low as the lowest. GENERALLY SPEAKING

A POST OFFICE is assumed to be maintained in the interests of and for the convenience of the public. When, instead of being this, it is rather an inconvenience it ceases to serve the object aimed at, and some remedy should be provided. Complaints have reached the Examiner of the lack of efficient conveniences and accommodation at the Peterborough post office. There is only one general delivery wicket, and at times, and very often, at congested hours—especially on Saturdays and other market days—persons have to suffer long waits to get served. Even those who have boxes are inconvenienced, and have to wait to the waste of valuable time if they wish to post or receive a parcel that is too large for posting in the ordinary way or for their boxes. We need two general delivery wickets, not only for speedier service on busy days, but so that one could always be open and not closed while in-coming mail is being sorted and busy people have to wait the often leisurly distribution of the mails by a sometimes rather leisurly or perhaps insufficient staff.

NEARLY TWENTY YEARS have made a vast difference in Peterborough. The post office accommodations which were considered ample when the present post office was built in 1883, do not serve the purpose now, and will soon have to be enlarged.

• • •

EITHER THIS, or Ashburnham will have to have a post office of its own. Ashburnham has grown, too, and the postal needs of its population throws additional work on our post office. If the village puts on such independent airs that it won't unite with us as a municipality, why hasn't it enough spirit to have a post office of its own? But we don't want that sort of relation to exist. Let Ashburnham come to our arms. Then we can have a new and enlarged post office; then Ashburnham can have her rates for water cut in two, and, if we choose, in due time we can become a city. Then, by the way, we shan't need any larger post office, because city delivery—leaving our letters, etc., at our doors—will create less need for visiting the post office building, and our present structure will do for a long time.

• • •

IF ASHBURNHAM links its lot with Peterborough, there can, in due time, be a city, with city dignity, and city recognition, city name, city responsibilities, city advantages. It will be to the gain of the village to unite with Peterborough. Then as a part of the town, it can have its water rate cut in two, and if the town of Peterborough wants a site for a new factory it can legally give one on the east side of the river—something it can't do now. Some careful Ashburnhamites are afraid of increased taxation. If there should be a little increase, this will be more than compensated by the advantages received — cheaper water, free postal delivery, if we become a city. New manufactories will increase the value of real estate, and increase the population; better rents will be commanded, and no end of advantages will follow. Kindly think it over.

• • •

THE CUSTOMS BUILDING is, it is said, becoming too small for the amount of business transacted. The rapid increase of the customs collections shows the growing commercial and industrial importance of Peterborough. The increase for March of this year of the customs collections in Peterborough, as compared with the same month of last year, as will be seen by a paragraph in another column, is $14,812.19, or an increase of over 125 per cent. It is something to be proud of that the customs collections at the port of Peterborough exceed the combined collections of the city of Belleville, Port Hope, Cobourg and Lindsay, and they are almost equal to those of the city of Kingston, a lake port, with a population, according to the census of 1901, of nearly 18,000—17,961 — as against Peterborough with, according to the same census, a population of 11,239.

REMEMBER these figures when they are applied to the claims made on behalf of the customs officials of Peterborough, that not only are the buildings becoming too small for the business, but the salaries are already too small for the work done. The cost of the collection of Kingston's $149,972 last year was $9,800, while the cost in Peterborough was only $2,400 for $147,293 of customs collections.

• • •

ANOTHER EXAMPLE of Peterborough's growth and expansion is furnished by the fact that our population is increasing so rapidly that there is a house famine of so urgent a character that some of the citizens will have to live in tents. In another column there is an advertisement of a real estate firm offering to supply tents, divided into rooms, for the moderate rental of $5 per month, including lot. We have no desire to inaugurate a boom spirit, but there is evidence that the period of prosperity Peterborough has recently enjoyed, is not at an end, but that still greater prosperity is in the immediate future. So mote it be.

THE SPRING FEELING.

Weariness, Lassitude and a Desire to Avoid Exertion.

There are few people who have not experienced what is aptly termed the spring feeling. Langour and weariness, loss of appetite, touches of indigestion, pimples and irritation of the skin. They all come with the spring. All these ills are banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They enrich the blood, brace up the nerves, and charm away all spring weariness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best tonic medicine in the world. They make new, rich, red blood; strengthen men and women and make the roses of health bloom on pallid cheeks. Here is proof: Miss Catherine Johnston, Gardon Mines, N. B., says:—"I was very much run down, and so weak that I would frequently have to lie down. My appetite was poor and food distasteful. I often suffered from headaches, and the least exertion left me completely used up. I used a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and since then I have felt like a new person. I do not know of any medicine equal to these pills."

In this climate a tonic is an absolute necessity in spring, and health will be gained and money saved by using only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Don't take a substitute or something else said to be "just as good." THE EVENING OF LIFE

Declining years—the time when one is on the other side of the hill, call for constant care in the matter of nutrition. Life then depends so much on the body's power to repair loss and waste. This power grows less and less. The ability to shake off local disorders and to draw heavily on the body's reserve force are privileges that youth alone can claim.

With age comes slow movement, slower operation of the whole body's forces. Trifles become burdens and we live in the past. Ordinary food no longer nourishes. Poor teeth, perhaps, and improper mastication give the stomach work that it is not supposed to do—the digestion is taxed and even injured when it should be troubled least.

Many elderly persons get strength and nourishment from Scott's Emulsion It slips into the blood so quickly that the stomach is not aware of its presence. Not only does Scott's Emulsion furnish nourishment itself, but it helps to digest other food. It aids in the proper distribution of food benefits—simplifies the stomach's work.

Moreover, the lime and soda contained in Scott's Emulsion in the form of hypophosphites nourish the bones and reduce the acid in the blood which feeds rheumatism.

ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS

Dispersed to Await Proceedings of Judicial Commission.

THE EVIDENCE BILL PASSED

Opposition Offer a Host of Amendments Which Were Lost by a Majority of Five on Division—Premier Ross Presents Reasons For the Adjournment and a Division Is Called For.

Toronto, April 1.—The remaining business which the Legislature had to dispose of before adjourning to allow the Royal Commission to sit was concluded yesterday afternoon, and the members separated until April 21st. Mr. Henry Carscallen presented his amendment to the evidence bill, providing that the commission should make no finding, and argued that the instructions were ultra vires. The Attorney-General, in a spirited reply, taunted the Opposition with being afraid of a report by the Judges. On a vote being taken, the amendment was lost by 41 to 46. Several minor amendments were declared lost on the same division, and the bill was carried, and subsequently assented to by Chief Justice Moss as administrator. The supply bill of $345,000 for April was not opposed by Mr. Whitney by word, but Col. Matheson offered a want of confidence motion, censuring the Government for not holding the North Renfrew election. This was lost on the same division. A vote was taken on the motion to adjourn for three weeks, with a result similar to the first. The adjournment is, in point of fact, welcomed by many of the members, particularly those from the rural sections, as it will give them an opportunity to do their spring work.

Premier Ross intimated that the commission would probably organize before the end of the week.

Is Commission Ultra Vires?

Mr. Carscallen (East Hamilton) submitted his amendment directing that the commission make no report of finding. He argued that the assembly itself was the tribunal which should pass upon the evidence brought out by the commission. There was nothing in the act from beginning to end that had any reference to any other power of the commission beyond the inquiry into the facts. The act, he was bound to say, was in the right direction as directing inquiry into any acts of the ministry. There were provisions in the commission which went beyond the act. The commission should take all the evidence; they were not to act in their judicial capacity as judges. The act was clear that the legislature was the ultimate tribunal, and that the evidence must come back to be dealt with. There was no power given them to decide. It would be highly improper for them to do so.

Are the Opposition Afraid?

Col. Gibson said that he did not intend to answer Mr. Carscallen at any great length. The hon. member and others on his side of the House had a short time ago declared that the commissioners would have no power to report. Now they were afraid that they would report. (Applause.) What harm, however, could their report do? No matter how lame or unimportant the conclusions might be in the opinion of the hon. gentlemen opposite, the country would have some respect for those conclusions. If those conclusions did not please the hon. gentlemen opposite, they would be able to declare their opinions in the House, after the report was presented.

Power of the Commission.

Mr. Foy said the Attorney-General did not attempt to wrestle with the arguments of the member for East Hamilton. There had been no attempt to deny that the commission was beyond the power of the act. According to the argument of the Attorney-General, the House would be a court of final appeal, what the opposition contended was that it should be the court of first and last appeal.

Lost on Division.

Upon a vote being asked for by Mr. Whitney the amendment was lost on the following division:

The division on Mr. Carscallen's amendment was:

Yeas—Barr, Beatty, Brower, Carscallen (East Hamilton), Carnegie, Clark (Centre Bruce), Crawford, Downey, Duff, Eilber, Foy, Fox, Gallagher, Gamey, Hilber, Hoyle, Jamieson, Jessop, Joynt, Kidd, Kribs, Lachner, Little (Cardwell), Lucas, Matheson, Morrison, Murphy, Macdiarmid, McLeod, Nesbitt, Pearce, Preston (East Durham), Pyne, Reaume, Reid, Smythe, St. John, Sutherland, Tucker, Whitney, Willoughby—41.

Nays—Anderson, Auld, Barber, Bridgland, Brown, Cameron (Fort William), Cameron (West Huron), Carr, Clarke (West Northumberland), Conmee, Currie, Davis, Davidson, Dickenson, Dryden, Evanturel, Gibson, Graham, Gross, Guilbord, Harcourt, Hislop, Holmes, James, Latchford, Lee, Little (North Norfolk), Michaud, McCart, McKay, Pardo, Pattullo, Pense, Pettypiece, Preston, Richardson, Rickard, Routledge, Ross, Russell, Stock, Stratton, Taylor, Thompson, Truax, Tudhope—46.

Pairs—Burt and Hanna, Smith and Carscallen (Lennox), Bowman and Beck, Caldwell and Powell.

Mr. Gamey's Amendments.

Mr. Gamey then submitted an amendment directing that the bill be referred back with instructions to insert the statement made by him in the House on Friday evening last.

The amendment was declared lost on the same vote: Yeas 41, nays 46.

Mr. Gamey had another amendment which met the same fate.

Moved by Mr. Gamey—That the said bill be not now read a third time, but that the same be referred back to a committee of the whole House with instructions to strike out the words "the last clause of" in the third line of section 3.

Mr. St. John's Amendment.

Moved by Mr. St. John—That the said bill be not now read a third time, but that it be referred back to a committee of the whole House with instructions to add the following as section 4 thereof:

4. No evidence tendered in support of the charges made by R. H. Gamey in the House on the 11th day of March, 1903, confirmed by his statement made to this House on the 27th day of March, 1903, or any of them, shall be rejected by the commissioners except for reasons stated by them or one of them and concurred in by both of the commissioners.

This amendment was also declared lost on the same division.

The main motion was then declared carried, and the bill was given its third reading and passed.

House Voted Supplies.

The House went into Committee on Supply with Mr. Caldwell in the chair. Upon the Premier assuring the leader of the opposition that he would undertake no important matters, and that the money was for the mere routine work of the province, the sum of $345,000 was voted without objection.

Supplies Voted.

	$345,000

Want of Confidence Motion.

Moved by Mr. Matheson—That all the words in the motion after the word "that" be struck out and the following substituted therefor:

This House regrets that the provisions of section 27 of the Act respecting the representation of the people in the Legislative Assembly have not been complied with by the issue of a writ for an election to fill the vacancy in the representation of the North Riding of Renfrew in this House in accordance with the warrant of the Speaker of the House and directs that the said writ be issued without further delay.

Motion to Adjourn.

The leaders were the only members to speak on the motion of the Premier to adjourn the House until April 21. Mr. Ross expressed the views of the government very briefly. He said the commission would probably meet on Friday and begin the taking of evidence on Monday. In support of the resolution he said some of the members would be required as witnesses, and they would be so occupied as not to be able to give their undivided attention to the business of the House. He did not want the government to undertake any legislation of an important character until the result of the investigation would show, as he had no doubt it would, that they were conducting public business in such a manner as to be worthy of the confidence of the country. They should hold their hands until their honor was vindicated.

He appealed to every hon. gentleman that that was the proper course to pursue. It would put no person to any inconvenience.

Opposition Objections.

Mr. Whitney said that there were two strong reasons for opposing the resolution: First, on the merits of the case; second, on the arguments advanced by the Premier. He believed that the duty of the House collectively and individually was to be ready to carry out the wishes of the people. There was one special reason why the House should be in session day by day. The House had divested itself of the power to take evidence, and it was necessary that, while the servants of the House were doing their work the House should be on hand ready to meet at any moment to take cognisance of anything that might arise out of the investigation. But instead the members were asked to lock themselves up.

In conclusion, Mr. Whitney declared that this was an unfair, unjust and un-British attempt to muzzle the Legislature of Ontario, while the Government was on trial for high crimes.

The Division.

On this resolution the House divided as follows:

Yeas—Anderson, Auld, Barber, Bowman, Bridgland, Brown, Caldwell, Cameron (Fort William), Cameron (West Huron), Carr, Clarke (West Northumberland), Conmee, Currie, Davis, Davidson, Dickenson, Dryden, Evanturel, Gibson, Graham, Gross, Guilbord, Harcourt, Hislop, Holmes, James, Latchford, Lee, Little (North Norfolk), Michaud, McCart, McKay, Pattullo, Pense, Pettypiece, Preston (South Brant), Richardson, Rickard, Routledge, Ross, Russell, Stratton, Taylor, Thompson, Truax, Tudhope—46.

Nays—Barr, Beatty, Brower, Carscallen (East Hamilton), Carnegie, Clark (Centre Bruce), Crawford, Downey, Duff, Eilber, Foy, Fox, Gallagher, Gamey, Hendrie, Hoyle, Jameson, Jessop, Joynt, Kidd, Kribs, Little (Cardwell), Lucas, Matheson, Morrison, Murphy, Macdiarmid, McLeod, Nesbitt, Pearce, Powell, Preston (East Durham), Pyne, Reaume, Reid, Smythe, St. John, Futherland, Tucker, Whitney, Willoughby—41.

Pairs—Burt and Hanna; Smith and Carscallen (Lennox); Stock and Beck; Pardo and Lachner.

Evidence Bill Assented To.

At 5.15 the Administrator, Chief Justice Moss, entered the Chamber and gave assent to the bill respecting evidence. This formality occupied a few minutes only, and immediately after he retired the House adjourned.

Lowell, Mass.—The seven plants affected by the strike order of the Textile Council were closed on Monday. A ten per cent. increase in wages is desired.

New York.—There is a possibility of 200,000 men being involved in the strike against the American Bridge Co. by the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

London.—Final arrangements have been made at Glasgow to amalgamate 18 Scotch malleable iron firms, with a capital of $6,000,000.

Manitoba Farming Prospects.

Portage la Prairie, Man., March 31.—From present indications, the farmers on the Portage Plains will commence seeding operations this week. The fields are now bare, and a few mild days is all that the soil requires to be ready for the seeder. The crop acreage in this district will be very large this year, as the favorable weather last fall enabled the farmers to do a large amount of fall plowing.

To-day Its's a Cold, What of the Morrow?

Wisdom Suggests Prompt Action, and There is no More Effective Treatment Than

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Sneezing and running at the nose, stuffed up feelings in the head, sore throat, tickling in the throat and coughing, and soon the cold reaches the bronchial tubes and works its way into the lungs.

This is the natural development of what is in the beginning "only a cold." It is the way in which scores and thousands are allowing colds to develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption or some equally fatal lung trouble.

If colds were promptly cured there would be no need for sanatoriums and hospitals for consumptives. There would be little consumption. Because people have weak lungs they need not become consumptives if they will but guard against colds and cure them promptly by using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

This great medicine has proven its right to a place in every home by curing croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma and all sorts of coughs and colds. Its record of sales is phenomenal, and increases year by year as it becomes better known and is recommended from one person to another.

When buying Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine be sure to see portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the bottle. This will protect you against imitations. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Family size three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 6

AT BEACHY HEAD

Lighthouse Built in a Raging Sea—Marvellous Engineering Work Just Completed in the English Channel.

There has just been completed in the English Channel, off Beachy Head, on the English coast, a remarkable lighthouse—remarkable in the bold manner in which it has been built. Work was commenced on this lighthouse as far back as 1899, yet it was only completed a short time ago. Engineers declare, however, that the tower has been erected in marvellously short time, considering the nature of the task.

First of all, the lighthouse has been built right out into the sea, and there is a vast difference between erecting a tower on a wave-washed rock and on land. In spite of storms and tides and a raging sea, the work has gone on. The new lighthouse has been erected by the Corporation of Trinity House, the body responsible for the lighting of British waterways, and cost $100,000. There is a lighthouse on Beachy Head, but owing to the encroachments of the sea at this particular spot, and the additional fact that the light, which is some four hundred feet above the level of the sea, is frequently capped by fog, it was decided to erect another structure in lieu of it on the foreshore, beneath the famous cliffs.

A Difficult Beginning.

The coast was thoroughly surveyed, and the site selected. The spot chosen is some six hundred feet from the base of the tall cliffs. At high water it is covered to a considerable depth, so it was only possible for the men to work on the site a few hours between tides. The moment the tide rose men and tools had to be conveyed out of reach of the water. In such cases operations are generally conducted from pontoons or boats, but what the engineers did was this:

They first erected a large staging, the platform of which is well above high tide. This platform was connected in turn with the temporary works on the top of the cliffs, four hundred feet above the level of the sea, by means of a wire cableway. The circumstances called for a cableway of a special character, for not only had it to transport heavy blocks of granite, but it also had to carry down to the scene of operations some valuable and heavy pieces of machinery, and to act as convenient means of transportation for workmen down to and up from their work on the lighthouse site. Indeed, the cableway is quite an engineering feat of itself. Down its ropes, which are 850 feet in length, large granite blocks, weighing five and six tons and more, have been carried with perfect ease. Its two main ropes are six inches and five and one-half inches in circumference respectively, and it has been built on this principle—the descending load draws the ascending load up.

A dam, ten feet in height, was then erected round the site, close to the temporary landing, so that the men could work for some time after the tide had risen and similarly for some time before the water had receded from the surrounding shore by pumping it out. Naturally, the foundation is the most hazardous part of the whole business, and many heroic tales could be told of daring deeds which lighthouse builders have to tell.

Foundation of Granite.

It took Captain Alexander three years to lay the foundation of his stone tower on the famous Minot's Ledge Rock, just outside Boston Harbor. In a whole season his men only succeeded in cutting four or five little holes in the hard rock. First of all the rock had to be scraped clear of seaweed, and to accomplish this the men worked with desperate energy. When a great wave came rolling in from the sea the foreman shouted, and they all fell on their faces, clinging together and holding their breath until the rock was bare again.

The foundation of the structure is laid to a depth of ten feet in the hard chalk. At its base it has a diameter of forty-seven feet, and is perfectly solid for a height of about forty-eight feet, with the exception of a space reserved for the storage of water. The lighthouse, of course, is built of granite, which came from the Hard Stone Firm's famous granite quarries at De Lank, Cornwall.

All the stones are built into one another by a marvellous system of dovetailing. This makes the structure practically solid, and if it were possible to place it on a slant it would not fall to pieces, on account of the ingenious manner in which one stone is grafted into its neighbors below, above and around it. Altogether the tower boasts of 76 courses of rows of stones. Up to the twenty-sixth course they have a depth of four feet ten inches, many of them weighing 4¼ to 5 tons. Altogether 50,000 cubic feet of granite were used in building the lighthouse, while some 1,300 cubic yards of concrete harding were requisitioned to fill the centre of the lower courses.

To the top of the masonry the new tower measures 128½ feet, while to the top of the lantern it will have a height of 153 feet. A dioptric apparatus will give flashes of about 83,000 candle-power every fifteen seconds. The beam of light will be visible for a distance of seventeen miles out to sea, the average distance to which the lights of all British lighthouses now penetrate. The flashes will be regulated by clockwork, which will be wound by hand, the weight rising and falling in a tube in the centre of the lighthouse. The apparatus will rotate in a mercury trough of the usual modern pattern.

An Insecticide and Fungicide.

Bordeaux mixture possesses some insecticide properties, but possesses no practical value except as a fungicide. Half a pound of paris green or london purple may be added to forty gallons of the mixture and two birds killed with one stone. It then becomes a powerful insecticide and loses none of its fungicide properties.

CATCHING AN EDITION.

A Reporter's Efforts to Get His Story on the Wire.

News of the blowing up and sinking of a steamboat on the Ohio river reached the office of a Pittsburg paper one evening some years ago. The city editor sent a young reporter out on a search for the facts. The search developed into an adventure such as any newspaper man may tumble into at any hour of the day or night. World's Work tells the story:

He hurried to the station and caught the first westward bound express. When the train had started, he learned that it did not stop within sixty miles of his destination.

A cautious hint from a Pullman porter apprised him of the presence of a division superintendent on the train, and in a few minutes he received an order from the conductor to stop the train for him.

Reaching the station late at night, he asked the telegraph operator to remain until he returned. Then he walked several miles, got his "story" and hurried back to the station, only to find that the operator had disregarded his request and closed the office.

Time was creeping into the morning hours and he had the prospect of all his work coming to naught unless he secured an operator to get the story to his newspaper office. He tramped about the dark village and found that the operator lived several miles away. Unsympathising country folk could not be induced to rouse themselves.

Thinking hard, the young reporter walked back and forth on the platform of the station. Huddled against the station he saw the sleeping form of a tramp. He kicked the bobo and offered him $5 to make the trip for the operator.

The man got to his feet.

"Do you want an operator?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'm a bum, but I was an operator. If you can get into that station, I'll send your stuff, but I won't touch a door or a window myself."

Knowing that the newspaper would gladly pay damages, the reporter took a cudgel, broke the window and clambered in. The tramp clicked off the story, and it reached the office in time to go to press.

Nightcaps.

For external application the nightcap is rarely seen. It is first mentioned during the time of the Tudors. In the inventory of Henry VIII.'s wardrobe we come across the following item: "A nightcape of black velvet embroidered." No wonder, with such gearing, that, as Shakespeare suggests, "Uneasy rests the head that wears a crown." Poor old Bishop Latimer was not content with one nightcap. Fox in his "Book of Martyrs" describes him as follows: "He held his hat in his hand, having a handkerchief on his head and upon it a nightcap or two and a great cap, such as townsmen use, with broad flaps to button under his chin." They evidently believed in keeping their heads warm in those days.—Health.

The Danger In Cocaine.

The great danger of cocaine lies in the fact that it is the most agreeable and alluring of all narcotics. It causes no mental confusion; only a little more talkativeness than usual. There is no headache or nausea, and the pleasant effects are produced with a comparatively small dose, but symptoms of poisoning are rapidly developed, and within three months of the commencement of the habit there may be marked indications of degeneration, loss of memory, hallucinations and suspicions.

BARGAIN BABIES.

If babies were for sale the most inveterate bargain-hunting woman in the world would not look for a bargain baby. She would want the best baby that could be bought, regardless of price.

Every woman naturally craves a healthy, handsome child, and her craving can be gratified if she will but remember that the child's health is her own gift, and to give health she must have it to give. Mothers whose babies have been weak and puny have nursed in strength their first strong child after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the best preparative for maternity, encouraging the appetite, quieting the nerves and inducing refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"My wife had been sick nearly all her life," says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Illinois, Box 367, "and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I got six bottles, which my wife took, a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. Today he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also says the use of your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for the use of delicate women.

THE EARS.

Large ears, drooping at the top, belong to persons more animal than human.

In human beings of low or debased mental standard the ears are large and flabby. Note those of idiots, cretins, etc.

Ears in which the "hem" is flat, as if smoothed down with a flatiron, accompany a vacillating mind and cold, unromantic disposition.

When there is no lobe and the ear widens from the bottom upward, the owner is of a selfish, cunning and revengeful disposition.

Large round ears with a neat "hem" around their border, well carved, not flat, indicate a strong will and a bulldog tenacity of purpose.

When the ear is oval in form, with the lobe slightly but distinctly marked, it indicates for its owner a lofty ideality, combined with a morbidly sensitive nature.

The person who has an ear with a rounded, ovate top is almost without exception one with a placid disposition and a nature that pines to love and be loved in return.

Mice That Subsist on Scorpions.

Among the queer forms of animal life that inhabit Death valley is a mouse that has acquired such a taste for scorpions that they form its entire bill of fare. The scorpion carries its formidable armament in the end of its slender, elongated abdomen in the shape of an exceedingly venomous, hooked sting. When disturbed, it elevates this in the air and goes in search of its disturber. But it is comparatively slow in its motions, while mice are proverbial for their quickness the world over. The mouse learned many generations ago where the scorpion carries its weapon, and when he meets it he leaps at the uplifted abdomen, takes off the sting at a single bite and proceeds to make a meal of his helpless prey. It is supposed to be the only animal that relishes scorpions.

Soil and Forage Crops.

Those states which are noted for the production of forage crops not only have maintained the original fertility of the soil, but they spend for commercial fertilizers less than 1 per cent of the annual value of their crops, while those states which pay least attention to forage crops have impoverished the soil and spend annually for fertilizers from 5 to 9 per cent of the total value of their crops.

Home Appreciation.

"It must be a great satisfaction to have such a palatial apartment," said the old time friend.

"It is," answered Mr. Cumrox. "It's a heap of comfort to have a house big enough to wander away and get lost in when mother and the gals are giving a musicale or a reception."

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, April 1st.—The American Sugar Refining Co. reduced list of sugar 5 points. Judge Adams notified all parties in the Wabash injunction suit that the decision of the court would be handed down to-day.. It is learned that H. Rogers and Wm. Rockerfeller on Monday this week took over a block of St. Paul privately at 165 per share. The block is said to have been for ten thousand shares. This private transaction has helped the situation considerably. The advance in the rates for hauling bituminous coal takes effect today. The advance by the roads reaching tide water amounts to 10c per ton, while the advance by the lines running to Chicago and other inland centres, amounts to about 15 cents per ton. The increase is expected to have an improving effect on the earnings of such roads as Penns B. O., C. & O. Norfolk in the east and H.V., Wheeling, Chicago and Eastern Ill. and other roads in the middle west.

New York, April 1st. — The leading members of Waldorf coterie are bullish. Not only have they covered shorts but have gone long, and since they made a good killing as bears, they can now afford to play the bull side, especially as big interests will help the movement along. The principal pessimists for the moment are sold out. Bulls were compelled to throw over their lines, which were sacrificed on average losses of 20 points.

B.O. L.N. and like issues that were never previously regarded as dangerous suffered most.

Big buying of B.O. on talk of increased dividend. Kuhn Loeb are persistently acquiring U.P.

A further upward turn may be counted upon for acp. The strike of the structural iron workers will not eventuate.

There is a lack of co-operative sympathy. But Met., Mex. C. Take on some Manh.

JOSEPH.

New York, April 1st.—The Union Pac. statement for Feb. shows a decrease of 3 1-2 p.c. in gross and an increase of 16 p.c. in expenses and a decrease of 29 p.c. in net. The decrease in gross is due to the interruption of business owing to machinists strike. We are told that innumerable small break downs have hampered operations at the yard, due directly to the influence of the strike. The same cause of course accounts for the increase in expense. Other items which have helped increase expenses are the increased cost of labour and the advance in the price of coal and general materials.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 31.—London was a buyer again to-day and early cables were higher. Shortly after a steady opening the whole list was again attacked, but finding stocks in scant supply and not being able to uncover and stop loss orders, the bears gave up the attack and started to cover up their shorts, which caused an extended rally throughout the whole market, in some cases reaching over 2 p.c. There was good buying in U.P., St., N.Y.C., Pa. and Atch. The Wabashes did not respond to any great extent, due to the proposed new issue of $10 million bonds. Whether the corner has been turned for the better or not is hard to say, but, in today's market is any criterion, it has, as there is more buying than that caused by needs of the bears and from the best houses in the street. In spite of call money loaning as high as 10 p.c. The market is remarkable well held and bear attacks seem to be held more in check than for days past. We can only report former advices to buy the good stocks when they look weakest and be satisfied with fair profits on the quick rallies, until the position of the market is more assured. The close was fractionally higher.

Chicago.—Wheat opened firm at 73 3-8 but under profit taking sold off to 73 5-8 and short selling; would sell this on any rallies for about 70 cents. Corn sold off also. Would buy corn on all dips for 45 cents. Oats sold off fractionally. They are too high.

Closing prices.—Wheat, May, 73 3-4; corn, May, 43 3-8; oats, May, 33 1-2 a 5-8; pork, May, 1980; lard, May, 1002 1-2.

MY REFUGE.

An April 1st Lucubration.

The day has been long and dreary,
With ceaseless patter of rain,
And the dragging hours have brought me
Only some heartache and pain,
As I turn my sad face homeward
The night drops down from above
And my heart is yearning, yearning
For a touch of the arms I love.

The arms that have never failed me
The refuge to which I flee,
All day 'mid the jar of the city
I dream of them waiting for me—
Dream of their rest and their welcome
After a daytime of care;
O arms, outstretched with gloaming,
O arms, of my easy chair.

Important Changes in Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Class Nights.

Lindsay Baseball Club has Organized—Ottawa Y. M. C. A. Play Here on 14th.

Y. M. C. A. GYMNASTICS.

IMPORTANT CHANGE.

The regular gymnasium class nights of the Senior Intermediate Class and the Senior Class of the Y. M.C.A., will alternate for this week only. The Senior Intermediate Class night will be Friday, while the Senior Class night, Thursday, at 8.15 o'clock. This change is for this week only.

The Ottawa Y.M.C.A. will play here on April 14th.

BASEBALL.

The Lindsay Baseball Club has organized with the following officers:
Hon. President—Mr. Jas. Graham.
President—Dr. Walters.
1st Vice-President—Mr. G. H. Baker.
2nd Vice-President—Dr. Shier.
Secretary—Mr. R. Menzies.
Manager-Treasurer — Mr. Wm. Simpson.
Managing Committee — Dr. White, Dr. Shier and Mr. G. A. Little.

The Post says that some discussion then followed as to the club joining a league. Some thought a league comprising Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Perry and perhaps Port Hope should be formed, as the railway connection would be better, but Mr. Cinnamon strongly favoured joining the Midland League, with Cobourg and Oshawa.

A representative of the press informed the meeting that he had seen in a Bowmanville paper that the Midland League this year would comprise Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope and Cobourg. The reason for that was that Peterborough, who played in that League last season, failed to play the return game with Bowmanville, thus putting the latter aggregation to the loss of considerable money. An enthusiastic, in reply to the information given, remarked that "we can't believe all that's in the papers nowadays," and concluded by giving the local papers a rub.

On motion of Mr. Burke, the secretary was instructed to communicate with the promoters of the Midland League, in view of the club joining that organization.

A TEMISKAMING TOWN.

Concrete Evidence of Rapid Settlement in New Ontario.

New Liskeard, the most important centre of population in the Temiscaming district, has just been incorporated as a town. The event is an interesting one for the new municipality, but still more so for the province at large. For it is significant of the rapidity with which the settlement at the head of Lake Temiskaming has developed. Half a dozen years ago the site of the town was an unbroken forest; now there is an extensive tract of occupied ground far inland from the lake and tributary to the shipping ports along its shore.

The settlement of which New Liskeard is the pioneer town is, as recent explorations prove, the front door to an immense hinterland that will at no distant date furnish homes for a large and prosperous population. The settled part lies in the valley of the White River, a tributary to the Ottawa; beyond the water-parting from which it descends, and sloping towards Hudson Bay, there is an area of arable land estimated at sixteen millions of acres, stretching continuously from the Quebec Boundary to the Thunder Bay district, and watered by many magnificent rivers flowing to James Bay. This area is as extensive as the part of settled Ontario lying between the Trent Valley and Lake Huron, and it will some day be just as thickly populated.

It is of the utmost importance that the whole of this region should, just as fast as it is settled, be organized into municipalities, in order that the people who live in it may be in a position to establish "peace, order, and good government" among themselves, may be able to construct and repair roads and bridges, and may, above all, have a chance to maintain good public schools. There is as yet only a beginning of such organization, and it is likely to be indefinitely postponed on account of the limited area of the surveyed townships, unless some means may be found of consolidating several of them into one corporation. This is a question to which the Government and the Legislature cannot too soon or too earnestly turn their attention, if future troubles, at present easily avoidable, are to be prevented.

A DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL

Held Monday Night in Charlotte Street Church.

A very successful and largely attended social was held on Monday night in the Charlotte street Methodist church Sunday school room.

All the items of the programme were excellent, and received with applause. The first item on the programme was an instrumental solo by Miss Huffman, which was followed by a unique duet, by Masters Hall, one of whom sang while the other whistled. Miss Anderson sung "The Palms," with her customary success. The fourth item on the programme was a song from a male quartette consisting of Messrs. Freeburn, Hendren, Armstrong and Weir, entitled "Nearer My God to Thee."

Refreshments then followed, and the remainder of the evening was spent in a social manner.

THE QUESTION OF AN ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

Rev. Father McColl's Alternative Proposition

To the Institution Proposed by Mr. Bennet.

The Examiner had an interview with Rev. Father McColl yesterday, in regard to the proposal made in the letter from Mr. J. W. Bennet, printed in these columns the other day, in reference to an isolation hospital for contagious diseases. The reverend gentleman, who, as rector of the parish, is well acquanted with the workings and conditions of St. Joseph's Hospital, has views of his own on the subject. While agreeing heartily with Mr. Bennet as to the desirability, and even urgency, of adequate provision for the accommodation and treatment of contagious diseases, Rev. Father McColl thinks the town is not yet large enough to warrant the erection of a distinct isolation hospital, involving so large expense for construction and maintenance. He thinks that, if the town or county, or both, would grant some assistance to the existing hospitals, provision could easily be made in connection with them for the proper isolation and treatment of contagious diseases. He states that St. Joseph's Hospital has a ward, set apart and isolated, for the treatment of diphtheritic patients, and that for the last fifteen months many cases have been more or less continuously treated. If the means were available, it would be possible, by making certain alterations to the building, to have another ward to be devoted to the exclusive treatment of scarlet fever patients, subjects of the two diseases necessarily requiring to be isolated as distinctly from each other as from patients afflicted with ordinary maladies.

It is probable that the authorities of the Nicholls Hospital would be willing and able to make similar provision at that institution, and that between the two ample arrangements could be made for the treatment of contagious diseases, without involving the heavy expense for erection and maintenance of a separate building for an isolation hospital, which, it is felt, would only be brought into considerable use, and be required only a portion of the year, that is during the period at which contagious diseases would be at their height as an epidemic. At other periods of the year it is argued that with only an occasional case the large expenditure for maintenance would have to be kept up.

Rev. Father McColl, while he favours ample accommodation for contagious diseases as a necessity, does not think that the town is yet large enough to maintain effectively and employ fully a distinct and separate isolation hospital, and suggests as an effective equivalent, assistance to the existing hospitals to enable them to enlarge their facilities for providing at comparatively small expense, for the admission and treatment of contagious diseases.

In comment on this proposition it is obvious that it is worthy of consideration. The Examiner would very much like to see a sufficiently large, well equipped isolation hospital. The experience of the town the past year or so has indicated its necessity. But the erection of such a hospital would be something in the nature of an admission that we are to continue to have the large prevalence of contagious disease we have been affected with. It would look like an admission that the unsanitary conditions from which the epidemic of contagious disease has largely sprung, were to be considered permanent. It would be tantamount to the conclusion that the civic authorities and the health authorities were to a large extent thus relieved from the responsibility of taking action to improve our sanitary conditions.

The extension of our sewerage system, the greatly reduced water rates, will permit of a vast improvement of our sanitary conditions and such a consequent diminition of contagious diseases as may make the arrangement proposed by Rev. Father McColl amply sufficient, as he holds it will be for even such conditions as have existed the past few months. A man seriously ill who makes his will, naturally expects the worst to happen. The erection of an isolation hospital, though it would be a most desirable, and in default of other provision, necessary, addition to our organized appliances for the treatment of disease, would in one sense be an admission that we expect no improvement to our sanitary condition, which it is evident can be vastly bettered, not only in relation to contagious, but to most other diseases which can be traced to a neglect of sanitary precautions. Prevention is proverbially better than cure, especially when the curative element of the antithesis is so often wanting.

THE REFORM SCHEME

Has Caused an Open Revolt in Northern Albania.

THE UPRISING IS SERIOUS.

Panic Among the Christians of Old Servia—Many of Them Have Been Murdered—Severe Fighting and Heavy Loss With Turkish Garrison at Mitrovitza—Servian Gendarmes Maltreated.

Constantinople, April 2.—Details of the disturbances in North Albania show that the revolt which has broken out here against the reform scheme of the powers is a very serious disturbance. Several thousand armed Albanians surrounded the town of Vuesteen on the Mitrovitza-Uskub Railroad, March 29, and demanded the surrender of eleven Servian gendarmes who had been enlisted in accordance with the reform plans. The Governor surrendered the Servians, who were bound and taken to Pristina, after having been maltreated.

A number of the Servian inhabitants and bands of Albanians later surrounded Mitrovitza and serious fighting ensued with the Turkish garrison, consisting of three thousand troops. The fighting continued until March 30, when the Albanians finally were repulsed with great loss. Heavy reinforcements have been ordered from the Vilayet of Aiden, Asia Minor and other places to suppress the rebellion.

The Albanian rising has caused a panic among the Christians of old Servia, who are fleeing towards Servia.

A panic has occurred at Prilep in consequence of the growing fanaticism of Albanians against the Christians. The latter have closed their shops and schools and are preparing to seek refuge at Monastir. Numbers of Christians have been murdered in the Prilep district during the past few days.

Considerable apprehension is felt at the Russian Embassy for the safety of M. Stoherbina, the Consul of Russia at Mitrovitze.

The outbreak made a great impression at the palace. The Sultan was intensely exercised and measures were immediately taken to watch the two Albanian battalions belonging to the Imperial Guard, on duty at the Yildiz Kiosk, in order to prevent disorder at the palace.

The Russian Ambassador at Constantinople has been instructed to protest to the Turkish Government against the insubordination of the Albanians.

Vienna, April 2.—A despatch to The Neue Freie Presse from Belgrade, Servia, says M. Stoherbina, the Russian Consul at Mitrovitza, has been wounded in the back.

Troops Off to the Front.

Salonica, European Turkey, April 2.—Special trains with troops on board are proceeding from Monastir and other places to Vuesteen, where severe fighting recently occurred. It is reported here that there were 200 casualties. Sixteen battalions of Anatolian Redifs have been ordered to Salonica.

WARSHIPS MAY MEET SOON.

Progress of the Revolution in the Republic of Santo Domingo.

San Domingo, Republic of Santo Domingo, April 2.—The Dominican warship Presidente, flying the flag of President Vasquez, arrived off this port early Sunday, and then left after exchanging cannon shots with the fort. No damage was done on either side. The situation is becoming very serious, and the arrival here of a foreign warship is anxiously awaited.

The revolutionary warship Independencia is expected back from Azua de Compostella hourly, with former President Figuerero on board, and a battle between the two warships may result. The city is quiet, but the inhabitants are very much alarmed.

Wholesale Grocers to Combine.

Toronto, April 2.—A meeting of wholesale grocers was held yesterday to consider the question of combining into one big business, and late last night H. C. Beckett of Hamilton handed out an announcement, to the effect that a number of leading Ontario wholesale grocers are making application for a charter to carry on business as the Canada Grocers, Limited. The capitalization of the company is to be $5,000,000, of which a large proportion has already been subscribed.

Man Kills Brother and Sister and Self.

Kansas City, Mo., April 2.—Frank Candee, aged 45 years, has shot and mortally wounded his brother, Nathan, and his sister, Miss Oline, after which he shot and fatally wounded himself. Murderer is believed to have been demented.

PAINFUL PERIODS

are overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Menard cured after doctors failed to help her.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after doctors had failed, and I want other girls to know about it. During menstruation I suffered most intense pain low in the abdomen and in my limbs. At other times I had a heavy, depressed feeling which made my work seem twice as hard, and I grew pale and thin. The medicine the doctor gave me did not do me one bit of good, and I was thoroughly discouraged. The doctor wanted me to stop work, but, of course, I could not do that. I finally began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt better after taking the first bottle, and after taking six bottles I was entirely cured, and am now in perfect health, and I am so grateful for it."—Miss GEORGIE MENARD, 537 E. 152nd St., New York City.—

PERTINENT TRADE FIGURES.

Canadian-British and United States Trade Compared.

Great Britain not Losing Ground nor Decaying.

Canada's exports to the United States in the fiscal year 1902 were worth $71,197,684; her imports from the States for consumption were worth $120,814,750. This state of affairs is described by certain political speakers and writers as simply awful, and they demand an immediate increase of the Canadian tariff to bring about an equilibtium of trade between the two countries. They are not placated by the statement that our exports to Britain were $117,329,221, while our imports from Britain were only $49,206,062, and that the "favourable" balance in one case offsets the "unfavourable" balance in the other. It satisfies them not to be told that the Canadian treasury gets $15,155,136 of customs revenue from the imports from the United States. They are not alarmed by the suggestion that higher duties on United States products would make Canadian consumers pay higher prices, while the Canadian treasury would get less revenue. They want a Canadian tariff as high as the United States tariff, and nothing else will suit them.

Would that particular kind of medicine cure the disease? The United States has the kind of tariff that is recommended for Canada, yet the United States buys more from some countries than she sells to those countries. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw addressed the New Orleans Board of Trade on Saturday, and in the course of his speech he said that the United States takes from Brasil more than 40 per cent. of all she has to sell, but sells to her in return only 10 per cent. of all she has to buy. "We buy," he said, "of South American countries one hundred and ten millions per annum and sell the same countries thirty-five millions per annum. In ten years the balance of trade against us has been seven hundred and thirty millions. We buy of Brasil seventy-five millions per annum, and sell her thirteen millions. We buy of the West Indies seventy-eight millions per annum, and we sell them twenty-nine millions, an annual balance against us in those islands alone of practically fifty millions. In thirty years we have bought of South America two thousand five hundred millions, more than 85 per cent of which has been admitted free of duty, and in return have sold the same countries less than nine hundred millions. The balance against us in this period has been more than a billion and a half. The foreign importer is about the same character of man as the American importer. He buys where he can buy to the best advantage, and without regard to the balance of trade between his country and the one in which he buys."

Mr. Shaw proposes to after these conditions by a policy of steamship subsidies. "In forty years," he says, "the foreign commerce of the United States has increased 400 per cent., but foreign commerce in American bottoms has decreased 65 per cent. In other words, we now have four times as many tons of freight to carry across the sea as we had forty years ago, but we actually carry in American bottoms only one-third as many tons as we carried forty years ago. We get about 10 per cent. of the commerce of South America, and we carry only 10 per cent. of that 10 per cent. in our own ships."

Meanwhile, old John Bull, who doesn't take the slightest pains to reduce imports from any particular country, or from the world at large, and who does not fret in the least when his trade returns show an excess of imports over exports, continues to prosper at the old stand. Mr. T. F. Kingswill, a London, Ontario merchant, and a Tory, who has just returned from Europe, says there is no danger of Britain losing trade, and the talk of American invasion is all nonsense. "Do you know," he said the other day, "that there is more building going on in old London than there is in any other place in the world? It is so. Residential property is extending north, west and south in the metropolis, and there is no sign of this progress abating. There is no doubt John Bull is working very quietly and very effectively. It does not matter whether it is in linen, cotton, wool or even silk, he is doing a bigger business now than he ever did before. John Bull does not make much bluster, but he is working just the same, and what is more, the progress he is making is substantial. Where he excels is in the quality of the goods. That is what the business world demands.

"People say the English manufacturer is going back in his method of producing goods. That is another mistake. Every new piece of machinery that comes out in the United States goes to England, and there it is improved upon and kept up to the front with the other countries. Where can it be figured that he is going back? In all his goods John Bull has the colour, appearance, effect, and last, but not least, durability. In the German stuff you get effect, but it has no durability. It is perishable. What is more, the British manufacturer has the net trade. It is generally conceded that while the patterns originate in England, they are taken to France and other countries and slightly changed."

Ready-to-Serve Fad Foods Are Tried and Found Wanting.

Fad foods—cereal preparations—that come to the table cold, cheerless and rough looking to be eaten with milk colder than the foods, are never recommended by food experts and physicians for the production of physical energy, vim and force. It is the steaming hot dish of Malt Breakfast Food that bestows nourishment, energy, strength and true life to body and brain. Malt Breakfast Food cannot be ranked with ready-to-use fads; it is as far ahead of these as the diamond is superior to common glass. It is delicious, appetising and palate-tickling, bestowing in the fullest measure its blessings—perfect digestion, pure blood, rosy cheeks and lasting health. All grocers sell Malt Breakfast Food.

LEADING UP TO ADJOURNMENT.

The Close of a Notable Debate in the Legislature.

Adjournment of the House for Three Weeks.

The exhausted arguments in the Gamey Commission debate passed in brief review before the House on Tuesday, and the adjournment till April 21st was carried on a party vote. Evidently the Opposition appreciate the futility of any further effort to sustain the pretence that the investigation will be incomplete. The Government have made every change necessary to meet the complaints and remove the disabilities, real or imaginary, of those undertaking the prosecution of the charges. But with every accepted suggestion came new demands, until there was no doubt as to the determination to force a refusal and thus pose as being suppressed. The climax was the amendment of Mr. Gamey, which sought to incorporate a protracted statement before the House in a clause of an act enlarging the scope of the evidence.

Mr. Carscallen opened with a lengthy speech in favour of an amendment directing the commissioners not to make findings as to facts, but to report the proceedings and all the evidence given and tendered. How anyone can be hurt by the decision of the judges, according to evidence presented to them, was not made clear. This was pointed out by Mr. Gibson, who reminded Mr. Carscallen that he would have a chance to show the House how utterly wrong the Judges were in their decision. All the amendments of the previous day, and new ones by Mr. St. John and Mr. Gamey, the latter hurriedly sent to him from the upper deaks, were submitted in order and voted down. The month's supplies, amounting to $345,000, were voted, after the removal of an amendment by Mr. Matheson regretting delay over the issuing of the North Renfrew election writ.

A little breeze sprang up over the motion for the long adjournment. The Premier showed that it would not be possible for the Ministry nor the members to give the necessary attention to public business while the investigation was in progress. The Government did not feel inclined to undertake anything more more than routine work till the affair was cleared up and they could show themselves worthy of the confidence of the House and of the country. Mr. Whitney protested against the long adjournment with a vehemence born of the fear that it was his last chance to grow violent over the Gamey charges. In the Premier's explanation he could read an acknowledgment that the Government was on trial, not merely the Provincial Secretary. He argued that the Legislature should sit from day to day in readiness for any emergency and protested against leaving the Government free from the control of the House. The concluding scene of the first act was the entrance of Chief Justice Charles Moss, who, in his capacity of Administrator, gave royal assent to the act respecting evidence before the commission.

THE VERONICA MUTINY.

Investigation of Murder Charge Against Members of Crew.

London, April 2.—The authorities here have ordered Police Inspector Duckworth to go to the United States and obtain information regarding the five mutineers of the British bark Veronica, from Ship Island, Miss., who were landed at Liverpool January 29 by the British steamer Brunswick. The Veronica was burned at sea December 29, and four members of her crew, who were picked up near the Island of Madeira, were charged by the colored cook, also one of the survivors, with having murdered Captain Shaw of the Veronica; the mate of that vessel, Mr. McLeod; the second mate, Mr. Abrahamson; the steward, Miles Thomas, and four of the seamen, and with having set fire to the ship. The accused men were then formally charged with murder and the cook was held as a witness.

ONLY PARTLY TRUE.

Popular Ideas Regarding Catarrh.

It is the common belief that what is popularly known as catarrh is simply a chronic cold in the head. This is true as far as it goes but as a matter of fact catarrh is by no means confined to the nasal passages, but extends wherever the mucous membrane extends, which means nearly every part of the body.

The mucous membrane is the inside skin of the body and is nearly as extensive as the outside skin, and any inflammation of this membrane causing an extra secretion of fluid is really catarrh.

Catarrh is therefore an old enemy, disguised by many confusing names, for instance:—Rhinitis is nasal catarrh; laryngitis and pharyngitis throat catarrh; gastritis, stomach catarrh; cystitis and nephritis, catarrh of the bladder and kidneys.

Therefore, although the location of the trouble gives it various names, in reality the sum total is catarrh, and nothing else.

Do not make the mistake of thinking that you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is a cough, tickling in the throat and hoarseness, you have throat catarrh; if there is no appetite, but nausea, gagging and disgust for food, especially in the morning, you have catarrh of the stomach.

The surest treatment for every form of catarrh is an internal remedy which acts especially on the blood and mucous membranes; such a remedy is the new preparation sold everywhere by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a medicine in pleasant tablet form, and containing all the best and latest specifics for catarrh.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain in highly concentrated form, blood root, red gum of the Eucalyptus tree, and many other equally valuable curative elements, and no one who suffers from any form of catarrh, and has seen the inefficiency of douches, powders and sprays, will ever go back to them after once trying so pleasant a preparation as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and one which gives so much relief in so short a time.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50c. for full sized package and the regular daily use of them will effectually cure this troublesome and dangerous disease.

PROHIBIT CIGARETS.

Resolution Passed by the House of Commons.

THE MANUFACTURE AND SALE

Mr. Puttee Makes a Vigorous Speech Against Railway Accommodation For Immigrants—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine's Montreal Speech—Mr. Guthrie's Relating to Safety of Railway Employes.

Ottawa, April 2.—After the heavy day's work Tuesday the House of Commons had a short session, adjourning at 9.15 last evening, because the Opposition were unprepared to discuss the estimates in Committee of Supply, and all the private members' business on the order paper having been disposed of.

The greater part of the afternoon was consumed in an animated debate upon the resolution favoring the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of cigarettes, offered by Mr. Bickerdike, Montreal. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, while opposing the motion, announced that the Government had laid down no policy on the question, and each person was free to vote as he pleased. The resolution carried by 103 to 48.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine explained that in his recent speech at Montreal he had not made any announcement of Government policy, and a lively discussion in French and English ensued between Mr. Monk, who introduced the question, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and others.

During the debate Mr. Puttee (Winnipeg) made a vigorous protest against the wretched accommodation provided by the C.P.R. for the large number of settlers who arrived a few days ago at Halifax, and Sir William Mulock, acting Minister of the Interior, agreed that the strongest pressure ought to be brought to bear in order to secure suitable accommodation for settlers arriving at Canadian ports.

Bills Introduced.

The following bills were introduced yesterday. An act to incorporate Lumbermen's Fire Insurance Company—Mr. Charlton. An act to incorporate the Northwest Coal and Railway Company—Mr. Scott. To incorporate MacLeod, Cardston and Montana Railway Company—Mr. Scott. Ontario and Quebec Power Company—Mr. Belcourt. Mr. Scott's bill to compel railways to plow fire guards along their lines in the west was given a second reading. Mr. Lennox was told yesterday that the Government would not bring in an insolvent act, as the time was not opportune.

Safety of Railway Employes.

Mr. Guthrie's bill in amendment of the Railway Act was given a first reading yesterday. It provides: 1. If any attempt was made by an employer to contract out of his common law liability in the case of accidents, such attempt shall not stand unless it can be shown that a fair, reasonable and adequate recompense was given. 2. It shall be optional for an employe to join railway benefit societies. 3. Present members of such societies may be allowed to withdraw on giving due notice. 4. The provisions of this bill shall apply to Government railways. He said he hoped his bill would go through, as it was needed legislation and should meet with the approval of the House.

Questions and Answers.

Some information in reply to questions made by M. P.'s was given yesterday. Mr. Clarke was told that the Canadian General Electric Company had experimented with new lights in the chamber, but at no expense to the Government.

Dr. Roche was informed that since July 1, 1902, no blocks of Dominion lands in the west had been sold en block, but an option on 50,000 acres had been given the Canadian Northwest Irrigation Company at $8 an acre, with the promise of a rebate of $2 an acre for every acre irrigated.

Mr. Clare was told that since Jan. 1, 1902, the following articles were put on the free list: Material used in construction of cream separators, hemp bleaching compound, silver tubing, steel used in making cutlery, jute, linen and hemp to make towels, malleable iron or steel castings in the rough, linseed oil for tanning fish, bleached palm oil.

The duty on newspapers had been reduced from 25 to 15 per cent. ad valorem.

Col. Tisdale was told that the Government agents in charge of Indian reservations in Ontario were guardians of minors, but not ex-officio guardians of Canadian Indians.

The Cigaret Question.

The power exerted by women and boys on the Legislatures of Canada were made evident yesterday when the following resolution, introduced by Mr. Bickerdike (Montreal), aiming at sumptuary legislation was carried by a vote of 103 to 48:

That the object of good government is to promote the general welfare of the people by a careful encouragement and protection of whatever makes for the public good, and by an equally careful discouragement and suppression of whatever tends to public disadvantage.

That the smoking of cigarets has been proved by overwhelming testimony to be productive of serious physical and moral injury to young people, impairing health, arresting development, weakening intellectual power, and thus constituting a serious and national evil.

The legislation licensing and restricting the sale of cigarets has not proven sufficient to prevent these evils, which will continue while the public sale of the cause of the mischief is permitted to go on.

That this House is of the opinion, for the reasons herein set forth that the most effective legislation governing remedies for these evils is to be found in the enactment and enforcement of a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of cigarets.

Dr. Sproule asked what course the Premier proposed taking, now that the resolution had carried.

Sir Wilfrid—I propose to give up smoking. (Laughter.)

Automatic Grain Weighers.

Mr. Stewart (Lisgar) moved for all papers relating to grain weighers. He declared that the threshers of the west were in the position that they could not collect their accounts against customers in the courts. They are paid by the job and by the number of bushels threshed. Often the owner of a threshing outfit claimed as high as $800 for a threshing, but because threshing machines had no standard grain weigher attached he could not go into court and collect his accounts. A grain weigher had been invented that was absolutely correct, but the Minister of Inland Revenue had declined to sanction it. The condition of the thresher was hard.

Mr. Boyd said the Hon. Mr. Bernier had promised a year ago to authorize a grain weigher that was exhibited to him. But within the past six months a new man had come into the department, a blacksmith and scale maker, and had changed the opinion of the Minister. Meanwhile the western thresher had suffered gross neglect.

Dr. Roche added to the discussion, and Mr. Scott had the floor when the Speaker called 6 o'clock. The question will come up again.

Mr. Prefontaine's Speech.

Before the orders of the day were called Mr. Monk brought up Mr. Prefontaine's recent address in Montreal, and asked if the reports published were correct, and if it was to be taken as a Government declaration of policy on the tariff, the transportation commission and the new transcontinental railway.

Mr. Prefontaine explained that he made no declaration of policy, that he had not gone beyond the subjects mentioned in the speech from the throne, and that in his reference to the members of the transportation commission he had merely used names that had already been mentioned in the newspapers.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Monk pressed the question, and an animated discussion in French resulted between Mr. Monk and the Minister. Usually French addresses in the House are simply set speeches, and the rapid fire between the front benches was heartily enjoyed by both French and English members, although the House was but poorly attended.

Mr. Bennett brought up Sir Wm. Mulock's Toronto speech in the same connection.

Poor Railway Accomodation.

Mr. Puttee (Winnipeg) brought to the notice of the Government the fact that the accommodation afforded the English immigrants now en route to the West was scandalous and indecent. He had made a personal inspection of the cars that passed through Ottawa, had talked to passengers and thought that common decency had not been meted out to those who were to be our countrymen and build up the West. He considered the herding of immigrants in day cars without the absolute conveniences for travel was a serious reflection on Canada and the methods of the Department of the Interior. The aisles of the cars had been used to sleep on. In only one car of a whole train could water be got. There were no parcel racks, no berths, no separate lavatories, and altogether the condition of the cars was scandalous. He called on the Government to seek an immediate remedy for other immigrants who were coming, and the present state of affairs should not be allowed to continue.

Sir William Mulock.

Sir William Mulock said that Mr. Puttee had done the Government and the country a service by bringing this matter into the notice of the House. It was the duty of the Government, by all the means in its power, to prevent a repetition of the complaint made by Mr. Puttee. The railways, ir was true, have experienced unexpected difficulties when confronted with such large demands upon their rolling stock, owing to the large immigration, such as this country has never before enjoyed. But he agreed with Mr. Puttee that no excuses could be accepted from the railway companies, but every possible pressure should be brought to bear in order that transportation of the incoming settlers shall be creditable.

The House adjourned at 9.15.

Shattered Systems Rebuilt In Springtime By PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Mr. Guild Says:

"Your Medicine Has Done Wonders for Me."

The many marvellous cures wrought for the sick, suffering and diseased, by Paine's Celery Compound should compel the attention of every prudent and judicious person who feels that he or she is out of health in the spring time. The run-down, weak, sleepless, neuralgic, rheumatic and those afflicted with blood troubles, should realize at once that Paine's Celery Compound frees the system from the seeds of disease, and deadly impurities, strengthens the tired nerves, arouses a hearty appetite, regulates the sluggish bowels, and gives normal action to the liver. A few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound used at once, means the building of a vigorous health for the coming summer. Mrs. S. E. Guild, Ellershouse, N.S., gratefully writes as follows:

"I wish to express my gratitude for the great good accomplished in my case for your Paine's Celery Compound. My whole system was rundown and shattered. I was under the care of several doctors but they did not seem to understand my case, and could do nothing for me. I commenced using your Paine's Celery Compound, and it soon made me a new man. My nervous system is completely built up; my appetite is healthy, and I feel better and stronger than ever before. Paine's Celery Compound has done these wonders for me, and I cannot thank you sufficiently."

Nice, France, April 2.—Count Elliott Zeborowski of New York was killed yesterday in an automobile hill-climbing race between Nice and La Turbie. Count Zeborowski's car turned a sharp angle too quickly, toppled over and was wrecked. The Count was hurled against the wreck, his head was split open and he died instantly.

THE "STRIKE" AT THE DAM.

A Matter of Very Modest Proportions.

A paragraph that appeared yesterday, without saying as much, tended to give the impression that some seventy labourers on the Cereal Works dam had gone out on strike. The facts are that about half a dozen agitators talked some of their fellow employees into the idea of quitting work, and these others to the number of thirty or thirty-five "went out." The "strike" on the part of most of those who went out, was purely sympathetic, as some of those declared that they did not want to quit; and, as a matter of fact, the latter asked to be taken back before noon. These were taken back, but the "agitators" were discharged. There was no ground for discontent with the wages received, $1.50 per day for labourers, which is as high, if not higher, than the current rate for this class of labour elsewhere. In fact the employment agent of a large railway corporation was in town offering $1.40 per day as the top wage for labourers. The contractor for the dam has established a reputation for paying good wages. During the winter he was paying $1.25 per day—nine hours—for labour, a time when it is acknowledged a man, owing to the conditions, cannot do as much work, by a great deal, as at other times.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Late Mr. Aldus Mowry at Nicholls Hospital.

It is with profound regret that the Examiner has to report the sad death of Mr. Aldus A. Mowry, who died at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday morning.

The deceased was 78 years of age, and has been in the hospital, owing to a weak heart, since the first week in January of this year. The deceased succumbed to dropsy.

His father, the late Marcello Mowry, lived in Ashburnham, and the deceased has resided in Peterborough almost all his life. He was a pattern maker by trade and as such was very successful. The late Mr. Mowry married Margaret Nagle, who predeceased him about a year. He leaves no children. The late highly-esteemed resident has three brothers living, Richard, of town, John, of Toronto, and Bradley, of Gravenhurst.

The funeral took place this afternoon at three o'clock, from his late residence, 254 McDonel street, to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the interment took place.

A. R. M. BIBLE CLASS

Presented Address to Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil Last Night.

In the Y.M.C.A. building last night the members of the A.R.M. Bible Club presented Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil, of the Collegiate Institute staff, with an address in remembrance of the happy hours wich have occurred since Mr. Sorsoleil took over the instruction of the Club. After the address had been read, refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening spent. The address, which was presented by Mr. W. B. Warren, was read by Mr. J. D. Campbell, one of the members o fthe Club, and was as follows:—

Dear Friend and Teacher,—The members of the "A.R.M." Bible Class in connection with the Y.M.C.A. desire to express to you their appreciation of the special privileges they have enjoyed under your teaching. The instruction imparted has been most valuable and given us a better understanding of the sacred scriptures. Chapter by chapter has been so interestingly explained to us that new light has been unfolded which has stimulated a greater love for our Bibles.

By your genial manner and the cheerfulness with which you have discharged your duties as our teacher, you have endeared yourself to the members of the class, and we pray that the blessings of God may be vouchsafed to yourself and family.

It affords us the sincerest pleasure to ask your acceptance of this small gift which may serve to remind you of the pleasant and profitable hours we have enjoyed together.

BIBLE CLASS SAID FAIRWELL

To Mrs. John Creba, who is Leaving Town.

A very social time was spent at the residence of Mr. Wm. Yelland, London street, last night, when the members of Miss Richardson's Bible class assembled to say good-bye to one of their number and express their esteem and affection with a gift of a handsome silver fruit spoon. The following address was read by Miss M. Brown:

Dear Mrs. Creba,—We, the members of Miss Mina Richardson's Bible Class of George street Methodist Sunday School, with our teacher, have heard of your contemplated departure from Peterborough. On the eve of your departure we, who have been so long and pleasantly associated with you in Sunday School work, would like to express to you our feelings of regret at your departure.

We now call to mind the many happy and profitable afternoons spent together in the study of the Holy Scriptures.

We are very certain that we shall miss you very much from our class. We trust, however, that you new home may be pleasant, and your new associations agreeable ones. Still we believe you will find no fairer town than our own Peterborough; no truer friends than the class-mates you leave behind you. We all join in wishing yourself and Mr. Creba a happy future, and that your interest in the study of the Holy Scriptures will increase as the years go by.

May God's choicest blessings rest upon you and yours is our prayer.

Please accept the accompanying little gift as a small token of the affection and esteem in which you are held by your teacher and class-mates.

Mrs. Yelland then made the presentation.

It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Creba, but she thanked the class for their kind words and handsome gift.

Refreshments were served and a very social time spent, which will be remembered by all.

THE CEREAL WORKS DAM.

Contractor O'Toole now Making Rapid Progress.

Operations on the construction work of the Cereal Company's new dam have been somewhat interrupted by high water. This involved considerable work to overcome the conditions thus created, but they were overcome, and now work at all points is being carried forward at full swing. The excavation for the power house was flooded, but it has been unwatered and protected from further influx, and work will to-day or to-morrow be begun upon the power house, which is included in Mr. O'Toole's contract. Everything now indicates that, barring accident of an unusual or formidable nature, or possible change of plan, the dam will be turned over completed on the date required by the terms of the contract—next December.

REGULAR LENTEN SERVICE

Held in St. John's Church Last Night.

VERY INTERESTING ADDRESS

Given by Rev. W. H. Tandy, of Havelock,

His Subject Being "Religious and Common Life"—Mr. Tandy's Success in Ecclesiastical Work.

The regular Lenten address at St. John's church, was delivered last night by Rev. W. H. Tandy, M.A., of Havelock, on the subject of "Religion in Common Life." Mr. Tandy's representation of the subject was interesting and picturesque, and greatly appreciated by all present.

THE ADDRESS.

The preacher began his consideration of "Religion in Common Life," by a reference to realism in present-day art. Such works of Millet, as "The Man with the Hoe," "The Gleaners," "The Angelus," were instanced as embodying the artist's attempt to "Paint the thing as he sees it,
For the God of things as they are."

Millet's realism, however, was criticised as defective, in that it took no account of the joys that transfigure even the humblest life—of the Ideal that finds or makes itself in the poorest Real. The works of German realists were mentioned as being an attempt to project the same point of view into the past, and to strip even the sacred story of traditional embellishments. But with the introduction of the figure of Jesus Christ into even the scenes of humblest life, it was remarked, a transformation was effected. The Ideal was seen amid the Real; and the painter realized in picture what the preacher asked his hearers to realise in thought—the possibilities of "Religion in Common Life." For what is religion in the Christian view of it, but just the presence of Jesus? And if He, whose first apostles were poor fishermen, and who Himself wrought at the carpenter's bench—if He cannot enter and touch with the light of another world the poorest human lot, then indeed is our faith vain and our preaching vain.

A UNIVERSAL RELIGION.

For, mark you, the religion of Jesus claims to be a universal religion. We believe in the Holy Catholic Church, and if that sacred symbol still has any meaning amid the modern pandemonium of sects, its meaning is this, the Church that was made and meant for all; not only for the rich, who can subscribe liberally to its funds; not only for the cultured, who may find an aesthetic enjoyment in the music, or an intellectual diversion in its sermons, but for all. If our Church has no message for the poor, for the ignorant, for the toiler, for him who shares the common lot, then has she indeed forfeited all right to her sacred Catholic name, and become a comfortable social and religious club. But indeed the case is far otherwise. We know that He who said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world," still lives and is the life of His church, and imparts Himself to her members. We know that when children are brought to His holy baptism, His hands are outstretched, as of old, in blessing.

We know that at the solemn moment
"When trembling at the sacred rail
We hide our eyes and hold our breath;
Feel Him, how strong, our hearts now frail,
And long to own Him to the death."

We know that He, both Victim and Priest, speaks the words that give even to us the priceless treasures of His body and blood. And we know, too, that His sacramental gifts, that the life He so imparts, He imparts to all who call upon Him. Then no poor man's poverty, no busy man's business, no sinful man's sin, even, if it be sincerely repented of, need keep him away.

And yet when we have to face the fact that even in a Christian land, like ours, there are many who know of and care for nothing of all this—who are absorbed in pleasure or in sin, or in business and in the affairs of common life, and whose life is common, just because Jesus never enters it; because His church and its sacramental life is nothing to them, or is only a conventionality—a sort of polite bow they make to the Almighty once a week, and then put out of mind for six days more. We have to face this fact. We have to realize that there is a wide spread scepticism to-day as to whether religion has any applicability to common life at all; whether, in other words, Christianity is in any sense a practical thing. This scepticism has many forms. In my early days I have myself heard it proclaimed in the economic lecture room that the Sermon on the Mount was an impractical and impracticable deliverance, which could find no sort of realisation in society, governed by modern laws of competition, but must wait for an ideal environment before it could be put into practice.

CHRISTIANITY PRACTICABLE FOR ALL.

The learned scepticism has its counterpart in the popular scepticism of the man—and there are many such—who will tell you that in his peculiar circumstances and calling it is impossible to live a Christain life. Impossible to be a Christian man and a railway man at the same time! Men have told me so with seriousness and all earnestness. Impossible to be a diplomat or a business man, or a newspaper man, and yet a genuine Christian man! It is this practical scepticism that gives occasion to books like Sheldon's "In His Steps," a work which may be perhaps open to criticism from the standpoint of theology, and yet seems to me to be a manly and sensible attempt to grapple with the problem.

Now there is only one answer that we as Christians can give to scepticism which denies to our Lord the right to enter any phase of society which refuses to recognize His teaching as applicable to any particular calling or department of human affairs. He is the Son Crowned Mountain which refuses to bow its lofty summit at the bidding of the Mohammed of worldiness. Mohammed must go up to the mountain—the mountain refuses to come down to Mohammed. He—the Christ—is the Divine teacher. His teachings are Divinely true and therefore when rationally interpreted, entirely practical. If a man finds it absolutely impossible to live a Christian life in his present environment, whether that environment be a Government Bureau, or a newspaper office, or a railroad, or a business house, or what is called polite society, or what not—there is only one thing for him to do. Even though that calling or that environment seems as necessary and as much a part of himself as his right eye and right hand, he must cut it off and cast it from him.

CHURCH AND HUMAN LIFE.

But, indeed, I believe there is no honest calling into which a man may not enter and take Christ with him. It is the churche's work to proclaim this universality of her own mission, this willingness of their Master to enter and sanctify every department of human life and work; to let man see that the pillar and the hermitage and the monastery are not the types of a normal Christianity, but that worship and work, labour and prayer may, and should, go hand in hand. And if the task seems slow and religion, instead of being the soul of common life, seems to stand apart from it, seem sometimes to dwell only in its consecrated house, and to flash its light athwart the path of man only on its consecrated days, yet let us not fear the issue. The church is itself the pledge of the ultimate sanctification of the world. Her Holy baptism is the prophesy and the figure of a coming time, when every life that God gives shall be consecrated to His service. Her sacred days of praise and prayer, as they come and go, year by year, point forward to the time when every day shall be a Holy, a sacred day devoted to God's service. The font and altars and sacred vessels speak to those who will hear of the coming age of gold, when even the bridles of the horses shall have written upon them "Holiness to the Lord." The Holy communion contains in itself the promise that some day every household meal shall be a sacrament of love, at which the Christ Himself will be an unseen, yet really present, guest. As surely as the first fruits are the symbols of the harvest, as certainly as Christ's resurrection from the dead is the pledge that we too shall rise, so surely, so certainly is the church and her worship a symbol, the pledge, that religion will yet permiate and leven and transform Common Life, and that the kingdoms of this world shall one day become the kingdom of Jehovah and of this Christ.

Rev. W. H. Tandy, previous to taking Orders, was editor of the Kingston News, and as such built himself a name for mental ability and earnest devotion to duty. When the reverend gentleman was given charge of the parish of Havelock, that parocial district was in a most depressed condition, but by the Rector's perseverence and zeal was advanced to a prominent place amongst the towns both large and small in this county. Mr. Tandy is regarded as no ordinary clergyman, he is one with a promising future in the work of the church.

BELLEVILLE ROLLING MILLS

May be Moved to Quebec, Says the Ontario.

Belleville Ontario.

The Belleville rolling mills plant may be removed to Quebec. It looks as though the present owners have no intention of operating the plant here and that their advertising has succeeded in getting a buyer for the property.

Mayor Graham has received a communication from a bank in Quebec, asking if the plant could be removed from Belleville, and he replied that the owners could remove everything but the buildings by paying the corporation $15,000. The Mayor is of the opinion and he does not hesitate to say, that he believes the present owners do not intend running the mills in Belleville.

How to Ward off an Attack of Rheumatism.

"For years, when spring time came on and I went into gardening, I was sure to have an attack of rheumatism and every attack was more severe than the preceding one," says Josie Macdonald, of Man, Logan County, West Virginia. "I tried everything with no relief, until I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application gave me ease, and before the first bottle was used I felt like a new person. Now I feel that I am cured, but I always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house and when I feel any symptoms of a return I soon drive it away with one or two applications of this liniment. ECZEMA

For Years Mrs. Ellen Smith, Montreal, Suffered From Eczema—Nearly Three Years in Bed and Treated in Three Different Hospitals.

Five Bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone Cured Her Completely, When She Threw Away the Crutches She Had Been Compelled to Use.

I was a fearful sufferer from eczema for many years. The disease centred in both limbs below the knees. The left especially was swollen to alarming dimensions, while the inflammation, irritation and hard, scaly condition induced a degree of suffering which only the mercy of God prevented me from ending in suicide.

I spent the best of three years on my back, besides different periods in three hospitals. When at home I could not go as far as the next room without the aid of crutches, and altogether my case was considered past help, for I had had the best skill in the country to no purpose.

I have now used five bottles of Ozone and I rejoice to say that both limbs are reduced to their normal size, the burning is entirely gone and I can walk alone with perfect ease, although I am now sixty years of age

The Ozone also cured an advanced stage of liver disorder, and I am willing at all times to tell my experience to other sufferers.

MRS. ELLEN SMITH,
31 St. Andre St., Montreal.

Wanted—A Chronic Case of Eczema That Ozone Will Not Cure.

Powley's Liquified Ozone has been used with such pronounced success in cases of Eczema and other skin and blood diseases that we are positive that there is no case so bad that it will not cure it. By destroying the germs of the disease it goes right to the root of the trouble and effects cures when drug preparations prove most disastrous failures. Mrs. Smith's case is a case in point. Though sixty years of age Ozone cured her after all drug preparations had failed. Powley's Liquified Ozone is sold by all reliable druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.

A Fifty Cent Box of Powley's Ozone Ointment

FREE.

In severe cases, where a more speedy cure is desired, Powley's Ozone Ointment is recommended for external application. It destroys the outside germs and hastens the time when the skin will be as clean and smooth as that of a baby.

To any person suffering from Eczema or any other skin or blood disease who will take the trouble to cut out and mail to us the following coupon we will mail free of charge a regular fifty cent box of Powley's Ozone Ointment:

This Coupon Is Worth 50 Cents.

and if you will mail me a fifty cent box of Powley's Ozone Ointment free I will agree to give it a fair trial in connection with Powley's Liquified Ozone.

STRUCK ON APRIL 1.

Thousands of Men Stop Work in the United States.

BIG BUILDING TRADE STRIKE.

20,000 Men May Be Affected—5,000 Men Quit Work in Chicago—300 Employes of the Canadian Bridge Company Out at Walkerville—A Trades Congress Delegation to the Ontario Government.

New York, April 2.—A general strike in the building trade, which may involve between fifteen thousand and twenty thousand men, and extending from the Bronx River to the Connecticut border, was inaugurated yesterday. The men demand an 8-hour day, with Saturday half holiday, and the following scale:—Plumbers, $4 a day; lathers, $4.20; carpenters, $3.60; painters, $3.28; bricklayers, masons and plasterers, $4.20; tinners, $3.28, and bench and machine men $17 a week. A proposition to meet the men half-way was rejected. Work was stopped on several new mansions along the sound to-day, between three and four thousand men having failed to report for work.

1,000 Men Out at Greenwich, Conn.

Greenwich, Conn., April 2.—Nearly 1,000 men employed in the building trades in this and neighboring towns struck yesterday for an increase in wages, Saturday half holiday and the use of material bearing the union label, while the contractors have a rush of work on hand, including a number of summer residences, and would be willing to consider the pay increase asked for. They object to the Saturday half holiday and the demand for the exclusive use of union-made material.

Carpenters Are Out.

Oswego, April 2.—Carpenters and laborers went on strike here yesterday. The action of the laborers also throws stonemasons out of work. The carpenters demand an 8-hour day at present wages, $2.25 a day, with permission to take private contracts. The laborers want an 8-hour day at $1.50, as at present.

Strikes in Chicago.

Chicago, April 2.—Tanners, to the number of 3,000, employed in this city, have voted to strike, while, under orders from their chiefs at Cleveland, marine firemen, oilers and water tenders, also refused to work yesterday. The action of the tanners was the result of a refusal of the employers to grant a nine-hour day, a 10 per cent. advance, and recognition of the union. The strike will affect fourteen tanneries.

Excavating teamsters demand an increase of 15 cents a day, and called a strike in all barns where the union scale is not paid.

Steamfitters, numbering 700, declined to work, pending the settlement of a demand for $4.50 a day—an increase of 50 cents.

In the strikes which occurred yesterday, a total of 5,000 men quit work.

Street Car Strike Settled.

Seattle, Wash., April 2.—The street car strike here has been settled. The strikers decided to go back to work by practically a unanimous vote.

Coal Miners Celebrate.

Shenandoah, Pa., April 2.—Every colliery in this district was idle yesterday. There were no demonstrations, the miners merely having decided to take a holiday in honor of the findings of the Strike Commission.

Miners Strikes Declared Off.

Colorado Springs, Col., April 2.—The strike at Colorado City, which has been in progress since Feb. 14, and the strike in the mines of the Cripple Creek district have been declared off by President Mercer of the Western Federation of Miners.

1,500 Coal Miners Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., April 2.—Fifteen hundred men and boys struck here yesterday at three collieries owned by individual operators. The latter wanted the men to start work half an hour later than at present, and take a half-hour more time for dinner. At another colliery, 800 men struck because the owners would not add another shift of firemen. Plumbers and tinsmiths in the local shops also struck for a 10 per cent. increase and a nine-hour day.

Barber Shop Bill Passed.

Albany, N. Y., April 2.—A bill regulating the practice of barbering and to establish a State Board of Barber Examiners, and to provide for sanitary inspection of barber shops, was passed by the Senate yesterday.

WHAT LABOR MEN WISH.

The Trades Congress of Canada Wait on the Government.

Toronto, April 2.—A deputation of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada waited on the Ontario Government yesterday, and presented a number of resolutions passed by the Berlin conference in September last. Premier Ross, Mr. Latchford, Mr. Dryden and Mr. Stratton heard the deputation. Mr. Robert Glockling introduced the deputation, and the first resolution presented asked for a law to empower municipalities to compel street railway companies to provide a passage through open cars, so that conductors would not be subjected to the dangers of accidents on the side steps.

A resolution in favor of more factory inspectors and that the factory inspection be referred to the Labor Bureau was presented.

Another resolution asked for an act making it illegal for an employer to retain or confiscate a portion of an employe's wages.

The prison contract system was denounced. A delegate said broom-makers were unable to obtain better wages, as their employers had to compete with prison labor.

Mr. Stratton, replying, said only a small proportion of prison-made brooms were sold in the province. The present contract would expire in 1905, but he thought, after that the goods might be marked "prison made."

A bill was asked to prohibit landlords from having more than two coats of paper on the walls on the ground of health.

The deputation asked for an act to protect trades unions from the danger of the Taff Vale decision being applied to cases pending in Canada. The act desired would not make picketing legal.

Carpenters Win at Hamilton.

Hamilton, April 2.—The carpenters have won their strike. They have been getting 22½ cents an hour. Yesterday morning they laid down their tools, and declared that they would not pick them up again until they got 30 cents an hour. The boss carpenters had a meeting last night, and granted the strikers' demands. Only the best workmen will be paid at the 30-cent rate. The others will be paid according to their skill, but it means a substantial increase for all.

300 Men Out at Walkerville.

Walkerville, April 2.—The employes of the Canadian Bridge Company to the number of 300 went out on strike yesterday morning; the works are crowded with orders, this being their busy season. The men were asked to work ten hours a day. They were, however, to get ten-hour pay. Part of the men were willing, but some of the more determined ones induced the others to resist their demands unless more pay was forthcoming. It was thought only the machinists would go out, but yesterday morning every man but the foreman quit work. Machinists, lathe hands, carpenters and laborers are all out for 10 per cent. increase in wages. A large crowd of laborers are hanging around the works, but are keeping quiet and orderly so far. It is thought, however, that no men will be allowed to go to work.

Paperhangers Out at Kingston.

Kingston, April 2.—The painters and paperhangers went on strike yesterday for a $2 a day wage for eight hours' work. The master painters say the demand is unreasonable. They have little work on hand, having declined contracts in view of the strike. They will await developments.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

First Session of Judicial Tribunal Will Be Held Friday.

Toronto, April 2.—The first meeting of the Royal Commission to inquire into the Gamey charges of bribery and conspiracy against Hon. J. R. Stratton and other members of the Ontario Ministry will be held to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock in the non-jury court room at the City Hall. Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge are expected to return to the city to-day, the former from Kingston and the latter from Picton. The meeting will be for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the holding of the commission.

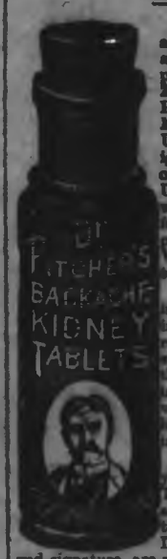
Notice to the above effect was given out yesterday afternoon by Registrar Grant. The commission will hold its sittings either in the non-jury room or the Assize Court room, both of which are commodious and spacious as court rooms go, and have good arrangements for facilitating the entry and exit of all engaged in the proceedings.

Mr. Gamey is remaining in the city at the Walker House, and he and the other principals in the commission are hard at work preparing their case for presentation before the two Judges.

Great Oil Tanks Burned.

Calcutta, April 2.—A number of oil tanks at Bajbaj, Province of Bengal, belonging to the Standard Oil Company and two other concerns, were burned Tuesday night. The damage amounts to about $1,200,000.

A WORD OF CAUTION.



Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U.S.A.), which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

We would caution you in purchasing the Tablets to see that the accompanying cut, printed in green ink, and Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature, are printed on the package. Refuse substitutes and imitations, as these are sure to disappoint.

The price of the Tablets is 50c. a box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail by addressing the Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

BRITAIN'S REVENUE.

Treasury Receives Enormous Sums For Year Ended March 31.

London, March 31.—The Treasury returns issued to-night show that the total revenue of the United Kingdom during the financial year, ending March 31, was $905,998,900, compared with $768,008,185 for the previous year.

The principal increases were: Property and income taxes, $20,000,000; customs duties, $17,234,235; excise duties, $3,101,340; stamps, $2,000,000; post-office receipts, $2,250,000.

The leading decreases were: Estate duties, $2,163,355; miscellaneous, $823,335.

The net increase of revenue over the previous year was thus $42,990,715.

The total paid into the exchequer was $757,758,490, the balance of the total revenue being paid to local taxation accounts.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOODS.

Main Levee Near Baton Rouge Swept Away.

New Orleans, April 1.—A despatch received here says the main levee protecting the State convict farm near Baton Rouge has given way. The entire place will be covered with water in a few hours. Efforts are being made to protect the convict camps.

Collided With Wild Engine.

Waterbury, Conn., April 1.—In a collision between a wild engine and a passenger train in South Brooklyn yesterday, two employes were killed, and three injured. It is rumored that three more bodies are buried under the wreck.

A Mother's Recommendation.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, and croup, I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy. — MRS. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by all druggists.

Earache.

A simple, harmless and infallible cure for earache is effected by making a small funnel of stiff paper and saturating a ball of cotton the size of a hickory nut with chloroform and dropping it into the funnel; place the small end of the funnel in the ear, draw a long breath and then blow the breath into the large end of the funnel. The fumes of the chloroform are thus carried into the ear, and all pain ceases at once.

There Are Exceptions.

"Do you mean to say," she inquired indignantly, "that there never was a woman who could keep a secret?"

"Oh, not at all," he protested earnestly. "To the contrary, there was Lot's wife, who never up to the present day has revealed what she saw when she stopped to take a farewell glance at the town she was leaving."

A Real Trouble.

Cordelia—I am always worried when I am buying new clothes.

Cornelia—Why?

Cordelia—Oh, I can't decide whether to look stylish and be uncomfortable or to be comfortable and look a fright.

Convinced.

"A great deal may be said on the subject," said the prolix person.

"That," said the weary author, "is the one point on which you have convinced me."—Washington Star.

The Final Stages of Locomotor Ataxia

Are Absolute Helplessness, Loss of all Power and Complete Paralysis — Prevented and Cured by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Locomotor Ataxia is a form of paralysis which is becoming frightfully common these days, because of the nerve-exhausting habits of the present age.

Probably you have seen victims of this ailment walking with a jerking motion and putting their feet down in an awkward manner, and wondered what ailed them. It was locomotor ataxia, or paralysis of the nerves and muscles which control motion.

There is a peculiar numbness of the feet and legs, an uncertain feeling when you start to walk, when you go up or down stairs or around corners. The limbs no longer obey the commands of the brain, the soles of the feet seem to have lost their feeling and you feel as though you might topple over or move backward instead of going ahead.

The final stages of locomotor ataxia are absolute helplessness, loss of all power and complete paralysis of the nervous system.

The time to begin treatment is when the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion become apparent. When you find that you do not sleep well, start up suddenly, have difficulty in concentrating your thoughts, suffer from headaches, indigestion and irritability, it is time to take prompt action to restore the vitality of the blood and nerves. For this purpose there is no more satisfactory treatment than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Nervous diseases never get well of themselves, nor can they be cured in a few days, but Dr. Chase's Nerve Food assists Nature in restoring vitality to wasted nerves, acts in accordance with Nature's laws, and is certain to do you good, because it forms new rich blood, and nerve cells. Fifty cents a box; six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

M. THIERS AT HOME.

The Peculiar Habits of the Historian's Daily Life.

The daily life of Thiers was very peculiar. He rose always at a very early hour, about 5 o'clock in the morning, seldom later. After a cup of coffee and a light repast he would work steadily for many hours. Then he usually took a walk or would perhaps play a game of tennis before breakfast, which meal was served at the usual French hour. Then he would speak to his friends and go out for a drive, sometimes pay visits and return a little after 4, when he went regularly to bed and slept till it was time to get ready for dinner. For some extraordinary reason his dinner hour was 7:50, and he was very punctual. After dinner he always slept for twenty minutes or half an hour and then would remain up chatting and talking to a late hour. His brightest moment was always subsequent to his after dinner sleep. No one could be more agreeable in conversation, more easy or natural or more ready to impart information without being prolix. He was a true Provencal in all his tastes and habits. He loved the bright sun of his native Provence. He thoroughly appreciated the peculiar charm of the coast near Marseilles, the beauty of the gray olive groves and the smile of the Mediterranean. He preferred the dishes of Provence to almost any others. He used to mix oil liberally with his food, and I remember at a dinner at the Duchesse Galliera's a fair sized bottle of oil was specially placed next his plate and he consumed it all.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that will cure Diabetes. Like Bright's Disease this disease was incurable until Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. Doctors themselves confess that without Dodd's Kidney Pills they are powerless against Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the first medicine that ever cured Diabetes. Imitations—box, name and pill, are advertised to do so, but the medicine that does cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills are fifty cents a box at all druggists.

Diabetes

PROTEST IN CENTRE BRUCE.

Dr. Stewart Contests the Seat of Major Hugh Clark.

Toronto, April 2.—The Liberals of Centre Bruce are taking steps to protest the election of Major Hugh Clark, who was chosen member in the Local House for that constituency at the recent bye-election.

Notice of the protest has been filed by Dr. John M. Stewart, who contested the constituency in the Liberal interest, both at the general and the bye-election, with Matthew Goetz, the Local Registrar at Walkerton, and notice of the filing was received yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall. The usual charges are made in the petition. The legal firm of Kerr, Davidson, Patterson & Grant are the solicitors for the petitioner.

VAN HORNE CHAIRMAN.

Sir William Will Be Head of Transportation Commission.

Ottawa, April 2.—Sir William Van Horne has consented to act as Chairman of the Transportation Commission. The appointment of Sir William and Messrs. Bertram and Kennedy, although decided upon, has not yet passed Council. Mr. Kennedy of Quebec is in England. Nothing has been heard from him as yet.

Work of Boundary Commission.

Ottawa, April 2.—The following cable was received here yesterday: "London, April 1.—Mr. Sifton arrived at Hotel Cecil yesterday morning with party, having had a quick and pleasant passage by the Kron Prince Wilhelm. He at once took possession of the rooms which had been prepared for the officials connected with the Alaska boundary work, and proceeded to get matters in shape so that work will begin immediately. He spent the whole of yesterday evening in consultation with Hon. Edward Blake, Canadian counsel, and has to-day been in communication with the Colonial Office. Attorney-General Sir Robert Finlay will be the counsel for the British side, together with Mr. Blake and Mr. Christopher Robinson. Everything is progressing satisfactorily, and the members of the Canadian staff are all hard at work.

How He Escaped.

Not long ago an English curate surprised his parishioners by marrying a widow considerably older than himself. The astonishment was still greater when the cause was known. The curate had become engaged to a young girl whose frivolous conduct soon led him to regret the step. He offered a settlement for his release, but it was refused. He endeavored in every way to break the engagement, but without success.

"Is there nothing I can do to escape this?" he exclaimed one day in despair.

"Yes," remarked the girl's mother, who was present and who had been the prime mover in the marriage negotiations, "by marrying me."

The curate decided, if he had to marry one of the two, he preferred the mother and accepted her. The young girl soon married a wealthy stockbroker.

Puzzled the Professors.

An amusing joke was practiced upon the examiners at Cambridge, says a London paper. It had been said that the examination in mathematics had been becoming far too difficult, and very real complaints had arisen from tutors. To the astonishment of the university, all the eighteen or so solutions appeared on the day before the examination in the Granta, "worked out, we believe, by our office boy." How the miracle was performed remained a secret until it had been sufficiently wondered at. The editor of the Granta had secured the services of a number of recent senior wranglers, who in privacy had deliberately set to work to master the problems which the university dons had been concocting for months past. The task had to be accomplished within twenty-four hours, and the printers were up all night setting the solutions in type. Naturally the Granta sold by the thousand that week.

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians—"There is no cure possible." Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.

HEADACHES AND RUSHING OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

APPETITE WAS GONE.

MRS. WALTER MANTHORNE, BROOKLYN, N.S.

She says: "I suffered for three years with terrible headaches and rushing of blood to my head. I lost my appetite and became very thin and weak. I tried many different remedies and consulted doctors, but all in vain until I started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I had not taken more than two bottles when I began to feel better, my appetite improved wonderfully and I increased rapidly in weight. I took altogether four bottles and am now as well as can be, for which I owe my thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I can recommend it to all those suffering as I did."

All Against Payment in Gold.

Shanghai, April 1.—All the Viceroys and Governors in China have now united in a protest against the payment of the indemnity in gold. They declare that the sources of taxation are exhausted, and that further extortion would impoverish the people, tend to excite revolt and hamper foreign trade.

King Off For Lisbon.

London, March 31.—King Edward, with a suite consisting of half-a-dozen persons, started for Lisbon yesterday afternoon, having, a few hours previously, seen Queen Alexandra off for Copenhagen. The Portuguese Minister to Great Britain, the Marquis de Soverat, accompanied the King.

HOW A COLT GROWS.

From Ungainliness He Develops Grace and Beauty.

The development of a spindly legged colt into a full grown horse is an interesting process to watch. In "Horses Nine" the author describes an instance in this way:

And an unhandsome colt he was. His broomstick legs seemed twice the proper length, and so thin you would hardly have believed they could ever carry him. His head, which somehow suggested the lines of a bootjack, was set awkwardly on a owed neck.

In time the slender legs thickened, the chest deepened, the barrel filled out, the head became less ungainly. As if to make up for these improvements, the colt's markings began to set. They took the shapes of a saddle stripe, three white stockings and an irregular white blaze covering one side of his face and patching an eye. On chest and belly the mother sorrel came out rather sharply, but on the rest of him was that peculiar blending which gives the blue roan shade, a color unpleasing to the critical eye and one that lowers the market value.

The Death of Kenith.

The death of Kenith, the half mythical king of Scotland, was one of the most remarkable in all history—that is, if it can consistently be called a historical fact. According to the story, Kenith had killed a son and brother of the warlike Fennella. She for revenge caused Wiltus, the most ingenious artist of the time, to fashion an automatic death dealing machine, a wonderful statue filled with hidden springs, levers, etc. When finished and set up, this "brasen image" was an admirable work of art. In its right hand it held a basin and in the left an apple of pure gold, both set with diamonds and other precious stones. To touch this apple was to dare death, it being so arranged that one guilty of such vandalism would be immediately riddled by poisoned arrows shot from loopholes in the body of the statue. Kenith was invited to come and inspect the wonder, and kinglike and just as Fennella had hoped he tried to pluck the precious imitation fruit. The moment his hand touched the incrusted jewel he was filled with poisoned arrows, dying where he fell.

The Missionary Apple Tree.

In the rectory garden of Pysford, near Woking, England, there stands what is familiarly known as the missionary apple tree. The tree is a large one and of a good age and has been so named for the reason that for many years past it has been the custom of the rector of the pariah to collect the fruit, sell it in the best market and devote the proceeds to the missionary societies of the Church of England. Quite a large sum of money has been raised in this way, and the apples, which are of the Blenheim orange variety, always find a ready sale at excellent prices among the gentry and farmers of the district.

African Natives and Salt.

To obtain salt the Bakalulua and other African natives burn banana leaves and certain grasses and, collecting the ashes, place them in a large funnel ingeniously made from large banana leaves. Through this they percolate water and then evaporate the filtered water by boiling, obtaining a fairly white salt composed of a very small amount of chloride of sodium and a very large amount of chlorate of potash and other salts. Prior to the advent of the traders and the missionaries this was the only salt they had to satisfy the natural craving of a vegetable eating people.

Messrs. Haight & Freese, Stock Brokers, submit the following:—

New York, April 2.— The Union Pac. So. Pac. controversy will reach the acute stage to-day. Mr. Keene who emphatically denies Harriman's affidavit avers that he had no intention of selling his holdings at any price. Winter wheat is in excellent condition. Another bumper crop is expected. Traction shares should be taken hold of, important advances pending.

Market will temporarily be a trading one. B.O., Atch., and Coalers on recessions should be bought. Big short interest in M.R. and Manh. Buy these on any activity.

JOSEPH.

New York, April 2.—We are in receipt of information which leads us to confidently believe that the market is preparing for an advance of several points, barring any unexpected adverse development. For the first time in weeks prices failed to decline sharply on bad news for it will be remembered that every development yesterday was unfavourable. With April dividend payments, and the ten million dollar North Western payment out of the way money will be easy on call. We do not believe there has been any extensive short covering and a good foundation still exists on which to build an advance for according to all signs the short interest yesterday increased. There are hints that a compromise will prevent a Wabash strike. The troubles in Albany probably unsettled the London market this morning, although they are not considered serious from an international point of view. We believe the Eries, Rdgs., Atch. and copper will work higher. London Amns. irregular.

GOLF.

The following amusing and most lurid description of the game of golf is contained in an English magazine published in 18443, which is in our possession: "Goff," says the author, "is frequently played in the following manner: It is performed with a straight bat; usually made of ash, about four feet and a half in length, and curved at the bottom. The ball is small but exceedingly hard. There are generally two players, each of whom has his bat and ball. The game consists in driving the ball into certain holes made in the ground, and he who achieves it the soonest or in the smallest number of strokes obtains the victory. The goff-lengths, or the spaces between the first and last holes, are sometimes extended to the distance of two or three miles; the number of intervening holes is optional, but the balls must be struck into the holes and not beyond them. Goff, or another game very similar to it called pall-mall, were favourite games among the nobility in the 17th century."

MISCELLANEOUS.

MILITARY GYMKHANA.

"Mens sana in corpore sano," is evidently the motto of Trinity College School, Port Hope, under the headmastership of Rev. Dr. Symonds. A very large and delighted audience greeted the Trinity College School boys at the Opera House, last Tuesday evening. The opening piece on the programme, fancy marching by a squad of sixteen small boys, was indeed a treat and brought forth prolonged applause. The bar work, fencing bout, vaulting, leaping, diving and somersaulting were all well given and received the applause of every person present. Following these was a splendid exhibition of club swinging by a squad of ten boys who moved as one. The ring, mat and horizontal bar work were all of the up-to-date class. The next piece, the physical drill by members of T.C.S. Cadet Corps, was probably the best on the programme. The boys were all attired in suits and performed a difficult drill without a hitch. It was brought to a close by the assembly of the entire cast, over fifty boys, and the singing of the National Anthem.

LATE MARY O'CONNOR

Died on the Last Day of March, in Ennismore.

The funeral of the late Mary O'Connor, of Ennismore Township, whose death occurred on Tuesday, March 31, took place this morning from St. Martin's church, to the Lake Cemetery, Ennismore. The deceased was 67 years of age and has been long resident in Ennismore township, where she is greatly esteemed. It is sad to relate that for ten years the late Mrs. O'Connor has been confined to her chair, she being crippled with rheumatism. She leaves a husband, three sons and one daughter living, who will feel her death very much.

AN APPEAL TO FARMERS.

To the Farmers of Peterborough County:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—45,000 lbs. of the best sugar beet seed from Saxony in Germany arrived in town this week, and has been stored by us at the corner of George and Charlotte streets. As this seed should be planted during the month of May, we shall begin its distribution at once. The solicitors for acreage having reported that many of you object to signing a contract for a longer term than one year, we have decided to give each of you a yearly contract, and to trust to your thrift and business judgment to renew it.

A beet sugar factory is essentially a co-operative industry, and we strongly desire that you shall not only grow the beets but take stock in the company. 1,000 farmers growing 4 acres apiece, on an average, will produce all the beets needed by us this year. Such an average would yield about 80,000 tons, which would cause to be distributed among the 1,000 farmers no less a sum than $240,000.

As you can draw the pulp home to feed your cattle it will not be necessary for you to grow mangolds or other roots to any extent; hence your work on the farm will be but little, if any, increased.

This great agricultural industry which has done so much for the farmers of Europe, and for those of Michigan and other States of the Union, and which will contribute more to the wealth of our country than any other industry should have the hearty support of every citizen of the town and county, and we appeal to you with confidence that you will assist in its establishment to the best of your ability. Two, three or five acres apiece could not burden any farmer, and it means success.

Very truly yours,
T. E. BRADBURN,
President.

THE KING'S KINDLY ACT.

Edward VII Declares St. Patrick's Day a Holiday.

By an act of his own the King has done more to calm disturbed feeling in Ireland than any cut and dried legislation. He has proclaimed St. Patrick's Day as a National holiday, and thereby touched a chord which will vibrate through every Irish heart. His Majesty evidently knows the power of sympathy and sentiment. He is a goodly King, and if he pursues in the future the tenor of his beginning way, he gives promise that his name will live in history as one of the greatest of the monarchs that has ever ruled over the three Kingdoms.

DO YOU KNOW

That It's no use Eating Unless You Digest Your Food—That if Your Stomach Won't Digest it Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will.

Do you know that the stomach is the seat of health as well as the root of disease? Do you know that if the stomach is out of order the whole body is affected, is unable to do its regular work, is unable to resist any disease that may be floating around, and is all the time working toward disease on its own account?

This is only natural. The man who can't get food for his stomach grows weak and ill. If the stomach is not in shape to pass the food along to the various parts of the body, the food might just as well never be eaten. That's why dyspeptics are worn out and dispirited. They are just like people who have been starved for a time.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are made just to fit such cases. They digest the food themselves, and thus while the body receives its natural nourishment and thrives, the resting stomach gradually recovers its natural powers. That's why Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure as well as relieve. That's why Ademard Coderre, of St. Jasques de L'achigan, Quebec, is able to say:

"I certify to having suffered two years with Dyspepsia, caused by inflammation of the stomach. I took three medicines without relief. I became discouraged, until one day seeing an account of cures performed by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I bought two boxes. By the time I had finished taking them I was completely cured, and I have stayed cured ever since."

WATCHING THE GAME.
